

Manistique man is ordained in first such rites locally

Paying the Carter's a visit

President-elect Jimmy Earl Carter flew into Albany, Ga. airport last week and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Johnson and family of Manistique were on hand to greet and photograph him.

The Johnsons and their children, Cindy and Kevin, were en route from Florida and stopped at relatives in Albany where they went to greet the President-elect. While they were waiting for Carter to land, the Johnsons visited with Mrs. Billy Carter, wife of the president-elect's brother.

During their three week trip to Florida, the Johnsons visited with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ostrander in Lakeland and with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lust of Apopka, Fla.

On their return trip they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bowersox in Albany. During their stay in Georgia the family toured Plains, the President-elect's home town.

Carter will be sworn into the presidency Thursday, Jan. 20 during a noon ceremony in Washington, D.C.

For the first time in the history of the religious community, Manistique saw the ordination of a local man in a local church.

James Norton of Manistique was ordained into the Gospel of Ministry by the Presbytery of Mackinac on Sunday, Jan. 16 at the Church of the Redeemer Presbyterian.

About 50 people attended the hour long service Sunday night and the reception following in the Westminster Room of the church.

Participating in the service were: Mr. George Berg, Moderator Mackinac Presbytery, Elder, Rogers City; Mrs. Sherry Varnum, Elder, Manistique; Miss Jeri Kroll, Stated Supply, Manistique; The Rev. Mr. James Christopherson, Pastor Ishpeming; the Rev. Mr. James Lyman, Pastor, Sault Ste. Marie; and the Rev. Mr. Timothy Jones, Pastor, Kingsford.

The Rev. Norton is the son of Mrs. Rose Norton of 203 Terrace Ave., Manistique and the late William Norton.

Norton graduated from Manistique High School in 1963, then attended Northern Michigan University in Marquette from which he graduated in 1968. He continued his education there and received a Master's Degree in Education in 1972.

Norton taught for two years in Detroit and also worked in the slum area counseling the residents and finding them places to eat and sleep.

He recently finished studying at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago and will receive his graduation certificate in June.

He will serve as minister at two churches; Troy Grove Presbyterian, Troy, Ill., and the Triumph Methodist Church, Triumph, Ill.

County board approves paper mill tax district

by Mark Eisenlohr

The Manistique Pulp and Paper Company has again brought its request for participation in the Tax Abatement district before a local unit of government, this time to Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners at their regular meeting, Jan. 19.

The County board approved the request. Leif Christensen, vice president and general manager of the pulp and paper mill, spoke to the board on the tax deferral for a $5.5 million dollar improvement investment at the mill.

Christensen told the board, "I'm not here to talk as an authority. I believe this should be left to the professionals and lawyers. I do feel, however, that I can make some fairly concrete generalities."

Some questions were raised by the board as to whether the deferral would impede or hamper the operation of local government.

They were told by Christensen that the investment would be going on the tax rolls in 12 years and that millage on the remainder of the plant unaffected by the district would not be changed.

"Essentially all the investment would be going on the tax rolls," said Christensen. "We feel the passage is in order."

Commissioner William Tennyson felt that the board didn't have enough information to make a decision and after asking Christensen if matters could be delayed made a motion to table the request for further study.

Chairman Ernest Hoholik then said that the law that created tax districts was designed to encourage industry in such a way as to not interfere with local units of government.

"This was done precisely for the purpose of keeping and creating new jobs in the Michigan area," Hoholik told the commissioners.

After further discussion the board voted to concur in the Tax Abatement request of the pulp and paper mill.

The four townships without assessors will have their tax rolls completed by board of review time, according to Commissioner Lindsley Frenette who told the board that a change in the structure of the equalization structure should be considered.

"Each commissioner should make sure their district is doing their job," Frenette told the commissioners. "Come equalization time you'll know what you're talking about."

The equalization department is currently working with the four townships to prepare them for the board of review in March.

In other action: -the board heard a report from commissioner Earl LeBrasseur on the funds for the comprehensive employment and training act. LeBrasseur told the board that "funds should be available for another round." LeBrasseur also stated that all the employees currently under the program would be rehired.

-the board heard a report on the HUD Community development grant program from Chairman Hoholik, who indicated that it was applied for in a short period of time. He told the board that a wait and see situation now exists and that further information would not be available until March of 1977.

-the board was told that surplus property at the Schoolcraft County Airport would be listed for sale.

-the board approved filing for reimbursement under the cooperative reimbursement agreement between the county and the state department of Social Services for use of the county prosecuting attorney. The reimbursement would cover the 1976 year.

-the board moved to committee the request from Prosecuting Attorney John Thompson to file under the cooperative reimbursement act for the year 1977.

-the board approved the annual report of the Friend-of-court and civil defense.

-the board approved transfer of zoning power to the planning commission and changing the membership of that commission to eight members. This was done, according to Hoholik to reactivate the zoning board into a functional commission.

-the board voted approval on the appointment of Emmett McNamara to the Schoolcraft County Hospital board.

-the board voted to turn fire inspection recommendations over the building authority for possible action.

-the board voted to approve and accept the annual oral and written report of the tax department presented by William Cowman, Schoolcraft County tax director.

Warm glow from wood

EVEN WITH THE COLD temperatures this year, the Thomas Brzezinski's of 434 Walnut, should keep warm, and spend less in fuel than they have in past years. The Brzezinski's are using wood to heat their house this winter, as they have for the past two winters. They have four wood-burners in the house and claim that they are sufficient for heating the large wood frame house. Precautions have been taken to prevent the possibility of fire. Brzezinski has been getting his wood this year from Elm trees that are being cut down by the city around town. Most of the time it's a complete family responsibility to keep the house warm. And when it does get cold in the house, daughters Chris and Jenifer are quick to point it out to their parents. (Tribune photo)

Youngblood quits city grant post

"It is just a case of an employee resigning." That is how Manistique City Manager Robert Risik described the resignation Friday of Charles Youngblood from the city's Community Block Grant Development post.

Youngblood has held that post since February when he was appointed by the city council to fill a vacancy created by former City Manager Rush Cattell, who was the first project director.

"He (Youngblood) came into a difficult situation under fire," said Risik. "In terms of actual job (performance) he has done a good job. He did what he was asked to do."

Youngblood said he resigned from the post after he learned the reduced pay level for his services.

"I was notified some 4-6 weeks ago that the job would become part-time," said Youngblood, "but I didn't realize how much the pay would be."

"It's strictly a matter of mathematics," explained Youngblood.

Part-time pay for the director would have amounted to about $5,400 a year.

Youngblood had been earning $11,000 per year as full-time director.

"In their opinion it's only part-time," said Youngblood, "I don't think it should be part-time."

According to Youngblood most of the work is finished for the year with a few odds and ends needing to be tied up.

"Everything that had to be done has been done," said Youngblood. "Anybody could walk into the office and run the program."

"There are a few odds and ends that need to be tied up. These are for the people of Manistique so I'll help them and finish them up," Youngblood said. He added that he would be working with no pay.

Youngblood came into the directorship last winter following a heated controversy within the city council. Most of that controversy centered around his alleged activities while a state senator. Some questions were also raised at the time as to whether he was capable of handling the job.

"No, it (the controversy) did not affect the program," said Youngblood. "There was some friction among the council members."

Youngblood feels that his background as a state senator has helped him. "I keep in touch with the legislature on what bills and grants are available," he said.

Youngblood and his wife, Delores, have five children. Youngblood indicated that he would like to stay in the Gulliver area but would wait and see what job opportunities are available before committing himself.

He recently helped Schoolcraft County officials in submitting a pre-application for HUD funds for rural housing rehabilitation similar to the city's program. However, the status of the proposed county program won't be known for several weeks, he said.

In Youngblood's absence, Risik is assuming responsibilities for the city's block grant programs.

Advice on frozen pipes

As a result of the prolonged sub-zero temperatures, many homes and businesses in the area are faced with the problem of frozen water lines.

Some have elected to utilize welding equipment and similar electrical devices as a means of applying heat through frozen areas to restore water flow. A Wisconsin Michigan Power Company spokesman warns that extreme care should be taken whenever an electric current is present.

The electrical distribution system of many homes in the area is grounded to water lines; either private wells or city mains. If the frozen section of water line is broken, has plastic sections, or is insulated by joint sealant, the electrical circuit will search for an alternate route to complete the circuit, possibly utilizing ground wires attached to the water line causing them to overheat. In the event this should happen, it creates a fire hazard to your home and your neighbor's if your water systems are inter-connected and a part of the alternate route.

If you should find it necessary to use an electrical current to thaw frozen water pipes, take precautions to insure that an alternate route to complete the circuit is not available.

The pipes should be disconnected from building piping before the wiring connections so that the current has only one path in which to travel...through the section which is frozen. If this is not done, where other devices are grounded to the water pipes the ground wires may burn out and cause a fire; since the grounding connections will be raised above earth potential. Caution should be exercised by anyone contemplating this procedure.

Check makes Atlantic trip

A Scotsman always comes to the aid of another Scotsman.

At least it seemed that way when Mr. and Mrs. Keith Perry of Thompson received a letter that had made a 3,900 mile trans-Atlantic round trip.

Mrs. Perry explained that her son Richard, of downstate Warren, mailed a letter with a $100 personal check to her and her husband on Nov. 12. But she saw nothing in the mail.

"After three weeks of expecting the check," Mrs. Perry said, "I called my son and he said he had mailed it."

"I thought that it was intercepted," she added. As a precaution, her daughter-in-law put a stop on the check at the bank.

Several weeks passed. Then on Jan. 5, the letter appeared in the Perry's mailbox with a notation on the back: "Found in open letter at Huntly Aberdeenshire 24 Dec. '76," along with a cancellation stamp from the Scottish town.

Mrs. Perry said the letter evidently was stuffed inside a larger unsealed envelope bound for Scotland and was not discovered until it reached Huntly Aberdeenshire.

Mrs. Perry thought the experience was reassuring in more ways than one, for her husband's father was born a few miles from the tiny Scottish village.

'Men in blue' rescue keycase

As far as Edna Stevenson is concerned, the "men in blue" are worth their weight in valuable keycases.

Stevenson, of 530 Alger Ave. a 100 percent disabled American veteran, his wife and his mother-in-law, who is also disabled, were on their way to Sault Ste. Marie for an appointment when they stopped for gas at St. Ignace.

Stevenson said because of the disability of her and his mother-in-law, the car was left running while his wife filled the auto up with gasoline at a self-serve gas station.

Unknowingly, they left the gas station with the gas cap and a keycase on top of the car. The keycase was hand made by Stevenson some 17 years ago and carried some sentimental value.

On return through St. Ignace, they stopped and searched the area where they filled the car up, but because of blowing snow conditions were unable to locate the case. While they were there Mrs. Stevenson saw a policeman and after explaining the situation, asked him if he would keep an eye out for the cap and keycase.

When the Stevenson's returned home to Manistique later on in the day, they received a phone call from a St. Ignace Police Station informing them that they had the keys and would send them up to the Manistique police post.

At 2:30 p.m. Friday a state trooper delivered the cap and keycase. Stevenson said that he felt "the highway patrol will go all out in any situation to help somebody. There are two sides to the coin. I just wanted people to know that they do good."

He added, "I want them to know that I appreciate it too."

Unemployment for 1976 dropped according to statistics

Unemployment in Schoolcraft County reached an all-time high last February, when some 600 persons in the county were unemployed, according to statistics obtained from the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Unemployment rates for the months of January through November, the last month in which statistics were available, showed a high of 18.9 percent in February and a low of 8.1 percent in August. The 11 month average was computed at 11.62 percent.

For the first four months of 1976, Schoolcraft County ranked above Upper Peninsula unemployment, according to the statistics. In May, the figures dropped and ran below UP unemployment for the rest of the year.

The January-November 11 month average for the Upper Peninsula was computed at 12.14 percent.

According to the figures obtained from the Marquette District MESC office, the average labor force in the county was estimated at 3,275 while that of the Upper Peninsula was set for 129,254.

A spokesman for the job security commission explained that the labor force is a complicated formula involving wage and salary employment, estimation of self-employed, number of unemployment claims filed with MESC and an estimation of the number of persons who did not file a claim but were unemployed.

Unemployment by month of Schoolcraft County is as follows: January, 18.3; February, 18.9; March, 18.4; April, 15.9; May, 11.1; June, 10.3; July, 8.8; August, 8.1; September, 8.8; October, 9.9; and November, 10.5.

Percentages for the Upper Peninsula as a whole for the 11 months were: January 15.0; February, 14.8; March, 14.7; April, 14.1; May, 12.1; June, 11.9; July, 11.2; August, 9.8; September, 9.5; October, 9.6; and November, 11.1.

The MESC spokesman indicated that fluctuations in the labor force were partly accountable by a general trend of women entering the labor force in larger numbers.

According to a news release from the director of MESC in Detroit, unemployment for the state was down during 1976.

"1976 was a year of substantial unemployment declines," according to year end estimates released by S. Martin Taylor, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Taylor said that during December, Michigan's unemployment rate rose by two tenths of a percent to 9.0 percent from 8.8 percent in November. The number of jobless rose by 7,600 to 351,700. The report indicated that current December rate is far below that of a year ago, when 11.4 percent of the state's labor force or 448,700 were unemployed.

Throughout 1976 unemployment dropped by almost 100,000 from an average of 490,000 in 1975 to 390,000 in 1976, leaving the average jobless rate at 10.1 percent compared with 12.5 percent in 1975.

There are currently 3,487,700 employed individuals in the state, according to Taylor.

SUA program provides benefit payment to workers

Benefit payments under the Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA) program, a federally-funded program providing unemployment benefits to workers not covered by regular unemployment insurance programs, has been extended for 15 months, Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) Director S. Martin Taylor has announced.

SUA may now be paid for weeks of unemployment ending prior to June 30, 1978. However, no new SUA claims will be accepted for any weeks beginning after Dec. 31, 1977. The program was originally scheduled to issue payments for weeks ending prior to March 31, 1977, until extended by Congress.

SUA benefits are available for anyone excluded by law from all other unemployment insurance programs, chiefly for domestic and agricultural workers, according to Taylor.

SUA applicants must meet the same eligibility requirements as those collecting regular unemployment benefits. They must have earned at least $25.01 in each of 14 of the preceding 52 weeks and they must be able, available for and actively seeking work.

Domestic and agricultural workers for example, who are not presently covered under the state unemployment insurance law and who have worked for more than one non-covered employer, will be permitted to total earnings from all employers in having their benefits figured.

To file for SUA benefits claimants should go to their nearest MESC Job Service Office. They must bring with them their social security card and two other pieces of identification and evidence of employment, such as pay stubs or letters from employers.

Claimants visit MESC offices according to the last digit of their social security number. Those with 0 or 1, report on Mondays; 2 or 3, report on Tuesdays; 4 or 5, Wednesdays; 6 or 7, Thursdays; and 8 or 9, Fridays.

Job Service offices are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Rapid whips Bears 84-60

The Big Bay de Noc Black Bears lost a 37-34 halftime lead in the third quarter and were throttled by the Rapid River Rockets Tuesday night, 84-60.

"They got real hot in the third quarter," Big Bay Coach Dave Pelletier said. "They scored 28 to our 12 and that was it."

The game started more hopefully for the Black Bears, however. Guard Greg Pelletier sank seven field goals in the first quarter to propel Big Bay to a 20-18 advantage by the end of the period.

The Black Bears led most of the first half, by times as much as 6 and 7 points. In the second half, it was an entirely different matter.

"We lost our composure in the second half," Coach Pelletier said. They got physical and we couldn't penetrate on them.

Meanwhile, the Black Bears were nailed for 16 personal fouls in the half, repeatedly sending the Rockets to the line.

When his son Greg was sandwiched between two Rapid River players and a foul was called on the Big Bay guard, Coach Pelletier protested and drew his first technical foul in 18 years of coaching.

By the end of the third period, the Bears trailed 62-49.

The Rockets polished off the host Big Bay squad in the final frame, outscoring the Black Bears 22-11.

For Rapid River, Kevin Brannstrom collected 21 points and Kim Johnson, 20. Pelletier wound up with 24 points, followed by Kevin Miller with 18.

Big Bay will be back in action Friday night in an away game against North Central. The Bears now stand 6-5.

Last Friday, the Bears overcame Trenary in a scoring flurry, 86-79. Big Bay held quarter leads of 26-20, 52-41 and 70-63 before playing even with the Comets in the final stanza.

Kevin Miller dumped in 30 points, while Pelletier and John Miller chipped in 22 apiece. Dave Praznik of Trenary had a game-high 36, followed by Pat LaCombe with 27.

"I DON'T BELIEVE I DID IT." Newberry's Chuck Meuli (25) seems to be saying as he's called for a personal foul against Kevin Patz (44) in Manistique's 72-64 victory over the Indians Tuesday night. Patz's shot went astray, but he made one of two free throws in the fourth period, part of the Emeralds' 16 of 21 success rate at the line in the final eight minutes. (Tribune Photo)

Victory over Newberry a smoothie for Emeralds

It looked so smooth, just like it was planned by computer.

The Manistique Emeralds avenged a 75-65 loss at Newberry in December with a 72-64 triumph over the highly-regarded Indians here Tuesday night.

"It was a good one to win," Coach Seb Rubick said afterwards. "We played real well as a team."

The victory which made the Emeralds 7-3 on the year, also marked a breakthrough for them, the first success this season over a high-ranking Class C school. The Indians were defeated in overtime 82-79 Friday night by Class A Sault Ste. Marie, and have been rated in the state's top 20 "C" schools.

The Emeralds led practically all the way, and executed and shot so well against a strong team that game statistics yielded some positive surprises.

Despite some noticeably fine labors under the basket, it was shooting and free throws and not rebounding that provided the winning key. Manistique fired in 26 of 52 attempts from the floor for a sound 50 percent, against Newberry's 26 of 57 for 46 percent. But the Indians outrebounded the Emeralds 29-27.

The free throw line provided the actual difference in the score, with Manistique netting 20 to the Indians, 12. The Indians were charged with 8 more personal fouls, 21 to Manistique's 13.

John Pistulka turned in another fine game in leading the Emeralds with 26 points and 10 rebounds. Rick Berger added 18 points. For Newberry, Keith Laabs was tops with 27.

The Emeralds are idle until Jan. 28, when they travel to Munising to face the Mustangs.

Sports Pioneer-Tribune

Quarter by quarter summary:

First: Emeralds 16, Newberry 14

Postulka hit an 18-foot jump shot at 6:42, but Scott Thompson hit two free throws and a full-court Indian press shock a Manistique turnover leading to a 15-footer by Todd Haapalainen at 6:11. The 4-2 deficit was the only time in the ball game that the Emeralds trailed.

Berger drove and hit a six-foot jumper at 5:36, followed by a fast break climaxed with a Don Videtich pass to Pistulka for a dog shot to claim the lead.

The Emeralds had two and four-point leads the rest of the period, with both squads connecting on medium and short-range shots.

Second: Emeralds 17, Newberry 13

After Gary Kaiser sank a 12 footer at 7:51, Videtich again fed Pistulka inside. The 6-foot-5 forward hit a reverse layup and the emeralds had built a 20-14 lead.

Dexter Fossitt hit a short jumper and a layup on a fast break to close the gap to two by 6:40, but Manistique slowly rebuilt the lead to nine points with close-range shots and layups.

Newberry's Laabs penetrated for a layup and followed a rebound with a five-foot jumper to close the margin to 31-27 by 1:24. But Kevin Patz would up the scoring in the half by putting up a four-footer with 45 seconds left.

Third: Emeralds 17, Newberry 13

With the Indians pressing, Manistique continued its success with an opportunistic offense, hitting close shots and layups on fast breaks.

Foul problems also began to plague the Indians. Newberry set up the Emeralds with one and one free throw situations by the 5:30 points. Some fine freebie shooting in the final quarter paid major dividends to the host Emeralds.

Manistique led by 12 when Berger fed Kaiser for a six-footer with 43 seconds left, but Steve Burgess answered with a 17-foot jumper to make it 50-40 going into the final period.

Fourth: Newberry 24, Emeralds 22

In a high-scoring quarter, the Emeralds hit 16 of 21 free throw tries to put the win in their pocket.

The Indians pressed to some Emerald turnovers, but the earlier lead proved beneficial.

Mid-way through the period, the Emeralds began a slow-down offense with a 58-55 lead. Berger hit a 14-footer at 3:58 to return the margin to five, but after Videtich hit a dog shot on a fast break to make the score 62-55 at 3:33, the rest of Manistique's scoring came on free throws.

Manistique-Videtich 4-3-1-11; Berger 5-8-0-18; Goudreau 0-0-1-0; Kaiser 2-2-4; Pistulka 11-4-4-26; Masters 1-2-1-4; Patz 3-1-1-7; Srasler 0-0-1-0; Taylor 0-2-2-2. Totals: 26-20-13-72.

Newberry-Burgess 4-1-3-9; Fossitt 4-2-2-10; Haapalainen 3-0-5-6; Hill 0-0-1-0; Laabs 11-5-1-27; Meuli 3-0-3-6; Morrison 1-2-4-1; Stephenson 0-0-1-0; Thompson 0-2-1-2. Totals: 26-12-21-64.

Mock wedding reveals some true-to-life truths

by Mark Eisenlohr

Cutting the wedding cake is part of the traditional reception and Robert Dougherty and Joanne Seltner right as the newlyweds cut the cake at their reception.

The groom was as nervous as any groom might be. He fidgeted, bit his upper lip and played with his fingers behind his back. The attractive bride walked in and nervously took her place next to her husband-to-be.

It wasn't a real ceremony, as far as legality is concerned, but to the students of Rosemary Sablack's Family Living class at the Manistique High School it was real enough.

The bride, Joanne Seltner, and the groom, Robert Dougherty, volunteered to perform the roles as did David Houghton as best man; Gail Chartier as Maid of Honor; Amy Bowers, Flower girl; Gina Bosanic, Brides Maid; Jay Krummish, Grooms Man, and Randy Dewey as the Minister.

The students are studying marriage in the family living class, taught by Sablack. It wasn't as if they jumped into marriage either. The students studied courtship and engagement first.

Now that the students are married they will go job hunting, as a married spouse and a drop out of high school.

With the job they land, they will have to budget out their money for rent, food and clothing.

Sablack enjoys teaching her class in this rather unique fashion, indicating that it affords a life-like picture of the overall situation.

"Some students who might have gotten married right out of high school have put it off after taking this course," says Sablack. "They calculate the costs of the whole thing and it brings the realization right to them."

"The students are surprised at how much things cost," said the mother of two. She also feels that every one should take this class.

"The students are expected to have training in a variety of things but they're not expected to have any training for being a husband or a wife or even a parent," said Sablack. She was married at 22.

The class seems to have sold itself to the students, according to Sablack, who says she has students that are promising her that they will take it next year.

Sablack, who has been teaching for 12 years, also instructs an Interior Design class, Eighth grade home ec., and a housing class in addition to the Family Living class. At night she teaches an alternative education class for teen-age parents.

Sablack recommends that a student not get married right out of high school, but to instead gain experience, stability, emotional maturity and financial readiness.

As far as two people living together, Sablack says that it may not be the best thing.

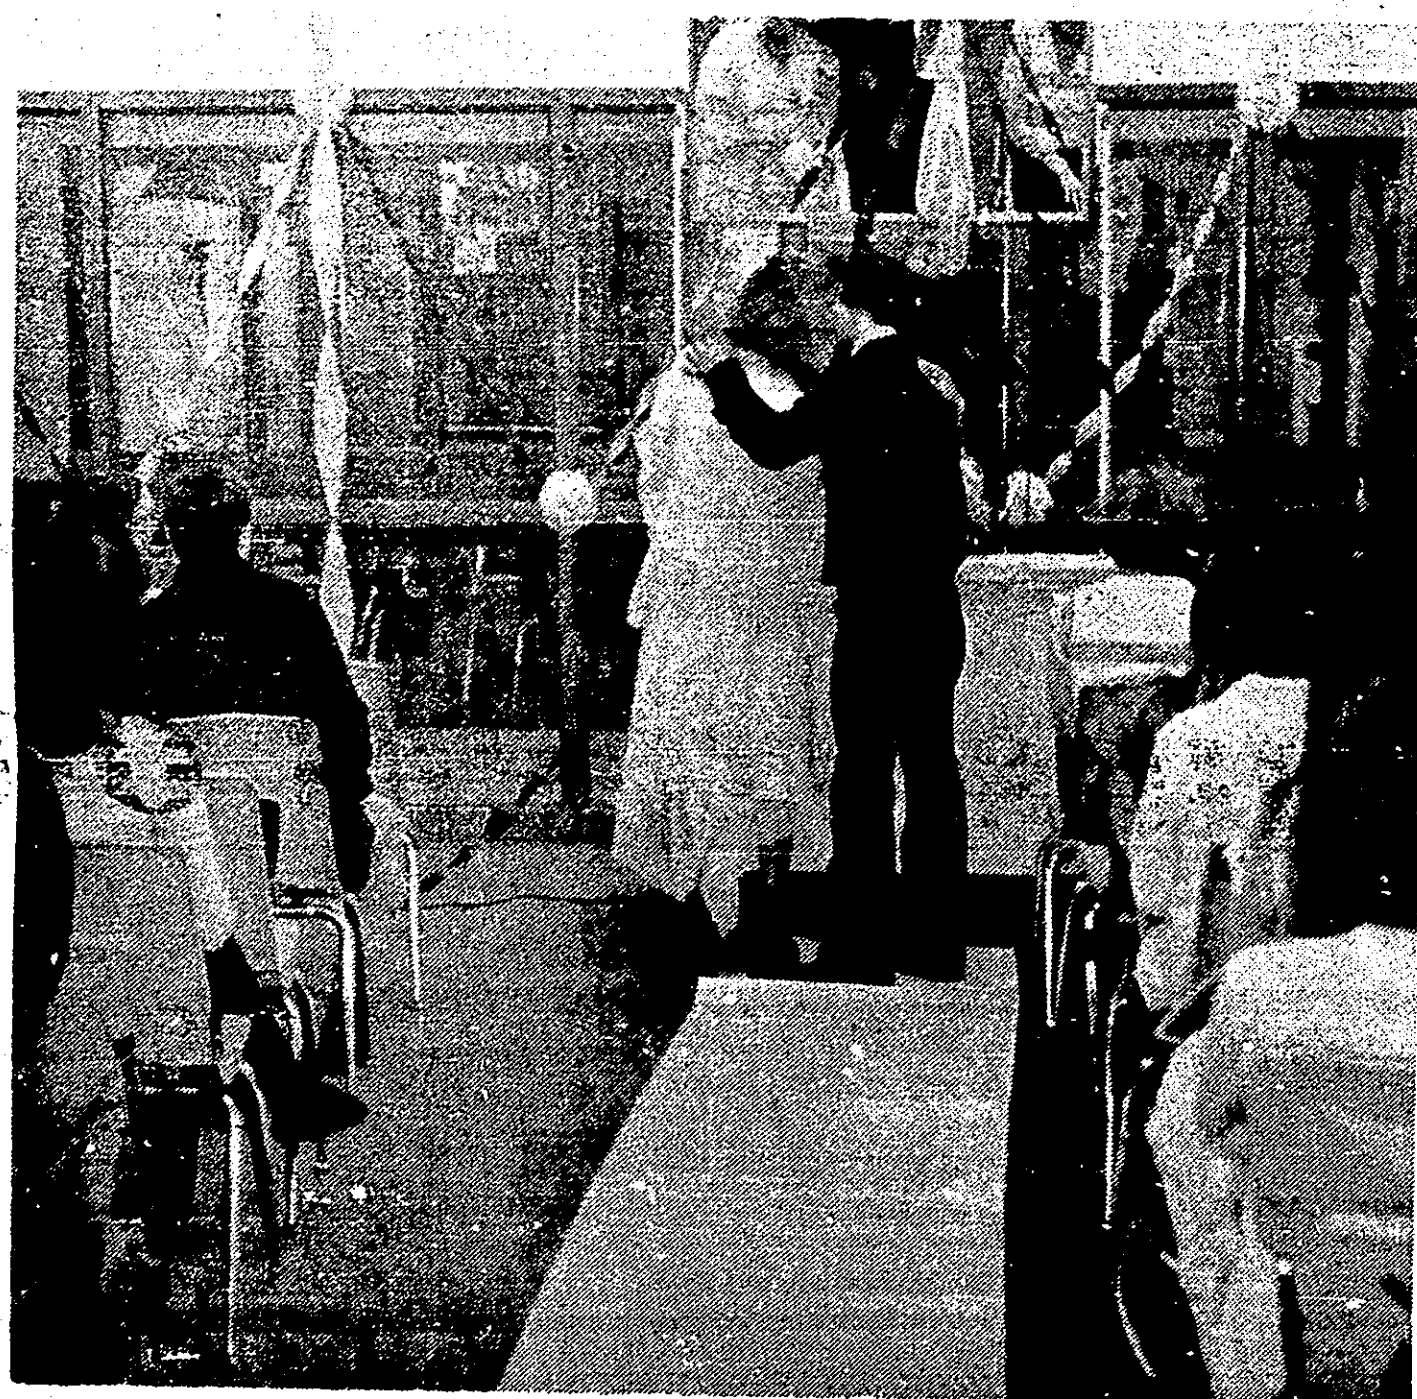

"I don't ignore the fact that these things happen. It still is a commitment that can be broken," she says. "I don't really go along with the idea because I'm more conservative."

To help make the situation as real as possible Sablack incorporates a wheel of misfortune in her class. The wheel deals with various misfortunes that could befall a couple after 10 years of marriage.

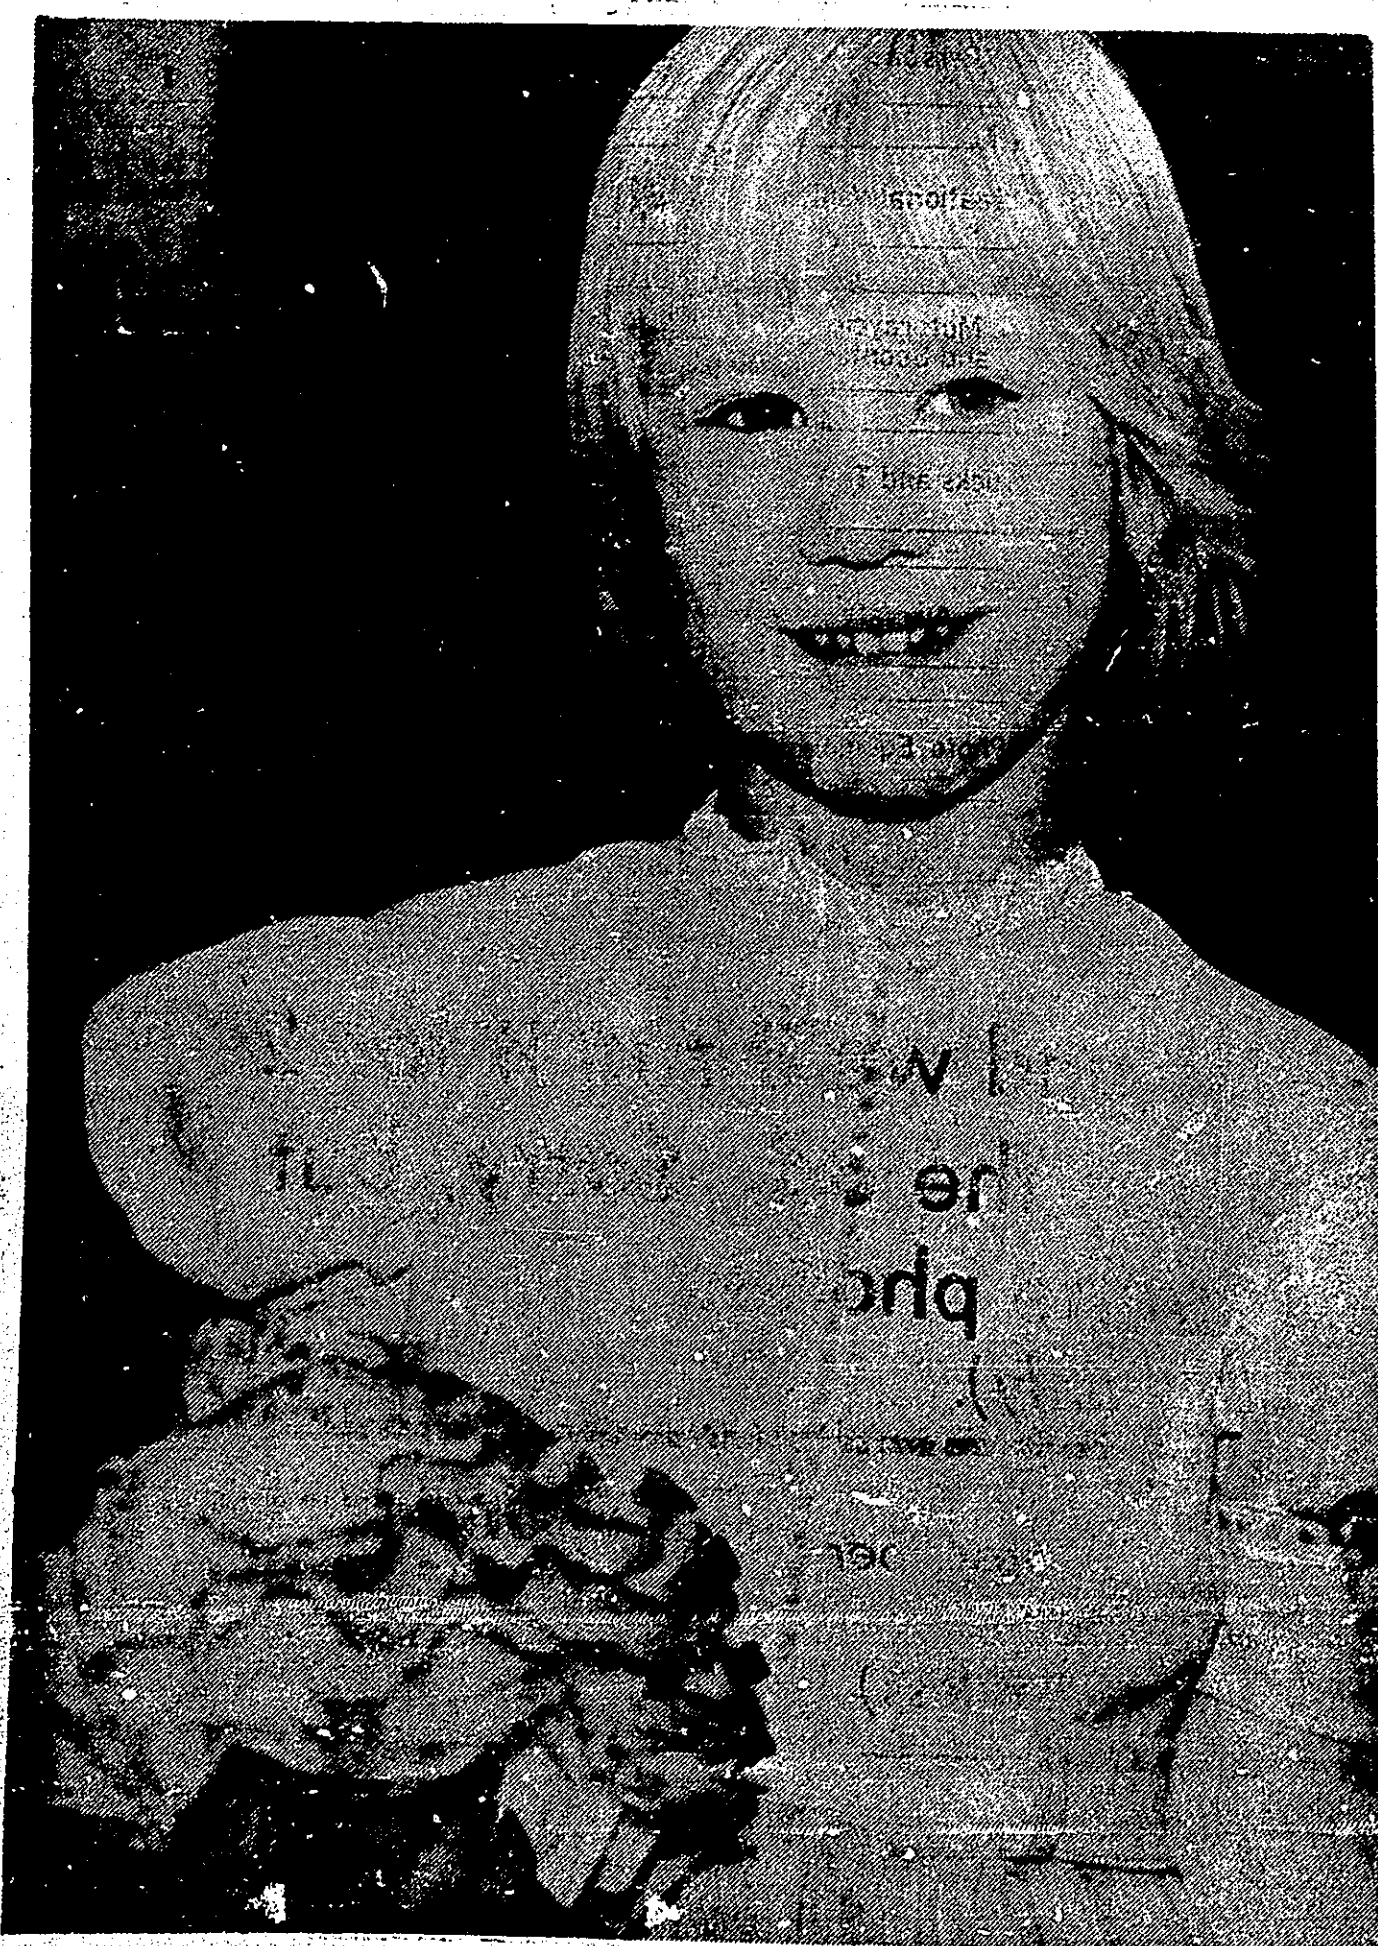

Throughout their simulated marriage the students will be constantly asked to cope with different situations, in addition to working on a tight budget that forces them to go around town and price the different necessities of life so that they can see first hand just what it does cost to be a married, young couple trying to make a go of it.

Incidentally, the simulated marriage would have cost the couple $3,000.

Mrs. Rosemary Sablack, left, looks over some of the cards wishing the newlyweds good luck. Center, groom Bob Dougherty takes his first kiss following the simulated marriage held in Sablack's Family Living class. Students in attendance at the ceremony were treated to a reception following the wedding, far right.

Every wedding party has a flower girl and pretty Amy Bowers was chosen by the couple for their flower girl. Other members in the wedding party included David Houghton, Gail Chartier, Gina Bosanic, Jay Krummish and Randy Dewey.

Cherish hopes for adoption

When Cherish decides you're a friend, she'll hold your hand, maybe placing it softly on her cheek or perhaps touching your face. Cherish is a petite 9 year old with brown hair and eyes. Other girls her age are taking piano lessons and learning long division. Cherish may never be able to do any of those things. She won't ever do much academically but she does have a lot of other things going for her.

She is well behaved and gets along easily with children and adults after her initial shyness passes. Cherish is available for adoption. She needs special parents who will understand her limitations yet encourage her to reach her greatest potential. She will probably be able to do simple jobs in a workshop setting when she reaches adulthood.

If you feel you can be special parents, Cherish is waiting to meet you. Contact the Dept. of Social Services to begin adoption procedures. Cherish needs your love and she needs it now.

Traffic patrol hours dropped but increased in other areas

Traffic patrol hours dropped last year over 1975 but increases in the number of complaint hours and desk hours logged combined to give Michigan State Police at the Manistique Post over 28,000 man hours of duty in the Schoolcraft county area, according to figures released by the state police post.

The number of complaints received last year was listed as 2,047 an increase over the 1975 figure of 1,632.

With the increase in complaints received last year also came an increase in hours spent answering those complaints. Hours logged in 1976 totalled 7,386 while 1975 showed 6,656, an increase of 730 hours.

Patrol hours were down last year by 1,382 hours from a 1975 figure of 7,828. Traffic arrests also decreased from 1,567 in 1975 to 1,453 in 1976.

It was a bumper year for traffic accidents, however, as the state police registered 28 more accidents last year than in 1975.

Fatal accidents remained the same last year as compared with 1975. Two fatalities were recorded.

The total amount of arrests, both traffic and non-traffic were up by 28 over 1975 figures. An increase of 142 non-traffic arrests in 1976 off set the decrease in traffic related arrests.

Troopers spent an additional 854 hours or 10,991 hours behind the desk over the 1975 figure of 10,137.

172 more miscellaneous hours were also recorded last year over the previous year.

Patrol troopers also helped fewer motorists last year than in 1976. 367 motorists were assisted last year as compared to the 487 figure in 1975.

Property inspections were also listed below that of 1975 with 4,635 registered last year.

Troopers either handed out more tickets last year or stopped less traffic, or both, as the number of verbal warnings decreased to 2,074 last year over the 1975 figure of 2,826.

Patrolmen drove more miles last year per hour than in 1975. 197,975 miles were driven, or 30.7 miles per traffic patrol hour, as compared to the 1975 figure of 186,950, or 23.8 miles per traffic patrol hour.

READING GLASSES

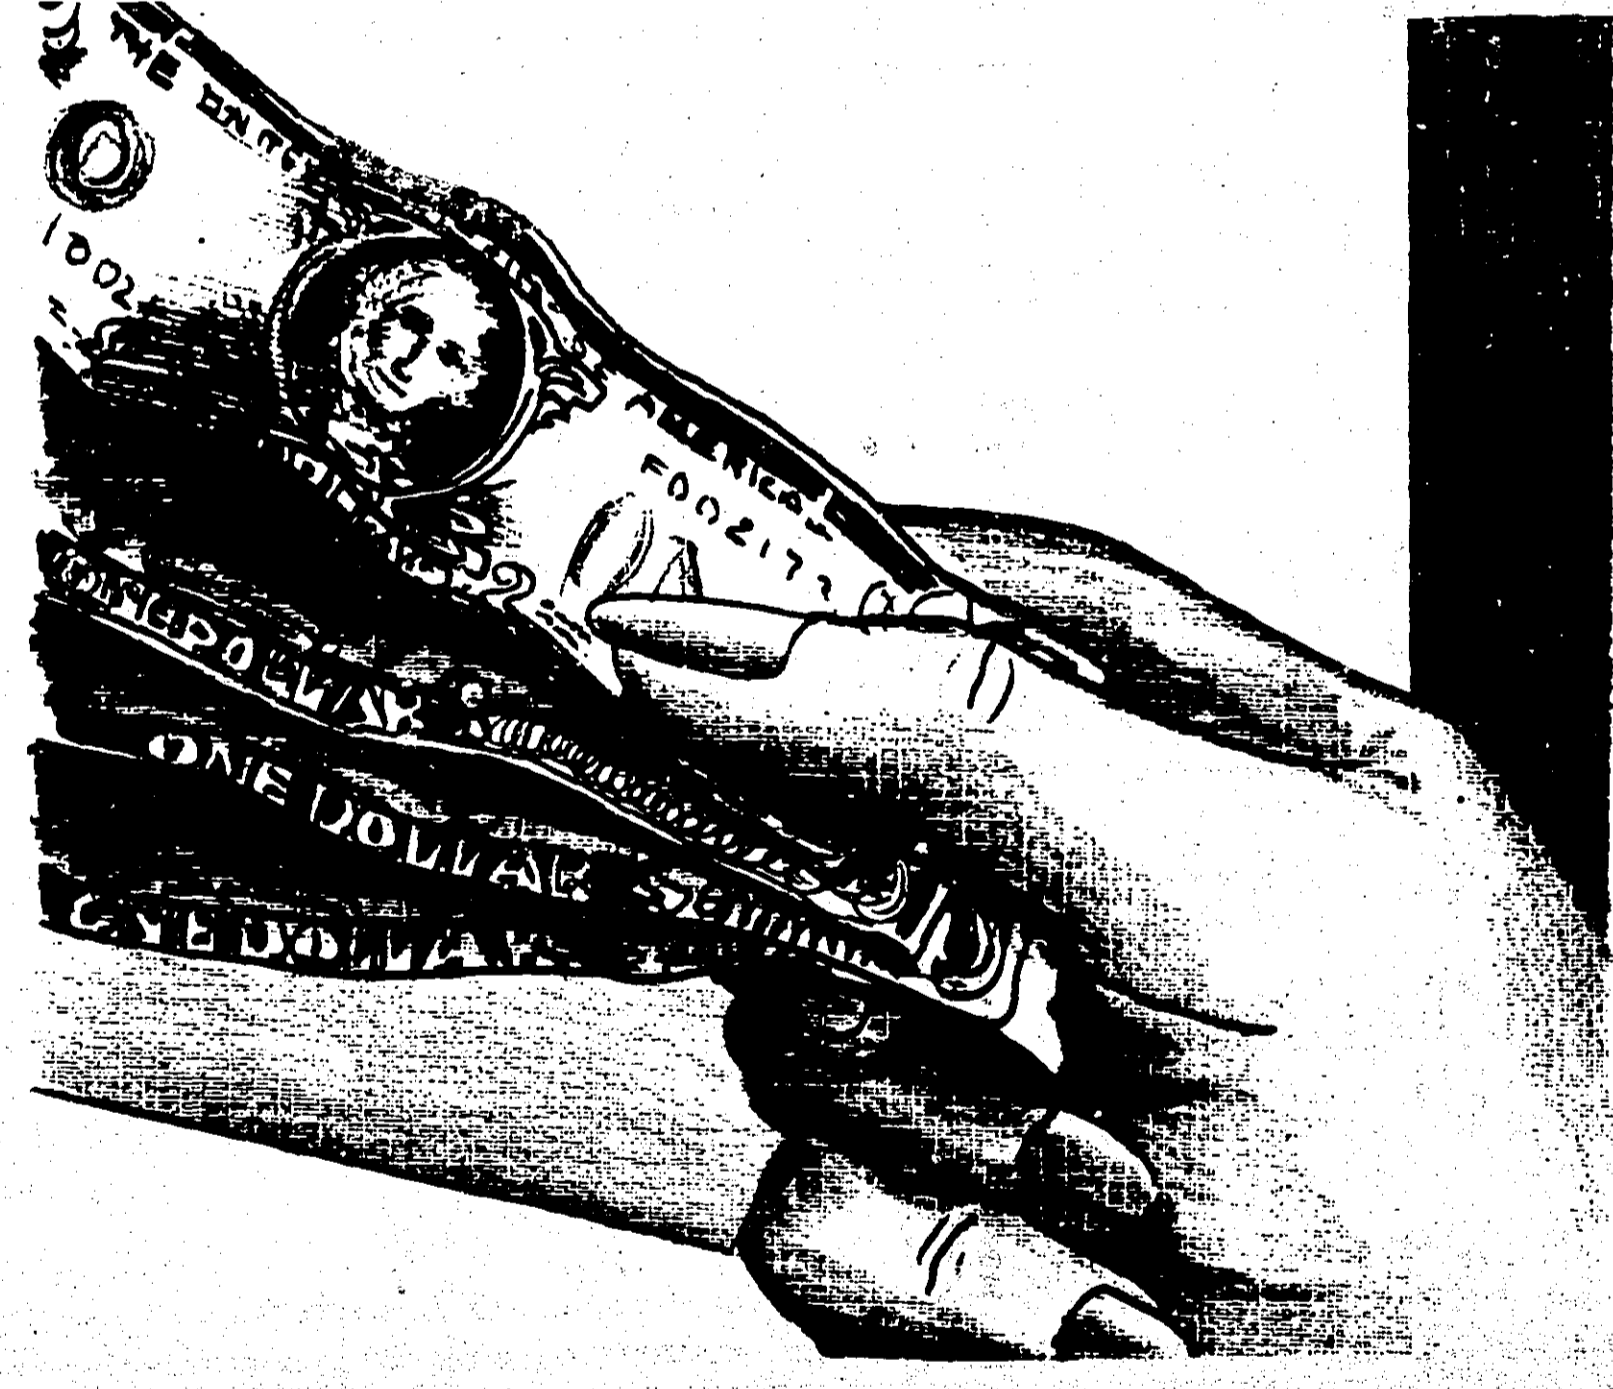

See Better Instantly For Reading and for Close Work

FAILURE OF SIGHT is generally experienced between the ages of 30 & 40 and is owing to the fact that Nature does not supply secretions sufficient to keep the lenses soft and flexible and therefore the power of accommodation is lost. The first indication of failing eyesight is when it becomes necessary to hold small objects (such as fine print or a needle) away from the eye to see them clearly or when it becomes difficult to read in the evenings. When these symptoms occur it is best to purchase a pair of glasses to ease taxation on the eyes.

Lauerman's of Manistique

Memoirs

By Mark Eisenlohr

Dreaming of silent movies

At last my chance had come to watch an old fashioned real live silent movie. In its entirety, no less.

Up to now my only experience with silent movies has been what I had caught a glimpse of on other shows. Those shows were usually something like the "Beverly Hillsbillies."

But now, the TV guide listed a 1925 "classic" for showing at 11 p.m. on channel 13 Sunday night. It was billed as a dashing and romantic adventure set in the Imperial Court of Eighteenth Century Russia.

It starred as the movie fans might have guessed, Rudolph Valentino and Vilma Banky and Luise Dresser. It was called "The Eagle."

All in all, I really wanted to watch it. I set my assorted movie paraphernalia around the easy chair and settled down at 9 p.m. I wanted to be used to the tube by the time the movie came on.

As the time drew nearer, I became aware that the preceding movie was only in its beginning stages. As the time swept on to 1 a.m. my fears were confirmed; the show had been pre-empted. By station sign off time I knew there was no hope. Dejectedly, I went to bed.

Silent Dreams
But my head was spinning with dreams (silent) and I wondered if the Manistique area had the real honest-to-goodness silent movie houses most of which were converted from the old dance halls.

I could imagine the plinkety-plink of the piano, the flickering actors on the screen and the obtrusive subtitles flashing momentarily the scant dialogue.

I could see the villain as he twitched his mustache and tied the fair lady onto the railroad tracks (a vision from my earlier days) and the hero, all decked in white, hearing the silent screams of the heroine and rescuing her as the silent train was ready to silence her. And they both rode off on a silent horse laughing silently to themselves.

So I did some investigating. I was sure that I had been told that at one time Manistique had two movie houses, one on each end of town.

I looked in the back issues of the paper. Nothing. Except an ad for the Gero theater in 1909.

With a give and take of 30 years either way, I had to narrow it down even farther. J.L. LeDuc, former owner of the Oak Theater and the Cedar Theatre informed me that by the time he had purchased the theaters they were all sound. However, he did seem to recall that....

Anyway, it was somewhere around 1929 that that sound first came to Manistique. For those of us who take it for granted that sound and motion are one and the same, what a strange sight the coming of "talkies" must of been.

To hear those actors, who for movie after movie only managed to move their lips, not capable of transporting the sound to each movie house.

No Memories
The winters of past years will go unremembered. Perhaps because they were too terrible to remember, or more likely, no one can remember them. In either case, I feel compelled to those who are interested in the winter 1949 and 1950. It was a mildly temperate winter with the high water starting around March 25. Temperatures in March were recorded as between 30 and 40 degrees and in the area away from the lake there was a good 40 to 50 inches of snow on the ground.

La Salle Expedition II runs into 20th century

The LaSalle Expedition II voyagers have voted to continue their re-enactment of the 3,300 mile LaSalle expedition after four of the voyagers were injured, one seriously, when they were struck by a truck on a rural road near Hebron, Ind. Jorge Garcia, 19, of Streamwood, Ill. was reported in serious condition with internal injuries Thursday in Porter Memorial Hospital in Valparaiso, according to the Chicago Tribune.

The Chicago paper also listed Steve Marr, 18, also of Streamwood, in guarded condition with a broken left leg and abrasions, and Cliff Wilson, 18, of Elgin, Ill. was in guarded condition with multiple lacerations.

Gary Braun, 19, of Bartlett, Ill. was treated for abrasions and released. Reid Lewis, leader of the group, was quoted in the Chicago Tribune as saying "We ran into 20th century."

"We were moving in single file against traffic when a small truck passed me, followed by a flatbed semi-trailer truck. The next thing I heard was the screech of brakes, and the semi had hit the small truck from the rear," Lewis said.

"Some of our crew members were on the ground and our gear was scattered around," he said.

One of the group is a paramedic who took charge of the situation, according to Lewis.

The Indiana State Police reported the small vehicle, a cattle truck, had stopped to allow the hikers to cross the road and was struck by the semitrailer truck, which rammed the cattle truck into the hikers.

The voyagers were carrying their canoes and equipment because the unusually cold weather in midwest has frozen most of the waterways traveled by the original LaSalle expedition.

The group has decided not to replace the three members who will remain in the hospital.

"As far as we're concerned the injured crewmen are irreplaceable. Their places will remain vacant until such time as they can return to the crew." The Chicago Tribune quoted one of the members as saying.

The group is expected to reach New Orleans, their final destination around April 9, 295 years to the date that the original LaSalle landed there.

Senior Citizens

by Eileen Males

Writing a column like this, at times creates a problem, and that is "What can I write about that would be of some interest to all who read it?" Well, this week I am mentally blank for any thought of wisdom, so I got out "The People's Almanac" and decided I could give you some facts and figures about something you may enjoy that has zilch to do with Senior Citizens. So here goes:

Some Crime Statistics
Before his death in 1972, J. Edgar Hoover concluded a 5 year study based on police records in 2,400 U.S. cities.

1. Most probable months for burglaries are December, January, and February.
2. Most probable night for burglaries is Saturday night.
3. Most burglaries occur between 6:00 p.m. and 2:00 a.m.
4. Most assaults, rapes, and murder take place in July and August.
5. Most murders happen on a weekend.

"Some Most Married People in History"

1. King Mongkut of Siam - 9,000 wives and concubines
2. King Solomon of the Old Testament - 700 wives
3. Queen Kahena of the Berbers - 400 husbands.
4. August the Strong of Saxony - 365 wives.
5. Theresa Vaughn of England - 61 husbands.
6. Brigham Young of Salt Lake City - 27 wives
7. Beverly N. Avery of the United States - 14 husbands

"Most Common Last Names in United States"

1. Smith; 2. Johnson; 3. Williams; 4. Jones; 5. Brown; 6. Miller; 7. Davis; 8. Anderson; 9. Wilson; 10. Thompson.

Now, I don't know how these facts and figures will stimulate your thinking process except to be thankful that you don't have King Mongkut or King Solomon's problems. I wonder if they took Geritol?

Memorials were given to the Manistique Senior Citizens in the name of Anna Gardapee by Dora Cournaya and in the name of Mrs. Fred Breitman by Lester and Myrtle Breitman.

Building fund donations came from Henry and Dorothy Brolin, Ethel Howland, Thomas and Bernadine Vaughn, William and Lillian Dennis, Art and Irene Halverson, and Mary Ida Goudreau.

Baked goods were brought in by Viola Richmire, Hildreth Binder, Olive Saunders and Edith Washburn.

We appreciate all these acts of kindness and we thank you for your concern.

Cambray completes radio relay course

FT. GORDON, GA. Army Private Holly A. Cambray, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy M. Cambray, 836 Wells St., Marinette, Wis., recently completed a 23-week radio relay and carrier attendant course at the U.S. Army Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Ga.

During the course, students learned to install, operate and perform organizational maintenance on field radio relay, carrier and associated equipment. They were familiarized with radios ranging from miniature sets to complex sets used on Army aircraft.

Pvt. Cambray entered the Army in July 1976.

She is a 1976 graduate of Marinette Catholic Central High School.

Her father, Chester J. Cambray, lives in Naubinway.

Thermostat dial down

Conserve Energy Cut Heating Bills

Many people find that 68 degrees is really quite liveable. And once you set the thermostat to 68 degrees... forget it. Continually dialing other temperatures wastes fuel.

You may also find that you can set your thermostat even lower for the nighttime hours when you're sleeping - and still be comfortable.

Capital punishment no answer

We can understand the anger that has prompted the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) and the Michigan State Police Troopers Association to call for repeal of the Michigan Constitution ban on capital punishment.

The slaying of Pontiac policeman Gerald Carpenter was a terrible thing. The officer was killed when he surprised two persons trying to free a police prisoner held under guard at Pontiac General Hospital.

And, again and again we have read of such incidents here and around the country.

The sad story of Gary Gilmore has focused national attention on the issue.

What supporters of capital punishment would have us believe is that Mad Dog Killers can be deterred by a law that says - If you kill, we will kill you.

Unfortunately, the record does not support such contentions. Criminals seldom contemplate the possibility of punishment for wrongful acts. Their operating assumption is that they will not get caught.

As Eugene Wanger, a Lansing lawyer who helped push through the anticapital punishment clause in the 1963 Constitution, put it:

"Capital punishment is a useless, dangerous, and sensational issue that does nothing but divert attention and resources away from truly effective ways of improving Michigan's criminal justice system."

Wanger maintained that 40 years of studies throughout the country have shown that the existence of a death penalty has no deterrent value on murder or any other crime.

He said that states that have the death penalty do not have lower murder rates than those that don't. And, States which have abolished it or reinstated it have not seen real changes in crime rates, he said.

We do understand the counter argument - that at least when society kills a killer, that man is prevented from committing such an act again.

But, this is a simplistic approach to the problem of violent crime, an approach that can be justified only during periods of anarchy.

And so we cannot support the petition drive undertaken recently to strike from the State Constitution the prohibition on the death penalty which has been on the books here since 1837.

We do favor discussion of the issue, particularly on alternatives to correcting the growing problems of violent crime.

There is no question but persons who kill law enforcement officers, prison guards and judges should be dealt with harshly. Perhaps the law should be made to read that persons involved in such slayings have committed first degree, murder. And, we favor not permitting parole in such cases except by action of the Governor.

Presumptive sentencing - the establishment of a set minimum from which a judge can deviate only after formal justification, appears to be a proposal that should be explored by the Legislature. It would do much to correct the permissive system of justice we now have.

But we cannot favor having the state participate in the violence by resorting to executions. That cheapens human life. We should seek a better solution.

Official Michigan

Jimmy Carter's red clay days: the northerners were most surprised

"Well, sure, I'd know'd Jimmy Earl since before he were big enough to tote a bushel of peanuts."

"Nice boy, that Jimmy. I remember him when he was a mere governor."

So goes the good-spirited patter as the nation's new president takes office today. And it's only the beginning of an (however brief) era of good feeling. Everyone wants to cozy up to a fresh new face in the White House while the traditional national "honeymoon" makes it popular to do so.

With that in mind, I might as well proclaim my own "discovery" of Jimmy Carter.

It was in September of 1970, when Carter was locked in combat with three other major candidates in a gubernatorial Democratic primary in Georgia. I was stationed in the Army at Fort Gordon near Augusta, Ga. and followed the campaign in the newspapers and the broadcast media.

In television political ads, Carter was super slick. There was hint of a Kennedy about him, with his floppy hair, flashing toothy smile, standing with shirt sleeves up on a platform and reaching out to a flotilla of hands, white and black.

White AND black. And he did it so blatantly, he was accused of trying to get votes from both sectors. Imagine that.

"Carter's runnin' around the state telling black people in Atlanta he's the

by Arnold Mackowiak

black man's candidate, and telling white people in Macon he's the white man's candidate," bellowed one of Carter's opponents (other than Lester Maddox, yet). "Now which one is he?"

It was refreshing then, to see a major candidate openly seeking votes from both racial backgrounds. Surely a person who could win a Dixie governorship with support from both "sides" would undermine the racist millstone that had destroyed other Southern politicians' campaigns for the presidency.

Given a decent record as governor, it seemed Carter could unite liberals in the north and regional support in his native south to become the first Deep South candidate since before the Civil War to win the White House. It was an exciting thought.

Carter won the run-off election that September in 1970 and then the general election in November. In his inaugural address the following January, he told citizens of Georgia that segregation belonged to the state's dark past. To Georgians knowledgeable of Carter's courting of the black vote, that declaration should not have been surprising.

But to bluebellies up north, it was mighty shocking, even in 1971. The nation quickly forgot about Jimmy Carter, the uncharacteristic southern governor, but many kept an eye trained on Gov. George Wallace.

For those who kept their eyes trained on Gov. Wallace, they eventually saw him one night in July, 1976 on the podium with Carter and others as the Democratic National Convention throng sang "We Shall Overcome," a civil rights hymn sung in defiance of the Alabama governor in the 1960's.

Politicians and their images are two different sets of things, however. From Carter, we should learn not to expect standard southern politics, yet still remember that the federal government runs on politics. And the price of fuel isn't likely to go down.

Prayer For Our Government

On the occasion of the Inauguration of the 39th President of the United States, Jimmy Carter, January 20, 1977, special permission has been given this newspaper by THE CHRISTOPHERS to reproduce this prayer.

Father, a handful of courageous men in a moment of danger, pledged their lives, fortunes and honor to proclaim a nation whose citizens' rights were based not on the nod of king or ruler, but on creation at your hands. Grant to our administration a ministry of service to all, not the few; to our Congress the upholding of public interest, not merely a welter of competing private claims; to our judiciary a wisdom in interpreting law, grounded in principle, not expediency.

Send your spirit on our people, that they may become active in the affairs of government, that they may not confuse dissent for disloyalty, that they may use their mighty power for the healing of differences among nations with justice and mercy and love.

'Build me a son'

The other day, during the quiet that comes between Christmas and New Year's, I was going through some of the things I have collected in the past few years. It was in part a long over due year end house cleaning combined with a search for ideas on which to base a couple of columns to get the year started right.

I was lucky enough to come across a little booklet put together by a former employer, two jobs and about five years ago. The house cleaning came to an abrupt end as I renewed old acquaintances found within the book's pages.

One such piece that I liked the first time I read it years ago was written by General Douglas MacArthur. It was written for his own son, but who is to say that is not what all fathers would pray of all sons? It is entitled, "Build Me a Son".

Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory.

Build me a son whose wishes will not take the place of deeds; a son who will know Thee—and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand upon the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high, a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men, one who will reach into the future, yet never forgets the past.

And after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness; the open mind of true wisdom and the meekness of true strength.

Then I, his father, will dare to whisper, 'I have not lived in vain.'

When President Ford signed the Metric Conversion Act on December 23, 1975, the United States established for the first time a national policy to coordinate the use of the metric system in this country. The policy will become evident over the next few months and years as more and more U.S. businesses, industrial firms, schools, and government agencies adopt the metric system. Every American will be affected by the changeover.

The National Bureau of Standards, the Federal government's physical sciences and measurement laboratory, has long been a focal point for metric information, especially since 1971 when it produced a 13-volume set of metric reports for the Congress. Since then NBS has maintained a Metric Information Program to respond to requests. Many of these functions will be assumed by the U.S. Metric Board, a separate entity established by the 1975 Act.

Remember strangers at class reunions

A letter came the other day announcing plans for a reunion of my high school class and asking for suggestions. (The letter said suggestions would be welcomed).

I'm not so sure they're welcome mine. I'd like to suggest they forget the whole thing. Not that reunions can't be fun - or at least interesting. I've had some great times at reunions - mostly those of other classes.

Unless you have kept in touch with people for twenty, thirty or forty years you meet as strangers. And those with whom you have kept in touch and perhaps seen from time to time know pretty much what to expect. They know you never lost the 20 extra pounds after the last baby and have since added 20 more. (The baby's 16).

They know about the major successes and failures of your life and they can empathize. ("Of course dear, I'd be grey too if I'd led the kind of life you have.") Good grief! Just what did she mean by THAT?

In fairly small classes the members can become quite close and remain so over the years, but in classes of two hundred or so there are perhaps only a few dozen people you know well. So, particularly at the big reunions it's important to know the language of "reunioneese."

Perhaps I'll work up a little handbook which I will submit to the committee as my suggestion. It might be extremely helpful for first-timers, and it could be used over and over. I'll have helpful hints for reunion goers and a brief summary of some key phrases and their translations. Let me give you an example. It helps to understand the language.

"My goodness, I'd know you anywhere."
Trans: Especially after so and so told me your name when I pointed you out a few minutes ago.

"You haven't changed a bit." Trans: You always were fat (or skinny, or silly, or whatever).

"Gee, you really look terrific." Trans: Surprised you're not dead yet.

"How's business?" Trans: What's your business?

"How's the family?" Trans: Wait til you hear about the geniuses in mine.

"This reunion was a great idea." Trans: What am I doing here with these dodos when I could be at home with my friends?

And ladies, if you plan to change your hair color or want to cover up the you know what - plan ahead. Don't wait until two days before the reunion. One gal I know did just that: waited until two days before the big event to mess around with her hair. She wasn't exactly the trend setter type and her green hair looked a little strange.

The men need to plan ahead too. If they feel they need Tummy flatteners, they'd better start exercising now or buy the waist cincher early.

One guy who had been a jock in school and who had gone to pot rather badly had a very red face and bulged eyes. We learned later he'd bought a waist cincher the day before, hoping to regain anything that might be left of his image. Most of us spent the entire evening at the reunion trying to figure out if he had high blood pressure or thyroid problems.

Foresters distribute annual reports at January meeting

The January meeting of St. Francis de Sales Court No. 992 of the National Catholic Society of Foresters was conducted by Vice President Mrs. Ivor Willcock Tuesday evening in the Parish Center.

Secretary Mrs. Dorothy Conlin distributed annual reports to be filed by the Junior Directors, Financial Secretary and President. She read communications from the home office regarding March election of officers and April installation; and informed members of four-year and two-year scholarships at $2000 and $600 respectively, which are available to High School Senior Forester members.

It was reported that Charter Member of the Manistique Court, Mrs. Catherine Corey of Grand Marais died this week and Mrs. Conlin was asked to contact the family on behalf of the Court.

Financial Secretary Mrs. Paul Dragos volunteered to check on members who qualify for twenty-five-year pins, which would include all Foresters who were initiated in 1952.

Thank you notes were received from the Franciscan Sisters and Mrs. Fran Barr. Mrs. Conrad Jahn presented the quarterly auditors report; and Mrs. Lawrence Savoie gave her report on the 1976 Card Marathons.

Mrs. Savoie said that the 1977 schedules have been distributed to two groups of ten couples each for afternoon and evening bridge and one group of eight couples for five-hundred, the "Couples" schedule has not been compiled to date, as several couples are still needed to fill this bridge group. She urged those interested to contact her at 341-5804.

Names drawn for attendance premiums were Mrs. James Lambert, Mrs. Mary Rozich and Mrs. Willcock; and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ray Ranguette and Mrs. Savoie for high scores in five hundred and bridge, which were played following the business meeting and social.

Hostess chairman Mrs. Donald Hoholik and her committee served coffee and dessert. January committee members were Mrs. Elmer Garvin, Mrs. Melba McKenzie, Mrs. Harold McNamara, Mrs. Emmet McNamara, Mrs. Conrad Hoholik, Mrs. Josephine LaVigne and Mrs. Tom Hoholik.

The Foresters will meet next on Tuesday, February 9th at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Center, at which time the nominating committee will present a slate of officers to be elected in March.

For the men, Fred Argell was high scorer with 1188 and Don Tuttle had the

What's Cooking: Potato soup

by Carl Olson
Michigan Department of Agriculture

Think everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it? I'm not going to get rid of the cold through weather modification but with a good Michigan Cheese and Potato Soup that can make you warm from the inside out.

It's from a "midwestern farm recipe" published in "The Mother Earth News Almanac" and is for "two moderately congealed people (or one suffering from an absolutely frightening case of the Cold Robies)."

Peel and boil two or three medium potatoes. Drain the potatoes when they're done, saving the liquid in which they were boiled. Mash them well, add the water you've saved and add a little more water if necessary. It should have a thick soup consistency.

Now brown 2½ tablespoons of flour in 2½ tablespoons of butter. Stir the flour and butter constantly and it turns golden without burning. Add this mixture to the potatoes and water and stir, boiling for two or three minutes.

At this point, cut a fairly good hunk of Michigan cheddar cheese into small pieces. There should be enough for two big soup bowls one-third full each. Cover the cheese with the thick potato-butter-flour "ambrosia," dice a quarter slice of onion on top of each serving and sprinkle a few drops of vinegar over all.

Break out the soup spoons and crackers and eat it hot!

The recipe is said to be from a midwestern farm. Looking at the cheese, potatoes, onions and vinegar, I swear it's got to be from Michigan. After all, where else would people know how to change the weather from the inside out?

SAINTHOOD?

So, you sang in the choir when you were a kid. And sometimes you snatched cigarettes back of the church while the grownups were having their social hour inside. Sometimes you pretended to have a sore throat, so you could be "excused." You looked like an angel, but were you one?

No way!

But no one held it against you. The door to the Church stood wide open then, and it still does. Why not take a walk inside some Sunday? See what it's like today! The years in between won't seem to matter.

Things to see and do in Hiawathaland

Michigan skiing going uphill

LANSING—Skiing in Michigan during the 1976-77 winter season has been all uphill with record-breaking attendance reported throughout both peninsulas, according to Jack S. Wilson, director, Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

Wilson said dramatic gains were noted at a majority of winter resorts all over the state with minor exceptions. He said the winter period, to date, has surpassed last year's record season.

"The spinoff benefits of the record patronage at Michigan's ski and winter resorts has a positive effect on employment, both seasonal and full-time," Wilson pointed out.

U.P. ski hills reported increases from 20 to 30 percent over last year's record season. The holiday period patronage was well above all previous seasons.

Increases throughout the state were attributed to early-season and heavy snowfall, targeting, marketing and promotional activities coupled with an aggressive winter campaign; improvement of facilities and the lack of snow at the popular western ski areas.

Average increases in western Michigan were from 10 to 12 percent with one area reporting a gain of 40 percent over last year.

In eastern Michigan, winter recreational business hit an all-time high with an overall increase of 25 percent and a 30 to 35 percent gain in downhill skiing. A cross-check of various communities showed participation in cross-country skiing was breaking all records.

Both downhill and cross-country skiing showed increases from 10 to 20 percent at ski resorts in southeastern Michigan. Interest in ice-fishing and skating was reported high at the southeast area metropolitan parks.

"With continued favorable weather conditions during the next two months there is every reason to believe that winter sports activity this year will break all existing records," Wilson said.

Snowmobile maps available

New maps which show the snowmobile routes on the Hiawatha National Forest are now available. Merwyn O. Reed, forest supervisor, has announced.

The snowmobile routes are being cooperatively maintained and groomed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Forest Service, ESDA. They are part of a larger cross U.P. snowmobile trail system being developed by the Michigan Upper Peninsula Snowmobile Association.

The maps also give information about the restrictions which apply to the use of snowmobiles on the Hiawatha National Forest, the Michigan snowmobile law, and safe use of snowmobiles.

Wally Crane, public information officer for the Hiawatha District ranger station, said that so far they have encountered no serious problems with the new Off Road Vehicle law which took effect Jan. 1.

Crane added that they are mainly patrolling plowed roads for violations of snowmobiling on these. However, he added, there has been some destruction of a pine plantation on M-94 due to cross country travel by snowmobiles.

On the Hiawatha, off road vehicles, including snowmobiles, will be allowed on roads which have not been marked "closed" and on trails and areas which have been marked "open."

Most cross country travel, except in those areas designated, is prohibited.

These restrictions only apply to roads, trails and lands administered by the forest service and do not apply to lands or roads under state, county, township or private

Reed thanked the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Michigan Upper Peninsula Snowmobile Association and the numerous individuals who contributed their ideas to the development of the Hiawatha National Forest Off Road Vehicle Policy and the system of snowmobile routes.

He further emphasized that use of the National Forest by snowmobiles is subject to both Federal and State laws and regulations, which will be enforced.

Free copies of the snowmobile routes maps may be obtained from the Forest Supervisor's Office in Escanaba, Michigan, or the District Ranger Offices in Rapid River, Manistique, Munising, Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace.

Snowmobiling conflicts with city ordinance

With several layers of snow providing a good foundation for snowmobiling, area owners are going out in increasing numbers to relax in the swift movement and monotone hum of the engine as the machine glides down a trail.

However, for owners of these machines, getting there poses a problem.

Under Manistique Ordinance 145 of 1971 it is against the law to run a snowmachine on city streets.

It may be time to review that ordinance in light of the recent weather and the continued popularity of the sport.

Operating (riding in or on and to control the operation of) snowmobiles (any motorized vehicle designed for travel primarily on snow, ice and steered by wheels, skis or runners) on public highways and roadways in the city is illegal (Manistique Ordinance 145 of 1971).

Owners (any person, other than a lienholder, having the property in or title to a snowmobile entitled to the use of possession thereof) cannot:

—travel or allow a snowmobile to remain unattended on public property, streets, or highways, while the motor is running or with the keys to start the same, in the ignition switch.

—permit his snowmobile to be operated upon public streets of the City of Manistique in violation of the laws of the State of Michigan, or of the ordinance of the city of Manistique. In particular, Act 300 of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended, Act 74 of the Public Acts of 1968, as amended, and Ordinance 68 of 1951 as amended.

Infractions of this law can result in a $100 fine and 90 days in the county jail. In addition, the snowmobile, (any motorized vehicle designed for travel primarily on snow, etc.) may be impounded for 120 days.

Cross-U.P. Trail requires guide service

"The 450-mile, Cross-U.P. Trail and other snowmobile trails in the 1,103-mile network spanning the Upper Peninsula are featured in Automobile Club of Michigan's January Motor News magazine.

"In the Upper Peninsula, the Department of Natural Resources is grooming 1,103 miles of snowmobile trails and contract operators handle an additional 530 miles," Auto Club's 1.2 million reader-members are told in an article entitled "Snowmobiling—Where It's At."

One of the long routes now completely open is the Cross-UP Trail, a 450-mile network stretching from St. Ignace to the Keweenaw Peninsula and the Wisconsin border. The trail can be traveled end to end in about three days. Indoor overnight accommodations are available each day.

The newest stretch is the 47-mile Keweenaw Trail which follows the Old Keweenaw Central Railroad grade north from Laurium to Mandan, and then heads north via logging roads to Brockway Mountain for the last leg of the trip into Copper Harbor.

The new charcoal grade snowmobile trail in Luce County will be the final link between Newberry and Paradise and will tie in with the existing 32-mile trail between Tahquamenon Falls and Pine Stump Junction and other area trails.

There is no charge for the volunteer guide service required to travel the Cross-UP Trail. Interested persons should call Ray Freiberg, Upper Michigan Snowmobile Association president, at (906) 226-7358 or 228-6057.

Three new bridges have been constructed along the 42-mile Felch Grade snowmobile trail in Dickinson and Menominee Counties, eliminating potentially dangerous dips. The Felch Grade trail has been one of the most popular trails in the southern part of the UP.

1976 income tax estimations due

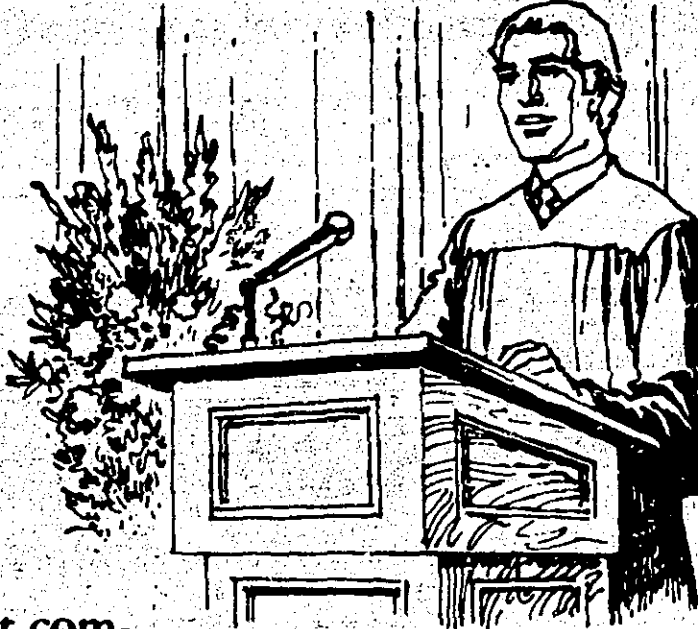

DETROIT—Farmers and fishermen who have not filed their 1976 declaration of estimated federal income tax must file and pay that tax by Monday, Jan. 17. The sole exception to this rule is if they file their income tax return and pay the total tax due by March 1, the Internal Revenue Service reports.

Farmers and fishermen are defined as those persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1976 gross income from farming or fishing.

IRS Publications 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," 595, Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen" and 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provide additional information and are available free at the Detroit IRS office.

Dominant buck voted out of office

STEPPING DOWN...

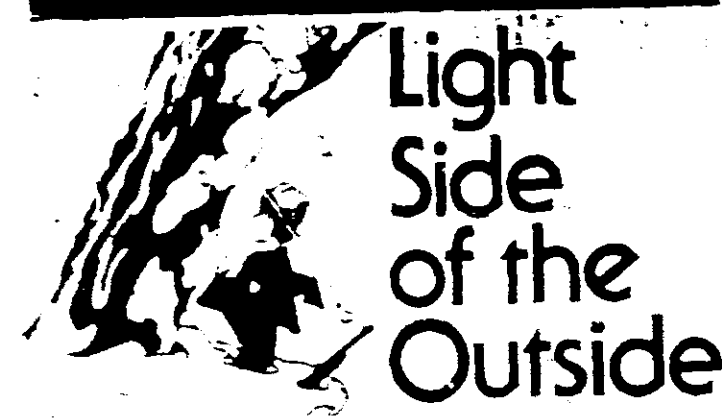

Reports have it that President Ford will spend his first day out of office playing golf at Pebble Beach, and I couldn't help make the contrast with the top official of a Chippewa County deer herd who was also recently voted out of office.

For many winters, the residents of the tiny community of Hulbert have been feeding this small herd of deer headed up by a huge buck known to all as "Old Scarface." In every deer herd there is a dominant animal whose size or aggressiveness has put him right at the top of the pecking order and woe to the subordinate who challenges the privileges attached to this position.

For one thing, the dominant bucks have first choice of the does during mating season, a privilege frequently challenged by equally passionate younger bucks.

But even more significant than special romantic favors, the dominant buck in the herd is always accorded first place in the chow line and whether artificially fed or in the wild, he shows no compassion whatsoever for weaker, hungrier animals. Rather than share his rations he'd just as soon see them die, and woe frequently they do.

It takes a strong individual to stay in top position year after year, for new candidates and continually probing for weak spots...and this December proved to the end of the line for "Old Scarface." A strong young buck challenged the old ten-pointer, who in turn, met him head on, rather than give ground and lose face.

It wasn't even a close fight and by the time Hulbert people intervened, "Old Scarface," had lost both antlers, one leg was broken and his shoulders were so badly injured he couldn't even stand.

He had to be destroyed by a conservation officer and subsequent examination by a wildlife biologist revealed that "Old Scarface" was well over ten years old, in poor condition, and very likely would not have survived the winter.

So despite his ignoble position during the last moments in office, it was far preferable to a slow death in March—but not nearly as much fun as a round of California golf.

Us folks aren't so bad, at that....

Legal secretarial class at NMU

MARQUETTE—Responding to student interest and recommendations by Upper Peninsula lawyers, educators and secretaries, Northern Michigan University has established a two-year legal secretarial program.

Associate degrees will be awarded to students who successfully complete the program.

Dr. Robert N. Hanson, head of the Department of Office Administration and Business Education at NMU, said the program has been approved by the Michigan Department of Education.

"Our department has received more inquiries from prospective students about legal secretary training than any other specialized one-or-two year program," Hanson said.

He said the legal secretarial program will require the completion of approximately 18 courses for a total of 64 semester hours credit.

The courses represent areas of study recommended by the American Bar Association, Hanson pointed out.

Additional information on the program is available by contacting Hanson at the Department of Office Administration and Business Education, 7-B John D. Pierce Hall, Northern Michigan University, Marquette, MI 49855, phone 906-227-2900.

Walleye Jamboree being considered for fall of 1977

A Walleye Jamboree, featuring cash and merchandise prizes, is presently being considered by the Manistique Lakes Area Association for the fall of 1977.

The group, aiming for state-wide recognition, is sending out survey forms to determine the feasibility of conducting a contest. Plans are for it to become an annual affair similar to the Tip-up festival at Houghton Lake.

"This project has excellent potential to bring tourist dollars back to our general area at a time when our season is normally about over. I would surely be a big boost to our economy," stated Dick Nunemaker, chairman of the MLAA. He added the success of such a project would require a great deal of participation of association members and support from the area.

Comments from interested organizations and parties would be appreciated. Write: Secretary, Manistique Lakes Association, Curtis, MI. 49820.

Fighting muscular dystrophy increases

"Citizens of Schoolcraft County have shown an increasing interest in the fight against muscular dystrophy," Southwestern Volunteer Chapter President Darrell V. King said recently in his report to the eleven-county MDA Chapter unit.

"Thanks in large measure to the Manistique Job's Daughters, Bethel 69, a record Schoolcraft County pledge total of $1,096 was called in to the 1976 Jerry Lewis Telethon. Our final report," noted King, "shows that $922 of this amount has been honored."

"Presently," noted King, "our chapter unit is serving five Schoolcraft County MD individuals, with two individuals now taking advantage of our area's free MD Clinic at Bellin Memorial Hospital in Green Bay, Wisc. Direct orthopedic need services for Schoolcraft residents totaled $1,690 this past chapter year," stated King,

"with clinic pro-rate costs of $150."

"As a non-governmental health agency, totally dependent upon the general public for our vital, local need and extensive research programs, the MDA family of volunteers thanks the Schoolcraft citizens for their interest, concern and direct support during the past year," King added.

Muscular dystrophy is a grouping of 35 muscle-destroying diseases which disables its victims, so weakening them that a common cold can be fatal.

MDA remains unique among the nation's voluntary health agencies in providing all of its services free of charge with no means test ever required. The chief victims are usually children and there is, to date, no cure.

King is the Fire Chief at Kingsford.

Tips on buying and preparing food

FOOD CLIPS:
--If you want real ground sirloin, buy a sirloin steak or roast and have the butcher grind it for you. Or grind it yourself at home.
--Leftover, cooked meat should never be merely warmed up. Instead -- it should be heated to an internal temperature of at least 155 degrees F. Once reheated, it should be eaten while hot.
--There are no standardized names for different qualities of ground beef. Therefore, supermarkets label their packages according to their own preferences. As a practical matter, most ground beef is made from trimmings and the less tender, less popular cuts of meat.
--"Ground Beef" is just what the name implied. No extra fat, water, extenders or binders are permitted. Seasonings, however, may be added as long as they are identified on the label.
--Introduce a variety of vegetables into family meals by -- using vegetables in salads, as side dishes, and in casseroles and stews.

--Make your favorite meat and tomato sauce in quantity and freeze for later use in macaroni and spaghetti dishes, lasagna, Spanish rice and chili.
--Dry soybeans contain 1 1/2 times as much protein as other dry beans and 11 times as much fat.
--When buying fresh vegetables check for signs of freshness such as bright, lively color and crispness. Vegetables are usually at their best quality and price at the peak of the season.
--Don't buy just because of low price. It doesn't pay to buy more fresh vegetables than you can properly store in your refrigerator, or than you can use without waste.

--Compressed yeast is perishable and should be stored in the refrigerator and used within a week according to U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists or frozen and kept for a year.
--Fruits, vegetables, or other flavorful foods are often added to cottage cheese to make a variety of side dishes and salads.
--Sprinkle grated cheese over eggs to be baked, or combined with scrambled eggs for a different flavor treat.
--Substitutes may make food more interesting. Ever try making pastry with crushed cereals? Or rice used in place of bread in making poultry stuffing?
--Dry yeast may be stored for several months in a dry cool place.
--Fresh Vegetables are generally highest in quality and lowest in price when in season.
--Speed the cooling of large quantities of food by refrigerating in shallow containers.
--Foods that have been frozen and thawed require the same care as foods that have not been frozen.
--Use refrozen foods as soon as possible to save as much of their eating quality as you can.

EXTRA CRISPY FRIED CHICKEN
Clean and wash chicken and shake in bag with flour to coat lightly. Melt 1 stick or 1/2 cup oleo or butter in 9 x 13 pan. Place chicken skin side down in pan. Bake in preheated 450 degree oven for 1 1/2 hour, turn pieces over and bake for additional 25 to 30 minutes. Very good and really doesn't burn!

Second Annual CBC Bowling tournament plans in full swing

Plans for the second Annual CBC Bowling Tournament are in full swing, according to Anna Sjogren, publicity chairman for CBC.
William Hackney met with Manistique area League secretaries and presidents Sunday, Jan. 16, at Lakeview Lanes with plans for a revised tournament for 1977.
Last year, sanctioned League bowlers participated during regular League play by paying $1.00 extra. The two people with high series for the night in each league participated in the finals, which were televised from the Lanes by Cable TV, courtesy of Gerald Renk.
Trophies, donated by Manistique's four automobile dealers, were presented to high series man and woman bowlers and their runners-up on Palm Sunday during the DBD Radio-Television. The large traveling trophy, donated by the 1st National Bank and State Savings Bank, was presented to State Savings Bank at the same time.
This year, the tournament will be directed by Mrs. Glenn Erickson, better known to all the bowlers at "Pat." There will be two weeks--beginning Feb. 27, during which individual league secretaries will figure handicaps based on a 12-game average of each bowler who donates $1.00 to CBC on bowling night or afternoon, as the case may be.
Forty bowlers with high series will qualify each week. If a bowler doesn't make it the first week, he may try again the second week by paying another $1.00. Once a bowler has qualified for the semi-finals, he or she will bowl on Mar. 19 at 1 p.m. or 4 p.m. A bowler may qualify only once.

Fifteen men and 15 women from the semi-finals will participate in the finals scheduled for Mar. 26 at 8 p.m. at Lakeview Lanes to determine the top bowlers for CBC - 1977.

This event will be televised by Cable TV, courtesy of Gerald Renk, again this year. The trophies, again donated by the four Manistique automobile dealers, are on display at the lanes and will be presented to the winners on CBC Sunday - Palm Sunday, April 3. The large traveling trophy will be presented to 1st National Bank.
This revised edition of the CBC Bowling Tournament play is patterned after Flint's annual Polio Sweeper, which is now the biggest bowling tournament in that city. It was originated by Frank Szczepanski, owner and operator of "The 11th Frame" bowling newspaper which is sent to all Michigan Bowlers Association secretaries.
"The Manistique Bowling Association is looking forward to a bigger and better tournament his year, thanks to the ideas brought us by Bill Hackney, and the anticipated participation by our league bowlers," Anna Sjogren said.

Programs approved by recreation board

Completion of a new ball field, summer swimming programs and an ice figure skating program for elementary grades were some of the programs approved by the Manistique City Recreational Board at its regular meeting Monday, Jan. 17.
Kathleen Woodward, member of the junior class at Manistique High School, presented a program for teaching figure skating to grades one through six on week-days at the city rink from 3 to 5 p.m.
Woodward will work in conjunction with the community schools with proceeds to benefit the junior class. Registration for the classes will be held at the school.
The board also voted to sponsor a summer recreational swimming program for six weeks. The community schools will be offering an instructional swimming program during the summer months also.

Final plans will be drawn up for the completion of a new ball field on Fifth Street this summer. The additional diamond will be used for Women's Softball and Little League.
John LaPointe, Louis Rogers and Jack Roemer were appointed to a committee to finalize the Fifth Street project.
Secretary Katharine H. LeBrasseur was also authorized to petition Mayor Frank Hewitt to appoint a city council member to the recreation board to act as a liaison between the two.

Archie Carpenter continues to serve

Archie J. Carpenter of 101 N. Fifth Street Manistique has been named to continue serving on the Schoolcraft County Veterans Trust Fund Committee as the Disabled American Veterans representative, for a term ending Dec. 31, 1979.
Last year, the Schoolcraft county committee assisted 184 veterans, widows and dependents of veterans, for a total of $2,281.60.

Throughout the State of Michigan, county committees assisted 33,808 veterans, widows and dependents, with a total expenditure of $1,625,408.85.

Gummerson's speech, entitled "I'm proud," focused on the surprising resources of the Upper Peninsula, including land, people, waters, forests and minerals.

He noted that while Minnesota boasts of being the "land of 10,000 lakes," the U.P. alone has more than 13,000 bodies of fresh water. The peninsula enjoys access to fresh water along more than 1,200 miles of shoreline—greater than anywhere else in the world.

The diverse ethnic groups in the population, plus unique forest resources and mineral deposits make the U.P. a prime area for industrial and recreational growth in the future, he said.

Schubring named salesman of month

Mike Schubring, son of Wesley Schubring, former Manistique resident, and grandson of the late Otto Schubring, has been named "salesman of the month" at Montgomery and Associate Realtors in Utica. It was the third time in a year that Schubring received the distinction.

AMARYLLIS
 The amaryllis is known botanically as Hippeastrum, Greek for "horse star," alluding to the massiveness of its six-petaled starry blossoms. Wild amaryllises in South America have been hybridized to bring us the huge flowers and brilliant colors on today's plants.
 One thing you should remember about amaryllises is that they have minds of their own when it comes to a blossoming season. Some open their flowers in November or December and others remain dormant until April or May and there's nothing much that can be done about it! But, regardless of their blooming season, their yearly culture is the same.
 Amaryllises need at least four hours of direct sunshine daily; they like night temperatures in the 60's and daytime readings in the 70's. Keep them out of the sun when their blossoms open to prolong the season of bloom. From the time the first flower bud opens, until late in the summer when the leaves wither and turn yellow, keep the soil moist and feed the plants monthly with any house plant fertilizer. Give them no fertilizer and very little moisture when the bulbs are resting.

Send flowers by wire.
