Mother Thecla Dies in Marquette

Mother Thecla, through whose efforts the erection of St. Mary's hospital here began in 1891, and who, since that time, spent eighteen years here, died in Marquette following a long illness. She had been in poor health for a few weeks had during the last few weeks had been failing rapidly.

Mother Thecla, was 71 years old. She was born in Genesee, Ind. and spent her childhood in that state. She was a member of the community, being a member of St. Mary's. She came to Marquette in 1891, and in 1901 she came to Marquette, Mich. She was active in hospital work.

During her long period of religious work in this country, Mother Thecla was twice given the position of superior general of the convent, which was Mother house in Parma, Ill.

Evans' Hearin, Will Be Staged Next Saturday

Bob Evans, St. Paul negro, wanted here for complicity in the theft of an automobile a year ago, will be given an extradition hearing before Gov. J. A. A. Bergquist at the Gopher state at 10:30 Saturday morning. County Prosecutor Torvald E. Strom will be present.

As a law development in the case, Wilfred Lacombe, whose testimony led to the holding of Evans by the Michigan state authorities denied finally that he had attempted to blackmail the negro and that he had ever written a letter "about this case or anything else." "If Evans has a letter he says came from me," said Lacombe, "it is a forgery."

It was this letter which led to the cancellation of an extradition warrant issued by Gov. Bergquist to the defendant seven a week ago, when habeas corpus proceedings were instituted to prevent Mr. Evans from returning with Evans to Escanaba. In cancelling the warrant, the governor ordered a hearing on the case.

R. S. Schroeder, assistant county attorney at St. Paul, is in charge of Delta county's interests in the matter, but Mr. Strom will handle the matter at the hearing, he stated last night.

Wilson Man Hurt in Fall Sunday from Automobile

Peter Martin, 25, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon at Wilson when he fell from a moving automobile to the road, fracturing his leg and dislocating a collar bone. His injuries although not fatal are painful.

According to story received from a party at Wilson who came to Escanaba, Martin who is engaged in work here, was driving with another party and as they neared a turn he stood up in the car. The force of the car going around the bend caused him to be thrown and he tumbled from the car to the road.

The driver stopped the car at once and ran back where the injured man lay. He was taken to a nearby home and a physician was summoned. The injuries were temporarily treated and he was removed to this city under charge of Michael Harris. He was taken to the St. Francis hospital where his injuries were taken care of.

DEAN OF DELTA COUNTY BAR ANSWERS SUMMONS

Word was received in Escanaba yesterday of the death in Chicago of Hon. John Power, former United States district attorney for the eastern district of Michigan, dean of the Delta county bar and for many years one of the leading criminal lawyers of this region.

Mr. Power was 75 years of age and while he had been in feeble health for several months, his condition did not become critical until on Monday, when he was stricken in Chicago while preparing to come to Escanaba and Green Bay.

Funeral services will be conducted over the body from 243 Mason avenue Chicago, on Friday morning.

He was the first grand knight of the Escanaba council Knights of Columbus and served in that position for nearly ten years. It is probable that the council of the order that he assisted in establishing in this city, will be represented at the funeral in Chicago on Friday. The death of Hon. John Power brings to a close a most unusual career and marks the passing of one who had an important part in the affairs of Escanaba and the upper peninsula for many years.

Church Census Is Being Taken

In that way, it is hoped that the churches will be attended by larger numbers in the future.

NEARLY ALL OF POTATOES OUT OF GROWERS' HANDS

Lansing, Mich.—According to the reports received by the Michigan cooperative crop marketing service—respondent the 1930 potato has been practically all moved. Only about 2 per cent remained on farms May 1, which is equivalent to slightly over 200 carloads. The seed supply is 73 per cent of last year and is scarce in many localities. There are many factors entering into the determination of the acreage for this year, scarcity of farm labor, the stimulus of the high price now prevailing and an increased abandonment of farms. The present outlook is for 90 per cent or better of last year's acreage.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO FINANCE FARMERS

Washington, D. C.—The house adopted a resolution authorizing the treasury to buy federal land bank bonds issued during the year, security of the acreage for this year, scarcity of farm labor, the stimulus of the high price now prevailing and an increased abandonment of farms. The present outlook is for 90 per cent or better of last year's acreage.

STRAWBERRY CROP

Suggestion for a Camping Trip.
Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamships and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you.

Both mills in Trout Creek are now running full.

All of the employees of the Von Platen Lumber Company at Iron Mountain, called the strike off and reported for work Monday morning, ten hours a day, same pay as before. UNION IS REMOTE POSSIBILITY

PLAN TO BRING SOUTHERN AND NORTHERN METHODISTS TOGETHER UNSATISFACTORY

Des Moines, May 18—Adoption of the proposed plan for unification with the Methodist church, South, by the general conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church in session here, is a very remote possibility, according to sentiment of many delegates today.

For almost two weeks a special on unification which presented to committee has been carefully considering the report of the commission, the general conference the original plan without recommendation.

This committee is almost unanimously of the opinion that it will be impossible to adopt the present plan without much debate and many amendments, which in effect would create a new plan.

The special committee appointed a sub-committee of eleven, charged with formulating a plan to further the interest of eventual unification. This sub-committee has decided on its recommendations to the main committee and will submit a plan later. The report, it is understood, expressed the feeling that the commission on unification which has been acting during the past quadrennium has brought these two churches into closer union. It strongly reaffirms the desire of the Methodist Episcopal church, for union, but recommends the creation of a new commission on unification by each church so that each may be given the opportunity

JACK DEMPSEY TO BE TRIED JUNE 7TH.

FOOLING WITH HEALTH SERIOUS

I have frequently asked druggists, "What do you push in a blood medicine?" The answer usually came, "The kind I can make the most money on." My answer has always been: "Not me." I have succeeded pretty well and I have always recommended the one that I had found by experience to be the best and the one that I would be willing to take myself or give to members of my own family. I have never offered the public a medicine that we do not use at home. This is why I call offer "Number 49 For The Blood." I wish a clear conscience. We have not only tried it on thousands of others, but on ourselves. We take it in all cases where a blood medicine is needed, no matter in what form it shows itself and we get splendid results in constipation, kidney, stomach and liver troubles. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. Mr. Richard Dickson, furniture dealer, 157 Forest St., Spartanburg, S. C., was troubled a great deal for several years with a breaking out that resembled Erysipelas. Before we got the agency for Number 49 For The Blood, we sold him many kinds of blood remedies and compounds recommended for skin troubles. He got no permanent relief, however, until we got him started on Number 49. He took several bottles and was soon entirely relieved of the very disagreeable skin trouble, but he has not quit Number 49. He says he has found it the best liver medicine on the market, and will keep it on hand all the time and recommends it to his friends for a substitute for calomel. Todd Drug Co.

A DARK HORSE

It looks more and more as if a "dark horse" is Coolidge of Massachusetts, resident of Kansas, and Lenroot of Wisconsin, that is, some one who is not an avowed candidate, will be nominated as the Republican candidate for president.

Without a man's own state delegation shouting for him, his chances are usually considered to be meagre. Both Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts and Gov. Allen of Kansas, have announced that they were not candidates, yet each has a strong following.

Big capitalists who held parts of their surpluses in Liberty bonds found it easier to finance this, that and the other thing with their United States securities than by selling into the market and pay 4, 7 and 8 per cent for money.

A Proclamation

Time has evenly thinned the ranks of brave men in whose honor Freedom Day was instituted fifty-two years ago, but it cannot dim the luster of their heroic deeds.

In the war with Spain and in the great World War, the sons and the grandsons of the men who fought at Shiloh and Antietam and Gettysburg nobly upheld the honor and the traditions of the American army and navy.

Therefore, that we may pay a tribute of respect and esteem to the surviving veterans of the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the recent World War, and honor the memory of the men who gave up their lives in all these wars, I, Albert E. Steyer, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby issue this my Proclamation.

Gladstone, I Am Glad To Meet You B. THRIFTY IS MY NAME

And SENSIBLE PROFITABLE saving is my topic. Twice a week I'm going to talk to you in the Delta County Reporter. You can count upon my being continuously cheerful, direct and BRIEF. Well I remember the little girl's famous response to the worldly old gentleman who asked the audience what he should talk about. "About two minutes", she chirped.

I've gone to work for the Gladstone State Saving Bank. They know there are lots of Gladstone people who would save more money IF THEY KNEW HOW. Most people don't know how easy it is to cultivate this best of all habits—while the truth is that PLANNED saving is a real pleasure. And my mission is to teach SENSIBLE SAVING WITHOUT SCRIMPING.

I'll tell you how to plan savings and the Gladstone State Savings Bank will SHOW you how. Their officers will be glad to talk to you about this. Come in and see them THIS WEEK. You'll like their ways of helping you make 1920 your biggest, best year.

HOUSE, TOO, FACES HOUSING PROBLEM

1920 CENSUS EXPECTED TO AID 69 MEMBERS UNDER PRESENT APPORTIONMENT With the House already overcrowded, its membership is likely to be increased to about 500 because of the growth of population, which, under the 1920 census, is expected to reach 105,000,000 to 110,000,000. Now with 435 members, the average number of persons in each congressional district is 211,400, based upon the 1910 population, which was 91,872,222. If it is decided not to increase the membership, the size of the average district hereafter, based upon a population of about 110,000,000 will be 250,000 persons. If the size of the district is increased to 245,000 some states will have fewer members than now because they cannot have as many districts. Illinois, Iowa and Missouri would lose two members each; Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, Vermont and Virginia would lose one member each. Originally, or back in 1790, there were 106 representatives and the average district contained 37,988 persons. Every census year since then the size of the House has been increased to take care of states that were about to lose members. The losses by certain states will be offset by probate gains in membership by California, Oklahoma, Washington, New Mexico, New York, Oregon and Texas. Members are complaining about the size of their congressional districts and the great amount of work necessary to attend to the wants of their constituents. Demands of soldiers who are seeking to get pay and insurance adjustments and of office seekers, together with requests for information, cause the average member to complain that he is overworked. His duty would be increased if 30,000 persone were added to the district. By keeping the districts the same size as now, with an average of 211,430, congressmen find that the increase in population will create many new districts, one estimate being sixty nine, which would give the House 604 members. Members are discussing plans for changing the seating arrangement so that each member can do his work at his desk. There are only seats in the House, where the Senate has desks.

They want to have something of the old desk system restored.

Jacqueline of Golden River

The bullet from Jean Petitjean's revolver that struck me must have penetrated her body.

She lived for her breast stirred, though so faintly that it seemed as though all that remained of life were concentrated in the faint-throbbing heart.

I raised her in my arms and placed a sack beneath her head, making a resting place for her with my fur coat. Then with my knife I cut away her dress over the wound.

There was a bullet hole beneath her breast, stained with dark blood. I ran down to the river, taking an ambulance, brought back cold water, and washed it, and stanced the flow as best I could, making a bandage and placing it above the wound.

I have a dim remembrance of losing my self-control when this was done, and clasping her in my arms and pressing my lips to her cold cheek and begging her to live and praying wildly that she should not die. Then I raised her in my arms and was staggering across the cave toward the tunnel which led to the rocking stone.

And then, just as I approached the barricade of earth-filled bags Leroux and the man Roubil emerged from the tunnel's mouth and toward me.

I stopped behind the barricade.

Presently I saw something white fluttering from the tunnel. It was a white handkerchief upon a stick of wood.

Then Leroux's voice hailed me from the tunnel.

"Hewlett!" he called, and there was no trace of mockery in his tone now. "Will you come out and talk with me? Will you meet me in the open, if you prefer?"

I fired one shot in futile rage. It struck the cliff and sent a stone flying into the stream.

Then silence followed. And I took Jacqueline and carried her back into the little hollow space. I put my hand upon her breast.

It stirred. She breathed faintly, though she showed no sign of consciousness.

Heaven knows what was in my mind. I stood beneath that awful cataract firing at the blind rock, and now I was back behind the earth-bags shooting into the tunnel.

So the afternoon wore away. The sun had sunk behind the cliffs. I had fired away all but six of my cartridges. Then the memory of my similar act of folly before came home to me. I grew more calm.

I felt my way around the cave with the faint hope that there might be some other egress there.

There was one. I made out a recess which I had not perceived, about one-half as large as the cave itself, and opening into it by a small passage just large enough to give admittance to a single person. Here I should have only one front to defend.

So I carried Jacqueline inside and began laboriously to drag the bags of earth into this last refuge. Before it had grown quite dark I had barricaded Jacqueline and myself within a place the size of a ball bedroom inclosed upon three sides with rock.

And there I waited for the end.

I sat beside Jacqueline, holding her hand with one of mine, and my revolver in the other. There was a faint flutter at her wrist. I fancied that it had grown stronger during the past half hour.

But I was unprepared to hear her whisper to me, and when she spoke I was alert in a moment.

He looked hard into my face.

"Yes," he said simply. "And it makes all the difference in the world to me."

"Pere Antoine will marry you?" I asked.

"Yes," he replied.

"And her father?"

"Is safe in the chateau, playing with his wheel and amassing a fortune in his dream."

"Mrs. d'Epernay is very ill. She was struck by one of those bullets that you feel through the chest. Wait!" for he had started. "I think that she will live. The wound cannot have pierced a vital nerve. But we must be very gentle in the night here, and you and I will lift her into it. And then—I shall not see her again."

ESTIMATES FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS

METHODISTS NEED $10,500,000 FOR 1920, THREE MORE BISHOPS WERE ELECTED.

Des Moines, Iowa.—The report of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church to the general conference in session here shows an estimated expenditure of $10,500,000 in foreign missionary work for the year 1920. The work of the present year, according to the report, includes great advances in education, medical work, evangelization and international relations.

The board has expended approximately $500,000 in relief work in the war-torn countries of Europe, including Finland, Russia, the Baltic provinces, France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Serbia. Over $200,000 has been given to the Near East relief. The church is supporting, through its missionary funds, slightly over 2,000 schools, colleges and universities outside of the United States.

Three More Bishops Elected.

In addition to Dr. Birney three more bishops were elected on Saturday. Dr. Fred H. Fisher of the North Indiana conference, Dr. E. L. Waldorf of Los Angeles. Then the last 3 were elected on the second ballot.

The next highest on the second ballot were M. S. Richardson of Brooklyn, Edgar Blake of Chicago, C. W. Burns of Minneapolis, G. H. Bickley of Philadelphia and H. L. Kenney of Syracuse.

The election of these five in later ballots is generally conceded.

Can the demands of the striking saw mill men be granted by the mill owners? We answer, No.

Why? Because the mill crews were and are being paid as high wages as the workers in any similar line of industry. Wages have been advanced in the last two years, nearly 100% and for some classes of work, over double. All supplies used by the mills, oil, grease, belting, saws, rabbit metal, machinery parts, food supplies for the camps, in fact every single operation have advanced from two to five times the cost of two years ago. These advances caused, largely because production is below normal and the good are scarce.

Freight charges on logs to the mills, lumber to the markets, supplies shipped in, are from 25% to 40% higher than two years ago.

If the saw mill owners of Northern Wisconsin and Michigan, granted an eight hour day, they would be bankrupt in two years.

It would cost them exactly 20% more to manufacture lumber than it would cost the mills of Lower Michigan, Pennsylvania, or the New England states, which include New Hampshire, Vermont, and Maine. All of these states produce largely the same class of lumber.

Lower Michigan produces more Hardwoods and Hemlock than the Upper peninsula. Pennsylvania produces more Hardwoods, Maple, Birch, Beech, Basswood, Elm and Hemlock. The mountain region of West Virginia has just been opened up in the last three years, as a large producer of Hard Maple, Birch and Hemlock and they are closer to the large markets of the east, have less freight to pay, larger and better timber, more of it to the acre and can undersell the Northern operator in those markets.

All the railroads are on an eight-hour basis and if all the saw mills were to go on the same basis of hours, then the Northern mills would not be at a disadvantage when compared with their competitors.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

Over $200,000 was spent in the production of "The Sporting Duchess," which will be shown at Gladstone Theatre today. The cast supporting Allen Joyce is one of the largest and most talented that has been gathered around the star in recent years.

The company includes Percy Mac-murtrei, G. V. Seyferth and Capt. Lionel Page, a noted English player, who served with distinction in the Royal Flying Corps during the war. Several well known jockeys appear in the racing scenes mounted on famous horses.

The picture was taken in part at Stamford, Conn. Later the company moved to locations near New York and the big racing scenes were taken at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans during the racing season in that city.

Every effort has been made to give the production the English atmosphere and to make the race a typical Derby. Every detail has been worked out by experts until it has all the earmarks of a British production. The American scenery and architecture lend themselves well to the English atmosphere. Many old estates being residences of some European nobles.

George Twilford, director, made some unusual scenes of the race, in which Clapstone, owned by the Sport-ing Duchess, wins. Instead of the customary occasional flash of the horses taken at different points of the track, the race scene is continuous. The audience has a view of the racers, although from a slight angle, coming directly at them. The entire race is shown.

Theda Bara in the William Fox sup-erproduction, "The Siren's Song," will feature the program for 2 days, begin-ning tonight at the Lyric theatre.

"The Siren's Song" is a powerful dramatic picture that tells in a new way the story of the eternal struggle of a woman's love and sacrifice. Miss Bara portrays a little girl of Brittany, who is brought up in an environment of religious severity. It shatters her love romance with a divinity student, and makes her gift of song a source of sorrow to her. Eventually, by dint of a heart-breaking struggle, she be-comes a noted prima donna. regard-less of convention, she lives with the man she loves until her minister lover returns. He forces her to renounce the joys of living. After she has made this sacrifice she learns that the minister is a hypocrite and that her spiritual regeneration made her blind to her true love—the man she sent away.

"The Siren's Song" is a remarkable drama, which offers Miss Bara an exceptional opportunity to exhibit her great versatility.

"What Would You Do?" This is the significant title of a new Will-iam Fox production starring Mad-laine Traverser, which will be shown for the first time here at the Lyric Theatre, Sunday.

The story has to do with an ex-clusive set in New York society. It tells of intrigue, false accusations, selfishness, and the story of a woman who suffers for another's wrong. Miss Traverser, it is said, has done her very best work in this intense photo-graphic.

The cast includes Lenore Lyndard, Cordelia Callahan, George McDaniel, Frank Elliott, Charles K. French, Bud Geary and Edwin Booth Tilton. Den-ison Clift wrote the story and scenario. The only way the motor traveler can tell that he is entering your country is by means of a small, slinky-looking sign-board, sticking out of the sand at a dangerous angle, at the right of the road. It reads: "County Line, Delta county." And that's just as far as it goes. We wonder what benefits would result if each county in upper Michigan took sufficient pride in its achievements and natural assets to advertise the facts on a large descriptive sign-board, placed at the county line, where every motor traveler could see and read it. Who knows? Some big concern may be sending a "society" to look over your county this summer. Tip him off when he enters. Wisconsin tells us that its a splendid advertising feature, and pays well. Regarding modification of the immi-gration laws, the senator said he did not mean to "open the door to an indiscriminate corps of newcomers," ad-ding that undesirable must not be ad-mitted and that "none shall be per-mitted to become an undesirable after his entry."

"Moreover, against such undesir-ables," he added, "as may filter through I would apply every law for deporta-tion without the tenderness apparently shown for neutrals and boldheids by officials of the present administration.

Fiat Ferry Rates.
Fiat rates of $6 and $11 respectively have been announced for ferrying all makes and sizes of touring cars across the Straits of Mackinac, from St. Ignace to Mackinac City, and across Lake Michigan from Frankfort, to Menominee and Manistique. The announcement will doubtless be met with favor by the motorist planning his 1929 tour into upper Michigan from the south, east and west. Heretofore rates have been based upon the weight of the vehicle, including baggage, with the result that the "nerest fiver," laden down with from 800 to 1,000 pounds of baggage, often cost as much to ferry as the larger and heavier touring types, devoid of bag-gage, yet taking up more room on the ferry.

A New "Celery City."
Newberry, Lapeer county, upper Mich-igan, is rapidly coming to the front as a section particularly adapted to celery raising. Though only about twenty-five acres are being devoted to the crop, in the county, at present, last year brought forth such a demand for the product that a number of Lapeer county farmers expect to go into it on a large scale this year. The flavor of the Newberry product is said to excel that of the famous Kalamazoo product, and even the California celery.

No Kick Here!
The latest news of the season dashed the hopes of our more western cattle growers who had been looking for seasonably early spring grass with an anticipation born of need, declares the May report of the Northwestern National Bank, yet Cloverland is opening its grazing season with four new cattle ranches, all on a big scale, and a number of new sheep concerns. Fifteen carloads of stock have been re-cieved to date at one upper Michigan station alone. That station, (Newber-ry by the way) will soon erect a per-manent stock chute to handle future shipments. Looks good for "all old Cloverland."

That Waterway Meeting.
When the Hon. Obadiah Gardner, member of the international waterway commission, declared that the Mar-quette lake-to-ocean conference: "Was the best he had attended of the twenty or more hearings which had been held to date" he but reflected the vital interest which Cloverland is an-ticipating in the matter of a thorough waterway route from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard. The upper Michigan delegates went to the meet-ing prepared to talk, not to listen, and about fifty of them succeeded in their ambitions before the session closed. Upper Michigan was "presented" in detail, from its earliest Indian history to its present industrial development, and if a single item was left out it was because the individual assigned to it either missed his train or lost his nerve.

RAIL EXECUTIVES ADMIT WAGES SHOULD ADVANCE

INCREASE MUST BE GRANTED TO MEET THE INCREASED LIVING COST.

Chicago—Wage advances should be granted to many of the railroad work-ers to meet the high cost of living, according to the railroad executives, who declared in its opening statement before the railroad labor board at its first meeting.

E. T. Whittier, chairman of the con-ference committee of rail managers of the executive association, told the board that some part of the wage de-mand made by the two million em-ployers would be found to be justified to meet the rise in the cost of living. The railroads themselves declared that at least part of the men should have more money, and this should go far in expediting an early settlement of the controversy, which culminated in a strike last month by disgruntled employees.

Wage demands now aggregate more than a billion dollars a year in addi-tion to the advance during the war, and 200 million dollar advance in the two years previous to government con-trol according to E. T. Whittier. He presented figures showing pay roll in-crease of 39.5 per cent of the gross earnings in 1915 to 53.6 per cent last year.

The new transportation provision, Mr. Whittier said, provided that any subsequent increase in wages mean an increase in rates to the public for freight. One million increase in the payroll meant a three per cent in-crease for freight rates.

The railroads are now before the in-terstate commerce commission ask-ing for an increase of two per cent to provide for the two billion dollar pay roll advance under the government con-trol and operation.

MODIFICATION OF LAWS WOULD REMOVE LABOR SHORTAGE IN THIS COUNTRY.

New York—Temporary modification of the immigration laws to permit an influx of desirable immigrants to meet America's labor shortage was urged by United States Senator Walter E. He also advocated a pro-cess of Americanization to prevent new immigrants from falling "under the spell of 'worldwide anarchy and bolshevism.'"
