Putvin named bank director

First Manistique Corp. President Fred Hahne announced Wednesday that William Putvin, owner of Putvin Walgreen Drug Store, has been appointed director of the First Manistique Corporation and First National Bank.

The appointment fills a vacancy created by the retirement of Malcome Nelson.

"We welcome Mr. Putvin as a director and feel he is well qualified in that he has been a community leader for this area," Hahne said.

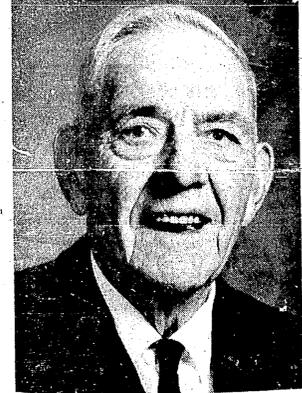

Putvin a native of Manistique, has been a registered pharmacist since 1950 when he received his Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry from Ferris State College.

Following graduation from Ferris, Putvin was employed by Peck's Drug Inc. of Bay City.

In 1960 he moved back to Manistique where he bought Ciddall Drug.

He is a navy veteran and served in World War II. He is a member of the Housing Commission for the city of Manistique and is on the Board of Directors for Bishop Noa Home in Escanaba, where he is presently serving as secretary. He is a Faithful Navigator, Don Messier assembly of the Knights of Columbus, Fourth Degree.

He and his wife, Phyllis, have been married for 27 years and have five children: Mrs. Pamela Hoops of Cooperline, Cal.; Bradley of Grand Rapids; Allan, a student at Michigan Technological University; Patricia Joan, a student at Ferris State College; and Gregory at home.

Elk of the Year

GEORGE MERO of Manistique has been named "Elk of the Year" by the Manistique Elks. The announcement came at a banquet held in his honor at the Elks Lodge Saturday, March 19. Mero is the ninth Elk to receive the award which is given to those Elks "who give unselfishly of their time and efforts for their lodge and Elkdom."

Learning the art of caring for a child

by Mark Eisenlohr

Students from three area high schools are getting some basic help that will help them with a very basic concern—that of raising children.

The help is coming in the form of a child care class offered for the first time by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District at Manistique High School.

Students come from Big Bay de Noc, Engadine, and Manistique to attend a "hands-on experience" training class in child development. The course, taught by Mary Coggins, utilizes a nursery co-op situation to help students become more closely involved with their subject.

As part of their regular classroom instruction students attend sessions with nursery age children enrolled in the co-op nursery program, which for the first time is housed at the high school.

According to Coggins, working with the children helps build a better understanding of the toddler; the needs and wants of young children. It also becomes valuable experience for child-related careers.

"We're changing the thinking of the next generation of parents," Coggins says. "They are going to relate to kids a whole lot better."

For the student who is considering a child-related career, the experience becomes valuable. Students have a choice of child-related careers that run a spectrum from junior camp counselor to child psychologist.

Classes are held in conjunction with two nursery co-op sessions running from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. four days a week.

There are about 18 students enrolled in each session, with between four and five students working in the nursery at a time.

Internships at area grade schools and nursery situations are also available.

Head Start is one such place where students have been interning. Head Start director Mary Moffat sees the experience as "good" and thinks that the students are "working out good."

"They seem to be enjoying it. I think she (Mary Coggins) is doing something imaginative and new," says Moffat, who is also member of a nine-member advisory board to the child care class.

"The only way I can see the end product of the class is through these interns," Moffat explained "and I'm pleased."

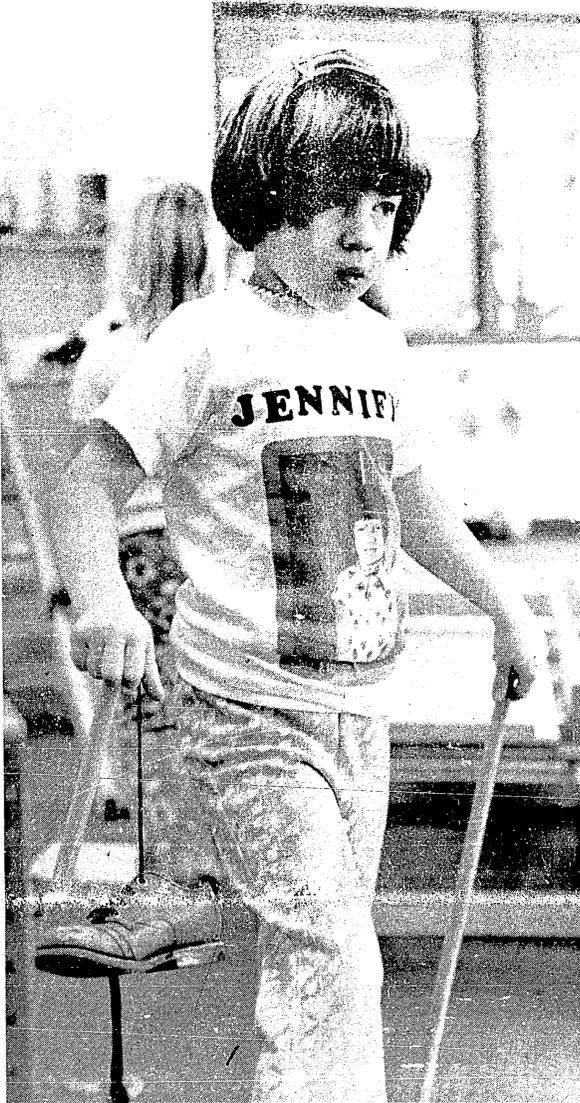

"Each day they bring in new input into the group," says Moffat.

While no text book is used in the class, Coggins says that for herself she uses about six text books in preparing her lectures and hands out printed material to the students.

But the most important part of the class is the hands-on experience, Coggins says.

While students are in with the nursery children or on internships, they are responsible for their own activities and ideas.

Nursery co-op teacher Mrs. Robert Redman co-ordinates some of the events,

NURSERY CHILDREN have been getting a lot of attention this year as Manistique High School utilizes a hands on experience approach to teaching high school students child care. The nursery is housed in the Manistique High School this year, adjacent to the child care classroom. A one-way mirror between the rooms allows the teacher to observe the students and how well they relate to the children. Tribune photo-M. Eisenlohr.

but the students are on their own, says Coggins.

Reactions from the nursery children indicate that they are accepting the new faces quite readily. "There's always one figure they can relate to," says Coggins.

Working with the children during school hours has also produced a side reaction, which Coggins feels is an important part of the class.

"All of a sudden they see a family of one of the nursery children on the street that they would normally pass by and they stop and talk," says Coggins.

All of this is part of the students grade too, says Coggins, who grades the students on performance in the lab, attitude, individual reports, and "one or two" tests.

Coggins says things are running smoothly now, but there were some problems in getting the program started.

"It was really hard getting started and organizing materials," she says. "I think organization will be my key next year." The advisory board also offers suggestions on different subjects that they feel should be included in the class.

In addition, Coggins would like to use the community involvement aspect a little more and expound on each topic in more depth.

"We're really going to make an effort to get these families involved a little more," she said.

Expansion of the program is also likely if "there is interest" but as yet no final plans have been made. And since the child care course is not a regular course offered at the high school, it can be eliminated if administrative officials feel they need the room or if lack of interest is shown in the program.

"It's one of the programs they could bump. It really depends on the community," says Coggins.

County employee issues resolved

by Arnold Mackowiak

The Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners sanctioned smoking by social services employees in their courthouse offices and plugged in a time clock for county employees as a result of action at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The smoking issue was settled on the strength of advice from an assistant attorney general serving the Michigan Department of Social Services.

"There is no provision in the lease obligating the Department of Social Services to follow the rules of the county in that portion of the building being rented," Fred Lawless, a DSS deputy director, told county officials in a letter.

The county board, which had banned smoking and eating in courthouse offices, voted 6-1, with Commissioner William Tennyson dissenting, to follow the legal opinion and exempt social services employees from the building rules. There is no state law prohibiting smoking in public buildings, Commissioner Earl LeBrasseur noted.

County DSS workers had ignored the ban, which was adopted by the board last fall.

After four motions, two of which died for lack of a second, the board reluctantly approved setting into operation time clocks that had been purchased for the new courthouse and the sheriff's department.

"It's a known fact it will make for more competent bookkeeping and everything else," Tennyson said in making the first motion to use both clocks.

But Sheriff Lloyd Gray objected to using the device for his four deputies, as did Treasurer William Cowman, who said some employees would get the feeling they're not trusted for punctuality.

County Clerk Fred Lesica described the time clock as "just a progressive administrative move" to facilitate payroll operations and record-keeping and getting a full day's work out of every employee.

But Tennyson's motion failed to get full support, so he withdrew it and moved to sell the time clocks. Commissioner LeBrasseur, who said he thought time clocks had gone the way of factory whistles, supported the motion.

He later withdrew his support, and Commissioner Kenneth Mortensen moved to set up the time clock in the courthouse only for a six-month experimental period. That motion too, received no support and he withdrew it.

Commissioner Dan Klarich then moved to re-introduce Tennyson's original motion, Tennyson supported, and it passed 5-2. Commissioners Ed Way, Klarich, Tennyson, Lindsey Frenette and Erenst Hoholik voted yes. Commissioners Mortensen and LeBrasseur cast negative votes.

In other business during the board's four-hour meeting, James Schifflet, administrator for the area four-county health department, gave commissioners an annual Environmental Health Report.

Schifflet noted that Schoolcraft had the lowest average demerit score rating of all the counties in the health department district for food service establishments in 1975.

"The sanitation level is still unsatisfactory," Schifflet said in the report, "but significant progress was shown during the year. The administrative score is now classified at the acceptable level. Because Potential for Seafarer here?

Seafarer in Schoolcraft County?

Schoolcraft County commissioners entertained the notion near the close of their four-hour meeting Tuesday night after hearing correspondence read from navy officials concerning the submarine communications system.

The letter offered a presentation to be given by navy officials to explain the proposed network of underground cables that would thread principally through Marquette, Dickinson, Iron and Baraga counties.

Commissioners William Tennyson and Ernest Hoholik said they would like to learn more of the navy's plans, and agreed to hear a presentation on the communications system. Navy officials were to set a time for the presentation at a later date.

Some commissioners liked the sound of attracting 175 permanent jobs to the area. That many positions would be created if Seafarer is constructed, according to the navy.

Governor Milliken, who toured the U.P. last week, said Friday night in Marquette that he has decided to veto the system. However, it remained to be seen if the veto would be the last word on the project.

One alternative suggested to the central U.P. site is in the eastern side of the peninsula. The navy has not specified if Schoolcraft County would be considered for the system.

of the significant improvement in the program, the District Health Department was removed from probation."

Schifflet said the main duty of Mack McDonald county environmental sanitarian, was to make food service establishments aware of health regulations.

"I believe substantial progress has been made, and will continue to be made, in the food program so that the food service will be operated at the acceptable level," Schifflet said in the report.

The board also: -postponed action on appointments to the Schoolcraft County Department of Public Works Board, following a 20-minute talk by Merwin White, administrator for the Alger-Schoolcraft joint DPW board. White said the joint board will operate the greenbox garbage collection system until the board is dissolved in May.

-approved 6-1, with only Commissioner Frenette dissenting, to pay the county's one-sixth share of $15,938.95 back to the federal CETA program because of a nepotism dispute in Dickinson County.

The Six-County Consortium for Employment and Training, of which the county is a member, was ordered by the Michigan Department of Labor to recover the CETA funds spent for the salary of Mike Mainville from Dec. 9, 1975 to April 16, 1976. Mainville's father is Bernard Mainville, former Dickinson County board chairman and Consortium administrative board chairman.

Consortium officials said that they had verbal approval for the hiring, but failed in an appeal of the labor ruling.

Frenette objected to the re-payment, because Schoolcraft's $2,656.49 share will come from the county's general fund to replenish federal coffers.

That amount, however, is to be allocated back into CETA job slot funding to be reimbursed to the county by the federal government.

-approved sponsoring one Manistique High School student to a Youth in Government seminar in Lansing, at a cost of $70.

-made the following appointments: Cathy Graham to the county zoning board of appeals; Commissioner Way to the zoning board; Commissioner Mortensen to the county OEDP board.

School board allows Bible distribution

The Manistique Area Schools Board of Education has ruled that students in Manistique area schools should have the chance to receive free Bibles from a non-denominational organization.

The board of education approved a request Tuesday night, March 22, during its regular meeting, from Gideon International, a non-denominational group of professional and business men, to distribute copies of the New Testament to students in grades 5 through 12.

Superintendent Richard Bonifas told the board that school attorneys advised that the request should be denied under constitutional guarantee for separation of church and state.

Gil Clark, past president of Gideon International Club of Petoskey, told the board that several area schools in the Upper Peninsula were currently allowing Gideon to distribute the King James version of the Bible. He indicated that he has not heard of a "single complaint" from parents of students in those schools.

After a short deliberation the board voted 5 to 1 to allow Gideons to distribute the Bibles. James Goudreau voted no. Bonifas reminded the board that deadlines for filing petitions to fill two seats on the board of education is April 11, with names being allowed to be removed up to April 14.

Boardmembers Harold Cockram and William Mueller are nearing the end of their four-year terms. Those seats will be filled in an election scheduled for June 13, 1977.

Cockram and Mueller have not announced whether they will be seeking re-election. Cockram has served for one four-year term while Mueller nears the end of his second term.

Petitions with at least 20 signatures must be filed by the deadline in order for that name to appear on the ballot. The petitions cannot be circulated in more than one township or city but a candidate may circulate more than one petition.

Petitions are available at the administrative offices in the central office of the Manistique High School.

In other board action Tuesday night: -the board approved a program of screening area students for postural deficiencies. Bonifas told the board that about two percent of all students are affected with scoliosis, a lateral curvature of the spine. If caught early enough, Bonifas said, corrective procedures could be given to the student through a doctor.

-the board instructed Jim Goudreau and Bill Mueller to review basic supply bids and to take necessary action in notifying low bidder.

-the board approved tenure for five teachers. They include Kelly Byrne, Paul Cappoferri, Ann Hendricks, Susan Jack Krupla and Mary Ellen Debelak. It was also decided to not pink slip, or lay off, probationary teachers for the summer months.

"Everytime we pink slip we lose good

Ruppe 'town meeting' at Ramada Inn Friday

Congressman Philip Ruppe, R-Houghton, will hold a "town meeting" at the Ramada Inn Friday morning and tour Manistique High School as part of a two-day, four-county visit to the central U.P.

From 7 to 8:30 a.m., Ruppe will meet with citizens at the Ramada, answering questions from the audience. Coffee and rolls will be available. The public is invited.

At 9:15 a.m. Ruppe will tour the satellite vocational center at the high school. The center was partially funded with money from the Federal Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.

Other stops on Ruppe's tour are at Rapid River, Escanaba, Menominee and Iron Mountain.

Mrs. Michael Ehn

United in marriage

A candlelight service united Alice Jean Wurster and Michael William Ehn in marriage Saturday, March 12 at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Engadine with Rev. Timothy Ott officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Wurster of Naubinway. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ehn of Gould City.

Attending the couple were Kitten Florian of Belleville, maid of honor, and Candy Thurlow of River Rouge, both college friends of the bride, and Diane White of Ann Arbor and Nancy Beaudoin of Naubinway, sisters of the bride. The best man was Gary King of Naubinway and attendants were Jay Ehn, brother of the groom, Donald Clark and Fred Doepke, all of Gould City.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with applique valencia lace on the bodice and sleeves and matching cap with illusion veil. Around her neck she wore a gold heirloom locket worn by her paternal grandmother at her wedding and by her mother when she was married. The bridesmaids wore burgandy velvet jumpers with pale pink ruffled blouses. The groom and his attendants wore burgandy tuxedos. The reception was held at the Newton Township Hall in Gould City.

The couple left Wednesday for an extended 3-month trip to Florida and the east coast.

March brings surprises

Every year about this time I receive in the mail a little card which reads, "Beware, the Ides of March." The sender knows this is the time of year I'm apt to go a little crazy. I've already sent her a duplicate of the card she sent me. She understands; and has the same problem.

My friend and I know we're not alone. Whether it's a combination of the mid-winter blahs and the Ides of March, along with the advent of spring—or just something in the air—I don't know, but I have seen sensible people suddenly do some strange and unexpected things. I remember mother going out and buying herself a fancy new hat. She said it "lifted her spirits." A neighbor one time thought it a great idea to surprise her husband with a St. Bernard puppy. She surprised him all right—he was allergic to dogs.

All reason seems to fly out the window. I began sending "beware" cards to my friend the year after she dyed her hair green. By accident, of course. She decided she needed something to "perk her up" so she thought she'd bleach her hair.

Understand just how strange that is: she's a natural platinum blond. Nevertheless, she bought some stuff, mixed it up at home and the result was a head of pea green hair. Just in time for St. Patrick's Day. She wore it that way for a week and when repeated washings didn't help she had her hair cut. She looked cute in a rather longish crew cut, and said it was wonderful when the warm weather finally arrived.

The following year I got into a terrible mess when I decided one day that wallpapering looked easy. My kitchen was never the same. My friend did rather well.

Madelyn

She treated herself to lunch downtown and then went to an ear pierce clinic - to have one ear done.

We decided then that when the danger time rolled around again perhaps we'd better stay together, so the next year we got over the blahs by spending an afternoon in a department store trying on wigs. We had a hilarious time. I bought a mousy brown one - hers was blond and curly. We told each other we looked ridiculous. Our families told us we looked ridiculous. We didn't care—we felt so much better.

I have read my warning and survived the crisis this year with nothing more drastic than a new hair cut. I let the lady talk me into having one of those nifty blow dry jobs. I really felt "perked up". It looked pretty good when she was finished and I waited eagerly for the family to notice. They didn't. Finally I asked, "Well, what do you think of my new hair-do?" They studied me closely and someone said, "It'll be okay I guess as soon as the wounds heal."

I think they don't like it, but it doesn't faze me now. I made it! The calendar says it's SPRING.

New club announces first activity

The Solos and Singles, a new club in Manistique, announces their first activity. A swimming party will be held at the Ramada Inn on Sunday, March 27, from 3-5. The cost will be $1.30 per swimmer. Following the swimming party, the group will go to the Youth Center for a meal and games. Any person who is single either because of not having been married or due to death or divorce and their children are welcome to attend the event.

The Solos and Singles is a group of individuals who are joined together in a common objective. It is basically single persons either never married or single due to death, divorce or separation, using the group as a way station for social association, working together for their mutual benefit to improve their personal lives, enable them to resolve their special problems and find normal fulfillment. The group has been established to further common welfare and the well-being of the children of single parents.

For further information on the pool party, call Jill Gagnon, 341-5762 or Cecile Chandanais, 341-2891. Interested persons may attend meetings and three social events before deciding to become a member.

Chamber dinner

The Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce will be holding a dinner at the Three-Mile Supper Club on Thursday, April 14 at 7 p.m.

Featured speaker will be Keith McLeod, president of the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association, and vice-president of Detroit and Northern of Marquette.

Also speaking will be Brad Durling, regional fisheries biologist. Durling will talk on "The Future of Sport and Commercial Fishing off Manistique." A question and answer session will follow the talk.

The public is invited to attend the dinner. Tickets can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office or at the Manistique Cable TV office.

Study Club meets

"Singin' and Swingin' and Gettin' Merry Like Christmas" by Maya Angelou was reviewed for members of the Study Club by Mrs. Fred Cayia, Jr. on Monday night.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Wood with Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur assisting. Guests were Mrs. Forest Loafman of Flint, mother of Mrs. Wood; and Mrs. Paul Wood.

The next review will be given by Mrs. Don McNally at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Evans with Mrs. John Kelly assisting.

Checklist for home medicine chest

When spring cleaning, remember to check your home medicine chest. Donna Manczak, extension health specialist at Michigan State University, suggests that the reorganization and inventory of these supplies and drugs should become part of your spring cleaning routine.

Discard nonprescription drugs more than a year old; any medicine that has changed color or consistency should also be thrown out. Discard dusty or soiled gauze, bandages and cotton, as well as any other dirty or broken supplies.

Manczak recommends checking all prescription medicines for: the name of the drug on the label, instructions clearly typed on the label and childproof cap for households with young children. If these are not included on prescription drugs, Manczak advises that you throw them away or ask your doctor or pharmacist for the information.

Your doctor or pharmacist can also tell you the proper way to store a prescription drug taken for a chronic illness. All prescription drugs left over from a previous illness or condition should be thrown away.

Store all medicines and supplies in a cool, dry place out of the reach of children, Manczak adds.

She suggests that a well-stocked home medicine chest include at least these items for treating your family's common medical problems:

- Baking soda (sodium bicarbonate) for simple heartburn. This can also be used for as a soothing paste for burns or itching.
- Calamine lotion for skin eruptions like mosquito bites and poison ivy.
- An antidiarrheal remedy (kaolin-pectin suspension) for mild diarrhea.
- A mild laxative (milk of magnesia, methyl cellulose or psyllium) for mild constipation. Most laxatives are safe and effective for occasional constipation, but continued use of these products can impair normal bowel function.
- Rubbing alcohol for use as a mild antiseptic or sore muscle rub.
- Petroleum jelly for minor skin irritations and dryness. DO NOT USE ON BURNS.
- Cold and cough remedies for relief of mild colds, sore throats and coughs. If a cold or cough persists more than a few days, see your doctor. Persistent use of these medications may mask a more serious condition.
- Adhesive tape and bandages, including

- gauze rolls and pads in sealed envelopes.
 - Knit elastic bandage, about three inches wide, for taping sprained muscles and joints.
 - Tweezers for removing insect stings and splinters.
 - Scissors with a blunt tip.
 - An ice bag to control swelling and bleeding.
 - A hot water bottle or electric heating pad for sore muscles and joints.
 - An enema set.
 - An oral thermometer for adults, rectal for children.
 - A first aid manual. Either the American Red Cross or American Medical Association versions is recommended.
 - A list of emergency phone numbers: Police, fire department, rescue or ambulance, family doctor and poison control center are a few suggested by Manczak.
- Manczak says that you should be familiar with all your over-the-counter drugs. Read the fine print so you understand the instructions, as well as any warnings or precautions, she says. Manczak warns that you shouldn't be relying on over-the-counter drugs to aid a condition you could make an effort to improve.

Bowlers meet

Manistique Women's Bowling Association held its annual meeting Monday, March 21 at Lakeview Lanes. Helen Norbotten and Marge Jenerou were re-elected president and sergeant-at-arms, respectively. The Ladies' City Tournament dates for 1978 are: January 21, 22, 28, 29 and possibly February 4 and 5, depending upon entries.

The dates for the CBC Tournament - 1978 have also been scheduled, in agreement with Pat Erickson and Bill Hackney, as follows: 2 weeks of qualifying beginning February 5; semi-finals, March 4; finals, March 11.

Quarterfinals drama

THESE FANS were lucky to have seats for the Class D state quarterfinals basketball clash between Harbor Springs and Rapid River last Thursday night. Nearly 2,000 persons jammed the Manistique High School gymnasium to watch Harbor use its mob 'em press and firepower to oust the Rockets 85-62. The Rams lost out in the semi-finals Saturday at Cheboygan, however, to Maple City - Glen Lake.

Needs for handicapped

A wheelchair, crutches, or a walker - there are many pieces of medical equipment designed to help the physically handicapped and the ill. Yet, because some devices are expensive, many people can't afford to buy them.

For this reason, the Schoolcraft County Easter Seal Society maintains an equipment loan service, providing this equipment on a loan basis, for as long as it is needed.

The inflationary spiral, which has special impact on the nation's physically handicapped, has boosted the demand for rehabilitation equipment loan.

The Schoolcraft County Society and hundreds of other societies across the country have provided more than 69,000 pieces of rehabilitation equipment to underprivileged, handicapped children and adults from coast to coast this past fiscal year. These programs have been a needed community service for many years.

This is one of the reasons why your support is needed to help continue to provide this service in our community.

Landscaping difficult

Landscaping with Native Michigan plants isn't as simple as it sounds. There's more to it than digging up a tree and taking it home.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) requires that all native perennials, shrubs and trees be inspected at the original site and accompanied by an inspection certificate and native tree tag before they can be moved.

The aim of this rule is to prevent the spread of insects and plant diseases. So you're really protecting yourself by having your plants inspected.

If this sounds like more bother than you're ready to put up with, consider buying native plants from your local nursery. Many "wild" plants have been domesticated and are readily available from plant dealers. The nurseryman can help you select a plant that will do well in the conditions your home grounds provide.

An advantage of plants native to a particular area is that they are well adapted to the growing conditions there. They will survive normal winter weather, for instance. They do vary in their preference for soil moisture, acidity or alkalinity, and fertility and in their need for shade or sun. That's where your nurseryman can help you.

Digging up a plant along a roadside and carting it home not only violates the MDA inspection rule but also makes you a plant rustler. And it may put you in conflict with Michigan's protected species list.

Many wildflowers, trees, shrubs, vines and other plants are protected because of their rarity. Moving them without inspection is illegal, and it may threaten the survival of the species or variety.

If you see a plant that you would like to have for your home grounds, find out what it is. Then learn as much as you can about its cultural needs. If your site can provide the proper growing conditions, check with your local nurseryman, botanist, extension agent or plantsman.

Buying healthy plants from licensed nurserymen is surely the easiest and the safest way to add native Michigan plants to your landscape.

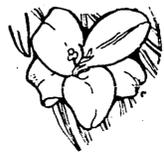

ORGANIC MATTER TEST:
The organic matter content of soils can be determined by the Michigan State University Soil Testing Lab. Organic matter content is of primary interest in

County Extension

by Elvin Hepker

determining herbicide and other soil applied pesticide rates. Soil organic matter content is not going to change very much in five or even ten years. Therefore, an organic matter test is not required as frequently as a soil test for pH and nutrient content. For this reason the organic matter test is offered as a separate test with a charge of $2 per sample. When an organic matter test is desired this should be indicated on the regular soil sample box.

Funeral Homes have seen a lot a changes in the last 200 years, but one thing hasn't changed...

You will always find the dignity and care that all of Schoolcraft County has learned to expect from the Hewitt Funeral Home in Manistique.

Tax law corrected by Treasury Department

Many people who have already filed their property tax credit statement for 1976 have overestimated their household income and are eligible for reimbursement from the Treasury Department, Representative Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) announces.

Employer-paid health, accident and life insurance premiums, as well as amounts deducted from monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits for medicare premiums, are not considered household income under a newly enacted law.

The new law corrects an action by the Treasury Department which included as household income employer-paid insurance premiums.

In order to receive reimbursement from the Treasury Department, Representative Varnum advised those who have filed their tax forms to send a letter to the Treasury Department including their name, social security number, the amount included on line 19 and the number of the form they used.

Beer, skunk oil for medication?

Agner Dehlin lives on Indian Lake with his wife of 63 years. They live in a modest house furnished with somewhat modern furniture.

He seems a little anxious but yet remained comfortable within his home. He is 83 years old.

"You don't follow up on these things you see," he is telling me. He is talking about the movie houses that once flickered in Manistique.

"There used to be indoor baseball and roller skating and dances at the Gero," he continues. He reminds me again that I have to follow up on these things. He adds that the Gero was next to Curran's Chevrolet.

Agner Dehlin had called me sometime ago to come out and talk about the "old hay." He is a native of Manistique and was raised here. After a period of years when he alternated working between Manistique and Minneapolis, he returned to Manistique for good. Here he worked on a farm until he retired. He was a supervisor for Hiawatha Township for 26 years and served on the road commission for six.

"The first automobile was purchased by Ed Ashford. "It has a little motor on the back of this buckboard and if I know right, the second automobile in the county was owned by Frank Peterson.

"Benny Gero came in later with an Oldsmobile that you steered with a stick," Mr. Dehlin reported to me.

I had originally stated that Mr. Berns Johnson owned the first automobile to enter Schoolcraft county.

During the course of our two and a half hour conversation, Mr. Dehlin talked the early days of his life here in Manistique. He stopped occasionally to reminisce. When he started again he was more often than not on a different subject.

We talked about a variety of subjects--about the movie houses, the time he and a friend were skating on South Manistique and his friend fell and broke his nose, about the Indians that used to come over from Beaver Island to pick blueberries and the boarders that used to stay at his house when he was growing up.

"They would send me to the saloon to get them a pair of beer. It costs 10 cents. I used to get them for the boarders who came home from the mill on a hot summer day," Mr. Dehlin remembered. He also remembered that the room and board for a month was $14.25.

The beer reminded Mr. Dehlin of some of the medications that were prevalent in those days. Warm beer, goose grease and skunk oil were three he brought up.

"Nobody ever went to the doctor in those days unless you had a broken arm. I don't know how we lived through it."

During our talk, Mrs. Dehlin slept in a chair in the corner of the room. The radio, turned loud, was playing and Mr. Dehlin had started to reminisce again. He was smiling to himself and nodding.

"Got a job when I was 12 years old from Al Stewart. I worked mornings, during my noon hour, and after school and after supper until 8," he said.

"When I left Manistique I was making $65 a month working for the People's store. In Minneapolis I was making $44 a week and working five days a week. I was my own boss. I could come and go when I wanted," said Mr. Dehlin, who described himself as a "good dresser and a cute guy, I guess."

Mr. Dehlin says he and his wife left Minneapolis when World War 1 came. He said he was afraid of being drafted and moved back to Manistique so that his wife could live with her parents in case he had to go to war.

"I was ready to go to war. I thought everybody had to go to war. Always believed that you fought for your country right or wrong. Anyway, you figured you were always right."

Although Mr. Dehlin never smoked cigarettes until he was 70 years old, he was a lifetime cigar and pipe smoker until his doctor advised him to give it up. He quit at the point he says.

When asked about his life as a whole, and if he would change it if he could, Mr. Dehlin said, "What you have done is for a reason."

"We had the best time," "When you go along in life though, you stub your toes. I guess I've got a lot to be thankful for."

"If you make a mistake then you try harder and you didn't make that mistake again."

If Mr. Dehlin seems content with his life it is only natural. You don't have to be told that he is content. You can see it. He looks content. It makes you wonder why others cannot be as content as he is. Or, as Mr. Dehlin would say, "You wonder what the hell gets into people sometimes."

Feed program

Ruth McCarney, county executive director of the Schoolcraft County ASCS Office, announces that Schoolcraft County has been approved for the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA) Emergency Feed Program.

The program has been approved from March 3 to June 15, 1977, because of the shortage of feed due to the drought last year.

Following are the basic guidelines for the program:

-Provides assistance to eligible producers by payment of up to 50 percent of the cost of eligible livestock feed but not to exceed 2 cents per pound of feed grain equivalent purchased under program approval. Eligible livestock include cattle (dairy and beef), sheep, goats and hogs but not chickens or horses.

-Payment will be based on the number of pounds of feed grain equivalent for hay, orange, silage or grain purchased under the program.

-The maximum quantity of eligible feed or payment will be the smaller of the loss of production or the quantity determined by multiplying the number of animal units times the number of days in the feeding period times 10 pounds.

Feed purchased by eligible producers between March 3 and date of application will be eligible under the program.

Producers wishing to make application for the program are asked to bring with them the following information: livestock on the farm: number of producing dairy cattle, number of cattle, one year or more, number of hogs and all other cattle, number of lambs and kids, number of calves born before March 3, (offspring of cattle owned more than 6 months); feed supplies on hand: tons of corn silage, tons of haylage, tons of hay, shelled corn and small grain (tons or pounds), tons of cob corn.

This information must be as accurate as possible to avoid difficulty in processing the application.

"If you bring in the exact measurements of your silage, hay or grain, we can assist you in determining the amount of feed in tons," McCarney said.

"We will also need to know the number of acres hay, corn silage, corn for grain, small grains planted in 1976 along with the expected normal yields," she added.

Invoices for the feed purchased must be signed by producers and the seller. The invoice must show date, amount (tons or lbs.), kind (must be specific, e.g. alfalfa, corn silage, clover, hay, etc.) since this information is needed to determine the feed grain equivalent.

There is no financial statement required for this program but spot checks will be made on feed purchased to make sure the producer is in compliance with the program provisions.

Criminal and civil penalties are involved for anyone falsifying claims or violating any order or regulation under this program.

Mothers-in-law don't really clog sinuses

If It Fitz

by Jim Fitzgerald

"He makes me sick."
That's what a father told me about his teenage son. He'd just learned of his son's plans for traveling from Michigan to California and back. The kid was plotting a marvelous rip-off of the Greyhound Bus Co.

"That kid will be the death of me yet," the father grumbled.

According to a couple of psychologists, the father could be right. His son probably does make him sick. And the kid might even kill his dad - he could stress him to death.

The psychologists are Thomas Holmes and Richard Rahe of the University of Washington. Their research showed that patients got colds and nasal infections after experiencing "psychologically charged events" - such as a visit from a mother-in-law.

"So many patients mentioned mothers-in-law so often that we came to consider them a common cause of disease in the U.S.," said Holmes and Rahe.

I hope these two men of science were not trying to jazz up their statistics by using that tired old mother-in-law joke. It is not funny, and I am sick of hearing it.

If I am really sick of hearing it, the people who are telling it are making me sick. The next time some barstooler begins telling me an old wheeze about his wife's mother, I will sneeze and tell him to take his psychologically charged event to the other end of the bar.

I have a spendid mother-in-law. She has never accused me of ruining her daughter's life. She has never scolded me for punching out her grandchildren. She has never complained about having a son-in-law who writes sarcastic things about her best friends, the Daughters of the American Revolution.

On the flip side, my wife has no problems with my mother. In fact, whenever my wife and I have a slight disagreement, my mother forsakes her flesh and blood to cheer for the opposition. "Hit him again, he deserves it," Mother says. My own mother.

A few years ago, after hearing an awful mother-in-law joke, I took a poll in search of fair play. I phoned 30 strangers at random and asked them to name the person who bugged them the most. Not one of them named my mother-in-law. See?

So I am doubtful when these two psychologists say their research indicates that mothers-in-law are a common cause of disease. Before accepting this as fact, I want to know more about the psychologists' patients.

I submit that the parent of a teenager is more liable to be made sick by that kid than by any other relative, including a mother-in-law.

Further, I suggest that psychologists Holmes and Rahe should dig deeper. They might discover it is not the fault of the mothers-in-law that they are psychologically charged events. The much-maligned women could be innocent of being anything except the grandmothers of those damn kids.

It is possible that a visit from his mother-in-law could cause a man stress enough to clog his nasal passages. But is it really anything the woman said during her visit. It might simply be that her presence reminds the man that if she hadn't been born, he couldn't have married her daughter and subsequently become the father of teenage children.

It is human nature for a father to be reluctant to put the blame for his son's behavior where it belongs - on the nose of a boy who looks just like his dad. And it's not surprising that the mother-in-law might be made a scapegoat, however unconsciously. After all, if a man hears 15,729 mother-in-law jokes every year, he is bound to think there must be some truth in them. Otherwise, would all those presidents play golf with Bob Hope?

But certainly it is unscientific for two psychologists to claim a mother-in-law is Typhoid Mary when her only contagion is being a grandmother. Only, already.

In the Greyhound caper, mentioned earlier, I was proud that my friend blamed his son, not his mother-in-law. No mother-in-law, unless she was also 18, could cause such stress.

The son and his buddy both planned to ride to California for the price of one bus ticket. Their gimmick was that Greyhound charges half-fare for a person in a wheelchair and the person pushing the chair.

Neither one of these guys even limps. But the son was prepared to be a fake cripple throughout the four-day trip. He had already borrowed a wheelchair. The trip would have been attempted except for an explosion - his father's.

Now that was a psychologically charged event. And there wasn't a mother-in-law in sight.

Opening doors to public

The Open Meetings Act, P.A. 267, which goes into effect March 31, is bound to cause some changes in the way public meetings are conducted in Schoolcraft County.

According to an opinion by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley distributed this week, there are numerous complexities in the act. But basically, the act provides that "all meetings of a public body shall be open to the public and shall be held in a place that is available to the general public."

The record of local boards and commissions has been fairly good in terms of notifying news media of scheduled public meetings and holding them in a place that provides enough room for the interested public to come and learn about school and government decisions.

On what they judge to be sensitive matters, however, local boards in this and other areas of the state commonly call executive sessions that exclude the press and the public. For perhaps the first time, the open meetings act establishes a procedure and specific situations in which a closed session may be called.

On a two-thirds roll call vote, members of a public body may meet behind closed doors to consider purchase of real property to consult with an attorney certain pending litigation, to review applications for employment to a public office when the candidate so requests, or to discuss matters exempt from public discussion by state or federal law.

Without a roll call vote, a public body may meet in executive session to consider the dismissal or charges brought against a public official, or discipline against a student, when a closed hearing is requested; and for strategy and negotiation sessions connected with collective bargaining.

In the past, it was a common practice for a board chairman or an administrator to simply call for a closed meeting. And unless there was some objection from members of the public body it would be held, without the press or public being informed of the general nature of the meeting.

Another past practice of some boards, particularly of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education, to meet informally a half hour in advance of a public meeting is curtailed by the new act.

According to Kelley, "a public body may not meet informally in advance of a public meeting to determine what will be decided formally at the public meeting." The attorney general stated that such a meeting is subject to the act "even if there is no intention that the deliberations shall lead to the rendering of a decision on that occasion."

The act delineates many other rules for publicizing and conducting meetings, plus rights of the public to address public bodies, and also sets personal civil liability and criminal penalties for public officials who intentionally violate the act.

Hopefully, the teeth of this law will be helpful in keeping the public's business in the public view.

The war is over; GM gives up

The war is over. The battle has been won. General Motors capitulated last week and delivered my new Buick Century.

Regular readers of this column will remember that two weeks ago I declared war on General Motors for failure to deliver a new car I had ordered back in November. The car had been shipped to the dealer in Manistique from Flint on January 29. A delivery date of February 4 was indicated on the computer print outs that came from Buick. A month later the car still had not arrived and no one at Buick seemed to know, or care, anything about it.

I had had it and said so in this column two weeks ago. A state of war between myself and General Motors existed. My terms were simple and direct. I would not sign a truce or bill of sale until the car had been delivered to me and intended to be a pain in G.M.'s backside until that day arrived.

I don't think that scared them too much, but regardless, they decided to stop playing games and suddenly the car appeared out of the fog and was delivered in one piece.

Whether the column I wrote ever reached the command headquarters of G.M. in either Flint or Detroit, I don't know. The repercussions, however, were felt on a local level.

When the column was written, mentioned that the car had been ordered from my friendly Buick-Pontiac dealer, but did not mention him by name. I knew that there were two Buick-Pontiac dealerships in this area, Buick Motors in Escanaba and Linderoth & son in Manistique. Since Bero also sells American Motors, I assumed that readers would make the distinction that Linderoth and not Bero was the dealer involved. I also thought it was made quite clear that the failure of the car to show up on time was G.M.'s fault and not the dealers. Based on a call I got from Bob Bero, some of his customers and my readers did not make that distinction.

Bero had to assure these people, who also had ordered new Pontiacs and Buicks, that even though a state of war might exist between the newspaper publisher of The Reporter and the Pioneer-Tribune, that it would not affect the delivery of their new car.

It must have been a column that many people could sympathize with...the small town publisher taking on the corporate giant. It was a column that got as much more response than many I have written.

The war has now ended. The light at the end of the tunnel has been reached. Our only hope is that there are now MIA's that will have to be accounted for during the next few years.

Not much ado about anything

Some days the creative teletype is difficult to believe.

But, owing to the fact that the grass is slow to turn green, and human organizations are slow to awaken from a winter's nap, it is understandable that someone would pass along a "not much ado about anything" treatise as local affairs nod into spring.

The negative outburst (or should it be negative inbreast) follows:

"The non-controversial issue of nothing was again not brought up when the Manistique Area Board of Education didn't meet at its regular education Monday night.

The not-crowded board room of the high non-school was not brought to order by the board president for no reaction to the board's non-policy non-changes. One member of the non-active CHIRP group, Citizens Helping Irritate Representatives Purposely, was not thrown out of the non-meeting for non-disorderly non-conduct.

"The non-superintendent didn't rise to his feet during a particular not heated portion of the session that didn't last over six hours. He didn't exclaim that the school board was doing nothing for the absent students at the empty school. The board didn't concur.

"Meanwhile, in another part of town, the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners were not meeting not to discuss the much-talked about non-rules for the non-county employees.

"Not being resolved were the county's plans to again not take any action on the non-rules for fear of a non-mass demonstration by the non-citizens of the non-community.

Response to tax petition

TO THE EDITOR

First of all, let me on behalf of the signers of our petition, a petition which is a complete disapproval of the Michigan State Board of Education's proposal that a law be invoked that will allow two millage elections, and upon their failure, an automatic income, tax levy by school boards in all areas of Michigan, let me thank you for the article about our efforts in March 10 Pioneer Tribune.

Attached are three more sheets of signers, totaling 60, which brings our total to date to 106. There are a large number of petitions circulating in Schoolcraft County and Escanaba and Delta County as well.

Upon receipt of the first lists of petitioners, Representative Charles H. Varnum, sent us a nice letter. Particular attention is directed to his last paragraph, which we quote: "I hope this information is helpful to you. If I can be of further assistance let me know. Sincerely, CH Varnum, State Representative." Our group has no political connections, and it is indeed gratifying and comforting to receive such a sincere letter from our representative in Lansing.

Many, many of the petition signers have expressed to me and other circulators that we start an active organization to become involved in matters of our mutual concern local, state, and federal. And that we are doing. In fact, we already have a representative in Escanaba for the group. We are in process of organizing now. We shall keep the public fully informed on all developments.

Also, might we mention that Mr. Douglas Germann of the CHANGE organization invited us to a meeting and we must say we were well pleased with their activities, and would like to use their moment to urge more and more parents and others to get into CHANGE. It is for their benefit and protection of their children for assuring them, not second best, but no. 1 educational benefits for their youngsters.

We received a very nice letter from "Doc" Vertz of Brooklyn, N.Y., with a memorial to our building fund made out in his mothers name, Blanche Jenerou.

We also received a memorial to the Center in the name of Louis Salter by Mrs. Louis Salter and by Betty Salter.

Mrs. Charlotte Bosanic gave a memorial to the Center in the name of her mother, Helen D. Merwin.

Building fund donations came from Bill and Edith Washburn, Paul and Star Hanson, K. Elon and Nathalie Larson and Gert Dean.

We really appreciate everyone who is giving to our building fund. It's going to be your center and it has to come from you and we sure are grateful for your support. Thrift store donations came from Eileen Reque, Helen Raffaele, Phyllis Carlson, Ida Carlson, Florence Rubick, Dorothy Cook and Celestine Spielmacher.

Art Demers and Myrtle Quick brought baked goods. Two years ago Norma Johnson started a kitchen band for the center known as the "Kitchen Cut-Ups". Through her endeavors "a seed" was planted and people were recruited. Norma made their uniforms, spent many hours selecting and revising songs and the group began. The "Cut-Ups" were sponsored by the Community Schools. This year, because we could not find a teacher that was certified, that program was dropped from the school and we went on our own but were lacking a teacher. Finding a compatible instructor with lots of enthusiasm, imagination, and a love for the older person was not an easy task. But we got the gal who fits all the characteristics mentioned and her name is Sharon Gardner.

Sharon has really put a zip into the band. She started the group singing and doing dramatics, and even changed the name to the Senior Citizens' Singers and they're really swinging. They've entertained at Ishpeming, Escanaba, Rapid River, and in front of numerous clubs and groups in Manistique.

Last week the Senior Singers performed at the Doyle Elementary School and this report was written by Sharon Gardner, who had the first hand experience of being there:

"Picture a school full of enthusiastic youthful faces all clapping, stomping, humming and singing and a group of enthusiastic senior faces doing the same thing and you come up with a fantastic combination!"

"First of all the kids were told Not to sit quietly and to join in the fun of the program by being part of it. Well, let me tell you, that announcement brought a rousing cheer from the audience and there was nothing left to do but for all to have a great time! I wouldn't doubt for a minute that the roof was in danger of being elevated by the happy sounds coming from the room that day."

"It was such a good experience for all concerned and so much was learned about generations so far apart. The kids found out that grandmas and gramps know how to have fun and can be talented too. They loved joining in the songs, both old and new, watching the dancing and especially liked the hats that the ladies had made and modeled to the tune of "Easter Parade". I guess you might say that judging by the smiles, that whole program was certainly appreciated. That entire program was so rewarding for all who were there.

"The seniors were treated to a short program by the second grade and received many hugs and handshakes that began the minute that the last note was played. Who could possibly forget the many voices saying "Please come back." And now the seniors have a huge pile of marvelous letters and pictures from the school saying thank you. Each one is a joy to read and says in no uncertain terms that a great deal of love was exchanged that day by sharing an hour together. Perhaps music is the key to understanding."

Here are some letters written by the kids themselves and we hope you will enjoy them as much as we.

Dear Senior Citizens,
I hope you can come again. I liked the music and I like you all. I love the hats. Please come back please! I hope you sing for us very soon. I love you all. Signed - Tanyo Soulliere

Teachers study new science developments

Two Manistique High School science teachers will take close looks at some of the newer developments in science Friday March 25, when they visit Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie for a one-day seminar.

The program entitled, "Frontiers in Science," is co-sponsored by Lake Superior State college and the chemical industry of Michigan.

Science teachers from the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula and the northern part of the Lower Peninsula have been invited to participate. Earl Williamson and Randy Eide will represent Manistique High School.

While they are in Sault Ste. Marie, they will be replaced by Kathy Hunt and Roy Dunlap of the Dow Chemical U.S.A. Michigan Division, Midland, in the classrooms. The industrial personnel will discuss various aspects of scientific research and the opportunities for young men and women in science careers.

Williamson and Eide will hear and take part in a series of talks in the morning by Dr. John Wahr of Dow Chemical U.S.A., Midland; Dr. Curt Vogt, B.A.S.F. Wyandotte Corporation, Wyandotte; and Eldon Frisich, Dow Corning Corporation, Midland.

The closer we approach the normal flowering season of any plant, the better it performs. This is particularly true of those wonderful spring-flowering shrubs we know as azaleas. Right now they are simply magnificent and we urge you to enjoy them at Easter time and to share them with those you love.

Azaleas last longest when they can be grown in cool locations with an abundance of light, but not full sun. The soil should always be moist. It is not uncommon for the large-flowered forms to have a continuing series of blossoms over a period of three weeks or more. Those varieties with small flowers often have so many at one time that they hide the foliage from view.

If you are a green-thumb gardener, try keeping your azaleas over for another year. It can be done quite easily if you give the plants a bit of house plant fertilizer after the flowers fade so as to build up strength for next year's blossoms. During the summer azaleas should go outside in partial shade and should never be allowed to become dry. In the fall bring them indoors for another season of delight.

The Wonder Time

It was such a cold winter. The trees were stark, dead. The church looked old, tired. Spirits sagged.

Then, one day, there was a miracle. There were buds, swelling into flowers, the grass began to green, and the church seemed to straighten itself, thrusting the cross high toward the heavens.

Again, the promise had been fulfilled. Again, life began anew and hope stirred and somehow God seemed closer, even though actually He had been right there, all along.

Spring is a wonder time. A time for living, a time for loving. A very special time, for God and His Church.

This NOTICE OF HEARING is being served and published pursuant to the Michigan Public Service Commission's Order in Case No. U-4788, dated November 5, 1976.

Bimonthly hearings have been scheduled by the Commission for the purpose of considering adjustment to monthly customer billings for cost of fuel. A public hearing will be held on Monday, April 11, 1977, commencing at 1:30 p.m. in the office of the Commission 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, to consider the proper adjustment for cost of fuel to be applied to bills rendered during the months of May and June, 1977, by Wisconsin Michigan Power Company to its Michigan customers.

The Company proposes a fuel cost adjustment of a charge of 2.92 mills per kwh based upon its actual fuel cost expense for the months of January and February, 1977, and will offer testimony and exhibits to support same. Things to see and do in Hiawathaland

It's spring!

Slosh chopping

Saw one of those power-driven ice augers in action recently and couldn't help making comparison with our technique for punching holes in the ice some forty years back.

In our first effort, we snuck a crowbar from my brother's boathouse on the Portage Canal and moved out of sight behind the coal dock before giving the ice a tentative tap for soundness. The bar slid through both the ice and our hands leaving a one-inch hole and great uneasiness in its wake.

It wasn't until we acquired belt axes of our own that we again got serious about making holes in the ice and anybody who has gone that route is aware of some of the problems.

To begin with, we never got that excited about winter fishing until other winter fun things started to drag...by which time, lake ice could be measured in feet. The first foot of ice was no great chore at all but from there on down, the handle usually hit first, the knuckles second and the cutting edge last...usually well off of target.

As the knuckles got sore, the urgency to reach water increased and the size of the hole diminished...usually by the time we had broken through, the 1 1/2 foot wide hole had narrowed down to a mere crack.

From there on, it was cold, sloshy work...usually we'd give in to icy sleeves, but on one occasion we enlarged the crack just enough to let the axe fall through and another time we completely finished the job only to find out we were directly over an old dock piling.

We did manage to get a line in the water occasionally but to the best of my memory, not once during those 5 or 6 winters of intermittent chopping and sloshing did our effort ever produce a single fish.

But then we never caught any rabbits in the dozens of pitfalls we dug in the Pilgrim River Swamp, either....

Seney refuge opening soon

SENEY--The 1977 visitor season at the Seney National Wildlife Refuge will begin on April 1 with the opening of the visitor center.

This facility, featuring wildlife exhibits and special programs by request, will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through June 14. Open hours will then run from 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. June 15 through Labor Day, and from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Labor Day through Oct. 31. A receptionist is on duty from June 15 through Sept. 30.

Other public use facilities available to the early visitor include a 1.4 mile nature trail, and for the canoeist, a beautiful 15-mile stretch of the Manistique River flowing through the refuge.

The popular auto tour routes will not be opened before mid-June to prevent disturbance to family groups of geese which frequent the dike roads.

The variety of refuge activities, plus the antics of the Seney geese, will provide the visitor with an enjoyable and educational outdoor experience, according to refuge officials.

Time to remove ice shanties

With ice conditions deteriorating rapidly on both inland and Great Lakes waters, fishermen are reminded that their ice shanties must be removed before the ice becomes unsafe.

Failure to do so not only makes them subject to fine but also makes them liable for costs of removal and storage should law enforcement people be required to do so.

The most obvious reasons for removal of ice shanties is the potential navigation hazard they create for small watercraft and the shoreline debris they eventually become.

An additional reminder to shanty owners is that the shanty's accumulation of debris within the winter must also be removed from the ice. Littering has no boundaries and a can chucked into a spud hole can end up in a child's foot next July, reports David M. Frimodig, DNR regional information officer.

Slide project explains ORV rules

Off-Road Vehicle Policies are the subject of a newly-developed slide program now available from the Hiawatha National Forest.

Forest Supervisor Merwyn O. Reed, announced that the program may be requested by interested groups from any of the Forest's offices. A Forest Service spokesman will make the presentation.

The slide program explains the regulations on the use of off-road vehicles, including snowmobiles and motor bikes, which were put into effect on the Hiawatha National Forest on Jan. 1, 1977. Included is information on where and under what conditions off-road vehicles may be used on National Forest System lands, roads and trails.

Groups may obtain the program by contacting the Forest Supervisor's Office Escanaba, or District Rangers in Rapid River, Manistique, Munising, Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace.

Geese return

SENEY--March 13 marked the arrival of the first Canada Geese to return to Seney National Wildlife Refuge to begin the age-old process of bringing another generation of geese into being.

Geese have returned to the refuge as early as March 1 and as late as March 29. Last year they arrived on March 19.

This year, as every year, geese returned to find the refuge still in winter's grip. Twenty-seven inches of snow remain on the ground and the pools are still frozen over with more than a foot of ice.

The flock will continue to increase with the arrival of more birds over the next 2-3 weeks. As the snow melts and the pools thaw, hopefully about 175-200 pairs of geese will be on hand to start selecting nest sites and begin egg laying.

First arrivals are usually ganders that have lost their mates and newly established pairs that have not bred the previous year.

YCC program

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will be employing approximately 850 young folks between the ages of 15-18 years under the Youth Conservation Corps program this summer.

Applications are available from the student's respective school, Community Action Agency, and the Department of Natural Resources beginning this month. Students are urged to contact their counselors regarding any questions they may have concerning this program.

The application deadline for the program is March 15. It offers working and learning experiences on federal, state, and local projects. For further information, applicants may contact the Youth Conservation Corp Program, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 33028, Lansing, Michigan 48909.

Salmon and trout to be released

Plans for the release of nearly 11.2 million young salmon and trout this spring in the watersheds of Lake Superior, Michigan, Huron and Erie by the Department of Natural Resources include the planting of some 120,000 fish in the Thompson Creek.

About 110,000 and 10,000 rainbow trout are slated for the creek, with planting to be done through June.

The DNR Fisheries Division's 1977 planting schedule calls for the stocking of about 4.8 million coho and 3 million chinook salmon, 300,000 steelhead and 2.6 million lake trout. Nearly 5.8 million fish are targeted for the Lake Michigan stocking, primarily in the lower two-thirds of the lake where fisherman numbers are the largest.

A recent order to halt expansion of the fish program by DNR Director Howard A. Tanner does not affect the number of fish to be planted this year. Under Tanner's directive, present stocking levels will continue until problems associated with the program can be studied and solved. However, in line with the directive, no new streams will be stocked.

QUALITY WITH THAT CUSTOM TOUCH

a weekend in your attic can keep you cooler this summer warmer next winter.

Good attic insulation... is one of the best ways to keep your summer cooling costs down. Next winter you'll get more heat for your money, too.

Conserving energy in your home starts with good insulation. Most older homes don't have enough.

To help you decide how much insulation you need, measure the thickness of your present attic insulation. If it is less than six inches, you need more. Most insulation today is rated by "R-values." This is based on heat resistance. WMPCO recommends to install R-30 insulation because of the construction limitations in your attic — simply install the greatest R-value that will fit.

Wall insulation? In an older home it is best checked and corrected by a professional.

Good insulation pays for itself fast. So spend a weekend in your attic soon. You won't regret it.

OFFICIAL TITLE

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Edward Way, that Mr. Richard Rodgers of Doyle Township, Schoolcraft County, Michigan, be designated the "County-at-large" appointee to the Schoolcraft County Tax Allocation Board for FY-77, in accordance with Act 339 of the P.A. of 1976 amended, Section 5 and 5k of Act 62 of the P.A. of 1933. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Kenneth O. Mortensen, that the matter of violation of the "No-Smoking" provision of the Courthouse Rules and Regulations, as adopted November 11th, 1976, be tabled until such time as more information is received from the Director of the State Department of Social Services, and a ruling is obtained from the whether the power rests with the Building Authority, or with the County Board. This motion was subsequently carried after considerable discussion by a 5 to 2 Aye vote. Voting Nay were Earl H. LeBrasseur and Edward Way.

With the presentation of the above motion, Mr. Joel Secrist, Union representative for the Department of Social Services employees, presented a packet of petitions reporting to be 528 signatures of residents of Schoolcraft County who were opposed to the Non-smoking ban in the new Schoolcraft County Courthouse. He stated that these petitions were a mandate from the citizens of Schoolcraft County, that the Board take some definite action this date, and clear up the uncertainty that now clouds the issue.

The Chairman, Ernest S. Hoholik, read a report of a conversation between, Fred Lawless, Deputy Director, State Department of Social Services and County Clerk Ferdinand Lesica. This conversation was the result of Mr. Hoholik's personal request of Mr. John Dempsey Director, State Department of Social Services, for a position of the No-Smoking ban in the Courthouse.

The report as read, indicating Mr. Lawless's position, and he stated that he felt that Mr. Dempsey would concur, that due to the fact that the lease agreement is silent that he felt the Mr. Dempsey would

The report as read, indicating Mr. Lawless's position, and he stated that he felt that Mr. Dempsey would concur, that due to the fact that the lease agreement is silent as to smoking, and as the Courthouse Rules and Regulations were adopted subsequent to the signing of the Lease Agreement, that he felt he could not direct the Department Director in Schoolcraft County, or the employees to comply with rules and regulations not incorporated in the lease agreement. Mr. Lawless did recommend four (4) possible courses of action, namely:

1. Re-negotiate the lease agreement.
 2. Try and get the State Legislature to pass a law forbidding smoking in leased State Offices.
 3. Terminate the lease, provided a legal basis for termination can be found.
 4. Plead with the Schoolcraft County Director and employees to comply voluntarily.
- Various comments were made by those in favor and opposed, one being that a straw vote be taken by the local news media to get a yes-no expression of the citizens of Schoolcraft County. Commissioner LeBrasseur, then questioned County Prosecutor, John L. Thompson on several legal matters relative to this question. Mr. Thompson then explained his position, stating that it is impossible for him to give legal opinions off-the-hip, that he would be more than glad to research any question or questions posed to him provided that they were submitted in writing, and render a written or verbal response, or both.

It was moved by Lindsley Frenette, supported by Earl LeBrasseur that the area of the Courthouse lobby, from the front entrance to a line perpendicular to the location of the North end of the public phone booth, be designated an area for smoking for the general public. Motion defeated by 4 to 3 Nay votes. Voting Aye were: Lindsley Frenette, Edward Way and Earl LeBrasseur.

It was moved by Earl LeBrasseur, supported by Edward Way, that the matter of No-smoking rule be referred to the Schoolcraft County Building Authority for disposition. Motion defeated by 5 to 2 Nay vote. Voting Aye were Edward Way and Earl LeBrasseur.

An oral and written report of the Tax Equalization meeting held at the Ramada Inn, Manistique, was given by Commissioner Frenette.

A letter from the Schoolcraft County Road Commission was read, wherein said Commission was requesting now or for the future, 50 percent of the funds to be allocated to Schoolcraft County, under the term of Public Law number 94-565, 94th Congress HR-9719. Payment in lieu of ad valorem tax on Federal lands located in Schoolcraft County.

A letter from E. E. Johnson, acting Schoolcraft County Drain Commissioner, was read wherein he was requesting of the County, 10 percent of the funds allocated to Schoolcraft County under the terms of Public Law number 94-565, 94th Congress HR9719, payment in lieu of ad valorem tax of Federal lands located in Schoolcraft County.

Both of the above mentioned parties were advised that this matter would be referred to the Finance Committee, for consideration when the money is received and subsequent years budgets are prepared.

District Court Judge, Charles H. Stark, rendered his 1976 Annual report, reviewed it's contents, and answered questions relative to its contents, whereupon, it was moved by Lindsley Frenette, supported by William Tennyson, that said report be accepted and a copy placed on file in the office of the County Clerk. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Robert Dawson, Tax Equalization Director, presented his 1976 Tax Equalization Department annual report, answered questions relative to same and other tax equalization matters. He stated that only Manistique Township is now without a certified assessor as Thompson Township has hired Richard Balog, of Manistique, Michigan, and that Seney and Gormfask Townships have hired William J. Olesak to do the assessing for those two Townships. It was moved by Earl LeBrasseur, supported by Kenneth O. Mortensen, that the annual report of the Tax Equalization Department be accepted, and a copy placed on file in the office of the County Clerk. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Mr. Douglas Kraatz, Director, Schoolcraft County Department of Social Services distributed copies of his annual (1976) report. The Chairman suggested to Mr. Kraatz, that due to the extent of the report, and for lack of time to review same, that same be reviewed with the Welfare Committee of this Board and that if it meets with their approval, it would be acceptable to this Board.

It was moved by Earl LeBrasseur, supported by Edward Way, that George Daunt, Building Code Administrator, be designated the Director of the "Soil Erosion and Sediment Control" Board for Schoolcraft County. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Mr. Auvern Bernard, Schoolcraft County Airport Operator and Manager, submitted his annual (1976) report, both written and oral. It was moved by Earl LeBrasseur, supported by William Tennyson, that said report be accepted, and a copy placed of file in the office of the County Clerk for public inspection. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Sheriff, Lloyd E. Gray presented his annual (1976) report in writing, and stated that he would answer any questions, hearing none, it was moved by Lindsley Frenette, supported by Edward Way, that the Sheriff's annual report be accepted, a copy placed on file in the office of the County Clerk for public inspection. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Sheriff Gray requested a meeting with the Personnel Committee at the earliest possible date. Commissioner Tennyson said he would try to get the Committee together this week. Tennyson also announced that in the future all fingerprint records submitted to the Michigan Police Fingerprint Division, will require remittance of $8.00 per copy of fingerprints.

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Kenneth O. Mortensen, that the following members be appointed to the new Schoolcraft County Zoning Commission; said terms to commence as of March 1st, 1977, and terminate as noted as follows: Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote. LUCE-MACKINAC-ALGER SCHOOLCRAFT DISTRICT HEALTH DEPARTMENT
NEWBERRY, MICHIGAN 49868
TELEPHONE 294-5107
February 15, 1977

Mr. Fred Lesica, Clerk
Schoolcraft County
Manistique, Michigan 49854

Dear Mr. Lesica:
Enclosed is a copy of the proposed Fee Schedule Regulation for the Luce-Mackinac-Alger-Schoolcraft District Health Department. As part of the administrative procedures for inacting local rules and regulations by health departments under Act 306 of the P. A. 1927, as amended, public meetings were held in each county

Schoolcraft County was the only county where those in attendance objected to increasing fees. In fact they wanted to reduce the fee charged by the department and increase county appropriations to make up the difference.

On February 7, 1977, the Luce-Mackinac-Alger-Schoolcraft District Health Department passed a resolution to adopt the Fee Schedule Regulation, with the stipulation that fees would not be increased from what is presently being charged. An additional part of the resolution passed by the Board of Health was to include three penalty sections:

1. Fees will be doubled if construction of a sewage system begins prior to the issuance of a permit.
2. Fees will be doubled if construction of a well begins prior to the issuance of a permit.
3. Food service establishment license fees will be $30.00 if the fee is not received by June 1, of each year.

The final step in adopting the Fee Schedule Regulation is for the regulations to be passed by even county Board of Commissioners. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact any of the environmental health staff.

Sincerely,
-s- James Shifflet,
James Shifflet, Administrator
J.S.T.C.

E. Provide reasonable maintenance repair service for airplanes and equipment as he may deem necessary to meet the needs thereof;

F. Provide reasonable charter service;

BERNARD agrees that his personnel shall have proper Federal and State certificates covering their respective duties. BERNARD further agrees to comply with the rules and regulations of the State Fire Marshall in the operation of said premises;

6. COUNTY shall bear the expense of lighting the runways and airport and the expense of maintenance of said lighting; such lighting shall be operated according to the airport rules and regulations;

7. COUNTY shall have the right of access to any and all portions of the premises during the terms of this Agreement for inspection purposes, during reasonable times, excepting the personal papers and files and office of BERNARD;

8. BERNARD shall supervise and reasonably assist in moving the grass and plowing snow in regard to airport runways, taxi-way and apron; such labor shall be performed in a timely and workmanlike manner, subject only to delays beyond the control and without the fault of BERNARD, and subject further to the COUNTY furnishing snowplow equipment as hereinafter set forth;

A. COUNTY shall furnish all the equipment required for the snowplowing and BERNARD shall supervise and reasonably assist in the maintenance of such equipment which can reasonably be performed at the airport. All costs for parts and materials for the repair of such equipment shall be borne by COUNTY;

B. No supplemental payment shall be made to BERNARD for supervising and reasonably assisting in the repair of said snowplow equipment other than that payment which is provided to BERNARD under the provisions of the Manager's Contract.

9. BERNARD shall take responsibility for the operation of the new terminal building at the Schoolcraft County Airport.

10. Terminal Building
A. No pets or cooking shall be allowed in the terminal building by any person and the terminal building shall be kept in a neat and orderly condition by BERNARD; providing that the preparation and dispensing of coffee will be allowed in the terminal building;

B. COUNTY shall be responsible for all maintenance equipment used in the building;

C. BERNARD shall perform or have performed all necessary light cleaning and COUNTY shall perform or have performed rug shampooing and any extraordinary cleaning;

D. COUNTY shall provide all cleaning equipment and supplies required by BERNARD.

11. This Agreement is not subject to assignment without the written consent of the COUNTY;

12. It is further understood and agreed that should either party fail to reasonably carry out the terms and agreements as above stated, either party may terminate said Agreement by a sixty (60) day notice in writing of the intention to do so, stating therein the suitable reason for such termination; and should said party fail to correct such matter within the sixty (60) day period, then this Agreement and the rights granted thereto shall terminate;

13. In the event of war, floods, acts of God or other circumstances beyond the control of the parties hereto, wherein said airport cannot be used by the parties in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, both parties shall thereby be released from further liability under this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have set their hands this 28th day of February, 1977

LeBrasseur reported on the present status of the C.E.T.A. program, with a forecast of up to doubling the present number of employees, but all is contingent upon the final action to be taken by Congress. LeBrasseur reported that it is hoped to have the program functioning by May of 1977.

It was moved by Lindsley Frenette, supported by Earl LeBrasseur that the monthly financial report of the County Treasurer, William E. Cowman, be accepted. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

A report on the organization of the 5-County substance abuse program was made. It was noted the Rev. Fr. Frank Lenz, of St. Francis de Sales Parish, Manistique, Michigan, was chosen to head the 5-County organization, which is to be mainly an advisory group, with the next meeting to be held on March 28th, 1977. The local members of the group are William Tennyson, LeRoy Belcik, and Fr. Lenz.

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Kenneth O. Mortensen, that the Veteran's Counselors and Soldier's & Sailor's Relief Commission annual (1976) reports be accepted as presented both written and oral, by Lionel Mercier. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Earl LeBrasseur, that the Co-Operative Re-imbursment Agreement between Schoolcraft County Prosecuting Attorney and the Department of Social Services for services rendered in processing ADC related support payment cases be approved as submitted, with $3,000.00 of the reimbursed payment to be used to pay up to $3,000.00 of the part-time clerks pay and fringe benefits in the Prosecuting Attorney's office, for FY-77. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

Philip Dakin, Schoolcraft County Soil Conservation Director, asked the Board to appoint a representative from the Board to the "Research Conservation Development" (RCD) Board. He discussed various types of projects he would like to develop for Schoolcraft County, and the reason for the request for a member from the Board was to get the County Boards input into any programs planned for Schoolcraft County. The Chairman, then announced that Commissioner Lindsley Frenette would be the board representative to Schoolcraft County's "RCD" Board.

Commissioner, Lindsley Frenette announced that the matter of appointment to the County DPW Board would be continued until the March 22nd, 1977, regular monthly meeting, so as to permit the Township Officer's to organize, as he wanted them to give their input as to appointments to the D.P.W. Board, and that said Township Officers have not met to organize or act on this matter as of this date.

It was moved by William Tennyson, supported by Kenneth O. Mortensen, that the employees who have not been covered by the County's Health Program, shall be paid $18.00 per month in cash, in lieu of this fringe benefit, from and after May 16th, 1976 to date, in accordance with Article number 43 of the Union Agreement. Motion carried by unanimous Aye vote.

It was moved by Lindsley Frenette, supported by Earl LeBrasseur, that the meeting adjourn until Tuesday, March 22nd, 1977. Motion carried.

Knights of Columbus to begin candy drive

The Manistique Council 2026 of the Knights of Columbus will be conducting their second annual fund drive April 1, 2, and 3 to assist the mentally retarded, Robert Nelson, council Grand Knight announces.

Last year some $1,300 was collected and donated to the special education classes of the Manistique Area Schools during the three day "Tootsie Roll" drive.

The program is carried out by most of the 177 K.C. Councils in Michigan. "The donations to local organizations last year by Knights of Columbus councils on behalf of their contributors proved to be a gratifying experience for our members," State Deputy Julian F. Joseph said.

Citizens will be able to recognize the Knights and their helpers during the drive by the colorful hats cannisters resembling a Tootsie Roll and aprons emblazoned with "K of C Help the Mentally Retarded." Contributors will receive a tootsie roll candy in exchange of their donations.

Bay de Noc deadline

Area high school seniors are reminded that the deadline to apply for scholarships for the 1977-78 academic year at Bay de Noc Community College is April 1.

The scholarship application may be obtained from high school counselors or at the College Student Financial Assistance Office. According to Virginia Shomin, director of financial aid at the college, a variety of scholarships is available, many for particular categories including parents' occupation and student interests.

Mrs. Shomin said that, "We want to encourage all students to apply because the scholarship awards may be based on reasons other than high grade point average or class rank. Too often students count themselves out and find out too late they might have received a scholarship."
