Wellman Talk By Miss Crawley Here Wednesday

Wellman, April 11, promises to be a most successful and gifted speaker in the history of the well-known movement of the Escanaba Women's Club.

It was announced Friday night by Helen Crawley, one of Michigan's most successful labor leaders, that there will be three delivery addresses to the public under the auspices of the club.

Miss Crawley's address will be on "Americanization," a subject which she is particularly well qualified to handle. Miss Crawley has been permanently located in Escanaba, and her work there with the organization stands out prominently in a fog. Escanaba is a town with a natural talent for the subject she has added to her own judgment and experience in dealing with the people of this country. The speech is one that she has come to be known for.

She is expected to have appeared in Escanaba on Feb. 11, but because of the illness of her husband had been sent to New York City. She is now in Escanaba, and her presence here, made it possible for her to give the address at that time. She is a woman with more than ordinary qualifications for the work of the Women's Club. She is a woman of the highest caliber, and her presence here is a great asset to the club.

The result of the Michigan primaries is occasion for considerable of a surprise. Opinion appeared to be split about the man to who would win. Wood or Lowden but there did not appear to be a great deal of Johnson sentiment for while every one was willing to admit that he was probably the best presidential timber, about the best that was generally conceded him was that he would run about third in the race and instead he made a clean sweep of the state.

Of course, the primaries in Michigan do not settle the matter by any means and either Wood or Lowden may receive the nomination, and not matter any one of a hundred or more other men may receive it but the result in Michigan is any indication of the sentiment throughout the country at large. There is some assurance that the nominee will be one whom the Republicans can readily unite upon and put up a solid front with a feeling of supreme confidence in their standard bearer.

For the past decade we have heard more or less about the Mexican situation and as a rule we have been prone to treat the matter lightly, at least those of us who live far enough from the border that we are not personally interested, but a recent speech by former Ambassador Laha Wilson throws enough light on the situation to convince those who had a mere cursory knowledge of the matter that it will prove to be a problem of the highest importance, and one that will require the most careful attention of the United States government.

According to Ambassador Wilson's statement, 500 Americans have been murdered in Mexico, $120,000,000 of American capital has been confiscated and during the war the Germans were training growers to make an assault on our borders when the time was ripe.

Federal Agents Have Busy Day In This Area

Federal prohibition enforcement here were quite busy Thursday night when Deputy U. S. Marshal Tim Hurley arrived here from Iron Mountain with General Deegan and Christ Taylor in custody. These men were arrested as a result of the efforts of federal agents on Wednesday. Deegan runs a still with a still in Iron Mountain, and it is claimed that he had been selling moonshine at 50 cents a throw.

Deegan was arraigned Thursday night before U. S. Commissioner James Frost on a charge of possession and sale of liquor. He was held to the United States court under a bond of $1,500. An employee was charged with selling liquor, and he was held to the United States court under a bond of $1,000. Both men were taken to the Delta county jail and will be held there pending the giving of bond.

Local Men Held.

Commissioner Frost also held bound William Koster and Peter Koster at Escanaba in the United States court. Koster was charged with possession and sale of liquor on February 18. This charge was dismissed. He was also charged with possession and keeping for sale on February 18. On this latter charge he was held to court under a bond of $1,500, which he furnished.

Koster was charged with having a still and with the manufacture of liquor, on which charge he was held to the district court under a bond of $1,500, which he furnished. The charge of unlawfully furnishing liquor to David Leonard, several weeks ago, was dismissed.

Information was received that federal agents Thursday raided and took possession of three stills in Houghton, the paraphernalia being taken to Marquette last night along with the persons charged with operation of the stills.

All in all, federal agents had a rather busy day in this section of the country.

Motion Asking the Dismissal of Case Against F. Bonamer

Notice was served by Attorney T. J. Riley as defendant for Fannie Bonamer charged with conducting a house of ill fame, on Prosecutor Strom declaring that a motion will be presented to the circuit judge asking for a dismissal of the court proceedings held against the woman. The case appears on the calendar for trial this term.

Mr. Riley points out in his notice that the justice will be unable to be here for the April session and the motion will be held over until his arrival. The attorneys will not argue it before the presiding judge because of the other two motions which are before Judge Plannigan at this time.

Mr. Strom will contest the motion and if it is denied will proceed to trial in the highest court of the county.

One Dock Men Demand Action Before Session

Unsettled questions of wages and working agreements between dock workers and railroads promise to be the cause of a delay in opening the ore season on schedule time. It was announced Saturday by dock men in this city, who assert that work will not be started this year until satisfactory arrangements have been made.

A wages and work agreement conference was held in Ashland, Wis., April 7 and 8 between delegates from practically all ore docks on the Great Lakes and railway officials of the different roads concerned. Top-dock workers were represented from Two Harbors, Man. Superior, Wis., Marquette and Escanaba, Mich., and Ashland, Wis.

No Agreement Reached.

No definite agreement was reached at the two-day conference, but the matter in hand was covered by a thorough discussion of all points concerned in the ore dock labor situation. J. Quate, superintendent of the Ashland division of the North Western road, who was elected chairman of the conference, submitted the results of the discussion to the highest officials of the various railroads and further action covering the ore dock situation is awaited from them.

Another Conference Seen.

It is probable that another conference will be held before the ore business gets under way. The ore dock employees do not intend to resume work this season until a satisfactory agreement has been reached, they assert.

The International Longshoremen's association local of Escanaba was represented by the following delegates: E. J. Kirkpatrick, president of Local 218 of the North Western; Charles Roberts, president of Local 279 of the St. Paul, and F. M. Fernstrom, secretary of Local 284 of the North Western and St. Paul roads.

Three More Are Bound Over In Liquor Cases

U. S. Commissioner James Frost Saturday disposed of further cases arising from alleged violations of the liquor laws of the nation.

Thomas Miller, arrested February 28 and charged with possession of the finest still found in this section of the country, as well as a quantity of moon, was held to the United States district court under a bond of $2,500, which he furnished.

Clavin Thomson and Ambrose Frank, both of whom were charged with the possession and operation of stills, underwent examination and were bound over.

Victim of an Accident.

Joseph Collins sustained painful but not serious injuries to one of his legs while working on the Northwestern railway at Iron Mountain Wednesday evening. He will be unable to resume his duties for several days.

Iron Mountain—Last Saturday evening a dinner was served to about one hundred business men at the Millman Hotel. The meeting was held for the purpose of receiving a report from M. E. Richards relative to the erection of a modern charcoal iron furnace and chemical plant in Iron Mountain. It was something over 400

FUR PRICES SLUMP

Sudden slumps in prices paid by wholesale dealers in raw furs, particularly in beaver, mink and muskrat, are causing something of a commotion among fur dealers and buyers, many of them having been caught with considerable stock on hand that was purchased at the old prices.

Beaver skins are down about $10 a skin, or an average fall of about 20 dropped off at least a third and muskrat skins have slumped in about the same proportion.

Beaver hides have been selling during the winter from $20 to $25, but the new prices are averaging $10 less. A mink hide that has been selling for $25 is now worth only $15, and muskrat skins are selling for $2.50 instead of $3.25.

The reason for the fall is said to be that people are beginning to shy away from paying fancy prices for furs. When the winter season opened there was a rush on the market for high priced furs, the consumers demanding the highest quality, the same as in clothing and other markets. Now, however, it appears that the high priced furs are a drug on the market. Big dealers, it is reported, have large stocks of high priced furs on hand and are refusing to take any more stock except at greatly reduced figures.

Marquette—The 36-mile stretch of highway in Chippewa county known as the Brimley-Luce link between Chippewa and Luce counties and an outlet for traffic via Newberry and Munising to Marquette and the copper country, will be included in the state's program for upper peninsula highway improvement this year and will be finished to completion, according to word from the state highway commissioner to the Chippewa county road commission. The work will be completed, it is believed, in three years at the outside and actual preliminary work of a definite nature, including the necessary surveys, will be accomplished before the snow flies this winter. Final adoption of this road, which will become one of the most widely traveled portions of the upper peninsula as a part of Roosevelt highway, will mean also hooking up Sault Ste. Marie, the county seat, with L'Ange, Sturgeon, and Hulbert, as well as Soss Junction and also will have an important bearing on the prosperity of that portion of the county lying north of the South Shore railway, including Whitford. NEWS OF THE MOVIES

In "Hearts Aflame," Bessie Barriscale's latest production for Exhibitors Mutual release, the fascinating star does what few beautiful women will do on the stage or for the screen. She appears as a bedraggled scrub-woman, slatternly, unkempt, coarsening with the contempt of the under world. But only in the first part of the picture, for much as the public admires her consummate art, it will not excuse her beauty being entirely submerged.

As Nancy, who, though living among crooks, prefers to earn an honest wage as a scrub-woman, Miss Barriscale's make-up is a triumph of realism. Soap-suds and the slang of the gutter seem to literally drip from her. Her metamorphosis into the charming and exquisite niece of a wealthy bachelor is a contrast that is startling and shows the genius of this splendid actress.

When Miss Barriscale plays a gutter snipe she is the essence of slatternliness. When she plays the society debutante one can almost catch the fragrance of her perfume. At the Lyric Theatre Wednesday night.

Particular interest attaches to the presentation of "His Majesty, the American," the Douglas Fairbanks picture which because it is the first offering of United Artists Corporation, the so-called "Big Four," Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith, in January of 1919, decided to enter the motion picture field as independent producers and distributors, releasing their direct to the theatres of the country.

Fairbanks was the first to complete a picture in his career. He has now what will undoubtedly become the biggest combination of screen artist's was actually in operation less than a week after his departure for Flint, will be shown at the Lyric Theatre next week.

Will Canvass Vote Tonight. The city council will meet in special session tonight for the purpose of canvassing the vote cast at the election Monday. The vote was to have been canvassed last Thursday night, owing to the fact that the Fourth ward election board put the books in a ballot box with the ballots instead of returning in the books separately. It was thought that could be done at that time, yesterday the board was gotten together and the sealed box was opened and the tally books taken out.

Menominee—About 300 members of the Timber Workers Union met in the hall last night and voted on the strike proposition scheduled for Monday, on the eight hour a day proposition. This is a question which has been creating a great deal of comment about the Twin Cities, as to whether the unions here will take part in the proposed strike. The question involved an eight hour a day proposition, and it is believed that should this be voted upon and the union men of the Twin Cities, decide to strike for over 1,500 laboring men will be taken out of work for some time.

INJURED MEN GOT BIG SUM IN WIS. LAST YEAR

During the year 1919, a total of $1,655,684 was paid to injured workmen in Wisconsin as compensation.

The average benefits per case were $34 more per case than in 1918.

This increase in benefits is due in part to changes in the law which have increased the amount workmen may recover, and in part to the general increase in wages.

The increase in wages has been so great that even the new maximum of $15 per day for purpose of computing compensation, is now in the majority of cases below the actual wage.
