IF IT WERE possible to correct evils by legislation, this would, indeed, be a happy world. Just now the Michigan legislature has up for consideration a measure that would prohibit the carrying of weapons in automobiles.

OTHER words, laws are intended to regulate the lives of bandits who have no respect for laws. Consequently such laws are useless. You've got to get at the source of evil but just how are you going to do it? That is the channel that the law-makers should follow in their efforts to find way to curb lawlessness.

AS AN INSTANCE of what a law may do to complicate the work of our courts, we have only to look at the prohibition law. A report from Marquette informs us that 140 prohibition cases are already listed for the next term of federal court with the prospect that the number will have reached fully 200 when the court convenes.

THE SIMPLICITY and directness of the method provided by Gladstone's commission-manager charter for the election of the commissioners is not the least of the many advantages that may be claimed for it.

JOHN B. Fitzgibbon, veteran political correspondent, writing for The Detroit News, says that a dynasty fell as Bert D. Cady was elected for mayor chairman of the state Republican committee at the Republican state convention held in Detroit last week.

group that at one time ruled unchallenged and with an iron hand. Too few people pay any particular attention to politics and it is largely for this reason that conventions fell into disrepute. The voters showed no concern and in the meantime those who had something to gain put things over to suit themselves. In the chairman-ship contest in which Kennedy L. Post was named to succeed Cady, the issue was not one that necessarily affected the people. It revolved almost entirely on what group should control the Republican party in Michigan.

AMONG the bills introduced in the state legislature is one which would prohibit the pasting of "bathing beauty" and other posters on auto windshields. Imagine, if you can, the extent of an evil which requires the dignified attention of the law-makers. Also imagine the effect of such a law on those irresponsible enough to plaster their cars with posters to such an extent that their own and the life of their fellow men is endangered.

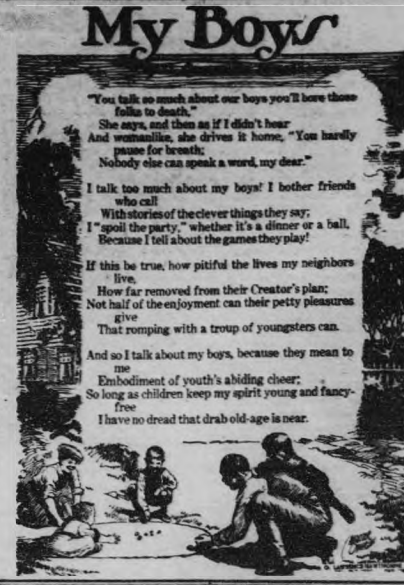

OTHER Cleveland cities are talking baseball. Marquette and Munising have organized and elected their officers for the 1925 season. So far, Marquette's problem remains a problem. Who will shoulder the responsibility? So far as the writer is concerned, we do not feel that it is fair to expect one or two to do it all.

MICHIGAN'S remainder are a thing of the past. A. C. Carion of the state department of agriculture, has announced that the last of our reindeer, brought here from Norway for experimental purposes, have "licked it." The large herd was cared for by the state, first in the northern part of the lower peninsula. They were dying off at a rapid rate.

WHAT is a leading citizen? The interpretations are as varied as would be the number of replies to such a question. Ordinarily, many feel that a citizen with money is a leader. Nothing is further from the truth. It is true that ordinarily a man who makes a success in business or industry, succeeds because he is a leader. That is he does not become leader but rather he succeeds because he has the desirable qualities of leadership.

JUST as the Republican party came into favor to succeed the Whigs and the Democratic party to replace the Populists so other parties come to be organized to succeed both of the present major parties. The people may not change much but those who lead the parties do change and when a powerful group in control runs things in a way to displease the rank and file, the latter find another way out. In politics it comes through voters jumping to another party. The Democratic party right now appears to have outlived its usefulness.

KEEP DETROIT OUT OF THIS

The Republicans have held their state convention. As a sample of the superiority of the convention over the primary, it was more amusing than convicting. A convention, according to the critics of the primary, is a gathering of representative loyal party men who debate as to the best interests of their party and the people at large.

Just best to Michigan. If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to be the foundation of future greatness.

One For All and All For One

EVERYWHERE people are coming to realize more and more how inter-dependent we are upon each other. The only individual who is self-sufficient is a hermit.

The keynote--the foundation of civilization--is the family. We all concede that. And we're rapidly coming to realize that our own home town--is a home town family--simply the family unit a little bit extended through neighborly cordiality, friendship and pleasant social intercourse.

Common good will and recognition of our human obligation is a deeper currency than any money system ever invented. But it is also to our advantage on the material side of life--it redounds in better practices, living conditions, more generous impulses. It makes Gladstone a better place to live.

Let's make our home town unit closer knit. Let's be generous with our good will--realizing that the prosperity of the individual is directly reflected in an added prosperity to our community. Your home industries and merchants have adopted this creed. Will you co-operate?

Chiropractor For Stomach Trouble

You suffer from stomach trouble and wish relief. A bad stomach means bad health. The stomach is the body reservoir, receiving and retaining all substances taken into the body through the mouth. The stomach requires an unimpaired strength to perform its duties, and when this strength is denied, there immediately sets in a period of reaction. Then the food instead of digesting, ferments. The result is that your stomach becomes similar to a garbage can which has not been emptied. Anyone can realize that this will cause a poison to be transmitted into the blood which in turn may cause one of many diseases.

The Stomach Needs Strength. Its Only Means of Strength Is Through the Nerves Which Feed It.

A weak stomach has weak nerves. Weak nerves are invariably the result of spinal derangement, which may be the result of a fall, strain or sitting in an unnatural position. This derangement can be adjusted quickly and easily by CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS. There is nothing taken inwardly; the CHIROPRACTOR works altogether on the spine at the place where derangements occur. There is no need of any one suffering from stomach trouble.

LEGISLATURE IS READY FOR REAL WORK OF SESSION

SPUD GRADING AND STANDARDS BILL IS SENT BACK TO COMMITTEE

PRIMARY CHANGES PROPOSED

(Farm Bureau Report)
Legislation was secondary to politics during the past week at the meeting of the 100 per cent Republican State Legislature closed up their desks at Lansing and departed for the big G. O. P. convalescence, held at Detroit, Wednesday, February 25. Four short sessions, held Monday evening, Tuesday morning, late Thursday afternoon and Friday morning comprised the week's program.
Important action was taken on many leading farm bills at the Monday evening session, when Senator Leland's bill to make the federal potato grades compulsory in Michigan came up for final passage in the Senate. It met unexpected opposition. After it had been attacked by a Detroit member and one or two others, it was referred back to the Senate Committee on Agriculture.
This measure has the backing of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, the Michigan State Farm Bureau, State Department of Agriculture, College authorities and many other influential groups.
Senator Leland's companion bill which would give the State Commissioner of Agriculture the necessary authority to properly enforce state grades and standards of farm products, also encountered opposition and was likewise referred back to the Committee on Agriculture.
Pass T. B. Bill
From the rural point of view, one of the most important developments in the House was the final passage of Rep. Espie's bill which would require the testing of all cattle before they could be brought into an accredited T. B. free county.
Final debate on this bill centered around an amendment by Rep. John Holland of Gogebic, which would prohibit the sale of meat from animals condemned and ordered slaughtered. The amendment failed and the bill in its original form was passed by a vote of 75 to 1 after it had been staunchly supported by Representatives John Espie of Eagle, Orvy Hulet of Armanco, Fred Ming of Cheboygan, Philip O'Connell of McGregor, Wm. F. Strauch of Vernon and Chas. A. Sink of Ann Arbor.
Seek Primary Reforms
Bills looking toward primary election reform are arousing considerable interest. Rep. Chas. Evans of Tippecanoe has introduced a bill proposing a revision of the primary election law, providing for party enrollment and for a pre-primary convention. Under this plan conventions would be held in advance of the primary. The choice of the preliminary convention would automatically win a place on the primary ballot. Any faction which was dissatisfied with the result of the convention could place their favorite candidate on the ballot by petition, just as at present.
A different change in our primary law is proposed by Rep. Ate Dykstra of Grand Rapids. His bill provides in part, "No candidate for state or county office shall be declared the nominee of that political party for said office unless he shall receive a majority of the votes cast for candidates for any such office. In case no such candidate receives a majority of all such votes, the names of the two candidates who have received the highest number of votes for any such office shall be placed on a primary ballot to be voted upon at a second primary election, which shall be held one week from the first primary election in the same place and manner as the first primary election."
When Rep. McKinnon's bill to change the name of the Michigan Agricultural College to Michigan State college, came up for final passage in the House, it was referred back to the committee on the M. A. C. It appeared evident that the bill in its present form would be defeated by the House so an attempt will be made to reach a compromise through proposing some such name as Michigan State College of Agriculture, Engineering, Arts and Sciences.
In an attempt to stamp out foul brood and other bee diseases Rep. David H. Brake of Newaygo County, has introduced a bill to provide a fund of $5,000 for research and field work in the eradication of diseases of bees.
A measure providing that the automobile license of any driver be automatically revoked whenever he was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, has been proposed by Rep. Charles A. Sink, of Ann Arbor.
Rep. Denis G. Clancy of Hillsdale, has introduced a bill to appropriate $100,000 a year for county fair premiums. In the past this figure has been set at $75,000.
Spearing of fish in Michigan would be entirely prohibited by two bills, introduced by Rep. Harold H. Snedley of Grand Rapids. One bill would abolish spearing in inland waters and at low for the taking of fish only by hook and line. The other bill would prohibit entirely the sale or exchange of fishing spears in Michigan.
In an effort to protect farmers from marauding tendencies of hunters Senator Norman B. Horton of Fruitridge has introduced a bill providing that "No person shall hunt in any manner on improved lands used and occupied by another without the consent of the owner or person in possession thereof."

The restoration of state bounties on wolves is proposed by Rep. David F. Morrison of Gornafsk. The bounty would be set at $10 for each wolf over six months of age and $2 for each wolf whelp.
Mrs. Anderson, the lady member of the House, has introduced a bill "to regulate the occupation of headresters and connections; to create a state board of examiners for the licensing of persons to carry on and teach such practices."

presidential nominations and transact other executive business, may remain in session for several weeks. There is a precedent for this, as the Senate battled over the League of Nations during the Wilson Administration although the House was NOT in session at the time. The probability of a long session of Senate this spring is based upon the fact that President Coolidge will call for approval of the nomination of Frank Beecher Warren as Attorney General. The nomination is now deadlocked because of the opposition to Warren on the part of some Democratic Senators and Senator Borah of Idaho. When the Warren nomination is called up, a protracted fight may be precipitated, in addition to tussles over various treaties. NOT to forget a lagging League of Nations scrap in the long-pending proposal for American entrance into the world Court at The Hague.
THIS WEEK BRINGS a vacancy at the head of the Department of Justice through the elevation of Attorney General Harlan F. Stone to the Supreme Court. An Acting Attorney General will be named and interim by the President pending final disposition of the Warren appointment by the Senate.

THIS IS A WEEK crowded with important events. Calvin Coolidge is sworn in for a full four-year term in the White House, Secretary of State Hughes retires to private life to be succeeded at the State Department by Frank B. Kellogg, late Ambassador of the United States at the Court of St. James, Secretary of Agriculture Gore retires to his native West Virginia to become Governor of that Commonwealth, turning over the affairs of his Department to William A. Jardine, President of the Kansas Agriculture College. The 68th Congress passes its history and part of the 69th Congress—the Senate—comes into being.
THERE WILL BE little in this year's inauguration to remind old timers of those gay times when armed forces from the various States descended on the Capital to take part in President Inauguration, spending the days both before and after Inauguration Day in marching hither and yon through the streets and avenues of the city, showing off their gorgeous uniforms and enlivening the occasion generally. Hotel bookings indicate, however, that the inaugural crowd from every part of the country will be bigger than ever before, and there will be an inaugural parade and an inaugural ball of considerable distinction despite the efforts of the Administration to make the whole affair as quiet and unostentatious as possible.
NOTHING SENSATIONAL is expected in the President's inaugural address, which will consist of only about four thousand words and of the Harding-Coolidge regime, elaborating on the "State of the Union" and restating the Administration's foreign policies. Plans for broadcasting the Presidential Oath and the address have been made and it is estimated by those in charge that approximately twenty million persons will have the opportunity of participating, via the radio, in the ceremony on the East Portico of the Capitol.
FRANK KELLOGG arrived from London in excellent spirits and the best of health, ready to assume his new duties as Secretary of State. Kellogg had a good word even for the English climate when he was interviewed upon his arrival, explaining that it had agreed with him admirably and that, as far as that was concerned he could thrive in any climate, especially that in Washington, where he served for many years as a member of the Senate. Secretary Hughes will go to Bermuda within a few days for a lengthy vacation and will then take up his residence on Fifth Avenue in New York City.
IN SOME QUARTERS there is a belief that the new Senate which convenes at noon on March 4 to confirm

THE 5,000 majority given Mr. Wright was conceded to be the woman's vote! A recent 500 in this district saved Senator Lodge, whom Mrs. Wright did not campaign for years ago when her son was well started in school, a civic movement meeting money interested her. She was well educated, accurate and a successful housekeeper. Out of just those moderate gifts, it was to believe her, grew her attempt at a cookbook of the best recipes of the best housewives of Pittsfield. The book was published. It was well done. It made money. She could afford a fashion, at least—write.
Next came a collection of dolls, quantities and accurately dressed in costumes of past ages. The collection, presented to women's clubs, taught her to meet audiences. All this so without fuss or feathers, she has told me, that her busy husband never missed her. At present many women's organizations seek Mrs. Wright for lectures. The great publishing house of MacMillan asks for the manuscripts of her books. "Who's Who" lists by name the names, and politicians high in office seek her advice on party plans.
Reported by Commissioner Call, that the Commission adjourns to March 2nd, at 7:30 p. m.
Resolution carried unanimously.

HARKEN YE, AMBITIOUS WIVES!

A husband's advice to his wife on how to succeed is often startling to the wife. Sometimes it betrays astonishing ignorance. In which case, may it be that husband is blind in the rear eye? Or that wife's methods, like those of high-powered machinery, are unusually quiet in action? Judge for yourself in the case of Helen S. Wright of Pittsfield, Mass.
Charles Wright, Republican district attorney, was up for reelection last November. Democratic sentiment was running in the mind of the Republican father, dangerously strong. Many conservative women, nominally Republican, had severe doubts. An invitation came—never mind how—to Mrs. Wright to speak to and perhaps organize these women.
"You'd better write out your talk, but use criticism, and then help you learn to deliver it," the husband volunteered. "You know even a few women's votes may count this time!"
"Right," she replied. "I will be ready," was the reply which sent a worried gentleman to this meeting and a less worried but much puzzled one to many others.

THE 5,000 majority given Mr. Wright was conceded to be the woman's vote! A recent 500 in this district saved Senator Lodge, whom Mrs. Wright did not campaign for years ago when her son was well started in school, a civic movement meeting money interested her. She was well educated, accurate and a successful housekeeper. Out of just those moderate gifts, it was to believe her, grew her attempt at a cookbook of the best recipes of the best housewives of Pittsfield. The book was published. It was well done. It made money. She could afford a fashion, at least—write.

ADVERTISING, NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE IT GIVES THE MERCHANT A CHANCE TO TELL THE BUYING PUBLIC, WHICH IS EVERYBODY, ABOUT THE THINGS HE HAS TO SELL!

ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPERS BRINGS MONEY TO THEM AND THEY BRING MONEY TO PEOPLE WHO LEAVE IN TOWN WITH THE MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE!

NO ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPERS KEEPS DOWN THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, WHICH WOULD HAVE TO BE TWO OR THREE TIMES AS MUCH IF IT WUZNT FOR WHAT WE TAKE IN FROM THE ADS!

Why Subscription Rates Are Low
