

PROPOSE PLANS FOR PERMANENT CITY FARM MART

CITY CLUB MAY RECOMMEND DIRECTION OF SUITABLE BUILDING HERE

MAYWOOD OWNERS WRITE

Consideration of the erection of a suitable place for the city farm market, and the adoption of an ordinance under which such a market place would be conducted, will be considered as the result of a report made at the monthly meeting of the Gladstone City club Wednesday night, by A. I. Sahlberg, secretary. The plans would provide a roof for shelter, and stalls for 40 trucks or wagons. It would be located at the corner of Minnesota and Eighth street, or if that property could not be secured at a fair price, at some other suitable location.

Mr. Sahlberg's report was very comprehensive and in addition blueprints of the proposed building have been drawn by U. Anderson of the Marble-Card company. Figures as to the cost will be secured and a means of financing the proposition will then be sought.

Market Now Assured

Whether or not a suitable building is provided, the people of Gladstone are assured of a farm market and the farmers in the surrounding territory may also feel that some provisions will be made for them to bring their produce for direct sale to the consumers in this city. Mr. Sahlberg's report showed that 19 market days were held last year, and that at least 60 farmers were in attendance during that time, the average for each day being between 20 and 30. The cost of promoting and conducting the market was provided for through funds of the City club.

Interesting letters were read from one of the owners of the property at Maywood, which is being held for development as a resort property. It brought the interesting information that the project being considered is an exceptionally large one, covering the improvement on a large scale, with exclusive summer homes. The delay has been partly caused by a need to clear the abstracts, and to other minor causes which are expected to be removed soon, perhaps in time to permit some work this coming summer. The writer of the letter promised the club that a visit here would be planned for the summer. The owners live in Ann Arbor and are on the faculty of the University of Michigan.

Many New Members

H. J. Norton, president of the club, in opening the business meeting, declared that the membership had now reached a total of 77. Of these, more than 50 were at the meeting, showing the wide-spread interest in the activities of the club in boosting for the development of the community.

An agricultural contact committee will be appointed by Pres. Norton, and a meeting with rural neighbors may be arranged soon. The club also received a report from the local Salvation Corps, showing the work that had been done here last year, and the secretary was instructed to send a letter commending it for its work.

CONSERVATION COUNCIL MEETS FEBRUARY 6

The fourth annual meeting of the Michigan Conservation Council will be held at Detroit Wednesday, February 6, in connection with a symposium on state conservation problems by members of the Michigan Conservation Commission. WM. ENGLE WAS SOO LINE LINESMAN

Funeral services for William Engle, Soo Line linesman who passed away Thursday afternoon, January 29th, at Detroit Wednesday, were held Monday afternoon from the home at 1609 Wisconsin avenue. Rev. E. W. Calmes, of the Alice Memorial Methodist Church officiated at the service. Pallbearers were Engle Peterson, Harry Erickson, Ed. Swenson, M. Zyrick, John Besonac and John Noblet. Interment was made in Fernwood cemetery.

Mr. Engle had been employed as a linesman for the Soo Line here for the past five years. About a month ago he was transferred to Detroit Lakes Minnesota because it was thought a change in the climate would benefit his health. He remained in his room last Thursday afternoon when he was found dead. A heart attack was given as the cause.

Mr. Engle was making plans to leave Gladstone and join his husband in making their home at Detroit Lakes planning to leave in a few days. His sudden death has become a great shock.

Mr. Engle was an employee of the Soo Line for nearly four years, working in a number of states.

He is survived by his widow, his mother, a sister living in Montana, two brothers, Bert of Huron, South Dakota, and Arthur, of Austin Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Engle of Austin were here to attend the funeral.

GLADSTONE HAS 16 CONFERENCE QUOTA

Of the 500 boys who can be accommodated at the Soo during the Conference on February 12th, 18th and 19th, 65 to 75 will be from Delta County, 16 of these are selected from Gladstone.

Complete information, registration blanks can be secured from G. E. Dehlin, local chairman.

The Soo Line has granted fare and one-half for the boys and their leaders.

Gladstone's quota of 16 boys will be divided among the various organizations who have sent boys in the past, these being Rotary Club, Presbyterian Church, Swedish Mission Church, Swedish Lutheran Church, Methodist Church, Episcopal Church and All Saints Church. Only a definite number from each organization can be sent and only the highest type of boys who will enter into the spirit of the Conference will be acceptable. ASK FOR CHANGES IN CLOSED RIVERS

SPORTSMEN MET TO DRAW UP RECOMMENDATION TO COMMISSION

Several changes in the closed and open streams of Delta county are being recommended to the Michigan Conservation Commission at a meeting Tuesday night of close to 50 sportsmen of Gladstone. Frank N. Miller, president of the Gladstone Sportsmen's Association, presided at the meeting, and the recommendations to the commission have been forwarded by Floyd W. Marble, secretary, and they are as follows:

Days River to be open from the C. & N. W. bridge at Brampton to the mouth.

Rapid River to be open in Delta County.

Whitefish River including East and West branches to be open in Delta and Alger Counties.

Hayward Creek to be open from Burn Camp in Sec. 3 F42 N. R. 20 W. to the mouth.

Dexter Creek to be closed. Engle ties into East Br. Whitefish in Alger Co.

Ford River to be open in Delta County.

Bark River to be open from U. S. 2 and 41 to the mouth.

Since 1925 there have been three main rivers in Delta county open to trout fishing, the feeder streams being closed by order of the commission. In other adjoining counties the feeder streams, some of which run through Delta county, are open, while the Sturgeon, White fish and Escanaba are closed. There have been many such undesirable regulations, the result of "aste in the drawing up of the order." Now it is understood the Commission is anxious to go over carefully all streams and rivers, and to draw up an order that seems consistent with the requirements. The recommendations of sportsmen will be considered and other clubs besides the one at Gladstone have been asked by the Northern Sportsmen's association to send recommendations to Lansing.

Unmasking will take place about eleven o'clock following the Grand March. Prizes are to be awarded to the best dressed man and woman, and for the two most comic costumes.

CHIPPEWA WILL REVIVE POOR LIST PUBLICITY

An enormous increase in the amount of money expended for assistance to the poor of Chippewa county has led the club for county assistance in certain cases at the War Memorial hospital, caused the board of supervisors to revoke a quarterly publication of names of all those helped by the county.

The matter was brought to the attention of the club for county assistance by the publication of the "poor list" the requests for money had grown considerably.

Herbert W. Runnels, who opposed the resolution to cease publication of the list in October, offered the resolution to renew publication. "If they think they can get money from the county without any one knowing about it they will do so," he said. "They will get away with it if they can. There are people who ask the county for help that are as well able to care for themselves as we are."

"Let Not Thy Right Hand Know"

GLADSTONE TRIMS ISHPEMING 24-11

PLAYING RETURN GAME WITH MEMOINNEE THIS EVENING

After three quarters of "dirty-dirty" back and forth with neither team gaining an edge on the other, the Gladstone Keilmen opened a siege of scoring against the Ishpeming High School men in the local Gymnasium last Friday night that netted them a victory of 24 to 11. Nine points were made in the last period of play, and the visitors were held scoreless.

The lineup was Moore and Kircher, forwards; Liberty, center; Switzer and Rouman guards.

Moore's Last Game

Cleve Moore played his last game Friday night. He will be ineligible for the balance of the season due to a new ruling regarding age.

The work of Moore has been invaluable during his two seasons as the first team and he will be greatly missed.

BENEFIT MOVIE FOR SENIOR CLASS MONDAY

The indefinable charm of youth again permeates "The Fourflusher," Universal's comedy which will be at the Rialto Theatre, with Marian Nixon and George Lewis.

The two make an admirably matched couple and carry through their roles with a verve and sweep which would do credit to the old time stars who have been in pictures and on the stage for many years.

Miss Nixon is beautiful and appealing, while Lewis is handsome and winning—both are capable at acting.

The supporting cast is talented, with Eddie Phillips playing the suave young heavy and Churchill Ross playing a comedy role which is even funnier than the one he had in "The Collegians."

Burr McIntosh, as the gruff old uncle, is very amusing, while Hayden Stevenson is the affable automobile salesman.

The lineup for Rialto will be given an award some sort of medal or palm for the direction of this risible rollicking farce.

There will be a matinee showing at 3:45 in the afternoon for children up and to including the Keilmen. Numbers will be given by the High School Orchestra and the Band before the first and second shows in the evening.

The proceeds of the movie will go toward defraying graduation expenses and a Senior Ball.

The first gentlemen's prize went to Elmer Vanderberg and consolation to Irwin Willis.

A delicious luncheon was served and the evening greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. L. J. Weingartner was the chairman of the committee in charge.

This is another of the series of card parties which the Foresters are holding.

FRANK LOCKE SUFFERS LOSS OF TWO FINGERS

Frank Locke suffered a painful injury while at work as a switchman in the Soo Line yards Tuesday evening. The first and second fingers of his left hand were badly crushed and amputation was necessary.

Mr. Locke was struck by a car and knocked to the ground unconscious. His hand lay on the track and the wheels of the car passed over it crushing the two fingers. He was rushed to a physician immediately where it was found necessary to amputate the fingers.

He was resting easily yesterday.

TELLS AUDIENCE FARS OF TODAY ARE OLD IDEAS

SO-CALLED MODERNISTS APING VICES HANDED DOWN THROUGH CENTURIES

MANY ATTEND BANQUET

That the so-called "ultra-moderns" of today who think they are doing the new things of life, are really old-fashioned, was the substance of a splendid address given here Monday night by Rev. Frank L. Leonard of Marquette, superintendent for this Methodist Episcopal District. The occasion was the 25th anniversary of the building of the present Methodist church in Gladstone. Following a very fine turkey banquet served by the Ladies Aid, there was a program of readings, song and music numbers, and a few talks featured by that of Rev. Leonard. C. C. Strickland, principal of the Gladstone High School, presided very pleasantly as the hostmaster of the evening.

"A Progressive Age"

"We are living in a progressive age," said Rev. Leonard. "We like to be told that we are progressive. And if you want to displease a friend or acquaintance, just tell him that you are behind the times. But have you ever wondered? What do we mean by progressive? People have never analyzed that and consequently have strange notions of the meaning of being 'up-to-date.'"

"I am like the rest. I want to be and remain a progressive. But here and now, I will tell you my definition of being up-to-date, and if you have a better definition, I want you to tell me being progressive means to be foremost in the procession in the march toward the ideal set before us. It is an ideal of Peace, Plenty, Health and Righteousness."

"We have come on an awful march. The bible starts us with the first man and woman. They were not virtuous, wise or good. You know of virtuous until tested. Adam and Eve fell and the first tree. We know we have come through ages of bloodshed and barbarism. Our ancestors fought with stones, then with bow and arrows and down to the present day where they fight with high-powered machines of war."

"Old Fashions Vices"

"There is a queer idea going around. People are thinking that it is old-fashioned to be religious, to go to church and to read the bible. We are told that the 'Ultra modern woman' smokes, drinks and tells vulgar jokes. She does these things because she thinks they are up-to-date, when as a matter of record all are 'Old Fashions Vices.' The bible records where people have forgotten religion and the church. There have been variations in the amusements but they are the same, none the less."

"Take this booze business. When did that get to be new? The first of the club did not get out of the ark was to get drunk. That is old-fashioned. Three thousand years ago."

NEWSPAPER MEN HELD BIGGEST CONFERENCE

Nearly 200 editors and publishers of Michigan's community newspapers gathered at the Michigan State College last week for the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association, veteran organization of "weekly" papers.

Placing special emphasis on "More and Better Business for 1928," the delegates went seriously into problems of their craft, during the three days of sessions. H. Z. Mitchell, of Benvidi, Minn., led the first of the national addresses for the weekly paper in one of the most interesting sessions of the conference. Many leaders among the Michigan newspaper fraternity also appeared on the program.

Highlight of the social side of the program came on Friday evening, January 28, when the editors and their families gathered in the ball room of the college Union building for the annual banquet. Gov. Fred W. Green; Roger Andrews, business manager of the Detroit Times and Mr. Mitchell were the speakers introduced by toastmaster Fred Kieater, Iowa.

New officers of the M. P. A., elected for 1928-29, are: President, W. H. Berkeley, Cassopolis, Michigan; Vice President, E. J. Hanna, Emmet County, Michigan; Harbor Springs; Sec. Treas., Herbert A. Wood, Bangor, Advance.

More than 30 other associations are attending the business discussion week for the annual Farmers Week program. It is expected that 5,000 or more will have been in attendance before the week is over.

Here's a gathering of young folks having a good time. Can you tell who they are. We are told that it was some sort of school affair a few years back, perhaps 1911 or thereabouts. Now do you recognize some of them?

The names of last week's group are printed on another page of this issue.

Information distributed in that manner is of solid value and perhaps the share of the more prominent members of the Association to bring all the other into the country was not entirely unprofitable.

GLADSTONE is going to grow. If you don't believe it, just ask the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. The business was engaged in building satisfactory additions throughout the city. They have been at the work for several weeks and have more than 100,000 feet of wire laid.

When the work now underway is completed, there will be considerable betterment in the service. There will be no difficulty in providing service for all the homes in the city. Just as present there is a splendid condition of the water and sewer lines, many of the streets will be more satisfactory. The things will provide for that. The city has one more back in the rear and that is the unimproved residential section.

A matter can always tell whether or not a town has civic pride by its appearance. It is easy to distinguish between the communities that are up and doing and the one that is standing still or sliding back.

SYNOPSIS

The robbery of the mail train at Yellow Canyon, Mich., on Feb. 27, 1933, was the most successful in the history of the United States. The train was carrying $200,000 in gold and silver, and the robbers, led by James Earl Ray, took the money without a shot being fired. The robbers were aided by a local farmer, James M. Davis, who provided them with a car and a horse. The robbers fled in the car, and the money was hidden in a safe in the car. The robbers were later captured by the FBI, and the money was recovered.

Curiously, down MacReady's first, he was anxious to talk with the sheriff in order to get the information he needed for his plan. He had a plan, and he was determined to carry it out.

MacReady was a man of many talents. He was a skilled horseman, a good shot, and a clever strategist. He was determined to pull off the robbery of the mail train.

RURAL ROUTE TO BE EXTENDED

HOOK-UP WITH TRENTARY ROUTE WOULD SPEED DELIVERY

Rural mail service on the rural route recently established from this office will soon be extended to meet with the rural route from the Trentary office according to Postmaster F. J. Gravelle who is working for the extension of the route with the department officials at Lansing.

The two routes are separated by only one half mile between the Friday corner and the less Youngs farm. By extending the local mail route to the Youngs farm and erecting an exchange mail box at that place, mail to Trentary and to the patrons of that route would be delivered the same day of mailing here. Under present conditions, a letter addressed to Trentary is dispatched by way of Escanaba, Little Lake, Chatham and then to Trentary necessitating two days' mail time and in cases where the letter is addressed to patrons on the rural route it takes one more day. Service to the camps on the new Friday route would be benefited by this change, delivering to the camp doors their mail three or four days earlier than the present.

The rural route from the local post office has been gradually increasing since its establishment on December 2, therefore, the number of patrons on the route. The local business places have not as yet taken advantage of the service of delivery at their warehouses to the farmer. An example of the benefits the merchant may avail himself of is easily seen when a fifty pound sack of flour may be sent to any address on the twenty six mile route for only 25 cents. The farmers would also find this way of marketing their produce cheaper than by driving to town. Cream, butter, eggs, and other farm products could be sent in this way without taking the farmer away from his work. Information on rates and other matters pertaining to the rural route could be had by anyone interested by applying at the local postoffice.

LEGION BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS NAHMA

The Legion evened the score with the Nahma team on their own floor by the score of 25 to 22 after losing to Nahma a few nights before on the local floor. The game was hotly contested during the last half when the Legion came up from a trailing position during the first period and played the millers off their feet by spectacular playing. Nelson and Blandin for the locals found the basket with some sensational shots from every angle.

The home was filled to capacity by fans cheering on their teams to win. A large number of local fans made the trip over by auto to witness the game. A cheering game will be eagerly awaited.

Tuberculosis is Communicable
(D. E. R. VandeSlic)

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wiggins was a case for state care. Had she known what to do for herself or for her family the story would have ended differently. For many years she has been one of those chronic open cases in which bacilli were given out for many years. The chances of others becoming infected were many. In fact, before she died she had infected her son and daughter and in turn infected his wife. After his death she was married again. There is every indication to show that the past infection on to her second husband though the primary cause of his death was pneumonia.

The fact should never be overlooked that tuberculosis is a communicable disease. Not only are families broken and children made the charges of charitable institutions but there is constant danger to one person or another. It is not a theoretic danger; the disease is constantly being spread.

An especial effort should be made by the state to protect men and women who are in the prime of life. Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons and claims the largest percentage of its victims at an age when they have young children on their hands. By saving such persons to their families the state is actually the guarantor as the earning capacity of the individual contributes to the wealth of the state. It is the guarantor also in that it saves many children from becoming public charges which is a tax on the wealth of the state.

In protecting mothers and fathers a potent source of infection to children will be removed. Constant contact with tuberculous parents is of the greatest danger to children. Feeding and kissing have often been responsible for the spread of such infection.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association is using all its means to control the spread of the disease in this state. It believes that adequate institutional care is absolutely essential to control, and that citizens at large should be informed concerning the facts of the case. The Christian effort supports the work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and backs its efforts made in carrying out its policy toward the building of institutions.

"Efficient housekeeping" says one of the extension agents of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, "is not necessarily good housekeeping, but usually the two are found in the same home. As better working equipment is installed in homes, the housekeeper finds more time and energy left for interests other than the daily routine duties."

ESCANABA RESERVES BEAT RAPID RIVER

The Escanaba Reserves are a surprise on the local high school basketball court. The reserve team floor last Friday night when they romped away with the game in an easy manner. Although the final score was not stated, the reserve team won by one or more points. The game was never in any real danger during the lead throughout the game. The reserves now stand at one and one, the locals having defeated the Reserves at Escanaba in December.

The girls basketball team suffered their first defeat of the season when Manistique defeated them in a hard fought battle by the score of 8 to 6.

The Manistique cagers performed brilliantly on the floor, their fast work outstripping the crabby basket returning Archambeau of the locals. A return game may be played at Manistique on February 12.

STATE TO RE-NAME LAKES AROUND U. P.

Acting under instructions from Governor Fred W. Green, Dr. Geo. N. Fuller, secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission at Lansing, has appointed a committee with jurisdiction over the upper peninsula, to select names for un-named lakes and streams, and to effect changes in names of lakes and streams where there is a duplication.

The members of the committee are Gen. E. B. Boyer and Prof. Lew Allen Chas. of Marquette; Thos. Conlin, Crystal Falls; Dr. W. O. Hottel, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, and Stanley Nelson of Sault Ste. Marie.

Field explorations have found out investigation that several dozen sizable lakes and streams in the upper peninsula either have no name at all or are known by more than one name. There are several Bass, Trout and other lakes. Governor Green's action is expected to clear this confusion and it to be decided benefit to resort owners and others, including makers of maps and plates.

Home-making is more important than housekeeping, although it usually includes housekeeping as a part of it. "Too often," an authority on home management says "time on energy consumed in housekeeping have made real home making impossible." The farm wife as a business partner of the farmer, the manager of the farm home, needs time and energy to think and plan for real home making through cultivation of those qualities of mind and soul which makes her an interesting and attractive companion to her whole family.

ARTICLE NO. 12

In the preceding article it was pointed out that in a rubber game the player who has lost a rubber and a second hand has decided to make an infomratory bid, it is extremely important to jump partner's bid at once to shut out, if possible, a bid by fourth hand. Here we see two more bids, similar to those given in the preceding article, in which the jump bid was a big winner.

Answer to Problem No. 13

Diamonds—A, 10, 7

PROUDLY WITH SOME MODERATION

BUSINESS EXPERTS INCLINE TO LOOK UPON 1928 AS GOOD YEAR

(By Wayne W. Putnam, Assistant Vice President, Union Trust Company, Detroit) (Written for the Delta Reporter)

Practically all signs point toward good times of reasonable proportions in 1928. The immediate outlook is for gradual improvement to be followed by expansion of both trade and industry during the spring months. A moderate recovery may be expected during July and August followed by increased activity in the autumn period. Conditions prove favorable. A collection of the opinions of business executives and economists with respect to the outlook for 1928 shows the great majority expect moderate prosperity. Although business leaders generally are confident that the year 1928 will be a prosperous one, a note of caution is discernible in their pronouncements. And this, of course, is another important factor on the favorable side for it gives added assurance that business instead of riding forward recklessly on a wave of inflated prices, excessive inventories, unwise expansion of wages, and over-expansion of productive facilities will proceed in a steady and orderly fashion from a steady-to-mouth buying, steady employment, good wages, stabilized prices and efficiency in marketing methods and manufacturing processes. The products of intelligent cautionness and foresight as its hall-mark.

"Rich in Promise" "I know nothing about business," said Edgar A. Guest recently, "but I do know that the new year is rich in promise. It will bring us the flowers of spring, the joys of summer and the beauties of autumn and another Christmas season and the opportunity for all of us to make the most of all these. Who of us shall live the new year through so happily? The business vicar, Mr. Guest's faith in the year just ahead, a faith engendered by a sound and wholesome economic situation.

The year we are now facing, however, though rich in promise, is certain to demand a higher degree of skill and foresight in the conduct of business enterprises than was required in the years that led up to it. While the volume of the business will be large, profit margins are to grow narrower in many lines as a result of increased competition. We may expect to see numerous mergers and consolidations effected during the year in an attempt to bring about further economies in management, production and distribution.

Upward Trend in Steel Considerable importance is attached to the upward turn in the steel industry. The United States Steel Corporation announces that unfilled orders for December showed a gain of $18,450 tons, the highest monthly increase experienced since March, 1926. Large orders from the railroads and the automobile industry are reflected in this increased tonnage.

Another important factor in the economic situation is the continued reduction in the country's output of crude petroleum. Over-production in this field was one of the weak spots of business in 1927.

The improved outlook for the automobile industry is one of the most important auguries for good business generally in 1928. New models have been developed, which have won the hearty approval of the public. Costs have been hammered down enabling makers to offer cars of better quality and better performance at the lowest prices ever quoted. Aggressive merchandising campaigns have been planned in short, nothing has been overlooked that would assist the industry to realize its ambitions to surpass during the current year its former production records. One high authority states that it is doubtful if the industry has ever before gone through a period of radical changes in such a brief period of time.

Autos Help Michigan Michigan, within whose borders over eighty per cent of the country's automobile production takes place. It is estimated that close to four million cars and trucks will be factured in Michigan during 1928 as against an estimated production for the year which has just come to a close. Passenger car production is being stepped up, the output for the first week in January being 37 per cent. The foreign market continues to absorb an increased number of both cars and trucks.

Other industrial lines in the state are beginning to show increased activity. The paper industry is doing a fair piece in the furniture market is now in attendance in Grand Rapids. A good progress at the market is reported. Buyers are showing much interest in the many new designs. Manufacturers of automobile parts and accessories are beginning to feel the stimulus of expanding activity in the automobile industry as are also machinery plants and foundries. The remaining lines are reported to be operating at or close to normal. Very few factories are working overtime.

Employment on Gain There have been some decreases in employment due partly to lack of conditions and partly to lack of business. Improvement, however, is beginning to set in and payrolls are expected to show weekly gains from now on. Steady gains are being registered in employment figures for Detroit, the first week in January showing a gain of 9,445 compared with the preceding week and a gain of 3,104 compared with one corresponding week of a year ago. Wholesalers, with the exception of drugs and groceries, report a good volume of business. Collections are quite fair a little better than a year ago. Retail trade is reported to be in good collections. Detroit's downtown stores enjoyed an increased Christmas business compared with a year ago. Holiday trade was good to excellent throughout the state.

THE BROKE TRAINING RULES (Ironwood Globe)

A youth who is considered the star guard of Norway high school's basketball team brazenly smoked a cigarette on the streets of Crystal Falls a few minutes ago in violation of the training rules of the school. The coach, in the face of the fact that he coupled his team promptly ordered the boy to turn in his suit. Now the boy is lost to the squad for the remainder of the season. It was a commendable and courageous thing for the Norway coach to do, but he had no other recourse if he wanted to play by game rules. It would have been easier for the coach to overlook the infraction, in a measure, and merely reprimand the player because the player meant so much to the reputation of the coach. His reputation is built on the success of the teams that he turns out and a string of victories sometimes means a call to a better school with a higher salary, or a string of defeats sometimes is the occasion for dismissal from coaching duties because of pressure from the towns folks, however unjust such pressure usually is. But the Norway coach faced the situation squarely and placed principle ahead of any personal gain that might result from keeping the boy on the team.

There are too many infractions of training rules by high school boys. A few years ago in a city not far from here a group of high school football boys used to sneak behind a hill and puff on cigarettes during rest periods on the football field. That is one of many instances of the breaking of training rules that should not be permitted.

Too much cannot be said for the attitude taken by the Norway coach. The training rules of high schools must be strictly adhered to. For him to overlook the open flaunting by this player would be fatal to good athletics in his school. If the occasion demanded it, the Norway coach might better fire the entire team and play with amateurs rather than permit his players to violate training rules. The schools of the country need coaches like the Norway coach. He is a credit to the public school system.

A COUNTY MANAGER

Editor O'Brien of the Iron River Reporter is campaigning for a county manager. The Lions' Club of Iron River has endorsed Mr. O'Brien's views and is back of the proposal. One writer in Michigan, Washenaw, has a manager but no one hears of the results secured there, especially in a comparative way. The laws as they exist at present are not such that a manager can function to great advantage. There must be a change in the laws governing counties if any real advancement is to be had from a county manager. On its general principles, The Diamond Drill is with the Reporter in advocating a manager who, by his difference, would go further than merely the county and place the municipal affairs of the entire county, by excepting the cities, under manager. It is in the townships and schools of the county that the biggest portion of the taxes are spent and it is in those places that there must be a scaling down if any measure is going to be brought within reason. (Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.)

TOLERANCE (Eaton Rapids Journal)

The more the writer conducts this editorial column the easier it is for him to see the reason why a great many county editors, though they are temperate men, are nevertheless so tolerant. No matter how considerable or how important the offenses, they are temperate attempt no comments at all. No matter how considerable or how important the offenses, they are temperate attempt no comments at all. Remember this, too. The writer will always put down here what he thinks. He is under no one's influence nor is he going to be. His general aim will be to do what is best for the welfare of Eaton Rapids citizens, as well as Eaton county. It is possible for an editorial writer to be found in the editorial column will have served its purpose.

FIGHTING THE NEWSPAPER A mistaken idea with some people is that the newspaper is an individual proposition. If they don't like the editor, they feel they must kick the paper and stand in the way of its success whenever possible. They do not realize that the local paper is just as much a part of the community as the schools, churches, or anything else. The newspaper is different from any other business, it is a community affair. It is for service to the people and not for any individual. You may not like the editor and the editor may not love you for you too well—but yet there are innocent citizens who wonder why the mail is slow, and why postoffice deficits are large. Any business run the way the postal business is run would be inefficient and overwhelmed with debt. But no private business is run that way. Private business demands experts. Its directors are named for their knowledge and experience, not for their politics. They know that the stockholders expect dividends, and the public demands service. The amateurs of the United States Chamber of Commerce are better than the amateurs of Congress. They recommend changes in postal rates, not realizing, perhaps, that the fault lies not in the rates, but in the organization of the postal service. We shall never have proper rates, and we shall never have a truly efficient postal system, until the postoffice, from top to bottom, is in the hands of trained men with permanent jobs at fair pay; until an ambitious youth, who has passed an examination for clerk or carrier, knows that by hard and efficient labor he can become a first-class postmaster, or an officer of the department, no matter whether he is Republican, Democrat or Mugwump; until the department can institute and pursue policies for the public service without regard to Congress. Then we shall have the sort of postal service we need, and the deficit, if any, would be due to the public's desire to pay well for efficiency, and not to amateur management and amateur's interference with postal affairs.

ADVICE FROM GREENHORNS TO GREENHORNS (Detroit News)

The postal service committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce has recommended to Congress certain changes in the postal rates, thus adding some more amateur advice to the amateur knowledge possessed by the amateurs who run our postal service. The board of directors of the Senators and 435 Representatives Postoffice Department consists of whose chief knowledge of the department's activities is the fact that they can send franked mail for nothing. Every few years the executives of the department are changed by political appointment. Postmasters have a four-year term, and if the party in power changes they are allowed to drift when their terms end. Almost as soon as a postal administrator has had enough experience really to know something about the highly complicated affair who sends away his money for advertising is no different than the citizen who trades out-of town. Both think they are getting more for their money, and again the similarity, both fail to investigate.

RESULTS COUNT!

The Gladstone Merchant

The Citizen

may have one point in his favor-- he may have but a passing interest in Gladstone, while the merchant can only grow if the city grows.

The Delta Reporter

has a better coverage in the Gladstone trading area than has ever been attained by any publication. No advertiser, whether an automobile dealer or a merchant, can hope to thoroughly cover the field, except through the columns of The Delta Reporter. This is not simply a claim--it is a STATEMENT that bears investigation. And we invite comparison.

By pursuing a policy of fairness toward the buyer and the seller, The Delta Reporter has won the good will of the people it serves. The advertisers whose names appear in its columns share in this good will.

The Delta Reporter is the VOICE THAT SPEAKS FOR GLADSTONE and the immediate trading area. It is working 52 weeks in every year for the upbuilding of its community. And it cannot hope to succeed unless it is successful in promoting this growth.

Results count--it pays to investigate.

DEFEAT

No one is beat till he quits. No one is through till he stops. No matter how hard failure hits. No matter how often he drops. A fellow's not down till he lies in the dust and refuses to rise. Fate can slam him and bang him around. And batter his frame till he's sore. But he never can say that he's downed. While he bobs up serenely for more. A fellow's not dead till he dies. Nor beat till no longer he tries. -Edgar Guest

ROOF FIRE DAMAGES BURKHARD HOME SUNDAY

A fire that is thought to have had its origin from a spark from the chimney damaged the Peter Burkhard home on Superior Street, to the extent of $250 Sunday morning. The roof on the south side of the house was almost completely burned and some upstairs room damaged. The fire had gained considerable headway when the fire department was called to the scene. Passerby who noticed it burning informed the Burkhard family. The loss is covered by insurance.

WEST POINT DISCIPLINE HARK ON EMERSON

West Point discipline almost lauded Ralph Emerson, actor in the grandstands during the closing of West Point. William Haines, now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, came Sunday and Wednesday to the Radio Theatre. Many of the scenes were filmed at the government academy, Haines and Emerson playing leads. The play is a sequel to his address to ride in automobiles—when Emerson while in cadet uniform drove his car on to the grounds he was promptly seized by officers. Finally, however, concessions were made to the actors, to help them save time. Edward Sedgwick directed the new picture.

MASONVILLE Hazel Teinert Correspondent

TELLS AUDIENCE FADS OF TODAY ARE OIL IDEAS

said years ago it was common for women to be drunk. The original cigarette was as old as the human race and when Columbus discovered America he found the Indians smoking, and they had been smoking for generations. The snags, too, used tobacco. The old women of our country, who had their girls did it. Maybe they saw how the old women looked when they gathered around with their old cronies, for their pipes and tobacco. That's quite a while ago. And they add nothing to life. "You are not enough to be up-to-date, to do things done now. Any thing that has ever been done has been proved worth while, but I have ahead of it time. There have been those leaders who looked ahead. Jesus was ahead of his time. He was a real up-to-dater. He threw out old ideas, saw so far ahead, and taught so far ahead, that he brought about the Kingdom of Heaven to us."
Skellenger Also Speaks
Another interesting talk was that given by W. S. Skellenger, a member of the local church, who in discussing the subject of "Changing Moderns" brought out that God has a plan for the world and the salvation of this world, and how God's plan will soon fail. Mr. Skellenger is a liberal speaker who gave a message home effectively. There were some numbers, by Mrs. A. H. Haring, by Robert Kue at the piano, vocal duets by Fern and Jane Woodhull, with Miss Hufford accompanying, reading by Mrs. E. C. Cook, by Miss Empson at the piano, another song by Lawrence VanHorn, accompanied at the piano by J. H. Hayward. Entertaining readings were given by Mary Virginia West and Mrs. Van Kleebe, while Winifred Jackson entertained with whistling solos. The church parlors were filled to capacity and many were turned away because of lack of additional seating room. The anniversary banquet has been an annual event and has grown in significance with each succeeding year.

OUR REPORTER OBSERVES--

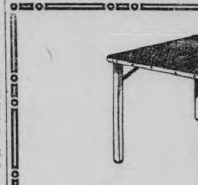

THAT truck drivers are the only motorists who seem to disregard the weather. They have any kind of a storm and seem to scow the sidewalks as you heard their armored tires cranking through the snow.
THAT youngsters wonder if you stop the Mable Arms manufacturing Company that points out the direction of the wind is a real sign after all. And is it?
THAT many of the women that are letting their hair grow are finding uncomfortable. Hair pin manufacturers will have to solve that problem before they can expect any business.
THAT the traffic cop "dummys" at the corner of Delta and 9th streets is covered with snow but drivers make an imaginary circle around it anyway, by force of habit.
THAT Jack Frost has excelled himself in decorating many of the display windows up town. Some of them are left just as he paints them. Some merchants use electric fans and various methods to remove the frost. Our eyes beautiful landscapes, snow covered trees, and even Jack Frost himself in his wintery pastime.

MUCH DEMAND FOR FILMS OF OUTDOORS

Public interest in Michigan's wild life is indicated by the demand for the motion pictures of birds and animals prepared by the Department of Conservation for free service to schools, clubs, and civic organizations of the State. The films cover a wide range of conservation subjects and according to George R. Hagarth, Acting Director of the Department, have already been shown to nearly 100,000 men and school children this season. "Wild Wings", "Mighty the Beaver", "The American Eagle" and the "Wonder Isle" are four of the most popular films in the library of more than 20,000 feet of "movies". The films, with an attendant lecturer—Mr. James McGillivray or Walter Hastings—may be secured without cost by any civic club, school or sportsman's organization or other group through direct application to the Secretary, Conservation Department at Lansing. Both Hastings and McGillivray are well known to thousands of outdoor lovers and conservation enthusiasts in Michigan, and never fail to interest their audience, whether men only, women, or mixed groups, and their pictures have been acclaimed the best procedure anywhere. The demand for the films and lecture service has grown until the Department finds it difficult to meet all requests. Applications are considered in order received. No admission charge may be made by groups requesting the Department's free film and lecture service. Projector and screen (labeled when desired) provided standard 11' alternating current and modern plug connections are available. "Michigan in the Rough" is the title of a new picture now being completed and ready for release a few months. Others will be made from time to time in order that a supply of interesting and useful while pictures may be on hand the Department of Conservation for people of the State who desire to see them.

MANY RESPONSIBILITIES

Here is at least a partial list of responsibilities of a farm woman, some of which at least distinguish her from her city cousin. They include her house-keeping, her material care of her family, and her responsibility to herself, her family and her friends for mental and physical growth. She is usually manager of a small farm business such as poultry raising, the home dairy, or the garden. As farming is a partnership business, she is the farm's business partner, planning the work with him and deciding with him where the money earned shall be placed to the greatest advantage. "This a student of relations in farm homes remarks, 'gives her a special opportunity for progress and for happiness, provided she can find time to think about it constructively.'"
