Negotiations o this end have been going on for two months and they were practically concluded last week. The news was kept very quiet, and only leaked the new company has not yet been decided upon, but it will be an en-tirely new one. The combined works will form the largest steel plant in this country, and will probably rank second only to the establishment of Krupp in Germany.

Steel rails are the principal product of the mills, and in rail-making the new company will find no competitor in the West worth speaking of.

ENTOMBED IN A MINE.

Six Men Imprisoned in the Black Dia-moud Colliery at Mount Carmel, Pa.

A dispatch of the 14th from Mount Carmel, Pa., says: Intense excitement prevails at the Black Diamond colliery, where six miners have been closed in. Workmen are driving a heading for the purpose of liberating their imprisoned companions, but several hours must elapse before it can be learned if they are alive.

The men imprisoned are Patrick Leonard, Michael Buggy, Peter Nearsheliskia and Vincent Rucush, of this place, and John Hall and an unknown Hungarian miner, of Mount Carmel. About 10 o'clock this morning, while they were at work mining coal. the cracking of timber in the gangway gave warning that a fall of coal was about to take place. The miners dashed down into the narrow tunnel endeavoring to escape. Nearsheliskia and Rucush were ten feet in advance of the others, when suddenly a mass of rock and coal fell in front of them, choking up the entrance to the main gallery. WHAT IT COST THE -Q."

Directors' Report on the Figures of the Great Strike.

Boston, Mass., March 19.-The annual report of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad for 1888 shows comparatively as follows: Gross earnings, $23,789,167; decrease from last year, $3,-786,910. Expenses and taxes, $18,882,-459; increase, $2,784.546. Net earnings. $4,906,708; decrease, $6,571,457. Total net earnings, adding interest, exchange and other income, $5,076,309; total decrease, $7,260,910. Fixed charges, $5,-996.712; Increase, $710,628. Dividenda $3,819,578; decrease, $2,291,486. Deficit. $4,739,980; increase, $5,680,051. Land receipts, $408,555; decrease, $158,528. Miles operated, 4,917; increase, 224. Capital, $76,393,505; increase, $3,205. Debt, $99,665,988; increase, $8,399,281.

The miscellaneous income was reduced by reason of the strike on the Hannibal & St. Joe and the Council Bluffs roads, so that they returned no dividend to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, while in 1887 they paid $618,-764. The operations of these and other outside lines of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy are given more fully than usual. These controlled properties consist of 1,115 miles of standard guage, 218 miles of narrow gauge, and 95 miles jointly operated. The total debt of these properties outstanding, and not owned by the "Q." is $16,460,000. Their comparative reports are: Gross earnings, $6,041,996; decrease, $1,402,487. Expenses and taxes, $4,738,951; increase, $151,063. Net earnings, $1,303,045; decrease, $1,553,550.

The directors say: "After many pros-perous years the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company has experienced a year of serious reverses. After paying fixed charges, including $700,000 contributed to sinking funds, and dividing 5 per cent. upon the capital stock, the accounts show a deficiency for the year of $4,331,425, which it has been necessary to take from the accumulated surplus of the company. Chief among the causes of the falling off in net revenue from the operations of the road was the strike in February. This was not the only cause, however. There has been a diversion of traffic to other roads, and a decline in rates. A decline in rates has been due to the difficulty of self-regulation among the railroads without the right to pool, which was taken away by the inter-state commerce law. An effort is now being made, among railroads west of Chicago, to provide, through an association, for maintenance of uniform rates, which it is hoped will be successful.

"The directors find it difficult to understand what serious evil the recent railroad laws are designed to remedy, and say that it cannot be denied that much the most serious feature of the railroad situation is the attitude of the law-making power both national and state.

"The increase in expenses during the year is due partly to the fact that we have operated an average of 4,859 miles, as against 4,239 in 1887, the new mileage being unproductive. A large part the increase in expense is due to the strike of the 2,500 trained men, which destroyed a large part of the great machine, the task of reconstructing which had to be undertaken and performed without allowing the machine to stop or become impaired. This involved and still involves extra expense. To make the force equal to the old in all respects is merely a question of time."

lower floor was gutted. The losses fol-low: Knight, McClure & Co., mu-sic, $100,000; insurance, $50,000; Calloway Bros. & Dingwall, queensware, $15 000; insurance, $13,000; Schiff, Carleton & Co., groceries, $5,000; insurance, $1,500. The upper floors were occupied by offices and as apartments. Their ag-gregate loss is about $25,000. The building is damaged to the extent of $50,000.

For the Confederate Home.

Secretary Oliver Downing, of the New York Citizens' committee to aid the Na-tional Confederate Soldiers' Home, at Austin, Tex., has received a letter from Gen. Alfred Fleasanton containing money. Another letter, from Mrs. Gen. Grant, encloses a check for $25. The letter is as follows: "Gen. Grant's kindly feelings toward the Southern people, though they were once his enemies, is Mrs. Grant's reason for sending the enclosed check. She wishes you success in your efforts."

Wreck of the Agnes Barton.

The American bark Agnes Barton, pound from Nassau to Baltimore with a cargo of phosphate rock, was driven ashore on the Virginia coast on the 14th during a heavy northeast gale, about a mile north of the Dam Neck life-saving station. Of her crew of ten men only four were saved. Capt. Benjamin H. Knight, of Baltimore; Second Mate James Richards, of Philadelphia; Peter Florida, John Smith, Ned Forbes and Charles Hobbs, seamen, are thought to be lost.

Hotel Burned.

On the evening of the 13th, about 6 o'clock, the Granite Hotel at Wellsburg, W. Va., was entirely destroyed by fire. When the alarm was sounded there was a panic among the guests, and there were usuy narrow escapes. Some in the third story of the building were rescued by ladders only a few moments before the walls fell. Several panic-stricken men jumped from the third story windows to the pavement below and were badly injured. Six or seven ladies who were in the upper stories of the building had their hair badly scorched. There were no lives lost. The damage was small.

Shot by a Prisoner.

Chief of Police Phillip Paul, of Renova, Pa., was bratally murdered about 12 o'clock on the night of the 13th while in the act of arresting Charles Cleary. As the officer was about to unlock the door of the jail, Cleary turned on him with a revolver and shot him in the back of the head, near the left ear, the bullet lodging in the base of the brain. The dying policeman was first discovered by John P. Dwyer, editor of the Evening News, who was attracted to the spot by the firing of the revolver. The murder has cau-ed great excitement. The murderer is but 19 years of age and the murdered man was not over 29. He leaves a wife and one child.

The Row in Hayti.

The steamer Caroline Miller arrived at New York on the 17th with news from Cape Haytien. Capt. Miller said that twelve of Legitime's soldiers who had been taken prisoners by Hyppolite were shot in the public square miles, the main line running from Dayton to Ironton, O., and the Chicago Division from Dayton to Delphos, O. The plan contemplates the building of about forty miles of road between Indianapolis and a point on the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City road, which will give a through line from Cincinnati to St. Louis.

TRUST FORMED IN SALT.

Michigan Manufacturers Join the Great Combine.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., March 18 .- The Michigan salt men have decided to enter the salt trust. The combination starts with a capital of $20,000,000.

The basis of the trust is the purchase of all plants operated independently of saw mills, the product controlled by the Michigan association, and manufactured in connection with mill plants, to be turned over to the national trust at stipulated prices. This proposition was laid before a secret meeting of Michigan manufacturers in this city, and the members voted to go into the trust on the basis proposed. The idea is to shut down all works where fuel costs so much that there is only a narrow margin of profit, and the product of each district to be regulated by the area it can control, this being, of course, regulated by freight rates.

ONE FROM EIGHT.

A Handsome Daughter of Chief Justice Fuller Elopes.

Something of a sensation in Chicago society circles has been created by the announcement of the marriage of Paulina Fuller, one of the many daughters of Chief Justice Fuller of the supreme court. The mere fact of the marriage of one of so large a family of girls was not the cause, but the manner in which it was done. It appears that the parents and friends of the young lady objected to the match, and the young couple took a train for Milwaukee, where they were joined in a perfectly legal though unostentatious manner by a justice of the peace. The name of the groom is J. M. Aubery, Jr.

FINDS IT UNSCRIPTUAL.

A Pennsylvania Preacher's Reason for Opposing Prohibition

The Daily Spirit, of Chambersburg, Pa., publishes a letter from the Rev. Cyrus Cort, pastor of the Reformed Church of Greencastle, and one of the ablest ministers in the southern portion of the state, in which he clearly defines his position on the prohibition amendment question. He writes: "As long as I hold my present orthodox views respecting the inspiration and integrity of God's work, I must regard prohibition as unscriptural and wrong in principle. I could not consistently endorse prohibition without nullifying many parts and passages of the sacred scriptures, and at the same time running counter to what I consider the genius and aim of free and constitutional government. SKELETONS IN THE MERRIMAC.

Bones of Two Men Discovered in the Sunken Confederate Ram.

RICHMOND, Va., March 19.-Private James K. Bolton, an inmate of the Confederate Soldiers' Home, near this city, tells the startling story of the finding in the hold of the old Confederate ram Merrimac, the skeletons of two men. A Sea of Seltzer.

From the Boston Transcript.

A company has purchased the Seltzer spring, Saratoga, and will utilize its waters for the purpose of liberating and storing in liquid form the carbonic acid gas with which it abounds. To do this, extensive arrangements are being made upon a large amount of invested capital. This seltzer spring, located on Spring Avenue, was developed by Dr. Haskins less than three years ago. The drill was put down to the depth of 500 feet. At this depth an abundant supply of water was found flowing from a crevice in the rock bottom. A few days ago, to assure himself of the depth of the spring, Mr. Brunler sounded it with a line and plummet; but instead of resting at 500 the weight sunk the whole length of the line-900 feet. Other soundings have since been made, the weight used being a piece of inch gas pipe filled with lead and weighing thirty-four pounds, until a depth of 3,300 feet has been reached, and yet without touching bottom or any obstacle. No further soundings will be made until instruments expressly designed for the purpose can be procured. Prof. Brunler admits it as possible that the line and weight could have been carried away by some powerful current, but he holds to his original belief in the existence of a subterranean sea of greater or less extent, and that there is undoubtedly some connection between it and the water of the ocean. In other words, that Saratoga is over a vast water-filled cavern, the root of which is about 500 feet thick. He also thinks it probable that at a given depth and temperature carbonic acid gas may be found in a liquid form. The specific gravity of the liquid gas is about nine degrees lighter Young wife—Are you the editress of than water, which would readily cause the Household Department in the the water to climb 300 feet above the ocean level. Should the existence of a subterranean sea be established, it would put to flight many theories and scientific speculations as to the source and course of the many mineral springs

A Connecticut Farmer's Success.

From the Hartford Courant.

Speaking of "little things," I have in mind now a man who fifteen years ago bought a farm here in Connecticut for $8,000, paying down what cash he could, and giving a mortgage of $4,500 for the balance. The general line for his farm been looking about the farm for brush to cut and stone to nick up, touching up the pastures with a little top dressing nure pile. With a good dairy, pigs and poultry, and a large fruit and vegetable garden, and the other "iittle things' that can be picked up about the farm from time to time, he is marketing something in the village two or three days in the week all through the year, and thus always has cash to meet, the daily expenses. A family of five have been well educated, the mortgage paid off, many improvements made on the place, and he is several thousand dollars ahead in money safely invested. His neighbors who have been only able to just make a living, will tell you he spends too much time "fussing with little things," yet after all has been "mighty lucky."

The Forests of Alaska.

From the Scientific American.

The prevailing forest tree of Alaska, says George Davidson, of the Coast Survey, is the Sitka spruce, growing to great size, covering every part of the ground, and climbing the steepest mountain sides to the height of 2,000 or 2,500 feet above the sea. This tree resembles in form and foliage the silver firs of California. In the Archipelago Alexander, with a shore line of more than 7,800 statute miles, the land is densely wooded from the water's edge. It can never be devastated by forest fires, because the carpet of wet sphagnum over the surface of the country effectually prevents fires from spreading. We measured telled spruce trees that were 180 feet long and 4 feet thick at the butt; while adjacent standing trees teresting data for the Society for Psychmeasured over 6 feet in diameter, were branchless for over 50 feet, and estimated to be 250 feet high.

Hemlock, alders, and willows are to him that it would be the easiest thing found; but the most remarkable wood of | in the world to take off his head, and, the country is the yellow cedar, with fine, even texture, fragrant smell, good size, and greater strength than the spruce. It is readily worked, takes a smooth surface, and is remarkably durable. It is a valuable addition to the cabinet woods, and is superior as a ship timber to any on the coast. It can be obtained of ample size for frames and his head was missing. He looked at the knees of ordinary sized vessels. We measured one 18 feet in circumference, and estimated it to be over 125 feet in height. We collected part of the keelson and frame of a Russian vessel built of this wood thirtytwo years before, and which had been lying a wreck on the beach for several years. It exhibited no signs of decay nor of teredo attacks, and the wood around the copper and iron bolts is nearly as well preserved as on the day they were driven. On Kadiak Island the forests cease toward the south. The yellow cedar does not grow on the northeast part of the island; but the average size of the spruce is less than two feet in diameter. Hemlock is found in abundance, and has it value for tanning purposes. When the for-ests of Washington Territory and Oregon are exhausted, Alaska will be the great and our almost inexhaustible resource in the future.

Lost His Head in a Dream.

From the New York Star.

A prominent Worcester business man passed through an experience in dreamland a few nights ago that is puzzling the local psychologists, and will add inical Research. He had an idea he ought to shave, and proceeded to do so. Just before he began work it occurred placing it on the table, facilitate mat-ters. It seemed in the dream that this was allowable for a certain number of minutes without endangering life. So he hung up the watch to count the minutes. The operation continued till some errand called the man across the room, and he returned to find watch and found the time was near when he must have his head in its proper place if he cared to keep it. Then "he lost his head" in two ways, and rushed frantically about the room looking in every available place. Just as the minute hand was about to cross the fatal point the Worcester man woke up and felt for his head, and was relieved to find it there.

A Trap for Rats,

A writer in last month's Chambers' Journal repeats the method which is in quite general use here for the extermination of rats. These animals are the wisest of domestic vermin, and any means taken for their destruction is, as a rule, quickly discovered by them; if not, the terror alone engendered by the ever-diminishing tribe is sufficient to cause them to flee the mysterious power which haunts them. Taking advantage of this trait, the writer in question constructed a trap for the rats. This was a water barrel carefully concealed. On the top was a trap door (simply balanced by a pivot in the placed for which the rats had a strong about a week; then the bolt was drawn,

AT Fientsin, China, two neighbors, who had been on the most intimate terms, had a little spat, and afterward one of them, Mrs. Wang, threatened to commit suicide. The Shio Pao, which has the curious story, tells of what followed in this manner: Mrs. Feng, upon hearing of this threat, and fearing lest she should be helplessly implicated should her enemy carry her threat into execution, resolved at once to take time by the forelock and steal a march upon her enemy by taking her own life, and thus turn the tables upon her. She accordingly threw herself into a deep ditch with the intention of drowning herself. Fortunately a countryman who was passing by rescued her, and, taking her back to her home, attempted to affect a reconciliation, with put partially successful results.

The Quiet Old Quaker in the West

Joaquin Miller in the Independent.

It is something to know that a gentle Philadelphia Quaker, the lover of peace, a Mr. Cooper, of Santa Barbara, led Calfornia into the very general cultivation of the olive as a source of commercial profit. True, the old monks had many olive trees, and some of the adobe Catholic missions have olive trees about their doors that are many a century old, but it was only when this Philadelphia Quaker took the matter in hand that California saw money in the olive branch. This man has operated very quietly for more than ten years, and no one seemed to know what a demand there was for olive oil till the New York clubs got to quarreling among themseives in their desire to monopolize all the oil that the old Quaker could prodnce. Then the gentle old lover of peace, in order that there should be no more strife doubled the price of his olive oil. But this seemed only to double the demand. The demand for California olive oil is so great, indeed, that the good old Quaker said last year, in an address on olive culture, that he might even now quadruple the price and still not be able to fill the orders .or oil from his olive groves.

Mr. Morrell is Still Taiking Canal. In Lansing Now.

Mr. W. H. Morrell, whom our readers all know as a mugwump and a canal architect is still on deck. The daily papers say that he was in Lansing Monday to urge the legislature to grant a charter for a ship canal company. The enterprise is a mammoth one, but Mr. Morrell speaks of it in a quiet matter of fact way and says that eastern capital in abundance stands ready to carry it out. The plan is to cut a canal across the upper peninsula, beginning at Bay au Train in Lake Superior, a few miles east of Marquette, and terminating in Little Bay de Noc near Gladstone. The canal will be only thirtysix miles in length. By connecting Lake Superior and Lake Michigan it will lessen the distance for ship commerce between Duluth and Chicago 271 miles. The canal will require but two locks and its projector asserts that the total cost of construction will be less than that of the proposed government improvement of the Sault Ste. Marie canal. Capitalists Ask a Franchise for a Lake Superior Ship Canal.

LANSING, Mich., March 18 .- W. H. Morrell, of New York, arrived here today, to endeavor to induce the Legislature to grant a charter for the proposed ship canal across the Upper Peninsula, connecting Lakes Michigan and Superior. The route selected is thirty-six miles long, and begins at Bay Au Train, about fitteen miles east of Marquette. Its southern terminus will be Little Bay De Noc, near Gladstone. Two locks will be necessary. It will save to ship commerce a distance of 271 miles between Chicago and Duluth. Mr. Morrell says that he has an abundance of New York and Chicago capital interested, and that the company will be organized within sixty days after a charter is granted. The estimated cost of the work is $5,-000,000.

THE JURY PLAYED POKER.

A Prisoner Convicted of Murder Gets a New Trial for a Good Reason.

The fact was brought to light in the criminal district court at New Orleans on the 15th, that the jury in the case of George Dunn, tried for the killing of Jas. Weir, when locked up for the night after the case had been given into their hands played poker for four hours. Judge Evans, counsel for the accused, who was convicted of manslaughter, in making an appeal for a new trial, by testimony offered in open court showed how the jurymen had passed their time. In deciding the application Judge Baker said that twelve men, sup-plied with a quart bottle of whisky, a deck of cards and a handful of beans, who played poker from 12 o'clock at night to 4 o'clock in the morning, holding a man's life in their hands, could not possibly give the prisoner a fair trial. As long as he presided over a court he could not sanction such a thing, and, therefore, he granted the prisoner a new trial.

NOT CONSTITUTIONAL.

New Mexico's Law for Keeping Out Dressed Beef is Void.

In a lengthy opinion given to the meat inspector of Santa Fe County, relative to the new law regulating the sale of meats and providing for the inspection of cattle and hogs prior to slaughtering, which practically prohibits the bringing into New Mexico of dressed beef and pork, the acting solicitor-general of the territory says that the act is unconstitutional and void so far as its effect on shipments into the territory for purposes of sale and public use are con-cerned. He holds that dressed beef and pork are commodities of interstate commerce, and that the law is an attempt under cover of police power to keep out all foreign dressed or uncured meats. Large quantities of these meats are shipped to the city butchers, hotels and railroad eating houses.

AUSTIN Tex., March 15.-A terrible tragedy occurred at Italian Canyon, twelve miles from here, yesterday afternoon. Samuel Rundle killed his fatherin-law, George Hoskin, and his brotherin-law, aged 15, by shooting them with a shot gun, the charge of shot entering the neck and severing the jugular vein of the former, and tearing away the face of the latter. A boy named John King, hearing the shot, came toward the house. He was met by Rundle holding the gun. The latter asked the boy to shoot him. The boy refused. Rundle then took the boy's horse and rode three miles to the lower ranch, entered the kitchen of the house, and with a pistol shot Mrs. Hos-kin in the head and then shot himself in about the same spot. The four bodies were found at the two ranches, lying at right angles, forming a cross. The shooting was the result of a iamily quarrel over a division of prop-erty. The four bodies were brought here last night, and an inquest held. The quadruple burial will take place tomorrow.

IMPORTANT WATER POWER SUIT

Litigation at Sault Ste. Marie for the Possession of Valuable Property.

Testimony has been completed before Judge Grant in the circuit court at Sault Ste. Marie, in the case of W. P. Spaulding vs. Wm. Chandler, for the possession of the best water power property in the city and the land upon which the Edison water power canal is situated. The result Chilian advices state that the Chilian of this suit is being anxiously Government has issued a decree pro- watched, as it will settle the title to considerable other property in the republic. The Chilian Government the city. Mr. Chandler has been pos-has sent orders to its immigration sessed of the property since 1882. At that time he received a patent from the government, he having filed Porterfield scrip on the land. Spaulding's claims board date from 1820. An old soldier by the name of Adsit pre-empted all the property along the rapids, built a shanty and lived there, finally paying the $1.25 per acre required by law, and received a receipt from the United States land office. The government, however, refused to give a patent, as they claimed the land had been reserved by the government as a national park. Adsit sold the property to Spaulding, who constructed a dock on the land and made two applications for a patent, but was again refused. The property remained in statu quo until Mr. Chandler filed scrip on it and received a patent from government.

This is the beginning of a number of important law suits. The land in litigation in his suit is a half mile of water frontage on the rapids, and the best water-power property in the city. It extends from the head of the government canal to the locks, and lies between the new locks and the rapids. The Edison Canal constructed on the property cost $100,000.

HATS FULL OF GOLD.

Treasure Left by an Eccentric Hoosler at Huntington, Ind.

Joseph W. Griffith, who died recently at Huntington, Ind., was one of the most eccentric characters in Northern In-diana. He lived sumost entirely alone, and had a great aversion to women. Alter his death the undertaker, who took charge of the remains, found in Mr. Griffith's trousers pocket the sum of $4,700 in currency. In various places about the store were found hats iull of silver and gold, all covered with dust, having apparently been undisturbed for years. Promisory notes executed by leading business men, running far up in the thousands, were found among the effects of this most singular man. Mr. Griffith having refused accommodation to no one whom he deemed worthy and responsible. His entire property amounts to over $50,-000, and it is not thought that he left a will. For a week before his death Mr. Griffith was almost totally blind, but despite his infirmity, he insisted on remaining alone and taking care of him-self, refusing bluntly all proffers of aid from his friends and relatives. William Griffith, a brother, will inherit all the property.

How to Wash Blankets.

The following directions for washing plankets are given to the Public Ledger: Put a pint of household ammonia in the bottom of your tubs, having had the blankets well beaten to remove all clinging dust before you get the tubs out. Then lay the blanket lightly on over the ammonia, and pour upon it a sufficient amount of warm water to cover the blanket entirely. Then with a stick or the hand flop the blanket about in the solution, pressing all the water that will come out of it against the side of the tub without wringing, as you re-move to the rinse water. You will be amazed to see the dissolved dirt coming out through the fibres, as no washing or rubbing with soap-suds will bring it out. Rinse in the same way, in the same moderately warmed water (not boiling water,) and by simply pushing the blankets about the tub. Press through the wringer, and hang out to dry in a windy place, not in the sun. As the blanket hangs there drying, a little water will collect in the corners, which is rather an amusement to squeeze out to help the drying process. If you do not wish to put a second blanket in the first ammoniated water, which must be done promptly, as the ammonia evaporates quickly, divide the quantity, taking half a pint for each one of the two tubs, and wash two blankets at once. The evaporating ammonia, released by the warmth of the water, can only escape through tha blanket, which is laid over it in the tub before the water is applied. Hence you get the value of every drop of it. In ordinary cleaning with ammonia, for paint, brasses, silver, etc., mix it with cold water first, and then add a little warm water to the pail.

No Leap Year in 1900.

From the Raleigh News.

Although the year 1900 will be divisible by four with no remainder, it will not be leap year. Twelve years must elapse before the interesting event takes place, but it was just the same in 1800 and 1700, but not in 1600, for that was a leap year, and the year 2000 will be a leap year also. Why this should be is a problem. To explain in detail would be a tiresome task, but it rests on the principle that a difference of 11 minutes per day exists between at the residence of Justice Matthews, actual time and calendar time. Thus a year is computed at 3654 days, three years being 365 days long and the fourth year 366 days. In fact, the year is 365 days, 5 hours and 45 minutes long, or 11 minutes short of 3651 days. The leap year every four years is said to have been an invention of Julius Cæsar. To have discovered an establishment for allow for this difference of eleven minutes per year, one leap year was dropsive scale. Two more Russians have bed every hundred years. But this been arrested for connection with the was found not to be exact, and Pope Gregory XIII, in 1582, made an improvement and decreed that every fourth centurial year should be a leap year. Thus, by omitting the leap year for three centurial years and letting it remain as usual on the fourth centurial year, a system is obtained so close that it would take thousands of years to make up another day's difference in time. The calendar time is still not exact mathematically, but as no change will be necessary for 4,000 years, it will not fall to the share of the presand we nearly always had several pairs ent generation to correct the discrepancy.

in the case of Fielden and others against Horton, May 21, 1888. The execution the people, and at last the "Anarchist case" has been disposed of so far as the supreme court is concerned. The partiular portion of the judgment sought to be corrected is the wording of the first part of the order, "Now on this day again came the said parties," etc., etc., the defendant's atparties, etc., etc., the defendant's at-torney urging that the parties were not, in fact, present as recited in the order. The court in denying the motion, holds that the parties ap-peared in this court by attorney. It would be impossible under the law, the court says, to bring parties convicted of a crime from the penitentiary or jail to this court to be personally present when the record of their trial was reviewed and passed upon.

manufacture of the explosives. Shoes for the Queen.

From the Washington Critic.

"There are two or three shops in London," said Shoemaker Grace, "that make nearly all of the shoes worn by the English aristocracy. They have that class of trade and don't care for any other, as it is permanent, and it pays. The place where I worked had several members of the royal family as customers, on the lasts. I remember making a pair of ball shoes for the Princess Beatrice just before I left. She had a foot something like her mother's, the Queen. It was short and fat, the ankle being what you might call boxed just a little. Her number was a four, and she wore "Did you ever make shoes for the Oil of Sassafras.

From Garden and Forest. The manufacture of the oil of sassafras is becoming an important industry in some parts of the country, especially in the Southern states, where this tree is also very largely employed in the South America. manufacture of several popular proprietary medicines. The importance of this industry may be expected to in-crease rather than diminish, as the sassafras and persimmon are the two trees which are spreading most rapidly over the old and abandoned fields throughout the Southern states outside of the pine belt proper; and at present prices good wages can be made in digging out the roots.

The Need for Salt.

From Good Housekeeping.

The importance of salt as an article of diet, according to a scientific writer, is overrated. A continued use of large quantities of salt produces scurvy. The popular belief that an appetite for salt is universal among the lower animals is without foundation in fact. Dogs. cats. and other carnivorous animals show no fondness for it, and the same is true of the fruit-eating animals. Even herbivorous animais do not eat salt regularly with their food, but only at long intervals, which suggests the thought that perhaps they take it as a vermifuge. In certain parts of the world, where salt is unknown, antelopes abound in countless numbers, and in parts of Africa where salt is abundant, the antelopes show no fondness for it. There are many in-stances in which flocks of sheep, and herds of cattle have been reared successfully without salt. In certain parts is common. The German Minister's Turnout.

From the Washington Post.

The appearance of Count d'Arco Valley, the German minister, who was making a round of cabinet calls last Friday afternoon in his elegant coach, created quite a furor among the gay crowd of promenaders who happened to be on the avenues. The minister was accompanied by his sister, the Countess Leopoldine d'Arch Valley, who is as handsome a woman as he is a man. The effect of the turnout was heightened by the rig of the footman, whose gaudy livery was resplendent in gold and lace, and enveloped the entire figure in a darkblue coat of broad-cloth, with a double row of silk buttons down the front. Heavy rows of gilt cord were caught across the breast from the left shoulder and finished at the right side, upon which was worn a handsome sword. The tall blue chapeau was decorated with a feather plume and cockade of the German colors.

STEAM'S DEADLY FOWER

A Pipe Factory Wrecked by a Boiler Explosion.

MANY MEN KILLED AT PITTSBURG.

· Four Bodies Taken From the Ruins-Several Others Known to be Under the Debris - Heartrending Scenes Around the Fatal Spot.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 14.-A battery of boilers at the West Point Boiler Works, of R. Monroe & Sons, on the corner of Twenty-third and Smallman Streets, exploded shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon, completely wrecking the plant, and burying a number of men in the ruins. Four have been taken out dead and three badly injured, and there are still a number in the ruins. A dozen others were quite seriously injured, many of them, it is thought, .fatally. The names of the dead already removed from the wreck are:

August Lindebaugh, engineer; frightfully mutilated; single; resided on Howard Street, Allegheny.

Charles Allenbacke, laborer, head and body boiled.

Daniel Clark, boiler-maker, mangled and scalded.

John Remheimer, boiler-maker, badly scalded.

Martin Connors and one other were taken from the ruins alive. Howard, however, it is thought will die before he reaches the hospital. The names of the other injured are not yet known.

The explosion occurred just after the noon whistle had sounded and, many of the workmen had left the works to get their dinners. The concussion shook buildings for several squares. In a few minutes a large crowd had gathered about the wreck, and the scene was most agonizing. Wives, mothers and children ran about wringing their hands and crying, eagerly searching for their loved ones.

The first body removed was that of the engineer Linebaugh. He was almost unrecognizable. Allenbacke's remains were next taken out, and in a few minutes the mangled body of Clark was found. Remheimer, Howard and an unknown were next removed. The work of rescue is going on vigorously. but at 2 o'clock no more bodies had been recovered. Four are believed to be still buried beneath the debris, and it is feared many more were caught in the wreck.

The cause of the explosion has not been learned. The building was a large one story brick structure, and was formerly occupied by Wm. Smith & Sons, pipe manufacturers. The plant

THE NIPSIC SAFE. Denial of the Story of an Encounter

Tascott Again. A dispatch of the 15th from West Selkirk, Manitoba, says: Tascott has been captured at Lake Winnipeg. No particulars are given. It is probable that the right man has been captured at last and that Snell's murderer will be brought to justice. Amos J. Stone, the dead millionaire's son-in-law, and a party of four detectives from Chicago have been here for nearly three weeks working on the varions clues. It is a positive fact that Tascott was at work near here for some time, but he got a tip in the way of a telegram from Chicago just after Mr. Stone left there and skipped out. A vigorous search was made of the country for miles around, but ap-parently without picking up the slightest trace of the fugitive. An effort was made to interview Mr. Stone, but he gave the reporters the slip and got away. A special from Winnipeg gives the following more definite statement of the capture of Tascott: "Some Indians arrived by dog train at 2 o'clock to-day at West Selkirk, a place twenty miles from this city, conveying the news that Tascott. the murderer of Snell, the Chicago millionaire, had been captured on Lake Winnipeg by the Chicago detecives, who, accompanied by relatives of the murdered man, had been following a strong clue, with the result stated, for the past few weeks. They arrived here just after Tascott left his work to go, as he said, to Dakota. However, they are now reported to be on their way to this city with the captured murderer." A dispatch received at 10 o'clock on the night of the 15th, from Selkirk, says the Indians who brought the information from Lake Winnipeg have gone to one of the lodges at the reserve for the night and cannot now be located. Great excitement prevails among the villagers at Selkirk, but many are disinclined to believe the report brought by the Indians. The man who was traced to Rat Portage by the Chicago party and supposed to be Tascott is reported to have gone North from that place, and would undoubtedly strike Winnipeg on his journey, as the country on the east of the lake is almost impassable.

FOR KILLING HIS DAUGHTER.

Arrest of a Chicago Man on the Charge of Murder.

CHICAGC, Ill., March 15.-A warrant is out for the arrest of John Jones, a clerk in a large grocery store, charged with criminal abuse of his own daughter and her subsequent murder. The girl, Nellie, 17 years old, died at the county hospital shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, the physicians think of arsenical poisoning. Jones is a widower and had seven children. Three of them are in an orphan asylum, while he has kept the other four, including the dead daughter, in the most squalid poverty and neglect. Four days ago the Humane Society began an investigation. Nellie, when closely questioned, told the story that led to her father's arrest. Further she stated

Near Apia. AUCKLAND, N. Z., March 14 -- Advices received to-day from Samoa show that there is no basis for the sensational rumor of an engagement between the United States man-of-war Nipsic and the German corvette Olga.

Far from this, the German officials on the island have entirely given up their aggressive policy. The proclamation of martial law has been publicly withdrawn, and the Germans have abandcned all claim to the right of searching incoming vessels for contraband of war. Both these steps have met with the hearty approval of all foreign residents at.Apia, and have had a quieting effect. Unusual tranquility prevails throughout the island. Mataaia, however, has a force of troops estimated to be 6,000 strong. Tamasese's army consists of about 700 men.

The men-of-war, both German and American, still remain at Apia, ready for any emergency that may arise.

BID FOR A BIG BREWERY.

Eight Millions Offered for the Anheuser Plant at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 16.-It is announced here to-day that on Wednesday last an offer of $7,000,000 was made for the Anheuser-Busch brewery property in this city, and was promptly rejected. Thursday, James M. Camp-bell, a wealthy banker and brokbell, a wealthy banker and broker er of St. Louis, acting for Mr. Underwood, a banker of New York, house of Baron Rothschild, offered Mr. Busch $8,000,000 in cash for the property, and this was as promptly declined. A forfeiture of $1,000,000 was put up as a proof of sincerity of the offer, and the only condition proposed was that Mr. Busch should remain here one year and give the new management the benefit of his knowledge of the details of the business; but he would not listen to the proposition.

Ellis Wainwright was offered $100,000 if he would make a written proposition to sell. That is $100,000 would be given him to simply state in writing what terms he would sell on, the money to be paid regardless of whether his proposition was accepted or rejected, but he declined the offer, and so far as he knows all trades for St. Louis brewery property are off.

FOLLETT ESCAPES ARREST.

Cleverly Deceiving Detectives Be Sails for New South Wales.

A man was arrested at Helena, Mont. March 5, on strong suspicion of being Lyman D. Follett, ex-judge of probate of Kent County, Mich. Judge Follett was one of the most prominent Democrats of Grand Rapids. He was probate judge of Kent county until April of last year, when he created a great sensation by decamping, taking with him money to the amount of $40,000, which was in his keeping ss indge of probate. He also borrowed large sums from everyone around town, and forged the name of the present judge to a check. He falsified records and deeds in the most elaborate manner, and after his departure a reward of $1,000 was offered for his capture. He was traced to New York, but eluded the detective there and went to New Orleans, taking a steamer there for Honduras, where he worked for the I. M. Western syndicate. After a while he was lost sight of. Some months ago a man in Helena, Mont., aroused the suspicions of the detectives there by his striking resemblance to Judge Follet. He was arrested, and a picture sent to Grand Rapids was recognized by his wife. The Kent County sheriff went to Helena after him, but so well did the prisoner act that he was released as remarkably like but not Judge Foltett. He made tracks for the coast as fast as possible, thinking he would be safer in a country where he would not be worth $1,000. A private dispatch received in St. Paul from Tacoma, W. T., states that the jugitive sailed from there on a ship lumber laden for Sidney, N.S. W., and that he confessed to the pilot before the latter debarked that his real name was Follett.

SMILED ON THE GALLOWS.

Virgil Jackson Takes the Fatal Drop With Perfect Calmness.

UTICA, N. Y., March 14.-The crime for which Virgil Jackson was hanged to-day was the murder of Norton Metcalf in Augusta Centre. The murder was committed Sunday afternoon, January 29, 1888, and grew out of criminal relations between Jackson and the wife of his victim. Metcalf had ordered Jackson to keep away from Mrs. Metcalf. Jackson however refused, and followed her to church that Sunday afternoon, returnfatal ing in company with her. As they neared Metcalf's home he came out of the house and met his wife and Jackson in the road. Words passed between the two men and then they partially clinched. Immediately afterward three shots were fired by Jackson in quick succession, and Metcalf fell to the ground dead, all three shots having taken effect. Not a tremor was noticeable the mouth at the time. The trap was sprung at 9:15¹/₂. Jackson was pronounc-ed dead at 9:37¹/₂. Death ensued from HARTFORD, Conn., March 14.-Coroner Sperry to-day published his report on the recent Park Central Hotel disaster. in which twenty-three persons were killed. He examined fourteen witnesses, holding a private and personal examination in each instance. He finds that the building was of frail construction, but is unable to say whether this had anything say to do with increasing the loss of life, as no building probably could have resisted the boiler explosion. The boiler was well built and was six years old. It was left unattended from midnight until 5 A. M., except that George Gaines, the colored night porter who was killed. was expected to have charge of the furnace.

The coroner finds that there was plenty of water in the boiler at the time of the explosion, and that the disaster was due to overflow pressure, the valve being out of order, so that the pressure could not be relieved. It is clear that the outlets of the boiler were closed that night, and that some person turned on the drafts in the early morning, probably the porter. The coroner finds that the engineers Thuer and Risley were legally responsible for the care of the boiler, and he concludes "I am forced to the conclusion that the explosion was caused by the willful negligence of Alex. Thuer and Amos Risley, and that they thereby wilfully and negligently caused the death of the twenty-three persons." Thuer and Risley are now under $1,500 bonds each for trial.

MOSES FIELD DEAD.

The Nestor of Greenbackism in the West -A Detroit Millionaire.

DETROIT, Mich., March 14 .- Moses Field died this morning at 1:30 o'clock. surrounded by his entire family. Mr. Field was the original greenback advocate in Michigan, and the man who called the greenback movement into political prominence in the United States, and suggested the convention which nominated Peter Cooper for president. Mr. Field was prominent in business and political circles for many years. He was Republican member of Congress from the First Michigan District in 1873-1875, and was beaten for a second term by Gen. Alpheus C. Williams. He was always a protectionist, and during the late campaign got Gen. Ben. F. Butler to come here to speak on the tariff, which had much to do with rolling up the big Michigan majority for Harrison. Mr. Field was always a public-spirited man, and gave to Detroit Linden Park, on the East Side.

WHY RATES ARE CUT.

Reductions in Export Schedules Made to Retain Business.

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 18 .- The inter-state commerce commission to-day resumed its hearing in the matter of export rates, and the methods adopted by the trunk lines in computing them.

was a valuable one, and will prove a complete loss. Nothing remains but a mass of brick, mortar and timbers. The firm was unable to approximate the loss, but it is safe to say that it will reach $20,000.

The concussion shattered windows, and damaged houses for three blocks. and it is a miracle that more people were not killed or injured.

At 2 o'clock the body of James Carton, a helper, aged about 22 years, and unmarried, was taken out, making five dead bodies removed from the ruins. Martin Connors, who was so terribly scalded that he will die, is 24 years of age, and unmarried. He came to this city a short time ago from Baltimore.

The names of the most seriously injured are: John Forest, a helper, aged 26 years; Harvey Barr, a helper, aged 25 years; William Kelly, John Barber, and James Cartney, boiler makers. Cartney was recently married. The others are single men.

The boilers were inspected six months ago, and were thought to be in firstclass condition. The real cause of the explosion will probably never be known, as the engineer was killed outright, and no one else has been found who was in the engine room at the time the disaster took place.

THE SAMOAN TROUBLE.

Correspondent Klein Thinks the Germans Respect Our Navy.

J. C. Klein, the correspondent of the Post Dispatch and the New York World, who recently became a conspicuous fig- telegram from Commander Kempff, arough St. Louis on the 18th. After reciting his experiences in Samoa, follows: "Capt. Schoonmaker reports which have already been related in Associated Press dispatches, Mr. Klein said: "The Germans make light of the American navy, but I tell you they were not very agressive when the stars and stripes were waved in their faces. Why, when they took Gillan off the Richmond, on the ground that he was a spy, Capt. Goetioson and Capt. Hand sent word that, if he was not returned at once, they would board the Adler with an armed force and take him, Chilian minister of foreign affairs, in and Gillan was promptly restored. Dr. Knapp, the German consul, used to walk up and down the beach every day and inspect Mataafa's boats. Oh, how they wanted to blow them up, but they did not dare to. They were in neutral waters, and they knew that to touch those boats meant a fight Their manner towards every one and every thing that was not German or allied to the Germans, was as offensive as it could be. They would scowl at any one they saw about the American consulate, and make all sorts of offensive remarks about them."

Engineer Cook Not Guilty.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., March 16 .- The jury in the case of Engineer Cook, charged with criminal negligence, which resulted in the collision at Mud Run, in Two Thousand Men Join the Idle Weav ers at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 14 .- The fourth day of the weavers strike opens without any appreciable change in the situation. The weavers still present an unbroken front, and the number out to-day is larger than yesterday. The shut-down of the King Philip and American Linen Mills has added 2,000 to the number of idle operatives, and has brought the strike home to the great body of operatives outside the weavers. There was a meeting on the park this morning, attended by over 4,000 strikers, who manifested the same enthusiasm as at the begin-ning. The members of the executive committee urged the strikers not to go back until all were ready to go. The visit of Mr. Barry, of the state board of arbitration, yesterday, was referred to. and members of the executive committee reiterated it was not their fault the strike had not been settled by arbitra. tion. The appeals of the speakers to stick together were answered by cheers.

CANADIAN CUTTERS ON DUTY.

Patrolling the Fishing Grounds to Ward off Yankee Fishermen.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 14 .- Reports from Newfoundland say that the issue of licenses to American vessels for the purchase of bait and other necessary outfit will be refused this season. and that the government will coincide with the Dominion government in its policy. The reason alleged is that American vessels last season violated the licenses given them, and bait purchased in Newfoundland was sold to the French at St. Pierre. The fishermen who have recently returned trom Fortune and Placentia Bays say the cutters are already patroling the coast, and every port is strictly guarded, so that no violation of the bait act can be accomplished.

He has a wife and two children, and has lived beyond his income in the endeavor to support them in style. Union Pacific Earnings.

Boston, Mass., March 15.-The January earnings of the Union Pacific Railway's entire system, including lines in which the Union Pacific has a half in-October last, by which sixty persons were killed, returned a verdict of not guilty at 6 o'clock this morning, after a deliberation of 21 hours. Which the Onion Factor has a half the terest, were $2,457,675; increase over same month last year, $289,132; ex-penses, $1,930,419; increase, $156,607; surplus, $527,256; increase, $7,132,526.

The gist of the evidence was that with few exceptions the inland published rates had not for some months been maintained. Some of the roads had made an effort to maintain them, and in consequence had practically lost their export business. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern had in a very few months, from carrying 35 per cent. of the export business, dropped to 7 per cent. Other roads had suffered quite as severely.

Dr. Smith made the statementsomewhat surprising in view of the frequent outcry on the subject-that he had not found any one wrongfully detained in the asylums of the State on a careful examination of all the facts in each alleged case. He added:

"Nothing is more surprising, on first entering the wards of an asylum, than the universal claim and often vehement assertion of patients that they were never insane, that they were committed through frauds and conspiracies, and hence are wrongfully detained in the asylum. The stories of wrong and abuse which they relate vary but little in their general character. The object sought by their enemies has uniformly been, as they allege, to incarcerate them in order to consummate some villainous purpose which their presence would prevent. One is thus committed that others may secure his property; another alleges that he alone knew of the frauds of officers of corporations, banks or other institutions. Whatever form it may take, all the facts are narrated with great minuteness, and with an apparent candor, which often leads the inquirer to doubt and hesitate whether, after all, the patient had been the victim of a gross conspiracy. Careful and patient inquiry into all the facts of hundreds of cases has failed to prove that, in a single instance, the conduct of the friends of patients has been governed by improper intentions and motives. That conspiracies may form for the purpose of securing the commitment of sane persons to insane asylums is undoubtedly true, and is never fost sight of in these official examinations. Every effort is made necessary to discover the real facts in each case, and to arrive at a just conclusion as to the mental condition of the complainants. In the vast majority of instances the evidences of insanity are apparent on entering the ward. In a large number of cases a moment's conversation determines the mental condition of the patient. In a few cases a longer and more varied conversation is necessary to discover the more obscure evidences of mental alienation. Where there is any doubt as to the insanity of an individual further inquiries are made by examining the attendants and the physicians, and by examining the recorded history of the case, and the certificates of the physicians who made out the commitment papers. In some instances I have not formed my opinon altogether upon this evidence, but have corresponded with persons familiar with all the facts in the antecedent history of the patient, and have even personally visited the locality of his former residence in search of more.exact information. In some instances it has been found that patients have so far recovered that they were capable of complete care of themselves, and could do much useful work. But it was found on inquiry that they were not yet as firmly established in health as to make it proper to allow them to return to their homes. Such persons were rarely impatient, and were quite willing to remain under treatment until they were pronounced recovered by the superintendent." -- Cloveland Lexdor.
