BID ACCEPTED BY COUNCIL

ROBERT NEBEL WILL CONSTRUCT SEWERS—BUCKEY ALLEY MATTER SETTLED.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night, the bid of George Nebel for constructing sewers in Superior avenue between Eighth and Twelfth streets, and in Dakota avenue between Eleventh streets, was accepted, his being the only bid submitted.

Mr. Nebel will do the work for $2.50 per foot for a 12 inch pipe, $1.50 per foot for an eight inch pipe, and $1.10 for a six inch pipe. Man holes are to cost $100.00 each on Superior avenue, and $90.00 each on Dakota avenue. He agrees to have the Superior avenue sewer completed within 60 days following the delivery of the pipe and the Dakota avenue sewer in 20 days.

Pay for Dakota Avenue.
The bill of Robert Nebel for the pavement of Dakota avenue, between Eighth and Tenth streets, amounting to $2,952.32, was received and on motion of Alderman Malloy who authorized to be paid with the exception of 10 per cent of the amount, which is being held back pending the completion of the pavement between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Sewer Extensions Approved.
A communication from State Sanitary Engineer E. D. Rich, was read and ordered placed on file. This is the communication in reference to the extension of the sewers on Superior and Dakota avenues, and the state officer sanctions the extensions.

Estimate Trunk Sewers.
Surveyor M. S. McNabb, was requested to make a survey of the proposed cost of building the long proposed Fourth and Eleventh street trunk line sewers and settling the cost on Minnesota avenue. These additional trunk lines will have to be put in before any more additions can be made to the sewer system outside of those now contracted for and the Wisconsin avenue extensions.

Buckeye Alley Matter.
The vacation of the alley in the rear of John Thompson's property in the Buckeyes (Goodman addition) was finally disposed of and the alley ordered vacated. This alley is in the block on which the new Buckeye public school will be erected. Mr. Thompson's property was the only one that stood in the way of doing away with the alley in question. The school board made him an offer to sell to them, but he held out for a higher figure. The matter was recently amicably settled.

After allowing a small batch of bills the council adjourned until the first Monday in August, which meeting promises to be an unusually interesting one as several matters now hanging fire will be disposed of then.

LOCAL YOUNG MAN CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING $300

Carroll Jacobson, a well known young man in this city, and who for some time was employed by A. E. De Groot as driver for the express company, was arraigned before Judge C. D. McWhin Tuesday, charged with embezzling approximately $300. He demanded an examination, and the case will be taken up July 27. Bail was furnished and Mr. Jacobson returned to his home here.

Stork Kept Busy.
The stork made several visits here within the last week, leaving the following:

Leo Claude, to Mr. and Mrs. Claude McLeod, Minnesota avenue, July 17, the fourth child in the family; Louise Thibout to Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Thibout, Minnesota avenue, July 17. This is the second child; Fred to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldrich, July 19th. This is also the second child in the family; Dorothy Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gagnon, Wisconsin avenue on July 19th, and is the first child in the family.

Bake Sale.
The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a bake sale Saturday afternoon, July 24th, from 2 to 5, at Erickson's Drug store.

Returned From Belgium
Mrs. A. Vermillion and daughters Mary and Elizabeth, returned Tuesday night from Belgium, accompanied by a third daughter, Alice, who was sent to Belgium to school before the war.

William Huber of Enderlin, N. D., arrived in this city Wednesday, after being notified of the serious illness of his brother Frederick Huber. Although somewhat improved, his condition is still critical.

MINNIE HAGENSON HAD NARROW ESCAPE YESTERDAY

Miss Minnie Hagenson of this city had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday while bathing near the swimming mill. During the hour she decided to take a cool plunge, but in some manner got into a hole which was 10 or 12 feet deep. Her cries for assistance brought several floating mill employees to her. Sidney Skelenger was first to reach the scene, and plunging into the water reached her just as she was sent under the third time. By this time Otto Hill and Eugene Ester had arrived at the place and the three of them managed to bring her ashore.

It was only after she had been worked over for some time that the young lady recovered consciousness, and Sidney being but a few minutes later, the accident would probably have been fatal. She was taken to her home, and is rapidly recovering from the shock.

KIPLING GIRL HIT BY AUTO

Miss Fannie Anderson, of Kipling, was knocked down and badly bruised by a car while crossing the street in front of her home Tuesday evening about nine o'clock.

F. E. Earle of Escanaba was driving in the direction of Gladstone, when he met another car going the other way. Due to the brightness of the other lights, which the driver neglected to dim, Mr. Earle was barely able to see at all, and because his attention was focused on the road ahead, he failed to see Miss Anderson as she crossed in front of the car. As a result she was hit with sufficient force to throw her over on the side of the road. Mr. Earle immediately stopped his car which was going at a very slow rate and took the injured girl to her home, where a physician was summoned. She suffered no serious injury, but was severely jarred and bruised. Mr. Earle is not blamed for the action as it was quite unavoidable.

ATTENTION ROYAL NEIGHBORS

Royal Neighbors wishing to pay July assessments, call at Mrs. Martha Moore's, 1011 Minnesota avenue.

LOCALS WILL CLASH WITH MANISTIQUE SUNDAY

Gladstone base ball fans have a most interesting game before them when the locals contend with the Manistique players Sunday. Our boys have been putting in some pretty practice lately and we have every reason to believe that Manistique will go home with the wial taken out of their sails. The locals had a rest last Sunday, and are now ready with some real snappy playing. A large crowd is expected to turn out to cheer the boys to victory.

Run Over by Wagon.
Ernest Wiessert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiessert of this city was quite seriously injured Saturday, while on his way to Cooks Mill with a camping outfit.

While going over a rough road he was jarred off, falling in such a manner a rear wheel passed over his leg badly bruising it. He was immediately taken to Escanaba, and treated at a local hospital, later being removed to the home of his grandmother.

Excavation To Begin.
By Monday of next week, excavation for the new church will begin. At present the old fence around the site of the new structure is being torn down and shed is built for storing cement.

Receives Birthday Gift.
As a reminder of her 48th birthday, Mrs. Louis Schram received forty-two downy baby chicks from her son Frank, who is in Chicago. The gift is rather unique but greatly appreciated and Mrs. Schram is much pleased with them.

ABOUT THE WEATHER

Data is furnished by the local office of the Weather Bureau at Escanaba. Fair tonight; Friday probably showery—Gentle to moderate east and southeast winds.

RECORDS TO BE EXAMINED

UNION MEN WILL DISCUSS CANDIDATES AT THE HALL ON JULY 30TH.

For the purpose of gathering information in regard to the attitude the candidates for office have toward labor, a meeting of Gladstone labor organizations is to be held July 29th at the city hall. It is expected that united action will be taken in investigating the records of candidates for office and their attitude on matters which concern upon labor interests.

First, there will be an investigation of Charles Murray of this city, who represented the railway men of this city at a similar gathering in Escanaba is calling the Gladstone meeting. The city council has granted the permission to use the hall for the assembly and although delegates will be named by all the labor organizations, the meeting is open to the public.

Although it is said no definite move will be made in this meeting to give endorsement to any candidate, it may be done at a later date after the voters have a clear idea of the candidates and their ideals.

This will not be the last meeting of this type, as others will be held at various times before elections to keep the electors well informed as to what they are voting for.

INJUNCTIONS TO CURB VICE GIVEN COUNTY ATTORNEY

Judge Richard J. Flannigan, in circuit court at Menominee, yesterday granted the request of Delm. Prosecutor Torvald E. Strom, for injunctions against four of the proprietors of alleged disorderly houses named in suits filed by Mr. Strom at Escanaba Saturday.

Florence McKenzie, Pearl Adams, Isabella Edgar and Jessie Leboat, were included in the list. Action against Mildred Burton and Ida Steed was held up because they could not be served with the notices. The second woman is said to have gone to Detroit. Mildred's whereabouts are unknown.

Of the four against whom injunctions were handed down, Mrs. Edgar and Mrs. McKenzie have left Escanaba. Their places have been closed.

Frank Hess to Seek Another Term a Register

Nomination papers have been filed by the many friends of Frank Hess for another term as register of deeds. Mr. Hess has been an able and efficient member of the county office and according to late indications there will be no opposition to him for the office which he seeks.

The endorsements by the democrats is expected.

To Visit Belgium.
Guest Franke of this city left Wednesday morning for New York from where he will sail for Belgium to visit it with his parents and old friends. He has not seen his native land for twelve years, and expects to find many changes, especially those due to the war.

Al Verriek came down from Seney, Monday to spend some time with his wife, Mrs. Wm. Reynolds, who is seriously ill at her home here.

FEDERAL COURT MAKES DECISIONS

PAUL WICKERT OF ESCANABA IS BOUND OVER TO NEXT TERM BY COURT AT SOO.

Sault Ste. Marie, July 21.—Paul Wickert, Escanaba man, was bound over to the next term of federal district court today, after a jury which had deliberated upon the evidence in his case for five hours, reported to the judge that an agreement would be impossible. Wickert was charged with illegal possession of liquor.

The case of the United States versus Charles Hansen, Peter Waski and Carl Holm, also of Escanaba, went to the jury at 5 o'clock this afternoon, following the hearing of a large number of witnesses, including federal agents and citizens of Escanaba. Indications were that the jury would be out for some time and a disagreement is possible in view of the fact that strong evidence was presented by both sides. The jury probably will adjourn until tomorrow morning.

The term was brought to a close by the Hanson-Waski-Holm case. Several men, whose cases were continued for various reasons, will be tried at the next term of court.

Fillon Case Passed.
A large number of convicted violators of liquor laws, sentenced to serve in the Detroit House of Correction, are being held in the county jail here and probably will be assigned to their quarters by United States Marshal O'Connor, the latter part of the week.

The case against John Fillion, federal prohibition operative who was charged with a number of minor offenses by Escanaba, was not settled up for trial. However, in the Hansen conspiracy case, testimony introduced by the defense was intended to show that Fillion took a pocket book, said to contain $74, from Hansen and never returned it. Skill and freedom in handling a gun also was charged against Fillion by the witnesses.

EXPECTS NO SURPLUS OF RURAL TEACHERS

In spite of the advance in teachers' salaries provided by the school authorities of nearly all of the townships of the county, by G. Woolpert, county commissioner of schools, does not anticipate an excess in the number of available qualified teachers at the opening of the coming school year. At the present time there are eight vacancies in eight of the leading rural schools of the county. Mr. Woolpert does not believe that he or the school authorities will encounter any great difficulty in filling the vacancies, but no indications are given that there will be a surplus supply of teachers from which to make selections.

Eye Not Improved.
Loris Bullion, who returned home from Escanaba Wednesday, feels that his eye was being treated, feels that he will lose the sight of the injured member, with there is still a chance of his retaining the sight of that eye.

Has Poison Ivy.
John Card, who lately returned from a motor trip in the southern part of the state got into some poison ivy while away and is now suffering from the effects.

On Vacation.
George Sineclair employed in Rosenberg's department store is now enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Now comes a scientist who says jealousy is a disease, but as a matter of fact it's fifty per cent selfishness and fifty per cent madness.

RAILROAD BOARD AWARD MADE PUBLIC TUESDAY

AWARD APPROXIMATELY SIXTY PER CENT INCREASE ASKED FOR BY THE EMPLOYEES.

RETROACTIVE TO MAY 1ST

REPRESENTATIVES OF RAILROAD ORGANIZATIONS ARE CONSIDERING THE AWARD.

Repair men and helpers, apprentices and car cleaners, increase of five cents an hour. Chief clerks and members of the clerical staff, increase of thirteen cents an hour. Passenger service (engineers, motormen and firemen and helpers) eighty cents a day. Freight service (engineers, firemen, motormen and helpers) $1.04 a day. Yard service (engineers, firemen, motormen and helpers) eighteen cents an hour. Railway clerks with less than one year experience, increase of six and a half cents an hour. Shop employees, mechanics, boilers and repairmen, increase of thirteen cents an hour.

Chicago, July 20.—$600,000,000 was added to the pay envelope of the nation's 2,000,000 railroad employees in the first award handed down by the new United States railroad labor board.

Rejecting the demands of the organized rail unions for increases totaling approximately $1,000,000,000, the board decided approximately sixty percent of that sum would be a just increase to meet present living conditions.

The award adds approximately twenty-one per cent to the present pay schedule. Railroad officials have declared that any pay increase awarded the men must be followed by a corresponding increase in rates and they plan, it is said, to file new terms with the interstate commerce commission as soon as the award can be prepared.

Whether the award as given will stave off the threat of a general railroad strike remains to be seen. The leaders of practically every one of the states' railroads unions were represented this morning when Justice R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, handed down the decision. They were immediately to present the award to 1,900 general claimants who had gathered here to pass on its acceptability. The terms of the decision had been known to them yesterday and they were expected to have taken steps in line at least until a referendum vote could be taken. Nearly a month will be needed for the referendum.

The board's decision is retroactive to May 1st and as the maximum increase granted any class was eighteen cents an hour or $36.72 per month, the biggest pay check due when the pay adjustment is made August 1, will be $110.16. Engineers, firemen and helpers in the yard service will receive this amount. The board provides that the back pay checks shall be made out separately so that each man will know the amount he receives from that source.

Seven times were taken into consideration in arriving at the award, the results of the union's announcement said. They were: The scale paid for similar kinds of work in other industries. The hazards of the employment. The training and skill required. Degree of responsibility. Characteristics and regularity of employment and inequality in increases and treatment, resulting from previous wage orders.

"Those persons who consider the rates determined on herein too high should reflect on the abnormal conditions resulting from the high cost of living and the high rates now being paid in other industries," the board said. "The employees who may believe the rates too low should consider the increased burden these rates will place on their fellow countrymen, many of whom are less favorably situated than themselves."

"The board has endeavored to fix such wages as will provide a decent living and secure for the children of the wage earner opportunity for education, and yet to remember that no class of Americans should receive preferential treatment and that the great mass of the people must ultimately pay a great part of the increased cost of operation entailed by the increase in wages determined upon."

The decision, Chairman Barton explained, was not a unanimous one, some members dissenting on nearly every section. The awards given were by majority vote on each section with at least one member of the public group voting for each award.

Demands of the railroad men who struck last April and formed a new union were ignored by the board. Reference being made to the strikers or their demands. The board has refused to hear representatives of the new unions holding the old brotherhoods that the men were already represented by the officials of the recognized unions. The strikers demanded that the board order return of three-fourth seniority rights, which the railroads declared forfeited. This demand also was ignored. In addition to the sixteen recognized brotherhoods, the other unions, the International Association of Railroad Supervisors of Mechanics and the American Train Dispatchers Association, are made a party to the decision. More than 400 railroads are specially named as parties.

The decision provides that in case of a dispute as to the interpretation of the decision the question shall be referred to the board for decision. The law does not require, however, that either side must accept the award. The decision provides that the daily increase should be computed at eight times the hourly rate and the monthly increase at 24 times the hourly rate.

An eighteen per cent increase in freight rates will be necessary to meet the twenty-one per cent award granted railway employees today. E. H. Whiter, representative of the roads in the hearings, said the railway labor board announced. The railroads, Mr. Whiter announced after a conference with the western managers association, will accept the board's award and apply its terms immediately. "The award speaks for itself," Mr. Whiter said. "It means, of course, that the roads must ask for increased rates to meet the board's estimate and $600,000,000 increase will require an increase of about eighteen per cent in freight rates."

W. G. Lee, of Cleveland, president of the brotherhood of railway trainmen, said all the eighteen organizations made a party to the award, would hold separate sessions this afternoon, followed by a general conference tonight. The belief grows that leaders would submit the question to a referendum vote of the men. "When the attention of Judge Barton was called to this point, he said: 'We decided that we would hear the claims of all organizations, which were properly brought before us, but no union whose men were out on strike and therefore violating the board's award would therefore we did not hear their dispute. I think the terms submission of disputes to the award speaks for itself on this point.'"

The new railroad unions will submit the board's decision to a referendum vote of their membership, Granau announced today. After Granau's announcement had been called to his he issued the following statement: "The United States railway board's decision is unsatisfactory. It shows discrimination, when the entire nation is suffering. The Yardenin's association delegates who were present with their men and who represent more than 300,000 men of the various crafts affiliated and recognized as being an integral part of the membership of the Chicago Yardenin's association. In Conference. Washington, D. C.—Immediately upon receipt of the announcement of the railroad labor board's wage award the railroad executives here went into conference today to frame their recommendations to the interstate commerce commission in advance of rates to meet the added expense of $600,000,000 to the carriers. The commission now has under consideration the application of the carriers for freight rate increases to provide and added income of 1,071,600,000 annually, but these increases do not take into consideration any wage increases. The railroad executives said today they would ask the commission to spread the increased expenses created by the board's award upon both passenger and freight rates, but what proportion had not been determined.

Register By August 31st. If you want to vote at the primaries on August 31, do not forget to register with the city clerk on one of the following dates, August 7th, 14th or 21st. Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM ABOUT GOATS?

FREUD states that modern dream books are but plagiarisms of ancient Eastern writings of the same character and are necessarily bad ones because in nearly all cases the Eastern interpretations of dreams hang upon a play upon words which is, of course, lost in turning them into another language. This statement may be open to doubt and it is rather probable that the modern empiric interpretation of dreams has gradually grown up through a mingling of Ptolemaic, Celtic, Gallic and ancient Roman and Greek superstitions, which would account for the divergence of the interpretations with regard to their symbolism.

The most famous dream prophecy depending upon a play upon words is that given by the soothsayer, Aristandros, to Alexander when that monarch was besieging Tyre. Alexander was much disturbed by the stubborn resistance of the city and the consequent delay in his plans of conquest. One night he dreamed that he saw one of those portlike mythological creatures, a satyr-Greek Satyros—hanging on his shield. He demanded of Aristandros the meaning of the dream. At once the soothsayer replied by dividing the word into Sa Tyros (Tyre) Thine is Tyre. Alexander took the city.

Although Freud cites this as an example of his statement it will be noticed that the play upon words was Greek and not Oriental. Satyrs were of the male sex and of the horns tall and legs of goats. They were mischievous creatures and sent the nightmare. To meet them or dream of them was accounted by the ancient as unlucky. In spite of the dream of Alexander, this would seem to account for the dream of the modern satyr that to dream of a billy goat is unlucky, though to dream of killing one or seeing one killed is a favorable omen; the latter probably originating from the killing of a goat as a sacrifice being mentioned in Leviticus. And the interpretation of a dream of seeing only the goat's horns—that if foreboded bad luck—was easily traced to the prophet's dream of the fight between the goat and the ram in the eighth chapter of Daniel. A few of the samples say that to dream of many-goats, especially if white, is good luck.

The Great Lunthead Mystery

Follow the Travels of the Famous Medal Designed to be Worn by the Person Proving the Right to be Known to the World as the Biggest Lunthead.

EPISODE VI When the Man WHO WASTED ALL HIS SPARE TIME found that HE had been sought out and awarded the BIGGEST LUNTHEAD Medal he did not like the idea of having it hanging on his breast and he worked up nerve enough to think about WHY it was there.

When he began to THINK he saw for the first time that HIS OWN ACTS had won him the Medal. He saw that he had been always telling the world BY HIS OWN ACTS that HE DID NOT WANT TO GET AHEAD. And he saw that the world had taken him AT HIS OWN PRICE. He saw that as he was WASTING HIS SPARE TIME good jobs went to others who improved their LEISURE. He saw that the MEN WHO MAKE GOOD are the men WHO NEVER IDLE. He saw that the world took these men AT THEIR OWN PRICE. He saw that HE COULD QUIT BEING AN IDLER and that IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO START BEING A REAL MAN.

And he started, without delay, to be a SUCCESSFUL MAN by taking off his breast the BIGGEST LUNTHEAD Medal and placing it on the MAN WHO NEVER SAVED A CENT.

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominée at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocate Party Responsibility as Distinctive From Dictatorial and Autocratic Personal Rule—In Referring to League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean to Show a Single Republic to World Civilization.

Marion O. (Special)—Warren G. Harding was officially notified of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, Members of Notification Committee, Members of National Committee, Ladies and Gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not through a mingling of Ptolemaic, Celtic, Gallic and ancient Roman and Greek superstitions, which would account for the divergence of the interpretations with regard to their symbolism.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party responsibility in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from irresponsible individualism, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

No man is big enough to run this great Republic. There never has been one. Such domination was never intended. Prudence, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to render the assurances which were rendered in the constitutional way.

Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government, under the Constitution, through the agency of the Republican party.

Our second commitment is the restoration of the Senate to its original functions, as a body of the highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, to advise and consent to the president, second officer of the republic, shall be asked to participate.

The same vision includes a fresh national consciousness, a stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to render the assurances which were rendered in the constitutional way.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the Senate, conscious of our solemn duties and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a beyond ranging of our devotion to this republic.

The world is not incoherent. We do not mean to show a single responsibility of this republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world.

We hold to our rights, and means to defend, any, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens, also everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of unity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine spirit in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conviction on our behalf. I am sure here, I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the Senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to manufacture America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and that brings the indignation of violence of international envy and distrust. Heading this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace as quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to start the peace.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization with the consent of the Congress than to be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandator, however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Proposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the future attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big practical, useful way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and the world.

With the Senate advising as the Constitution contemplates I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is revolution, the agents of disease and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense.

Let us call to all the people for that and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward looking program. The American farmer has a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heeds the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task and handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the beneficence of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold the farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry, and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will halt that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialist practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ill-fungly complained of and aim to place the American farmer where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becoming associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary helpful reformation and reveal business methods to government business.

defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to solve the world.

It must be understood that total alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the World war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our stock-exchanges empty and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because our armies failed to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide on one explicit condition—that the wage earner will give full return for the wage received.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of omission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

Our party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual in his necessary pursuit of livelihood.

Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

We are so confident that much of the present-day inefficiency and ineffectiveness of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership, we want to expel the restriction, and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental expenditure, is costing millions to agriculture. It is hindering industry. It is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have depreciated the value of governmental expenditure. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance, we must restore its honesty.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people, but it is fair, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Let us call to all the people for that and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward looking program. The American farmer has a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heeds the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task and handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the beneficence of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold the farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry, and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will halt that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialist practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ill-fungly complained of and aim to place the American farmer where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becoming associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary helpful reformation and reveal business methods to government business.

defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to solve the world.

It must be understood that total alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the World war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our stock-exchanges empty and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because our armies failed to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide on one explicit condition—that the wage earner will give full return for the wage received.

defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to solve the world.

It must be understood that total alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the World war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our stock-exchanges empty and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because our armies failed to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide on one explicit condition—that the wage earner will give full return for the wage received.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of omission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unselfish and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to group citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in other countries which are aimed to destroy our economic system and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed and is destroying Russia. This movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, the freedom of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic, or to act when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for lawful authority, ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

Social a Success.
The ice cream social held by the Camp Fire Girls on Henry Rosenblum's lawn last evening was a decided success, a large crowd being in attendance. The treats were luscious with Japanese lanterns giving a very pretty effect.

The Camp Fire Girls wish to thank their friends and neighbors for all the assistance rendered, in their effort to make the social a profitable one.

PROFILES

WHEN a girl tells me her profile is bad looking, I usually tell her to change the way she does her hair. This is the simplest, easiest way to improve the appearance of the side face. Indeed, the way the hair is arranged makes a tremendous difference in the profile. A thin face can be made to seem more rounded if the hair is pulled over the face, a high forehead can be eliminated by pulling the hair away nearer the brows, a prominent nose looks best if the hair is fluffed softly around the face, a small nose is made to seem larger if the knot of the hair comes opposite it.

By studying various arrangements, using the hand mirror and dresser mirror to get the side view, you can find for yourself the best way of fixing the hair for your own profile. Only a perfect face can stand the severe style, while a fat face needs the hair soft around the edges and fluffed only a trifle.

Of course, a deformed face can be improved by reasonable treatments. And a profile that shows the mouth and line of harmony, can be improved by dental treatments. But a rearrangement of the hair will do wonders in many cases.

About the Country

By B. P. PATTON

Helmert, supervisor of Bark River Township, has a field of oats that demonstrates the value of acid phosphate used with barnyard manure. On that part of the field that was into potatoes and sugar beets last year and fertilized, the oats are a good, healthy, green and all headed out. The remainder of the field on which no fertilizer was applied is much shorter and hasn't started to head yet. Mr. Bruce says fertilizer all around for him next year.

Demonstration plots of barley on the farms of E. J. Bergman of Bark River and Louis Harmon of Cornell are showing that the six rowed barley are better than the two rowed, and that the black barbles is a six rowed variety the same as Oederbrocker, but has no burrs to get inside your shirt quite a commiseration at threshing time.

The light bay crop on many farms proves that meadows should not be left over two years, as the clover is practically gone by that time and a light stand of timothy and weeds results.

Parties purchasing cows in the last census were August, Porath, Ford River, four; Frank Porath, Ford River, three; W. T. Greear, Ford River, two; Matt Lochan, Flat Rock, five; John Brinker, Danforth, two; Axel Anderson, Bark River, two; John Olson, Bark River, two.

We have noticed any number of hay and grain fields that are full of a weed known as white campion, belonging to the same family as the cockle. In looking into the matter it traces back to some cheap clover seed purchased last year and this year. Once more we pause to remark that cheap clover seed from an unknown source is the most expensive in the end, but good seed of any kind is always the cheapest.

Anyone desiring to purchase a good three year old Guernsey bull write this office at once.

Delta County has reached that stage where there are a few pure bred bulls being born and are for sale. Anyone desiring to purchase bull calves that are registered should let us know. Perhaps there are some here at home.

The proposition of buying cows had better be put off until fall, due to the fact that it is a hard job to buy them at this time of the year. In the meantime, better see your banker and talk over the proposition.

Mrs. J. Johnson Dies of Injury in Accident

Mrs. Mathilda Johnson, wife of John A. Johnson, 562 North Eleventh street, died at St. Francis hospital Monday morning from internal injuries resulting from being struck by an automobile while trying to cross Ludington street Sunday morning.

After the accident, Mrs. Johnson was hurried to the hospital but the injuries were of such a nature that she did not recover. A T. Hoffman, who was driving the car which struck Mrs. Johnson, was accompanied by Dr. C. M. Outburt. They were going west on Ludington street after having been at the post office to get the mail. Approaching Eleventh street they saw Mrs. Johnson start to cross the street. Mr. Hoffman put on the brakes and it is said that if Mrs. Johnson had continued on her way the car might have passed back of her, but she started to go back. In order to avoid striking her Mr. Hoffman turned to the left and when almost past, the car skidded and the rear fender struck Mrs. Johnson, knocking her to the street. Mr. Hoffman immediately stopped and gave every assistance possible and Dr. LeMire, who was in the city drug store at the time of the accident took the unfortunate woman to the hospital.

An examination by Dr. Walsh who was called in after she had been taken to the hospital disclosed she suffered from a bruise over the left eye, bruise on the right hip, contusion of the left leg and chin. Her condition was weakened greatly by the shock of the accident. The accident happened after the heavy rain of the morning and the streets were slippery. Mr. Hoffman said that while the accident was unavoidable, nevertheless it happened, and is something that will be deeply regretted for the balance of his life.

An Aged Woman. Mrs. Johnson was fifty-seven years of age and is survived by her husband and eight children, three sons and five daughters.

Will Wire Community Club House. W. H. Needham of the Needham Electric shop, and a crew of men left Tuesday morning for Nahma, where they will install a wiring system in the new community club house being constructed at Nahma. The club house, which will be worth approximately $25,000 upon its completion, will be one of the most modern and completely equipped community houses in this part of the country.

Bible Class to Memorialize. Twenty-six boxes of the First Presbyterian Bible class, taught by Mrs. O. G. Curtis, left today on a motor trip to Memorialize, the prize won by the class in the Bible class contest, conducted by church workers.

The contest, in which fifteen classes were entered, was launched last spring and consisted of a mop mowing race from New York to San Francisco. Points in the contest were gained by winning new members, punctuality in attending meetings, good conduct and lesson study, each point counting a certain number of miles in the race. An automobile trip of fifty miles, the reward offered, was won by Mrs. Curtis class of twenty-six boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen. The party, in charge of church workers left this morning for Memorialize, where dinner was served at noon. They will return this evening.

Lavolette-Male. The marriage of Miss Ella Lavolette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Lavolette, 1712 Second avenue, to Wallace Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hale, took place Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock at St. Anne's church. The attendants were Miss Lillian Lavolette, sister of the bride, and Ronald Lavolette, a brother. The bride wore a charming gown of blue organdy with a large hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore pink organdy with a pink picture hat and corsage of roses. Following the ceremony members of the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served, followed by an informal reception. Mr. and Mrs. Hale left Tuesday evening on a wedding trip to Chicago. Milwaukee and other points, after which they will return to make their home in Escanaba.

Borrowed Finery; Leaves City. An Escanaba domestic, who was placed on probation by the police department after being caught in the act of wearing her mistress' clothing to night ball, has left Escanaba rather than face her parents, upon whom she brought disgrace. It is said that she has always lived in Escanaba and has her "brother" born an excellent reputation. The members of her family feel greatly chagrined at the disgrace brought upon them.

Ernest Beauchamp was arrested by Traffic Officer Swanson Tuesday night when he was charged with motoring at a high rate of speed in a motor car within the city limits. Early yesterday morning he was arraigned before Justice McEwen and after entering a plea of guilty was assessed a fine and cost. The fine was $5.

THE SANDMAN STORY

BLACK FOX OBEYS BLACK FOX ran all the way to the farm on the other side of the forest, there to hide until it was light and then change himself into a turkey, for once in this form he could run along with all the turkeys and follow until he could enter them far enough from the farm, and then he would change into his own form and catch some of them for his breakfast.

Black Fox could not wait for the day to break to try his enchanted spell, so he wished three times to be a turkey, thinking it would be just as well to be ready when the turkey awoke. An old witch had kept her promise just as Black Fox had kept his. She gave him the power to change his form, but not into that of a turkey.

THE FROG SAT UP AND LISTEN TO WHAT SHE SAID. Instead, when he had wished three times he found himself a big green frog. Black Fox began to hop about, trying to find a place to hide while he thought what he should do. Under a few bushes he hopped, but he found he was longing for water as he never had before. The only thing to do was to hop along until he found some. It was not so easy to get over the ground as it was when he was a fox, and while he was stopping to rest Black Fox remembered he had asked for power to change into his own shape again, so he wished three times to become a fox. The old witch had not kept this part of disorderly conduct. The total from fines amounted to $240 nearly as much as during "old days" when there were many arrests and convictions during the year.

The man who is most anxious to raise more money by taxes will be taxes. If the boy is cross and fretful, he is not at all well, but if father is that way it's just his mean disposition.

Who Remembers--The "dudes" of twenty-some years ago whose trousers were so tight the men had to pry themselves into them with a shoe horn?

Self Importance is no importance. Loss of Appetite As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals, when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it.

In a flash Wallen swung about and dropped down full length on the bridge at the head of the port ladder, shouting to Gungo to do the same. He could understand now the sudden retreat from the low ladders.

The Malays had got off somehow and were now sweeping along the deck, screaming as they came to take the Monleigh's men in the rear.

And now the light raced at the foot of his own ladder. Larsen and one man gained it—and Larsen toppled in a heap. The seaman, battling like a madman, made the first step of the ladder, the second, another—and then, form leaping from the deck below, pulled the man backward and crashed down himself beside his victim, as Wallen's revolver streamed fire down the ladderway.

The last of the Monleigh's men was one.

And then they came howling, screaming, mad with the maddest that was upon them, sweeping upward after another—and one after the other went down before Wallen's fire, not the ladder stairs were chattered, and Wallen laughed aloud. He could hold that ladder against a thousand of them—against all hell! A madman, a madman, was upon him. He laughed, and he could hear Gungo singing a strange, croonlike way as he fought.

Another rush! He fired, fired once more—and then the hammer only clicked as he pulled the trigger. The magazine was empty!

He snatched at his pocket for cartridges, as the great form of a man, tall and gaunt, with distorted face, leapt through the screaming mass before and spring up the ladder.

There was no time to load—the man as almost at the top, with a dozen others behind him. Wallen leaped his feet and with clubbed revolver edged forward.

And then suddenly the great white m of a searlight from seaward leaped for an instant over the bridge and in the white light Wallen looked in the eyes of Ram Gulab Singh—knew it was Ram Gulab Singh, because the hand that clutched at the ladder's side rope was fingerless, save the forefinger.

"Ram Gulab Singh!" he cried, and with all his might he tried to seize the whir of the other's kris as it came as he swung himself sidewise to the blow.

"You have your father's face, you," the man shrieked, and lifted the sword to swing again.

As the white light was gone—searching along the length of the ship. Again ten struck in the light of the moon now that were bursting, angry, furious, with a roar and hiss, from engine-room hatch, and this time another reeled back as the blow went on.

At the next instant the man behind him. There was a scream of pain from Ram Gulab Singh; and Wallen, losing his balance, pitched forward, he caught the flash of the thing rising down upon him.

It then, in the fraction of a second that followed, even as he tried to stimulate a thousandfold, aching details, registered them upon consciousness.

His back within an inch of his seemed to fly off into the air as torn from the other's hands; a revolver coaxed behind him, the hot th of it on his face, and Ram

Gulab Singh flung up his hands; his voice was calling his name again and again—and then he had smashed his fists full into Ram Gulab Singh.

Mechanically his arms locked around the other's suit, hurrying downward over the sprawled bodies on the ladders, bowing those behind over like ninetails, Wallen spun, twisting and turning in the air, a mad man clutched in his embrace, and crashed upon the deck, and his arms relaxed, and he lay still.

When he opened his eyes he was in Gungo's arms, and Helen Mackay was smiling something at his head; and there was a strange stillness about him—strange because the roar of the flames was stillness where it seemed there should be shouts and cries and agonical screams and the clash of arms and the shrieks of dying men.

He staggered up to his feet.

Sailors in naval uniform were running about the decks, and a young officer was peering into a face. Wallen tried to place the other, and failed at first, because his head was swimming so dizzily; and then he remembered that it was Lieutenant Damon, of the gunboat York, who had crossed with him once in the Tokanaru.

"A narrow squeak, old chap!" Damon was saying, with a grip on Wallen's hand. "The old York's chasing those devils out there now—hear the guns! We got the whole story from Miss Mackay two days ago. The commander sent me off with a couple of boat's crews in the hope that we'd find some of you alive; and he sent me because I'd know you, Wallen, may be—if you were really Wallen."

"I don't understand," said Wallen weakly.

"No—I dare say not," Damon laughed cheerily. "And there isn't much time now to explain; we've got to take to the boat. But in a word, Miss Mackay here witnessed your capture's story to Singapore and asked for help for herself, giving a nautical position that she said she had succeeded in getting from the second officer. You had a day's start of us, but you must have been averaging over twelve knots, or we'd have come up sooner."

"They didn't know what to make of that story of Drink-House Sam's murder as your servant told it, but they rounded up the Chinese and Malay that he accused; and two of them confessed, implicating the others. That clears you, old man. Here—steady! Don't wobble like that! I'll get a couple of my men to carry you to the boat. He turned away, hurrying along the deck.

Wallen's hand, raised to sweep across his eyes, touched the hand that, not so deftly now, a little tremblingly now, was still making a pretense at knotting the handgrip.

"You—you sent—the story—my story," he said eagerly. "Then—you believed me all the time?"

She shook her head.

"I don't believe—oh, I wanted to," she said wistfully. "Only—"

And then her head bent lower, very close to his, and her cheek brushed his—and it was wet with tears.

"Helen!" he whispered.

"Come on!" called Damon, returning. "We'll have to tumble into the boat. The commander said I was to take you ashore and wait for the York to get back; but there's a fellow out there—a Scotsman—who's come out from shore in a big boat that I passed as we came aboard, and that'll be better than a three-mile pull."

"He can't come alongside, of course—too risky a maneuver with the headway the fire's made aft—but he's waiting for us. In the word I had with him when I told him to stand by, he seemed to know you, Wallen."

And then, as though to corroborate Damon's words, across the water came a hail in a strong, big voice.

"Aboard there!" Wallen—"The Mac Knight of Arru, Wallen! How is it with you?"

And Wallen lifted his head at the cry. He was faint and dizzy, and very weak; but the flames were lighting up those brown, tear-dimmed eyes, and the eyes were smiling into his.

"Yes!" he cried, and his voice rang glad and buoyant as into the darkness, out to MacKnight of Arru. "All's well, MacKnight! All's well!"

[THE END.]

Questionable Exactitude.

Mrs. Sears was a charming old lady who had methodical habits, a passion for exactness and a great fondness for saying things. A result of the combination of those characteristics gave her niece a slight shock when she went to the orderly medicine closet and took down a bottle neatly labeled, "Calomel"—think—York's Company.

A Story of Romance and Adventure in the Great Chinese Desert.

Yellow Men Sleep

By Jeremy Lane

In this thrilling tale Oriental guile and subtlety are matched against American courage and brains. Action occurs mostly in the Gobi wilderness, a section of China mysterious and baffling to outsiders. It involves U. S. Secret Service men and an American girl held by craft in a strange city in the midst of the desert. Adventures deal with attempts to rescue her from her captors and from herself. An amazing narrative which the reader will not soon forget.

He made more business men send back to productive effort thousands of federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all. I believe in the protective tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine—I would have this republic the leading maritime nation of the world. I believe in a navy ample to protect it and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army, but the best in the world, with a manhood for preparedness which will avoid the unutterable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad which the government should aid in expanding both in revealing markets and speeding cargoes to port.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration which are concerned with the future citizenship of the republic, not with mere man power in industry.

I believe that every man who dons a suit should be a citizen.

SALIENT POINTS IN SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

- "I pledge fidelity to our country and to God and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the Presidency of the United States."
- "The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."
- "The Constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people with specific recognition for none."
- "We approve collective bargaining."
- "Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."
- "When competition—natural, fair, impelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy, we halt the march of progress, stifle the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."
- "I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."
- "I can hear the call of conscience an insistent voice for large reduced armaments throughout the world."
- "Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate."

the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity must become American in heart and soul.

I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor and elevating conditions of woman's employment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizenship.

I believe this government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace, and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned, the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all of freedom and opportunity, all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

There is no easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped, uncertain and infirm policy made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to maintain a stable government there, and offer a neighborhood in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected, I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the Constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every committal is to orderly government.

The 4,000,000 defendees on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never warlike in peace, and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be required, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, spitting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised, in so far as congress can do, the fact is already accomplished. By party edit, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal franchise and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of able women who have opposed in conviction the tremendous change in the application of the sexes as applied to government, I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the republic their influence and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people, but a very commensurate people, with vision high but their feet on the earth, with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without or menaces arise from within, there is some indefinable voice saying: "Have confidence in the republic! America will go on!"

REWARD.

Don't want medals on my breast,
Don't want all the glory,
I'm not worrying greatly less,
The world won't hear my story,
A chance to dream beside a stream
Where fish are biting free,
A day or two, 'neath skies of blue
Is joy enough for me.

I do not ask a board of gold,
Nor treasures rich and rare;
I don't want all the joys to hold,
I only want a share.
Just now and then, away from men
And all their haunts of pride,
If I can steal, with rod and reel,
I will be satisfied.

I'll gladly work my way through life,
I would not always play;
I only ask to quit the strife
For an occasional day.

If I can sneak from town to town
To chum with stream and creek
I'll fish away and smiling say
That life's been good to me.

BRACE UP

Do you feel old before your time? Do you suffer from back pain? Do you suffer from urinary disorders? Don't despair! Profit by Gladstone's experience. Gladstone people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Here's a Gladstone resident's statement.

Mrs. John Kunne, 417 Michigan avenue, says: "A few years ago my back caused me considerable trouble. When I stooped over, severe catches were sure to bother me and there was a dull ache just above my kidneys which annoyed me. I didn't seem to have any strength at all and just felt listless and weak all the time. I was awfully nervous and worried. Druggists and black spots often had me miserable and my kidneys were in a poor condition. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I purchased a few boxes at Erickson & Von Talle's drug store. They cured me in a very fine way."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kunne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Take a "bunne" from the earth—it never stands still nor goes backward.

Life may not always seem to be worth living, but how do you know that death is worth dying?

They call it "bunne" ribbon probably because only women wear it.

Girls are as modest as they ever were, but they are so much wiser nowadays that they hardly ever see or hear anything to blush about.

Why worry what other people are thinking about you? They are so busy thinking of themselves most of them don't realize you're alive unless they bump into you accidentally in the dark.

It doesn't make much difference how many lies a business man tells in a letter he always signs it, "Yours truly."

Summer Complaint Quickly Relieved

About two years ago when suffering from a severe attack of summer complaint, I took Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and it relieved me almost instantly," writes Mrs. Henry Jewett, Clark Mills, N. Y. This an excellent remedy for colic and diarrhoea and should be kept at hand by every family.

RAISING THE LIMIT

MANY a smoker thought the limit had been reached. Could cigarettes be improved? We thought so. We knew there was room at the top for a better cigarette, but it would have to be something entirely new.

And it is—it's Spur.

An original blend that makes the rich Oriental tobaccos richer by pleasing combination with Burley and other home-grown tobaccos. A new method of rolling, the satiny imported paper by crimping, instead of pleating. A smart "brown-and-silver" package, with triple wrapping to keep Spurs fresh.

Spur offers you tip-top quality at rock-bottom price. What do you say?

ECONOMY and SERVICE

Different from Other Stores

Advertising.

Advertising is what nothing was ever sold without.

If a loaf of bread is sold to a tramp who managed to get onto a liner, it had been advertised by the tramp's hunger and by somebody who told the "bo" where the bakery was. Or by the window of the bakery itself.

There isn't a human being who doesn't believe in advertising.

If he really doesn't, he had better commit suicide.

And that will give him a lot of publicity that nobody can take in on.

The man who claims not to believe in advertising is a—well, let somebody else say it.

This loaf is anxious for everybody to tell other people that his place is a good one to trade.

But he won't give the advertiser anything for telling the other folks. He is a something-for-nothing tightwad.

The man who puts on good clothes advertises his own respectability, and expects results in the shape of the respect of others.

The man who dresses poorly because of necessity or purposefully, advertises his poverty and expects results in other people's help or contempt.

In fact, every honest person wants advertising.

Only dishonest people are afraid of it, and they get it anyway.

FINNIGIN FLOSOPHY

Every man that don't own anything 'maif is strong f's gover'mint ownership as every-thing.

If a lot of fellows were as anxious to produce as they are to produce, we'd all have more money in the bank.

What the Sphinx Said.

By Newton Newkirk.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away," but three little rascally green apples in one small boy's tummy have been known to bring Doc and hope."

LOOK HERE, BOY! HOW LONG ARE YOU GOING TO STAND THERE ASKING ME QUESTIONS?

WELL, YOU AINT ANSWERING 'EM ARE YOU?

Aluminum

We hardly think it necessary to state that Aluminum Ware like anything else is going up and way up in prices. We have quite a stock left from last fall that we'll let go at the same old prices

- Pie plates, each.....35c
- Large size Cake pans, each.....90c
- Railroad Kettles with combination strainer and detachable cover, each.....$2.40
- Aluminum Percolators.....$2.25 up to $7.35
- Preserving Kettles.....$2.35 up to $3.40
- Baking Dishes.....65c up to $1.30
- Double Boilers.....$2.25 and $3.10
- Sauce Pans.....80c up to $1.30
- Large size Dish Pans.....$4.20

Here's a good time to save a little money and at the same time brighten up the back room commonly called the kitchen. And just one more thing, don't confuse this aluminum with the impure aluminum, this is genuine and it runs higher in price of course than the other but with it you have both quality and serviceable goods.
