TO THE PEOPLE OF GLADSTONE AND VICINITY

We have refrained from saying anything concerning the strike that is now on by our employees because we do not believe in explanations or apologies, but from rumors that seem to be current on the street we feel that it may be in order for us to give our side of the question briefly at this time.

Assurances were given us when this eight hour day was talked of last fall that before any demands were made on us, the states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota would be organized and the eight hour day would be in effect in these three states.

The facts are that in Lower Michigan which produces more hardwood lumber by far than the Upper Peninsula, all the plants are running ten hours; no demands for eight hours whatever. In Upper Michigan and Wisconsin there are just three veneer plants, including our own, that are affected by the strike, and only five flooring plants, the others running on the ten hour basis as usual.

In the face of these facts we believe it is apparent to all thoughtful people that it would be impossible for us to concede the demands of the striking men with odds of twenty percent or one-fifth of the time against us, consequently our plants must run ten hours.

It is our utmost desire to work in harmony with our employees, whoever they be, and we are willing to use our best endeavors at all times to this end.

CHILD CRIMINALLY ASSAULTED AND MURDERED AT POWELL

DAUGHTER OF OPERATOR AT 800 LINE DISPATCHER'S OFFICE IS VICTIM

One of the most horrible and revolting crimes in this county was committed at Powell, Wis., last Friday, May 19, last night when three-year-old Myrtle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powell, was criminally assaulted and murdered in the home of her mother.

The girl was three years and six months old at the time of the crime. She was the only child of the Powell family. Her mother, Mrs. Powell, is a widow and lives at 800 Line, Powell, Wis.

The girl's body was found in her bed, which was in a room on the second floor of the Powell home. The room was in good condition and the girl's bed was made up.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

Many people, who are featured with Stacy Curtis in the screen production of "The Fugitive," which is to be shown at the Gladstone Theatre, beginning today think only such a dramatic picture should be made as have a purpose.

As opposed to those screen stars who demand that they shall appear exclusively in stories which will give limited scope for their talents, Miss Boland cares little for whether the story presents her in the most attractive light, or not, so long as it gives opportunity for real acting, and contains a message that will touch the hearts of audiences.

In "The Fugitive," Miss Boland is called upon to depict a woman who is utterly insecure and wretched. Underlying the dramatic force of the story is a beautiful object lesson of the value of ideals. The manner with which Miss Boland brings her real life experience to the screen, without their being conscious of it, is a signal tribute to her own ideals and to her remarkable talent as an actress.

Patrons on the serial moving picture have a rare treat in store for them. The multitude of fans have watched "The Whirlwind" without a doubt the most sensational, dare-devil star in the serial world, are to have an opportunity of again seeing their favorite actor in the most thrilling picture he has made.

Manager Bosley of the Gladstone theatre announces that opening next week he will show the opening episode of "The Whirlwind," a suspense serial in fifteen parts, filled with thrills, sensation and suspense. On every Friday night of each week hereafter, one episode of "The Whirlwind" will be shown.

Those who remember Hutchinson in "The Great Shadow" will remember him as a man who is absolutely fearless and who gives his audience something every second to hold their interest. In "The Whirlwind" he has outdone all of his previous efforts.

This is not a western drama, but a city play, full of the dramatic power of the metropolis, and is entirely different from anything Hutchinson has ever attempted before. His leading lady is beautiful Edith Thornton, who runs a close second to the star in providing thrills. The serial was written and directed by Joseph A. Golden, responsible for many screen successes.

Attack Jury Right of Michigan Women

Lansing, Mich.—Whether the Michigan Suffrage Amendment gave women the right to sit on juries, is to be decided by the Supreme Court as a result of an appeal brought from Detroit by attorneys for Harold Baritz.

Baritz was found guilty of larceny of $50 in Recorder's court, March 17, by a jury of which Miss Cora M. Gitzen was foreman. Baritz' attorneys had objected to Miss Gitzen

GOVERNMENT PROFITEERING

Last year, according to the testimony of the Harding of Federal Reserve Board, the earnings of the reserve banks represented a return of 110 per cent on their capital stock.

For the present year the earnings are estimated at $100,000,000 which will be in excess of the profits of last year. Here is a Government utility, created solely for the purpose of providing an easier system of financial credits, putting a tax upon the people of $100,000,000 a year. That huge sum is paid by member banks in the shape of interest on loans, and is promptly passed on to the public as another addition to the high cost of living. Is there any wonder that an investigation of the administration of the Federal Reserve Act will soon be undertaken by Congress?

NO CANDIDATE WILL HAVE ENOUGH PLEDGED VOTES

Chicago—With the Republican national convention only two weeks away and 899 of 184 delegates already pledged, the situation facing the republican candidate is that no candidate will enter the convention with enough votes pledged to him any decided advantage over his opponents.

Forty-seven of the fifty-three states and territories have chosen their delegates, and are sending to Chicago 537 uncommitted delegates with forty-four more than a majority of all those sitting in the convention.

Mr. Gen. Leonard Wood, on the face of returns today, shows more strength on the first ballot. Of the delegates instructed who have expressed preference, 145 are pledged to him and in addition to carrying the presidential primaries in Vermont but that state has not selected its delegates.

MONTH ENDING APRIL 15 SHOWED HIGHEST PRICES

Washington, D. C.—Coincident reports of nation wide price cutting the department of labor's bureau of labor statistics announced today that food prices between March 15 and April 15, showed the greatest increase of any 30 day period since 1915.

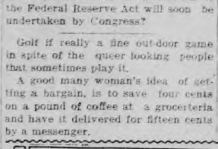

Reports from retailers in 51 cities, the bureau said, showed that in the 30 days dating from March 15 prices for 22 common articles of food advanced five per cent and reached the highest point on record.

Negatives—Everett Anelline, of Neenah, and members of his family, had a narrow escape from serious injury and probable death Sunday evening at Ishpeming, where his automobile was struck by a South Shore passenger train. Fortunately the train was going at a slow speed. The car was damaged, but none of the occupants were hurt.

Mill Workers of Delta County

You were promised, by the organizers of the Timberworkers' Union, that all mills in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan would be organized and that all would strike on May 3rd.

None of the mills in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan have been organized, and all are running ten hours as usual. More lumber is manufactured in the Lower Peninsula than there is in the Upper Peninsula.

In addition to the list of variety (90) mills that have been steadily running on the old ten hour basis, on Monday, May 17th, the Trout Creek Lumber Company, at Trout Creek, Mich., started their mill, full production with most of their old men back on the old basis. Both mills in Trout Creek are now running full.

The Medford Veneer Company started up with 75 per cent of the old crew back on the job. Both mills in Medford, Wis., are now running.

All of the employees of the Von Platen Lumber Company at Iron Mountain, called the strike off and reported for work Monday morning, ten hours a day, same pay as before. So did the employees of Scott & Howe Lumber Co., at Ironwood, Mich. The Von Platen Mill will start as soon as repairs are finished.

Wisconsin Veneer Company at Rhinelander, Wis., started running 75 per cent of a full crew Monday morning.

Rhinelander Box & Lumber Co., Rhinelander, Wis., running their saw mill.

Chas. Hebard & Sons have been running days, right along and started up nights with a full crew Monday.

The I. Stephenson Co. at Wells, started one side of the Hardwood mill Monday and the other side on Wednesday.

The Northwestern Coopersage Co. at Gladstone, started their planing mill Monday.

J. R. Andrews at Talbot started sawing nights again with a full crew.

No saw mill in the whole territory has granted an eight hour day.

FACE BADLY BURNED WHEN KERSOENE EXPLODES

Robert Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ogden, was quite badly burned about the face Friday morning when he poured some kerosene in the furnace fire and the result of an explosion of the liquid covered his face. Mr. Ogden had started the fire before he left for his work. Some time later when Robert got up and the house was still on coal to suit him he went to the basement and put a can on the fire in the form of kerosene. The dampers in the chimney pipe were closed and instead of the explosion going up the flue, it came out of the front nose of the boiler. The young lad's face was covered with oil and soot and his eyes brought his mother downstairs, who immediately called Dr. Miller. The boy's face was bandaged and he was able to be around during the day. The skin is somewhat blistered and places may come off, but the burns were not deep enough to cause any scars. The Ogden has been having their share of hard luck lately. Only recently Margaret's friend was hit on the head by a brick and an operation had to be resorted to. Some time ago the four-year-old daughter, Marion, was operated on for appendicitis.

Prices Cannot "Break" Now

We have maintained right along that there could be no radical permanent "break" in prices at this time. We have stated this repeatedly in our printed talks about this business. We wanted men to realize, for their own sakes, that government were an opportunity that would not last long, and would not soon recur. In this case, as always, our advertising was sincerely intended for the benefit of the public as well as of ourselves.

Prices have been high because of world conditions of shortage—shortage in raw materials, shortage in finished products, shortage in transportation facilities, and shortage in all forms of labor which must contribute to the production, when alone can overcome all these other shortages. There are no surpluses standing anywhere, or in prospect. The only surplus there has been is the surplus of demand. People have had lots of extra money—many of them for the first time in their lives—and they have been indulging themselves.

The present temporary break in prices was brought about by the action of John Wamsmaker in reducing everything 25%.

Maintaining stable all groups about his reasons for doing so—much of it we suggest, inspired by vain regrets that he "beat us to it"—it was a master stroke. But the very fact that his motive did not run like wildfire throughout the country and bring everything tumbling down about our ears, instead of merely evoking sporadic responses here and there, is proof enough that it was not related to fundamental, primary conditions. Many failures of course. Some thought the time had come. But most of those who reduced would have reduced in any case at about this time, and to the same degree and extent. Wholesale prices have not been shaken. There are no more "bargains," no more liquidation of stocks, wholesale or retail, now than there normally are at this time of the year. And we are buying right along to replace and replace at prices as high as, and higher than those we paid for good now offered at reductions.

This condition, like other evils, is due entirely to general human selfishness. The cure for it, as well as for any situation that is wrong, is general and gradual unselfishness. The laborer has been certain in wanting more in wages than he was willing to give in creative effort. The producer, the wholesaler, and the retailer have been selfish in holding up profits or in not having the moral courage to reduce them boldly, as Mr. Wamsmaker finally did. And the consumer has been selfish in indulging himself with his surplus money, in things he did not need, thereby absorbing production assets. It all goes to show that we are all in the same boat in this life, and that the only way to make things easier for ourselves in the long run is to help make them easier for others in the job at hand. This is not merely theory—merely the most practical fact we have to work with. When we all can see business on a great human service and take part in it, whatever it may be, with that thought an impelling conviction in our consciousness, this will be a better world, than there will be any more distress from "high prices."

The SANDMAN STORY

MR. FOX & THE BEARS

MR. FOX could not afford to be caught with his hands behind his back, but when he wanted to gather grapes that grew high in a tree where the one had fastened around the branches.

"Such fine grapes would make it well worth my while," thought Mr. Fox, looking up at the grapes far out of his reach.

But then he saw something that made him look at the grapes with a different eye.

"Come here, youngsters, and see these grapes for me. I will give you some candy when I get home," he called to the two boys who were sitting on the ground in front of him.

"Yes, Mr. Fox, but we can't go up there," the boys replied, pointing to the tree.

"On the tree stand Toby and Billy Bear and Mr. Fox had his big basket hanging with grapes.

"When will you get the grapes?" asked the little fellows.

"Oh, some day when you are passing some like, as if you say would you like to go up there?"

The next morning, right and early Toby and Billy called at the door of

Mr. Fox's house, but he told them to wait for him to stop and get the money just then, and they could all go.

They were good-natured little fellows and did not mind, but when they called another time and Mr. Fox again saying excuse me and the boys they made up their minds he did not intend to give them anything for getting the grapes.

One morning Mr. Fox had his grapes all made and present was brought which he placed in the basket to send some to the boys. Billy and Toby were the first and they took their seat. When they started they brought the big basket with grapes and, carrying the same, and all of them had to get down with the boys, and set the grapes.

"Not long after, when Mr. Fox had finished his job, he thought some more about what he should do as to all things by the window and slipping to the back door to get in.

He took a good look at the boys, and then he dropped the basket and hurried.

Toby and Billy had been waiting for the bear this some and after some running up to the window "Did you call us, Mr. Fox?" they asked very eagerly, "we thought you would not give us the grapes."

But Mr. Fox was jumping about on his hind legs and holding his stomach and saying to each bear in a sad and anxious manner:

"What is the matter, Mr. Fox?" asked the astonished little fellows, "your grapes were with the other bear, your great-grandfather did not get."

"Mr. Fox did not say he was far from unhappy just then, but later when the boys returned, he had not the grapes, and when they were on the ground a big mark spot, and he would be had been honest with Toby and Billy Bear and not treated them so badly."

ESCANABA NEWS

Fox Steal Many Lamb at Ranch On E. & L.S. Line

According to authentic information received in Escanaba, 75 young lambs have been stolen and carried away either by wolves or dogs nearby. It is a small settlement about forty miles from Escanaba on the E. & L.S. Railroad. The Scotch Brethren camp located near reports that within the past four nights, 75 lambs have been taken by the scavenging animals from the woods. The ranch was formerly owned by the Scotch Brethren, who are well known to many business people in Escanaba. According to the person bringing the report, the first night of the raid the animals roosted in fifty-eight flocks of lambs being carried away. Appearances were that there were stranded near the place in some places and in others were carried away alive and probably devoured in the dens of the animals. All means to protect the lambs were taken however and the next night, more were taken. All searches made by the ranchmen there have been futile. Crews well armed with rifles have gone to the woods in an endeavor to locate the den but they have been unsuccessful. Nor have they been able to track the den of the lost lambs.

hens was compelled to leave Escanaba because of the illness of Mrs. H. J. Krueger, who requires a doctor's attention. The work of the clerkship in this city has been remarkable in the past, many wonderful accomplishments having been gained for the church.

Street Car Strikes Auto. When a street car struck in auto accident, driven by H. O. Brotherton at Madison and Ninth streets Friday night, Mrs. Brotherton and Mrs. Raymond were slightly injured. Mr. Brotherton and two sons of Mrs. Brotherton escaped without injury. The automobile in which the accident occurred was a Buick.

Mr. Brotherton was driving north on Ninth street and at Madison was crossing the street at a low rate of speed. He had recently purchased his car and was driving cautiously, looking for cars approaching from the west on Madison. He saw the street car coming from the east, but thought the car would stop at the corner, giving him time to cross the tracks. The car did not stop at the corner and he, therefore, the motorist, could only see the brakes of the car lurching the rear of the auto. All of the occupants of the car were badly frightened and shaken up considerably and both Mrs. Brotherton and Mrs. Raymond were taken to a physician's office where it was found that their injuries were not serious, however.

ARE RESTRAINED FROM PICKETING

JUDGE R. C. FLANNIGAN RULES AGAINST TIMBERWORKERS AT WELLS PLANT. A restraining order was issued against the Timberworkers' union at Wells by Circuit Judge R. C. Flannigan at Iron Mountain Saturday, that would prevent the union men from picketing the plants of the I. Stephenson company at Wells. The order does not affect the Coopersage company's plants in Gladstone, which would have to get a similar injunction. The I. Stephenson company trustees were represented before the court by Atty. James C. Baker and Atty. E. R. Emption, while the Timberworkers' union was represented at the hearing by Atty. T. J. Riley. The restraining order is limited in its scope to preventing the union from interfering with the men on their way to work or returning from work or interfering on the way to and from the plant of any person who wishes to seek employment. The union, by the order issued Saturday, is confined to soliciting men to quit or leave their work or seeking not to have them take employment, by doing so when the force of men are not going to or from the plant. The union men, by the order issued Saturday, are also restrained from picketing in the neighborhood of the plant, with the intent of intimidating the men who are working or those who are going to the plant to secure work.

START DRIVE FOR RELIEF OF DESTITUTE IN EUROPE

This week the Ladies' Aid society of the Swedish Lutheran church will be making its drive for raising the Gladstone quota of the world service funds for the relief of the destitute in Europe. The committee to act on this matter has not yet been fully selected but the following will be on the committee. Mrs. H. Dahle, Mrs. H. Kinzie, Mrs. Gust Anderson, Mrs. E. Larson, Mrs. Ole Peterson, Mrs. J. Jacobson, Mrs. F. Haber. Desperer, who preached a trial sermon Tuesday evening and made such a favorable impression upon his audience. It will not be possible for Rev. Burman to begin his new duties here as soon as Rev. Lind leaves for the west for his contract does not expire till September. Consequently it was decided to extend a call to Frank Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson of this city to take charge of the church during the summer months. The young man is a student at the Rock Island Theological school. During his early life he lived here, and hence he has many friends who will be pleased to have him back again, especially in the capacity of a minister of the Gospel. Rev. Burman will then take up the work in the fall. Coal Boat in Port. The E. Watson French, a coal boat, arrived in port this noon from Cleveland. The boat is quite large, having a capacity of 9,000 tons. She will leave Wednesday noon. Foresters to Meet at Norway. Mrs. Sherman Swori, Mrs. John Schustarich, Mrs. A. D. Bolley and Mrs. J. D. McDonald will attend a meeting of the Cloverland Association of the Upper Peninsula district of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters which will be held at Norway. Alex La Bumbard, who has been visiting with relatives here for some time, returned to his home in Escanaba Friday. It's better to have a cottage in the country than a castle in Spain. Jacqueline of Golden River

Copyright W. G. Chapman CHAPTER XX.

Leoux's Dilemma. I went back toward the cave. But I could not bring myself to see Jacqueline. I had reached the verge of the cañon and stood beside the little path at the great stream of water, sending its ceaseless current down into the troubled lake below. And then I saw Leoux. He was peering after me from among the rocks, and as I turned he was scuttling away into the tunnel. I followed him boldly; but he must have known every fissure in the cliff for he vanished before my eyes, apparently through the solid rock, and when I reached the place of his disappearance I could find no sign of any passage there. And at that moment I heard Leoux's voice halting me, and looked round to see him emerge from the tunnel at my side. He was starting in the wilderness at the cañon. "By Heaven, Hewlett, I don't know what possessed me to take the wrong turn tonight," he swore. "I have come through that tunnel a hundred times and never missed the path before. He swung round pettishly, and at that moment a shadow glided out of the darkness and stood in front of him. It was Pierre Caribou, lean, shrewy and old. He blocked the path and faced Leoux in silence. Leoux looked at him, and an oath broke from his lips as he read the other's purpose upon his face. Squaring his mighty shoulders and clenching his fists, he leaped at him headlong. Pierre stepped quietly aside, and Simon measured his full length within the tunnel. But, when he had scrambled to his feet with a howling challenge, Pierre was in front of him again. "What are you here for?" roared Leoux, but in a quivering voice that did not sound like his own. "Get out of the way or I'll smash your face!" The Indian still blocked the passage. "Your time comes now, Simon. All fish now," he answered. "You come here one, two year ago," Pierre continued. "You eat up home of M. Duchaine, my master. Old M. Duchaine my master, too. I belong here. You eat up all, come back, eat up some more. Then you sell Mlle. Jacqueline to Louis d'Ernyay. You made her run way to New York. I ask your dabble when your time come. Your dabble he say wait. I wait, Mlle. Jacqueline come back. I ask your dabble again. He say wait some more. Now your dabble tell me he send you here tonight because your time come, and all finish now." The face that Simon turned on me was not in the least like his own. It was that of a hopeless man who knows that everything he had prized is lost. He had never covered before anyone in his life, I think, but he covered now before Pierre Caribou. Then a roar burst from Leoux's lips, and he flung himself upon the Indian in the same desperate way as I had experienced, and in an instant the two men were struggling at the edge of the platform. They bent and swayed, and now Leoux was forcing Pierre's head and shoulders backward by the weight of his belt's body. The face was the Indian's, snarled, toughened by years of toil to steel, held fast; and just as Leoux, confident of victory, shifted his feet

Faced Leoux in Silence.

And the rivulet became a cañon that surged over me and filled my ears with tumult and sealed my eyes with sleep.

CHAPTER XXI.

The End of the Chateau. Darkness impenetrable about me, and a thick air that I breathed with great gasps that hardly brought relief to my choking throat. And a voice out of the darkness crying ceaselessly in my ears: "Help me! Help me!" I raised myself and tried to struggle to my feet. I found that I could move my limbs freely. I tried to rise upon my knees, but the rock struck my head. I stretched my arms out, and I touched the wall on either side of me. I must have been struck by the crest of Mrs. Freeland's sister, Mrs. L. H. Messenger. They left on Monday to visit a few days at the home of her mother at Thompson before returning to their home. She was accompanied by Madam Freeland, who remained here and returned to her home yesterday. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Willis last Saturday morning. The little fellow has already taken Andrew's measure and if he does not do a great deal of "cleaning" yet, he is keeping his father pretty well "expressed" for time. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Doleira of Garden passed through here Tuesday enroute for Oser on professional business. He found his party and stopped here for an hour or so on his return

He continued to repeat the words in every conceivable tone, and his suffering was pitiable. I felt one hand come through the tiny opening in the wall and grasp at me. "Who is it?" he murmured. "Is that you, Hewlett? For God's sake, kill me!" I crunched beside him, but I did not know what to say to him. I could only wait there, that he might not die alone. "Give me a knife!" he implored again, clutching at my arm. "Don't leave me to die like this! Bring Pere Antoine and my mother. I want to tell her to tell her—"

He muttered in his delirium until his voice died away. I thought that he would never speak again. But presently he seemed to revive again to the consciousness of his surroundings. "Are you with me, Hewlett?" he whispered.

I placed my hand in his, and he clutched at it with feverish force. "You will have the gold, Hewlett." He muttered, apparently ignorant that I too was a prisoner, and in hardly better plight. "I tried to kill you, Hewlett. Are you going to leave me to die alone in the dark now?" "No," I answered. "It doesn't matter, Leoux. And, really, it did not matter."

"I wanted to kill you," his voice rambled on. "Leoux is a man. I watched him die. I thought if you died, too, no one but I would know the secret of the gold. I tried to murder you. I blew up the tunnel!" He paused, and I heard him gasp for breath. His fingers clutched at my coat sleeve again and hopped they seemed round under like claws of steel. "I had a knife—once," he resumed, relapsing into his delirium; "but I left it behind me and the police got it. I can't find Leoux," he rambled on. "That one always leaves something behind when one has killed a man? But the newspapers made mention about the knife. You didn't know he was dead, did you, Leoux, for all your cleverness, until that fool Hewlett left that paper upon the table? You knew enough to send me to jail, but you didn't know that it was I who killed him. Help me!" He screamed hoarsely. "He is here, looking at me!" "There is nobody here, Philippe."

I said, trying to soothe his agony of soul. What a poor and stained soul it was, traveling into the next world alone! "There is nobody but me, Philippe!" "You lie!" he roared. "Louis is here! He has come for me! He deserves to die. He trifles with me and he has sold the gold. He tricked me twice. He sold Leoux, thinking that he would win his gratitude and get free from the man's power. And he would time he sold Caribou. Then there were three of us in the secret!" (Continued Next Thursday)

RAPID RIVER

The second accident to take place at the crossing of the county road and the Main street of Rapid River during the past two weeks occurred last Saturday when Henry Cassidy of Gladstone with his partner collided with Albert Prohl in his family Ford. No one was injured but Uncle Henry and the front axle was pretty badly twisted. Cassidy was coming from the east and Prohl from the north. Neither one saw the other until it was too late and they simply came together again demonstrating that something should be done to remedy traffic snafus on that particular corner. Highway Commissioner James Larkins has had a crew of men employed this week reconstructing some of the walls in the city that are unsafe and have been condemned. The block in front of the Leslie Caswell residence was first to go and there are two or three other blocks where the walks will be removed including, we understand, the one leading to the Congregational church. New walks are not being put in at present but the earth is being graded up to the level of the old walk. Some of the walks that were not too far gone were repaired.

Among the relatives from out of town who attended the funeral of Rock Bennett are: The two La Veque families of Perkins, Mrs. Antoine Parent of Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Munising. Mrs. Allen Reynolds of Gladstone spent Thursday with Mrs. Wm. Reynolds whose health is very poor lately. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thibault Jr. were down from camp yesterday and motored to Gladstone on business. C. E. Hamilton came over from Manistique and Sunday with his family here. Mrs. Otis Freeland and children of Blaney, spent a few days here the guest of Mrs. Freeland's sister, Mrs. L. H. Messenger. They left on Monday to visit a few days at the home of her mother at Thompson before returning to their home. She was accompanied by Madam Freeland, who remained here and returned to her home yesterday.

Delta District Manufacturers' Association Headquarters, Escanaba, Michigan. Purpose of Organization 1. To cultivate a closer relationship between the employer and employee. 2. To combat the un-American propaganda which is now being spread throughout our community. 3. To educate the public to the fact that greater production is absolutely necessary to the lowering of the cost of the necessities of life. 4. To educate the public to the idea that Our country must be run for the benefit of all the people, and not any particular class. Can the demands of the striking saw mill men be granted by the mill owners? We answer, No. Why? Because the mill crews were and are being paid as high wages as the workers in any similar line of industry. Wages have been advanced in the last two years, nearly 100% and for some classes of work, over double. All supplies used by the mills, oil, grease, bolting, saws, rabbit metal, machinery parts, food supplies for the camps, in fact every single operation have advanced from two to five times the cost of two years ago. These advances caused, largely because production is below normal and the good are scarce. Freight charges on logs to the mills, lumber to the markets, supplies shipped in, are from 25% to 50% higher than two years ago. If the saw mill owners of Northern Wisconsin and Michigan, granted an eight hour day, they would be bankrupt in two years. It would cost them exactly 20% more to manufacture lumber than it would cost the mills of Lower Michigan, Pennsylvania, or the New England states, which include New Hampshire, Vermont, and Maine. All of these states produce largely the same class of lumber. Lower Michigan produces more Hardwoods and Hemlock than the Upper peninsula. Pennsylvania produces more hardwoods, Maple, Birch, Beech, Basswood, Elm and Hemlock than the whole state of Michigan. The Appalachian Mountain region of New York, Vermont and New Hampshire also produce a large amount of the same woods. While the state of Maine produces more Spruce, which is used for building, the same as Hemlock, than Michigan produces of Hemlock. The mountain region of West Virginia has just been opened up in the last three years, as a large producer of Hard Maple, Birch and Hemlock and they are closer to the large markets of the east, have less freight to pay, larger and better timber, more of it to the acre and can undersell the Northern operator in those markets. All the railroads are on an eight-hour basis and if all the saw mills were to go on the same basis of hours, then the Northern mills would not be at a disadvantage when compared with their competitors. ### Fox Steal Many Lamb at Ranch On E. & L.S. Line

According to authentic information received in Escanaba, 70 young lambs have been stolen and carried away either by wolves or foxes nearby. A small settlement about forty miles from Escanaba on the E. & L. S. railroad.

The Smith Brothers ranch located near there reports that within the past three nights, 70 lambs have been stolen by the crawling animals from the woods. The ranch was formerly owned by the Smith Brothers, who were well known to many business people in Escanaba.

According to the person bringing the report, the first night of the raid by the animals resulted in fifty-eight of the flock of lambs being carried away. Apprehensions were that there were stragglers near the place in some instances and in they were carried away alive and probably destroyed in the dens of the animals.

All means to protect the lambs were taken however and the next night twelve more were taken.

All searches made by the ranchmen there have been futile. Crews well armed with rifles have gone to the woods in an endeavor to locate the den but they have been unsuccessful. Nor have they been able to get much trace of the lost lambs.

H. R. Meyers, head of the Commercial Dept. in the local High school has accepted a position in the High school at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. This position is a very desirable one because of the location, splendid reputation and size of school, there being an enrollment of 1500 in High school. Although enjoying his work in Escanaba very much Mr. Meyers felt that he could not allow this opportunity to pass by, which came as a result of an application made some years ago.

Street Car Strikes Auto.

When a street car struck an automobile, driven by H. O. Brotherton, at Ludington and Ninth streets Friday night, Mrs. Brotherton and Mrs. Raymond were slightly injured. Mr. Brotherton and two sons of Mrs. Raymond escaped without injury. The automobile suffered a damaged fender.

Mr. Brotherton was driving north on Ninth street and at Ludington was crossing the street at a low rate of speed. He had recently purchased his car and was driving cautiously, looking for cars approaching from the west on Ludington. He saw the street car coming from the east but thought the car would stop at the corner, giving him time to cross the tracks.

The car did not stop at the corner and before the motorist could apply the brakes the car bumped the rear of the auto.

All of the occupants of the car were badly frightened and shaken up considerably and both Mrs. Brotherton and Mrs. Raymond were taken to a physician's office where it was found that their injuries were not serious.

Police Car Hit.

A Derosier, a Danforth farmer, driving an automobile, crashed into the city police car, driven by Officer Elmer Simpson, at Ludington and Thirtieth street, Friday afternoon. The police car was running west on Ludington street while the car driven by Mr. Derosier was going east and at Thirtieth street he tried to get back up Ludington street. The police car had the right of way but Derosier evidently believed the officer would stop, with the result that he crashed directly into the side of the police car. The fender of the police car was dented while the farmer's car suffered a damaged wheel.

Beauty Chats

By EDNA KENT FORBES

FOR YOUNG GIRLS

YOUNG girls' beautifiers by young girls are brought a right simplicity of makeup and dress quite different from the artificiality of many young girls, and especially quite different from the heavy and make-up of the present moment. The young girl of today carries a nice little head on her shoulders. She can earn her own way if she wants and take care of herself under all circumstances. She doesn't faint at the slightest excitement, and she doesn't become a nervous wreck at the least strain on her nerves.

Yet she is in danger of becoming too sophisticated in her outward manner, and too wise in her ideas. I can tell from my own correspondence with girls of fourteen and up, how first they want to do up their hair, then they want to use cold cream, and powder and to know about rouge and eye-brow pencils. Such things are the implements of grown-up womanhood to them, and they cannot wait to get their fingers on the new set of toys.

Yet their chief charm is their simplicity. Simplicity and youth are almost synonymous. The woman who wants to seem younger can best gain her point by dressing simply. The young girl should cling to simplicity

Simplicity is the Greatest Beauty for Young Girls.

In dress and manner as long as possible, for her greatest charm will always be her youth. To be sure this doesn't mean that she should avoid the use of all beauty helps, for at this age, personal care counts much for later beauty. The most common trouble with young girls is a poor complexion, due partly to their development, partly to the fact that the restricting parental hand is removed and they can indulge in candy and sweets to their heart's content. Pimples and blackheads and a coarse-grained skin are the inevitable penalties. The hair is growing fast at this age, too, and needs extra good care and, frequently, a tonic. The growing body requires so much strength that little enough is left for the hair, and a healthy growth is assured if care is taken at this age.

Brands

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THIS is an age of Brands and Trade Mark. You'll immediately know the Quality and Character of a product as soon as you note its Brand or Trade Mark. And because this is possible, it means economy, convenience and confidence.

What Brand does your Life represent? Is it the "Sunshine" Brand, the "Grouch" Brand, the "Helpful" Brand, the "Unselfish" Brand, the "Thoughtless" Brand, the "Smile" Brand, the "Getthere" Brand, the "Smooze" Brand,

THINGS THAT ARE STUCK TOGETHER

What the Brand is stamped to you, remember.

What you do on your Face, maybe in your Voice, your Walk may show it, or your Clothes—but the Brand is there, remember, and even a Child may be able to detect it.

What Brand do you want the world to see in you? Lincoln carried a Brand. It was "Honest Abe." Some a Royal navy needs an outfit in its uniforms—"Gladstone's," "Do Things Bill," "Shiloh's," "Sage," "Jim," "Always," "Thinking of you," "Hugger," "Sawyer," "Crisis," "A Minute," "Brand" like these.

What Brand does your life represent? Whatever your Brand, be sure you are that it really FITS what you are, and the best that you are. If you have never thought of the Brand business, think of it now. And when you have discovered what your Brand is, and where you carry it—put your whole life back of it and make it Brand for your best friend. If your Brand is worth while, set it on fire.

Make your Brand really represent the BEST that you are.

Babies are not all born free and equal, some are born with mental and physical traits which are inherited from moral, bodily and temperamental qualities. These are the degrading predispositions and physical deformities, transmitted by weak and sinful progenitors.

All children should be born free and equal, but the sad fact remains that they are not.

CONGRESS ON RECESS ON JUNE 4, DECISION.

Washington, D. C.—June 4 has been decided upon as the date for congressional recess or adjournment. It had not been definitely decided whether a sine die adjournment will be taken, June 4th, is the Friday before the republican national convention. There is a strong sentiment for sine die adjournment, which would mean that congress would not come back until December.

NO GOLD OR SILVER IS LEFT IN VIENNA

Vienna, April 25.—There is a hardly any silver or gold coin to be had in Vienna, owing to hoarding.

In an effort to bring them back into circulation the government is paying 20 paper crowns for each silver crown and 35 in paper for each one of gold.

An illustration of the barter basis on which Austria now finds itself as far as internal trade is concerned, was given at a meeting this week of the representatives of the Peasants' Associations, together with agrarian members of the Assembly. When reproached for not allowing food to come to Vienna, they offered to collect the surplus food supplies in the hands of the peasants through their own agencies and deliver it to the central government in exchange for agricultural implements and such articles as they stand in need of. They refused to consider payment in Austrian money.

Not only a fool, but a man and his money are soon parted these days.

Water High; Fishing Poor. The heavy rain of Saturday night has swollen the trout streams to such an extent that fishing yesterday was very poor and but few fishermen brought home catches that could be bragged about.

But Where Are The Fish? James Shields, the genial bookkeeper at the Co-operative store, always claimed he was some fisherman. His friends, however, repeatedly asked him to prove it and as these ideas continued, Mr. Shields hid himself onto his trusty motorcycle and sped up to Treaty to bag the elusive trout. No luck there, so he tried other streams one after the other until he reached Powers, where he finally gave up and returned, hairless, tired and dejected.

WANT SEWER ON SUPERIOR AVE

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL PETITION COUNCIL FOR EXTENSION OF SYSTEM. CITY ATTORNEY JACKSON has prepared petitions that will soon be circulated for the extension of the city sewer inspection on Superior avenue. There will be two separate petitions, one calling for a sewer from Twelfth to Ninth streets and the other from Ninth to Eighth streets. The reason for the two petitions is that if the longer one will not contain sufficient signatures as waivers of the 20 per cent clause, the other or shorter one between Ninth and Ninth streets, will be underground in its entirety as all the lots in the block are improved. The petitions will be presented to the council at its next meeting, June 7th. It is not likely however, that the work will be done this year because there is considerable preliminary work to be gone through with.

About four or five years ago the city voted a bond issue for an extensive addition to its sewer system, which included sewers from Twelfth street to Fifth on Superior, and another trunk line on Eleventh street to the bay. The estimated cost at that time was $14,000, but before the bonds were sold there was a slump in the market and the firm agreed to buy the bonds refused to pay the price. This was in the early days of the European war and things went higher the matter was finally allowed to drop. The estimate on the sewer on Superior avenue, if built at the present time is about $64,75 on a 24 ft. lot. Charles Holm and A. B. White are getting the signatures to the Eighth to Ninth street section, while Jas. T. Jones will look after the signatures for the longer sewer. Dr. Marble Arms Co. and the Marble Card Co. are principally after the sewer connections for their plants.

GLADSTONE WINS SECOND GAME

LOCAL HIGHS CAP CONTEST AT RAPID RIVER SAURDAY SCORE 15-6

Last Saturday, Gladstone's high school baseball team again triumphed over Rapid River. Although the game was played on enemy territory the crowd was largely made up of Gladstone rooters. The boys following who made the trip were not disappointed for the game was full of excitement. The final count was 15 to 6. On offense Gladstone repeated the good work of the week before. Twelve solid, clean "raze" was the accumulation of the afternoon's activities with the bat. When hits meant runs, the boys were "Johnny on the spot." In this case it was "Johnny on the spot" for John Feeney, who secured three safeties in four trips to the plate and one of these was a double. Ed. Feeney, not satisfied with his brother's achievement, rapped out two doubles and a single in four trips to the rubber.

Gladstone's defense was played in big league style for seven innings. Until the eighth inning Rapid River garnered only four safe hits. Greenland and Van Deweigh secured impregnable. In the fifth inning however, the defense faltered for a moment. Schiska took life on McGee's error and scored on Bergstrom's "loop." But in the last two frames everything seemed to go wrong. Van Deweigh was found for four safe blows during the last two periods and coupled with four errors, Rapid River managed to push five runs across the plate. During this time the infield endeavored to keep the ball by throwing it out of the lot. E. Feeney, J. Feeney, Bergstrom and McGee took turns at heaving the ball out of anybody's reach and it was not until three were out in the ninth that Gladstone's rooters were at ease. Greenland pitched a fine game during the four innings he toiled. He permitted but two hits and retired six via the strikeout route. J. Feeney played a great game at short, accepting six chances perfectly except for a wild throw to first. The boys cross bats with Escanaba next Wednesday and again on Saturday. It has been a long time since Gladstone has triumphed over Escanaba in any branch of athletics. The boys and Coach Ganser will concentrate all of their energies in the effort to accomplish this seemingly impossible task. It is a certainty that if Gladstone tightens up a bit in the infield that Escanaba will meet an opponent which she will have just cause to fear. Honest Work at Honest Prices These are two highly important points for a man to consider before having his car overhauled. The first point is to assure himself that the men who are going to work on his car are mechanics expert enough to locate and properly repair all the parts that need attention. The second point is to convince himself that he can trust the shop to give him an honest accounting of the amount of work that was actually done on the car.
