Dynamiting Of Rail Tracks Voted Year's No. 1 Local Story

Dynamiting of two railroad tracks in Marquette at the height of a labor dispute involving a Great Lakes seafarers union last July was voted the top local news story of 1963.

The act of violence, which was linked with the frequent picketing of the Canadian ore carrier Red Wing in Marquette during the summer, received a total of 51 points in the 14th annual area news poll conducted by The Mining Journal.

Two Tied For Second

It narrowly edged out two other stories — the selection of Kathleen McLaughlin of Ishpeming as Miss Michigan and the fatal stabbing of a Marquette school boy — each of which collected 47 votes.

The big story regarding announcement of a $15,000,000 project to agglomerate and pelletize iron ore from the Mather Mine broke after the poll was conducted. Otherwise, this story almost certainly would have ranked at or near the top of the list.

Seventeen members of The Mining Journal and WDMJ staffs participated in the poll. Those polled were asked to list, in order of reader interest, the five area stories they thought had the greatest importance. Ballots were tabulated on the basis of five points for each first place vote, four for second place, etc.

Restrictions Listed

Only stories that developed during the year in The Mining Journal's circulation area (Marquette, Alger and Baraga Counties) were eligible for consideration in the poll.

Thus, the biggest story of the year — the assassination of President Kennedy — was ruled out of consideration.

Sports stories also were excluded from the balloting.

Fifth Place

Ranking fourth in the 1963 poll was the last winter's story about the longest period of sub-zero weather in modern times. It gathered a total of 22 points, one more than was accorded the fifth place story, which dealt with the Superiorland recreation project.

First place votes went to five different stories. The dynamiting story drew five first place votes. Other stories that attracted first place votes were the Miss Michigan story (four first place ballots), the stabbing story (four), Superiorland two and a story about a rare accident that befell a Negaunee boy (one).

The year's top stories are listed below in chronological order. The total number of points collected by each story is given in parentheses. (No number is shown for stories which failed to draw any votes.)

Farm Tax Program Set Here Jan. 3

A management education program for farmers sponsored by the Michigan State University Extension Service is now available to Marquette County farmers.

Meetings to explain the program and enroll farmers will be held Friday, Jan. 3, in the Choclay Town Hall at 10 a.m. and in the Ewing Township Hall at 1:30 p.m.

New farm income tax requirements also will be explained at the meeting by Richard T. Hartwig, Marquette, MSU agricultural economist, and Melvin N. Nyquist, Marquette, county extension director for MSU.

The new management education program is called "Telefarm" and is built around an electronic system of farm records and business analysis. In this system, farmers report farm transactions monthly to MSU and the transactions are classified and summarized by electronic business machines, Nyquist said.

The summaries are returned to farmers in a series of reports, with help provided in interpreting and using the reports.

The reports provide facts needed to U. P. farmers to help them improve management decisions and to increase farm income, he said.

Big Business

The "Telefarm" program is needed because farming on a commercial scale is big business, Nyquist said. More than $50,000 is invested per worker on the larger U. P. farm and investments are rising as machinery and other items increase.

The enterprise size of U. P.

commercial farms is increasing as competition among farmers becomes keen. Thus profit margins are narrow and facts about the farm business are vitally needed for sound planning, Nyquist noted.

City Paragraphs

It was incorrectly stated in Saturday's edition of The Mining Journal that Marine Pvt. Len A. Kivi was the son of Mrs. Victor A. Kivi of Marquette. Kivi's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Niemi, Route 1, Box 47, Negaunee.

The vocal organ of birds is known as the syrinx.

Assemble Tax Records Now, Director Urges

Income tax filing period begins Jan. 1, and taxpayers should begin assembling financial records which are important in preparing the returns, advises R. I. Nixon, Detroit, district director of Internal Revenue.

"Now is the time to get together your canceled checks, receipts, records of contributions and other papers," he said.

"Taxpayers who kept good financial records during the year should have no trouble preparing their Federal income tax returns. Complete records are especially important to taxpayers who itemize deductions.

"Copies of prior years' returns are also good guides in preparing the new return."

Bennett, Ontonagon, 12th District congressman, the bill Bennett introduced which provides for the federal government to make the Mackinac Bridge a part of the interstate highway system to be operated as a free bridge. The two state representatives co-sponsored legislation in the Michigan Legislature in support of such congressional action. Bennett has asked the House Public Works Committee, to which his bill has been referred, for public hearings on the proposed legislation.

Mayor Notes Dimes Drive In January

Mayor C. Fred Rydholm today proclaimed January as "March of Dimes Month" and urged citizens to contribute generously to the March of Dimes campaign.

Mayor Rydholm stated: "More than 250,000 American babies are born each year with a significant birth defect and 11 million of our children and adults suffer from some form of arthritis or other disabling rheumatic disease.

"The March of Dimes now supports 70 hospital treatment centers where improved treatment is being developed."

Finances Research

The March of Dimes is financing the work of research scientists seeking eventual breakthroughs toward the possible prevention of birth defects, arthritis and perhaps many other human ills, he added.

"Funds also are needed for continued assistance to polio patients, health scholarships for our young people and support of the new Salk Institute for Biological Studies," he said.

Financial Scene: Over Counter Stock Mart Discussed

NEW YORK (AP) — A troublesome question to be faced in the New Year is: Should there be a change in the present system of listing prices of stocks on the largest market of them all?

This is the over-the-counter market (OTC) with dealers all over the country and with 40,000 or more issues available for trading, many times the number of those listed on the nation's formal stock exchanges.

Bid and asked prices of the most active and best known of these unlisted issues are available to newspapers through the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD).

"Retail" and "Wholesale"

But they are "retail" prices for the public, as distinguished from "wholesale" prices which dealers themselves get and use when buying and selling.

The bid price quoted is the one at which the stock could have been sold. Asked is the price quoted as that at which it could have been purchased.

And there's where the difference lies between the retail, or public, quotation and the wholesale, or insider, quotation. The retail asked price is the wholesale one to which the NASD has added dealers' commissions or markups.

So the range between the bid

Ford Plan Brings Out New Racer

DETROIT (AP)—In moves to boost sales, Ford plans to bring out a new racing model this year and Buick has announced it will import economy cars from West Germany.

Ford's development of a GT (grand touring) racing car is the latest in a series of moves by which Ford has sought to make its products more attractive because of their performance in competition.

The new, low, sleek two-seater, to be powered by the Ford Indianapolis racing engine, is intended to challenge foreign car supremacy at leading road racing courses in this country and abroad.

Speeds

The new car will have speeds up to 200 miles an hour, said Frank E. Zimmerman Jr., Ford division special vehicles manager. It will be 40.5 inches high with an overall length of 159 inches and a wheelbase of 95 inches.

Buick's new line will be the Opel Kadett, made in West Germany.

The Kadetts will be offered under the same two-year or 24,000-mile warranty that prevails on 1964 Buicks, and the price will be under $2,000, Rollert said.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS HELP BOY STRANDED 3000 MILES FROM HOME

Bad weather had forced a transatlantic plane to land at Boston instead of New York.

Aboard the plane, Peter Hansen, a 14-year-old Danish student, was on his way to St. Joseph, Michigan, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Byrns.

The airline called Mr. Byrns to tell him the plane had been grounded in Boston; its passengers would be sent by bus to midtown New York. The Byrns realized, however, that Peter would be stranded in a foreign land—alone at night in America's largest city.

Mr. Byrns tried to locate Peter's exact whereabouts and get someone to look after him, but without success. Explaining his problem to the Operator in Benton Harbor, Mr. Byrns suddenly found, as he wrote us

Mrs. Joyce DaDan, Service Assistant; Mrs. Giannina Lounsbury, Senior Operator

later, "Michigan Bell had taken over the mission."

Throughout the night, Mrs. DaDan, Michigan Bell Service Assistant, and Mrs. Lounsbury, Senior Operator, made repeated calls to New York City and Boston. They persisted until they knew a Danish-speaking airline employee had met Peter. At 3 a.m. they had the airline employee and Peter on the telephone from New York, assuring the Byrns that all would be well.

In his letter Mr. Byrns said: "... Your company has a great big heart.... The operators who were working on the problem could not have shown more concern if he were their own son."

While this story is true, it's not unusual. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Highways Offer Chance For Income For Peninsula; Association's Work Cited

No. 1 recreational activity of the American people is driving for pleasure and the Michigan State Highway Department is out to make more recreation business for the state by serving this pleasure.

So states John Murray, Lansing, director of the department's motor services division, in a recent address on the state's tourism.

In it, Murray praised the work of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, which is headquartered here, and cited its "Pays to Know" program on tourist information. (Awards in the program will be presented by the UMTA at a dinner in Escanaba Thursday, Jan. 9.)

"Thirty-three per cent of all vacation trips today are for more than 750 miles, farther than from Detroit to Boston," said Murray in a recent address on the state's tourism, "and both the percentage and the distance is going up."

'Unparalleled Growth'

"The prodigious rebuilding of America's highway networks is opening an era of unparalleled growth in the tourist industry. It is as significant to the second half of the 20th Century as the building of the railroads was to the rejuvenation of America in the years following the Civil War.

"The state that prepares now for this growth will reap a great economic harvest. The revolution in surface mobility is just beginning. As people experience the safety and speed of new sections of freeways all over the country, the urge to travel is increased and so is the ease of access to tourist attractions and recreational areas farther and farther from home.

Population Centers

"Today, 45 million people live within an easy one-day automobile trip from Lansing and by 1975 this radius of accessibility will cover almost 75 million people. This is a 30 million increase in the potential market for weekend vacationers alone.

"Of this increase, 11 million will be in the 20 to 59 age group, the group that makes the travel decisions. Relatively little has been done in researching this market, particularly in what motivates it to choose one area over another, and to return or not to return the following year.

"But from our dealings with a quarter million tourists who stopped at Michigan's tourist information centers this year, I know that the tourist wants hard facts about tourist areas, he wants quality accommodations and attractions, and he wants guidance on how to get the most out of his holiday interlude.

Government's Role

"Government can play a direct and valuable role, in partnership with the tourist industry, in meeting this need. More and more states and regions are doing just that.

"We are a nation of seasonal migrants. Where the tourist goes, and how long he stays, now that access is improved through new highway systems, depends on what he is told about an area, and how he is told it.

"Whether the tourist returns depends on the hospitality he finds when he arrives.

"We have a State Tourist Council, supported by direct appropriation from the Legislature ($548,000 in 1963, up $119,000 from 1962) and we have four regional tourist associations supported by private and public funds which concentrate on tourist promotions for each region.

Praises Tourist Groups

"The four associations and the State Council, together with the advertising programs of private resorts, handle the job of persuading the potential visitor to include Michigan in his trip. This assignment has been handled with great professional skill and has been very successful.

Cites CHUM Program

"The four associations concern themselves further with upgrading the quality of attractions and of accommodations.

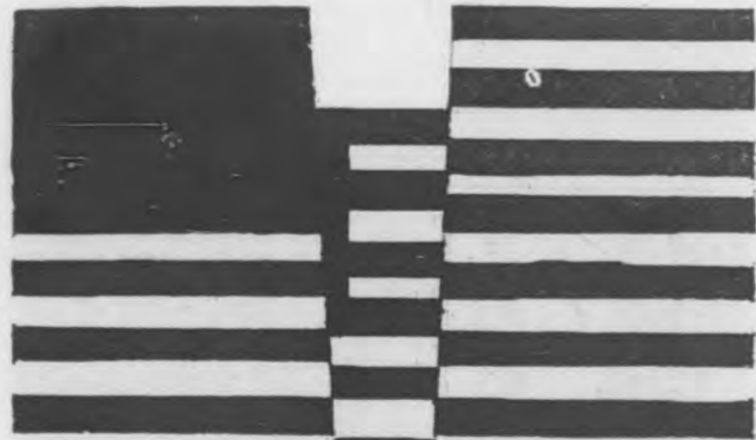

"Our Upper Michigan Tourist Association, for example, has worked out with Michigan State University a program called CHUM, meaning, Certified Host of Upper Michigan.

"It's not an empty title. Under this program a great effort is under way to train the people who actually confront the tourist — the waitresses, the filling station operators, the motel clerks.

"Before this program many such persons were themselves only dimly aware of the tourist attractions of their own area."

The term "kayak" is applied properly only to a boat used by an Eskimo man, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Boiler Room For New School Put Into Operation

A construction worker is shown doing some finishing work in the boiler room of the new Marquette Senior High School. The boiler room has been placed into operation, providing heat for the construction areas. Boilers are of the latest type in heating engineering, utilizing a synchronized control system which will provide for a constant, even type of heating. Two sections of the school are closed in and being heated; the other two will be heated as soon as the gymnasium and industrial arts area roof has been installed. The building is 60 per cent completed. Construction, begun last spring by Caspian Construction Co., will be completed next fall. Cost is over $2 million. — (Joe Sullivan photo.)

Hudson On Program For C-C Parley

Wyndal Hudson, executive director of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce, has been selected to appear on the program at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, Jan. 7.

Harry R. Hall, Detroit, executive vice president of the state chamber, said other featured participants on the panel on chamber financing are to be Fred Merrell, executive vice president, Battle Creek Chamber of Commerce; Robert Godfrey, Hastings Mutual Insurance Co., and Anson Hedgecock, Consumers Power Co., Saginaw.

The entire morning session of the all day meeting will be devoted to the problems of local chambers of commerce. Topics to be covered are the responsibilities of local chambers in leadership, industrial development, chamber financing, and accreditation for Michigan ice department, Chamber of Commerce of the U.S., also will be one of the speakers.

One Injured, Four Issued Tickets In City Crashes

One person was injured, four motorists were issued tickets and 10 motor vehicles were involved in four traffic accidents which occurred in Marquette during the weekend.

There also were three other mishaps here during the weekend, in which no tickets were issued and no one was hurt. Reports on the four principal accidents follow:

1. At 8:10 Saturday night a car being driven south on Presque Isle Ave. by Mary E. McGuire, 19, Star Route 550, struck the rear end of an automobile operated by George E. Baird, 21, of 213 Lincoln St., Negaunee.

Miss McGuire suffered a slight bruise on her nose and sought her own treatment, city police said.

Officers said Baird was stopped to discharge some passengers, in the 1500 block, and she said she was unable to stop her car due to icy conditions. Failed To Stop In Time

Both rear fenders and the trunk on the Baird car, a 1951 four-door sedan, and the front bumper of the McGuire vehicle, a 1959 four-door sedan, were damaged. Both cars were driven from the scene under their own power.

City police ticketed Miss McGuire for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

2. Four vehicles were damaged in a mishap at 11:45 Saturday morning at the corner of Norwood St. and Fitch Ave. Involved were parked cars owned by Clarence H. Dobbs, 1721 Van Evera Ave.; Lloyd Ayotte, Marquette, and William Normand Jr., 212 N. Seventh St., and a moving vehicle operated by Allan S. Malmborg, 22, of 1744 Schaffer Ave.

City police said Malmborg, driving west on Norwood St., reported he lost control of his car when he looked for a cigarette which he dropped. The vehicle veered to the left, striking Dobbs' car, which was pushed into Ayotte's vehicle, which in turn was shoved against the Normand automobile. The latter three were parked on the south side of the street.

Car Not Under Control

The left rear of Dobbs' 1960 twodoor sedan; both ends of Ayotte's 1959 sedan; the front end of Normand's 1955 four-door sedan and the left front fender of Malmborg's 1957 four-door sedan were damaged.

City police ticketed Malmborg for failing to have his car under control. Dobbs was ticketed for parking on the left side of the roadway (the other two cars were properly parked.)

3. At 2:35 yesterday afternoon a car being driven out of his driveway at 621 Pine St. by Donald J. Quinnell, 38, was involved in a mishap with an automobile going south on Pine and operated by James R. Young, 23, of 801 Bluff St.

Right-Of-Way Violation

and the right front fender of Young's 1961 twodoor sedan were damaged.

City police ticketed Quinnell for a right-of-way violation.

4. An automobile being driven south on Van Evera Ave. by Rease W. Premeau, 17, of 712 Norwood St., was stopped for the Wright St. corner and then driven into the intersection, being struck by a car operated by Robert J. Sunn, 22, of 800 Summit St., who was traveling east on Wright.

The latter had attempted to stop but his car slid on the icy pavement, city police said.

The right rear door and window of Premeau's 1957 four-door sedan and the right front fender of Sunn's 1958 four-door were damaged.

POISONOUS MAMMALS

The Australian platypus and the short-tailed shrew of North America are the only poisonous mammals. The male platypus has a poisonous spur on its hind leg and the shrew's saliva glands contain a cobra-like poison.

Stretch In Time Keeps A Size Nine

1. "Sit, stretch, hold" may sound like training commands to a frisky canine, but they're also exercise demands for streamlining the waist. This time, it's your turn to get down on the floor and go through a bagful of special tricks. As NBC-TV actress Quinn O'Hara demonstrates, sit with legs outstretched and feet anchored under a sturdy stool or bench. Fold arms behind head and pull torso into an erect position. Now, slowly twist from side to side. Make action continuous; do not move hips. Fifteen turnabouts are enough for beginners; pros can try 20.

2. Next, kneel on the floor. Grasp a yardstick overhead and practice pushing ruler toward the ceiling. Remember to keep elbows straight and chin slightly lifted. Feel the s-i-r-e-t-c-h in the rib cage as you inch stick higher and higher? Afterwards, relax with a few side bends.
3. Finally, stretch out on the floor, positioning feet flat against a wall or door frame.

Press back to the floor until there is no "window" of space remaining. Contract abdominal muscles, and slowly count to eight, then release and relax. Rehearse routine three times, gradually increase to six.
P.S. Achieve that beautiful figure NOW! Here's a new booklet showing how to turn pounds and proportions into a more attractive figure. Special New Year's Day Masses Scheduled Here

Special Masses have been scheduled in five Marquette area Catholic churches — St. Peter's Cathedral, St. John's Church, St. Michael's, St. Christopher's in Marquette Township and St. Louis the King in Chocoday Township — and at St. Mary's Church in Big Bay for Wednesday, New Year's Day.

New Year's Day, observed for centuries in the Catholic Church as a solemn feast marking the Infant Jesus' circumcision, is a holy day of obligation, one of six on the annual church calendar. The feast, traceable to the year 567 and probably older, commemorates the occasion when Joseph and Mary took the seven-day-old Jesus to the temple for His circumcision in accordance with Jewish law.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Can you explain the idiosyncrasy in people who own toy poodles? My sister was given one and she has become positively insufferable. She calls this dog, "My baby boy!" She kisses it and spends half a day combing and brushing him. She has a sweet granddaughter who is three years old, and naturally when the little girl wants to get on her grandmother's lap and the poodle is there, she resents it. The child gets no comfort at all. My sister takes the dog for a ride and leaves the grandchild standing on the sidewalk in tears. I have stopped going over there because of her disgusting behavior. What could be the matter with a grown woman who acts like this?

WONDERING: DEAR WONDERING: One hasty curbstone analysis is as good as another. Your sister could be using the dog to punish the child because grandma probably wanted a grandson and she got a granddaughter. The dog is a male, and grandma has transferred all her affection to the dog. Or maybe grandma just likes poodles.

DEAR ABBY: I am five going on six and my mother told me I should write to you and ask this question: Is there a Santa Claus?

Love, HEIDI

DEAR HEIDI: You bet there is. He's the man who buys your shoes, pays the rent and kisses your mother.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married until recently. I have never been the jealous type because I have never had any reason to be. But things have changed. I wonder if a couple we've been seeing a lot of lately could have anything to do with it. The woman is flirty and aggressive and she never takes her eyes off my husband. My husband and hers have a business relationship, so it wouldn't be easy to drop them, and I can't tell her off. Is there a subtle way to handle this? My husband seems to enjoy her attention, but it is getting on my nerves.

swear. I hope you'll use my name as I would like those who call me to be a little more patient. No less than 10 rings, please!

HELEN DELAPLANE IN CHEROKEE, IOWA
CONFIDENTIAL TO LENA, ANGIE AND GERT: I have never heard of a man being dragged to a Christmas party, but I've heard that a lot of them had to be carried home. Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Homemaking Tips

Add both curry powder and chopped chutney (with a little of the chutney syrup) to mayonnaise and serve with a platter of cold sliced chicken and turkey plus cooked rice and vegetable salad.

Ever sweeten whipped cream with molasses and spice? Good on cottage pudding or gingerbread.

Does that recipe call for a cup of mashed bananas? Chances are you'll need three bananas to make that amount.

When you are serving bacon for breakfast, cook a few extra slices. Add the extra bacon, crumbled, to a noontime salad.

Pare cucumber ends — those you would ordinarily discard; chop fine and add to tomato juice; chill overnight; strain and serve. The cucumber adds delightful flavor.

Bethel's Watchnight Fellowship Service Starts At 9 Tuesday

ISHPEMING — The Bethel Lutheran Church watchnight fellowship will begin at 9 tomorrow night with the showing of a color film, "Walk the Tightrope."

The pastor, the Rev. Albert Hautamaki, said of the film: "This film shows a side of Communism that has never been seen. Behind the mask of music, dancing and smiling faces lies the same old pattern of fear, pressure, regimentation and Godlessness."

The Rev. Mr. Hautamaki feels the film "will arouse every viewer to realize the scope, the resources and the energy that Communism will spend in world conquest."

The picture, filmed against a background of Finland's opposition to Communism, also presents a positive biblical answer to the growing menace of Russian aims of world domination.

Following the film presentation, a social hour will be held. In closing the watchnight fellowship, a consecration service will be held in the sanctuary.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the evening's activities.

Auxiliary Spends $1,400 For Equipment At Hospital

MUNISING — The auxiliary of Munising Memorial Hospital recently purchased $1,400 worth of new laboratory equipment, according to Mrs. Lynn Nebel, president, and Mrs. Mildred Ruggles, chairman of the auxiliary's purchasing committee. The equipment was selected on recommendation of Dr. Leonard Carefoot, hospital pathologist, and Lester Miller and Thomas McKenzie, hospital laboratory specialists. Major items of equipment included in the purchase are an Adams Autocrit Centrifuge, a Coleman Spectrophotometer and a Coleman Flame Photometer. The centrifuge will provide for faster readings of the volume of red blood cells in the blood. This procedure is used when the physician wants to know if the patient is dehydrated. It also is used to indirectly check the red blood cell count and the hemoglobin level. The spectrophotometer is much more accurate for chemical analysis than the instrument which previously had been used. The flame photometer will make it possible for many additional tests to be made at the hospital; they formerly had to be sent out to larger laboratories. Of these tests, the ability to measure sodium and potassium levels in the body are the most important new tests that will now be available locally. These two tests are of help to the physician in maintaining the correct fluid balance in patients after surgery.

"We are very grateful to the auxiliary for the purchase of this equipment," Richard Wagner, administrator, said. "We did not have sufficient funds when we occupied the new hospital in 1961 to buy additional laboratory equipment. Now our laboratory will be equipped with the latest and best equipment, the same as other departments in the hospital."

Densel Fuller, pastor of First Methodist Church, Munising, shown with boys and girls who have been baptized in Christmas Eve ceremony and mothers he married while they were living in Munising. Rev. Fuller Baptizes Sons Of Three Former Young Munising Women

MUNISING—Christmas Eve services in the First Methodist Church of Munising marked a special occasion for the pastor, the Rev. Densel Fuller. Home for the holidays were three young women whom he had married, and each took the occasion to have the Rev. Mr. Fuller baptize their first-born sons. The three have been friends all their lives and were graduated from Munising High School together.

They are (pictured above, left to right, with the Rev. Mr. Fuller): Mrs. John C. F. Husted (formerly Janice Gibson) and her son, James Frederick, of Detroit; Mrs. Richard Hansen (formerly Mary Sue Nebel) and her son, Karl Richard, of Big Rapids; and Mrs. Stephen Nord (formerly Patricia Ruggles) and her son, Jeffrey Stephen, of Seattle, Wash.

The young mothers, their husbands and sons have been spending the holidays visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gibson, Judge and Mrs. R. D. Nebel and Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Ruggles.

Services For Rev. Matero On Tuesday

NEGAUNEE — Services for the Rev. Herman Matero, 63, retired Negaunee pastor who died Dec. 22 in Alamo, Calif., will be conducted in Immanuel Lutheran Church at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

3 Traffic Accidents In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — City sand trucks rolled over the streets of the city Saturday in an attempt to reduce dangerously icy conditions.

Despite the extremely slippery conditions, only three accidents were listed within the city limits Friday, one reported serious.

In the downtown area, cars driven by Dorothy J. DellAngelo of Rt. 1, Ishpeming and Lila E. Stahn of Michigamme were involved in a minor scrape as both cars were attempting to leave a parking lot.

Early Friday night a car driven by John E. Wirtanen, 605 N. Lake St., failed to negotiate a curve and slid into a fence at the Jalmer Tuomela residence. Damage resulted to the hood and right fender of his 1957 model car.

The only summons issued Friday by the Ishpeming police Department went to Clara M. DePetro of 1081 S. Lake St., Marquette, for failure to have her car under control. She backed into a car owned by William J. Locher of Marquette. The right fender and grill of his car were damaged.

World Steel Production At New Peak

CLEVELAND — World steel ingot production climbed to a new high of 420 million net tons in 1963, Steel magazine predicted today.

The year's output represents a 5.3 per cent increase over the previous record of 398.9 million tons in 1962.

Of the 21.1-million-ton increase in the world total, the U.S. accounted for 11.1 million tons. Next largest gainer was Russia, which produced 3.3 million tons more in 1963 than in 1962.

Other principal gains are Japan's two million tons, Great Britain's 1,550,000 tons, India's 1.1 million tons, and Canada's one million tons.

U.S. Still Top Producer
While around 50 countries produced steel in 1963, 68 per cent of it was made in five countries—the U. S., Russia, West Germany, Japan and Great Britain.

The U. S. continues to be largest producer. In 1963, it produced 109,400,000 net tons or 26 per cent of the world's steel compared with 24.6 per cent in 1962.

Despite the slight increase, the U. S. isn't the dominant figure it once was. In 1950, it made 46 per cent of the world's steel and in 1947 (at the close of World War II) it produced 57 per cent. U. S. production has increased since then, but output elsewhere has risen faster.

Russia, melting 87.3 million tons of steel in 1963, continues to be the second largest producer. The year's output continued the succession of yearly records that the U.S.S.R. began setting at the close of World War II.

Although West Germany saw its production drop to 34.4 million tons in 1963 (from 1962's 35.9 million tons), this producer still holds third place in the world.

Japan with 32.4 million tons is in fourth place and only two million tons behind West Germany. Fifth-place Great Britain made 24.5 million tons.

Expectations of a continued increase in the U.S. and the upward trend elsewhere make another world steel production record likely in 1964.

Public and private estimates of 1964 ingot production in the U. S. reflect varying degrees of optimism—from a bearish 104 million tons to a bullish 115.5 million. Steel company chief executives are generally predicting 110 million tons.

The industry will get off to a good start on 1964 output by producing more steel this week than it did last week when output was curtailed by holiday layoffs. Steel estimates output then was 1.9 million tons, equivalent to an operating rate near 62 per cent of unofficial capacity.

January Outlook Good
Steelmakers expect good business in January despite late December slowdowns. They'll boost automotive shipments by 15 per cent and release a lot of tonnage to customers who asked them to hold back in December because of year-end tax considerations.

Steel's price composite on the prime grade of scrap used in steelmaking, No. 1 heavy melting, held last week at $27 a gross ton for the third straight week.
