C. A. CLARK GOES AFTER CARGO OF ANTHRACITE COAL

STREETS IN MINNEAPOLIS AND WILL WIND UP IN EAST PROBABLY

C. A. Clark, of the C. W. Davis Lumber company, left yesterday for Minneapolis where he will begin investigations relative to Gladstone's failure to get a boat with which a cargo of hard coal was expected to have been shipped to this city.

The matter has been hanging fire for several weeks. Voluntary correspondence has been initiated in and the wires have been kept hot but still there is not a pound of hard coal in the city.

The condition has been commented upon frequently within the past two weeks and all that time Mr. Clark, the Cleveland Milling Co. and other interests were busy at work in an attempt to charter a vessel to bring the coal here.

Can't Get Vessel
The coal was available but the vessel did not seem to be finally. It is understood, arrangements were thought to have been completed for a craft, but something slipped and the deal did not go through.

Wherefore Mr. Clark, realizing the pressing necessity of Gladstone's procurement, headed for Minneapolis, from where he will go to Chicago and from there to Buffalo, in order to get some action.

Using Every Effort
In discussing matters several days ago Mr. Clark explained that his company was willing to do everything possible to get coal. The trouble is in transportation and not inability to get the coal. Local residents who have been patiently waiting, are now beginning to manifest a fear that they will not be able to use their hard coal during this winter. However, Mr. Clark was optimistic when he left and thought he would be able to advise Gladstone folks within a few days that a cargo of coal was certain to arrive here in a short time.

There is an ample supply of soft coal.

Workmen Returning To Upper Peninsula Towns To Make Home

A. S. Lee, of the United States department of census, has been in the Soo in conference with Mayor Francis T. McDonald and City Manager Henry A. Sherman regarding the census of the South. Mr. Lee heard the facts from the city officials and will make a report to the bureau of census at Washington. The number of industries in the South are doubled, school attendance is larger, more gas, water and electricity is consumed there than before were the reasons the South officials gave for their contention regarding the population of the city. Efforts were made before to have a census return made and the report of Mr. Lee will give the heads at Washington an idea of the conditions there and whether a recovery will be taken will be advised after his report has been submitted. "All upper peninsula towns have fallen off considerably in population," declared the visitor, "but I think it is only a temporary decrease." From the upper peninsula towns, lower peninsula manufacturing cities have been filled and now a noticeable return of people to the upper peninsula can be seen.

Isaac Hagman Sells Out His Ice Business

Gladstone will have but one dealer in the ice business next summer unless some new man enters the field. A deal was closed this week in which Isaac Hagman has disposed of his business to William Budala and Harry Vandone. For a number of years Mr. Hagman was the only dealer in the business here. The firm of Budala & Vandone will conduct the business along progressive lines and promise the public what they believe will be better service than under the old system.

Three Inches Of Snow In Tenacity Thursday

City Attorney Glenn W. Jackson drove to Treenay this morning and upon his return late this afternoon announced that Treenay had three inches of snow. The fall varied greatly in the 28 miles between here and Treenay. Mr. Jackson said, and he was surprised to find no snow here when he got back.

Two Candidates For Alderman In Fourth

Primaries held in the fourth ward for the purpose of selecting nominees for Alderman on the Republican and Citizen tickets were held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons respectively, and resulted in the Republican choice of R. C. Ostrander, while the nominee of the Citizen party was August Olson.

The special election is necessary to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Ostrander about two months ago when he had arranged to sell his business and move to Green Bay. Conditions arose, however, which caused a change in plans and Mr. Ostrander did not make the move.

Prison Convict Ends Life by His Own Hand

Soon after he had participated in a game of football in the prison yard Friday evening, Asner Graham Holland, a "life" in the branch prison, walked into his cell and committed suicide by hanging himself.

Prison authorities know of no reason for his act unless it was a case of temporary insanity. On Thursday Holland was troubled by a dental ailment and was in exceptionally good spirits after tooth that had been bothering him was filled.

Ginn is Proud Of Neat Appearance Of Homes And Buildings

GWINS, Mich. Oct. 27.—This town boasts that it is not the typical mining town of squalor and shabbiness. It was laid out by a noted Boston architect and has a number of the buildings aside from the cozy comfortable homes. The Colonial club house, with its large assembly hall, is the real community center. Over 60 students assembled in this fine auditorium last week for a community sing under the direction of H. H. Schuster, of the Michigan Community Council Commission, who is advising Superintendent of Schools O'Hara, and others in a musical course in the school, to arrange a program. It is the plan to make community singing a feature in the daily exercises.

Juveniles Throng Court
An unusual amount of crime is being traced by the Manistique police force to boys whose extreme youth saves them from prosecution in the police or circuit court. Such cases are tried before Judge Edmund Ashford at the Juvenile court and while not open to the public it is understood that several serious cases are being investigated at this time.

Pathe This in Your Hat
The first snow of the season fell in Gladstone Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. It didn't fall long, nor did it fall hard. There was much of it but it fell. Optimists contended, however, that it is merely a little variety to tune people up for the Indian summer which is yet to come.

FORD RAILROAD IS SUBJECT OF A LEGAL BATTLE

STATE RIGHTS FORD MOVE FOR 75 YEAR LEASE OF OLD LINE

LANSING, Mich. Oct. 27.—The question of whether the state public utilities commission or the federal interstate commerce commission shall control a railroad built and operated entirely within the state promises to be discussed in the hearing on the application of the Detroit & Iron-on railroad for approval of a lease.

Whether the federal commission should strip the state commission of all its railroad control granted by the legislature, it was made plain by William M. Smith, chairman of the state commission, and Sheridan Mansour, vice Charles Treston, of the attorney general's staff, that they would resist the law laid down by Michigan as above.

Minority Opposes Move
The hearing for approval of the lease was held with R. W. Clarke, representing the federal commission, presiding. Attorneys for the railroad asked a certificate of public convenience for construction work. William Lucking, representing the Ford interests, which are in control of the road, asked the state commission that it was his desire to comply strictly with the state laws.

Opposition to the lease of the Detroit, Toledo & Iron-on railroad by the Detroit & Iron-on company was registered by Alexander H. Strasser, of the law firm of Seligberg, Lewis & Strouse of New York City, appearing for minority stockholders, whose holdings, he declared, would be wiped out if the proposed lease was approved.

Lease May Force Minority Out
According to the uncontroverted statement of the attorney at the hearing, Henry Ford and son, Edsel, own 85 percent of the Detroit, Toledo & Iron-on stock. By a vote of their controlling interest, the road would be leased for 75 years to the new Detroit & Iron-on company, and would be operated and controlled exclusively by the Ford.

While it was conceded that minority stockholders in instances where the Fords took over such holdings, Attorney Strasser contended that the proposed lease in no way made provision for more than one half of an adequate return or income on the stocks and bonds of the Detroit, Toledo & Iron-on and they would be forced to sell to Henry Ford.

Lshping Babies to Receive Advantage of Community Interest

LANSING, Mich. Oct. 27.—Over 200 babies were examined during the child welfare week held here, through the efforts of the Lshping, Community Council and the city health department. Letters explaining the work and outlining the program were sent out from the office of the community council to 1200 families. Mrs. Len Johnson, chairman of the Child Welfare Department of the Ladies Relief Club, assigned a committee from the membership to take charge of each day. Talks to mothers on child welfare and child hygiene were given at each meeting and questions answered relative to special cases. All children under five years of age were examined at the clinic and mothers advised as to their requirements.

Funeral Services
Funeral services of the late Edward Laconia was held at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at All Saints' Chapel. Rev. Father Bennett officiating. All Saints' Choir sang Requiem High Mass. Face to face being rendered at the close of the requiem services. The pall bearers were old friends of the deceased, some of them having come from the same city in Canada as Mr. Laconia. The body was laid to rest in Fernwood.

Irish Bonds Offered For Sale Here Today

J. K. Stack, chairman; Joseph Carney and A. J. Monley, members of the Escanaba committee of the Friends of Irish Freedom, having in charge, the sale of $10,000 worth of Irish bonds in Delta county, were in Gladstone today in conference with local members of the organization and discussed plans for allotting a certain portion of the bonds to be sold in this city. It is believed that many loyal friends of the Irish cause here will make a special effort to dispose of whatever Gladstone's quota might be and the campaign is expected to be under way in a few days.

WOMENS AUXILIARY TO AMERICAN LEGION IS TO MEET FRIDAY

A most important meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the American Legion will be held at the city hall Friday evening, when final arrangements for the big Armistice Day banquet are to be made. The feeling of what now seems likely to be 400 persons is a big undertaking on the part of the newly organized auxiliary and it is felt that every member interested in making this banquet a success, should attend Friday evening's meeting.

Ladies who are interested, even though they do not belong to the organization, are urged to assist in the worthy enterprise of feeding the American Legion men and helping to make this year's observance of Armistice Day memorable in every respect.

SOIL SURVEY IN THIS STATE WILL BE RECOMMENDED

LEGISLATURE TO BE ASKED FOR $200,000 TO COVER ON THE WORK

State Senator Frank H. Vandenberg of Marquette, returned Monday from Lansing, where he attended the state soil survey congress. The sessions were held at the Michigan State College under the direction of Prof. W. M. McCool, professor of soils. The committee appointed resolved to recommend that the legislature appropriate $200,000 to such a survey as has been elected to have the survey made.

Under the federal law, which has been in force for some years, the national government bears fifty percent of the cost of the soil survey. The surveyed county the other half. Should the legislature make the appropriation, however, it is planned to have the federal government bear half the cost, and the state and county each a quarter.

Michigan would be the twenty-seventh state to take advantage of practically all the present agricultural states having already made use of it. Should the state elect to give aid to the various counties, those in the lower peninsula would probably get more benefit, as they are in the less settled lands of the upper peninsula the survey would be more general in character.

In addition to telling for which crops the land is best suited, and the components of the soil, the survey tells whether lands are suited for agriculture of any kind or not. This will prevent the sale of lands unsuited for farming as "farm lands," and thus give a black eye to all the land in the vicinity.

While too late to plan anything for the fall, the survey was standing near a determined effort will be made to get action on the plan in the upper peninsula next year.

Another Coal Cargo Arrives This Week

Another cargo of 6,000 tons of soft coal came in on the Steamer Colonel this week. The vessel was in charge of Capt. W. K. Neibert. The cargo was discharged at the Pittsburgh Coal Co. docks and the Colonel left for lower lake ports Tuesday night.

Rev. C. A. Lund is Strongly Opposed To Amendment

Rev. C. A. Lund, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in Escanaba, one of the strongest men in a Michigan parish, today has outlined in an interview, his views on the proposed parochial school amendment to be submitted Tuesday.

Rev. Lund's clear, incisive reasoning and his plain statement of the facts, will carry great weight and are worthy of careful reading by every voter before going to the polls.

Appealing For Others
"I am strongly opposed to school amendment" said the Rev. Mr. Lund. "In taking this position, I want it understood that the proposed amendment does not in the least endanger nor infringe on any activities of my own particular synod of the Lutheran church, for we have no parochial schools. To date we have not found it impossible for us to conduct such schools. But I believe that such amendment is an infringement on legitimate rights of those church bodies who do have parochial schools, and on the rights of parents who wish to send their children to such schools. The state is justified in demanding that every child be given an education, but should the state take upon itself to monopolize the education and training of the child, it would rob us of one of our long cherished American rights. Such monopoly would not safeguard democracy. On the other hand, such monopoly would certainly conform to the ideals of autocracy."

Aimed at Religious Training
"It is self-evident that this amendment is primarily aimed at the religious training given the child in private and parochial schools. This being true, the amendment must be defeated if an abundance of votes that it will never be restructured. Our religious freedom must not be tampered with. Only religious bigotry or fanatical atheism would be guilty of such actions."

To Transfer Something Like 130,000 children from our private and parochial schools into the public schools of Michigan would only add to the competition for teachers in our public schools. And with shortage of teachers in public schools already in evidence, we could not supply the 4,000 or 5,000 teachers needed if this amendment were adopted. Nor are we inclined to add from $50,000,000 to $70,000,000 to our present tax burdens in order to provide necessary facilities for children now in private and parochial schools. The change proposed would paralyze our entire public school system.

Destructive Proposition
"The proposed amendment is un-American in principle, hypocritical in its purpose, destructive to the best interests of our state and an uncalled for blow to the religious denominations now conducting their own schools."

"I for one shall use my influence to the end that this obscene, un-American and un-Christian 'Wayne County Civic Association' movement may be killed and buried."

Grocers And Butchers End Thursday Closing

Today marked the close of the period of Thursday afternoon closing for grocers and butchers in this city. It was announced by several of those affected. The barbers, however, will continue to close their shops on Thursday afternoon.

Breaks Leg
Clarence Skougist, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Skougist broke his leg above the ankle yesterday. It seems that the fellow was standing near a motorcycle when it tumbled over either from the wind or from some unseen cause and struck the boy just above the ankle. He was taken home and Doctor Bjorkman and Mitchell were called. It will be sometime before he will be able to be about.

In New Home
Rev. O. J. Bennett will move tomorrow into his home recently purchased from Miss Clara White at 702 Wisconsin Ave. This will make a more convenient location being so near the new church now being constructed.

Baby Boy
A baby son was born October 27th to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Nelson. Mrs. Nelson was formerly Miss Flossie Baughn.

Diphtheria Case
Little Helen Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown has taken ill with diphtheria. She was very ill the first part of the week but seems improved today.

HURLEY HURRY BLAMES DEATH ON U.S. AGENTS

GOVERNOR WILL GET FACTS AND MAY MOVE TO HOLD GROVE'S MEN

"That John Chappaso came to his death on the 28th day of October in the following manner, and by the following means:

"Unlawfully killed by gunshot fired by federal officers acting under the supervision of Leo J. Grove, to-wit: J. H. Braden, Victor Davis, William Knesek, Arthur G. Sealy, Jay P. Sweeney, Leo J. Grove, whom we believe guilty thereof."

Deliberate Five Hours
Such was the verdict which was returned, after five hours of deliberation, by the coroner's jury at Hurley, which conducted an inquest into the death of John Chappaso, Hurley bootlegger, in a running fight with federal agents.

Reid Going to Madison
District Attorney Marion F. Field, will take all the evidence in the case and lay it before Governor E. L. Phillip if he receives the cooperation of the state authorities, he says. "In case will be pressed. Relatives of the dead man claim that they will push the matter to the limit."

No action was taken against J. E. Hiller, federal agent recently suspended, but feeling against him is said to be bitter, and an attempt will probably be made to prosecute him for participation in the bootlegging. He planned the whole "garban." It is claimed.

Natural Resources OF UPPER PENINSULA BEING MORE UTILIZED
Marquette, Oct. 27.—Like the pecker, who uses every part of the pig but his squeal, the steady up-grade of industrial progress throughout the upper peninsula of Michigan is gradually working towards the ultimate utilization of most of this region's natural resources. Probably the most notable example of this is contained in two letters recently received by the Development Bureau, at Marquette.

One is from Disbrow and Demaree, Mich. Mr. Demaree writes: "The ground pine which we collect throughout this region is used in making wreaths for various floral purposes. In addition to this, chemists utilize a certain oxide, said to be contained in the roots of the ground pine which, when purified is worth about $70 an ounce. We collect and ship about twenty tons a year. Our pickers make excellent money. We understand that there are others engaged in this work throughout Upper Michigan, and that hundreds of thousands of tons of groundpine are picked and shipped, annually, from upper Michigan."

And, again, along comes word from the Ore Grant company, of LaPorte, Indiana, that "we have taken out of your country during the past year about 120,000 pounds of Lycopodium, or Club Moss. We have shipped these goods from several points in northern Michigan and Wisconsin, and we presume, that in the course of a year we have shipped approximately 200,000 pounds from both upper Michigan and Wisconsin. We prepare and use these goods and they are used for decorative purposes."

Finally, representatives from several of the larger inland middle-western cities have already invaded upper Michigan for the annual Christmas tree cutting. In Chicago, particularly, deals heavily in firm cut from the northern Michigan woods, these ranging in size from the small table trees to the mammoth fifty-foot tree of tree frequently used for outdoor holiday celebrations.

Purchase Property
A deal was closed yesterday whereby David LaBunard became the owner of the residence owned and occupied by William McDonald at 533 Superior street. The McDonalds packed away last week under tragic circumstances which are still fresh in the minds of a host of Gladstone friends.

POWERS HIT BY A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE ON SUNDAY

Fire which had its origin from the explosion of a gasoline torch caused damages of over $15,000 to five buildings in the village of Powers Sunday night at 6:30.

An employe of the C. W. Behren's garage lighted a torch and started doing some repair work when the flames ignited the tank causing an explosion which sent a sheet of flames across the building. Wastes and oil caught fire soon after which the wooden structure was set aflame.

The flames spread rapidly until they reached the second building in their path. This was the newspaper office of the Powers Spalding Tribune which suffered heavy losses.

Later inspection of the garage shows that outside of the actual loss of the building, six cars, one tractor, two engines and the entire stock of the building were destroyed.

Damage is estimated in the neighborhood of $10,000 in this place.

The third building to come in the path of the flames was the C. W. Hanson store where a $2,000 loss was incurred. Part insurance was carried on this building.

The building of Charles Johnson was also in line for damages when the flames spread to that structure. So fast was the fire traveling that it was impossible to check the spread. The loss to the building although heavy was not as bad as the others.

Next in line was the Fontana hotel, where the wind carried the flames. This building was better protected than the other, being out of the direct path. Soon after the flames attacked themselves to the building, they were checked and the damage held down.

When the first alarm of fire in the village was sent out the members of Powers came to the aid and fought flames until late in the evening when they were put well under control.

Every available man was called into service and fought the flames with the same zeal as if it were his own place of business.

Crow Is Both Friend And Foe According to State Body's Report

That the crow's character is not so black as it is usually painted is disclosed by investigations made by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, the department's "birdmen" say that much of the work the crow does is of direct assistance to the farmer, for "Master Crow" wages war all summer long on insect pests.

In fact, insects upon which he preys in his diet are the worst insect pests the farmer has to contend with—grasshoppers, caterpillars, and white grubs and their parents, May beetles.

On the other hand, the crow raids the cornfields and the poultry yard, and kills small wild birds and destroys their nests. From the evidence at hand the crow's merits and short-comings appear about equally divided.

While it would not be well to give it a hostile protection and thus afford the farmer no recourse when the bird is doing damage, the Bureau of Biological Survey believes that to adopt the policy of killing every crow that comes within gunshot would be equally unwise.

Cloverland Song Attracts Attention All Over Peninsula

A new "Cloverland" song, introduced for the first time at the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational Association, Escanaba, recently, is causing considerable comment. It is named "Cloverland," adapted to the tune of "Over There," and the author of the verse is John C. Condon, of Hancock.

Fifteen hundred copies of the song were distributed at the opening session of the Escanaba meeting, and under the leadership of a professional song leader, 1,500 voices shouted the praises of Cloverland. Here are the words:

"Cloverland, Cloverland, 'Tis the whole land of northern Michigan,
We love her rocks and hills,
Her mines and falls,
Her forests and her lakes so grand,
We don't care when we're there,
We declare she is fair beyond compare,
We are glad we live in 'Clover-Cloverland."

Copies of the song may be had on request from the Development Bureau at Marquette.

VOTERS GIVEN 5 AMENDMENTS TO CONSIDER

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL QUESTION APPEARS LAST ON THE BALLOT

The voters on November 2 will be given an opportunity to vote on five proposed amendments to the state constitution, the most discussed of which is probably the so-called "parochial school" amendment.

Incidentally, for the first time this fall all of the amendments will be printed on one sheet. This is in accordance with the new law which makes balloting on such issues much simpler and easier.

The amendments, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot, are as follows:

"An amendment to Article 12 of the constitution to empower the legislature to authorize municipalities, subject to limitations, to condemn and take more land and authority than is needed in the acquiring, opening and widening of parks, boulevards and other public places for any public use and to make provisions for the issuance of bonds to supply the funds to pay therefor."

An amendment to Article 3 of the constitution defining the qualifications of voters. Under this proposed amendment, voters who have never completed their citizenship but who have been exercising electoral franchise on first papers obtained more than two and a half years before Nov. 8, 1924, will be obliged to take out new papers before January 1, 1924. These old papers will thus be invalid for all purposes as they are too ancient to serve as the basis for second papers and their sole property, the right to vote, will then be invalidated. The third amendment proposed is one authorizing the legislature to fix the salaries of the secretary of state, auditor general and state treasurer. The amendment would also fix the salaries of the governor and attorney general at $5,000 a year. The fourth amendment would give

ESCANABA NEWS

Robert Melvin Kelly Is Instantly Killed On Tuesday Morning

Robert Melvin Kelly, twenty-one year old son of Mrs. Mary L. Kelly, 305 S. Thirtieth street was instantly killed and his body badly mangled at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning while switching ore cars in the Chicago Northwestern yards.

The deceased was alone at the time of death and no particulars of the fatal accident were given in the regular report submitted to the company of officials this morning. All that is known is the young man was engaged in switching ore cars on the night shift. At 4:30 members of the train crew saw his lantern lying on the siding. Believing he had fallen or was injured, one of the crew went to the scene and a few yards off saw the fractured and badly crushed skull of the young man.

Funeral services were held this morning.

Carl J. Ringstrand, age 31, of Daggett, who has been employed near Escanaba, died Saturday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He is survived by six sisters. The body was shipped to Daggett where burial took place.

The state legislature power to enact laws relative to hours and conditions under which men, women and children may be employed.

The final amendment on the ballot is known generally as the "parochial school" amendment. It would amend Article 11 of the constitution by adding the two following sections:

Section 16.—All students of the state of Michigan between the ages of five years and 16 years shall attend the public school in their respective districts until they have graduated from the eighth grade, provided that in districts where the grades do not reach the eighth, then all persons herein described in such district shall complete the course taught therein.

Section 17.—The legislature shall enact all necessary legislation to render section 16 effective.

Forty-three Absent Ballots Requested

Forty three applications have been received by the city clerk for privileges to vote at the general election November 2. The number of absent voters which was shown in the first record if the city clerk was small in comparison to what is today. Several others are being received each day and belief expressed is that there will be upwards of seventy five such ballots on election day.

Grampa Wasn't All There
 The lady of good family was showing her ancestral home to her small son, she pointed with special pride to a bust of her father.

"And that, Bobbie," she said, "is your grandfather."

"Bobbie looked somewhat perplexed. 'Is that all there was of him?'" she asked.

Symptoms of T. B.
 "I'm really," said the son, "stayed automobile."

"I am gradually losing weight," said the son of a girl.

"I think I am run down," said the clock.

"I have lost all my color," said the bleached linen.

"I am always here," said the ink.

"I spit so often," said the machine gun.

"I am always puffing," said the steam engine.

"I am just about worn out," said the old shoe.

Bringing in the Shovels
 "One by one our children leave you," said the mother sadly, as the fourth daughter started on her wedding journey.

"Yes," replied the father, a little more sadly, "and you, they bring our sons-in-law back to us."

Not A Gambler
 "My son Milton is a fine boy, Bernadine," said Joseph proudly. "He's educated, and I bet you he goes right up to the top of that army."

"Did he get a commission so soon already, Bernadine?" asked the friend.

"No, straight salary," replied the proud father.

Some Sick
 "Were you very sick with the 'flu,' Bernadine?"

With the promise that when she again became a free man he would give her his daughter would be restored to him. But fate decreed that he could give her a COVETOUS name, and so, for her sake, he called the father's treasure for adventure that she might bear an honored name, and went into "The Open Door" into a world that would never know and never could understand.

"Shod With Fire"
 "Shod With Fire," a romantic love story of the plains, presented by William Fox, starring William Russell, will be shown at the Lyric Theatre, Sunday.

In this story of western life, it is said, William Russell surpasses himself in dramatic acting and daring horseback riding. The story is an adaptation of Harold Hitt's "Bruce of Little A." LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Issue is Clear And Will Of Food-vest's Read This Carefully.

The Democratic party and the European nations want this country, our U. S. A., to guarantee that the world shall remain divided in territory as it is at present, and they want the men and money of America to back the guarantee.

The Republican party and the European nations want America and money to fight with us, they will save their own.

The Republican party is opposed to the League of Nations plan, and is opposed to sacrificing American soldiers and our exhausted money for the interests of foreign countries.

The issue is plain.
 Cox and Democracy favor it.
 Harding and Republicanism oppose it.
 What do you favor?

This is the issue of the presidential campaign of 1920.

An Agreeable Surprise
 "About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the time night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the improvement with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

At the Lyric
 Taylor Holmes will come to the Lyric Theatre, today and tomorrow in his newest, funniest comedy. "The Very Idea," adapted to the screen from the New York comedy success by William LeBaron.

Those who still are chuckling over the comedian's last appearance, find in this most recent production an attraction which is utterly different, except that it is fully as hilarious and stirring.

Mr. Holmes will be seen as Gilbert Goodidge, a young husband, who has been pampered all his life and who finds, after his marriage, that his wife is of the same sort. The thing they both want above all things is a baby, and money has secured it for them. Edith is too frail.

There are so many babies in the world, grown up and otherwise, that it would seem an first thought as every mother to get one of them without the being missed. But the story of "The Very Idea" belies this assumption. Edith's mother, an authority on economics, comes to the rescue confidently. That is only the start of the trouble. What follows forms one of the most absurdly funny, yet none the less human and appealing comedies ever written.

A cast of exceptional ability, including Virginia Valli, as Edith; Fay Marlin, as the dancer-vamp; Jack Leverage, as the physically perfect child; four; Betty Ross Clark, as Nora; the maid; and Edward Martindale, John Robb, Edward Lester and George Cooper, stars the play. Direction was by Lawrence Window and the scenario by S. E. V. Taylor.

THE RUMMAGE SALE
 Did you ever attend one? Here on a table is old Brown's silk hat that he wore to church many a year ago and that he's gone that has been sent by his family to the rummage sale to be disposed of for the benefit of the church. And there on a table is an old China pig dog that used to guard the mastle piece in somebody's home. And on a rack hangs the Prince Albert coat that some fellow wore when he was married and which his wife kept as a treasured thing through the years, now she has given it away because the sentiment that attached to it is dead and has fluttered away like last year's leaf.

They are handy institutions, these rummage sales, enabling one, as they do, to give away for good purposes what he no longer needs or wants or cares for. He holds on to such things a long time and then one day he gets tired using them around and away they go to the rummage sale, the second-hand store and the rag shop.

But the rummage of minds and character must never hold on to and perish forever. To their dying days they keep old and worn-out prejudices and fight hard for them.

They hold and feed cankerous hates and envies as things of great value, worth insuring in their hearts.

The next time you gather together your old clothes for the rummage sale and you have packed it all into one bundle suppose you say to your self, "Let's see what I have left out? What else is there that I ought to get rid of? What passions, prejudices and habits are littering up my mind and character?"

You will not only be able to get rid of the rummage as easily as you can dispose of your old clothes, but once having taken stock of it, you will know yourself better. The first step to self-improvement is to become acquainted with your defects.

"I know everything except myself," said the celebrated vagabond, Villon.

"Yes. Don't give her any more than she needs. Help her to break off. Not so often."

"Dreams?"

"There was an injured quality in the voice."

"Yes. The dreams have got to go."

"No."

"She die," said Fu Ah, with seeming complacency.

"Not at all. We are to help her shake off this dreaming. Less and less, until she is free."

The idea of freedom did not dwell between the narrow temples of the old servant.

"We camp here?"

"No," answered Livingston.

"No forest, no go on."

"I don't expect her to ride. In the morning we will make a hammock and carry her between us. There are three of us, and we can relieve one another at the pole."

Fu Ah was much depressed by the interview.

Livingston did not try to sleep that night. There was so more to attempt at haste. He was at liberty to think everything over in a more intimate, less practical light, and he wondered how he had neglected so many thoughts until now. The Kuan had grown to be less than a dream, and the screaming dread had hurried him out of his days altogether. But more and more he missed Andrew March. He would have asked March what to think about his strange momentary reach of vision into the past, the stolen quail and himself.

Still they met no one, but ever and again a herd of elk would start, and slip beyond the brow of a hill.

There were wine and food for Helen, but Con watched day and night that no dog reached her. Evergreens dotted the slopes. The pass was narrow. The princess chose to walk sometimes, and laughed at her lack of strength. At one camp, she held Con's arm, and talking happily, they moved away from the line of camp.

"How is it possible that we are out of the desert?"

"Only possible by your courage," said Con. "Have you never been out of the Gobi before?"

"Only in dreams," and she was smiling.

"There is something here," she placed her hand upon her breast—"that rises out for dreams and peace. Perhaps a man does not know. My mother knew, and I have it, the cry that cannot come out. Oh, there is a bitterness in beautiful things, and a great terror where there is no beauty! It is the awful loveliness—so there—was one dark day following another, months, and months—the yellow faces. I have been too much alone. Oh, remember with me, my friend, because I see it. My world is gone. Your America is only a name. You are everything."

Her arms were about his neck, and her breathing seemed painful. All the light went from her face. Tightly she clung, whispering, fearing, all life, until the dark closed over. Livingston swallowed hard and lifted her. He ran to Fansa.

In Fu Ah's gaze was a glitter of "I told you." Con could not bear to remain and watch the ministrations that, while no doubt necessary if the princess were to live, would include the drug he feared and hated. He turned to go, but Helen roused and made a little outcry, a faint but unmistakable summons for him to stay. He knelt above her, he took her cool hand in his.

Now the Chinese came with his long fingers dipped in the bluish oil. Livingston held silent. But at the first touch upon her eyelids, Helen abandoned and raled up. Fu Ah was startled. His reassurance came softly in native speech.

"No," said the princess.

"Yes," he bleated.

"He," she repeated weakly, shaking her head.

"You must!" he repeated instantly.

"No!" whispered Helen. "No more."

Something of imperial will came in that delicate whispering, a law not to be violated. Fu Ah and Fansa were driven to despair. Con was no less surprised, although his own instincts were all with her resolve to quit the drug. He had, deep down, a faith in this step stand against keresh. He led the Chinese aside.

"Watch her closely. Watch her heart. I can't stand it. Give it to her; that is, don't let her go too far. That will be long as you dare."

"The less spoken," said Fu Ah, solemnly.

And so it proved. Hour after hour they watched. Fansa gave her a few drops of a hot, strong blend of tea and wine. Fu Ah lingered with his yellow bowl, but the stuff dried on his fingers, and after a time his narrow chest gave forth a great sigh. The gods did not intend his princess to die.

"Toward evening in that camp a Hindu figure dashed out from the over- and abruptly, magically, a dozen others came into view. They were dark men, leather dressed, armed with arrows. One was at his guns before he took the trouble to note that the intent look upon such strange countenance was not hostile. Their wide cheekbones seemed stark, the eyes were black and quick. They advanced with motions of pacific intent. The Chinese took flight, no less than the Mongolian and Fansa. Helen did not see. Fu Ah had the presence of mind to offer his stiffest bow to the foremost. Livingston went forward. Huntsmen, strong, simple, they were, not seeking enemies, yet very curi-

There Was No Complication as Soon as Fu Ah Condescended to Interpret for Livingston.

There was no complication, as soon as Fu Ah condescended to interpret for Livingston. One of his few remaining gold coins came out of Con's belt, and the hairy chief, upon receipt of it, straightway turned his back, a sign of faith and friendliness.

The most important developments brought from a distance. From their community to the northeast, in a ravine of the Gughal, other hunters came, escorting this treasure, the doctor for himself. He was an old shaman of a man, with curling nails and matted hair and a store of wisdom. Nothing of "how was his methods. He crouched close to the rug in which Helen was wrapped. She glanced up questioning at Con, and he nodded, so she trusted. The ancient preserver drew a blackwood hand across her breast, held her temples between his palms, sniffed thrice, arose, and walked away. It was a matter of hours before he returned with a small branch torn from a bush. Fansa was commanded to brew a tea, while the doctor rearranged the rugs about the princess more to his liking. All other affairs between the caravan and the natives could wait.

"How is it now?" Con asked of her.

"It is very in here," she replied, touching her fingers to her head, "but I think my soul is better. There is more peace now."

As nearly as he thought advisable, Con told her how deep was his admiration, and then, in the moist cool evening, he walked abroad upon the slopes alone. He tramped far under the starry slims of night, and gave his thanks to the source of their light. Anxiety, triumph, humility, and the total sweetness of life were oddly mingled in his thoughts. One thing was final: he had reached the first important goal of humanity, the mate, and in this light he saw his own days as a necessary path. It was all coherent now. Even the tortured groplings of his father, all had an answer. Con had not wasted his heritage.

The bird-claw doctor remained through the night, hovering between the watch-fire and Helen's tent. He made it known that the princess must not be taken away for many days. He intimated to Con that her peril was only just less terrible than his own professional skill. The white man found another piece of gold for the blackened fingers, and learned that it was now but a five-days' journey to reach the Mid-Asia railroad, further north.

CHRISTMAS SEALS TO BE SOLD BY THE CIVIC LEAGUE THIS SEASON

At a meeting of the ladies of the Civic League held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Ward, Tuesday evening, it was decided that the ladies of the league will this year handle the sale of Christmas seals. It is stated that the Red Cross will not handle the sale of the seals this year as has been the case in the past, and the members of the Civic League have determined to continue this splendidly unselfish and noble work for the relief of suffering humanity.

HOUGHTON WILL LOSE A MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE

LOSS IN POPULATION WILL BRING CHANGE TO MANY COUNTIES

Houghton county's representation in the state legislature, beginning in 1925, will be reduced from three to two as a result of the 1920 federal census. The new apportionment bill will be passed by the 1925 session of the legislature and will become operative in the succeeding term.

The basis of representation is arrived at by dividing the total population of the state by 106 which is the number of representatives in the state house.

Houghton is one of the twelve counties which will lose a part of their representation or share a joint representation with other counties. Several of the larger counties will gain one or two representatives, with Wayne getting the largest increase.

According to the Lansing estimates, Ben Bertram, Calhoun, Houghton, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, St. Clair will each be entitled to two members, while Saginaw will get three. The apportionment will experience little change, iron county will receive a separate representative and Marquette may be granted a second one if the legislature sees fit. The remainder of the section will stand about as it is now.

TWO HOT GAMES ARE BOOKED BY LOCAL LEGION

MUNISING COMING SUNDAY AND MARQUETTE APPEARS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Gladstone football fans are promised two great games here within the next few weeks. Sunday, the Gladstone Legion team will meet the fast and heavy Munising aggregation, which recently held Marquette, one of the best teams in the upper country, to a score of 14 to 6. Munising is coming here confident of an easy victory. It is understood, but that opinion is due for a change, if present indications may be relied upon. The local team has been considerably strengthened within the last week, several men with former high school football experience having come out for the team.

Practice Is "Peppy"

The cooler weather of the last few evenings has put a new vim and pep into the practice work of the team and the snappy rehearsals give Capt. Murke and men of the local legion reason to believe that Gladstone will strike its stride in this game with Munising on Sunday. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock at the Gladstone Ball Park. It is hoped that every man and woman who admires football and likes the clean, manly sportsmanship of local athletes, will be on the ground when the game starts. The receipts of the game go to help defray the expenses of the big Armistice Day celebration which the legion has planned for Gladstone on a scale previously unapproached. Armistice Day in Gladstone is to be one of the biggest things ever held in the county. And by that same token, the expenses will be unusually heavy. So it is up to the boasting citizenship of this town to turn out and show the boys that the town is behind them in all their undertakings just as it was behind them in that other sublime adventure in which most of them floundered "Over There."

Marquette on Armistice Day

A fine piece of news was received yesterday, when the management of the Gladstone team received word that Marquette would be here for the Armistice Day game. This will be the big game of the year. Marquette is believed to be the strongest team in the peninsula now and it will be the supreme test of Gladstone's skill and stamina when the warriors meet on the gridiron Nov. 11. The locals have planned a day of great entertainment for the visiting team and it is believed that a record breaking crowd will turn out for that battle.

Whitefish to Have New Electric Light

Notes were set last week between town and the Whitefish settlement and within a few days the wire will be strung and work started on the electric wiring of the homes at Whitefish when the residents of that district will be supplied with electric lights. The move is a result of an agreement between the people of Whitefish and the light company whereby the former pay a certain "entrance" fee to meet at least a portion of the cost of construction of the line after which patrons will receive practically the same service at the same rate as the town people.

Menominee Asking For Census Recount

Albert D. Loy, of Hancock, supervisor of the census of the eleventh district, was in Menominee last week on business in connection with the protest over the census returns for Menominee. Mr. Loy was ordered here by the Bureau of the Census, to investigate the matter and make a report. He called upon Mayor Doyle, and Howard E. Nadeau, president of the Commercial Club, and advised them that it was within the possibilities that a recount of some kind would be given the city of Menominee, providing sufficient evidence could be furnished, that there is a discrepancy in the count.

PHONE RATE HEARING CANNOT BE HELD FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 27 (Special)—Final hearing on the granting of permanent rates to the Michigan State Telephone Company in its 148 exchanges outside of Detroit cannot be held for some time or until the appraisal of the company's properties can be completed, it has been announced by the Michigan Public Utilities commission. The inventory of the properties ordered by the commission has been nearly completed, but the appraisal of the company's properties cannot be completed, it has been announced by the Michigan Public Utilities commission. The inventory of the properties ordered by the commission has been nearly completed, but the appraisal of the company's properties cannot be completed, it has been announced by the Michigan Public Utilities commission.

Members of the commission were considerably impressed at the hearing on the company's petition for a temporary increase in rates, with the fact that upwards of 10,000 subscribers have expressed their belief, in interviews, that rate relief should be granted. The subscribers interviewed comprised leading businessmen and other prominent people at practically all exchanges.

Several of the cities interested were represented at the hearing and asked for information concerning the company's losses, cost of equipment, maintenance, operation and development of the service. Those cities not otherwise represented were represented by Sheridan F. Master of the attorney general's office.

It was shown at the hearing that the company is not asking, at this time, an increase in temporary rates sufficient to care for all its needs but merely for enough to stop its losses.

Examination of the company's books, it was shown, indicated that under the rates set by the commission in August of 1919, the company has suffered a net deficit of $1,274,906 in the six changes outside of Detroit. Operating revenue was shown to be $3,738,294; operating expenses, $5,013,202, and depreciation at 8 per cent, $308,174, while an earning of 8 per cent on the investment would amount to $962,096. Netly interest on the notes and bonds amounts to $259,000.

Negaunee Dentist Kills Himself on Wedding Morn

Negaunee, Mich., Oct. 27.—Called to come downstairs where the members of a bridal party were awaiting to attend the wedding, Dr. B. K. Miller, 40 of this city, was found dead in his room with his head blown off today.

A number of the party went upstairs and notified him the others were ready.

"All right, I'll be right down," he replied.

A minute later a shot was heard and investigation showed he had blown the top of his head off with a shot gun. No reason for the suicide was given.

Fort Brady Soldiers To Receive Counsel of Soo Pressional Men

Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 27.—A speakers bureau was organized for the pleasure and benefit of the soldiers of Fort Brady by the "Soo" Community Club. A course of ten talks was arranged, business and professional men of the city going out to the Fort attending the discussions. The meetings were held weekly in the afternoons and were well attended. Major McMurray, the commanding officer, states that the work has been of immense value, the contacts established between citizens and civilian citizens and soldiers serving to promote good feeling and better understanding. He has asked that the work be continued taken in the soldiers will pay big dividends this year, declaring that "the interest tends in making better men and will create a higher community standard, will give a broad vision of problems outside of military life and do much for the morale of Fort Brady."

Munising Store Burglarized

Entrance was forced to two places of business on Superior street, Munising, and goods stolen. The burglars made a clean getaway and have not as yet been apprehended at the store of Morris Shalin, one of the panes of glass in the window front was removed, the store entered, and underwear, shoes and other wearing apparel taken. Mr. Shalin says the goods taken would exceed $100 in value. The Wilderness hotel alley was also entered and goods to the value of $25 taken.

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED DEATHS IN MICHIGAN GREAT WHITE PLAGUE

There were 2,160 deaths reported to the department of State as having occurred in the State of Michigan during the month of September, 1920. This number corresponds to an annual death rate of 19.5 per 1,000 population. The birth and death rates for the state are computed on the new population for 1920. Such rates, it will be noted, show a decided difference as compared with the previous months for 1920. The county rates shown in Tables 1 and 2 of the Monthly Bulletin are still computed on the estimated population on account of not having received new figures for the entire list of counties and cities. In addition to the above there were 276 still-births returned as deaths.

By ages there were 412 deaths of infants under one year, of age, 281 deaths of children aged one to four inclusive; 364 deaths of elderly persons aged 65 years and over. Upon comparing the number of deaths with those of the previous month it is noted there is a decrease in the number of deaths of children aged one to four years and a slight increase in the number of deaths of children under one year and of elderly persons, aged 65 years and over.

Important causes of death were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 168; other tuberculosis, 28; typhoid, fever, 26; diphtheria and croup, 54; scarlet
