

Doc H had already brilliant means that

~~root~~ of argument for me from the stand

How goofy?

"Like the genius at
M.C. phy.
who tatters around with his trousers unzipped."

Or ~ ~ ~

Sign books
Here English

Flower
of this night
now one of the

Epheuerion

493/503

Fruth -

fy Bur

In Argy
show Bur

— ray can

Expose
Explore --- net

Win

Correct C 32 copy

Earlier stuff - bet

Post Berni #

Chap. list

correct 301A

LLOYD

"encounter" with Connie (P. 16)
recalling the last of my own ~~few~~ passing but memorable ..

Note - p 531

Show Randy had introduced a LR

"state of

For ~~its~~ the exhaustion of trial fatigue, I'd early learned, was not quite ^{can} like any other; its "poopidness", as my partner called it, ran the ^{whole} gamut, mental, physical and emotional: not only the constant staccato pressure of framing and hurrying ^{or resisting} questions and objections but, at the same time, ^{groping} trying to learn what in hell one's case was all about and what law might apply and, during the trial's unfolding, trying to shape the two into a coherent unfolding pattern convincing to a judge, a jury and oneself.

☺

☺☺☺

proceeding with the
"Before arguments to the jury, the judge announced, "counsel ~~and I will be in~~ ^{here} who will take a brief recess while counsel and I meet in chambers to go over any possible requested instructions to the jury.
Mr. Sheriff."

C 34 is final X of Doc.
ending re Inst. recess

MIKE, ^{old}
" Fine lawyer, good looking pal, ^{good} and old friend. I shall miss him."

Thurs on waiting for a jury. Vigil.

Cots / crotchings !!

Will take an indefinite recess here while counsel and I meet in chambers to go over requested instructions to the jury. Mr. Sheriff."

Doctor Hugh had already brilliantly done all that for me from the witness stand.

Truth is a jig - saw

And one can't ^{no longer} resist asking why ~~the People~~ prosecution

"And finally, one is all but forced to ask why, if ~~the People~~ it believes

"Finally, one is ^{almost} forced to ask why ~~the prosecution~~ if it so ^{strongly} believes the defendant ~~of~~ made up his defense, the prosecution didn't months ago

In a sense he was like ^{the conventional} ~~the~~ picture of the ^{Existential} shuffling scientific genius who regularly forgets to zip his trousers. Or perhaps even closer, like the brilliant gambler who broke the casino bank but lost everything.

indulgent
with the pained patience of a charitable nurse unable to stop the ^ meaningless murmurings of a
of a garrulous and wear

DA'S X-exam of Randy

P. 477 to 480.

Re-direct. 482-486.

DA wants Dundee X-exam
(P 487)

alas

Freddy, she said, there are many all kinds of poverty, but two of the worst ^{kinds} are the really poor kids and the ^{really} rich. Both miss ^{terribly.}
so much.
^

Changes

Add Connie meet

Add hyp. notes ^{earlier}

Last

P 447 [^] Afternoon session

P. 487 Gary Kallis

508 Doc

~~Sketch~~

Show that jailer called
B to the phone.

Dir;

P 522 Exam of Doc over

modify

C. 32 Change "Everything" in passage

aside from the ~~to~~ murmurous purr of

occasional escaped

subitants from subdued

whispering, reminding me

of the fugitive

over-loaded ~~overworked~~

"A lawyer trying a tough case is like a juggler:
~~trying trying~~ ~~in an antique shop~~ trying to ~~keep~~ phrase and pelt questions, objections, rulings

throwing not battles & balls in the air but, ^{unless} questions, objections, citations, & statutes annotations, facts and law, petitions and prayers
congenies of perquirers

reluctant witnesses & tathalant

"The added tension of facing an indeterminate jury vigil probably did little to ease the ^{one's} exhaustion,
I nursed on my cot,

"but was at least ~~less~~ tempered by a feeling of fatalism

Insert A to p. 4

It was more than a matter of framing and hurling questions and objections, or else resisting them, important as they were; there was the associated busyness of interviewing and lining up witnesses; the intriguing gamble of selecting a jury; the lightning adjustments and ^{nearly} guesses decisions required at every step as the case unfolded; the constant pressure of trying to shape the ~~some~~ often chameleon facts to a ~~some~~ body of law that might make a persuasive pattern.

Hand
Corrections made.

✓ 50A, C.5 All jails stunk.

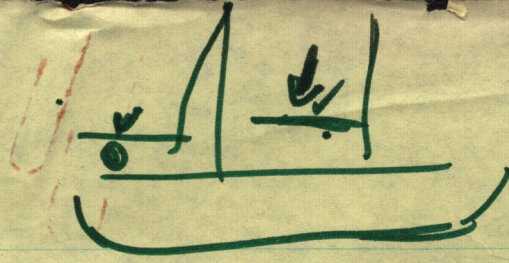

C.32/9

2 horseshoes.

Horseshoes?

The New ^{horseshoe} like ring ---

"others had away."

Jahi Ti Ketca
deri: HANNA

09

fully rigged --

Dropped both anchors

To play it safe --- I dropped

P. 10 - 33
p 15

C 34.. delete mani basin

violent front p 16 (X direction)

P. 17 -- Out heart = failure

Correcturis

C35 p 14 bottom 5th line
sardonic for cynical

U

Revisions

- 1 Change Jason phone call night of X
- 2 More Connie earlier
(Put at end of C. 3 p 27 -- New 27A)
- 3 Early ore docks mention
- 4 Shorten Doc exam & cross

Things to fix

- ✓ 1 Jason phone call.
- ✓ 2 News acct
- ✓ 3 Viola testimony
- 3 Randy "

✓ P 50 A ^{Jack's stink} bottom correction:
write out

spotted and stood watching

X
"The poor bastard," I found myself kept murmuring ^{to myself} as the key-rattling turnkey led me through a series of metal-shod doors and I suddenly found myself popped standing out under the open sky. I stood there ^{like} breathing ^{as deeply as a diver} just-emerged ^{and} Then I spotted ^{watched} a lone gull flying over the harbor below, now languidly wheeling high over the old hematite-stained ore-loading dock, which, in the words of my law partner, recently described by my law partner as "a towering relic of early mining which, after handling uncounted tons of ore and meanwhile ^{helping with} ^{at one} ^{time} ^{now} forming several ^{is} ^{undisputed} ^{precisely} as unsafe for even ^{genuine} ^{to} ^{check} off ^{of} their lists of historic sites."

The gull was now a ^{motionless} speck beyond the distant breakwater; I heard a car horn ^{and} ^{gull} glanced away; when I looked back ^{and} ^{my} ^{gull} disappeared into the anonymous glitter of Lake Superior.

"Lucky bastard," I said, climbing into my car.

228/9464

NOTES

P 290 Change to Treasure I. Tab

Confession? Notice?

P 79 Doc takes the stand

P 82 Footnote note

P 153 Doc finished on X-exam

Trial

Clement

P. 209

Orville? P. 268 336

Missing chapters 26 thru 31
(P. 361 thru p. 456)

Filed will -- contents?

Doctor Hugh ^{exam} * 508

" " ^ cron 522

523 thru 562

~~Done~~ Ore deck C. 4, p 41

Shorten X - Exam

11 Doc Hugh

C 31, p. 443 -- Fly rod bet --

Review: C 32, 454, 455, 456 --

Review: C. 32 -- Gary Kallie gets back from Jason's but find no book Jason but only the book.
466 book found -- 470

C 33 at 477 -- Randy's X-exam begins, which shorten, 33 - 482 re-direct

" - 487 DA refuse X-exam of Jeremiah

34/506 to 522
Defense calls Doc

35 -- Exam by defense 508/523

C 36 & C 37 X-exam of Doc by DA 523 to 563

Revision Notes

At end of p. 7, C. 1 add Fritz's recollection of the dead Connie

Get in ^{infectious} disinfectant smell early

C. 3, p 16 -- reference to Fritz's lone encounter with Connie

C 4, p 41 = get in ore dock.

with its fuzzy-like cluster of ^{iron} ore loading docks reaching out into the from the shore

C 5, p 47 Possible place for disinfectant smell.

Fix P 459 -- Can't find Jason.

I closed the folder and sat looking up at the courtroom skylight, trying to recall my lone encounter with the dead Connie. She must ~~still have been going to college, I guessed, as I~~ ~~back then I was~~ I had been ^{driving} coming home from fishing, of all things, bouncing along on a two-rut back road

gentlemen plumb
giving me a grim smile, "I'm afraid, counsellor," the judge whispered, looking at me, "that ^{one of} you just lost your ^a favourite fly rod."

"What do you mean?" I whispered back, not quite following.
"During the noon recess in chambers -- remember? -- you bet your ^{plumb} favourite ^{rod} that Jason would have fled to his fishing lodge up on the Lake. Well, the boys are back -- and ~~he ain't there.~~ he wasn't there, neither hide nor hair."

"Any sign?" I whispered.

Draft for p. 47

I see, I said.

"And the constant ^{mightily hominoid} polishing of ^{these acres of} that mahogany," my partner continued, ^{wrinkling up his nose,} ^{by the poor bastards, ^{confined} over in the sheriff's jail,} by the way, "accounts for the unholy institutional stench that pervades this ~~gross~~ stricken courtroom and the whole goddam ^{mortgaged} building, ^{schiffric} Ghosh here, I should of stood for Congress."

malodorous / reek /

"
Bottom p. 50 "Even more worse than this here mahogany museum."

"I see," I said. "And thank you very much."

"And ever since then