IF A BROWN CRUST forms inside your kettle, caused by the continuous boiling of water, take 1/2 cup common washing soda and piece of soap and it will be clean and boil in it, and it will be cleaned to your entire satisfaction.

TO REMOVE SKINS OF PEACHES—place the peaches in a pan and cover with boiling water. They will come off easily. To prevent their turning black, from the hot water, after paring, place in a pan of cold water.

PRO AND CON ON PAPER FLOWERS

It is a well known fact that flowers add much to the attractiveness of a home. Almost every housewife, cultivates them in the summer time so as to beautify the interior of her home with their blossoms at least during that season. Later on when the real ones are an impossibility, we use vases of paper ones coming forth to decorate the living room table.

It is regarding these, that there is much comment both ways. Of course a far as the beauty part is concerned, these would be bouquets serve the purpose very well. How many of us have not approached a vase of these with the intention of partaking of their fragrance, only to find that some skillful fingers have fashioned them out of paper, and perhaps preserved their shape and beauty by a bath in wax. Flowers add a note of cheerfulness and contentment to a place that perhaps would otherwise lack. If such things can make folks smile instead of wearing a poker face then lets have the paper flowers.

On the other hand, the big argument against them is the dust they cause the accumulation of. The little particles seem to gather on their petals over night, and are almost impossible to remove without ruining the flower to some extent. Dust and dirt breeds disease, and as we know is one of the elements favoring the world's plague, Tuberculosis. So far, so good. Every housekeeper should judge for herself whether she make use of the artificial blossoms or not.

YANKEE SHORTSTOP BEGAN ON TELEPHONE CO'S TEAM
"Fee Wee" Wainwright, the promising young shortstop with the New York Yankees, whose splendid playing was responsible for Everett Scott breaking the greatest string of consecutive games in the history of baseball, got his start with the team of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Birmingham, Ala. This was in 1921 and it proved the stepping stone to a semipro job with the Selma, Ala. team in 1922. The next year he joined the Augusta Club whence he was secured by the Yankees.

IN MICHIGAN
There was a net gain of 33,664 bell-towed telephones in the state of Michigan during 1924. There was an increase of more than 21 per cent in local telephone calls over the Bell lines in the state during 1924.

WHAT OTHERS ARE THINKING

This Week's Question:
WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF THE PROPOSED INCREASE IN TELEPHONE RATES

I am not in favor of increasing the rates. They're getting enough now, since the toll charge between here and Escanaba, and here and Rapid River was added. I also think we are entitled to the automatic bell system. We ought to have modern improvements the same as other places at the price we're paying.

Now when the Company is changing their office, they might as well change their system, and in that way avoid expense later on. Of-course none of us know what it costs the company to operate, so can not judge whether they are really running under a deficit or not, but we do know that we're paying enough for the service we get. There is little management here. This branch is under the control of the Escanaba office, and is not effected very much, by their regulations.

J.P. MALLONGREE
I don't think the Telephone Company justified in raising the rates. We have to pay extra to call Escanaba, and Rapid River which makes our telephone bills pretty high with out an increase in rates. My bill always amounts to in the neighborhood of $9.00 a month for the house and theatre, with the toll charge for calling Escanaba. Then too, we've got old style methods here, and the service is not worth any more than we're paying right now.

LOUIS CRETENS
No, I should say not. We're paying enough now. I can't complain on the service as far as the police department is concerned. As far as I know, we're getting fairly good service, but we're paying plenty for it too. I think at the present rate, we're entitled to the automatic system. We pay our telephone bills, and have a right to expect the company to provide us with modern improvements without expecting us to furnish extra funds for them. We're entitled to the automatic bell system at the present rate.

ERIC LINDAHL
Well I should say I'm not in favor of an increase in rates, cut down the rates, if anything, not increase them. The telephone company is making more money than the rest of us put together. The telephone business is one of the most paying industries in the country, and they're making all kinds of money. They complain, but have no reason to do so. Of course, if the public will keep on them giving them more money every time they ask for it, they'll take it. If anyone ought to kick it's us. We're holding the bag, and paying the price. I think the toll charge between Gladstone, Escanaba and Rapid River is nothing but a graft. That charge costs about four times as much per month as the phone rate itself. My bill each month amounts to between ten and fifteen dollars. I think we ought to be satisfied with the service. Once in a while Central is sleeping, but who's not? The service is alright, and we should be satisfied.

AUGUST GOODMAN

I think the rate here is sufficient without an increase, but on the other hand if the company is "running in the hole," they are entitled to more money. I believe in everyone getting their fair share on their investment, and in case the telephone company is not, I say raise the rates. I have no idea of their expenses, but the matter should be thoroughly investigated before an increase is granted them. Regarding a change in system here, I don't think Gladstone is large enough to afford the automatic bell system. Conditions in the country at present are not such to warrant large expenditures.

J. E. DRUM

I consider the rate as it stands now fair enough for both parties. I don't think Detroit should be given a lower rate. When you consider the matter from the standpoint of advertising, the telephone is worth more to an owner of one in a larger town than in a smaller one. Take for example, the merchant in a town where there are many phones. He can be reached by all of these and should pay more for the service.

Of course, the telephone business is not a paying industry in all towns. A town the size of Rapid River could never charge enough there to make it pay. Like every public utility, there are always sections that cannot support themselves, and this deficit must be made up by the larger centers that make more than their quota.

We have a very small number of phones here for our population. 499 out of 5000 people. However it appears to me that the telephone company is content to leave it at that number. They are rather indifferent, and don't even try to get additional business, if they'd go after the people, and solicit for phones, the telephone business in this town could be made more profitable.

POSTER BOARDS FROM ALL ANGLES

Dear Editor:
When it comes to bill boards Gladstone is not lacking for their share of them on Delta avenue and other conspicuous places. We know of six on the Main avenue and streets leading therefrom that don't add any attractiveness. A person walking alone is suddenly confronted by an ad for pure milk or someone's favorite brand of cigarette and their entire line of thought is spoiled. Lots of cities prohibit postal boards on the Main thoroughfares. To get the impression they make, imagine a beautiful well cared for park, with flowers and running water in the midst of a carpet of green, and then somewhere's a billboard, advertised a tire that will outwear all others. I say the two don't jibe at all.

On the other hand, they cover a multitude of sins. They don't look near as uninviting as a vacant lot uncared for, if vacant lots on the Main street were kept up, junk, refuse, and rubbish were not littered there, we would decide in the affirmative favoring the vacant lot. The trouble is people will not take care of these open spaces.

When that is the situation I would rather see an ad for "A Skin You Love to Touch," or "Keep that School Girl Complexion" any day than an accumulation of garbage.

R. A. Hale should be given his due credit for the appearance of local boards. They are always freshly painted and the posters changed often. If we had a billboard surrounding the old opera house junk pile one would not feel their eye sight failing him as he approached the location. Consider the appearance of the vacant lot next to the Lyric theater if it were revealed to the public eye. No, I'll stand for the postal boards even on Main street when they conceal garbage. They are valuable, and an asset along a main highway. We have several from here to Escanaba. The merchant needs to advertise, and cannot afford to overlook the value of these conspicuous places. They attract tourists to our city, and make passers-by know we're on the map. Thanks for the space.

If you have any momentous question regarding your person, your love affairs—any matter pertaining to the heart, write and ask for advice in the matter. It will be given you free of charge by Mrs. Oscar Branty of Detroit, Michigan. Address your letters to the Delta Reporter, make them anonymous, if you choose not to have your name disclosed. Mrs. Branty's answer to your query will appear in the following issue.

DEAR MRS. BRANTY—I kept company with a young man several years ago, and liked him very much. The fact of the matter is that I still love him, and have thought daily of him since that time. Recently we met again, and all my former emotions returned. I feel that I love him as much as ever, although he seems to regard me differently. What can I do to win back his love?

BLOND
Blond—if the matter is really as serious as you lead me to think it is, I cannot believe that he regards you "differently." However, if that is the case Blond, the only thing for you to do is to forget him. Go out with others, and do not allow your mind to dwell upon his attitude toward you. Forget him. Blond.

DEAR MRS. BRANTY—I am a girl 14 years of age, and want to know if you don't think I'm old enough to go with fellows. I'm supposed to return to school next month but am not going to if my parents don't change their attitude. They refuse to allow me to keep company with any young men. Other girls my age and in my class in school go out.

A FRESHMAN
Freshman: I think you are a little too young yet don't you? Of course parties where your gentleman friends are present, and also a proper chaperone, are all right but wait a few years before you start keeping company with young men.

DEAR MRS. BRANTY—I am nineteen years old, and have kept steady company with a young man two years, my senior for the past three years. However now I have another that I care more for, and would like to "cold shoulder" the other in some manner.

(that would not hurt his feelings, I don't know whether this second one cares for me or not, but the first acquaintance does I am sure, and in the far future plans that I should be his bride. Please tell me how I can work this.

PONDERING
Pondering, don't you think you are making a most foolish mistake? You say you are sure the first cares for you, but the second as you seem to imply, considers you like any other of his friends, a source of enjoyment for an evening. When you look at it in that light, can't you see that it is the first man who's acquaintance you should covet, and not the second? Don't try to "work" anything. Nothing is ever gained by hurting another's feelings, which you would be sure to do.

DEAR MRS. BRANTY—I don't suppose many young men contribute letters to this department, but anyhow I'm one and what I would like to know is this: My girl friend does not like the color of my hair, which happens to be a light brown. Black hair for a man, is her only cry. When that's the case, you can see how black hair it needs to be. How to do it is my query? I have heard of dye soaps, and fluids, but would like to get hold of a good dependable preparation.

Troubled
Well, Troubled, I may as well tell you, that I don't favor hair dyeing. Of course there are exceptions to all rules, and I have a very dependable recipe to be used in these exceptions. However, let me say, that Nature has provided us with the shade of hair best suited to coincide with the rest of our looks, and some times when we change we don't strike just the right thing. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope, you will receive the recipe for a dependable dye preparation by return mail, and I can assure it will make a permanent black.

Sold Brass to Tourists

Sault Ste. Marie-Clyde McCoy and Robert Young are in the county jail where they are being held to face charges of violation of the liquor law at the September term in circuit court. Young and McCoy are charged to have sold and furnished Thomas Gaw and William Van Buren, of Lansing, a quart bottle of whiskey. Ray Roberts was temporarily held when the crowd was rounded up and a free car taken. At a special arraignment McCoy and Young were charged with selling the whiskey to the visitors. They demanded an examination which immediately followed. McCoy and Young are being held in default of $500 bail. No charges were brought against the visitors or Roberts. The free car was returned to Van Buren, the owner.

Shell Explosion Hurts Two

Bessemer—Willard Church was severely injured and his sister, Ardel, was slightly hurt when a shotgun cartridge was thrown into a fire about which they were playing, and sent shot flying in the air, some of it lodging in their bodies. The accident happened in the baseball park. The youngsters started a fire and were playing about it in some manner. A loaded shot gun shell was thrown into the flames. The children, it is believed, were attempting to put the fire out when the shell exploded with terrific force.

We hear the State Highway Department is planning on almost doubling its planning to keep the roads open when the snow comes next winter.

"All night party ends in knife play," says a Sturgis paper. Those boys who stay out all night often get to be regular cut-ups along towards morning.

A man arrested at Lansing for shop lifting admitted that he had a regular job stealing women's silk hosiery. Such things were understood to be published. They only arouse the envy of husbands who have a regular job buying it.

Three days after the aviator, suspected of ram running, had made his escape from near Kalamazoo, officers in four states were called upon to help apprehend him. And rightly so. He had had time enough to be hiding in all of them by then.

The butcher's picnic at Grand Rapids last week closed with a display of fireworks in the evening. For this purpose, we understand, a hot tempered customer who had been taken along was stood in an open place and told the price of steak.

A Shetland pony which escaped into a field at Perry three weeks ago has deduced capture ever since. Our own method of catching a Shetland pony is to walk up quietly, as if we weren't interested in the pony, and then suddenly clap a hat over it.

ALL WORN OUT?

So Was Mrs. Balangia Who Tells Her Experience

Are you tired all the time; worn out night and day? Does your back ache as if it would break? Do you suffer dizziness, headaches, rheumatic twinges or distressing urinary disorders? You have good cause, then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend, the Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Gladstone case is convincing:

Mrs. Joseph Balangia, 630 Voorhis Ave., says: "I had a severe cold. My eyes trouble came on me and I suffered with a dull ache through the small of my back. When I straightened up or turned quickly, sharp stabbing pain darted across my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and acted no too often. I felt worn out and had no ambition to get about my housework. After using Doan's Pills from Dealin's Drug Store, I was cured."

Children whose diet consists principally of meats, sweets, bread, butter and potatoes seldom develop normally. Such a diet is deficient in salts, and if persisted in at the time when the permanent teeth are forming, will lay the foundation for lifelong dental troubles.

Every Third Generation Wears Overalls

Wealth seems to travel in cycles, that is, the son of the laboring man, having been given greater advantages than his father, with a modest inheritance for a start, and with the habits of Thrift cultivated in his youth, is able to build up a competence that precludes the actual necessity of practicing economy. His son having had no financial responsibility or training, dissipates his father's fortune and is not able to replace it. The third generation having neither capital nor training, goes back to "union-bred" to earn a living. Thrift has its place in keeping a fortune as well as building it up. Start the child right. These lessons should be his first.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA OPENS TONIGHT

FIVE DAYS OF EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT SPONSORED BY BUSINESS MEN

The Chautauqua program will open tonight with a performance by the Croatian Tamburica Orchestra, minstrels of the Balkans. The members appear in the bright, colorful costumes of their native land singing and playing their Slavic music in its sweet, new and thrilling power. Opera selections, American songs, popular and patriotic airs are combined in pleasing programs.

The Chautauqua has been brought to Gladstone by a group of business men. Any surplus over the cost will be donated to some civic organization such as the Child Welfare club or the Girl Scouts. It means five days of most entertainment.

Tickets were placed on sale Tuesday and can be procured from the DeHill or Erickson & Yonell Drug stores and the Community Building. The town is being canvassed and advertised by a group of girls working under the direction of Mesdames, L. W. Gordon, Glen Jackson, Fred Furberg, William Marble, and Mac Newaux. There are also other workers in certain organizations, all combining to put this Chautauqua over big.

It will be held at the City Park at the end of Teath street, in a big brown tent provided by the Chautauqua players. They come here well recommended by outsiders as well as by local people who have attended some of the performances in other cities. They have played in Menominee, Escanaba and Manistique.

This is the first time in about seven years that we have had a Chautauqua here, and unless the people of Gladstone back the undertaking, which heartily it probably will be, some time before another will be engaged.

The Chautauqua affords an opportunity to see worth while performances at a price much less than the usual charge. Any one of the attractions are worth the price of a season ticket. It is a series of entertainments that are of a large variety, that we don't get a chance to see very often in a small town. The program for the week follows:

First Day—Evening
Croatian Tamburica Orchestra.

Second Day—Afternoon
Musical Entertainment.
Lecture: "A Nation's Sights and Shadows."
Evening
Grand Concert.
Lecture: "Houses Without Fronts."

Third Day—Afternoon

Fourth Day—Afternoon

Stop the Leak

If a water pipe burst you would have no doubt as to the proper measure of correction, which is to repair the break, stop the leak, and remove the cause. If an equally simple accident creates havoc within your body, are you as logical?

All disease with which the human family is afflicted has a cause. Most disease has a single, simple cause—pressure upon nerves which prevents a proper flow of motive power to the various cells and organs of the body.

In cases of nervous disorders the very nature of the trouble suggests that the trouble lies in the nerves, yet we find all sorts of remedies, tangible and otherwise, being applied to the removable effects. Chiropractic spinal adjustments alone deal directly with the cause!

SANITARIUMS FAIL—ADJUSTMENTS SUCCEED

"Since 1920, when I had a nervous breakdown, I found nothing that really helped me until I began taking adjustments a year ago. I had never been treated much by physicians, but once started I seemed to be a target for experiments. At one sanitarium my system was so saturated with strong drugs that both hearing and thought have been permanently injured. From another I was sent home. Soon afterwards I began taking adjustments. My improvement was such that I was dismissed July 1st, 1923." —Miss O. C. Vanhook, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2118-M.

5,000 WAR ORPHANS NEED FAIR CHANCE

America has a war problem of her own. Six years after the World War, and after a billion and a half of American dollars have gone to relieve suffering and starvation abroad, the Child Welfare Committee of the American Legion reported on January 1, 1925, "There are 5,000 children today in the United States, orphans of men killed in the world war, who need immediate help to secure for them decent homes, education and a fair chance in life."

The Legion survey shows about 35,000 American children lost their fathers directly in the war service. Many other fathers, disabled by wounds, disease or "shell shock" are dying or permanently helpless to care for their families. In a certain proportion of cases the mothers of these children have also died. The total of American War Orphans and "half-orphans" is large, and is constantly growing. Of that total the Legion child welfare indicates the majority are being well cared for in good homes. It is the needy 5,000 who constitute the immediate problem.

Steps Already Taken

Having discovered the extent of this problem, it appears that the Legion is already taking steps to meet the situation. Its basis of action is a determination to see that every war orphan shall have as good a home and as fair a chance in life as it could have had but for the fact of his father giving his life for his country. The Legion National Child Welfare program calls for preserving the natural home if one parent survives and is in all capable of maintaining a home, with reasonable outside help. If no home is possible with a parent of blood relation, the plan is to arrange for the adoption of such war orphan into the home of an American family that will give genuine home love, care and upbringing. Legion members will be favored among those applying to adopt these children, and each foster home will be carefully investigated.

To meet the question of immediate care, the Legion is building a series of "billets" as they are called, or cottage groups, where children can be cared for in home-like surroundings until such time as offers may be made for their adoption. The first of these billets is now operating at Otter Lake, Michigan, and a second will soon be opened in Jersey. Billets in Tennessee, Kansas and one in the Far West are planned and land for the first two have been given.

Much Local Work Done

There will probably be a limited number of these homes, because much of the Legion Child Welfare Work is performed locally by posts of the Legion, and children are cared for without being sent to the billets. The Legion also co-operates with the many excellent welfare agencies already existing, in order to avoid duplication and to strengthen the work of child care.
