GLADSTONE CAN HAVE AN ARTIFICIAL GAS SUPPLY IF SHE DESIRES ONE

Escanaba Utilities to Build New Plant And is Willing to Extend Mains if Gladstone Can Use A Sufficient Quantity of the Product.

Does Gladstone desire an artificial gas supply? Are there enough prospective consumers of gas in this city, sufficiently interested to get together and make an effort to have gas piped here from Escanaba?

If so, the project can be put through. This information comes to the Reporter from an authoritative source and the management of the Escanaba utilities is willing to cooperate with Gladstone along any lines that may be determined upon.

To Build New Plant

The situation in this Escanaba is to build a coal gas plant. This is done for economical reasons and to furnish a supply of coke which will find a ready sale in that city. The plant will have a capacity adequate to the needs of both Escanaba and Gladstone, and arrangements can be made, it is asserted, for having the gas piped to this city.

Feasible and Practical

These engineers looked over the ground and made a report to the Escanaba management. It was found that the project of piping gas to Gladstone was not only feasible, but entirely practical and it was recommended as being a prime factor in the development of territory lying between the two cities.

Without going into too much detail, it may be stated that a 2 1/2 inch main can be laid between the two cities at a cost of approximately $50,000. This pipe would carry gas under a pressure of 10 pounds to the square inch and arrangements would be made for reducing this pressure to 4 pounds at the service pipe.

Artificial gas is piped, in some instances four times the distance between Escanaba and Gladstone and good service is rendered, it is claimed by men in the business. There is no need to dwell on the benefits of a gas supply in any city.

Things to Be Done

But there are things to be done. Some one or some body must get busy; aggressively busy.

First, it must be made apparent to the Escanaba city council that Gladstone will use enough gas to permit the project to pay. The city council utilities to spend the money to make the extension. To raise this money, what are called Utilities Bonds must be issued and they cannot be issued without the consent of council. It is suggested that the matter can be handled by the Gladstone city council, with the co-operation of whatever committee organization may be set up here, or over the money to be administered men might band themselves together in the furtherance of this proposition. The gas proposition could be handled by Gladstone just as the lighting business is handled—buy from the producer and sell to the consumer as a city proposition.

Supt. Goddard Enthusiastic

Supt. Goddard of the city lighting department, is in possession of much interesting information gleaned through conversations with Supt. Goddard of the Escanaba utilities. Mr. Goddard says the project will have his warm support if the people of Gladstone seem to want gas piped into this city.

There is another angle to it. The location of the new plant might be chosen at some point midway between the two cities, thus giving Gladstone exactly the same service as Escanaba enjoys. With houses all along the line, at Wells, at the Chemical plant, in South Gladstone and Gladstone proper, it is thought there is an ample field for development. It has also been suggested that a branch line could be run to Groen and the paper mill neighborhood.

The supplying of gas to domestic consumers is not the only consideration, as it was asserted that possibilities for some of the plants here and in Escanaba as well as those in between, becoming consumers are very favorable.

Opportunity at Hand

At any rate, the opportunity is at hand. It is up to the live wires of Gladstone to push the matter, if they want gas here. And it will take some time and effort to get an accurate estimate of the wishes of all the people in this matter.

There is no question but what the proposition will meet with a cheerful reception in many quarters.

BUT TWO LIGHTS WILL BE BURNING IN TOWN TONIGHT

LOW WATER MAKES POWER TOO WEAK TO GIVE ADEQUATE CURRENT

Late this evening Supt. Radford of the local lighting plant received word from E. H. Zuehl, superintendent of the Traction company's power plants, to the effect that the water in the river was at a dangerously low level and it would be necessary to curtail on the use of light current as far as possible. In order to avoid an entire shutdown, it was suggested that only a few lights be burned here and there further notice. For that reason, only two are lights will be burning on Delta avenue tonight, and none of the back street lights will be burned.

This condition may last for several nights, it was stated. It is understood the same restrictions will also apply to Escanaba and users of current are advised that they may be called upon at any time to curtail their consumption of "juice."

August Matton Post Will Have Charge Of Joseph Klotz Funeral

All members of August Matton Post, American Legion are urged to be present at the meeting to be held this evening at Wassa hall. The post will have charge of the military funeral which is to be conducted for Joseph Klotz, of Perkins, who died while on duty over seas and whose remains arrived here Sunday. Funeral services are to be held in Perkins, Thursday morning and it is the purpose of the local post to send a firing squad, and color guard and pall bearers. Arrangements for this funeral will be made at tonight's meeting.

To Be Operated Upon

August By was taken to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba Friday afternoon for an operation. He has been troubled by a tumor for some time and his local physician advised an operation.

Miss Carrie Hauze former teacher of the Gladstone High school will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. O. L. Merz and family. Miss Hauze is now teaching at the Soo.

ALBERT BUCKMAN MISSING SINCE SUNDAY MORNING

POSSE SCOURS WOODS BUT FAILS TO FIND A TRACE OF HIM

Missing since 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Albert Buckman, 21 years of age, son of Edward Buckman of Sixth street and Wisconsin avenue, was still being sought by a posse which took to the woods at daylight this morning but at 5 o'clock had not returned and had sent no word to indicate what fate their companion had met.

Buckman was one of a party composed of himself, George Pease, Jack Rodgers, Hugh Martin and William Reese, who went into the woods at Schultz's camp on the Whitefish river Sunday morning. The men had been driven in an auto from Gladstone. It had been agreed upon that they were to spread out and hunt until 7 o'clock when they were to begin the return journey, hunting as nearly as possible in a line, so that a deer jumped at one and would have to be shot and the game and give all the men a shot. Buckman was at the extreme left end of the line.

Buckman is missed. When the party began the back tracking about 2 o'clock, it was supposed that Buckman was in his proper position and when the men emerged from the brush into a big clearing about 4 in the afternoon, it was found that Buckman was still missing. The crowd waited for a time for him and then began shouting and firing their rifles. This did not bring a response and a search was instituted without material results until just before dark when some tracks were found which it was thought might have been made by Buckman but darkness overtook the party before anything definite could be established.

Believing that Buckman, who has had considerable experience in the woods, though having hunted for the last three years, would be able to take care of himself or had fallen in with some other hunters and gone to another camp from which he would return this morning, the party came on back to Gladstone.

With the arrival of morning no further news had come from Buckman. The men in the original party then organized a posse of about the same size and set out early for Schultz's camp.

No Word Tonight

Not a word had been heard from any of the men at 5 o'clock last night and four that Buckman was either lost or wounded settled down over his friends in this city.

He is known to have been a good, heady kid in the woods and those who know him best cannot believe that he got panicky even though he may have been lost. They feel that if he had matches and was lost in strange territory, he would have built a big fire and fought it out during the stormy night. Also there was a feeling that he might have strayed a westward course which would have taken him out on the Soo Line branch and give him an opportunity to catch a Soo Lake train which would bring him into Rapid River tonight. The other theory is that he may have been wounded and if this is the case and he had to lay in the woods all of Sunday night with a gale howling down about him, then the worst is feared.

May Be Wounded

Buckman had but five shells with him when he left the other members of the party. The men were hunting in the east and west branches of the Whitefish. Buckman, it is thought, may have walked faster than his companions and it is hoped that his steps bent to the westward in which case he would strike the west branch of the river and ultimately come out at some farm houses in that neighborhood. It has been done in which he might have been wounded, it is thought, and he would be unable to find his way back to the west branch of the river and ultimately come out at some farm houses in that neighborhood.

Men familiar with the territory feel that Buckman must have struck some one hunting party along toward night and gone with them, or at least

YOU CAN BUY A CHILD'S LIFE FOR A MERE TEN DOLLAR BILL

Here is a challenge to the fatherhood and motherhood of the City of Gladstone. Across 2,000 miles of tossing waters comes the most touching appeal ever made to the great, warm, charitable heart of American citizenship. It is the plaintive, weakened cry of three and one-half millions of innocent children raising their pitifully weakened little voices a wall for enough food to keep them from starving and enough clothing to keep them from freezing to death. Ten dollars will keep one of these children alive during the winter. Ten of you Gladstone fathers and mothers giving one dollar each, can save one child's life. What do you think you are going to do about it?

Because there is no organization here, the work of raising a fund has been undertaken by Rev. Charles Bates. He is doing it in his capacity as a father and not as a measure for his particular church. The movement is absolutely non-sectarian. Mr. Bates has merely agreed to help raise this fund which is to be divided equally between these starving, suffering children of Europe and the Near-East.

Contributions can be left in the following places next Friday and Saturday:

Delhia's Drug store, H. Rosenblum's, State Savings Bank, Union Co-operative Clothing Store, First National Bank, Erickson's Grocery Store, Rouman Candy Kitchen, Shultz's Store, Gladstone Grocery, J. D. McDonald's Store on Tenth street and the Buckeye Store.

Great hearted women of the city will be present at these places to explain the proposition and receive the contributions. Every dollar helps.

C.C.I. STEAMER IS ON ROCKS; CREW RESCUED

ENGINE AND FIRE ROOMS ARE FLOODED AND VESSEL IN BAD SHAPE

Deserted, almost awash, buffeted by the heavy seas of the northeast breaking over her deck, the Cleveland-Chiffs ore carrier, J. H. Sheafie, lies with her stern on the rocks, and her engine room and cargo holds flooded, a few hundred yards offshore, about opposite the Pines furnace says the Starbuck Mining Journal.

That the bow of the Sheafie had been worked in toward shore sufficiently to cradle it in the sand was the belief expressed last evening by Capt. T. E. Deegan, of the coast guard, but the rise and fall which set in with the increasing wind and heavier sea last night made it problematical whether the disabled vessel would ride out the storm. She is loaded with 10,000 tons of ore.

Lighters to remove the ore have been ordered, and will arrive as soon as the storm subsides. A wrecking tug from Sault Ste. Marie is on the way there. Thomas Dunkirk, of Cleveland, fleet engineer for the Cleveland-Chiffs company, reached the city yesterday afternoon to take charge of operations.

Were Leaving Dock

The accident occurred about 1:30 Saturday morning, after the Sheafie had loaded 10,000 tons of ore at the Presque Isle dock. She had been on the north side, and was backing around the end of the dock, preparatory to turning around and heading out. So strong was the current southward that the Sheafie was carried back, despite the fact that her engines had been run to full speed ahead.

As a last resort, Captain Stephen A. Lyons, of the helm hand-post in an effort to keep the steamer off the rocks, but to no avail. The Sheafie's rudder also struck first, and was driven upward and back into the hull, the rudder post being forced through the deck. The points of rock also punctured several of the stern compartments, and made his way into some farming settlement over on the west branch of the river.

The only other theory is that he was wounded, and if this proves true and he laid out in the woods all night, then the gravity of his position cannot be overestimated.

If he does not turn up by night, it was planned to build a great fire in the old burning nest, which he was last seen, in the hope that he could make his way toward it, or, if wounded near there, can make himself heard.

At any rate the search is to be kept up until something definite is learned. His father is one of the posse which left here this morning.

IRENE SEYMOUR RECOVERING SO SHE CAN WALK

Father is Going to Ann Arbor After Child This Week

John Seymour, whose little daughter Irene was so terribly injured more than a year ago when a tree fell across her body while she was picking berries, will leave this week for Ann Arbor to bring the child back. She has been in the hospital there since last April and has made a most remarkable recovery. At the time of the accident it was stated that the child's neck was broken and it was doubted whether she could live. After lingering along here for several months during which she was confined to her bed she was taken to Ann Arbor and treatment started. She is now able to sit up and it is predicted that she will be able to walk within the next few months.

Mr. Seymour is overjoyed at the good news and his many friends and the friends of the stricken child will be more than glad to know that she has a chance to return and regain the use of her limbs.

PRIEST'S BODY FOUND IN A BOG NEAR GALWAY

HE IS FIRST CHURCH OFFICIAL KILLED IN IRELAND IN YEARS

Dublin, Nov. 22.—Dublin has become the scene of far spread murder and reprisal. Not since the first outbreak of the vicious civil warfare that has been shedding blood in Ireland have the assassinations been so concerted or the retaliation so swift and pronounced.

Not less than fourteen men are dead in the attacks arranged simultaneously all over the city.

The districts in which the murders were committed were in some instances close together; others were separated by miles.

Police Fired First

In the afternoon while a football match was in progress at O'Connell park, sixteen lorries filled with auxiliary police moved up and surrounded the place. A policeman was killed and his body was returned. With-in the park the assembly of 15,000 became panic-stricken.

The streets on Sunday are deserted in the morning hours. Those who had planned the murder of the officers and government employes moved systematically to their task. They committed the assassinations without disguise and all made their escape.

Two Die in Hotel

Graham hotel was the scene perhaps of the greatest daring, and the mob was carried out by twenty men with the utmost coolness. The Graham is one of the best known hotels in Dublin. In this place two former officers were killed.

Following the murders there was great military and police activity and houses were searched for the criminals. All motor traffic and train service was ordered suspended. The city was given over to terrified apprehension as armored cars and lorries filled with "blacks and tans" rushed through the streets.

Galway, Ireland, Nov. 22.—The body of Father Griffin, the priest who disappeared several days ago, was found yesterday in a shallow grave, about four miles from Galway. There was a bullet wound in his temple. The body was given over to Galway this morning. Intense excitement prevails here.

The body of Father Griffin, curate of Bushy Park, was found in a bog by the roadside of the road to Galway this morning. Intense excitement prevails here. Timber Workers' Dance

Members of the Timber Workers' Union and their families enjoyed an old time dance at the Eagle hall Thursday evening. Music was furnished by Bovin's orchestra and the affair proved one of the most enjoyable ever put on by the members of the large organization.

The old time dances staged proved intensely pleasing to the great majority of those present and the music was fine.

No Paper Thursday

In common with the majority of newspapers of the United States, the Delta County Reporter will publish no paper on Thursday, in order that members of the force may have opportunity to enjoy the day as they see fit.

The paper will be published Friday instead of Saturday and will contain a great favor if they will copy prepared on Wednesday, in cases where that is possible.

ISHPEMING MAN KILLED HUNTING

FATALLY INJURED THROUGH ACCIDENT WHILE HE WAS ALONE

Ishpeming, Nov. 21.—William Couch, son of Abraham Couch, East High street, was fatally shot while hunting deer in the woods north of Ishpeming Thursday afternoon. His body was recovered in the city late that night, he having died while his companions were bringing him to the hospital.

Young Couch and several other companions were making their headquarters at Charles' camp. At an other camp, some two or three miles distant, another party of Ishpeming deer hunters were located. Couch was hunting in the vicinity of his friends' camp and had dinner with the boys, leaving there to go out alone. He had traversed a mile or more when he accidentally shot himself. Although he was unconscious and merely breathing when found about 9 o'clock, his companions were satisfied that the wound which caused his death came from his own rifle.

Footprints Traced in Snow

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon members of both parties heard a shot, which they were convinced was the one that caused Couch's death. When he did not return to the Bowler camp by 6 o'clock an hour or so after night had set in, his companions started out to look for him. They first went to the other camp, where William Kemp and others were located, and with whom Couch had dinner. The deceased was believed dead, so the party was able to follow his tracks in the snow, with the aid of their carbide lamps. When found he was unconscious, and in a greatly weakened condition from pain and loss of blood.

It seems from the position in which they found Couch and the nature of his wounds, that he apparently was resting and was leaning on his gun, with the muzzle directed upward. The bullet shattered the thumb of his right hand, passed through the palm of his left hand, then striking his neck, lodging beneath the angle of his jaw.

NEW LIFEBOAT SELF-PROPELLED

DUTCH ADOPT UNUSUAL TYPE OF CRAFT WHICH IS STEADIER

Book of Holland—An unusual type of lifeboat which operates by sucking water up from the ocean and blowing it back again, and maintaining a speed of nine miles an hour, has been adopted by the Dutch coast guard for work in stormy waters along the Dutch coast here.

The boat has a hole in the bottom through which the water is drawn by an intake pipe which leads to a powerful centrifugal pump operated by a 140-horse-power steam engine. The water is then forced backward into the sea through two outlet pipes opening at the bottom of the craft.

The boat is controlled by shutting off, either wholly or in part, one or the other of these outlet pipes. If one is shut off it goes to port. If both are shut off, and the water diverted harmlessly over the sides while the suction goes on at the intake, it is claimed the boat will always still in the sternmost of seas, the suction holding it firmly on the water.

The Dutch life savers have found that this craft keeps steadier than any boat propelled with oars or by screws. It is 58 feet long and has a capacity for from 10 to 100 passengers, depending upon the state of the sea. It has been in use for some time and has saved many lives.

Belgian Government Wants Pay For Cigars

Paris.—The Belgian government has just presented to the league of nations a bill for cigars amounting to $100,000,000. The bill asks: "These cigars were smoked or carried off by members of the various delegations at the Spa conference."

That conference was held in Brussels and was attended by members of the various national and representative delegations to the league of nations.

The secretariat of the league of nations has announced that it is short of money and money it refuses to help over the a-b-l-o-s of the super-congress.

The Belgian government argues that the Spa conference formed part of the "operations" of the league of nations. The bill remains unpaid.

RAPID RIVER NEWS

MURIEL NOEL WAS MARRIED

OCTOBER 23

Word was received the first of the week from Mrs. W. R. Taylor, formerly Muriel Noel, now living in Jackson, Miss.

The letter received is a request for the News-Market to postpone for a month the subscription and send the price of the subscription and the News will so long as long as it lasts.

The letter carries with it the announcement of the wedding of Miss Muriel to W. R. Taylor. It took place October 23, 1920 at Jackson, Miss. where the couple are making their home and the News feels sure that the community will unite in extending best wishes to the young couple.

Muriel grew up in this community and it seems but a few days ago when she was seen about the town, a mere child a fact which makes it difficult to imagine her grown up and a young married woman.

In her letter she sends her regards to the people of the town and especially to her former school mates.

KE BUCHMAN ACCEPTS POSITION IN ILLINOIS

The Buchman left here Tuesday evening to accept a position with the Illinois State highway department with duties similar to those of his former position with the Michigan State highway department but with increased responsibility and, of course, a greatly increased salary.

The position is considered an honorable one and an advancement over the position held here for the past few years and naturally his friends are pleased at the prospect of a brighter future with opportunities for still further advancement for one of the Rapid River boys.

LIGHTS WERE OFF FOR A FEW HOURS MONDAY

The street lights were all burned out Monday evening of this week owing to an error in connecting up in some way the 220 volt circuit was thrown onto the 110 volt street system and one by one the lamps burned out carrying the extra load until all were gone and the mistake noticed. Lamps were replaced and the connection corrected so that the lights were off for but a few hours.

Many of the boys who went into the woods after their quota of deer were fortunate enough to return within a day or two with their licenses filled. Dr. Conover, so far as we have seen, bagged the biggest yet landed in town the first of the week with his usual 200 pound buck.

RELATIVE OF LOCAL PEOPLE DIED YESTERDAY

Word was received here early yesterday morning announcing the sudden death of Mrs. John Perkins at the age of 63 years. Mrs. John came from West Haven several years ago and has lived at Perkins since that time. Mrs. Bennett went to Perkins yesterday following the announcement of the death of her mother and will remain there until after the funeral which will probably take place tomorrow.

POTATO GROWERS WILL REVIEW YEAR'S WORK

East Lansing, Nov. 19.—Demonstration of potato growing which have been found valuable during the past season, and discussion of important growers' problems will form the annual meeting of the Michigan Potato Producers' Association which has been scheduled for East Lansing during Farmers' Week at 11 A. M., Jan. 21 to Feb. 4.

The meeting will assume largely the nature of an educational show this year, according to W. Wald, potato specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College. One of the features will be lunch samples of certified seed potatoes from each of the forty fields which were certified during the past season. This will enable growers who attend the meeting and Farmers' Week to get in touch with men who have certified seed for sale.

"Graphic illustration of demonstrations which have been carried on in the state during the past season will be another feature. Those will include demonstrations on fertilizers; insect control compared with common seed, close versus wider spacing when planting; and other important practices in potato growing."

Potato growers of the state are planning to attend the meeting and show in large numbers. All growers who have carried on demonstrations during the past year which have shown up well are being urged to send in samples of their potatoes so that they can be shown along with the others in the exhibit.

Full instructions for putting up exhibits and shipping will be furnished on application to H. C. Moore, Secretary of the Michigan Potato Producers' Association, East Lansing.

MICHIGAN WAGES HEALTH DRIVES

Red Cross Nursing Service is Centering Its Forces for Campaigns.

The Red Cross public health nurse service Red Cross health workers throughout the state of Michigan, looking for city and country people, are showing increasing light upon the subject of health. Army examinations during the war revealed a sad state of physical deficiency of the people of the state, both in urban and rural districts and it is with a view to giving simple direction to improve the public health that the Red Cross has intensified its nursing and health center activities.

It is a fact that the average American city or town spends three or four dollars per capita for its fire and police protection, and only twenty-nine cents per capita for the safeguarding of health.

In the face of such figures, one no longer wonders why such a scourge as the influenza epidemic was so devastating. Individual attempts at protection, such as the wearing of gauze masks, can count for little when a community as a whole fails to provide community protection. The nursing service in this state is trying to remedy such shortcomings by emphasizing the importance of regarding health laws.

The Red Cross has not attained such far reaching results in the state as yet, but it is making progress in the right direction and is planning that very thing. When we consider that the first epidemic killed hundreds in the state, it should seem that nothing we can do to help the Red Cross in preventing another epidemic this winter would be too much.

GOOD RECORD FOR 1920 DEER SEASON

FEW FATALITIES AND ARRESTS MARK PROGRESS OF BRIEF SEASON

Marquette, Nov. 22.—A deer season with a minimum of fatal accidents and without arrests for violators of the game laws is the hope of Marquette county sportsmen this year. Although the season is virtually ended, there have only been two shooting accidents, one, self-inflicted, resulting fatally and no arrests of violators have been made. This despite the fact that, according to the records of the railroad companies and the statements of wardens and hunters, there are fully as many if not more hunters in the woods than in previous years. With the advance of the season, the number has dropped of slightly. It is believed, the lower state men game home, their licenses filled. The thurs of the past few days have made the tracking of the deer somewhat more difficult, but a heavy kill is still going on. Carcasses by the truck load are coming into the city on every train, especially from the Big Bay district. Many are also coming through the west, Baraga and Gribble counties particularly.

GLADSTONE IS ASKED TO HELP INNOCENT BABES

CHEERFUL RESPONSE ALREADY MADE BY NUMBER OF BUSINESS MEN

Once more Gladstone is exemplifying the fact that a cry of distress need not fall on deaf ears in this city. A few days ago one man, Charles Bates, decided to assume responsibility for collecting a fund for the starving, freezing children of Europe.

This was in response to an appeal sent by Herbert Hoover, who, better than any man today, realizes the dire and pressing necessities of the people of the stricken countries he is trying to save. Mr. Hoover wrote to the Literary Digest, and what is regarded as one of the greatest editorials ever written, was printed by that publication, which immediately headed the list of contributions with a check for $25,000.

Mr. Hoover says $22,000,000 is needed by January 1 if three and one-half millions of unfortunate children are to be saved.

Ten Dollars Saves Child

Ten dollars will feed and clothe one child during the winter. He has appealed to Agurias, and Charles Bates is appealing to Gladstone, not as a representative of any particular church, but in the name of humanity. And that his appeal has struck a responsive chord in the great, warily pulsating heart of Gladstone citizenship, is evidenced by the fact that without any previous announcement or publicity, Mr. Bates on Saturday morning secured about $75 from the few business men he called upon.

The following firms and individuals have subscribed various amounts: H. W. Blackwell, Henry Rosenblum, State Savings Bank, E. J. Norens, Leo Rosman, George P. Casey, John B. Marby, Mrs. Esther Jacobs, John Smith, Anderson & Hohn, F. E. DeGroot, C. A. Boucher, M. I. Call, J. D. McDonald, Swenson Bros., Sam Rosenblum, I. E. Shelby, P. J. Lindblad, Eloy Hanson, S. W. Goldstein, C. A. Walz, G. E. Dehlin, George Little and A. M. Anderson.

Contribute This Week

Meanwhile Mr. Bates is organizing a committee of about 20 ladies of the city who will make a canvass and will be stationed at various places of business, mentioned in another section of this paper, next Friday and Saturday. Cards will announce the purpose of the contributions and pictures will illustrate some of the reasons why this money is so badly needed.

It is a most worthy charity. The life of a child can be purchased for a ten dollar bill. Ten persons giving a dollar each can save a child's life.

Necessity is Pressing

This is no emotional way which is sent sweeping across the country, but is a direct appeal for salvation, coming from the quivering, starving lips of more than three million little folks who are victims of the red hell which has bereft them an other countries of the means to live. They are looking to America alone to save them. This is a real, human need and it is felt that America will rise to it as she has no nobly done in the past.

Gladstone should have her place in this unselfish deed. It would be a great, an inspirational thing if Gladstone, a little community tucked away in the woods of Northern Michigan, could send those children $1,000 or more. It would be a guarantee of the saving of 100 innocent, helpless, starving, freezing souls during the winter. For in the far places of the earth, where famine stalks, one name and one name alone, means rescue and hope—and that name is America.

American Ships Are Needed By Mexicans

Buenos Aires—With the arrival of the new Mexican minister to Argentina, Jesus Trella, announcement has been made to the newspapers of the establishment of a commercial agency of the Mexican government in Buenos Aires for the purpose of acquainting Argentine importers with Mexican products and stimulating trade between the two countries. Although welcoming this enterprise, La Razón points out that neither Argentina nor Mexico have a merchant marine and that an interchange in trade between the two countries will have to be carried in British or American ships.

Two Thousand Men Are Rehired In Auto Plant

Toledo, Nov. 22—Two thousand men have been put back to work in the parts department of the Willys-Overland automobile company, according to an announcement made here today by Vice President Kilpatrick, in charge of production.

The announcement also carries a statement that there has been no reduction, purporting to correct a rumor that some of the men accepted 35 cents an hour with a maximum of 57

MAY LICENSE ANGLERS TO SECURE STATE FUND FOR FISH PROTECTION

The proposed action of the fish commission in imposing a state license on all anglers and fishermen in the inland lakes and streams of the state will be of great interest to this section with its numerous watercourses.

The alarmingly rapid decrease of the food and game fish of Michigan inland waters, and the threatened ruin of one of the state's most noted attractions to tourists and to summer visitors is a fact that must be cared at once. The fish are being taken from our waters faster than they are being put in.

Despite the fact that hook and line angling was a fad in the state the past season there is a distinct danger for the future. An unusually favorable season and the increased planting by the fish commission during the past few years especially of trout, bass, perch and bluegills, accounts for the better fishing.

Each year for the past six or eight years the commission has planted more fish than in the immediate preceding year, but it has become obvious that with its present facilities and revenue the commission cannot possibly keep up with the "put-go." In other words, the fish are being taken from the waters faster than they can be put in. Expert fishermen declare that there are 25 per cent fewer fish in our waters now than there were a year ago. This condition is likely to be evident to anglers next year. Unless some radical advance is made in the work of restoring fish life in Michigan lakes and streams the reputation of the state as one of the most prolific "fish states" in the country will be lost, and one of its most valuable attractions as a summer resort center, an asset that fairly can be computed in millions of dollars, will be gone.

Have You Ever Been Decorated By Auto

If you speak somewhat passionately of automobile trade, it is not as the owner of a car, but as one of the great fun down. Twice have I been run over, once down by the postoffice, and once over the left leg, but in neither case could the miscreant be identified. One wheel left across my thorax a permanent pattern of classic design such as one sees in Athens in the temple of Ajar, the other printing across my leg a set of simple but significant swastikas. Now as there are perhaps fifty thousand wheels decorated with one or other of these pleasing patterns, it is plain to be seen that the drivers who embossed me with their dew were safe as soon as they had sped around the corner.

The point which we are driving at, as the reader by this time may have surmised, is this, that the comic folks who contrive quips about the ornamental designs for automobile tread are wrong—that instead of fewer we should have more patterns; that in fine, every owner should have a tread of his own by which an unfortunate pedestrian, run over at the heels, say, could ascertain from the picture stamped into his outside, the owner of the juggernaut.

There are many people, we know, who would not care to collect; who are grateful to the auto tread as a sort of automatic tartan. Wilkins, who works on the books at the state mill, run over during the cold spell last January, now carries on the right hipiceps what looks like a bit of detail from a Greek frieze. Needless to say Wilkins works all day with his sleeves rolled up, and we understand this case is not uncommon. Most people, however, will want to collect on decoration if not C. O. D. then as soon thereafter as possible.—Cartoons Magazine

DEATH ROSS U. P.

It was with sincere and most profound regret that Michigan newspapers, particularly those of the Upper Peninsula, were called upon to chronicle the death of James Russell, of Marquette, directing editor of the Mining Journal for so many years, and Warlord of the branch prison in Marquette.

Mr. Russell's death is a great loss to this section of the state. His industry, his positive capacity for seeing things and through a thing quickly and with amazing clearness and his ability to give his opinions and opinions as fearlessly and so tactfully coupled with a courage born of the right, have left a deep and lasting impress upon the hearts of the Upper Peninsula.

He belonged to the older school of journalists and his name will always be associated with the success which has come to the Marquette Mining Journal, although years ago he had already in control and was in a position which has so ably followed his father's footsteps.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

"Burning Daylight," Jack London's novel, has been turned into a motion picture and will be shown at the Lyric Theatre Thursday and Friday of this week, with a matinee Thursday.

"Burning Daylight" is the name by which Elva Harnish is known in the Yukon, where, as a prospector, he discovers a gold field that makes him a millionaire.

The early scenes of the gold struggle in the little Arctic village, with the desperate odds of adventure making their headquarters in the Tivoli dance hall—the center of primitive existence controlled only by the soft made lens of men who are strong and the later scenes at the Stock Exchange stand in the heart of New York's financial district.

"Burning Daylight" will be played by an all-star cast that includes Mitchell Lewis, Helen Ferguson, L. Morrison, William V. M. Edward Johnson, Kenneth Allen, Fred Allen, Arthur Edwin Carey, Newton Hill, Robert Butler and Aaron Edwards.

The picture was produced by C. E. Starbuck, Inc., and is distributed by Metro. The screen version was made by A. S. Levay.

Cox is held without bail pending the inquest.

GIVE A DOLLAR

Fourth Red Cross Roll Call Is Being Made And Is Up To You To Aid Again

Do you realize that the easiest thing that you can do to help the Red Cross is to give a dollar? There are men leaving their business and women leaving their housework and their family duties to get out and ask you to give a dollar. Wouldn't you rather give a dollar than to give the time that they are giving? Just think of that: But in giving a dollar now, you may be helping yourself. Fifty cents of each dollar of our money stays with the local Red Cross chapter. That money is used to meet just such emergencies as may arise. Sickness, want, accident, it may help some little child, or some family whose support has met with misfortune. It may help some soldier boy who may develop tuberculosis. You know what the Red Cross does. Yet do not need to be told about it. You know it is always on the job. Give your dollar cheerfully. A man who is grouchy when he is in the Red Cross a dollar—well what do you think of such a man?

LOCAL HUNTERS HAVE GOOD LUCK DURING SEASON

Majority of Them Make A Kill Without Much Trouble

Among the successful hunters beginning Sunday with their season's hunt, were E. J. Nowak, R. P. Mason, of Escanaba, Saxon Johnson, Sam Dunsmore, Frank Miller, Charles Merwin, and Byron Hollins, of Bancroft, Mich. Mr. Hollins brought in a 2 1/4 buck at 11 the largest, though from this city this season the animal was shipped to his home in Lower Michigan.

Not for many years, it is stated by experienced hunters, have so many deer been killed. They were abundant in the easy to get. Many local hunters instead of confining their activities to the known hunting grounds in this section, decided to go into the woods, in the majority of cases they came back without having made a kill.

A good many men who went into the woods during the first day or two of the season did not come back without anything, essayed their luck a second time and made the trip during the latter part of last week, with the result that when they came in Sunday, they had their deer.

All in all, it may be said to have been a successful season for our sportsmen, most of whom got their deer without any great amount of trouble or hardship.

TRAINMEN NAME NEW OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

An important and enthusiastic meeting of goodwill Lodge No. 193 Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was held in the Eagle hall Sunday morning when officers for the ensuing year were elected. W. A. McPherson, general chairman of the grievance committee of the organization was to have been present but did not arrive and probably, it is stated, will be present at a later meeting, possibly when a joint installation of officers elected yesterday, was held. The officers chosen yesterday were: Charles Nia, president; J. C. Case, vice-president; C. C. Case, secretary; Wesley Ward, treasurer; M. Ward, secretary; M. L. Callahan, secretary; and who would not give the position further attention on account of his business interests, J. W. Hensley was made agent of publication.

Two Fine Horses Of Shawcy Brothers Are Shot With Buckshot

Shawcy Brothers, who conduct a brickyard across the bay, near Marwood, suffered the loss of two fine horses Friday as the result of carelessness by hunters, or malicious intent by some really disposed person. A note was sent by the field in which the horses were pastured, noticed one of them lying down. He informed one of the Shawcy brothers that the horse of the stable and when an investigation was made, it was found the animal was shot through the stomach and was dying. By the time Mr. Shawcy arrived one of the other horses was also down and it developed the animal had been shot through the front legs. It appears that buckshot was used in both cases but whether more than one horse was shot cannot be determined. The theory is that some one who is a hunter chased away at what he thought was a deer, and yet it is hard to believe this because he would have had to be close to the animals to injure them as they were.

Because of this fact, it is believed possible that some one may have maliciously shot the horses.

Bethel "I went up against the most fright thing in the world," stated the Cheerful Kid.

"What was it?" asked the Y. I. "A woman's cold shoulder," replied the Cheerful Kid.

GETS RELICS OF DOCTOR HOUGHTON

MICHIGAN COLLEGE OF MINES GETS BOOKS OWNED BY LATE GEOLOGIST

Three relics recalling the life of Dr. Douglas Houghton, the noted geologist for whom the village and Houghton county were named and who was drowned on October 13, 1845 have just reached the Michigan College of Mines museum through the generosity of Mrs. Theodosia Fredonia McKinstry, a niece of the noted geologist.

Dr. Houghton was born in Fredonia, N. Y. and lived there for many years. That happens also to have been the boyhood home of C. W. Ball, now on the college staff and on a recent visit here he met Mrs. McKinstry. He was interested in Dr. Houghton and asked her if she had any relics she would be willing to give to the college and she said she had. They came last week and included was a letter telling where others may be found.

The three arrived yesterday were a treatise, a Latin grammar and a book on manners and deportment.

The latter is entitled "The Young Man's Own Book" and undertakes to give good advice to the young covering all their business and social relations. The volume was printed in 1816, according to the date on the title page.

The other book is "Corder's Colloquia" or "Corder's Colloquies. It is inserted in various places with the name of "Douglas Houghton" and apparently was printed in 1832. Mrs. McKinstry writes that there is in existence an oil painting of the dog which was Mr. Houghton's when he was drowned and who survived the accident which cost the noted geologist his life.

"Thank You" Clubs Are Now Becoming Extremely Popular

It's great, the "Thank You" club. No initiation, no dues, no long-drawn-out meetings and no reports. Anyone may make a quorum to do business. No stated meetings nor any stipulated place of meeting. Anybody can start a "Thank You" club. Beats other clubs all to pieces! Last longer, does more good, and spreads sunshine. One carries the by-laws around in his head. The password is "Thank You." And that's all there is in the whole book of rules. That's all it means, the "Thank You" club—just a thank you for the little services performed daily as well as the big ones. A thank you is more appreciated by many people than a tip which, by some might be considered an insult. Start a club now. Good ideas spread. Try the club for one day. It may make you a life member. And the "thank you" exchanges will increase and radiate like ripples from a stone thrown into the millpond.

There's a big field in this world for "Thank You" clubs. Their members take the edge off rough places. If "Thank You" is the password, the genuine smile of service is the open reward for its application.—Haverhill Gazette.

Iron River Fireman Killed During Blaze

Claude R. Brown, member of the Iron River fire department for a number of years and second in command of the department, met death Monday morning while in charge at the Konwinski fire and in the act of warning others away from the danger to which he exposed himself with fatal results. Captain Brown died at eight o'clock at the Iron River hospital an hour and a quarter after he was caught under falling debris, and where he was rushed after the accident. His head was crushed under the weight of the falling electric sign, broken from its fastenings by falling wreckage from the top of the building. The impact of the heavy sign rendered him unconscious and he remained so until the end. Mrs. Brown was called at once and remained with him through the short moments of his remaining.

Origin Of Banjo Is Traced Back To India

The modern banjo was introduced into England from America, to which country it was probably taken by the African slave, who originally obtained the idea from India. The unmodified name "banjo" seems to have been derived from "banya", the name of a Sengambian instrument of the guitar species.

MAIN STATE ROADS TO BE KEPT CLEAR OF SNOW DURING COMING WINTER

For two or three months each winter the northern State highways have been made impassable, or nearly so, by drifted snow, and the hundreds of millions of dollars invested in them bring no return to the taxpayers during the time the roads can not be used. With a view to remedying this condition, the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture has been making this summer a study of the situation with regard to snow removal in the States east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac. An engineer of the bureau has conferred with the highway commissioners in the States in this territory, and reports that definite plans have been made in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois which will result in the main trunk lines being kept open all winter in some other States, notably in Ohio, snow removal is the duty of the counties, and while the State highway department is prepared to assist the counties in every way and is urging the necessity of the work it is not empowered to initiate the work.

In some of the States snow fences will be placed for the winter 50 feet from the highway, to stop the snow before it reaches the road. These "fences" which are made of posts, are tipped backward until they form a decided angle and then are braced like billboards. In the spring the sections are unbolted from the stakes and stored by the State highway commissioner until winter. This type of fence has been used by many railroads in the past during the months of snow, and has proved very effective as a snow guard to the roadbed.

In other localities snow plows, either horse or motor driven, will keep the State highways clear. One of the most efficient types of highway snow plows has a broad blade, which removes the snow, attached to the front of a motor truck. A second truck chained to the first pulls while the first pushes the blade.

It was to be expected. Many local hunters of confining their activity to the known hunting grounds in the State, decided to go to the State Game Preserve.

The Junior Red Cross committees in Michigan are busy at the school year advance, with programs of direct benefit to communities and with humanitarian undertakings, notably in the smaller communities. In connection with the domestic activities, Juniors in manual training classes in schools not their direct.

Red Cross, through the Insular and Foreign Division and the Y. M. C. A. The fight has been conducted chiefly against disease carriers. Open air classes are formed in the markets, school yards and playgrounds. Each child brings his own stool and they sit in a circle around the teacher. The children are given a small bit of paper upon which to draw a simple picture or write a health slogan. They are taught songs in which the main idea of the lesson is embodied and finish by playing a health game. Usually there is a group of 100 to 200 adults standing around listening to the lesson who get more out of it than if it was presented to them directly.

"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that many of the most serious diseases start with a cold. ## SEES DEFECTS IN NEW SCHOOL LAW

EDUCATORS URGING SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS TO ASK REPEAL

Alleged defects in the James law regarding the attendance of children at public schools until they reach the age of 18 which make the law almost unworkable in the opinion of many educators, are to be remedied at the next session of the legislature if the combined influence of the teachers of the state can effect it.

A letter has been received from Arthur F. Lederle, supervisor of attendance for Detroit and chairman of the compulsory education section of the State Teachers' association, asking the assistance of E. J. Williams, superintendent of the Gladstone public schools, and other school superintendents in the state in having the act amended.

In his letter Mr. Lederle points out that there is nothing in the law to penalize a school district for failure to establish a continuation school, and that children from the school district surrounding Detroit are allowed to work in Detroit shops and factories without attending continuation school. Mr. Lederle suggests that they should be penalized to attend continuation schools in the district in which they work if there is no such school where they reside, also that the state department of education should be empowered to withhold primary school money from school districts that do not establish continuation schools.

Mr. Lederle contends that parents should be penalized for not sending their children, up to the age of 18, to school, just as they are penalized if the children are under 16. He would also give the juvenile court jurisdiction over truants up to the age of 18. At present the jurisdiction ends at 17.

Hunter Insulted By Most Impolite Deer

Napoleon Ongie was hunting deer with a party of friends last week at Twin Lakes, where Mr. Ongie owns a lodge. He has entertained friends there for several years but his experience Tuesday was something entirely new.

Shortly after leaving camp Mr. Ongie was compelled to walk up a short hill. When he reached the crest a doe and buck stood less than 15 feet distant. The hunter was as surprised as the game. The doe, which stood nearest, spat in Mr. Ongie's face, wheeled about and disappeared. Mr. Ongie fired several shots but the doe escaped injury. Returning to camp the hunter offered his weapon at excursion rates, but there were no takers.

MAKING IT WISE IS NOW IN THROES AN OIL BOOM

DRILLING TO BE STARTED IN SPRING BY COMPANY SINGING LEASES

Manistee, Nov. 22.—The rumor that has been in persistent circulation for sometime, relative to the discovery of strong oil indications at Seal Choix, is confirmed by members of the Good family who have large real estate holdings at that point. According to a statement made recently by Lester Good, a contract for deep well drilling has been signed by a company with a strong financial backing who will begin operations April 1, of next year. The land upon which the prospect holes will be sunk is the property of Amos Goodson, who has also been approached by agents of the Standard Oil company.

Oilmen and geologists who have prospected the land in the interest of these companies report that no better oil formations of oil existed in the great oil fields, prior to the discovery of Seal Choix. Surface oil found in the ponds and streams in the vicinity of Seal Choix, are considered very strong indications of large bodies of oil at certain depths. While the Goodsons are in no sense experts, their attention has been called to existing conditions to such extent that they are not only convinced of good indications of the company with which they are signed up, but are confident that this section stands an excellent chance of having oil or gas or both added to its assets.

The picture of an oil boom in industry with pipe lines and refineries coming at and located in Manistee, is one that will appeal without hesitation to business men, and out on an area of excitement and possible speculation may be coincident with the erection of the drilling rigs and the beginning of the work.

EARLY FINISH OF ORE MOVEMENT

REPORT FROM CLEVELAND SAYS TONNAGE INQUIRY IS DROPPING OFF

The finish in the lake trade will not be as strong as expected and indications are that an early clean up will be made in iron ore and coal, says a dispatch from Cleveland.

According to reports from the head of Lake Superior the bulk of the grain to be sent forward has been covered and chartering will be light the rest of the season. Some tonnage has been lined up for December, but as the rate shippers are taking the movement will not be heavy next month. The small steamers of the Pittsburgh Steamship company are being dropped and the Henry Court and Michigan are being laid up at this port. A number of freighters have been scheduled for another trip, but unless there is a decided change in weather conditions in the northwest, a large number of steamers will be laid up at ports for the winter by the end of the month.

Arrangements have been made to carry more iron ore and coal in the movement for November will be much smaller than was figured unless the weather moderates and the coal can be handled without a great deal of delay. Loading was slow last week and most of the ore had to be steamed at ports at the head of the lakes.

A Speedy Choice

By OKNEVIVE ULMAR

"And the hour, Vinnie?"
"Two of them, Eliza," said Vinnie Beem, with shining eyes. "Oh! it is nothing serious—yet. They are two very nice young men, who seem to like my company, and I have divided it pretty evenly between them."
"And you are getting on fast, my dear," commented Eliza Beem, the dearest friend Vinnie had. "I don't wonder. You are growing prettier every day, and everybody thinks you are growing clever."
At which Vinnie flushed deliciously, for she knew the compliment was sincere.
Vinnie was proud of the two young men who had met her slantaneously at her first "coming-out" party. Maurice Hoffman had introduced an acquaintance, Randolph Pyle, and from that moment they became friendly rivals. They were about the same age—Vinnie three, and had good positions and the favorable opinion of people in general. They seemed flawless so far as education, habits and business resources were concerned, and any girl might be proud of their admiration and esteem.
There was a strong contrast between the two young men as to temperament. Both were considered good looking and entertaining, but Maurice was somewhat quiet and reserved of manner, while Randolph was all impulse and activity. It was difficult at first for Vinnie to decide which pleased her most, the lively ways of the impetuous Randolph or the easily kindling manner of his less demonstrative rival.
As time went on these two young men seemed to grow more and more interested in her. Then, too, they both attended the same college in the way of flowers, luncheons and entertainments. One day Randolph Pyle drove up to the Beem home to show Vinnie his little machine. It was a pretty little machine, as if purposely made for two lovers, and that first sight along a well-wooded boulevard was a delightful experience Vinnie did not soon forget. Randolph was very proud of his new acquisition, and wondered what Maurice would think of it. Not to be out-gleamed in the race for the love of the charming Vinnie, Maurice the next day, to the discomfiture of Randolph and the wonderment of the subject of all this stirring tribulation, drove his hotly up to the Beem home in an automobile a shade more elaborate than that of Randolph. It was a comfortable five-passenger car.
"I have thought all along that when I bought a car I would get one with room enough to be pleasant to others," Maurice explained to Vinnie. "I hope you will take many drives with me, and as there is room for your father and mother, we should be a happy party, don't you think?"
At first Vinnie rather favored Randolph. His car seemed costly built for two. There was an irresistible fascination for her in listening to his pleasing talk. In his delicate attentions, as though she was the only woman in the world. After there had been several drives in Maurice's and even in which the trips seemed ideal, such a happy group did they represent. Vinnie felt irresistible gratitude toward him for the pleasure he was bestowing upon her parents.
One day Randolph's car broke down on a lonely country road. "It will take me a full hour to mend things," declared Randolph, irritably and impatiently. "You can put in the time strolling among those willow flowers."
Vinnie was to be expected to gather some wild flowers she especially liked, but half an hour later returning to the roadside she was surprised and shocked at the behavior and words of Randolph, who had not returned her. He was abusing the auto as though it were some stubborn animal. He kicked it in a vicious manner because it would not respond to his efforts to adjust it. He flung the hood upon the ground and actually beat it with the wrench in his hand. The same vicious, unaccountable child banged the windshield, cracking it, and then started away, evidently bound for the nearest town and its garage.
Vinnie sat down, upset and enlightened. The outburst of temper had unmasked Randolph as to his real character. In about half an hour Randolph reappeared with an auto and driver, which took them back home, the injured machine being left to the care of the garage mechanic.
The illness of a relative in another town called Randolph away for a week, and Vinnie was glad of it. Somehow she was entirely disenchanted. There followed a delightful week for Maurice, but when he took Vinnie and her parents out every day, he had turned quite bald, and Vinnie's heart warmed as she noticed how thoughtfully Maurice blanketed the machine, as though caring for some real creature needing protection, and how careful and sensible he was when one day the auto broke down.
Before Randolph returned Vinnie intuitively knew that it was in the mind of her relatives to escort her to college. She told her mother of this impression, and incidentally related the incident of her experience with Randolph.
"Which way does your heart incline, dear?" asked Mrs. Beem.
And Vinnie in reply leaned over a window and said to her father that morning and bared her blushing face and its wealth of sweet, sweet roses.

SEE NEW FACES IN LEGISLATURE

MICHIGAN HAS FIRST WOMAN LEGISLATOR IN MRS. EVA HAMILTON

Lansing, Nov. 22.—A number of new faces will be seen in the legislative hall of Michigan when the state's law-making bodies assemble January 5, next, of chief interest are the newcomers in the state capital will be Mrs. Eva Hamilton, elected state senator from the Grand Rapids district.
To Mrs. Hamilton comes the distinction of being the first woman elected to the Michigan legislature.
Aside from the seating to members of both houses of the exonerated Governor Albert E. Stepien retiring governor, and the inaugural address of Alex J. Groesbeck, his successor, the first day's business is expected to be confined entirely to organization of the two bodies. A considerable interest is in the drawing for seats in the house. In accordance with the legislative rules this will be done by lot. One hundred slips, each bearing the name of a member and numbered, are provided by the clerk. One hundred small white balls numbered consecutively from 1 to 100 then are placed in a box, and a boy blindfolded, draws them one at a time. The choice of a slip in the ball is given the representative in the order in which their numbers are drawn from the box.
Certain use to prospective legislation in the 1921 session has been extensively talked about the capital. Some talk has been heard of classification, chief among women voters, with the early date of the primary elections, heretofore held in late August, and it is possible a measure will be introduced to have the nominating election held in the year. Chief complaint against the primary date is predicated upon the belief that warm weather usually prevailing in August operates to keep many voters from the polls.

New Bank Certain
The Iron Mountain National Bank is now practically assured completion by representatives of the committee of the currency of the organizers of the proposed bank, and the future of Iron Mountain is reached to issue the charter and the organization will be proceeded at a meeting to be held soon. Iron Mountain already has two excellent banks, but evidence of the city's future growth seem to justify the institution of another national bank, in the opinion of the organizers.

Confiscates Deer
Deputy Game Warden John Andrews Jr., of Iron Mountain, confiscated a large deer at the office of the American Railway Express company. The deer bore a license tag bearing the following name and address: James H. Wright, 511 South 13th street, Escanaba, Mich. For some reason or other, or probably through an oversight, Mr. Wright did not fully comply with the game laws in regard to shipping deer. The deer will be turned over to some charitable institution, very likely the Dickinson county infirmary.

Delta County Road Work 'ones To Close

Road construction and repair work in all parts of Delta county have been officially ordered closed for the season. The coming of severe winter weather conditions made the order necessary and interfered with plans of the county road commission to complete up Delta county end of the Manistee trunk highway before the close of operations for the year. A map of approximately a quarter of a mile remains to be completed to connect up Delta county's maraud highway system with the Schoderd county system. The cap between the stretches of macadam is on high ground, however, and will not interfere with inter-county traffic. The road has been fully completed through stretches of low land that provided almost impassable in former years and provides close to an ideal highway for the entire distance from Escanaba to Manistee.

CLUB NURSE'S NOW INSTALLED FOR GLADSTONE

CHILD WELFARE BODY DOES AN OTHER SPLENDID ACT
FOR CITY

Gladstone today has another instance of sincere cooperation in the fact that the Child Welfare Club has started out the work of providing a visiting nurse for Gladstone and vicinity. It isn't a novel experience for this society, inasmuch as the Club was instrumental in having a nurse installed in the public schools here, or rather the schools took the nurse which the Club provided, and the experiment worked out with such wonderful success that the Club was never able to get that nurse back.

Took Logical Course

So there was but one thing to do—get another nurse. After much careful canvassing of possibilities and elimination of those who might not be so well fitted for the trying position, Mrs. H. M. Hendrickson has been chosen and is now here and on the job.

The Club already has received the most enthusiastic co-operation of the local doctors and Mrs. Hendrickson's work in this city and vicinity promises to be filled with achievement of a very worth-while character. She will also serve in Drapton township.

Calls for the nurse may be placed to phone 227 or Phone 147.

Benefit to City

The fact that the nurse is here and ready for service now means that much sickness probably will be avoided among certain families that otherwise would suffer. It means that Gladstone is going into the winter, equipped to meet such emergencies as are likely to arise, because a recurrence of the "flu" and that the welfare of the entire community will be better safeguarded than would have been the case, had not this public spirited organization gone to the trouble and expense of securing the services of a woman so splendidly equipped as Mrs. Hendrickson.

Charlie Letz, proprietor of the Gladstone Fruit Store, in connection with which a soda fountain was recently installed, is now making extensive alterations in the place and when completed it will be one of the most inviting and cozy little places in the city.

Some splendid decorations are being placed on the walls and archways are being cut between the front and rear rooms. Booths are being placed in the remodeled portion of the room and when completed, several months hence, the place will be one of the most up-to-date in this section. The oil paintings are being executed by Dennis Kuhnke, an artist from Chicago, who recently completed the re-decoration of Candyland, in Escanaba.
