CONSERVATION OF FORESTS IS MAIN TOPIC OF MEET.

UPPER PENINSULA SPORTSMEN HELD CONFERENCE HERE ON THURSDAY WANT TO INTEREST PUBLIC

A large representation of the Sports men's association of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan was present yesterday morning, June 4 when the Cloverland Conservation conference was held here at the Community building under the auspices of the Northern Sportsmen's association.

There was a business meeting for the delegates at 10 o'clock, and at noon a banquet was served in the Community auditorium for the delegates and the general public. J. P. Bushong greeted the visitors at the morning session and Mayor I. N. Bushong addressed the general meeting which opened in the afternoon following the banquet.

John A. Doelle, secretary-manager of the Michigan division of the Izaak Walton League, was the first speaker at the afternoon meeting. E. A. Sherman, associate forester, U. S. Forest Service, Washington, D. C. gave a very interesting outline of the reforestation being done by the federal government on reclaimed lands. Raphaelson, director of the U. S. Forest Experiment Station at St. Paul, spoke of the wonderful work being done in the replanting of forests.

Clarence E. Rankin, president of the Northern Sportsmen's association presided at both the afternoon meetings. Geo. Bishop, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, was placed on a resolution committee, which presented endorsements on various subjects favored by the sportsmen.

At the morning session Mr. Randall gave a brief talk on the work accomplished by the organization during the past year. The financial report was given by the secretary. Several important matters were discussed by the delegates, among which are the changing of the deer season to December instead of the present November season. A very interesting discussion was held regarding whether birds had actually become scarce, or have merely changed their residence because of the weather of the past year.

Mr. Blair, who was mainly responsible for the achievements in regard to the conservation of wild game, at the state legislature, told of his experiences at Lansing, and the passage of the bills aiding in the conservation of game.

The Izaak Walton League was discussed as a co-operative organization with the Sportsmen's Association.

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH FRUIT STORE MANAGEMENT

Louis Mantho of Milwaukee has entered partnership with Chris Sprou, former proprietor of the local Fruit Store and Ice Cream parlor. This arrangement was completed about two weeks ago.

Mr. Mantho has moved here with his family, and is residing on Michigan avenue.

The two business places formerly managed by Mr. Sprou will be conducted as in the past. No changes in the plans have as yet been formulated.

Miss Olga Mantho, daughter of the new manager, is assisting at the Fruit Store on Central avenue.

POOR FARM RUNAWAY CAUGHT

John MacDonald, who has been residing at the Manistiquet Poor Farm and left there as the result of a quarrel with another inmate, was found on M-15 by Louis Danielson Wednesday and turned over to local authorities.

Mr. MacDonald is 63 years of age. His head is quite severely bruised and cut from his recent encounter with another of the residents of that institution. He was on his way to this city by way of a freight train. The mistake authorities were notified of his whereabouts and he will undoubtedly be taken back there the latter part of this week.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank everyone that so kindly gave me their support in the Subscription campaign of the Delta Reporter which was now closed. Those whose help made it possible for me to win the first prize, the Flint Six Touring Car, I am grateful and want to express my appreciation. Signed, VERN H. FOX.

GIRLS SAVED FROM CITY HONORS ITS SOLDIERS DEAD

TAKEN FROM UNDERNEATH CAR FOLLOWING ACCIDENT TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Misses Emma Brockeart, Gladys Hanson and Selma Stocke were injured Tuesday afternoon near the Chemical Plant when the Ford Coupe in which they were traveling to Escanaba, left the road and turned over.

Miss Brockeart, who was at the wheel, received a broken collar bone, her companions severe bruises and scratches.

Miss Brockeart lost complete control of the car and was headed for a telephone post. Miss Hanson, turned the wheel in the opposite direction, which resulted in it leaving the road and turning completely over. A leak in the gasoline tank set the car afire and endangered the lives of the girls who were pinned underneath. The car was entirely destroyed in a few minutes. The loss is estimated at $300.

The girls were rescued by E. J. Bouncers, a truckman of Escanaba, and taken to the St. Francis hospital by a passing motorist. The Misses Hanson and Stocke were cared for, and later in the day returned to their homes here. Miss Brockeart however, will be confined to the hospital for a few days.

The car was not owned by the girls but had been borrowed by Miss Brockeart to motor to Escanaba. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

MISS HENKE TO JOIN CHAUTAUQUA COMPANY

Miss Margaret Henke left here Monday for Detroit where she will visit with friends before proceeding to Chicago where she will join a company of artists touring for the Mutual Morgan Chautauqua. Miss Henke will tour through Indiana, Illinois and Ohio during the summer months.

Miss Blanche Olson has accepted the place as pianist at the Community theater since the resignation of Miss Henke.

GEORGE BURT RECOVERED CAR

George Burt, whose Ford Sedan was stolen about two weeks ago at Escanaba, has recovered the car. The theft occurred on a Saturday night. Mr. Burt had parked his car in front of the residence of Mrs. M. LaPlante, his mother-in-law on Washington Ave. The key was not left in the car. Returning in a short time, he found the Sedan gone.

The thief turned out to be a farmer residing about 28 miles from Vulcan. He was tracing some chicken stealers, who were escaping in a Ford Sedan. Mistaking Mr. Burt's car for theirs, he drove off in it.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Stople and daughter Marquette spent the week end at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Ole Peterson.

CENSUS SHOWS 1730 SCHOOL CHILDREN

The census, taken by Miss Lavina Cowell for the Board of Education, was completed on June 1, and shows a total of 1730 children between the ages of five and nineteen years, inclusive.

This record is very similar to that of last year.

The census will be certified and sworn to by the Notary Public, and sent to Lansing about the fore part of July.

As an illustration of the necessity of giving the correct age of the child, about twelve names are returned from the State Department each year. The name can only be recorded between the ages of five and nineteen years inclusive, namely fifteen times, consequently when an error has been made in the past, the child's name is returned.

Reporter's Subscription Campaign Comes to Close in Blaze of Glory With Tremendous Increase in Circulation

WATER RATES TO BE INCREASED

LIGHT PRICE TO REMAIN SAME, EXCEPT FOR LOWER HEATING RATE

The water rates will be increased about 12 per cent as announced by City Manager Buehner, following action taken by the City Commission at their meeting Monday night.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the water plant has not been conducted upon a self-supporting basis for some years. The increased revenue will cover the cost of interest on the capital investment, depreciation on the plant, insurance, and taxes, all of which the plant would be required to pay if privately owned, and must also be provided by the City Charter. In the past the light plant has been made to bear the deficiencies in funds received from the water system. The new increase is just sufficient to cover the expenses, and while complying with the special provisions of the Charter will at the same time put the water plant on a self-supporting basis.

The increase of 12 per cent makes necessary having a complete audit and paying $12 in the past pay $18 under the new provision. The basic rate will be $8 instead of $7 as heretofore. This basic charge includes service only from one tap which is the same as in the past, in cases where two or more garden hose or sprinklers are used, the rate will be $3 per season as formerly.

This new system will go into effect July 1. Bills will be mailed out quarterly as announced some time ago. The charges are payable in advance. If not taken care of within a specified time, the city reserves the right to disconnect service without further notice. This rule has been made to do away with outstanding rents.

It is estimated that the increase in the revenue which will accrue under this method will be 20 per cent which, as has been stated, the amount necessary to put the water plant on a self-supporting basis.

Sprinkling hours are from six a. m. to nine, and from four p. m. till eight. Special privileges have been granted to residents of outlying districts who receive their water supply from a small inch and quarter pipe, instead of the regular water main, and are consequently unable to get service during the sprinkling hours.

Property owners will be responsible for the payment of water rent instead of tenants, to avoid difficulties which have arisen in the past.

The light rates, which remain as heretofore, are still payable monthly. It was decided by the City Commission and others who made a study of the matter that if the water plant was put on a self-supporting basis, it would not be necessary to raise the light rates at the present time.

The heating rate has been lowered to three cents straight per K W. instead of the former rate of four cents or the first 100 K. W.'s and all over that at 3 one half cents.

In the future, property owners first coming in for service will be required to make a deposit of $3 as a guaranty for the payment of service, to be returned when same is discontinued.

The commission has adopted a provision requiring that customers secure a written permit to use the current for other than lighting purposes, in as much as the general wiring is not sufficient for heating elements.

In such cases the city will install heavier wires for these heating elements. The consumer will then be given the advantage of the special lighting rates, which are cheaper than the lighting price.

A new ordinance prepared by City Manager Buehner providing "Rules and regulations for the Care, Control and Protection of the Water System of the City for the Terms and Conditions of Furnishing Water Service to Customers and Providing a Penalty for the Violation of such Rules and Regulations" was introduced at the meeting Monday night.

The ordinance contains many new provisions along with much of the ruling of the original ordinance on this subject prepared in 1914.

After holding the unwavering interest of Gladstone and the surrounding territory during the past six and a half weeks, The Reporter's Big Subscription Campaign came to an official close Saturday night, and the strain everyone connected with the affair has been under, was happily relieved.

It was a strenuous time all around and an anxious one to be sure, but now that the end is reached and the winner named, everyone is pleased and satisfied.

Naturally the greatest struggle was for that splendid "Flint 40 Touring Car" the grand capital prize. The Delta Reporter offered the very best prize obtainable. We were willing to pay liberally for good work, and we got it, for never before in this section has there been such an all around successful subscription campaign as the one just concluded by this newspaper. The aggregate vote totals reached enormous figures, representing hundreds of new and renewal subscriptions. And as a result of this campaign The Delta Reporter goes into a large share of the homes in Delta county and adjacent counties—the kind that does the advertisers the most good.

To these new readers and our old patrons as well, whose patronage made this campaign the success that it was, The Delta Reporter is indeed grateful and indebted. On behalf of the candidates and the paper itself, the public is entitled to a most emphatic thank you for the good will shown them during this campaign.

But as to the winners: the figures speak for themselves. To those whose energies have carried them through to success the Delta Reporter extends the heartiest congratulations. We are proud of the candidates who took part in this campaign and we hope they, in turn, are proud of their prizes.

While the prizes themselves were remarkable for their value, there are other considerations to be taken into account. During this campaign participants have learned much that will be of benefit to them. They have made new and pleasant acquaintances, they have formed more correct business lines and most of them have developed a sense of observation that will pay future dividends.

Of course it is inevitable in a competition of this kind that all cannot win first prize. That was an understood fact at the beginning of this race. To accomplish a given purpose a great amount of energy and salesmanship is necessary and fortune seems to lavish her richest gifts upon those who are ambitious to carry out the mandates of ambition.

In conclusion we wish to say our relations with all the candidates have been very pleasant indeed. They, in turn, have dealt with our organization, which, to the best of their ability, made the campaign one long to be remembered for its wholesome character and fair dealings. It was a great race and it leaves in bold relief that cardinal virtue—ambition.

Under lock and seal the ballot box remained in the vaults of the First National Bank during the final days of the contest. At eight o'clock sharp—right on the dot—last Saturday night, the race was declared closed, and all that remained to be done was to canvass the findings in the sealed box.

Awards were made by the judges under the rules of the campaign, according to the statement found elsewhere on this page.

NO ONE INJURED IN CAR-WAGON COLLISION

All parties escaped with but slight injuries. Wednesday evening near 10 o'clock a car driven by a McFarland man ran into a wagon driven by Bill Reese, who was on the way to his farm, taking off the entire front end of the wagon. The Oldsmobile swerved to the other side of the road striking an Overland Sedan driven by Noah Meehan of this city. The two front wheels and the rear end of the car were damaged.

In the McFarland car were two young men and three girls. It was not possible to ascertain the full extent of the damage or the occupants of the Meehan car.

HOME HELPS

Boillion 1 1/2 cup turnip, finely chopped, 2 lbs lean veal, 1 pound marrow bone, 5 cups cold water, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 lbs lean beef, 10 pepper corns, 1 1/2 cup potatoes, 1 1/2 cup onion. Put the meat and marrow bone into the soup kettle. Put in the water and let it stand covered one hour. Heat slowly to the boiling point. Remove the veal and cook for four hours. Add the vegetables and seasoning and cook two hours. Strain and allow it to get cold. Remove the fat when it is cold. Serve in cups. This will serve six people. Eggs possess their highest nourishing value in their raw state, and the longer an egg is subject to heat, the harder it is to digest. Eggs are digested more readily when the whites and yolks are thoroughly mixed before cooking, therefore in a scrambled state and as omelettes they are the easiest digested. Eggs are at their very best when only twelve hours old. A fresh egg feels heavy and sinks flatly to the bottom in water. They can be kept for months by packing them small ends down, in ordinary coarse salt. Each should stand upright and not touch another. Plain Omelette 2 tablespoons clear bacon fat or 1 tablespoonful butter, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 tablespoonful hot water, dash of pepper. Beat eggs very light, add salt, pepper and hot water. Heat the omelette pan, and add bacon fat or butter. Cook slowly. When thickened and browned underneath, put in garnish of onion to finish the top. When the top will not adhere to the finger, the omelette is done. Fold and serve on hot platter. This will serve four people. Croustons Cut stale bread in one-third inch slices and remove crusts. Spread this with butter. Cut slices in one-third cubes, put in pan and bake until delicately brown, or fry in deep fat. TO EXTRACT INK from cotton, silk, and woollen goods, saturate the spot with spirits of turpentine and let it remain several hours; then rub between the hands. STUFF pins or needle cushions with hair combings and they will not rust. SPOTS and BLEMISHES on window glass will quickly disappear if rubbed vigorously with a dry cork. Cork dipped in wet salt will remove burnt marks on plate dishes and plates. DIP YOUR BROOM in boiling suds for a minute or two, once a week. This makes the broom tough and pliable and it lasts much longer. IF DOORS OR DRAWERS stick, rub over top, bottom or sides with common laundry soap. WHEN WASHING WINDOWS in cold weather, dampen a cloth with kerosene and wipe windows with it. Polish with tissue paper and they will look as though washed with water. Enjoy Picnic Dinner The 3. R. B. Club of this city motored to Ford River, Tuesday evening, where they enjoyed a picnic dinner. The members of this club are new comers to this city. They have planned many outings for the summer. (A Weekly Panorama of Events in the National Capital. By Peter Keegan for the Delta Reporter.)

WILLIAM A. OLDFIELD, Arkansas Congressman and minority whip in the House of Representatives is slated to succeed Clem C. Shaver of West Virginia as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. It is understood here that Shaver will step down within the next month and that the election of Oldfield is assured. Oldfield is already chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, and probably will combine both jobs in the next congressional campaign. Under this leadership the Democrats will make a supreme effort to wrest control of the House from the Republicans. As the democratic party is now broke, Oldfield will also be charged with the responsibility of raising enough money to finance the campaign. Shaver has expressed a desire to continue in the Chairmanship until the debts incurred in the last national election are paid off. This he is now engaged in doing.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has been urged by some of his friends to take drastic measures against Americans in Europe, who, for their own glorification, have been advising the French people that the United States has no intention of forcing the payment of billions of dollars of war debts owed by European nations. The President's attention has been called to an old federal law, enacted in the early days of the Republic, to prohibit American citizens from engaging in any activity with foreign powers which might obstruct the policies of the United States. The penalty is $5,000 fine and three years in federal prison. The Coolidge Administration has determined to collect foreign debts and much dissatisfaction has been aroused by the attitude of Americans abroad who have set out to hinder the Government.

CHAIRMAN O'CONNOR of the Shipping Board has won out in his policy of getting rid of ships which the government does not need. Scrambling for two hundred ships has now been ordered by the board and bids for the sale will be opened shortly. O'Connor will endeavor to get Henry Ford to buy most of the ships, believing that much of the steel and other material in the vessels can be used in manufacture of automobiles. Ford is also expected to buy some of the better ships from the Government for ordinary trade purposes.

GOVERNOR GENERAL Leonard Wood of the Philippines has set out to raise a million dollars in the United States for the treatment and rehabilitation of inmates of the Filipino leper colony. There are about twelve thousand lepers in the Philippines, and many marvelous cures of the dread disease are reported. The money collected under the direction of General Wood is to be used in building homes for the lepers and to provide funds for expert technical assistance.

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Jardine has embarked on a personal investigation of farming conditions in the Middle West. He will make a six weeks tour of this region, stopping in many places for talks with farmers and stockraisers and to get their views with respect to what steps should be taken by the federal Government for the further aid of the agricultural industry. Secretary of Commerce Hoover will travel over the same territory a little later, but will give special attention to the drainage and reclamation developments in the mountain states and will combine this with a visit to his home in California.

THE AMUNDSEN airplane flight to the North Pole aroused keen interest in Washington, especially in view of the fact that a similar expedition is to be dispatched by the Navy Department, but with a giant dirigible instead of a heavier-than-air machine. The Navy's polar flight was planned more than a year ago, but was postponed. At that time only one airship was available, but now the United States has two—the Los Angeles and Shenandoah—either of which may be selected for the trip. The National Geographic Society of Washington is also sending an explorer to the pole in the person of Commander Donald MacMillan, who will sail from Boston on June 7th.

DO YOU KNOW? Rules of etiquette all should know.

Manners at Table
Department at table is the supreme expression of one's social training. No other division of etiquette is more important.
In a hurried world, some persons are fated to lack the advantages of an early and complete education in this direction. Even so, they are not pardoned by society for errors in dining.
They are held responsible for their manners at table because the rules necessary to observe are few, and because they may improve manners by a very little study and observation.
One is correctly seated at the table when the chest is about eight inches from the board, when the figure is erect not rigid, and when the feet are placed squarely on the floor. The elbows must be kept off the table; the left hand should rest in the lap when not engaged.
"Bowling to the plate" as the fork is raised is an involuntary habit and a common mistake which may easily be remedied by taking thought of it.
Food must be eaten in a quiet, leisurely manner and with a certain fine disregard for it. Therefore, the food served is never discussed. Meals are supposed to be eaten, not primarily for eating's sake, but for the sociability and the conviviality which accompany them.
This rule has a practical foundation in health principles: unburied eating and slow mastication, pleasant company and attractive dishes all combine to bring about good digestion.
When confronted by an array of flat silver, begin with article at the extreme left and use the others in the order in which they are arranged.
If momentarily confused at a large dinner or banquet, it is wise to watch someone obviously sophisticated, to maintain one's poise, and never for a second betray an embarrassment.
Among new ideas is that of placing the proper fork with each course. Thus the table is bare of flat silver, except that required by the course in progress. The idea is perhaps too new to be followed except as an innovation.

The knife NEVER is used to convey food to the mouth.
A fork is used for all food except the liquids requiring a spoon. The fork alone is used for cutting salads. For ice cream a special fork has been devised.
In taking soup, the liquid should be taken from the spoon without noise. The spoon is dipped away, from, never toward the person, and the soup is taken from the side of the spoon, not the tip.
A teaspoon should never be left in a cup, neither should tea, coffee or any other beverage be sipped from the spoon. After one has tasted the heat of a beverage, by a single sip from the spoon the utensil is placed at one side of the saucer.
Sometimes a spoon is provided with a fork for juicy pies or puddings with liquid sauces; even so, its use is to be avoided.
Bread should be broken into small pieces with the fingers, then buttered, and eaten piece by piece. It should be placed on a small plate provided for it. To eat bread or rolls with a knife or to handle it with a fork betrays an ignorance of custom.
Fruit, if served whole, is pared and sliced with a silver knife, and conveyed to the mouth in small pieces. After a fruit course, finger bowls are in order, even at the informal breakfast table.
Certain articles are classed as "finger foods." Among the most common of them are olives, salted nuts, candy, celery, watercress, burr artichokes, hard crackers carrying small pieces of cheese, and small cakes. For treated and layer cakes a fork is required.
Enthusiastic conversationalists are sometimes observed postulating with a fork or knife or a piece of bread. Nothing more quickly betrays a lack of home training in manners at table.
All food and table utensils should be handled as inconspicuously as is consistent with their purpose. Because it indicates nervousness, particularly because it annoys others, it is considered impolite to toy with silver, salt cellars, rolls or other small objects during a meal or between courses.

It is better to refuse second helpings at any but the home table. It is plain that second helpings delay the progress of the meal; but if the plate is passed for another portion, the knife and fork are laid together on its edge.
During the course of a meal, the knife and fork should never be left hanging across the knees. In public places at a banquet, or at a formal dinner in a private home, the napkin is left unfolded at the conclusion of a meal.
A person making an extended visit in a home tells his or her napkin or does not fold it, according to the custom of the family.
A guest at a single informal meal leaves his napkin folded or unfolded. From McCall's Service Bulletin, "A Book of Manners," next issue, "Table Service."

CALLS HERSELF 'NEW WOMAN' BUT FORGETTING ROMANCES

Is woman rapidly becoming the most powerful of the sexes? Is there concerted action behind the various movements by which women are seeking to dethrone the male who has ruled so long?

In "qualify" the sole aim of the women who, through their club, legislative lobbies and other activities, are constantly making fresh demands in the name of their sex?

These men form the burden of many a discussion where men meet to talk over the affairs of the day. They are not idle talks, either, for many well-informed men sincerely believe that woman, emboldened by her new found freedom, is looking forward to the day when she shall rule the globe.

Man Fear Results

These men will tell you in all seriousness that the subject is not a laughing matter; that there are well-founded reasons for their suspicions in this respect.

Fresh impetus has been given to the subject by the release of First National Bank's "The Woman on the Ferry" coming to the Community theater, Monday and Tuesday June 8-9, a drama in which the heroine, played by Sylvia Broussard, serves with eleven men on a ferry serving a woman for the murder of a man. She is the only one of the twelve who votes for the acquittal of the female prisoner, and in the end she triumphs.

Stomach Remedy
A Fast Seller
DARE'S MENTHA PEPSIN

Six Thousand Bottles Sold in One New Jersey Town Last Year. G. E. Dehlin declares Money Back if One Bottle Doesn't Make Any Stomach Sufferer Rejoice.

At last the way has been found to combine Pepsin with other corrective stomach agents so that it will do the most good in the shortest possible time.

Why bother with slow actors when one tablespoonful of this splendid and pleasant liquid remedy will cause gas, bloating, heaviness, heartburn or any upset condition of the stomach to speedily vanish.

And why should any man or woman suffer another hour with indigestion or any stomach misery when the remedy that acts almost instantly can be easily procured?

But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress, but it also conquers stubborn indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, and puts an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency which distressing troubles are nearly always caused by chronic stomach disturbance.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take, has a delightfully refreshing taste and after it has put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel, for besides correcting stomach disorders this supremely good remedy that G. E. Dehlin and druggists everywhere guarantee, is a fine tonic that builds you up and makes you work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

KENNETH CAMPBELL WINS FIRST PRIZE

the United States, which are the natural home of the wild life, cover an extent of approximately 550,000,000 acres of a little over one-fourth of the total land surface. But of this area, vast though it is, five throughout the dry summer seasons is almost constantly laying waste to great portions of it, menacing not only our rapidly vanishing natural resources in timber, but the precious heritage, our natural wild animal life within its borders. Three great fires of comparatively recent history, the Peabody fire, the Hinckley fire, and the Great Idaho fire alone devastated an aggregate area of 3,449,000 acres. Yet foresters tell us it is the small fires that do the greatest damage. In 1915 there were 35,000 of these in the United States, rendering homeless or destroying completely countless numbers of the wild creatures.

This enemy, forest fire, lays waste annually $25,000,000 worth of property. But what money value can be placed on the beautiful animals whose homes and very existence are at the mercy of these annual ravages? Picture, if you will, one of these hot, raging, raging monsters, traveling at the rate of twenty or more miles per hour, sweeping before it in one huge March with death, panic-stricken buck and doe, the wild leaping hare, the doughty possum startled from his slouchy ease to join his more agile brothers in their flight, the lumbering bear, the deadly panther, and all the innumerable smaller creatures—leaving in its wake devastation, ruins of the burnt and homes of its dumb victims, charred bodies of their young—and black ruin.

In the early history of our country our forests were replete with wild life of every kind, but each year is seeing its rapid depopulation. Are we, as custodians and guardians of these woodland creatures, willing to have it so? There is danger of complete extermination of many species if something radical and remedial is not done. It would seem, from a superficial standpoint, that man and fire were in league for their destruction. Man is careless, and fire gets in its work. And the tragedy of it is, scarcely all fires are preventable. They are the result of ignorance, indifference, and carelessness. The thoughtless tourist, leaving a smoldering campfire to be fanned by the passing breeze. This an unconscious agent of destruction; the ignorant and careless pedestrian or motorist who chews aside his cigarette stub to start a conflagration of wanton wastes—at the door of these casual and indifferent passerby can be laid the charge of incendiarism and slaughter.

Even the lumberman who harvests the forests, and takes away the home and food of his wild brother, leaves in his wake too often the brush unplied and unburned, ready when it dries, to become a natural tinder for the casual spark.

What will America be without her game, without her forests? It will be like bleak China, naked slopes and stark valleys, dead rivers and dry streambeds. We could lose the resourcefulness, stamina, courage, and sportsmanship that we inherited from our pioneer forefathers, qualities that have made us leaders among the nations. The wild life yields a subtle aesthetic influence upon our lives that we must not lose.

Of what use are the Audubon Societies, the Isaac Walton League, Sportsman's Associations and similar organizations if the public is not educated to an assumption of responsibility for the homes of our wild friends? Man has ruined scenery over all other creatures by reason of his superior intelligence and his ability to combat and harness the so-called elements. Animals fear fire, because they can neither cause nor destroy it. Man feels no such alarm because he can handle it. To man, then, in his superior ability, belongs the responsibility, the custodianship, of this a minimum the damage wrought by this great enemy of innocent and helpless wild creatures to prove his right of ascendancy. Man's loss in terms of acreage and money is inconceivable to the loss by extinction of his friends in feather, fur, and fin. They are the real victims of the forest fire.

Only through individual responsibility can this annihilating enemy of wild life be combated. Nature societies for the development of sentiment for preserving wild life should be supplemented by education through the schools of the country, to the end that every boy or girl should be lead to realize that he or she can have a part in the preservation of one of America's greatest assets—her wealth in the wild creatures of air, land, and water.

NOTE—(The essay by Miss Margaret Gravelle of Rapid River, winner of second prize will be published next week.)

Base Ball Gossip

Manager Tom Deslets got the season's first hit in the league games. He doubled in the first frame at Escanaba and scored ahead of Knapp, who had walked, when Gervais singled. Lefty thus gets credit for bringing in the first run.

Escanaba made two home runs Saturday, one by Vassau and the other by McDonald, both Manistique players last season. Not to be entirely outdone, however, Big Chief Williams, Gladstone's heavy hitting outfielder, slammed one over the center field fence in the eighth frame, bringing in Deslets who had walked. It was a powerful drive and travelled a long ways beyond the fence. The Big Chief has several more of these drives in storage. Here's hoping he lets a few out against Marquette Sunday.

Manager Tom Deslets played third in Saturday's game but Sunday put in Dib Bovin at that place. It worked fine too. Dib coming through in good shape. He will be given another chance at that station Sunday against Marquette.

Gladstone has the heaviest hitting team it has had in years. It will be interesting for visiting pitchers as soon as the boys get their eye on the ball.

Harry Knapp wanted to do some real work in order to get in better playing shape. He started Wednesday morning with the road building crew for Nebel Bros.

Walter Vanderwehe and Lloyd Ackley will remain with the team ready to be called upon any time. Both are promising youngsters who will probably show their ability before the end of the season.

Kircher got a hit in each of the two games. He will be an improved hitter over last year. His fielding had not been up to last year's standard. But the fans know they can depend on Kircher in a pinch.

Bovin provided the breaks for Gladstone in the second game, when he hit Vassau's first offering for three bases. It started a three-run rally, enough to win the game as events turned out. Dib got a hit on his next time up but was caught off first and run down. Too anxious to get around.

Bubs Kuhn has won three games for Marquette, two against Munising and one against Calumet. He pitched a no-hit no-run game against Munising Memorial Day and came back Sunday and allowed Calumet only seven hits in 12 frames. That the Bubs Kuhn at Gladstone knew him in the 1922 ses-

GLADSTONE WON SUNDAY AFTER LOSING FIRST GAME AT COUNTY SEAT

It takes good pitching and fielding, and timely hitting. Gladstone didn't have much of either in the Memorial Day game at Escanaba. They lost, 8 to 4. It was different in the game here Sunday. The boys came through with timely hits. They fielded well, and Dean J. Patten, "Lefty" furnished some very effective pitching. While accounts for Gladstone's victory over Escanaba in the second game by a 5 to 1 score.

Gladstone's closers started their offensive early in each game. The difference was that they secured and held their advantage in the second game while they couldn't in the first because Gharby or Ryan, who was pitching, did not have control and he was hit hard. The score was 6 to 2 when he was taken out after two were retired in the fourth. Manager Tom Deslets called on Lefty Patten after two had been walked. The youngster ended the frame by striking out Vassau on three pitched balls.

He pitched so well in the next two innings, despite the fact that Escanaba scored two runs, that it was decided to keep him for Sunday's game. Walter Vanderwehe, local pitcher, was sent to the mound at the start of the seventh. Van got them, two, three in that frame, striking out one and only four men faced him in the eighth, the first batter, Boyle, getting off through an infield error. Van pitched himself out by striking out Knoeche and causing the next to be retired on easy grounders.

Bellin that he is getting along as well as may be expected. His parents of this city and brother Joseph Bellin are at Green Bay.

MARQUETTE HERE FOR GAME SUNDAY

Gladstone's third game of the league schedule will be played here next Sunday afternoon when the locals will endeavor to break the winning streak of the strong Marquette aggregation which has now won three straight games, largely through the brilliant pitching of Bubs Kuhn, former Gladstone infielder. Eddie Fox, catcher for Manager Masby in the 1923 season is also with Marquette, so that they now have a former Gladstone battery. On the mound for the locals will be Lefty Patten the little left hander who beat Escanaba Sunday, and who has already won the admiration of the local fans for his nerve and pitching ability. Patten will return here tomorrow with Manager Tom Deslets and Chief Williams. The local line-up will be the same as it was in Sunday's game. Dib Bovin going back to third base and Deslets to center field. It is expected that there will be a large delegation of Marquette fans to accompany the team and a capacity crowd is expected to turn out locally. Marquette is pointed for the pennant this season. Gladstone thinks it can stop them, in fact beat 'em to it.

That is why he's coming home.
Kiss him—he won't bite you child;
All them getting suya look wild.

My Mother
Who fed me from her gentle breast
And hushed me in her arms to rest.

When sleep forsook my open eye,
Who was it sung sweet lullaby
And rocked me that I should not cry?

Who sat and watched my infant head
When sleeping in my cradle bed,
And tears of sweet affection shed?

When pain and sickness made me cry,
Who gazed upon my heavy eye
And wept for fear that I should die?

Who ran to help me when I fell,
Or kiss the part to make it well?
My Mother.

Who taught my infant lips to pray,
To love God's holy word and day,
And walked in wisdom's pleasant way?

I've seen a lot of fellers try a lot
Of different ways.
For carvin' out their fortunes, through
My little stretch of days.

I've watched the clever minded an'
The ones that thought they were
The pleasure-seeking mought an' the Lile gossip.

An' I've noticed at the finish, after all
The fuss and boast,
That the chap that works the hardest
Is the one that gets the most.

So long friends, see you next week.

An end to mosquito plague may and never stung human beings. Fur-were found there was never any sign of the stinging variety. As an experi-non-stingers supplanted their stinging brothers in a short time.

G.H.S. GIRLS THIRD AT MUSIC CONTEST

Gladstone High School placed third in the Girls Glee club event of the Upper Peninsula Music contest held at Marquette Normal school auditorium Thursday and Friday, May 28 and 29.

It is by no means to be considered a failure because of the lack of a 'cup' for their efforts. This is the first year in which the local Glee Clubs have entered any contests of this nature. It has succeeded in creating much enthusiasm and more appreciation for music among the students, and will doubtless be an annual event hereafter.

The local contestants under the direction, Miss Nellie Althaus, musical instructor, devoted considerable time to preparation, and are to be praised for the showing made.

Competitors from the following schools took part in the different events, Class A Crystal Falls, Escanaba, Ishpeming, Marquette, Negaunee and the Saint. Schools with an enrollment of 300 or over, were classed in this group. Class B included the following: Baraga Parochial, Marquette, Munising, Newberry, Normal High, Marquette, Baraga, Norway, and Gladstone.

The only event entered by the local contestants was the boys and girls chorus selections both separately and mixed. In the Girls Glee Club, Class A Escanaba took first honors, and Ishpeming second. Munising first, Marquette Normal High, second, and Gladstone, third, of the Class B group.

Baraga won first place in the mixed chorus of the Class A schools, and Marquette Normal High first of the Class B groups. In the Boys Glee club selections, Sault Ste. Marie won first, in Class A and of the Class B schools, Marquette Normal High first. There was also orchestra, band, and string ensemble events. The final result of all the points made was first place to Sault Ste. Marie of Class A, Crystal Falls, second, and Marquette third, of Class B, first place to Normal High, Baraga second, and Baraga Parochial third.
