Change Possible In U.S. Policy Toward Red China

Man Who Cheated Death 11 Times Leaves Prison

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Alvaro Alcorta, a man who knows the living-dead terror of death row, goes to work Monday as a $1.25 an hour laborer.

In Huntsville, where Texas' electric chair awaits those condemned by law to die, Alcorta cheated death 11 times in 15 long months. Four times he ate what was supposed to be his last meal.

Once he missed the death-dealing charge of electricity by just 70 minutes.

What is it like in Huntsville's death row?

"The nerves get tight," said Alcorta. "The body goes numb. You don't hear a thing, and you feel like a load is on your back. It's dark."

But after seven years in prison, Alcorta returned here Thursday, and he's a free man.

He was convicted in 1955 of the knife slaying of his wife. He drew the death penalty. But the U.S. Supreme Court said the prosecution made the mistake of not telling the jury that the state's star witness had been intimate with Alcorta's wife. The

FBI Seizes Three Men In Sinatra Case; Most Of Ransom Recovered

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case, first in Hollywood history, was broken today with the arrest of three men and recovery of nearly all of the $240,000 ransom money.

"Thank God, it's over," said Frank Sinatra Sr., spending his fourth night at the home of his former wife, Nancy. The parents, knowing a break was imminent, were reported "sweating it out" with young Frank, 19, and his sisters, Mrs. Nancy Sands, 23, and Tina, 16.

The three suspects were identified, in an announcement released here and in Washington, as John W. Irwin, 42, of Hollywood; Barry W. Keenan, 23, of Los Angeles, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23, of Playa Del Rey, a suburban beach town.

Keenan and Amsler were held at the FBI office in Los Angeles while Irwin was held by the FBI in San Diego, according to speculation that he might have been planning to cross the border into Mexico.

Republican Chiefs To Continue Opposition To New Frontier

WASHINGTON (AP)—A handful of Republicans, including the House GOP leader, have indicated they don't intend to help Lyndon B. Johnson to the "honeymoon" with Congress traditionally enjoyed by new presidents.

When a president first takes office, Congress is usually receptive to his views and programs and more inclined to pass his legislation.

Mercury Plunges To Zero In Area As Storm Erupts

Blizzard conditions prevailed in the Marquette area and along the lake to Munising today after the mercury plunged to zero and to 13 below zero inland.

The temperatures were the coldest of the season, with a bigger west wind intensifying the cold and, combined with the snow squalls, reducing visibility to less than an eighth of a mile. It was expected to continue most of the day.

The snow depth here hit 10 inches this morning. Meteorologist Earl Hoffman noted that the interior of Marquette County, where it is much colder, doesn't get the warming effect of Lake Superior, which had a temperature of 40 this morning.

State police said the storm was concentrated primarily along the lake in the central part of the Upper Peninsula, although it raged as far inland as beyond Ishpeming. Also, inland the elevation is higher (by 800 feet) and colder, than here.

Sanders were being operated by Marquette County Road Commission crews, but roads were in fairly good shape, except for the poor visibility, it was reported.

The mercury went up and down the thermometer yesterday and last night. High was 27 at 1 a. m. It dropped to 12 at 9 a. m. and hovered around 10 most of the day. At 4 p. m. it began to drop again, hitting zero at 11 p. m. Then the mercury began a gradual increase, to 20, at 11 this morning.

Hoffman explained that the temperature increases and decreases depended on the clouds and the winds.

Clouds act like a blanket to keep the heat close to the earth surface, but when it cleared up late yesterday afternoon there was a loss of heat through radiation. When it started to cloud over early this morning the temperatures rose again.

Another factor was wind direction. At the coldest time, winds were off the land, from the west-southwest. Late this morning the winds were northwesterly, coming over the relatively warm lake.

It'll be cold again tonight, with lows expected between zero near the lake to 10 below inland. Tomorrow it will be partly cloudy and continued cold, with a few snow flurries. The outlook for Monday is partly cloudy, continued cold and the possibility of a few snow flurries.

248 To Get Yule Parole At Jackson

JACKSON (AP) — "Merry Christmas... and don't come back..." the guard will say. This is the traditional good luck wish at Southern Michigan Prison.

There will be 248 prisoners released on parole during the week before Christmas. Of these, 67 are receiving special Christmas paroles.

This means they weren't quite eligible technically for parole but the corrections department figured they were good bets for rehabilitation and let them go early to be home with their friends and families over the holidays.

Each former convict released will go out in a neat, dark suit and with cash in his pocket. The suit is provided by the prison. Most prisoners save their money while doing time and have a cash backlog from small wages given working inmates.

For those without money, there is a loan fund that will supply up to $40.

Merchants To Remain Open Two Additional Evenings For Christmas Shopping

Marquette merchants have agreed to keep stores open two extra nights before Christmas, Clifton Wagner, chairman of the chamber of commerce's retail division, said today.

To accommodate shoppers, stores will stay open on both of the remaining Monday evenings before Christmas, Dec. 16 and 23, in addition to the other night openings scheduled.

Stores will be open, then, Monday through Friday evening, next week, Dec. 16 through 20, as well as on Monday, Dec. 23. There are no Saturday evening openings scheduled, with regular hours being observed on Saturdays and on the day before Christmas.

Marquette stores have been open each Tuesday and Friday evening until 9 since the holiday shopping season opened on Nov. 22.

Highlight of the retail division's Christmas promotion will occur at noon Dec. 24, when the "lucky car" drawing is held.

Shoppers are participating in the drawing by dropping "lucky car" coupons in receivers located at banks in Marquette and at K. L. Sawyer Air Force Base.

No purchase is necessary in order to receive "lucky car" coupons, from 92 stores participating in the giveaway.

The chamber has purchased a 1964 model car for the promotion.

Braddock, Mattson Judges James Braddock of the Union National Bank and Ellwood A. Mattson of the First National Bank & Trust Co. have been selected as judges for the drawing. They will draw a winning coupon and four alternates from a cement mixer in front of the Delft Theatre at noon Dec. 24. (Alternate coupons the first selected is has been will be drawn in the event submitted by a person under 18. The winner must be at least 18 years of age.)

Only 4 Building Permits Issued Here In Month; Year's Valuation Way Up

For the first 11 months of the year valuation of building permits issued in Marquette is almost $2 million more than the value of permits issued for the same period last year.

City Assessor John R. Meyers said that only four permits were issued last month. Valuation of permits issued last month was $69,800.

There were more permits issued in the first 11 months of 1962 than there have been this year, but school construction boosted the valuation of the permits issued this year.

Permits issued this year for big construction jobs include those for the $2,365,000 Marquette Senior High School off W. Fair Ave., for a $2,200,000 Northern Michigan University dormitory off Lincoln Ave. and a $935,000 addition to the Northern Michigan University Center.

So far this year 105 permits have been issued for construction with a total value of $6,157,800, including four permits for institutional (church and school) buildings valued at $3,540,200.

Through November last year, 121 permits were issued with a total value of $4,547,300.

State Potato Agency Files 26 Lawsuits

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Potato Industry Council reports it has started 26 lawsuits against potato growers who allegedly have not paid an assessment required by law.

Charles Todd, executive secretary of the council, said Friday courts have upheld the council in all cases heard so far.

Under a statute passed by the Legislature in 1961, potato growers are required to pay an assessment of $1.50 per acre per year to the council, which is to spend the money on research and promotion benefiting the potato industry.

Growers, Todd explained, may get the full amount back by applying for the exemption before July 5, paying the assessment when reporting in December on acres of potatoes harvested, and asking for the refund in February.

The council counts about 80 per cent of Michigan potato growers among its members, said Todd, and the percentage of non-members has been getting smaller each year.

Three institutional permits were issued last year with a value of $3,560,000. A permit was issued last month for a $50,000 building on W. Washington St. to Mathisen tire Co. A commercial addition permit valued at $1,800 was issued to the Northwest Radio Supply, Inc., W. Washington St.

Two permits were issued for new homes last month. They went to Ole Olson, contractor, for a dwelling at 1500 Garfield Ave., and to Ray Murto for a home at 315 Jonathan Carver Dr.

In November 1962 seven permits valued at $691,000 were issued, including a $640,000 permit for an institutional building. There also were four permits for homes, one for a residential addition and one for a $10,000 commercial building.

Comparative Figures Cumulative statistics for both years follow, with the 1963 figures listed first and the 1962 figures listed in parenthesis:

Residential construction: 32 permits, $351,000 (46 permits, $405,000). Garages: 27 permits, $22,800 (23 permits, $17,900).

Residential additions and alterations: 25 permits, $32,500 (33 permits, $36,400).

Commercial buildings: 10 permits, $168,000 (nine permits, $325,500).

Commercial additions and alterations: Seven permits, $43,300 (six permits, $102,500).

Institutional buildings: Four permits, $5,540,200 (four permits, $3,660,000).

Three Persons Hurt, Five Given Tickets In Accidents In City

Three persons were injured, five motorists were issued summonses and 10 vehicles were involved in five traffic accidents in Marquette yesterday.

This increased the number of reportable mishaps in Marquette in nine days to 27. In addition, there have been a large number of minor accidents reported to city police.

1. All three injuries occurred in a collision at 5 yesterday afternoon on S. Front St., at Genesee St. Involved were automobiles operated by John Balbierz Jr., 36, of 836 W. Washington St., and Carroll G. Wachter, 19, Route 1, Box 700, Marquette.

City police said Balbierz was traveling south on S. Front St. and was stopped in the traffic lane, waiting for oncoming traffic to clear before making a left turn. Wachter, going in the opposite direction, was unable to stop and his car slid, sideswiping the other vehicle.

Balbierz complained of a sore back. His wife, Barbara, 30, suffered a bump on her head, and their daughter, Sherry, 6½, also received a bump on her head. They sought their own treatment.

Extensive damage resulted to the entire left side of Balbierz' car, a 1963 two-door sedan, and to the front end of Wachter's vehicle, a 1957 two-door sedan. Both automobiles had to be hauled from the scene by wreckers.

City police issued Wachter a summons for failing to have his car under control.

2. At 9:55 yesterday morning a car being driven south on N. Seventh St. by Donald M. Koski, 20, of 1016 Pine St., smashed into the rear end of a vehicle operated by Ernest G. Rosten, 42, of 421 W. Michigan St., while Rosten was stopped for the W. College Ave. stop sign.

Koski told officers his foot got caught between the brake and clutch of his car and he was unable to stop the vehicle.

Car Not Under Control
The left rear of Rosten's 1953 two-door sedan and the front bumper of Koski's 1963 two-door sedan were damaged. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power. Koski was ticketed by city police for failing to have his car under control.

3. An automobile being driven east on W. Michigan St. by Donald L. Mannisto, 24, Box 54, M-28, Munising, struck a car operated by Howard H. Larson, 28, of 1005 Allouez Rd., at 8 last night.

City police said the accident took place while Larson was stopped for the N. Front St. stop sign. Mannisto was unable to stop, they said.

Failed To Stop In Time

Extensive damage occurred to the rear end of Larson's car, a 1964 two-door sedan, and to the left front fender, front end and left front door of Mannisto's automobile, a 1957 four-door sedan. However, both cars were able to be driven from the scene.

Mannisto was issued a summons by city police for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

4. At 10:53 yesterday morning a car being driven south on N. Front St. by Barry P. Johnson, 21, Route 1, Box 679, Marquette, went out of control, sliding to the east (left) side of the roadway, in the 500 block, and smashing into a parked car owned by Grover Lanctot, Hubbell.

Car Not Under Control

City police said Johnson reported he apparently pushed the accelerator down too much, causing the vehicle to go out of control.

Extensive damage resulted to the right rear fender, bumper and trunk of Johnson's car, a 1962 small, foreign model. Apparently no damage occurred to Lanctot's 1962 four-door sedan. City police issued Johnson a ticket for failing to have his car under control.

5. An automobile being backed out of a parking space on the north side of W. Main St. by Edward H. Kukuk, 75, of 415 Spruce St., struck a car being driven west on Main by Victor A. Hilgren, 44, Box 157, Palmer, at 1:30 yesterday afternoon.

Right-Of-Way Violation

The left side of Hilgren's 1963 four-door sedan was damaged. Apparently no damage resulted to Kukuk's car, a 1958 two-door sedan.

City police ticketed Kukuk for a right-of-way violation.

Financial Scene:

Top Business Stories Of Year Noted

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Business news got a big quota of front-page headlines this year: stock market chills and fevers and investigations, tax-cut talk, labor strife, stock splits. Here, in just one man's opinion, are the 10 top business stories of 1963.

1. Stock market. Prices rose to record highs in the fall as recession fears faded and then to still higher levels in December. The Federal Reserve's raising of the margin rate to 70 per cent from 50 per cent may have given some speculators pause but didn't dampen general enthusiasm.

2. Tax cuts. Hopes for a cut in federal tax rates on 1963 income of individuals and corporations were high in January but by midyear had switched to 1964 incomes. Reform proposals were sidetracked. And the tax-cut bill still languished in the Senate toward year's end. Reaction to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy revived hopes of passage early in 1964.

3. Business and government. By any but a strictly economic yardstick, the biggest story of the year was the changing of the guard. But the economic effects, if any, of President Johnson's accession lay mostly in 1964. For industry and trade it raised the question of a new climate for business. This climaxed a year in which the Kennedy administration had striven to assure business of its good will. The changeover left many uncertainties, but business planning for the future, even if temporarily hesitant, seemed confident.

4. Internal revenue. A crack-down on expense accounts caused a furor in the spring and saddened many recipients of such spending, such as night spots. But by the end of the year many business houses and individuals had adjusted to the new rules.

5. Labor. Unemployment remained at the top of the problem list, eased a trifle but unresolved. Many union leaders asked for the 35-hour week and higher pay for overtime as possible solutions. The rail dispute over featherbedding went to compulsory arbitration, raising fears the government might move similarly in other labor strife.

6. Profits - dividends. Stockholders were delighted by the action of the directors of Chrysler, A.T.&T., General Motors, Pan Am, RCA and others, in splitting stocks, raising dividends, or both. Profits as a whole rose to new highs, and so did dividend payments.

7. Gold and the dollar. An unannounced pact among the U. S. Treasury, the Federal Reserve and the central banks of leading financial countries to protect currencies and reserves kept the U. S. gold loss to a minimum in 1963, even though the balance-of-payments deficit soared in the second quarter before falling in the third. Soviet sales of gold to finance its wheat-buying deals helped inadvertently.

8. Economic growth. After a hesitant summer, industrial production, retail sales, personal income, employment, auto production, and the gross national product rose to record highs, outrunning earlier predictions.

9. Foreign turmoil. Both chickens and French President Charles de Gaulle ruffled feathers. The European Common Market raised the tariff on American poultry sharply, and the United States retaliated at the end of the year by penalizing French brandy, German trucks and Dutch potato starch.

This embarrassed a general drive for freer trade, coming up next year in a 53-nation parley. De Gaulle in January upset American hopes that Britain would move into the Common Market, with a transatlantic accord to follow.

10. Inflation. The cost of living rose to new highs in the fall, but the increase was gradual. Price rises were announced for steel, aluminum and other metals. Wages went up, too, but more slowly than in former years.

Shovel Walk, City's Mail Carriers Ask

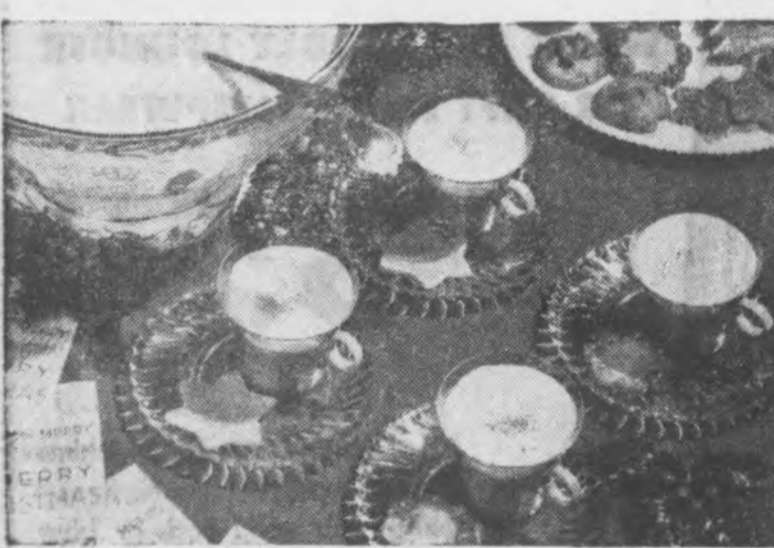

Marquette residents today were urged by Postmaster John S. Courtney to shovel their sidewalks leading to mail boxes.

"During the winter, and especially during the Christmas mailing season, when the carriers are burdened with the heaviest loads of the year," Courtney pointed out, "the co-operation of postal patrons in this matter is necessary."

He said mail carriers appreciated having walks and steps leading to home mail receptacles free of ice and snow.

"Send Mail Now"
"Shoveled steps and walks makes the mailman's work safer and helps speed the delivery of Christmas cards and packages," Courtney pointed out.

The postmaster also reminded patrons to send Christmas greeting cards as soon as possible, as the holiday is "just around the corner." He advised using first class postage (five cent stamp) to insure prompt delivery and allow for forwarding if necessary.

IT'S EGG NOG TIME!

HOLIDAY GREETINGS . . . FRIENDS DROP IN . . . time to spread good cheer again . . . time to gather round the EGG NOG BOWL. Just fill the bowl with DAIRY EGG NOG and sprinkle with nutmeg . . . top it with whipped cream. It's just as easy as that. Good? M-m-m. With Christmas Butter Cookies it's a real "Merry Christmas" at your house.

At your door or at the store, get EGG NOG with your daily milk supply and keep it on hand all through the holidays. Chilled in your refrigerator it's ready to serve on a minute's notice.

SERVING THE UPPER PENINSULA

The Cable TV View . . . By Richard Bur

If you have ever thought that color was just another TV gimmick, the sight of the sun splashed desert on a color set would have changed your mind. By contrast, a black and white set would only have shown the shape and design of desert light in outline. But day time in these dry lands is a time of burning brilliant color. That is what the color set picked up on Sunday — Joseph Wood Crutch showing a desert light on NBC's Encore program. Fortunately, Mr. Crutch, professor and literary critic, and now turned naturalist, was just as able vocally, as he has been with the written word. He described things as they were — with his wise reflections on light. The unbelievable saguaro cacti reaching high above, unmistakably identify the lower part of Arizona. They stand as sentinels to a profusion of living things spread out at earth level. This activity is not immediately visible to everybody. A sharpened sense of perception must be added to see the sun-lit, tinted, needle-protected plant life. Insects and animals have their own ways of coping with their environment. These range from stinging and biting to camouflaging themselves.

The sensitive person experiences a good deal more excitement than someone who is just passing through. In the same way, seeing it on color TV is the difference between going through the desert at gray dusk, and having the desert open up its mysteries in a burst of sparkling hues.

Ken Boyer Tribute On WDMJ Show

WDMJ, The Mining Journal radio station, will present a program of memorial and tribute to Kenyon Boyer, managing director of the Marquette County Historical Society, at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Boyer died Thursday morning in St. Luke's Hospital. The special radio program tomorrow will be heard on the time corresponding to the regular hour of the "Historical Highlights" show, which was a radio feature over WDMJ for 14 years, prepared and presented by Mr. Boyer. This program was part of the radio station's "public service" schedule and was offered each week as a service to the community in behalf of the historical society.

City Child, Airlifted To Clinic, Patient At Mayo's

A Marquette child, believed to be suffering from aseptic meningitis, is a patient in the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., having been airlifted there by an aircraft from K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base. Janet Kendrick, 7, was critically ill when taken to Sawyer late Wednesday from St. Luke's Hospital here, where she had been a patient a week. Accompanied By Parents Mr. and Mrs. George T. Kendrick, 442 E. Ohio St., the girl's parents, accompanied her on the flight as did Capt. John F. Alsted, a physician at the 56th USAF Hospital at Sawyer, and TSgt. Harold Kaplan, a medical technician at the base hospital. Major George Hanlon, base operations officer, was the pilot; Capt. Robert F. Keables, was the co-pilot, and Sgt. John Coyle, was the crew chief. Of Emergency Nature The emergency call was received shortly before noon after Kendrick had exhausted every other possible means of airlift. Local civilian aircraft were unable to fly because of bad weather conditions. The staff of Col. Daniel P. McLean, 56th Fighter Wing commander, immediately made arrangements for the mercy flight after verification by Lt. Col. Francis D. O'Brien, 56th USAF Hospital Commander, that the case was of an emergency nature. The aircraft used, a C-47, was at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, on a combat support mission, when the emergency call was received at Sawyer. The plane was recalled immediately and it arrived back at Sawyer shortly before 3 p.m., refueled and was on its way.

LBJ To Eye Job Outlook In Peninsula

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will hold a meeting next Wednesday to consider economic problems of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Wisconsin and Minnesota, a government source indicated Friday night. Expected to be considered is a plan to create a Northern Great Lakes Regional Commission to deal with unemployment and other problems. The source noted that the proposal had been considered under the administration of the late President John F. Kennedy. A parallel also was drawn between proposed Great Lakes Commission and the commission, already organized, to study economic problems of the Appalachian Mountain region in the south and east.

December Auto Sales Hit Record

DETROIT (AP) — Record new car sales for the first 10 days of December were reported Friday by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Cadillac and Rambler. Booming sales also were reported by Oldsmobile and Buick Divisions of General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. Chevrolet's record-breaking deliveries of 68,224 passenger cars eclipsed the previous peak of 52,328, set in the first 10 days of December, 1962. Chevrolet also said its truck deliveries of 11,490 units topped the mark of 10,698 dating back to 1955. Pontiac reported more than 19,200 sales in the first 10 days of the month, compared to the previous high of 15,287 cars sold in the same period of 1962. Oldsmobile sold 15,480 cars, a gain of 27 per cent over Dec. 1-10, 1962. Buick deliveries of 14,017 represented a 25 per cent gain over the like period last year. The 4,778 Cadillacs sold in the first 10 days of December topped the previous record of 4,650 units for this period which had stood since 1958. Chrysler Corp., experiencing its best sales for the 10 days since 1956, sold 22,106 passenger cars, 12 per cent more than in the same period last year. Rambler retail sales of 10,445 for the period topped the year-old record for American Motors by 97 units.

City Police Station Takes On New Look; Squad Room Opened

There's a "new look" in the Marquette Police Station. One who has not recently been in the station, which is located in the basement of the city hall, probably would have a hard time recognizing the set-up, which has been completely changed around under the direction of Police Chief George G. Johnson.

Each police officer has a locker. When he comes on duty, the first order of business for the patrolman is getting into his uniform and then listening to the daily reports read by the sergeant.

Sergeants supervising the patrolmen are Woodrow Betts, Harold VanOverloop and Roy Maitson, (Sgt. Dooley is primarily concerned with traffic problems and enforcement in the city.) Gun Case

Also in the locker room is a gun case, for the department's shotguns, pistols and rifles, as well as storage space for the ammunition. All officers clean their weapons in the locker room.

Before going on duty, each officer shines his shoes and his leather wear (Sam Brown belt) in the locker room. The locker room also contains a new wash-room for officers.

The detective's office, located in the northwest corner of the station, has been completely repainted. The detective, Marvin J. Gauthier, has a separate office so that he may conduct interrogations and work on investigations without being interrupted.

Inter-Com Radio However, all rooms in the station are linked to the chief's office, which is in the southwest corner of the building, by an inter-communications radio.

Chief Johnson has a French phone from which he can converse directly with officers in any of the patrol cars on in the main (operations) office. Better Serve Public His office recently was painted and floor mats were installed. The chief also has a new filing cabinet and bookcase.

Chief Johnson pointed out that all of the work, except for the painting, was done by officers in the department, in their off-duty hours, at no cost to the city. Use of the carpenter shop at Spear & Sons was made, also at no cost to the city.

"We believe these changes will help the police department better serve the public and to operate more efficiently," Chief Johnson said. "We also anticipate, if funds are available next year, to be able to effect some additional changes to improve the station."

Police Round Up Young Car Thieves

ATLANTA (AP) — Police have rounded up a gang of 21 youngsters—only one of whom said he could drive—in connection with the theft of at least 50 automobiles. Detectives reported Thursday that 18 of the cars have been recovered but all were wrecked.

Participating in the memorial program with Eldon W. Wallace, WDMJ program manager, who will be host for the program, will be (in the order in which they will be heard), W. H. Treloar, general manager of The Mining Journal and of WDMJ; Richard Sonderegger, professor of history at Northern Michigan University and president of the historical society, and Mayor C. Fred Rydholm, a Marquette school teacher. All of the participants had been acquainted with Mr. Boyer for many years.

QB Story On TV Show Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest problem involved in making a television program about a sports figure is attracting viewers who normally avoid telecasts of games.

NBC is confronted with such a situation Sunday night. Its late-evening "Show of the Week" explains how a young University of Mississippi player became the No. 2 quarterback on the New York Giants football team.

Producer Robert Northshield says he and his camera crew approached this specialized biography of Glynn Griffing with the non-football-watcher in mind.

Ordered Year Ago "We tackled it as the story of a guy with an interesting occupation," he said. "We try to show a fellow who has deliberately chosen a hard, bruising way to make a living." The show was ordered almost a year ago. Northshield proposed to follow a college star from the campus through his first season in professional football. He wanted a quarterback. "The reason we picked Griffing was that it seemed probable he'd be the successor to Y.A. Tittle, a very popular player, with the Giants," Northshield said.

To Have Game Shots Today the Giants are contenders for the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League, with the critical game with the Pittsburgh Steelers coming up on the afternoon of Northshield's "The Making of a Pro." The hour-long biography will be finished after the game by adding some shots of the play and extra commentary immediately before broadcast time.

MODERN MUNICIPAL POWER PLANT TO

Modern Three-Story Building to House Operation -

Your municipal power department has previously presented to the citizens of Marquette the reasons for selection of the so-called Standard Oil site for the new steam electric power plant. We feel that the public will want to know more of the details of the plant itself.

As the sketch above shows, giving greater emphasis to the plant itself, the whole layout lends itself to the concept the municipal power department had from the very inception — to give Marquette an efficient operation, yet one that would add to the appearance of the community. In our first presentation we showed how the "extras" in this proposal would give our fellow citizens the added advantage of a heated swimming pool to extend opportunities for such activity, with neighboring parking area, picnic facilities and a swimming and wading beach.

MODERN BUILDING THROUGHOUT

The building itself will be a modern aluminum-steel insulated type building with a three-story administration section, finished in colored brick and stone facing. There will be judicious use of color in interior appointments. This section will provide space for superintendent, engineering, clerical and file offices with a classroom for instruction of operating personnel, safety meetings and similarly allied activities. There will be the usual public conveniences, a small chemical laboratory for testing water and field supplies, repair shop and store room.

The first floor, at approximately ground level, will house various pumps, water treatment equipment, air compressors, ash conveyor pumps, back-flow warmed water pumps to keep screens in pump house from freezing up. There will also be emergency heating boiler, emergency diesel engine and accessory equipment.

The operating floor 24 feet above first floor level, will house one initial turbine generator, and a modern steam generator. Between these will be a compact bench board with electric instruments to control outside circuit breakers, etc. There will also be a boiler control panel to house automatic combustion control, steam flow meters and similar controls. A modern recording system and intercommunications system will be installed, with loud speakers throughout the building to telephone connections to other city-owned diesel and hydro electric plants, as well as to the outside telephone system.

Because the plant is designed to be operated by a minimum amount of labor and in order that these few men can get about the building quickly and efficiently a small inside passenger elevator will be installed.

MOST EFFICIENT EQUIPMENT

Boiler and combustion equipment will be selected with great care. The boiler will be of the most modern tangent tube water wall type, using modern spreader stokers and burning treated coal of reasonably low sulphur and ash content. Type and size will be chosen to give best combustion at levels anticipated. Much thought has been given to the matter of fly ash and provision will be made to allow for installation of electric static precipitators on the stack if they should be needed, although experience with later, more modern plants indicate this need will not arise.

LIGHT AND POWER DEPARTMENT

TO COMBINE BEAUTY WITH EFFICIENCY

Maximum Protection of Neighborhood Provided

The boiler will be equipped to burn fuel oil in an emergency, or should price fluctuations make it more economical than the use of coal.

Much thought has been given the matter of combustion control design, to provide the greatest efficiency in combustion, sharpest reduction of smoke and assurance of greatest operational economy. Manual control of air by the operator can over-ride automatic control, and through a system of mirrors the operator will have constant watch over his stack and maximum control over any tendency to smoke.

FORESTALL OBJECTIONABLE RESULTS

We would emphasize the stack will be designed for sufficient height and velocity to prevent objectionable haze, smoke or gas to surrounding areas. In this connection, consulting engineers for the city have made studies of surrounding property elevations, wind direction and barometric data to give them most intimate knowledge of the area and to provide maximum protection. Decision has also already been made to use coal with low sulphur and ash content and of prepared sizing instead of the "run of the mine" coal normally used in pulverized fired plants.

Coal storage will be along the area to be extended into the lake past the present shore line. It will be compacted as received to avoid conical heaps which are more subject to wind erosion and to spontaneous combustion. Coal will meet specifications for freedom from objectionable dust or slack. It is anticipated 20,000 to 30,000 tons will be used annually. As the first coal is received it will be handled by conveyor belt in a totally enclosed housing, eliminating any possibility of excessive dust or "fines" to surrounding landscaped areas.

Our engineering firm has assured us "every phase of planning has been to design the most efficient and attractive plant of its type possible, utilizing the most modern equipment."

Your municipal power department would close with this very sincere statement:

"We have engaged the services of a highly respected firm of consulting engineers. We have asked that they give Marquette the most complete, efficient and attractive plant possible within the limits of our financing. Your own department has seen to it that the grounds are planned to be improved and landscaped similar to those areas around modern filtration plants and other utility structures now being constructed by many communities who are rightfully proud of such projects. In our opinion, the city has an opportunity here to set a splendid example for further improvement to the remaining waterfront area. The present projected improvement itself, we believe, will be a distinct asset rather than deducting from the value of property.

"We believe, sincerely and firmly, that a municipal plant can combine beauty with efficiency, and we are determined that any structure we present to the city will meet all the challenges inherent in this belief."

State Police Ticket Driver In Smashup

NEGAUNEE — An automobile was wrecked and a motorist was ticketed, but no one was injured, in a smashup at 12:40 this morning on M-35, about 2 of a mile south of the Negaunee city limits, in Richmond Township.

State police from the Marquette post said Gordon A. Rice Jr., 17, of 529 Elm St., Negaunee, was driving on M-35 when he lost control of his vehicle, which went off the right side of the roadway and smashed into a bridge abutment. Extensive damaged occurred to the left side and front of Rice's car, a 1956 coach, which had to be hauled from the scene by a wrecker. State police issued Rice a summons for violation of the basic speed law — driving too fast for conditions.

REPUBLIC — The industrial arts graduate workshop of Northern Michigan University made a field trip to the Republic mine, arranged by Roy H. Johnson Jr., committee chairman for the group, under the direction of Prof. K. A. Wahtera, industrial arts department head at NMU.

The tour was conducted by John S. Bowen, assistant director of industrial relations at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., with the assistance and cooperation of Emert Lindroos, superintendent of the mine.

Purpose of the tour was to explore the structure of the mine in order to become better informed regarding the low-grade iron ore processing methods so vital to the economy of the Upper Peninsula and subsequently relate the acquired information to high school industrial arts classes.

Members of the workshop include Arne Anderson, Ishpeming; Roy Johnson, Champion; John Altobelli, Escanaba; Leroy Process, Negaunee; Cletus Charlier, Tremont; and David Lindstrom, Negaunee. Discussion was held covering such areas as the history of iron ore mining in this vicinity; transportation of raw materials; factors, principles and techniques of plant layout; industrial processes; employment procedures; management-labor relations; research; safety and public relations. Annual Yule Bird Count Here Dec. 21

The Marquette County Chapter of the Michigan Audubon Society will conduct its annual Christmas bird count on Saturday, Dec. 21.

The census will be taken between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Persons interested in participating in the count should meet at the Coast Guard Station area at the corner of Ridge and Lake Sts. prior to 8:30 a.m.

Census Area

This is an annual count conducted by Audubon groups across the nation, as well as in Michigan, according to an official of the local chapter.

The area to be covered by the census will be the same as in previous years—a circle with a diameter of 15 miles and centered on the city hall in Marquette.

Five Counts in U.P.

Last year, Christmas counts were made in five Upper Peninsula areas—Iron Mountain, Marquette, Newberry, the Seney National Wildlife Refuge and Sault Ste. Marie.

Totals for the Marquette counts for the past 10 years have ranged from a low of 13 species in 1956 to a high of 26 species in 1958 and from a low of 293 individuals in 1954 to a high of 1,222 in 1960.

Recent Observations

Among the unusual bird species observed in the Marquette area recently have been white-winged scoter, Burrows' golden-eye, plovers, pileated and black-backed woodpeckers, brown-capped chickadees, white-winged crossbills and snow geese.

Anyone wanting further details regarding the bird count should call Mrs. Arthur Maki, CA 6-9686, the chapter secretary.

Object Lesson In Hunting Safety

Rep. Robert D. Mahoney (D-Detroit), who has been totally blind since the age of 15, is shown as he purchased a hunting license from Miss Shirley Egleson, clerk, license bureau of the department of conservation, to emphasize his point that there are no physical or educational requirements for hunters under the existing law.

Michigan's New Deer Problem

DEER DAMAGE COMPLAINTS JULY 1962 TO AUG. 1962 MAJOR DEER-CAR COLLISION AREAS - 1962

For many years, Michigan's deer problem has been centered in northern counties because of a winter food shortage.

report some damage by deer. In 1962, agricultural damage came to more than an estimated $300,000.

findings into effective regulations more readily than the Legislature.

The switch in power, the committee said, could be accomplished by legislation first closing all seasons on game and fish and then giving the commission power to issue new regulations.

Wanted Bounty Repealed

The committee called for repeal of the present bounty system. This would release about $250,000 in fish and game funds that now is "presently wasted in bounty payments," it said.

One cited was a regulation requiring bow hunters to unstring their bows while carrying them in a car and also to put bows in a case or lock them in a trunk.

Also termed futile were laws prohibiting possession of guns or bows in game areas just before the opening of hunting season.

Conservation Officer Operates Noah's Ark

Utah State Conservation Officer Dick Branzell's patrol boat became a Noah's ark recently as he has patrolled the rapidly-rising-reservoir behind Glen Canyon Dam and rescued

Michigan sportsmen didn't fare so well as a year ago in their ruffed grouse hunting, but it appears they were on target for a nationwide record woodcock kill this fall, according to the conservation department.

The 1964 annual vehicle permits for state parks are now on sale at hunting and fishing license dealers and at all state parks in Michigan.

Branzell has rescued range cows as well as beaver, squirrels, rabbits and chipmunks from isolated lands and back bay areas in the new Lake Powell—in which Colorado River water is rising at the rate of more than a foot a day.

CLIMBING FOX

The gray fox is the only fox that is apt to climb trees.

North Country Notes

The Quiet Crisis

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has performed a distinguished service in the cause of American conservation in compiling "The Quiet Crisis," a book that brings together in 208 pages the highlights of the conservation movement in this land since the days when it was "owned" by the Indians.

MR. UDALL tells his story largely in terms of the men who advanced the conservation ethic in America—Thomas Jefferson, Daniel Boone, Jed Smith, Henry David Thoreau (the self-appointed "inspector of snowstorms"), George Perkins Marsh, Carl Schurz, John Wesley Powell, Gifford Pinchot, John Muir, Theodore Roosevelt, Frederick Law Olmstead and Franklin D. Roosevelt. And it is, as Mr. Udall says it is, "an attempt to outline the land-and-people story of our continent."

4 Fined In Christmas Tree Case

Four Illinois men were fined in Justice Francis Mahon's court in Iron River this week for cutting Christmas trees illegally.

Nelms Retiring As Conservation Officer Jan. 13

Walter Nelms, 67, Houghton, a conservation officer since Nov. 13, 1933, will retire on Jan. 13.

Nelms was first assigned to the Houghton area, then served in Channing and Stambaugh before being returned to Houghton in 1945.

He was the recipient of a citation, signed by Oscar Olander, late state police commissioner, for assistance in the capture of a man who shot and killed a conservation officer in Florence, Wis.

Trucks Intercepted

The Ottawa officials contacted conservation officers and the sheriff's department, and two trucks, loaded with about 270 Christmas trees, mostly spruce, were intercepted and taken to Iron River.

The men failed to have bills of sale from the State Department of Agriculture, as required by law, and were assessed $25 fine and $4.30 costs each on that charge.

Restitution Ordered

The two Krigers and Mezulis maintained they had purchased the trees from Nordstrom, who at first refused to show officers where the trees had been cut. He later changed his mind, and officers found that, while some of the trees had been cut on property owned by Nordstrom or other members of the family, most had not.

About 90 trees had been cut from property owned by Mrs. B. L. Anderson of Waukegan. The four men were ordered to make restitution.

Rubber Dams Create Recreation Lakes

The design for a $750,000 collapsible rubber dam to be installed for recreation purposes on the Susquehanna River near the site of the former Shamokin Dam is near completion.

The dam, eight feet high and 2,000 feet wide, will be formed by inflating a giant nylon bag coated with neoprene synthetic rubber. It can be installed at a far less cost than a concrete dam, and can be deflated to permit unobstructed runoff. There are said to be eight rubber dams in operation in the U.S. at the present time.
