Heavy Snowfall Belts Muskegon; 5 Records Set

(By the Associated Press) December's cold and snowy weather showed no signs of a letup across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today.

A storm dumped heavy snow in parts of the northern Midwest, including a record amount of nearly 15 inches in 24 hours in Muskegon, Mich. The snow covered areas from the Plains eastward across the upper Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley.

Sub-Zero Cold Sub-zero cold and stiff winds stung much of the north central region. Temperatures dropped to more than 20 below zero in parts of South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota. Low marks included 25 below in Havre, Mont. and Aberdeen, S.D.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Western New York State, all along the southeast shore of Lake Erie.

Rain Fairly heavy rain fell in parts of the extreme Southeast and rain and colder weather appeared likely in most of the Gulf Coast region.

MUSKEGON (AP)—A blizzard warning was issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau at Muskegon today for this community, which already is staggering under snowfall which has set five records.

Area schools were advised to dismiss classes.

With 30 inches of light, dry snow already on the ground, the forecast called for 2 to 4 inches of new snow, winds of 35 miles and steadily decreasing visibility, with temperatures well below 20 degrees. These are the requirements for blizzard designation.

Greater Muskegon, a community of about 100,000 persons on the Lake Michigan shore, has set these records:

24-hour snow fall—17.9 inches by 7 a.m. today, outstripping the old mark of 12.6 last December.

December snow fall — 56.8 inches by 7 a.m., compared to 34.2 for the entire month in 1962.

48-hour snow fall—26.5 inches.

One week snow fall—45.5 inches for Dec. 11-17.

One hour intensity of snow fall—two inches in one hour Tuesday night, 5:45 to 6:45 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m.

Fugitive Airmen Captured After Wild U. P. Chase

MENOMINEE (AP) — Three airmen who broke out of the stockade at the Kincheloe Air Force Base Tuesday night were captured after leading police on a half-hour 110-mile-per-hour chase on winding, icy roads.

A Menominee County Sheriff's deputy said they swerved around two roadblocks and stopped only when police cars formed a solid blockade across the road about three miles north of this Wisconsin border city.

Police said they overpowered a turnkey at the time of lights out and fled from the base in a car.

The escapees were identified by state police as A-B Richard F. Warden, 20, who had been held in the stockade for larceny; A-B Mark W. Gaven III, 19, held for larceny and being absent without leave, and A-B Thomas J. Ostrowski, 19, held for being absent without leave.

Police said they overpowered a turnkey at the time of lights out and fled from the base in a car.

Coroner George Kroeze reported the ruling following an autopsy by Dr. Charles Black, state pathologist.

The victims were Robert J. Bol, 44; his wife, Evelyn, 49, and their daughters, Alexie, 14, and Daryl, 3.

All were discovered Tuesday in the ruins of their fire destroyed trailer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Air Force officer from Michigan was a member of a parachute team which claimed a world record Tuesday for a mass free fall after leaping almost eight miles onto the California desert.

Capt. Charles J. Corey, 28, of Grose Pointe, and his 12 teammates jumped 43,500 feet from a C-130 turboprop Air Force transport. They tumbled 41,250 feet in a free fall that carried them up to speeds approaching 250 miles-per-hour. Their chutes opened automatically at 2,250 feet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he is willing to meet with any world leaders — obviously including Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — any time he believes such conferences would be "fruitful and productive."

Johnson was asked at a news conference to discuss his attitude toward a possible early meeting with Khrushchev. He replied with the statement of willingness to engage in promising talks — a number of which he already has arranged with leaders of West Germany, Britain, Italy, Canada and Mexico.

The second bullet to strike Kennedy — the third bullet fired — left a large hole in the back of the President's head, destroyed considerable brain tissue and severely damaged the forehead. This wound caused instant death, although a faint spark of life may have remained for a few minutes in the heart and lungs.

This bullet, the source said, was recovered from the limousine. The second shot fired by the assassin hit Gov. John B. Connally of Texas in the chest as he turned toward Kennedy after the first bullet hit the President. He was seated in front of Kennedy on a jump seat.

Since there was an interval of five or six seconds between Kennedy's first and second wounds, the new account leaves the implication that Kennedy might have survived — perhaps escaped serious injury — had he quickly thrown himself to the floor of his limousine after the first bullet struck.

It seems apparent, however, that the first wound was so painful and startling that Kennedy was unable to react immediately except to throw his hands in front of him. Assuming the first wound was not fatal, Kennedy's life might also have been saved had someone shielded him or knocked him to the floor of the car in the interval before he was struck in the head.

Secret Service agents are trained to react in such a fashion, but none was close enough to the President to intervene.

Pope Accepts Invitation To Visit India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Pope Paul VI has accepted an invitation to visit India for his second break with the tradition against papal travel abroad, officials said Tuesday night.

The Pope will make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6, ending a period of 150 years in which papal travel has been restricted to Italy.

Officials at the Vatican declined to confirm the report, but Vatican circles said there was a good chance Pope Paul might attend the International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay next November.

Indian sources said the invitation was extended by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan through India's envoy at the Vatican.

Predominantly Hindu India has seven million Roman Catholics, including many in Bombay.

In recent years popes have sent personal messages to eucharistic congresses. Pope John XIII addressed the last congress, in Munich, Germany, by a telephone hookup.

Irate African Students Storm Red Square; Protest Stabbing

MOSCOW (AP)—Several hundred students from Ghana and other African nations stormed into Red Square today right under Premier Khrushchev's office windows, fought with police and tried to break into the Kremlin.

The students said they were protesting the fatal stabbing of a student from Ghana by a Russian last Friday.

The Africans broke past barricades into Red Square, where Russians march on May Day and on the anniversary of the October Revolution. But the scene was more reminiscent of the wild days of the revolution in 1917.

The students bore a sign showing a knife plunged into the head of an African. Another sign declared: "Friend today, the devil tomorrow."

"Moscow is a second Albania," shouted one student.

The students fought police all the way to Red Square from the Ghanian Embassy a mile away, where they first gathered.

They stormed over a barricade of Soviet trucks at the entrance to Red Square, fighting police on top of the trucks and underneath.

Gates Bang Shut The big gates of Spassky Tower, the main entrance from the Kremlin into Red Square, banged shut as students rolled over police opposition and tried to get into the Kremlin.

They stormed past the office of Khrushchev. They were separated from his office by the big red brick wall of the Kremlin. Whether he was inside his office was not known.

Inside the Kremlin, the Soviet Parliament was meeting, discussing the new budget.

Police apparently at no time used their guns to control the students. Instead they wheeled their loud speakers appealing for them to go home.

"Red Square is closed," one of the sound trucks blared out. But the students paid no attention.

Shortly after 2 p.m., crowds of shoppers who had swarmed into the square were driven out along with foreign correspondents.

People continued to pile into adjoining streets, never having seen an angry demonstration of foreigners against Russians.

The students remained in the square for a time and were reinforced later by some 200 more who came, apparently carrying a message of protest.

They made their way up to Spassky Gate, where a Kremlin official came out and said a delegation of 10 would be received by the Ministry of Higher Education. A group of the demonstrators then headed for the ministry with their petition of complaint.

By 3 p.m., Red Square had been cleared. The barricades were withdrawn and the demonstration was over.

It was the first such demonstration by foreign students here directed at the Russians, Ghanaian students demonstrated last February in Communist Bulgaria, claiming racial persecution.

The dead man was identified as Asare Addo, who was studying medicine at Kalinin, 100 miles northwest of Moscow. He was said to have been killed Friday.

Some students said Soviet officials issued a statement blaming the death on natural causes, but the Africans disputed this.

At the outset, the protest was orderly.

REP. J. J. PICKLE

Close Friend Of President Wins Runoff

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat J.J. Pickle, personal friend of President Lyndon Johnson, won election as U.S. representative Tuesday in a campaign that many called the new President's first popularity test at the polls.

For Pickle, 49, it is his first elective job in more than two decades of political life. He succeeds Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., who has been appointed a federal judge.

With all but a few rural votes tabulated in the 10-county central Texas district, Pickle had 27,206 to 16,039 for Republican Jim Dobbs.

The outcome leaves the House balance of 257 Democrats and 178 Republicans unchanged. Texas, at one time considered solidly Democratic, now has a Republican senator and two of its 23 representatives are Republicans.

"The result of this election are much more than a personal victory to me," Pickle said. "This vote is one for unity—a vote of confidence by the people of this district in the Democratic party and in President Johnson's administration."

McNamara, Aides Have Close Call

PARIS (AP)—A plane carrying U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and members of his staff narrowly missed a collision today while taking off from Orly Airport for South Viet Nam.

McNamara's big K135 Air Force jet transport blew its tires while the pilot braked to avoid hitting an incoming plane.

The defense secretary had attended the annual winter meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial council. He is going to Saigon for his second on-the-spot assessment in three months of the Vietnamese and American fight against the Communist guerrillas.

With blown tires smoking, the big plane rolled to a stop about 500 feet from the end of the long Orly runway.

Tot Has Cancer In Her Only Eye

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Duke University doctors decide today on the treatment of a 2-year-old girl who has cancer in her only eye.

Vicki Wray was brought to Duke from her home in Bowling Green, S.C. Tuesday for tests to determine how effective radiation and chemical treatments have been in preserving vision and controlling malignancy in her left eye.

Vicki has retinal glaucoma, an eye cancer which can spread to other parts of the body. Duke surgeons removed Vicki's right eye last July.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program headed into a new Senate fight today.

The stage for a new round of debate was set when the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday approved a measure carrying $3,299,500,000 in new appropriations for overseas assistance — as compared with the $2,801,700,000 the House voted Monday.

Drop Amendment The Senate group also dropped a House amendment that would prohibit the government from guaranteeing private financing of any sales of U.S. grain to Communist bloc countries.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield planned to bring up the bill late today under a unanimous consent agreement in the hope of getting final congressional action before this weekend's Christmas holiday adjournment.

Possible Of Cuts But other proponents of the program conceded there was a possibility of further cuts before the Senate sends the measure to a conference with the House for ironing out differences between Senate and House versions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today they are trying to ferret out where Robert G. Baker got the thousands of dollars in cash a witness testified he kept in his Senate office.

'Big Point' Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Nebr., said he regarded the testimony about the money as "the big point" at the committee's first public hearings Tuesday in its investigation of Baker's business dealings and allegations of conflict of interest.

Baker, 35, resigned Oct. 7 from his $19,600 post as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about whether his outside interests conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

The testimony that Baker kept large amounts of cash in his office came from Mrs. Gertrude C. Novak, a trim, blonde widow of a contractor who was Baker's partner in the building of the Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md.

She told of getting thousands of dollars from Baker for deposit in the Carousel's account.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Christmas mail rush may fall short of the record volume predicted. Postal officials are convinced the death of President John F. Kennedy is the reason.

For the first half of December the mail volume was 2.5 per cent below that of the same period a year ago.

Unless the peak expected this week shows a significant spurt, the Post Office Department expects the 1963 Christmas mailings to reach but not surpass the 10 billion pieces handled in 1962.

"I can't imagine what else could have caused the lag," Asst. Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen told a reporter. "The President was assassinated Nov. 22, and we're convinced people just didn't feel like buying and addressing and mailing Christmas cards and packages for a while after that."

Grocer Killed By Own Trap

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—"I've killed myself!" moaned B.C. Russell, 63, after a shotgun rigged for burglars fired at him at the back door of his food store Tuesday.

He stumbled against front counter and died. The charge struck him in the chest.

A pistol mounted in the same fashion killed an ex-convict, 21, in 1959 as he started inside the store at night. A shotgun charge took the life of a 19-year-old prowler in 1961 when he touched some cigarettes back of a counter.

Russell himself suffered a wound from the pistol in 1960.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a strike that could have shut down United Air Lines during the Christmas holidays ended early today when the airline and the AFL-CIO machinists union agreed on a new contract.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Malaysia's prime minister accused Indonesia today of sending saboteurs into the country's economy by destroying public service facilities.

Business Volume In City Continues Biggest In U. P.

Marquette's bank debits soared 11 per cent last month and the city's remained the highest for any community in the Upper Peninsula.

This business indicator report was listed today by the Ninth Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Marquette's debits last month totaled $21,133,000, as compared to $19,052,000 for the same month last year.

For the year, Marquette's bank debit cumulative total is 12 per cent higher than last year, at $197,766,000.

Second highest debit total for the region for November was Escanaba's $15,081,000, slightly under the total for the same month of last year.

The $124,830,000 total for the 20 cities listed in the Federal Reserve Bank's bulletin last month represented the same amount as the figures of last year.

For the year, the 20-city Upper Peninsula total is $1,395,551,000, or six per cent more than the $1,322,551,000 amount for the January through November total in 1962.

Ishpeming's bank debits last month jumped five per cent, to $8,677,000, compared to $8,261,000 for November 1962. The cumulative figure was $95,052,000, or 26 per cent more than last year.

Debits for Negaunee dropped five per cent, to $3,112,000, last month, while the year's figure dipped 12 per cent, to $36,784,000.

Munising Figure Higher

Munising bank debits amounted to $1,956,000, a 10 per cent hike over last year's November total. For the year, debits gained three per cent, to $21,498,000.

Debits for L'Anse totaled $2,716,000, a three per cent drop, in November. For the year, the cumulative total for L'Anse is up four per cent, to $29,663,000.

Checks Against Accounts

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and thus represent payments for goods, services, debts, etc., but they also include transfers of funds which of themselves have no business significance.

Bank debits include all debits against demand deposit accounts of individuals, partnership, corporations, and states and political subdivisions, and payments from escrow and trust accounts.

Bank debits do not include debits to deposit accounts of banks, the United States government, the postal savings system, and time and savings accounts, neither do they include debits in settlement of clearing-house balances, payments of certificates of deposit, cashier's and certified checks, charges to expense and miscellaneous accounts, and similar charges.

Three Persons Injured In Accidents, Three Ticketed

Three persons were injured, three drivers were issued summonses and four automobiles were damaged in three area traffic smashups reported this morning by state police from the Marquette post.

There also were three other minor collisions investigated by state police, in which no one was injured and no tickets were issued. Reports on the three major mishaps follow:

1. At 3:40 yesterday afternoon a car being driven south on U.S. 41 by Ronald Belanger, 22, Lake Leelanau, smashed into an automobile operated by Adolph Johnson, 70, Route 2, Marquette, about 3 of a mile north of County Road BK, in Chocolay Township.

Belanger suffered a cut on his chin and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital here, where five stitches were required to close the wound. Johnson was knocked unconscious momentarily, and was taken to St. Luke's in the Marquette city ambulance, but was released after being examined.

State police said Johnson had made a left turn from Road BK onto U.S. 41 in front of Belanger, and the latter was unable to stop.

Extensive damage resulted to both the front end of Belanger's car, a 1957 sedan, and to the rear end of Johnson's automobile, also a 1957 model. Both vehicles had to be hauled from the scene by wreckers.

State police gave Johnson a summons for making an improper left turn.

2. An automobile being driven south on County Road 533 by Edward Miller, 37, of 208 Silver St., Negaunee, went out of control when it left the roadway, 1.2 miles south of County Road NT, in Sands Township, at 1:05 yesterday morning.

Miller suffered cuts on his face and body and sought his own treatment, officers said.

State police said Miller's car went off the roadway onto the shoulder and when he got it back onto the highway it rolled over.

Considerable damage occurred to the top and both sides of his automobile, a 1961 sedan, which had to be removed from the scene by a wrecker.

Miller was ticketed by state police for violation of the basic speed law.

3. At 2:45 yesterday afternoon a car being driven west on U.S. 41 by Carlos Maumann, 17, Holy Family Home, Marquette, went out of control 1.5 miles east of County Road 502, in Marquette Township, as he was attempting to pass another vehicle.

State police said his car swung around and smashed into some guard rails on the right side of the highway.

Issued Two Tickets

The left side and left front of Maumann's vehicle, a 1962 coach, were damaged, and the vehicle had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

State police gave Maumann two summonses, one for driving at an excessive rate of speed for conditions and the other for not having an operator's license.

Lawmakers Ready For Final Push

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature readied itself today for the final push on bills implementing the new Constitution, with the Civil Rights Commission and the State Appeals Court topping issues still unresolved.

Both bills were debated and amended extensively in the House Tuesday, before being moved into position for action ahead of today's deadline for final passage of all bills.

Many lawmakers appeared willing to declare a truce on the civil rights bill and leave it up to a court decision to settle questions concerning the commission's powers.

Conference Committees

It was likely that the court of appeals bill, however, would go to a House - Senate conference committee, as a result of another switch in plans for districting the court.

Already having extended its deadline one day, the Legislature was expected to spend Thursday in conference committees on unsettled issues and then adjourn.

A series of amendments proposed by the House State Affairs Committee was added to the Civil Rights Commission bill in the House, where members debated whether the Legislature was trying to restrict the commission.

Much Emotionalism

"This issue is packed with a great deal of emotionalism across the nation," declared Rep. Frederic Marshall, R-Alton, who advocated several of the amendments.

"This committee and this Legislature is not trying to harpoon the commission," he said.

Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit, a Negro, told lawmakers one amendment - striking language which outlined the commission's powers to "promote and cooperate" with other agencies on all levels - was "cutting the heart out of the bill."

Edwards argued that the commission's function should be patterned after the Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) in the use of "conciliation" as a means toward solving issues.

Cut In Appropriations

The Civil Rights Commission will replace the FEPC in its powers over discrimination in employment.

The House also approved a cut in appropriations for the commission's first six months from $83,500 to $81,500, a move that would reduce the director's salary from the $19,000 per year approved by the Senate to $15,000 per year.

On the appeals court issue, the House initially approved - and later rejected - an amendment that would have divided the nine - member court into nine separate districts.

Unfair

As passed by the Senate, the court would have three districts of three judges each - one in Wayne County, one covering 16 counties of southeastern Michigan and the third encompassing the other 66 counties.

Winter Rages On In Area; Deep Freeze In 10th Day

Winter raged on in the Marquette area today as the temperature remained below freezing for the 10th consecutive day.

During the night blizzard conditions raged, as fierce north - northwest winds raged at over 20 miles per hour, with gusts hitting 33 MPH.

Meteorologist Fred Mueller said the frigid weather is still due to the Arctic air masses coming down from Canada.

Down To 6

The mercury hit 17 yesterday, but the day's low of 6 made the mean temperature 12, which was 12 degrees below normal. For the month the temperature's been averaging 3.6 degrees a day below normal. Yesterday was the fifth straight day it was below normal here.

It was 11 here during the night, 5 above at the county airport and 3 in Sault Ste. Marie. Temperatures elsewhere in the U. P. were only a few degrees above the zero mark.

During the day and night here 3.2 more inches of snow fell, increasing the month's total to 19.2, which is more than a half foot above normal.

However, the season's figure is 27.8 inches, or four inches below average.

Constant blowing during the night caused drifts as high as four feet in some areas in Marquette, and the drifting created problems for Marquette's snow plowing crews, who were out all night. Sanding streets also was difficult, as the fresh snow covered up sand as soon as public works crews spread the sand.

Temperatures through next Monday are expected to average 12 to 16 degrees below the normal extremes of 28 and 18, with very cold weather expected throughout this period.

Precipitation, in the form of frequent periods of light snow or flurries, will total almost a half inch, with heavy amounts near Lake Superior.

Tonight's low here will be zero to 5 above, with tomorrow's high being 10 or 15.

"Looks like not much of a relief for us this week," Mueller said.

School Equipment Contracts Totaling $128,750 Awarded

Twenty-six contracts totaling $128,750.11 for movable equipment at the Marquette Senior High School were awarded yesterday by the board of education at its regular meeting in the Graveset Building.

Local funds, coming from the high school bond issue passed in June, 1962, to be used for contracts, are slightly under $12,000.

The remainder of the cost, $116,875, is being provided by the federal government under Public Law 815. The school district is able to receive the federal allocation because a qualifying percentage of dependent of federal government employees attend school here.

It had been expected that the cost of the movable equipment would be upwards of $145,000.

Contracts for four types of movable equipment for which the school board had requested bids were not awarded yesterday because of insufficient competition.

Total To Be Less

Superintendent of Schools Henry Bothwell said, however, that even after the school board purchases this equipment, the total cost of movable equipment for the new high school will be less than had been expected.

The school board accepted the low bids meeting specifications for each of the 26 types of equipment, following a recommendation from Bothwell.

Of the 26 contracts awarded yesterday, all but four went to local firms or firms with Marquette branch offices.

Bidders were asked to submit quotations by groupings and there were 367 items broken down into 30 groups.

Contracts Listed
Contracts were awarded to:
1. Classroom and office furniture, Northern Stationers, Inc., Marquette, $21,467.90; 2. Classroom and office equipment, U.P. Office Supply Co., Marquette, $3,770.85; 3. Office machines, Altmann's, Marquette, $7,217; 4. Mathematics equipment, U.P. Office Supply, $9,445; 5. General school supplies, U.P. Office Supply, $301.12.

6. Biological supplies and equipment, Michigan Medical Supply Co., Ann Arbor, $5,236.29; 7. Homemaking and home economics furniture, U.P. Office Supply, $1,365.04; 9. Homemaking appliances, Northland Appliance, Marquette, $1,696.30; 10. Physical education equipment, U.P. Office Supply, $6,053.95.

Audio Visual Equipment
11. Audio visual equipment, Northern Stationers, $2,788.47; 12. Physics equipment, U.P. Office Supply, $4,096.18; 13. Social studies teaching aids, U.P. Office Supply, $2,965.06; 16. Printing and graphic arts equipment, Brodhead and Garrett Co., Cleveland, $2,222; 17.

20. Pianos and piano benches, MacDonald Music Store, Marquette, $1,386; 21. Music Department special equipment, Northern Stationers, $2,186.01; 22. Library furniture, U.P. Office Supply, $6,262.05; 24. Arts and crafts furniture, U.P. Office Supply, $2,235.89; 25. Arts and crafts equipment, U.P. Office Supply, $1,059.65; 26. Fire extinguishers, U.P. Office Supply, $164.70.

27. Cafeteria furniture, Northern Stationers, $4,419.35; 28. Music risers, Wenger Music Equipment Co., Owatonna, Minn., $1,184; 29. Duplicators, U.P. Office Supply, $1,520; 30. IBM typewriters, IBM Corp., Marquette, $1,731.25.

The school board rejected bids for: 8. Sewing machines, 14. auto mechanics equipment, 15. auto mechanics small tools and supplies and 23. clinic furniture.

Because federal funds are being used for the movable equipment, the school board had to comply with several federal regulations in awarding the contracts.

A resolution to accept the low bids meeting specifications will be submitted to the Chicago regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency for final approval.

Didn't Meet 'Specs'
The federal agency will review the schools' reasons for awarding four contracts which were not low bids. The low bids were eliminated in these cases because they did not comply with specifications.

A representative of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, A. G. Lipsett, Sault Ste. Marie, was present at the bid opening Nov. 26 and at yesterday's meeting. He aided Superintendent Bothwell and the high school staff in a study of the equipment named in the bids.

In addition to the contracts totaling $128,750.11 for movable equipment, in May the school board awarded three contracts totaling $136,645 for the new high school's built-in equipment.

The contracts were for science laboratory equipment, awarded to Classrooms, Inc., Grand Rapids, at $53,999; for food service equipment, awarded to Rhoads Equipment Co., Inc., Fort Wayne, Ind., at $50,600, and for arts and crafts and homemaking equipment, awarded to Classrooms, Inc., at $32,045.

Services Held For Former Sister Here

Funeral services were held at 11 this morning in the chapel of St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, for Sister M. Henrietta, 77, who was well known in this area and who died following a brief illness.

Sister Henrietta served as a registered anesthetist and had devoted 57 years to the religious life and the nursing profession. A member of the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, Peoria, Ill., she had been assigned to St. Mary's Hospital in Marquette for many years before going to St. Francis 15 years ago.

She also had been with St. James Hospital, Pontiac, Ill. Bishop Attends

The Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, attended the services. Burial was made in Holy Cross Cemetery, Escanaba.

The Rev. Dennis O'Leary, hospital chaplain, formerly of Marquette, officiated.

Sister Henrietta was in the obstetrics department of the hospital and she was known, with affection, by mothers and their families throughout the area as the "Baby Sister."

She was born Agnes Hermine Kochheim, Jan. 7, 1889, in Dortmund, Westphalia, Germany, and came to the U.S. at the age of 15.

Gifted Musician
She entered the Convent of the Sisters of St. Francis in Peoria, Ill., in 1906, and received her training to become a registered nurse there.

A gifted musician, she was organist of the hospital chapel. Surviving are a nephew in Hanover, Germany, and cousins in St. Louis, Mo., and in North Dakota.

The film is based on a Hans Christian Anderson fable. A prologue is narrated by Art Linkletter and voices are supplied by Sandra Dee, Tommy Kirk, Patty McCormick and other stars.

The 70-minute film will be shown in the Kaufman Auditorium at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m., Saturday.

Four Motorists Get Tickets In Traffic Mishaps In City

Four motorists were issued tickets and six automobiles were damaged in four traffic mishaps which took place in Marquette yesterday.

City police also reported there were three minor accidents, in which no one was hurt and no tickets were issued. Reports on the major accidents here follow:

1. At 12:10 yesterday afternoon a car being driven west on Wright St. by William C. Haslitt, 70, Box 594, Trowbridge Park, smashed into an automobile operated by Howard D. Tulla, 22, of 1841 Tracy Ave., at the Tracy Ave. intersection.

City police said Tulla had stopped in the lane of traffic for a dog which crossed in front of his car and had his left turn signals on. Haslitt, following him, attempted to drive around him but Tulla had already begun to make his turn when the mishap occurred.

Improper Passing
The right side of Haslitt's 1963 sedan and the left front of Tulla's car, a 1962 model, were damaged. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Haslitt for improper passing.
2. An automobile being driven east on the U. S. 41 bypass by Robert G. White, 20, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, went out of control on the icy pavement as he was rounding a curve under the Champion St. overpass at 1:50 yesterday afternoon.

City police said his car slid off the north side of the highway, striking some highway signs that were about six feet from the roadway. The signs, which had been partly knocked over in a previous accident, were pushed to the ground.

The front end of White's 1936 four-door sedan was damaged. The car had to be towed from the ditch, but was able to be driven away after being pulled out. The mishap occurred 50 feet west of the business route.

Excessive Speed
City police gave White a ticket for driving at an excessive rate of speed.

3. At 3:50 yesterday afternoon a car being driven west on W. Washington St. by Robert E. Kimball, 29, of 995 W. College Ave., smashed into a pickup truck operated by Peter Embley, 46, of 109 E. Park St., who was attempting to make a left turn onto Washington from the south side of the street, in the 900 block.

Embley said he had waited for traffic to clear and didn't see Kimball's car approaching.

Right-Of-Way Violation
Extensive damage resulted to the right front fender and door of Embley's 1950 pickup and minor damage occurred to the left front fender of Kimball's 1963 four-door sedan.

City police ticketed Embley for a right-of-way violation.

4. An automobile being driven east on U. S. 41 at the west end of the bypass by Earl J. LaBlue, 22, of 336 E. Arch St., went out of control on the icy roadway and struck a large stop sign off the westbound lane.

Too Fast For Conditions
The front end of LaBlue's car, a 1957 two-door sedan, was damaged. The accident occurred at 9:30 last night.

City police issued LaBlue a ticket for driving too fast for conditions.

Population Expert Says Out-Migration From U.P. Has Slacked Since 1960

A Michigan State University population expert indicated that out-migration of people from the Upper Peninsula appears to have slackened since 1960.

Dr. J. F. Thaden of the M.S.U. Institute for Community Development, one of the state's foremost demographers, says analyses of census data and estimates indicates there has been an average annual out-migration of 1,374 since 1960, compared to an out-migration of 3,189 per year between 1950-60.

There were 31,889 more persons who left the Peninsula than entered it in that decade. But examination of Thaden's "July 1, 1963, Provisional Estimates of the Counties of Upper Michigan" shows a Peninsula population of 313,300. Birth and death records in the region since 1960 reveal that 11,470 more people were born than died in the region. This is called natural population increase. The difference between the natural increase (11,470) and the estimated population change (305,932 in 1960 and 313,300 in 1963; difference 7,348) represents net migration; in this case, out-migration of some 4,122 persons in the three year period or 1,374 annual average out-migration since the 60's. This represents a substantial slackening of out-migration for the region in recent years. Dr. Thaden says.

Clues To Changes
Thaden further noted that although Marquette County was the only county in the region to experience in-migration during the 50's, Delta, Ontonagon and Marquette Counties appear to have had in-migration since 1960.

These population estimates, according to Dr. Thaden, are derived from school census data and are at best close estimates. Actual "head count" of the total population will occur again in 1970 when the U. S. Census is taken. In the meantime, estimates can be made which provide clues to population changes. The school census taken in May 1963 and its relationship to the total population has been used in this case to derive the estimate.

U.P. Clothing Drive Tops 11-Ton Mark

Catholics from the Upper Peninsula have shipped more than 11 tons of clothing for the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Drive.

With only 17 parishes in the Marquette Diocese reporting, the weight total of clothing shipped from the Peninsula already exceeds 22,000 pounds, according to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, pastor of St. John's Church, Ishpeming, and diocesan chairman for the drive.

There are 100 parishes in the diocese. However, most of the larger parishes in the diocese already have filed reports.

Last year over 19 tons of clothing, plus contributions, were sent from the U. P. in the clothing drive.

Distribution is made to the needy overseas and in Latin American countries without regard to race or color or creed. The program is handled by the Catholic Relief Services division of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

To Top 1962 Work
"If the pattern continues," Msgr. Spelgatti said, "it's likely that the U. P. this year will ship well over last year's totals."

Clothing, bedding and shoes are collected within each parish and are crated and sent to the CRS at the New York or New Orleans shipping points.

Those not having clothes to donate to the drive make cash contributions, with this money being used to ship the cartons to one of the shipping points.

The first ship that arrived in New York under the tariff act of 1789 was the brigantine Persis which had sailed from Livorno, Italy, on Aug. 5. The miscellaneous cargo was consigned to William Seton, who paid $774.71 in duties.

Jaycees At Kettle; Kiwanis Next

Marquette Jaycees manned the Salvation Army "kettle" post last Friday and this Friday the Kiwanis Club will take its turn ringing the bell in the Salvation Army drive to raise funds for its Christmas cheer program. Jaycees used a water closet (toilet bowl for you non-plumbers) as a gag to help spur donations to the program. From left are Gary Dahlke, Bob Kimball and Ben Cudahy. Each Friday a service club has handled the kettle posts for the "Army."—(Mining Journal photo.)

Gauthier Dairy Purchased By Jilbert's Of Calumet

Gauthier Dairy of Skandia, owned by Mrs. Adolphus Gauthier and her sons, Edward, Henry and Leo, has been purchased by the Jilbert Dairy of Calumet.

The sale makes all of the Jilbert Dairy products, well known in the Copper Country and the western Upper Peninsula, available at stores and doorsteps in the central section of the Peninsula.

David Jilbert Manager
Manager of the Jilbert Dairy in Skandia will be David Jilbert, who formerly managed the Jilbert Dairy in Ontonagon. He and his wife Peggy will move to Skandia.

The dairy in Skandia will process and deliver milk products to an expanded area, covering Marquette, Alger, Delta and Schoolcraft Counties. The dairy will handle a complete line of milk products, including ice cream. Although it is under new management, the present 12 employees at the Skandia dairy will be retained.

Founded In 1939
The Jilbert Dairy was founded in August 1939 by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jilbert of Lake Linden. Mrs. Jilbert and her eight children took over the operation at the time of Russell Jilbert's death in 1949. Mrs. Jilbert is general manager of the company. Peter Jilbert manages the Ontonagon plant and William Jilbert manages the Calumet plant.

The Jilbert Dairy is a member of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and the American Dairy Association.

24 Delivery Trucks
The first Jilbert delivery was from one cow and consisted of 16 quarts of milk. Today, using 24 delivery trucks, the Jilbert plants in Skandia, Calumet and Ontonagon process over a million pounds of milk a month.

All milk processed by the Jilbert Dairy is bought from U. P. dairymen.

Fines Hurt In Smashup Near Clare

A Marquette native and his wife and child were seriously injured in a traffic accident on the U.S. 27 expressway, just north of Clare, this week.

Bernard Fine, 28; his wife, Ruth, 25, and their son, Stephen, 13 months, were hurt in the crash, which occurred at 3:25 p.m. Monday, as they were driving back to Southfield, following a weekend visit with Bernard's parents, City Commissioner and Mrs. Joseph Fine, 332 E. Ridge St.

Bernard Fine suffered lacerations on his head and left hand; his wife sustained head lacerations and fractured ribs, and their son suffered head cuts. They and the driver of the other vehicle involved, Edwin Gatz, 37, Gladwin, who had head cuts and a shoulder injury, were taken to the Clare General Hospital.

State police from the Mt. Pleasant Post said Fine was driving south on U.S. 27 when Gatz, headed west on the Surrey Rd., stopped for a stop sign and then drove out onto the highway, with his car striking Fine's on the left side.

Other Driver Ticketed
Extensive damage resulted to the Fine car, a 1962 coach, and to Gatz' 1962 pickup truck.

State police issued Gatz a summons for a right-of-way violation.

Bernard Fine was born in Marquette and graduated from the John D. Pierce High School and Northern Michigan University. He has been residing in Southfield three years.

providing $5,000, the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries $22,000 and ARA the rest. The project would develop trawl fishing techniques for the Lake Superior fishery, better fish handling, storage and marketing methods.

UPCAP also has a government-sponsored U.P. manpower study under way at Northern Michigan University and an aerial survey of the U.P. timber resource under way. Part of the flights were made this year, and the survey is to be completed in 1964.

Transport Study Finished
Revis said Nathan Associates' study of U.P. transportation for UPAP has been completed and is in Washington for Nathan review and will be published and distributed in January.

UPCAP voted support of the Ontonagon harbor development project, which a Senate-House conference committee struck out as a $75,000 planning item in an appropriation bill last week. UPAP also instructed its recreation committee to study and recommend a position in the proposed Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore project in Alger County.

Detroit Civic Center To Get New Caterer

DETROIT (AP) — The Civic Center Commission decided by a 4-1 vote to give caterer Al Green's Cobo Hall contract to another caterer.

The action followed a city auditor's report that there was $58,133 in unreported sales at Green's restaurant business during nine months of last year.

Commissioner Robert B. Evans, who cast the only dissenting vote, said Green had paid the city's share of the unreported sales in immediate restitution and had given "fair and honest" service.

UPCAP Expects Federal Support On Three Projects

By JEAN WORTH
Journal Special Correspondence

The Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems today faced the second 18-month phase of collaboration with the federal government on economic development of the Upper Peninsula with assurance of federal aid on staffing UPCAP and financing on three major projects in promotion of mineral industry research, commercial fishing and tourism.

At the quarterly meeting of UPCAP at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Building Saturday afternoon, Tom Angeli of Iron River, field man for the federal Area Redevelopment Administration said that announcement is expected shortly from ARA on its support of the three economic development projects. He added that he expected no difficulty in ARA approval of a plan to provide an administrative staff for UPCAP which was presented to the meeting by Mrs. Lucy Kay of Robert Nathan Associates of Washington, D.C.

Faces Major Test
UPCAP is an economic development agency created by the boards of supervisors of the U.P. counties. It has only a non-salaried, volunteer staff at present and leans for many services on the technical assistance staff provided for it through Nathan Associates under a $120,000, 18-month contract now expiring by ARA.

As it moves from planning into action on projects to make jobs in the Upper Peninsula, UPCAP faces a major test of its program which will determine the success of its projects and even its survival. This test of implementing planning for job-making projects requires an executive staff for UPCAP.

Proposed Staff Members
Such a staff would be provided by Nathan Associates' plans being submitted by UPCAP to ARA. It would consist of an economist, probably Joseph Revis, who has been senior economist of Nathan's UPCAP office staff, for six months, and three officers for the 18-month trial period, a manager, a planner and an industrial developer.

ARA would undertake to provide $90,000 for the first six months of the program and $50,000 for the year to follow, a total of $140,000. Financial aid would also be sought from foundations and other sources, and the U.P. county governments which created UPCAP would be asked to phase in financial support of UPCAP as ARA phased out its support. By July 1, 1965, the counties would have to assume the financing of UPCAP, along with what aid they could get from foundations and government sources. They now contribute a total of $3,000 a year to UPCAP.

Test Of Success
President Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse told UPCAP that this program would be a test of its success and that if after mid-'65 it couldn't finance its program it should fold its tent.

The projects reported ticketed for ARA approval are:

1. A $135,000 project to promote the recreation business in the Upper Peninsula with ARA contributing $50,000 and Michigan State University $85,000. It would provide several men to work full time on demonstrating recreational development projects throughout the U.P.
2. An $85,000 project with ARA putting up most of the money and Michigan Technological University, Houghton, doing the work in its Institute of Mineral Research to upgrade shaft mine ore from 51 per cent iron to 64-80 per cent iron. The beneficiation process to be developed by this project could revolutionize iron mining, and its product might top the present top position of pelletized low grade iron for furnace preference, UPCAP was told.
3. The fisheries project OK'd by ARA and to be announced soon would cost $83,750 for an 18-month program with MSU

Stock Market

During the last several days, we have made an intensive study of the stock market and the general economic situation as seen through the eyes of numerous analysts, economists and bankers. The study results in the almost unanimous conclusion that 1964 will be a good business year with a substantial rise in the gross national product.

Some bankers predict the national gross will rise from the present level of approximately 100 billion dollars to 115. Others say it may reach as high as 130 billions. All of this, of course, is predicated on the proposed tax cut now pending in Congress, which, if enacted, will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964.

Now let's come to the stock market. Recently, the Dow Jones average hit a new all-time high. During the last several sessions, the average has moved in a narrow range with comparatively low volume. This is credited to tax loss selling and switching that usually occur at the end of a year. It is rather interesting to note, however, that the market has been rather insensitive to a rash of good business news, proposed stock splits and other factors that normally cause a more active market.

No one can accurately determine how much the public has already anticipated the proposed tax cut, in terms of its effect on stock prices, but everyone takes it for granted that the tax bill will be passed in a form written by the House of Representatives, with some amendments by the Senate. There is little likelihood of major changes when the bill reaches the joint committee of the House and Senate before it is passed on to the President for his signature.

There can be little doubt that the impact of the tax cut on the economy will be tremendous. It will release a flood of buying power that will multiply many times the amount of the tax cut itself, affecting all segments of business.

Just how this will affect the stock market is a matter of conjecture. Some bankers predict the Dow Jones average will rise 30 or 40 points during the coming year. Others say the rise may be as much as 75 or 100 points. But remember this: The Dow Jones average is based on only 20 leading stocks, and of this number only a handful have been influencing the averages. The DJ average always has had a tremendous psychological effect on stock buyers, particularly the small investor. In our opinion, there has been no time in the recent history of the market when it has been a less reliable indicator of what the market may do.

At the moment, we do not have a stock market, that is, a market in which an investor can pick almost any good stock with reasonable assurance that it will go up and that he will make a profit and a reasonable return on his money. Rather, we have a market of stocks, rather limited in number, that have a good potential. At this level of the market, the small investor must use the utmost caution. He must research particular stocks carefully and draw heavily on the advice of his banker and his broker before he makes his choice, if he is to avoid the pitfalls that are always present in investment and speculation.

Christmas Pets

Dear Sir: Does your Christmas list include a living pet? If so, be sure the animal is wanted. If there are children in the family, they must be old enough to understand their responsibilities in handling and caring for the animal. They must be handled carefully and picked up gently. Their tails must not be pulled. Their ears must not be pulled or twisted. They must not be teased.

Many an animal has been the victim of rough handling that has resulted in ruptured stomach, sprained legs, sore ears and blinded eyes. Be sure the mother or lady of the house wants the animal and that the parents are willing to assume the care and supervision of the pet. They must have a warm box or basket to sleep in and must be fed several times a day if it is a small puppy or kitten, and they need clean water at all times.

Add one more thing to the Christmas list: An information book on the care and handling of a pet. Leaflets and books are available at all book stores, or write the American Humane Society, Box 1266 L/N, Denver, Colo. Kindness and protection to every living creature mark the good man. May all that have life be delivered from suffering.

The Marquette delegation at the opening of the new Ishpeming Theater Tuesday night comprised between 50 and 60 people. For their accommodation there was a special train on the South Shore, leaving at 7 and getting the party back to Marquette shortly after 12. The delegation was not seated in a body, but, owing to the manner of the selection of seats for the opening, was scattered all over the house. The party from this city enjoyed the occasion, taking great pleasure in an inspection of the theater and following the lines of Whiteside's dainty comedy.

—Ishpeming—

The opening of the theater was a much discussed topic yesterday. The play and the house were spoken of in the most flattering terms, with hardly an exception. The failure to take the flashlight photograph caused considerable disappointment. The audience became impatient and left their seats before there was time to complete the preparations.

One of the temporary state liquor stores, to be opened by Friday or Saturday of this week with inspectors of the State Liquor Commission in charge, will be established in Marquette, according to information given The Mining Journal Saturday by V. F. Gormely of Newberry, member of the liquor commission.

The big parade. Pocketbooks are haversacks. And with but six more shopping days until Christmas the Yule hosts press on under arches of triumph.

—Ishpeming—

Sixty-five Civil Works Administration projects, employing approximately 3,300 men, are under way at present in Marquette County, filling the quota of men allotted to the county.

The gallery gods were not in evidence at the first performance, and most of the seats in their portion of the house were vacant.

The Mining Journal branch office will be moved today from Room 6 of the Dundon Block to the box office of the theater. The office will be connected with the county phone as formerly.

—Negaunee—

The committee commissioned by the council to undertake the improvements at the municipal lighting station are not losing any time. A force of men will begin this morning to make ready for the erection of the boiler house, the first step in the rehabilitation of the plant. The building now occupied by the generating machine and the water works will be extended by an addition 45 by 46 feet in size, in which the new boilers will be located. The chairman of the water committee explained yesterday that it is absolutely essential that the new boilers be installed without delay. The battery now in service has been unfit for use for a long time.

Officers of the Rose of England Lodge, Daughters of St. George, were installed at the last regular meeting by Jane Kevern, district deputy, of Negaunee.

—Negaunee—

Negaunee police were called to the Black Diamond beer garden and restaurant shortly after 2 this morning, where a free-for-all fight climaxed an evening's entertainment.

Charges that a clique of Negaunee men, bent on making trouble for the school administration, seized oyster charges against a teacher as a pretext for accomplishing alleged underhand schemes to undermine the present regime by inciting students to walk out of their classrooms last Monday afternoon were made today in a statement issued by H. S. Doolittle, superintendent, and the Negaunee Board of Education.

Hope Chest

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — There will be no sea and air blockade of Fidel Castro's Cuba, despite the near unanimity of the Organization of American States (OAS) in voting an investigation of charges that Castro smuggled arms into Venezuela in support of Communist terrorism there.

For a change, the reason is not that the OAS is largely composed of namby-pamby politicians who wouldn't say boo to a goose. The boys are still horrified at direct action, of course, but this time it is the usually aggressive United States that is dragging its feet. Uncle Sam's reluctance has to do with a man named Khrushchev.

Mr. K's Face

Any successful blockade of Cuba would be a blow also to the Soviet Union, which is still spending $1 million a day to keep the bearded egomaniac in business. And although there may be times when Mr. K. wishes he never heard of Cuba, he would have to start shaking his fist at the U.S. if only to safeguard his investment. Another crisis similar to that of October 1962 could develop.

That is the one thing that the Johnson administration doesn't want this early in its young life. President Johnson is just as determined as was Kennedy to do something about Fidel Castro, but in his own way and at a time of his own choosing. His wants to continue the Kennedy policy of contributing to the slow erosion of the Castro regime by both covert and overt action that will not involve the Soviet Union. Basically, it is U.S. policy to convince Khrushchev, by the gradual deterioration of the regime, that Castro is a bad debt and not worth any show of force that would place Russian prestige on the line.

Lacked Big Brother

Back in 1960, the OAS took the then-unprecedented step of suspending diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic regime of Gen. Trujillo and imposing limited trade sanctions.

But this didn't take much courage, since unlike Castro the Trujillo dictatorship had no Big Brother abroad and was unpopular even with the more corrupt states in the hemisphere. Trujillo was helpless; Castro has the position of the poor relation who has caused the rich uncle a lot of money and can't be permitted to go bust until he repays at least a portion of the loan.

No Shooting Likely

Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt, who recommended the blockade, also has asked for whatever additional armed force may be necessary to end Castro's campaign of subversion south of the border. This plea hasn't got a chance.

Aside from Uncle Sam's unwillingness to risk a Caribbean consultation with the Soviet Union, OAS members do not care to shoot it out with other governments, lest they create a precedent that would return to haunt their own regimes.

There doesn't seem to be any doubt that Venezuela can back up its charges. It has seized the smuggled arms, and technicians have reported that they came from Cuba. The OAS fact-finding commission won't have to work any eight-hour days to verify this. Then, the best bet is that the OAS will vote to tighten trade restrictions and cut diplomatic contacts with Cuba to a minimum. The aim is to keep Russia out of the act at all costs.

Assassination Car Reportedly Being Refitted

DEARBORN — The limousine that carried John F. Kennedy to his rendezvous with death was under secret service guard here, reportedly being refitted for further service as the official Presidential car.

The alterations are reported to include 1,600 pounds of armor plating and bullet-proof glass.

The move might mean the Secret Service has rejected an earlier proposal to place the car in the Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village, also located in this Detroit suburb.

Ford Motor Co. mechanics reportedly have been instructed to equip the limousine with new brakes and a suspension system strong enough to support the armor plating. Ford officials neither confirmed nor denied that the car was in Michigan.

State Police Will Operate Special Yule Road Patrol

LANSING — The State Highway Department offers its advice to those planning Christmas holiday trips.

An unusual high proportion of accidents happen during the first 90 minutes of a trip, said the department, so motorists should be especially cautious for the first 50 miles.

—Negaunee—

If possible, motorists should choose a freeway because limited access routes have proven to be four or five times safer than ordinary highways, the department said.

A mechanical check is important because mechanical defects often show up on a long, hard drive. Special attention should be given the tires, the department added, because proper inflation gives better tire mileage and assures better control in emergencies.

The department also suggested that those driving west should plan to eat dinner about 45 minutes before sunset to avoid unnecessary glare.

DENVER — If you got a Christmas card this year from nightclub owner Sammy Toole, he says please ignore it.

President Scrooge

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — Much can be learned about American politics — and much ironical amusement can also be obtained — from close observation of President Johnson's attack upon the budget, under the sacred banners of "thrift and frugality." For sheer drama, it almost equals the battle of San Juan Hill.

The motive of all this public cutting and slashing must above all be borne in mind. The President feared from the first that he could not drive the creaking Congress to rapid action on the civil rights bill. Hence, he early decided to try for a partial consolation prize, in the form of fairly prompt action on the tax reduction bill.

'You Can't Have Both'
The link between tax reduction and the 1964 budget, so long insisted upon by Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, was the central point in the new President's first White House meeting on budgetary problems. Budget Director Kermit Gordon and the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, Walter Heller, began by arguing against an overly tight budget.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon made the counter-argument, for which, one may reasonably suspect, President Johnson had been waiting. "You can either have a budget over $101.5 billion," Dillon said in effect, "or you can have $11 billion of tax reduction. But you can't have both."

Even Walter Heller thereupon replied that, if this was the real situation, he, too, opted for a tight budget. After that, unanimity prevailed throughout the administration. And the President was then safely able to promise Sen. Byrd an advance peek at the budget, in return for a reluctant promise by Byrd to send the tax bill from the finance committee to the Senate floor.

Attack On 'Needless Spending'
Next came the grand attack upon "needless spending" which has filled the headlines almost as though it were an old-fashioned cavalry charge led by President Scrooge in person. In this entertaining but far from valueless operation, the President's chief lieutenant has necessarily been Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, whose department absorbs the lion's share of each year's federal outlays.

The valuable part of the grand attack was the President's decision to back his secretary of defense in making a long series of overdue economies in Defense Department operations, by closing all sorts of obsolete military bases and installations all over the United States. This is the hardest thing to do in politics. The Boston Rope Walk survived for nearly a century after the U. S. Navy converted from sail to steam, and the Boston Navy Yard survives today for precisely the same reasons.

McNamara had in fact proposed the same economies to President Kennedy. But President Kennedy had not felt able to back his defense secretary in this instance, since President Kennedy was no longer in the happy position of a brand-new occupant of the White House, from whom every single senator and representative hopes for some favor or other.

'Like Closing The Angels' Choirloft'
President Johnson, of course, is in just this position. Furthermore, he judged that the gain in Congress from a strong economizing gesture would more than outweigh the loss caused by the outraged feelings of the senators and representatives whose states and districts were losing local sources of profit and employment.

President Johnson even approved the suppression of a small military facility in Georgia, the hitherto untouchable state of the chairmen of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees. And this, as someone in the Pentagon remarked, was "like closing the angels' choirloft up in heaven."

The howls of the economy-pinched lawmakers (most of whom howl about "too much federal spending" every other day of the year) are now so deafening that you can hardly hear yourself think in the U. S. Capitol. Yet the President's judgment about the political timing of these useful savings seems to have been correct.

Budget To Have Element Of Fakery

Some real economies have also been made in personnel and in other areas as well. Finally, it must be added, paper savings are being made, in the best manner of improvident householders, by deferring eventually unavoidable spending on maintenance and the like, both in the Defense Department and in other departments.

This budget will not quite equal some of the budgets prepared by the great corporate executives of the Eisenhower administration, who would have a lot of trouble with the Securities and Exchange Commission if they handled their companies' accounts as they handled the federal accounts. But the 1964 budget will have its element of fakery, all the same.

Both the drama and the fakery are in the American political tradition, and they will probably produce the desired practical result — which is simply to pass the tax bill reasonably soon. Yet the irony of all this remains uncomfortably noticeable in a country that might well solve the obstinate problem of poverty in the midst of affluence by spending no more than the sum annually spent on cosmetics alone.

The Honeymoon's Over

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's honeymoon with Congress, where he served 23 years, has come to a sickening stop. He is faced, after less than a month in office, with the same challenge President John F. Kennedy never mastered.

It's how to get this dawdling Congress, the laziest in at least a generation, to do what he asks. The House didn't give him much time to ponder his dilemma. It has just hit his foreign aid program with a meat ax.

This action, even the timing, was a brutal end to the quiet spell Congress let Johnson have after Kennedy's assassination while he tried to get used to his new job.

Johnson may soon reveal whether he's going to follow the Kennedy method of soft talk with Congress, or whether he's capable of a much tougher policy that might get results where Kennedy couldn't.

Just last week the two houses had authorized a ceiling of $3.6 billion for foreign aid, a figure Johnson was willing to accept. Congress finally reached this action after months of wrangling within itself and with Kennedy.

That figure was $1.3 billion less than Kennedy had originally asked and $900 million less than he had finally set as a bottom figure. But the ceiling always winds up less than a president's minimum figure anyway.

So watching Congress set a spending limit of $3.6 billion was endurable. But the ceiling is only just that. After the ceiling Congress still has to vote the actual money to be spent. And that, in turn, usually winds up less than the ceiling.

This week the House, acting before the Senate, was to vote on the spending money. To try to forestall too big a cut, Johnson called in the greatest antagonist of foreign aid in the House, Rep. Otto E. Passman, Louisiana Democrat.

Passman is chairman of a House subcommittee which passes on the money to be spent for foreign aid. Johnson, who had magical method of getting things done his way when he was in Congress, talked to him.

Passman listened, went back to the Capitol, and his committee promptly made a joke of the Johnson-Passman conversation.

It decided foreign aid should get only $2.8 billion, or $800 million less than the ceiling permitted, and $1.7 billion less than Kennedy's final minimum request.

Johnson responded immediately with a statement — that this kind of cut would "put our foreign policy in a strait-jacket."

Johnson still had hopes, although perhaps slim, that the full House, when it voted, would be more generous than the Passman committee's recommendation. The recommendation wasn't final but the House vote would be.

But Monday, just about the time Johnson was signing the authorizing bill with its ceiling of $3.6 billion, the House voted, upheld Passman's committee, and decided $2.8 billion was plenty.

This was a terrible jolt but even this action by the House wasn't the last word. The Senate hadn't voted yet.

And Johnson could hope that the Senate would approve spending at or near the $3.6-billion ceiling and then, in a compromise between House and Senate, the final spending figure would be higher than that of the House even though lower than that of the Senate.

But—the House hadn't been content with just cutting money from foreign aid. It added an amendment to prevent this country from giving Russia credit on the wheat it wants to buy from the United States. This was a deep wound.

Johnson fought back with another statement, saying "we cannot oppose the spread of communism and promote the growth of freedom by giving speeches." But this in its own way was just a speech. It probably won't change a single Senate vote.

Now it's up to Johnson to perform. He knows as he tries that the Congress and the country will be watching him. It's his first big test.

Despite Stormy Weather, Big Crowd Sees Creche Opening

Despite blizzard-like weather, a large number of city residents joined in last night's community caroling (above), which marked the opening of Marquette's 1963 Community Crib, set in the window of the Montgomery Ward garage at the corner of Front and Bluff Sts. The creche expresses the spiritual significance of Christmas for the people of the city, and for 11 consecutive years it has been shown under the sponsorship of the Marquette Woman's Club, with the cooperative assistance of Marquette's retail merchants, other organizations and individuals. A brass group provided by Local 218, American Federation of Musicians, furnished accompaniment for last night's singing, in which carolers were directed by William G. ## Election Of U.P. Episcopal Bishop Slated For Jan. 8th

The Episcopal convention to elect a successor to the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page as Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Michigan will reconvene in Holy Trinity Church, Iron Mountain, Wednesday, Jan. 8, beginning at 10 a. m.

Bishop Page, spiritual leader and administrator of the diocese since Oct. 23, 1942, will reach mandatory retirement age of 72 on May 3, 1964.

Had Met Nov. 19

Meeting in St. Stephen's Church, Escanaba, Nov. 19, clergy and lay delegates elected the Venerable Dean T. Stevenson, archdeacon of the Diocese of Bethlehem, Pa., on the third ballot, but Archdeacon Stevenson declined.

The convention had adjourned sine die, subject to the call of the bishop, and upon receipt of word from Archdeacon Stevenson last week, Bishop Page and the president of the diocese standing committee, the Rev. Canon J. William Robertson, Iron Mountain, set Jan. 8 as the date to reconvene.

Same Candidates

The convention thus will continue, it is understood, with the same slate of candidates with the exception of Archdeacon Stevenson and the Very Rev. Paul Nancarrow, of Menominee, dean of Grace Cathedral, who withdrew.

Present nominees are the Rt. Rev. David Rose, suffragan bishop of South Virginia; the Venerable Charles Braidwood, archdeacon of the Diocese of Michigan; the Rev. John Baden, South Virginia; the Rev. Canon Robertson of Iron Mountain; the Venerable H. Edwin Caudil, archdeacon of the Diocese of Oklahoma, Chaplain (Capt.) A. Donald Davies, Ft. Hood, Texas; the Rev. Clyde Wilson, Chicago and the Rev. Caution From Economists

The construction industry thinks all of this — from consumer confidence through industrial spending — promises it another good year.

But some economists are crying caution. They remember that past business upswings have shown similar spurts shortly before the downturn. And the traditionalists harp on the age of the present upswing, already older than the postwar average.

Senate Votes To Preserve Election Law

LANSING (AP) — A plan to keep township officers off next year's election ballots was bolstered Tuesday by the Senate's vote to preserve the present township election law.

The law calls for township elections next spring, but they cannot be held because the new constitution abolishes spring elections.

If such a constitutional amendment succeeded, the townships would vote on their officials as usual. If it failed, the officials would keep their jobs and would not have to run until the 1966 general election, keeping them in office nearly twice as long as the terms to which they were elected.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — Mayor James McIntyre sent a telegram yesterday to U. S. Rep. Victor A. Knox, backing the Michigan Republican's efforts to have tolls removed from the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

The mayor said Canadians in this area appreciate Knox's efforts, adding that the $3.75 one-way toll on the bridge is an obstacle to travel between the U. S. Midwest and Canada.

Financial Scene: Auto, Steel Giving Boost To Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — Auto makers and steel mills are giving the economy its biggest upward boost just now with the consumer chipping in with his dollars.

Output of industrial machinery and freight and passenger equipment also is credited with helping autos and steel push industrial output to a record high in November.

Retail trade in most sections seems set for new December high with consumers spending freely.

Big Auto Year Due

Auto executives are using present healthy demand for their 1964 models as a base for predicting a third straight good sales year ahead. In turn, their orders for materials are bolstering the steel industry.

Steel output, running in excess of two million tons a week in mid-December, is 11 per cent higher than a year ago. This month production at the mills usually drops. But this time management has been pleasantly surprised with the

Deserted Logging Camp Breeds Melancholy Mood

(Talk delivered by the noted author, Stewart H. Holbrook, when he received the 1963 Distinguished Service Award from American Forest Products Industries, Inc., for service to American forestry and the forest industries.)

By STEWART H. HOLBROOK

There is perhaps no scene more conducive to melancholy than a deserted logging camp. By melancholy I mean that irrational condition we call nostalgia for times past, which is likely, if not admitted, a lament for our lost youth. I have seen abandoned camps in Maine, in Wisconsin, in the far Northwest. In each region they exert on the visitor, or at least on me, the same powerful sense of sadness that emanates from all ghostly frontier settlements.

Possibly this is so in my case because I have known many logging camps, even loved some of them, and can readily call up the scene as it was in its heyday: The bunkhouse alive with familiar sights and sounds; the cookhouse (kitchen and dining room) with its great glowing range, the smell of new bread from the immense ovens; the blacksmith shop with its reek of coal gas and iron; the sidetrack where a Shay locomotive drowns the nights away; the pungency of fresh sawdust on the wind.

Strange, Lovely Flower
Fireweed, that strange and lovely flower of boundless range, grew all along the camp's plank sidewalk. There was moss on the bunkhouse roofs, from a few of which a stovepipe arose and leaned. The bright red target of a forgotten railroad switch reared above young firs, warning train crews long since gone on trains that would no longer pass.

It was not a scene of desolation. It was more as if life had been arrested, not destroyed, as in death, but held in abeyance, like that of a hibernating bear, ready to stir

Jury Acquits Woman Of Beer Charge

Dorothy M. Jordan, 938 W. Bluff St., Marquette was acquitted by a Marquette Township Justice Court jury of a charge of selling beer to minors.

Mrs. Jordan had pleaded not guilty and had been arraigned last Friday, with Justice George J. Fozzy setting the trial for this week.

State police made the arrest and charged the offense occurred Oct. 28 at Alexander's Store here, where she is employed.

Stephen Catal, Ishpeming, assistant prosecutor, was the attorney for the people and Nicholas Bridges, Negaunee, was the defendant's attorney.

Witnesses Listed
Witnesses for the people were Dennis L. Mitchell, Margaret A. Hoglund and Trooper Eugene Wieler. Mrs. Jordan appeared on the witness stand in her own behalf.

Members of the jury were Fred Klumb, Lorraine Makela, Goldie C. Nyberg, Willis Tipping, Jeanne E. Uren and Mark Trotochoud, all of Marquette Township.

again when the warmth of spring told of a winter gone. Like Unwanted Guest

Where now were the lads who had lived here a week, or a year, and had cut the firs and left the stumps which were already beginning to disappear into the ground cover of new seedlings and surviving saplings? Who was the flier that had kept the glittering teeth of their saws bright and sharp? Was he filing elsewhere now, or not at all? And what of him who had scored Time on the calendar in the cookhouse? Had he caught Time at last, or had he caught him?

A strange feeling came over me that must also have come over the first excavators at Pompeii, a sense that I had somehow stepped into a hiatus in the life and times of this particular place; that the citizens were still hiding somewhere about, watching, waiting, to see what the intruder was up to. I felt like an unwanted guest.

Stakey With Big Paycheck
The big range was gone from the cookhouse, but the mixing board, the shelves and the sinks were as they had been left when some chef had sighed, taken off his apron, put on his coat and hat and walked out the door. A faucet still dripped slowly, as I supposed it had dripped since the last cookie washed the last dish and called it a day.

The long tables of the dining room were still in place, nailed stoutly to the floor, apparently until Gabriel should blow. On the wall was a gaudy calendar for 1927. Some forgotten inhabitant of this deserted city had marked off the days of January with a black pencil—no doubt a restless man—stakey with a big paycheck, in the language of the logging woods — trying to hurry. Time till the day he should take the log train down to the junction with the Northern Pacific railway, then in the steamcars to Seattle or Portland where the lights were bright, and some of them red, even in the foggy murk of winter.

Over all the camp was a tremendous hush. To shout, to speak loudly would have seemed indecent. I sat down on an empty box to consider the scene.

I took my time musing, as had the Poet Goldsmith in his Auburn. Was not my Village as deserted as his?

Things Of The Past
Though I have never had occasion to return there, I know well enough that it would be difficult to locate the site.

Thirty-odd years is time aplenty for the new forest to have removed all the buildings. In another 15 years, perhaps, loggers will be back for another harvest on this spot. But there will be no camp, no shelter of any sort. The men will drive here in automobiles and return to their homes at night. Both camp and logging railroad are virtually things of the past. Today's loggers are now thoroughly and, I trust, happily domesticated. Few of them regret the passing of either the camp or the railroad. Here and there, possibly, there survives some atavistic character who may recall a dawn when the sun came over the mountain, to slant down through swirling mists on a logging camp, while one hundred young single men came stomping down the walk, their corks clicking in the planks, heading for an incredible breakfast, a box of Copenhagen, then a thundering ride behind the rolling

Extra Skate Sessions Set For Palestra

Two extra free skating sessions will be held at the Palestra both weeks during the Christmas holiday season, it was announced today.

James C. Engle, superintendent of the parks and recreation department, said the additional skating sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Free skating will be offered from 2 to 5 p. m. on Tuesday, Dec. 24; Thursday, Dec. 26; Tuesday, Dec. 31, and Thursday, Jan. 2.

Otherwise, Engle said, the regular skating schedule will be in effect, with the exception of Christmas Day and New Year's Day, when there will be no skating at the Palestra.

Regular Schedule
The regular schedule, which also will be maintained during the Christmas holiday period, includes general skating from 2 to 4:30 Sunday afternoons; from 8 to 10 Friday nights and from 8 to 10 Saturday nights.

(However, there will be no general skating this Saturday night, due to the scheduling of four hockey games between Marquette and Houghton teams.)

The Monday night (8 to 10) session is for adults only. Other free skating sessions are 2 to 5 p. m., Mondays; 2 to 5 p. m., Fridays, and 2 to 4:30 p. m., Saturdays.

Youth Arraigned On Robbery Charge

ITHACA — Roderick Eflaw, 18, of St. Louis, was arraigned in his Gratiot County Jail cell on a charge of armed robbery stemming from a holdup of the Family Loan Co. of Alma Dec. 2.

Eflaw was injured seriously in a head-on crash on M 66 near the Montcalm-Ionia County line in an escape attempt following the robbery, police said. They said some $300 taken from the loan company was found in his possession.

Respiratory Diseases: Youngsters Most Frequent Victims Of Bronchiectasis

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on respiratory diseases. The series is sponsored by the Marquette County Tuberculosis Association.)

Children — even babies — and adolescents are the most frequent victims of bronchiectasis.

But this troublesome disease (brong-kee-ECK-tah-sis) can also attack adults.

It is a disease that affects the bronchial tubes (passages that carry air into the lungs). The tubes balloon out into little pockets that, in turn, fill up with infection.

Bronchiectasis does not directly cause death. But it is a serious disease, mainly because of its serious complications and — in some cases — the restricted way of life it forces upon its victims. The disease is also chronic, usually lasting a lifetime. But most of the time the patient feels well and there is no fever or pain.

Many cases of bronchiectasis begin with such respiratory diseases as flu, pneumonia and tuberculosis. Or children may come down with a severe attack of whooping cough or measles. These diseases can weaken the walls of the bronchial tubes and cause the pockets of infection to form.

An obstruction of some sort — anything that presses on the bronchial tubes from the outside or blocks them from the inside — may also cause bronchiectasis. Sometimes a child swallows a peanut "the wrong way." It is trapped in the bronchial tubes and the bronchial tube balloons out to form a perfect hiding place for infection and pus.

When the walls of the bronchial tubes are injured, there is damage to the lung's complex cleaning system. The tiny hairs, called cilia — which line the bronchial tubes and sweep them free of dust and excess mucus — are destroyed.

Without this cleaning system in first-class working order, dust, mucus and bacteria accumulate. Infection festers within the newly-formed pockets and bronchiectasis results.

Symptoms
The main symptom of bronchiectasis is a cough. Not an ordinary cough, but one that sends the patient into a sudden, violent coughing spasm. It comes without warning, with a change in the body's position or from sudden movement such as that caused by laughter. Sometimes the cough is so violent it frightens other people. And many adult patients are unable to work in close contact with the public.

Along with this racking cough, the bronchiectasis patient brings up a great amount of mucus, frequently foul-smelling. Spitting up of blood may occur. Colds also develop easily into pneumonia, and patches of the pneumonia infection are often found clustered around the swollen pockets in the bronchial tubes.

Treatment
Because no vapors, sprays or fluids have been found, as yet, to clean up and clear the pockets of infection, it is difficult to treat bronchiectasis. However, certain substances can be inhaled to make the thick mucus more liquid and thus easier to cough up.

One very important and simple means of getting relief: The patient can lie down several times a day, with his head hanging over the side of the bed until it almost touches the floor. The bronchial tubes drain out and the unpleasant stuff coughed up can be spit out.

In some cases surgery is effective. When the bronchial tubes are injured and air does not flow through properly, the deeper parts of the lungs may become greatly damaged. Surgery that removes these deeper portions as well as the dilated bronchi (the small air passages) can cure bronchiectasis. Such surgery is successful even with young children.

Patients with bronchiectasis are very susceptible to acute bronchitis and pneumonia, so the doctor may prescribe antibiotic drugs to control such complications.

Prevention

Proof that a great deal of bronchiectasis can be prevented is seen in its steady decrease in recent years.

Because the disease affects young people more frequently than adults, all parents and teachers, as well as pediatricians and family physicians, should be aware of the need to protect children against it.

The ways in which bronchiectasis can be prevented are: (1) Children should be vaccinated against whooping cough and measles, and adults should get flu shots; (2) special care should be taken to help infants, young people — and adults — recover completely when they do come down with flu, pneumonia or whooping cough; (3) if an infant swallows something "the wrong way," he should be swung up by the heels and slapped on the back until the object comes out; (4) if the same thing happens to an older child or adult, he should be bent over the back of a straight chair and slapped on the back; (5) if the object does not come out right away — and in all cases when there is some doubt as to whether an object has been swallowed — a doctor should be consulted immediately. Usually the object can be removed readily by a doctor before bronchiectasis sets in, and (6) for everyone, staying in good general health — and thus warding off infections —

If the experience of past years is repeated, some surprises are in store.

Birds are found in Michigan when they might properly be expected only in the warm South. Others also show up.

Tenor To Give Recital In Kaye Hall Jan. 9

The leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, Jan Peerce, will sing at Northern Michigan University's Kaye Auditorium Thursday, Jan. 9, at 8:15 p.m.

Peerce, a tenor, is being presented by the Marquette Community Concerts Association with the cooperation of NMU.

Described as "one of the most beloved artists of our time," he recently returned from a tour of Norway, France and Austria, where he was heard in recitals and concerts, in broadcasts and on television. Austrian critics wrote of his performance at the completely sold out Konzerthaus in Vienna that "this was one of the most memorable events in the history of this metropolis of music." Prior to that, the tenor toured Israel and Russia.

JAN PEERCE

Invited To France

Peerce appeared at the Metropolitan Opera this season as the Duke in Verdi's "Rigoletto," as Don Ottavio in "Don Giovanni" and in the title role of "Faust." He has been invited by French minister for culture, Andre Malraux, to sing Faust at the Paris Opera during the 1964-65 season, and he will appear in five other operas in that time.

Peerce probably holds a record as the most traveled singer for 1963. He toured Europe twice, Israel once, Russia once and the United States twice in nation-wide concert and recital appearances.

Each year since his discovery by Toscanini, and his subsequent debut at the Metropolitan, Peerce has moved from strength to strength, winning one triumph after another until today he stands at the peak of one of the 20th century's most impressive musical careers.

On March 14, the Marquette Community Concerts Association will present the New York Brass Quartet, which will be the last in this series of programs.

LBJ's Daughters Keep White House Lines Busy

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeature Writer

Since there is a switchboard at the White House, it will be possible to get phone calls through to the President of the United States, even though he does have two lively teenage daughters.

Six-year-old Caroline who lived there before the death of her beloved Daddy, President John F. Kennedy, was too young for telephoning, hep talk, and beaux.

But these conditions of adolescence are sure to move into the historic Pennsylvania Avenue residence along with the high-spirited daughters of President Lyndon Johnson, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16. Thus the hallowed halls are certain to echo with merriment and youthful exuberance.

Now The Shadows

Yet, in their new roles as "First Family," the two girls will leave behind them much of the freedom they enjoyed in Les Ormes, the huge mansion formerly owned by Washington's famed hostess, Perle Mesta.

Secret Service men never accompanied them on their dates although Lynda Bird has joked that, "Daddy sometimes threatens to send one along."

Now "Daddy" has no choice. The ubiquitous secret service will be a discreet but short distance away when Lynda's finance, Ens, Bernard Rosebach comes to call, or when any young swain makes his way to the White House door to pay court to her sister, Madonna-like Lucy Baines.

Because she has never been sure of the sincerity of Washington suitors, Lynda Bird has preferred to date Texas lads, and eventually agreed to marry one. Rosebach is from Comfort, Texas, and Lynda now attends the University of Texas.

A year and a half ago the older girl complained that young men whom she did not know asked her for dates only because they thought it would be quite a social coup to go out with the Vice President's daughter. "I don't want to be a parasite on my father's name," she sighed. With her father, in the White House, dates with Lucy Baines, will be even more prestigious among the Capitol's young eligibles, and she shares her sister's eagerness to be liked for herself alone.

Similarities, Differences

After Margaret Truman left the White House, she wrote that her opportunities for romance were often thwarted by the long shadows of the secret service and her own suspicions of sincerity. Now the wife of New York Times executive Clifton Daniels, Miss Truman was born to career politician Harry Truman who, like the Johnson girls' father, inherited the Presidency in the wake of a national tragedy — in this instance the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

However, until she became interested in the performing arts, Margaret, an only child born late in her parents' life, tended to be shy of the public like her diffident mother, Bess Truman. Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines, on the other hand, are outgoing, public relations — conscious by-products of a politically astute father and a mother who is also a highly skilled campaigner and an excellent business woman.

In interviews the young ladies are self-assured, forthright, enthusiastic and typical of all American teen-agers. Lynda is likely to interrupt a telephone interview with an admonition to her younger sister to "Get off the extension, please. I'm using this." Lucy, like many teen-agers, loves the phone.

'Deprived Children'

Mrs. Johnson tries not to let the girls believe they are important because their father is a public figure. To the contrary, the sisters once decried they are "deprived children" because they so seldom see their peripatetic parents. Almost in the same breath they forgive them for their busy-ness.

"Although we don't always have physical togetherness, we have moral togetherness," Lynda Bird once analyzed their family relationship. "Lucy and I know, whether Mother is with us or not, she's thinking about us. And sometimes when she's away. I go into her room and smell her perfume and feel her presence."

Until they came to Washington the daughters lived in shirts, shorts and loafers, comfortable and appropriate to the casual life on the famed 400-acre LBJ ranch where many international dignitaries have barbecued beef steaks under the sprawling trees.

Went Shopping

When their father became Vice President of the United States, both went shopping for long dinner gowns and cocktail dresses suitably modest and unsophisticated for adolescents who do not drink cocktails. Being the eldest, and the nation's most prominent teen-ager Lynda Bird has often been called upon to preside at youthful social functions.

educational needs while growing up in their home state. In Washington Lucy Baines still attends The National Cathedral School, an Episcopal private school which her sister also attended before enrolling in University of Texas.

"Lynda Bird should have been a lawyer," Mrs. Johnson said of her daughter during the Presidential campaign. "She can talk you out of anything or into anything."

Obviously Lynda never takes advantage of her talent, or her mother's tendency to be indulgent. "Mother never tells us when to be in, just leaves it to our own judgment. How can you break faith with a woman who does that?"

Addition To Bell Hospital To House Laboratory Units

ISHPEMING — John Edmondson, administrator of Francis A. Bell Memorial Hospital, announced this week that work has begun on a $150,000 addition to the hospital, the $65,000 X-ray project has been completed and a $10,000 automatic dishwashing machine will go into operation soon.

The new addition, which will house the laboratory section, is expected to be completed in May of 1964.

Proksch Construction Co., Iron Mountain, is the general contractor on the project which, when completed, will give the hospital an additional 1,650 square feet, actually double the present amount of space now being used in the laboratory.

Edmondson said the pathology laboratory will be moved up adjacent to the clinical laboratory. This also will include a cast and minor fracture room and additional space for the emergency room.

Also included in the 30 by 55 foot addition will be a small examination room and a room for "in" and "out" patients.

The two-story building (basement and main floor) will have ample storage rooms, plus a blood bank area.

"The new addition," Edmondson said, "will be built in keeping with the present architectural design of the rest of the hospital."

"This addition is being completed with the financial assistance of government or community agencies."

The administrator, in announcing completion of the $65,000 project in the X-ray department, said additional equipment has been received and the department expanded into two remodeled rooms.

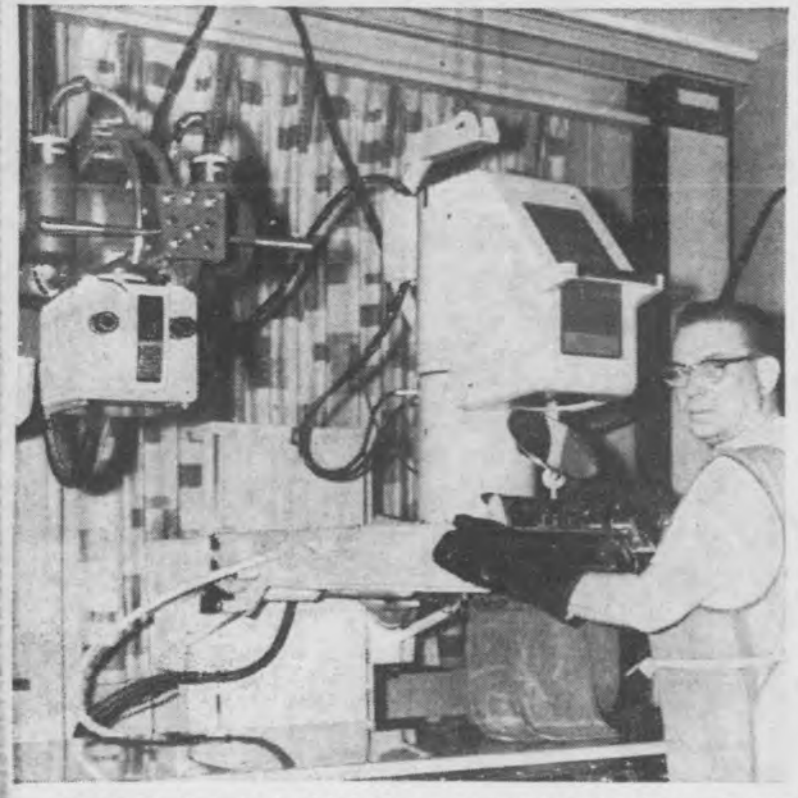

The two rooms are equipped with modern high intensity X-ray machines together with a "Siemens" image intensifier which permits the radiologist to view a bright fluoroscope image of the patient under conditions of very low X-ray radiation.

The new automatic dishwashing machine is the latest in scientific dishwashing equipment. The 16-foot washing and drying unit, to be installed in the kitchen, will be in operation by Jan. 1.

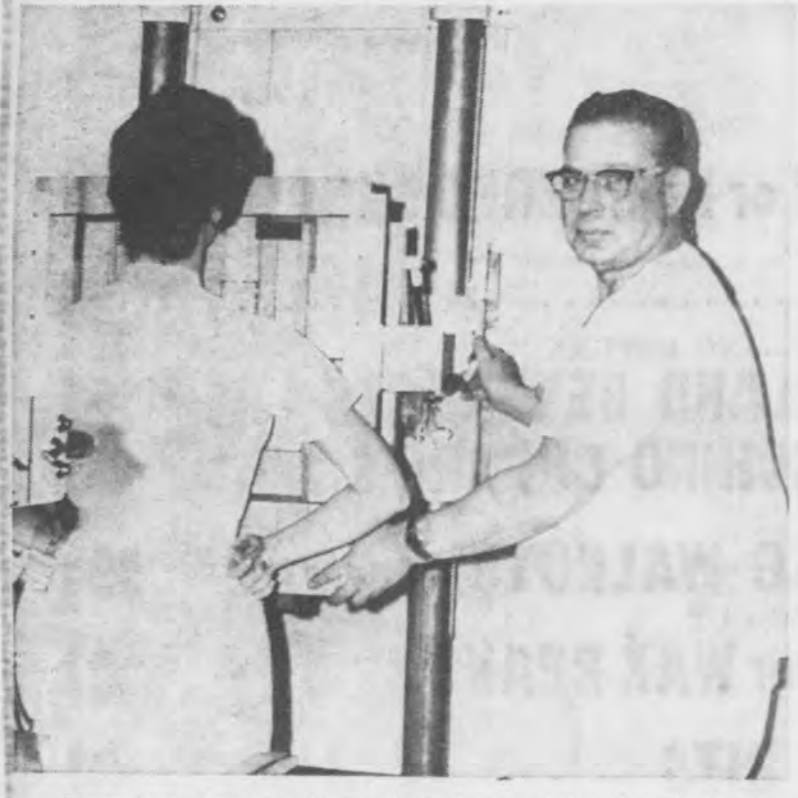

"These changes are being made in continuing our program of updating hospital equipment and facilities," Edmondson said, "and to provide our community with the latest advancements in the hospital field."

In an area where members of the Bell Memorial Hospital medical staff once parked, the Proksch Construction Co. is now "pile driving" in the initial stages of construction for a $150,000 laboratory addition to the hospital.

Hugo K. Luostari, chief X-ray technician, is shown in one of the two new rooms of the X-ray department, considered one of the finest and most up-to-date in the Midwest.

Private Plow Operators Get Warning

ISHPEMING — An old problem has cropped up in Ishpeming — that of persons plowing their driveways and walks without regard for their neighbors.

Private plow operators in both the residential and business areas got a warning today from Police Chief Frank Sarvello.

Police will keep a close watch on any private plowing done in the city. Persons can be arrested for blocking any sidewalks, streets, alleys or private property ordinarily open to traffic.

Those failing to comply with the ordinance are subject to a $100 fine or 90 days in jail.

The ordinance was adopted in December, 1962.

Wildcats Take First Of Three-Game Series From Westmont, 100-71

Thanks to good scoring and improved passing, the Wildcats of Northern Michigan University took a 100-71 victory from visiting Westmont College of Santa Barbara, Calif., last night, in the first of three consecutive home games in succeeding nights.

Led by the 18-point scoring of Bob Armstead, the NMU squad took an early lead and spent the remainder of the game widening it, gaining the 100th point in the last two seconds on a bucket by Jerry McCulloch.

Fine passing, sometimes amazing, by Tim Bullock, Dave Cade, Wayne Lundy, John Hemr and Armstead to set up field goal after field goal through clustering Warrior defenses sparked the win and improved the outlook for the rest of the Wildcat schedule.

Roland Skelton, who Monday night dumped in 33 points for the Westmont cause in a losing game with Hope College, was held to 14 points by a full court press by NMU, and picked up four fouls by halftime in a vain attempt to break the Wildcat defense. High man for the visitors was Bill Odell, who pumped in eight field goals and four free throws for a 20-point total.

The Wildcats earned an early lead, bulging to a 22-11 advantage in the first ten minutes, at one time outscoring Westmont 16-1 in a short burst of phenomenal accuracy. Northern shot 46 per cent in the first half, connecting on 20 of 43 attempts from the field, and took a 52-

29 lead at halftime over the Warriors, who achieved a 31 per cent figure from the field in the first half.

The Wildcats built a 32-point lead with 6:25 remaining in the half, and the margin rarely got below 20 points for the rest of the game, despite desperate Westmont efforts to match the floor play and shooting of the NMU players.

Westmont waited until the final ten minutes to go into a press, and it had but little effect on the charging Wildcats. Northern slapped on a press in the first half which resulted in a total of 13 Westmont fouls at halftime, including three on top-scorer Odell.

The Wildcats out-rebounded the Warriors, 26-20 in the first half, and came back from intermission to continue control of the backboards. The Northern lead began to shrink slowly as the second half opened, but a free throw by Lundy regained the 20-point margin for NMU, and seconds later, Bullock gave Lundy a fantastic behind-the-back pass to set up another field goal and make it 65-43 with more than 14 minutes to go.

Some fine passing from guards to forwards and two unbelievable shots by Armstead built the lead to 71-46 and with 10 minutes left, Northern had put out a Westmont rally effort to take a 79-50 lead.

From there on, the game continued in the same vein, as NMU accuracy and ability to pass through Westmont defenses kept the margin stable. Coach Stan Albeck gave every Northern player a chance for action, and particularly fine play by Hemr sparked the entrance of reserves into the contest in the final period.

Schloemer hooked a beauty in at 2:10 to go to make it 94-65, and the fans began yelling for a 100-point effort. Tom Burmeister, Don Doherty and Schloemer responded, building the score to 98-71 with 15 seconds remaining. The 100th point came as Burmeister intercepted a Westmont pass, flung a long one that missed, which McCulloch rebounded to drop in just before the buzzer sounded.

Although the Warriors were no doubt fatigued as a result of their week-long road trip and three games since Thursday, they played a respectable game, and the NMU victory could not be attributed entirely to Westmont fatigue. Everyone is looking better on the Wildcat squad, and Albeck feels the marked improvement in passing to be a major factor in evaluating Northern chances for the rest of the season.

Including last night's game, the Wildcats are averaging 86 points per contest, and with a 5-3 record, go into the remaining two games tonight and tomorrow with every chance of coming out a winner.

The Wildcats meet Hillsdale College tonight in the NMU Fieldhouse, and host Calvin College tomorrow evening.

Marquette Warriors Meet Soo VFW Squad Here Tomorrow Night

The Marquette Warriors, in their second year on the ice, will meet the Soo VFW Chippewas tomorrow evening at the Palestra.

Led by player-coach-manager Dr. George Ozburn, the Warriors will be playing their second match of the season, which could include as many as eight games this year.

The Marquette squad consists almost entirely of local men, many students or teachers connected with Northern Michigan University. Dr. Ozburn teaches anatomy and entomology at NMU, and 14 of his teammates are NMU students.

The squad includes assistant coach Roger (Bananas) Nordstrom, top scorer who made four of the five goals against the Chippewas in the first game, originally from Detroit but now local, and goalie Ray Nichols of Detroit.

Other members of the team are William (Willie) Jorns, a high school teacher, Ken Bullock, Richard (Richie) Alholm, Richard (Rickie) Olds, Garth

Reserves include Ken Arnolds of Detroit, Kuopus of Houghton and Paul Seminoff.

Game time is 7:30 at the Palestra.

NBC Gets NCAA, Networks Will Fight For NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—A multi-million-dollar battle among the networks for the television rights to 1964's National Football League regular season games loomed today after the college program passed from the Columbia Broadcasting System to the National Broadcasting Company in a skyrocket bidding contest.

CBS has televised regular-season NFL games for the past two years at a price of $4,650,000 per season.

NBC has bid $5,000,000 for the rights to the NFL's title game telecast, currently held by NBC at $26,000 per classic.

This year's contracts for the NFL telecasts expire after the Dec. 29 championship game.

Wide open bidding is anticipated between the major networks sometime in January.

NBC was awarded the NCAA's college program for two years on a bid of $13,044,000. The new contract represents a hike of $1,422,000 per year over the amount CBS paid for college rights in the 1962 and 1963 seasons.

Pole Government To Help Airlift Of Hurt Athlete

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Polish government has stepped in to help with rescue plans for Elizabeth Gould, a 25-year-old U.S. Olympic toboggan racer stranded with severe bone injuries in an isolated Carpathian Mountain hospital.

A U.S. Embassy official said late Tuesday that the government had intervened, through the health ministry, when earlier attempts to evacuate the Rydal, Pa., brunette by the tiny medical helicopter available at Nowy Sacz failed.

Attendants were unable to get Miss Gould in the medical helicopter because of a bulky plaster cast which covers her body from her chest down.

Miss Gould was knocked unconscious, suffered fractures of both thighs and one elbow, a dislocated hip and numerous cuts and bruises when she hit a post while practicing Sunday on her solo toboggan. She had been competing in the sport only four months.

The new plans call for an army cargo helicopter—bigger than a medical helicopter—to airlift Miss Gould from Nowy Sacz to Warsaw in time to make a Wednesday connection with a flight to New York.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Forward Emory Ruelle, of Hancock, Mich., a member of the Waterloo Iowa Blackhawks in the United States Hockey League, was cut from the U.S. Olympic Hockey team Tuesday by coach Eddie Jeremiah.

Emeralds Earn 8th Win, Down Rock, 83-38

NEGAUNEE — St. Paul High fell below the 40 per cent mark on field goal attempts for the first time this season, but the Emeralds still encountered little difficulty in whipping Rock, 83-38, Memorial Gymnasium last night, for their eighth consecutive win.

Coach Al Dighera's club missed the 40 per cent mark by only two points, as the parochials averaged 38 per cent on 32 baskets in 83 attempts. Rock was considerably colder, averaging 27 per cent on 17 buckets in 61 tries.

Coldest Stretch Dom Jacobetti, the St. Paul leading scorer, had the coldest stretch of his three-year varsity career during the first three quarters making three of 22 shots. He had a hot streak, however, in the final period, when he canned eight for nine and eventually wound up with 28 points to lead the individual scoring for the night.

Shouldering the scoring burden for the Saints in the early stages of the game were Rod Guizzetti, senior pivot man who picked up all of his 22 points in the first half, and sophomore George Torreano, who hit five of five from the field for 10 points to the intermission.

Guizzetti sat out most of the second half, while Torreano returned to action in the fourth quarter to connect on three of five attempts and wind up the night with 16 points and an 80 per cent shooting average.

St. Paul trailed briefly at 4-2 in the opening minute, but from that point on, the Emeralds were out in front all the way. They led, 18-8, at the end of the first period, 41-19 at the half and 56-28 at the three-quarter mark.

Dighera, with only eight men in uniform for the night, kept rotating his entire squad throughout the second half. Rock's offensive punch was limited largely to Dave Vertanen, who picked up 24 points on 11 field goals and a pair of free throws.

Box score for Emeralds vs Rock. Columns: Player, FG, FT, REB, PF, Pts. Rows: Ruotsala, Rabedel, Maki, Kulack, Vertanen, Noeden, Johnson, LaCasse, Totals.

Alex Gives Up Business In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Suspended tackle Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions has quit his bar business, hoping this might help restore him to play in the National Football League.

Karras, suspended by NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle earlier this year for betting on games, gave up the bar Monday night.

He and his partner, Jimmy Butcaris, decided to sever relations. They owned a downtown bar together.

The two said they arrived at the decision together and that they hoped this would help Karras' cause.

Problems Resolved, Parseghian To Sign Notre Dame Contract

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Non-Catholic, non-alumnus Ara Parseghian, a 40-year-old Armenian now has been officially stamped as the 24th head football coach at Notre Dame.

The certification ended 36 hours of mystery which started Monday when the former Northwestern mentor balked at signing a four-year Notre Dame contract and left everyone agog.

It still is not signed, but the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, says it will come when Ara has time to drop in on the university.

No Elaboration Ara said the reason for his walkout on negotiations was a personal matter. He would not elaborate.

Parseghian telephoned Father Joyce Tuesday and apologized for any embarrassment his abrupt departure at Monday's press conference might have caused. He asked that a Notre Dame jacket be sent to him so he could wear it as a coach of the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco Dec. 23.

time with Devore as head football coach was his age (53).

"Several weeks ago, Parseghian called me and said: 'I hope I am not presumptuous calling you but you always have announced that Devore was an interim coach and if you are thinking of making a change, I would be interested.'

"I have a number of opportunities and Northwestern knows I am restive."

"I told him the possibilities looked good and I was interested in getting a younger man. I wanted to talk with him about it just as long as officials at Northwestern knew what I was doing."

"I had several discussions with Stu Holcomb," Father Joyce continued. "The whole thing was handled very cordially. Along the line of these negotiations Father Hesburgh called Roscoe Miller (Northwestern University president) and Dr. Miller said he was happy that we had done so. He praised Ara highly and told us we were free to talk to him."

Tittle Takes 1st Individual Title In Passing Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants won the first individual passing championship of his 14-year career in the National Football League in the season that ended Sunday. Y. A. led every week and finished up with a record-breaking total of 36 touchdown passes.

Tittle completed 221 of 367 for 3,145 yards and had only 14 intercepted. The standings are based on per cent of completions, 60.2; TD passes, 36; per cent of interceptions, 3.8, and average yards gained, 8.57.

Johnny Unitas of Baltimore was second.

Jimmy Brown of Cleveland had wrapped up the rushing crown so early that it came as absolutely no surprise to learn that he was the winner with a record 1,883 yards. It was Jimmy's sixth rushing title in seven years. He dethroned Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the 1962 champ, who was second with 1,018 yards.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis won the pass receiving title by nabbing 73 for 967 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington was second with 69 catches for 1,436 yards.

Don Chandler, New York's punter, field goal kicker and extra point man became the scoring champion with 106 points, two more than Jim Martin of Baltimore. Chandler kicked 18 field goals and 52 conversions. The first four scorers were kickers. Jimmy Brown's 15 touchdowns gave him 90 points for fifth place.

Two Squads Still Unbeaten In City League Hoop Play

In Monday night's Marquette City Basketball League action, Class B games resulted in wins by Shoreland over Electrical 1070, 63-45, Mobil over Mel's Sinclair, 41-40, National Guard over Park Tavern, 30-29, and Larry's Shell over Elson Bottling, 68-24.

Shoreland's victory opened play for the evening, and maintained their undefeated status in league action. Louie Taccolini led the victors with 18 points, followed by Curt Vandenberg's 16, and Herb Brown shared Electrical 1070 scoring honors with Dale Johnson, each with 14 points.

Special Unbeaten The Mobil Specials also remained undefeated in their win over Mel's, as Mickey Nevala celebrated his return to the hardwoods by scoring 24 points and dropping in the winning bucket with eight seconds to play. Gino Wachter dumped in 12 points for Mel's in the close game.

In another close match, the National Guard eked out their one-point decision over Park Tavern on two free throws by Jack Nelson. Ricky Nelson led the Guard with 14 points, and "Pretzel" Benson had 10 for the losers.

Larry's Shell had an easy time coasting to their 68-24 defeat of Elson Bottling. John Dahlke led the winners with 27 points.
