Schools gain .2 allocated mills

Schoolcraft County yielded another one-tenth of a mill to the public schools last Thursday as the county allocation board set its final division of the 1977 15-mill unvoted property tax levy.

William Mueller, who made the motion; Billie Doyle, Mary Moffat, and Walter McClintock voted in favor. Richard Rodgers, William Cowman, Wells Bowers and William Tennyson cast negative votes, defeating the issue.

requests, which were submitted to the allocation board as a preliminary budget. School proponents have maintained that while the county realizes increased revenue from higher property assessments, the schools are deducted state aid when local tax bills rise.

er Cowman said, "we've been gibing our millage up." In other matters, the board discussed the possibility of playing an 18-mill allocation proposal before county voters, with millage allocation among the various government and school units to be permanently pegged, thereby eliminating the annual allocation board.

Record breaking crowds were reported by rangers and DNR officials at federal and state campgrounds. Both agencies report that no arrests were made over the extended weekend.

Local police agencies encountered some busy moments but reported no serious mishaps over the weekend. By Saturday morning, it looked as though state police were going to have a hectic weekend as three personnel injury accidents were reported during the morning hours. However, they remained the only three reported for the weekend.

One arrested in vandalism

One person has been arrested and warrants remain out on another person, in connection with downtown vandalism last week, Manistique Public Safety officers report.

Those incidents remain under investigation. Seven-year-old Ron Neadeau of Manistique was arrested last Thursday at 9:40 p.m. in connection with numerous window breakings in the downtown Manistique area on Monday night, May 23.

32 MHS students win scholarships, trophies

Scholarships, certificates and trophies were awarded to 32 students Tuesday night, May 31, in the Manistique High School auditorium, for those students who excelled in academics or sports.

The prestigious Lazarus and Rachel Rosenthal Scholarship was presented to Donald Videtich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Videtich, 256 N. Cedar St.

The Rosenthal Scholarship is given by Samuel Rosenthal in memory of his parents, Lazarus and Rachel Rosenthal. Rosenthal is a former graduate of Manistique High School.

Rosenthal is an internationally known lawyer with the firm of Sonnenschein, Levinson, Carlin, Nath and Rosenthal of Chicago.

The $1,000 scholarship is awarded by a committee to the student who shows "worthiness and potentiality."

Mark Masters was awarded the Art Allen Senior Football award. Making the presentation was Rudie Brandstrom.

For the first time, three trophies were awarded to both boys and girls for excellence in their respective sports.

Richard Berger and Donna Krusic will share the honors of the Art Allen Senior Basketball Award. Coaches Seb Rubick and Diane Stimac made those presentations.

The Art Allen Senior Track Award was presented by Coaches John LaPointe and Diane Stimac to Videtich and Beth Beaudin.

Videtich and co-winners, Beaudin and Krusic, were presented with the Arthur Hall Sports-Academic Award by Brandstrom. The Art Hall award is given to those students who excel both physically and academically.

Principal Marvin Frederickson presented pins of achievement to Valedictorian Krista Olson and Salutatorian Cynthia Hamiell.

Receiving a $300 scholarship from the Women's Club of Manistique was Mrs. Handrich. Mrs. William Sheahan, representing the women's club, presented the scholarship.

Elton Sample, president of the Manistique Booster Club presented the first scholarship from that club to Richard Berger. The scholarship is presented to athletes who will be attending either Bay de Noc Community College or Lake Superior State College.

The William Corson Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Colleen Cooper and Steven LaBar by Frederickson. They represented the Corson family.

Betty LaPointe presented the Patti Scholarship to Patti Hawn. The LaBar Memorial Scholarship presented to students entering college in either nursing, cosmetology or electronics, was presented to Kristen Johnson. Johnson is pursuing a career in nursing.

A $300 Rotary Club Scholarship was also presented for the first time. Receiving the scholarship is Donna Krusic.

Nine students received the 1977 Joseph Herbert Scholarships. The $200 scholarships go to Richard Burkmar, Hamiell, Robert Hedglen, Sharon Leno, William Olesak, John Pierce, Rhonda Rodgers, Barbara Varnum and Olson.

Michigan Competitive certificates were also awarded to Beaudin, Berger, Burkman, Eva Burns, Richard Cook, Steve Fanning, Scott Frye, Eric Grimmes, Hamiell, Handrich, Hawn, Hedglen, Karen Hendricks, Paul Hinkson, Johnson, Krusic, Julie Lambert, Leno, Ray MacGregor, Olson, Judith Osterhaut, Pierce, Rodgers, Kathy Turan, Varnum, Bruce Wallace and Richard Johnson.

The competitive scholarships are based on a national test taken by the seniors earlier in the year and represent high scores among all students in the nation who took part in the test.

Honey bee fascinating creature of Michigan

by Carl Olson
Michigan Department of Agriculture

To me, one of the most fascinating little creatures on earth is the honey bee. It's not just the fact they make honey, which I enjoy immensely, or that, without them, pollination of many of our Michigan crops would not take place.

I don't like a great deal of regimentation in my own life. However, I admire it in the life cycle of the honey bee. Some bees have the job of air conditioner, fanning fresh air into the hive to keep temperatures down. Other workers, the "busy as a bee" bees, fly out from the hive to search for the necessary pollen to make the honey. After they find nectar, these bees, remarkably, return to the hive and are able to communicate the location of the find to other pollen gatherers through a primitive dance.

Last year Michigan had 110,000 bee colonies which produced 5 1/2 million pounds of honey. Most of these colonies are owned by apiarists (they are beekeepers, not monkey house attendants) who rent the colonies out to farmers for pollination purposes. They then collect the honey the bees make the sale to the commercial market.

Honey can be used in all forms of cooking. In fact, it can replace sugar in most recipes by using 3/4 cup honey in place of one cup sugar. Just cut down slightly on the amount of the liquids in the recipe.

We make Honey Cookies which we think are delicious and you might enjoy the recipe.

Soak three cups of oatmeal in one cup Michigan Grade A buttermilk. Add one cup honey, one cup sugar, 3/4 cup melted shortening and two eggs. Mix well, then add one teaspoon baking soda, one teaspoon salt, one cup each of nuts, raisins or dates, and three cups flour. Mix thoroughly and drop the batter from a spoon onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a 350 degree oven, until lightly browned.

If you have children, they'll be swarming like bees around these cookies.

Bake sale set

In mid-September, Junior Women's Club has offered to sponsor a bake sale for the benefit of cystic fibrosis. A Christmas Arts & Crafts Fair is in the planning for sometime in November. It will be held at the Michigan National Guard Armory Building on Elm Street. Table space will be available for rent at two tables for $5 for any interested individuals or groups.

Handicrafts, flea market items (no clothing), baked goods, etc. are examples of some of the things planned. Any interested persons or groups should contact Mrs. Dan (Donna) Barber at 546 Park Avenue, Manistique, or phone 341-5082.

The Junior Women's Club beach party will be July 30 around the Marblehead beach area at 6 p.m. The club will furnish most of the food, and club members and their husbands are requested to bring their own refreshments. August 6, is the designated "rain date."

The next meeting of the Manistique Junior Women's Club will be in September. Members will be notified as to the date and time of that meeting.

Fishery examined

There have been so many changes in commercial fishing regulations in recent years that the current status of the industry is in need of clarification, according to Bernard Morgan, DNR regional law supervisor.

Some of the facts which Morgan feels merit publicity are:

Except for certain waters in Saginaw Bay in Lake Huron, there is no legal commercial fishery for yellow perch in the Great Lakes. Nor is there any commercial fishery for walleyes and northern pike.

The only legal commercial lake trout fishery in the Great Lakes is confined to Lake Superior, where a total of eight assessment fisherman are permitted limited quotas of trout in carefully designated waters. The objective of this assessment fishery is to collect technical data for evaluating the lake trout rehabilitation and lamprey control programs.

Even though outlying waters may support a legal fishery, many adjacent bays and harbors are off limits to commercial fishing...Marquette Harbor and Big and Little Bays de Noc, for example.

The Indian fishery still continues in waters included in the terms of early treaties, pending court decision.

Days when fishing families hauled in herring

Anyone who has logged a few decades along Lake Superior in Houghton County can remember when, for just a few bucks, anyone could buy a license to pull seines...and for ten bucks, a gambling bystander could purchase a predetermined share of the undetermined catch.

This annual fishery, carried on before warming waters sent herring to the depths, was a spring concession to local Scandinavians. Fishing families often spent the entire weekend on the sandy beach, combing frolic and fish in a tradition that began centuries before...

...It was also a real fun spectator activity, luring dozens of townsfolk on a warm evening. Beginning from shore, the old wooden rowboat would dispense as much as a hundred yards of fine mesh seine in a big arc, to impatient kids, it seemed forever before the circuit back to shore was completed. And it took twice that long for the coordinated grunts of six or eight husky men to muscle the seine shoreward in an ever-diminishing circle. Bless those weather-beaten Finns for letting town kids lend their muscles to the cause!

There was always great excitement toward the end, for the turmoil, just inside of the last floats promised great things. And there were great catches, a half ton on the average and more than muscle could handle on some hauls, on such occasions, town kids were awarded with a double handful of silvery wriggle for their supporting effort.

There were other times when the haul yielded mostly suckers, with just a smattering of herring, but I don't recall that the jovial atmosphere of the occasion ever changed. In fact, total skunks often broadened grins and produced an entirely new crop of Finnish expressions, none of which we understood.

And inevitably, there was one grizzled old timer who awed us kids by devouring a still-wriggling junior herring raw. Mothers were awed, too...differently, though.

Boosters sponsor women's tourney beginning June 25

The Manistique High School Boosters Club will be sponsoring a women's slowpitch softball tournament June 25-26. Both slowpitch and fastpitch teams are invited to play.

The tournament will be set up as a single elimination affair. On Saturday, June 25, all teams will play one game. Winners will return on Sunday for one to four games.

The runner-up team will receive a trophy and the winners will receive a large trophy and individual trophies for each player.

Several special rules have been inserted to give all players a chance to play and speed up the game.

Included in those rules will be, three balls and a maximum of two swinging and/or called strikes, unlimited substitution on defense while every member of team is on the batting order on offense. A team must have nine players to start the game but any ten girls can play in the field at any time. No high school girls will be allowed to play.

An entry fee of $30 will be charged and can be mailed to Seb Rubick, Glenwood Drive, Manistique, 49954.

For additional information contact Rubick at 341-2400 or by writing him at his address.

It was a beautiful day for golf and we had a league turnout of 83 of the 84 team members. There were no eagles but a total of eleven birdies were scored by ten men. (IE) Tom Thompson, Del O'Brien, Archie Carpenter, Russ Paquette, Roy Archie, Chopper Chartier, Suds Southard (2), Doug Kraatz, El Hepker and Charlie Atwater. The low medalists, tied with 39 were Malcolm Nelson and Marv Frederickson.

Veterans, citizens remember sacrifices

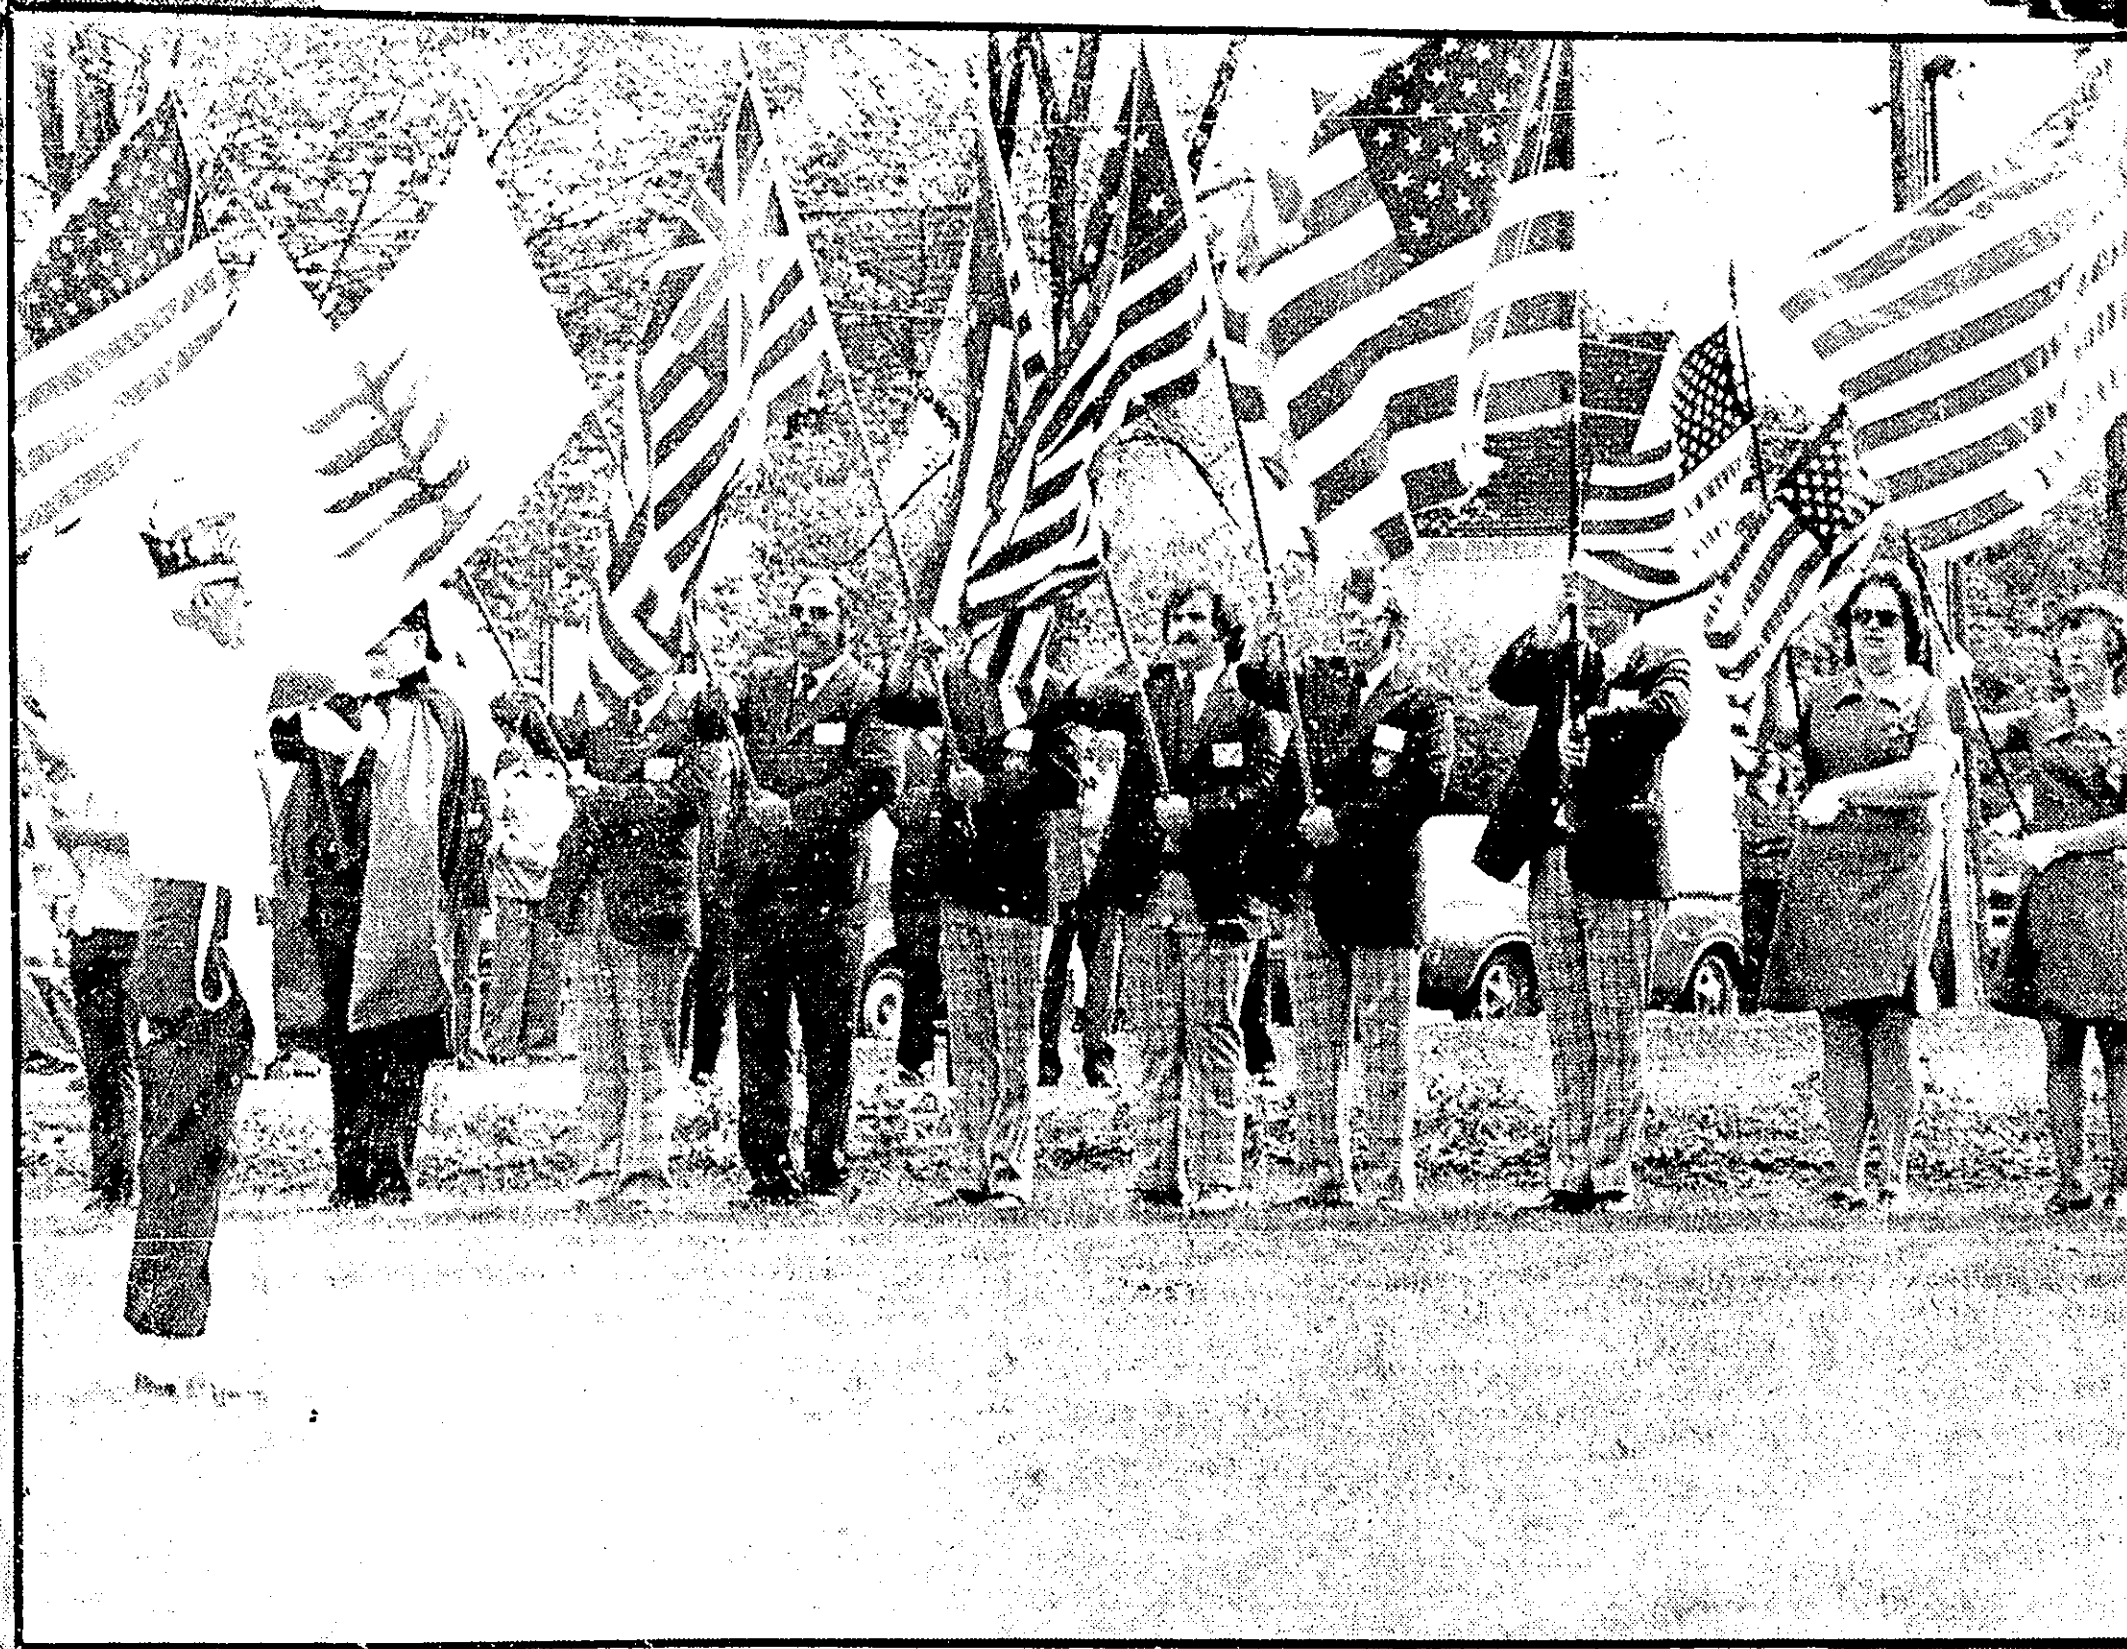

MEMBERS OF the Veterans of Foreign Wars placed American flags on the graves of the war dead Friday morning in both Lakeview and Fairview Cemeteries. Members placing flags on the markers include left to right, Ed Jorgensen, Gene Kee, A. Carpenter, World War I; William Caron, Vietnam; and Bill Cowman, World War I.

IN HIS address, Rev. Ingmar Levin, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church, recalled the sacrifices of Americans in 20th Century wars and recounted the freedoms that Americans enjoy.

Cards of Thanks

Three years ago I was in the hospital and received excellent care from the doctors, nurses and staff. Last week I was in the hospital, and again I would like to thank the nurses, staff and doctors for the wonderful care given me during my stay. Both times the care was very good. Thanks to all concerned.

City Police

David B. Moffat, 20, of 600 Cherry was treated and released from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital May 26, after the 1974 Kawasaki he was riding struck a pothole in the road, throwing him off the bike. No tickets were issued.

Donald G. Lenzi, 15, of 265 Maple St. was admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital following a car-bicycle accident on May 28.

Public safety officers report that Lenzi was riding his bicycle on State Road near the M-94 intersection when he crossed in front of a vehicle driven by Robert L. Blodgett of Crown Point, Ind.

Lenzi was released from the hospital on May 30. No tickets were issued in that mishap.

Manistique Public Safety firemen were called to a fire May 31 at 9:30 p.m. when a pile of driftwood was reportedly set ablaze.

Firemen say that a pile of driftwood, pulled out of the flume by employees of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Mill was piled on the south side of the Chamber of Commerce building on Deer Street.

Firemen say that the fire is believed to have been started by children seen in the area at the time. It remains under investigation.

According to reports, flames from the burning wood reached 40 feet, lighting up the area and the north side of the water tower.

The fire was contained within an hour after the firemen arrived.

Western Auto Store opens in Manistique

Milt Herro bought his first shotgun at the age of 14 from a Western Auto Store in Fremont. Now, 26 years later, he is owner and manager of his own Western Auto Store in Manistique.

Herro has bought the former Ollie's Red Owl building at 303 Deer Street, on the west side of Manistique and opened the store Monday, May 16.

There are currently 4700 Western Auto stores throughout the country, 4500 of those are independently owned by people such as Herro. 200 are listed as company stores.

The 40-year-old native of Thompson says he chose Western Auto after failing to find a food business.

"I had originally wanted to find something in the food line because most of my background is along those lines," said Herro. Herro spent 11 years with IGA as a sales supervisor.

"Western Auto stands behind everything they sell and will accept Western Auto merchandise bought anywhere in the United States," Herro cited as a reason for choosing Western Auto.

The store is planning a big grand opening sale, scheduled for June 16, after the store becomes organized and all merchandise is put on display.

In order to open a Western Auto dealership, Herro had to complete a Western Auto Dealer Training Program, which he successfully completed April 8.

A unique feature of the Western Auto stores, says Herro, is the direct inventory availability line.

"On Thursday I can call into an IBM computer and let you know if we have the merchandise, and have it here the following Tuesday," the new owner said.

In addition, Herro said he can order any item from a 1400-page catalog that will be available at the store.

"There is no service or freight charge on over 90 percent of the items in the catalog," Herro added.

The store's Sunday hours, also are unusual, Herro said.

"I like to put around in my own car and when I needed something on Sunday I'd have to wait," says Herro. "People should have the convenience of shopping and getting what they need when they need it."

Herro also indicated that during the few days his store has been open, Sunday has become his third largest day for business.

The interior of the store has been remodeled and more work is being planned to accommodate the handicapped. Additional work on the exterior is also on the boards.

Helping Herro manage the store will be his wife, Diane and assistant manager Walter Rich.

Prior to starting the Western Auto store in Manistique, Herro worked for eight years in construction out of Detroit, in addition to the 11 years as sales supervisor for the IGA stores in that area.

The Herros have eight children ranging in age from four to 17.

The store will be open seven days a week. During the weekdays they will open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sundays, from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Insects do most damage at this time of year

That beautiful Mountain Ash, Spruce or Maple tree you have nurtured along for years could be the victim of an attack.

Yes, this is the time of year with tender young shoots and leaves, when insects do their damage. There are many, many insects that could cause problems in your landscape, from June Beetle Grubs that attract skunks to the tent caterpillar that defoliates many trees.

In particular you need to closely watch your spruce and pine mountain ash, maple and birch trees for insect damage. The blue spruce budworm feeds the new shoots as they appear in the spring. The Mountain Ash worm can defoliate a tree in a few days if not controlled. The tent caterpillar also arrives like army worms and can defoliate different trees in days, also. In particular, they like the maple and apple tree.

The Birch Leaf Minor is the least noticeable until it has done most of its damage. The very tiny larvae burrow between the layers of cells on the birch leaf and secrete a toxic substance that turns the leaf brown. Normally this does not kill the tree, however, it does reduce the trees vigor and is very unsightly.

All of these insects can easily be controlled with timely applications of Malathion or Sevin. Prevention is much better than control with timely application of Malathion or Sevin. Prevention much better than control, however, you need to start a weekly spraying schedule for the first few weeks of summer to prevent these insects. At least you need periodic checkup and then spray with insecticide when you discover the infestation. Don't wait to see if the infestation is going to be bad. Assume it will be bad and spray to control the insects.

Yogurt gains popularity

As frozen yogurt has gained popularity in Michigan, we have received more and more inquiries concerning this product. Frozen yogurt is available in both soft-serve and hardened forms.

Dannon Milk Products gives the following nutrition information for a 3 1/2 oz. serving of their soft-serve frozen yogurt: 115 calories, 4 grams of protein, 21 grams of carbohydrate, and 1 gram of fat. A one cup serving of their hardened fruit flavored frozen yogurt provides 210 calories, 7 grams of protein, 42 grams of carbohydrate, and 2 grams of fat. Lemon and vanilla varieties contain about 180 calories per cup.

For sake of comparison, one cup of hardened regular ice cream (10 percent butterfat) supplies 257 calories, 6.0 grams of protein, 27.7 grams of carbohydrate, and 14.1 grams of fat. Thus, ice cream is lower in carbohydrate and higher in calories and fat than frozen yogurt.

According to Dannon, soft-serve frozen yogurt cannot be made at home since it must go through a freezer machine. However, they say that a reasonably good hardened frozen yogurt can be made at home. If using fruit-flavored yogurt, stir up the fruit, if necessary, and then freeze overnight. Remove from the freezer in the morning, and by lunchtime it should taste somewhat like a sherbert. Another alternative is to stir up the fruit, and then pour the yogurt into an ice-cream maker.

Strawberry Rhubarb Kuchen

- 1 1/2 cup flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 cup butter mix like pie crust
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Add 2 eggs beaten and 3 T. milk. Put in 9x13 baking pan. Pat up sides. Put in 4 cups rhubarb on dough. Sprinkle with 1 package strawberry jello (small or regular package.)

Topping:

- 1 1/2 cup flour
 - 1 1/2 cup sugar
- One-third cup plus 3 T melted butter. Bake 40 to 50 minutes in 350 oven. (Pat the crust that forms from the sugar mixture with a fork, otherwise the sugar doesn't get down to the rhubarb.)

Memoirs

Will brings thought, laughter for many

Occasionally when doing research for this column, I run across a person of national prominence who sticks out in my mind.

Such people bear little relevance to the small town of Manistique in its history, but are significant for the simple fact that they were part of the people themselves who made the times what they were.

Such was Will Rogers.

This gentleman had been philosophizing in his Oklahoma drawl for many years. He had played vaudeville stages around the world. He had been a Broadway performer, a lecturer, a radio commentator, a newspaper columnist and a movie star.

By that fateful day in August, 1935 when his plane crashed as he flew to Alaska, he was the best known entertainer in America.

Through the prosperous years of the roaring Twenties he had led the laughter and fun. But he also warned that it was a false prosperity which was bound to collapse in time.

When the collapse came Americans turned to Will Rogers for some homespun philosophy that could penetrate the darkness and bring them a laugh or two.

"Prosperity this winter is going to be enjoyed by everyone that is fortunate enough to get into the poor house," he quipped.

He also took a poke at the ridiculous sense of values some people had. "We are the only country in the world, he would say, that was "going to the poor house in an automobile."

Will spoke for the Big Honest Majority, as he called the general public, when he said, "There has been more optimism talked and less practiced than any time during our history. Every millionaire we have was offered a speer instead of keeping still and offering a job. Our optimism is all at the banquet table, where everybody there has more than they can eat."

Soon after President Roosevelt took office, he took many bold new steps to start the country on the road to recovery.

Each of his programs had initials. There was the NRA (National Recovery Administration), the WPA (Works Progress Administration) and the CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) along with a host of others.

Will drew a chuckle out of the President when he said, "Never was a country in the throes of more capital letters than the old U.S.A. but we still haven't sent out the S.O.S."

Will was probably the master comedian of his time, perhaps any time. Playing with his larriat on the stage he was able to see humor in any event.

When the Armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, Will commented, "One thing we got to be thankful for, our soldiers can win wars faster than our diplomats can talk us into them."

Politicians were Will's favorite target. He seldom gave a speech without needling some politician that had done a "stilly thing."

Occasionally he went after the whole bunch of them.

"The way to judge a good comedy is by how long it will last and have people talk about it. Now Congress has turned some that have lived for years and people are still laughing about them."

Will would also include some homespun philosophy on the state of affairs in his talks. Most of them bear some truth today.

"Every invention during our lifetime has been just to save time, and time is the only commodity that every American both rich and poor, has plenty of.

"Half our life is spent trying to find something to do with the time we have rushed through life trying to save. Two hundred years from now history will record: America, a nation that flourished from 1900 to 1942, conceived many odd inventions for getting somewhere, but could think of nothing to do when they got there."

In 1935, Will Rogers left for Alaska with his old time friend, Wiley Post. They were never to return. A phrase Will had coined and lived by, became his epitath.

"I never met a man I didn't like."

Will was buried in Claremore, the town he grew up in as the nation mourned his loss.

What Will stood for was probably best said outside a Memorial, amidst the redud and dogwood, where an old man and a boy stood talking before his tomb.

"But Grandpa," the boy said, "why did they bury him in Claremore, they're a lot fancier places than Claremore, ain't they?"

The old man looked down at the town below, doing in the fading sun. "Claremore and Will Rogers," the old man said, "they belong together, part of the prairie; and no matter how far a man goes, at the end he likes to come back to his root."

Thompson

By Sharlene Turek 341-6188

Harry Hastings had surgery recently in Marquette for a pinched nerve. Following that operation, he had surgery in Manistique for a ruptured appendix. Get well soon, Harry!

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Turek, Tina, Paul and Amy spent the Memorial Day weekend in Saginaw. They visited her mother, Mrs. James Coffey (a patient at St. Mary's Hospital) and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Simmons and family. The Tureks were joined by their daughter Louise, her friend Jerry Long and their niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Malcolm and son Mathew of Utica. Mr. and Mrs. James Hayman of Berkley also were guests.

The Thompson Women's Club will meet on June 8 at 9 a.m. at the town hall. Those who wish to make dip-it dolls are asked to call 611-8188.

Former trapper honored on birthday in Garden

Mrs. Myra Thill, a former trapper, was honored on her 83rd birthday recently with a party at her home in Fayette.

She is very proud of being remembered by family and friends through the celebration and 31 greeting cards.

Mrs. Thill is still active, living alone on her 160-acre farm and taking care of more than 30 chickens and 13 head of cattle with calves.

Garden

by Mrs. Eleanor LaButte 644-2522

"Some people ask why I don't sell this place and go live in town," she said. "Not by darn sight. I like my freedom. I eat whenever I'm hungry and I have lots to keep me busy."

Mrs. Thill was quite a trapper when she was young and showed some pictures of some of her catches.

"I figure I got a couple hundred foxes and 140 coyotes, some wolves and five bears," she said. "See this picture?" That's my husband. He was over six feet and he looked small by the bear hanging from a tree. That was a big one. I had set my trap on a wagon wheel. He tore that all up and broke a fence, but finally got hung up in the woods on the wheel.

"He was too big for my gun there," she pointed to a large stick she carried in the picture. "So I had to run back and get my husband Frank, and he brought his gun. It took four shots to bring him down."

Her daughters from out of town who attended the May 15 birthday party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thibert of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Caswell of Rapid River, and other relatives and friends from the Fayette area.

"I have 15 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren," Mrs. Thill said. "Some-day I'd like to have them all here and get a picture of that."

Mrs. Myra Thill

On Sunday, July 3, the Garden Fire Department will sponsor a celebration in honor of our country's Independence Day holiday.

A parade will start at 10:30 a.m. with judging at 10 a.m.

The all-day affair will include games and skill, bingo, refreshments, lunch stands, water fight, and a band performance by the Big Bay de Noc High School Band.

There will also be a ball game, smoked fish, races, a bake sale and handicrafts.

A street dance will be held from 8 p.m. until --? Music will be by the North Stars (formerly All in the Family). Fireworks will begin at 10 p.m.

Any donations of handicraft or help of any kind will be appreciated. Call 644-2842 or 644-2443. Articles can be dropped off at the First National Bank Branch in Garden.

Hentschell receives award during Hiawathaland meeting

Ted Hentschell of Manistique recently received the St. George Emblem at the annual Hiawathaland Council meeting in Marquette.

The award given for outstanding service to the spiritual development of Catholic youth in the program of the Boy Scouts of America was presented by Fr. David Jenner, Scout Chaplain.

Hentschell is assistant scoutmaster of Troop 400 and has been active in scouting for 40 years. His many scouting awards include the Silver Beaver, Woodbadge beads, Scouters Awards, Order of the axe, Vigil Honor of the Order of the Arrow.

Welcome Wagon Club holds last meeting

The latest in summer hair styling was demonstrated by Diane Hentschell, proprietor of Town and Country Beauty Salon, with Pat Yirsa as her model during the season's last meeting of Welcome Wagon Club held at the home of Amber Thompson on May 23.

Regular monthly meetings will resume in September with an auction of home-made and homebaked articles for members and guests. However, coffee hours will be scheduled during the summer months for new arrivals to the community.

Welcome Wagon Club is designed to welcome all newcomers to the area and make them feel more comfortable in their new surroundings.

Welcome Wagon community events include Santa's Visit to Manistique and the Annual Candy Goodie Matinee with proceeds going to the needy and the CBC Telethon.

The club has been in existence for three years.

Graduating seniors to be honored

On Sunday, June 5, the Church of Redeemer Presbyterian of Manistique will hold a coffee hour following the service to honor the graduating seniors.

Also following the morning service, there will be a congregational meeting to act on the report of the Pastor Nominating Committee.

Vacation church school will start Monday, June 13 through Friday, June 17. Class will be from 9:00-12:00 each morning for preschool through sixth grade. Registration fee is $1.00 per student. Friends are welcome to attend.

Milestone for St. Francis

St. Francis de Sales School will mark a milestone Saturday, the 75th anniversary of its first graduating class in 1902. For the Catholic eight-grade school, the event signifies a remarkable achievement in a day when many parochial and private schools are closing their doors because of financial problems.

Despite changing demands over the past three-quarters of a century, St. Francis has managed to adapt and grow to meet new challenges.

The present parish center that serves its eight grades is the third school building in the history of the institution. The first building on Oak Street served from 1901 to 1916. That was replaced with a two-story brick structure that was used until 1966, when the present parish center on Lake Street was opened for classes.

Over the years, the school graduated many prominent people to work in the community and other areas in the state and nation. It is estimated that more than 30,000 students have attended the school during its 75-year span.

The anniversary is a tribute to more than the school, its supporters and the St. Francis parish, however. It is also a positive comment on the whole community. Support and participation from many segments of the community has helped keep doors open to an alternative to education in the public schools.

The parochial school has also helped ease the tax burden on the general public by educating youngsters who otherwise would attend public schools at the public's expense. A spirit of cooperation by the Manistique Area Schools, which has provided bus transportation for many of St. Francis' 233 students, has aided the operation of the Catholic school.

So there's no shortage of persons and organizations who should share in the congratulations for the St. Francis milestone. We hope that the event will signify the value of community cooperation as well as the tireless work of the parish.

As my wife would surely tell you, I am usually a sweet, even-tempered fellow. But there are a couple of things that really bug me...

If It Fits
by Jim Fitzgerald

...Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin wants to sell me a magazine subscription so I will know the best places to hunt and fish. I want Austin to stuff his stuffers...

Stuffers are the advertising messages regularly stuffed inside the envelopes with bills from the gasoline companies. All I want to know is how much I owe for gas. But Standard Oil wants me to know I can use their credit card to buy a microwave oven for only $20 a month for the rest of my life.

It isn't only the gasoline companies who surround their monthly bills with brochures full of sales pitches. All types of merchants use the gimmick to sneak their advertising into your view. Finding your bill in all that clutter is similar to looking for the ace of spades in a deck of cards. You just keep dealing until you come to it.

The crafty advertisers know you can't simply dump their fat envelopes into the trash unopened, along with the regular junk mail. There is a bill in there somewhere and it must be found and paid, lest your life-style be repossessed. While looking for the bill, you might fall victim to a four-color picture of a 52-piece leisure suit.

That's the American way. Salesmanship made this nation great. You might find it irritating, but you don't have to be. That envelope full of huckstering doesn't have to cost you a cent more than if your bill had arrived nude. Stand firm, and quit your bellyaching.

But wait. Here comes a notice from the secretary of state. He says my driver's license will soon expire. Fair enough. That's what we taxpayers are paying him to do. However, there is something else in the envelope.

It's a sales pitch. "Have We Got a Colorful Magazine for You," it says in five colors. "Michigan's Best Outdoor Magazine," published by the Department of Natural Resources. I can get six issues for $5.12 for $9, or 18 for $13. Money back guarantee.

This is no irritation from a gasoline company. This is self-flagellation. I am irritating myself. As a taxpayer, I am paying state employees to stuff subscription advertising into envelopes with license-renewal notices.

The outdoor magazine performs a worthwhile function for people who like to kill deer and sleep on the ground. I hope the DNR gets rich selling subscriptions. But when the secretary of state sends me an important notice, I don't want it to be printed on the back of an illustrated guide to trout heaven.

Some days I am extra cranky. On such a day I will send a letter to the secretary of state, asking him to renew my subscription to Look Magazine. And I will go into the woods and demand that a game warden renew my driver's license.

According to my TV, the beauty-contest season is upon us. Miss USA and Junior Miss have already been crowned this month. And the nation has saluted its prettiest mother. Next month, Lord knows. Someday I expect the anti-abortionists to stage a beauty pageant for women who are eight months pregnant. The winner's talent will be tap dancing.

So anyway, this is the proper time for me to reaffirm my distaste for beauty contests of all types. And I am not impressed by the promoter who claims HIS show is different because the contestants are required to exhibit a talent and answer meaningful questions.

When an infant girl's first words are "Mommy, what I want most out of life is world peace," Mommy immediately buys her baby a baton and begins entering her in contests. I am frightened by flaming batons, and I know Anita Bryant can't achieve world peace by banning homosexuals from associating with Phyllis George.

Unfortunately, it is common for promoters to ask newspaper columnists to help judge their shows. Some columnists like this kind of stuff. Bless them. Both my daughters have competed in such contests, so you know I'm all for letting the other guy do his thing. To each his own.

But I won't lie when I decline to judge. I must tell some well-meaning promoter that I think he's in the meat business. This is an embarrassment I'd rather avoid.

So when Bert Parks' teeth come in season, I always write something like this. Please don't ask. And, while you're at it, don't ask me to judge any gong shows, either.

Geeze, what a grouch!

Cosmetic counter becoming masculine

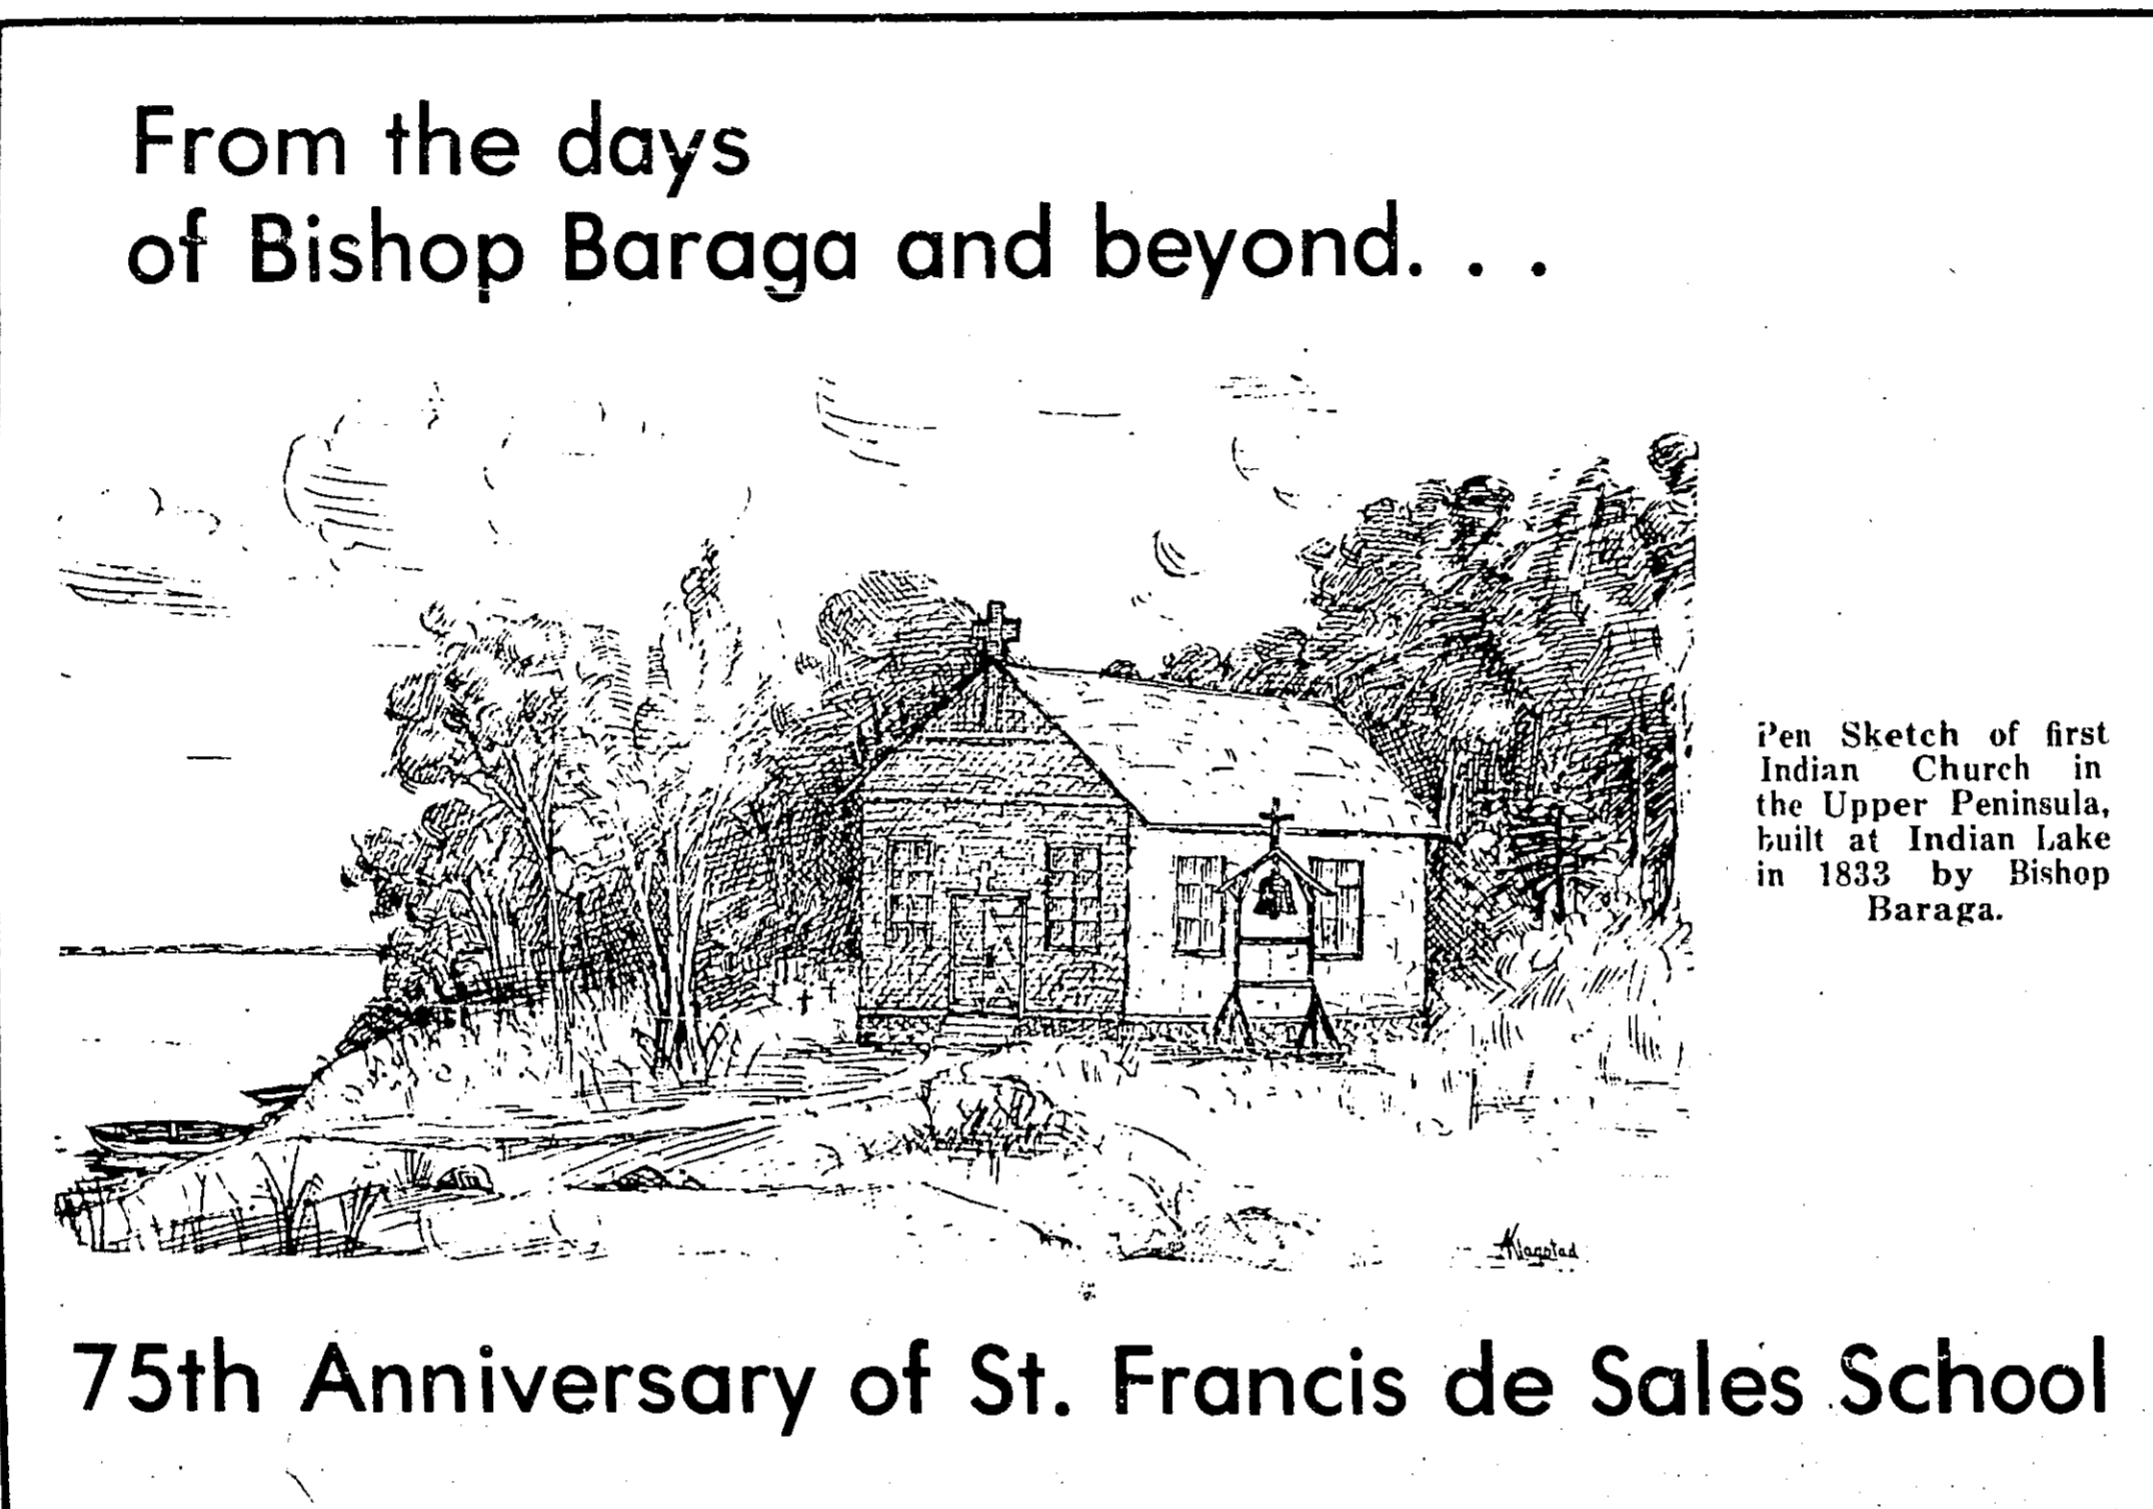

The cosmetic counter, once the preserve of beauty conscious women, is being invaded by men. This is the startling news that appeared in Moneysworth, the consumer newsletter.

Revlon and Estee Lauder, top names in the high-fashion skin games, are fighting capped-tooth and lacquered nails for the millions of dollars their research people tell them are available from men who are ready for cosmetics and skin care. Bronzers, wrinkle creams and moisturizers are all being peddled in terms so masculine to make you feel as if you wouldn't leave the house without your makeup kit. Supercharged claims are epidemic in the cosmetic industry, and most men's cosmetics and skin care products are money wasters, over-priced exotica that maintain healthy skin no better than some inexpensive products that surely reside, at this very moment, in your own pantry.

Cosmetics for men are not a new idea. George Washington camouflaged a pockmarked and fever-yellowed skin with liberal dustings of powder. (There was little, however, he could do to disguise his enormous rear end.) Gentlemen of the royal courts rouged and painted as a matter of course and fashion. In his memoirs of life at Versailles under Louis XIV, the Duc de St. Simon catalogs the enormous artillery of paint that enabled the enormous artillery of paint that enabled the successful seducer he was. Even in the rugged west, grizzled old cools colored their graying mustaches and sideburns with applications of bootblack.

The difference between these antique grooming aids and today's tools is that now, through careful choice and purchase you actually can preserve the health and youth of your skin far beyond the age when your father's and grandfather's skins draped like wrinkled, tie-dyed swags across their aging bones. Dr. Bedford Sheldine, Jr., a Dallas dermatologist says, "A person can easily look 10-20 years younger than his or her actual age, and this can be achieved with a minimum of effort." Vanity isn't the only reason to care for your skin. The skin is a functioning organ—the largest in your body—and it functions best when it functions as it did when it and you were both young. While you cannot stop time, you can resist the damage that the clock and the environment inflict on your skin.

Era underfoot appeared ended

They're safe now. After 13 years of service, they've certainly earned retirement. Maybe even a place on the mantel. They are a pair of socks I received as a high school graduation gift in 1964. Needless to say, they've gone through a lot.

But their significance did not sink in until one Thursday night last spring while sorting laundry.

One mate was gone. Taken for granted for all these years, an era underfoot appeared to be ending, a small but significant era in America history.

As the reality of it all closed in, a feeling of desperation and loss spread through the consciousness.

It was only reasonable to feel that way.

Side Tracks

by Arnold Mackowick

After all, didn't this era span from the early days of the Johnson Administration and through, Nixon, Ford and on to Carter? These Socks have served under four Presidents.

And hadn't they seen the Vietnam

War—longest in U.S. history—come and go for American ground troops?

These dear possessions had endured campus disturbances, the sweat and dirt of steel mill drudgery in the great national labor machine, the thunderous excitement of college football games, not to mention thousands of miles of trekking across the North American continent.

So you can imagine the joy upon finding the precious mate under the bed—a threadbare sock with a window for the big toe.

As a graduation gift from the Beatle-backed days of 1964, the knit black socks unearth decaying words from a commencement speaker's vision of the future.

These socks really tried to do what that speaker—whoever he was—suggested. They followed footsteps, accelerated, climbed, strolled, ran, and when necessary—punted their master's way through life.

Was that guy telling us graduating seniors something enduring about putting our best foot forward, even when the hoisey has clapped upon the shoe laces? Whatever he had to say, the socks got the message better than I did.

What does it matter anyway? Well, still a measure of relief to find them and keep the continuity intact.

Maybe these socks should be worn annually at commencement exercises, to be touched by the inspiring spray of verbage from an out-of-town speaker. Regardless of whether the platitudes are beneficial or not, the socks will send their master out of the door once more.

And the assurance of that prospect is worth its weight in foot pads.

More samplings, more accuracy

DNR explains wildlife count techniques

by David Frimodig
DNR Information Office

When DNR biologists release fish and wildlife population figures, people frequently question how they could possibly get such an exact count. The obvious truth is, they do not. The total figures are derived from representative samplings conducted, using survey techniques employed throughout the country.

Fish and wildlife are not dependable creatures, which leads to considerable variation in survey findings between two seemingly identical areas. Thus, one or two samplings reveal little. The more samplings taken over the greatest period of time, the more accurate the figures. In most instances, a survey is used merely as an index of game populations and must be compared with surveys from previous years to determine population growth or declines.

The spring woodcock survey, a cooperative federal program, involves 12 trials along selected forest roads and a count of male woodcock heard at predetermined regulated stops. The male's unique sound during the breeding season is a dead giveaway. Comparing total figures with those recorded in the same area during previous years indicates relative population densities and trends.

The same principal is applied to spring waterfowl surveys which, if conducted at the same marches each year, will yield general information on migratory patterns and comparative concentrations of local ducks.

Traditionally, sharp-tails perform their courtship rituals on the same dancing grounds each year and because a limited number of such areas exist in the Upper Peninsula, a comparatively accurate population estimate can be obtained.

They are not as accurate, however, as the eagle nesting surveys which are flown each year to determine the total number of nests, nests which are occupied and at a birds which are produced. The last survey is conducted by Sergej Postupalski of the University of Wisconsin's Ecology Department and frequently involves banding of all eaglets.

The spring deer pellet survey is the most time-consuming survey undertaken, beginning as soon as possible after the snow melts and of necessity, ending before the forest begins to green up. In this survey, courses of five and 1-50th acre random plots are established throughout the Upper Peninsula winter range and the groups of pellets are counted on each plot.

Knowing the average daily number of groups of droppings attributed to each deer, it can then be determined how many deer-days are represented on each plot. From this information, the number of deer represented on several hundred sample plots can be calculated and these sample figures, when applied to winter deer range across the Upper Peninsula, are then used as the basis for total population estimates.

There is no practical way to conduct a physical count of deer over a large area, but the pellet survey is accepted by biologists throughout the country as the best system for making deer population estimates.

This sampling technique is also one of the two nationally accepted techniques for estimating fish populations. Initially, a number of fish are captured, marked and released in the same waters and subsequent capture of a quantity of marked and unmarked fish provide the ratio from which the total population estimate can be computed. Surveys which record the number of fish caught per hour of fishing effort will reveal population trends when compared to previous surveys, but is not as effective as the marked fish system for making population estimates.

The information obtained from controlled fish and wildlife surveys is of great help in preparing management programs and setting hunting and fishing regulations and is of far more value than that obtained through casual observations or hearsay.

Manistique Women's Club visits Manor residents

by Dorothy Hoholik

Pumpkin pie piled with whipping cream makes you think of Thanksgiving, but every day is special when the Manistique Women's Club meet at the Manistique Manor Home one day each month.

Four pies baked by Eileen Ren'on, Mary Jones and Mary Lou Archer were served along with coffee on May 11. Bingo highlighted the activities, prizes being candy bars and assorted chips. Adele Salo, one of the Manor residents, called the Bingo numbers. Participation on the part of the residents is encouraged whenever possible.

Assisting in the days activities were other faithful Women's Club members such as Hazel Hughson, Cindy Pawley, Helen Hase and Dorothy Hoholik.

A nice part of the day is the children who have become a part of the project. Helping with conservation were Casey and Robin Pawley and Amy Archer. The birthdays of Mary Dallas and Jennie Peteja received a rousing Happy Birthday song.

Other organizations who give of themselves at the Manor Home are the VFW Auxiliary No. 4420 with a Bingo party each month and birthday cakes each month by the Kiwanis Club.

New members

Eight new members were received into membership at Zion Lutheran Church by the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday, May 29. The communicants are: Thomas Brouillre, Cindy Knuth, Richard Lynts, Dale Norbotten, Jamie Peterson, John Reid, Abraham Richter, and Brian Smith.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10:30 on Sunday, June 5. This will be first communion for eight new communicants. Also being honored that day are the high school graduates of the parish. They are: Cindy Curran, Evelyn Flodin, Cindy Johnson, Sharlene Mathson, Linda Norbotten, Kirk Peterson, and Charles Pierce from Manistique High School; and Jon Rasmussen from Big Bay de Noc High School.

The June meeting of the Lutheran Church Women will be held on Tuesday, June 7 at 8 in Augustana Hall. The Priscilla group will present the program, featuring highlights of the recent District Assembly. Lois Nylander is chairman for the program. Hostesses for the evening are: Mrs. Jack Creighton, chairman; Mrs. Signe Strom; Mrs. Edgar Cox; Miss Linnea Carlson, and Mrs. Glen Pawley.

The June activity will be held on June 15 with a visit to a local drive-in. The Welcome Wagon Club will be buying lunch for the 14 residents. The take out lunches will be enjoyed at our beautiful Marina and watching the boats come and go.

Anyone wishing to join the volunteer projects held at the Manor sponsored by the Manistique Women's Club is welcome to come and see what a few of your hours can do for lonely people. Call 341-5720 if you have any time or talents to give.

Germfask

by Mrs. Walter Burns

Elder and Mrs. Walter Burns drove to Sault Ste. Marie, Sunday May 22 where Elder Burns was the guest speaker at the morning service. After the service they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill King where they had a good visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burns drove to Alpena to bring home their daughter Eva who had got a ride that far from Park College in Kansas City, Mo. where she has been visiting.

Miss Burns has returned home from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where he has been a medical patient for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Miami Beach, Florida Keys, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ling Burns. Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Smith are cousins. The Smiths were enroute to Alaska where they will visit a cousin at Anchorage. From there they will go to California where they will visit another cousin.

We will no longer see the "Old Blue" Senior Citizens bus around the area. They now have a different one. It is a bright red bus, so watch for it.

On May 21, the Fellowship Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herc Bowler in Lakefield. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Musselman, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tovey, Mrs. Kathleen England, Mrs. Berdella Decker, Mrs. Claudene Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns. After a short business meeting cards were played and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Karen Musselman has returned to her home from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where she was a medical patient for a few days.

A wedding shower was held at Onaway for April Burns. Attending from here were her mother Mrs. Nel Burns and her sister Miss Eva Burns. April will be married on June 18 to Jim Morgan of Onaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns of St. Ignace and Patrick and Michelle Burns of Manistique spent the Memorial Day weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamiel at Gulliver, and other relatives.

A one-day conference of the Michigan International District of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints was held at the Church at Gladstone Sunday, May 29. Attend'g from Germfask were Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns of St. Ignace.

Miss April Burns spent the Memorial Day weekend at Onaway.

Memorial Day weekend visitors at the Jim Burns' home were Mrs. Betty Belounge and children Cleat, Norval and Zona and Zona's girlfriend Robin, of Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns and three children of Two Rivers, Wis., Mrs. Elsie Burns of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sites of Beaverton, and Miss Nancy Burns of Madison Heights. Derek Belounge and three of his friends have a cabin at Curtis.

On Saturday, May 28, the Doran-Keating V.F.W. Post Auxiliary held a 30-year anniversary party. The 30-year members each were presented with a pin. Other members present were Maude Burns, Mary Rutherford, Vera Doran and Betty Belounge. At a 2 p.m. program, Mrs. Maude Burns and Vera Doran, George Orlich and Robert Jack had the privilege of burning the mortgage of the V.F.W. building.

On Sunday, May 29, a memorial service was held at the Germfask cemetery at 2 p.m. The service was well attended. The Boy Scouts attended the services.

Little Moo should grow up into a fine milk cow. She has good blood lines. Her future reasonable human attention can assure.

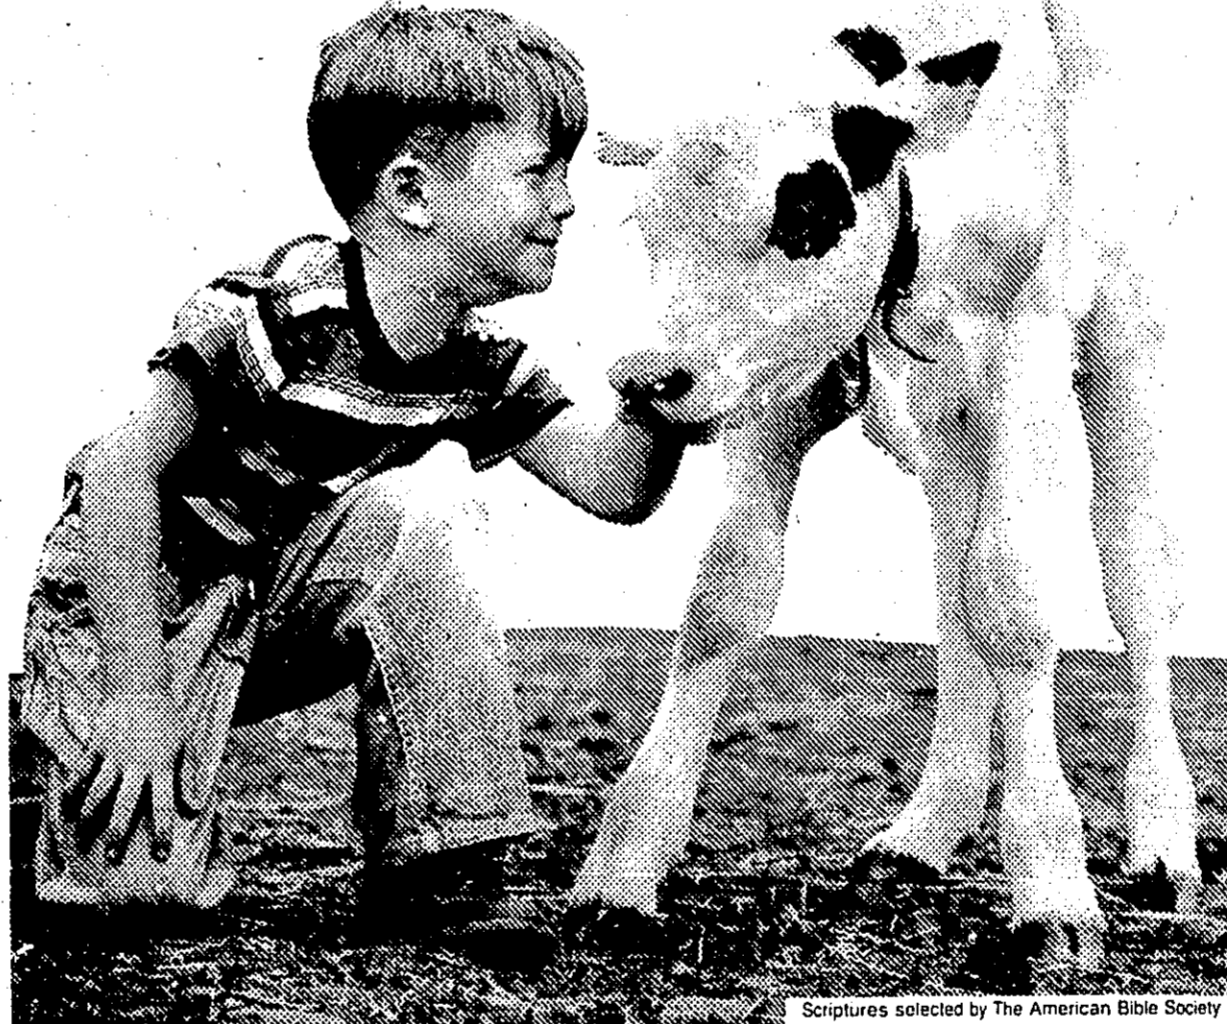

Bobby's tomorrow — that's another question. Excellent blood lines, of course. Attention will be more than reasonable. Bobby is loved!

But a kid's future isn't fashioned in the meadow or barn. Not even in the home and school.

Ideas and ideals will mold Bobby's tomorrow. Convictions and principles will shape his character. These can be exemplified at home and practiced at school. But they're taught best and developed most surely in the educational and youth programs of the Church.

Big Bay de Noc Libraries receive books

Big Bay de Noc School Libraries have received 11 books in memory of local residents during the past few weeks.

"Farm Journal Cookbook" is representative of the 19th century supper in winter by the light and smell of an oil lamp. It was presented in memory of Mrs. Cecil Gonder by the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Kitchen personnel.

"Men in Boats: the Fishermen of the Great Lakes," by Frank Prothero, is currently being used extensively in the Michigan History Class at Big Bay. It was presented in memory of Pat Casey by George Casey.

"The Wooden River," by Nancy Stone is a story for young people which takes place in the 1870's. This novel centers around a young girl who lives with her family in one of the areas many logging camps. It was presented in memory of Mrs. Cecil (Mae) Gonder by the Inwood Township Fire Departments.

"Michigan Since 1815," by Ferris E. Lewis, concerns the early cultural development and early beginnings of the Upper Peninsula lumber story. It was donated by Wesley Parrish and family in memory of their husband and father, Wesley Parrish.

"Christmas in the Country," published by Farm Wife News, Inc., portrays the old fashioned Christmas holidays with the customs of earlier days. Presented in memory of Mrs. Cecil (Mae) Gonder by Mr. and Mrs. Jon G. Haindl and family.

"Discovering Antiques: the Story of World Antiques," volume seven, explores the whole vast panorama of the fascinating world of antiques. It was given in memory of Wesley Parrish by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huston.

"Two Hundred Years of the Upper Peninsula and Its People," by Bill Finlan; "An Anthology of Verse About Michigan's Upper Peninsula," and "Understanding the Real Michigan Politics," by Bill Finlan were presented to the library in memory of Pat Casey by Wayne Seamon, Vernon Seamon, Pete Jensen and Freeman Herbert.

"A Field Guide to Geology of the Eastern Upper Peninsula of Michigan," by A. Lawrence Goldman, Jr., is a selected book featuring a spectrum of topics in earth sciences. Presented in memory of Joseph Haindl by the Inwood Township Fire Department.

"The Fate of the Lakes: a Portrait of the Great Lakes," by James P. Barry has been presented in memory of Pat Casey from the Richard Ranguetta family.

Giving "unselfishly"

Gerald Hardwick, auto-mechanics instructor at Big Bay De Noc High School, works with students enrolled in his class. Hardwick was cited by a parent recently for giving "unselfishly" of his time to work with students. "It is no uncommon to find him working through his lunch hour to give those students the extra attention they need," says Nila Kolinski of Cooks. Hardwick has been employed at Big Bay for five years.

LSC grads

Five students from the area recently graduated from Lake Superior College during commencement exercises held Saturday, May 21.

Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota delivered a Sen. Philip Hart Memorial Address during the first commencement exercises held in the College's new James Norris Physical Educational Center.

Area persons receiving their degrees were:

Anthony P. Hoholik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Hoholik of Manistique, B.S. in business administration. Hoholik is a 1973 graduate of Manistique High School.

Donald A. Lofquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carlson of Manistique, B.S. in chemistry. Lofquist is a 1975 graduate of Manistique. Following graduation, he plans to complete his Medical Technology internship at Blodgett Memorial Medical Center in Grand Rapids.

Patrick R. Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Clement of Manistique, B.S. in Electronic Engineering Technology. He is a 1973 graduate of MHS. Following graduation he will be employed with Ecorse Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a division of National Steel.

Marilyn E. Cockram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buckley of West Bloomfield, associate degree in nursing. Mrs. Cockram is married to Peter Cockram. She is a 1971 graduate of West Bloomfield High School.

Marsha L. Houghton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen T. Houghton of Manistique, associate in nursing. She is a 1975 graduate of Manistique. Following graduation, she plans to continue her education.

Commencement

Three area residents have received degrees from Michigan Technological University during spring commencement, May 21.

Local recipients are:

Glen C. Greiner, B.S. in electrical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Greiner, of Garden.

Robert A. Evans, B.S. in forestry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Evans of Manistique.

Allen R. Putvin, B.S. in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Putvin of Manistique.

With honors

Northern Michigan University officials recently released names of the spring graduating class, which includes four students from Manistique who have graduated with honors.

Among those receiving a degree summa cum laude (with highest honors) is Kevin T. Smith.

Graduating with high honor (magna cum laude) are Laurie L. Rubick and Gail A. Schwartz.

Graduating with-honor (cum laude) is Mary E. Weber.

The graduation exercises were held May 7 at Northern Michigan University.

Completes course

SAN ANTONIO--Airman David R. Buttermore, whose mother is Mrs. James B. Gardner of Route 1, Gulliver, has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for security police specialists.

Airman Buttermore, now trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to Goodfellow AFB, Tex., for duty with a unit of the U.S. Air Force Security Service. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Buttermore is a 1976 graduate of Manistique High School. His father, James R. Buttermore, resides at 1108 Shippan Ave., Stamford, Conn.

desired date. I know there are some who prefer to work on a regularly scheduled day.

We will not have our "Operation Sunshine" in June (that is, our Sunday rides) as the driver for this project will be in the hospital for quite some time.

Birthday greetings go out to: Richard Steffens, June 2; Ossie Smits and Josephine Schnurer, June 3; Emma Fragale and Cora Dehut, June 4; Charles Garvin, Zada Sheahan, Alphilid Ekblad and Helen Cox, June 5; Adaline Foye, Elizabeth Mikulich, Hazel Hughson, Anthony Popish, and Ruth Anderson, June 6; Margaret Stephens, June 7; Clarence Tanguay, Henning Mattson, Minnie Sikarski and Louis Souheil, June 8; and Nora Hansen, Frank Beckman and Frances Blanchard, June 9.

Building fund donations came from Inland Lime and Stone Co. and it was a very generous check of $3,000 and we had two anonymous donors.

Ethel Nelson and Viola Richmire brought baked goods. The Methodist Church brought items for the Thrift Store.

Billboard advertisers need state permits

Advertisers who have obtained State Highway Department permits for their billboards must remember to post the assigned number on the sign or they will be in violation, according to the Newberry office of the department.

"Most of the signs still standing along the highways have their permits," Fabian LaTocha of the Newberry office said. "But the advertisers are required to post the permit number in numbers at least 1/2 inches high within 120 days of the time the permit was issued. If they don't display the number, they are in violation of the Billboard Control Act and we will have to tag them for not posting their number," he warned.

Numbers for the permits may be purchased from several commercial establishments in the area, and need not be reflectorized. They could also be painted on, if the advertiser so desires, but numbers must be a minimum of four inches high.

Noble promoted

OSCODA—Robert L. Noble, son of Mrs. Barbara G. Noble of 10054 Hazelton, Redford, has received his first promotion in the U.S. Air Force.

Noble, promoted to airman, recently completed technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., and is now assigned at Wurtsmith AFB as an aircraft maintenance specialist with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The airman is a 1976 graduate of Thurston High School. His father, George L. Noble, resides at 31007 Brown, Garden.

75th Anniversary of St. Francis de Sales School

Special Section

Invitations-- old and new

Dear Rev. Mother,

January 1900

The Parish Family of St. Francis de Sales Church of Manistique, Michigan, is converting the Hall built by Father Sperlein in 1893 into a six room grade school. Could the Reverend Franciscan Sisters of Alverno, Wisconsin, staff and operate this school for us?

Signed: Father Kunes

Dear Rev. Father Kunes,

June 1901

We are happy to inform you that Sister Lucretia will arrive in Manistique on August 15, 1901 with the Sisters you have requested to take charge of your grade school.

Signed: Rev. Mother Alexia

Dear Friend of St. Francis de Sales School,

We will be observing the 75th Anniversary of the graduation of the first class from St. Francis School on Saturday, June 4, 1977.

Mass will be offered at 4:30 p.m. A Pot Luck Dinner will be at 6 p.m. followed by the Program. Visiting with former classmates, teachers, and priests will be the order of the day.

A general invitation is extended to all the teachers, both religious and lay, who have taught in the school during the past 75 years, to all the priests, pastors and assistants who have served the parish and school, and to all the students who have attended our school at any time.

A special invitation is extended to the graduates of 1902, 1927, 1952, and 1977. These represent our 75th, 50th, 25th and present graduating class.

We realize that the School would not be still in existence if not for the generous financial help of its many friends, plus the unselfish work of the teachers aids and assistants, the janitors and cooks, etc. We hope that they too will be able to be with us on this joyous occasion.

You are cordially invited to see what 75 years has done to us.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

The Parish Family of St. Francis de Sales

Memories for a Diamond Jubilee

by Msgr. F.M. Scheringer

It is the duty of a Bishop to provide pastoral direction for the parishes of his diocese. It is always exciting to read in the diocesan newspaper of the changes made in parishes with the appointment of new pastors and new assistants.

We must admit that, in this regard, Manistique has always been treated with a deep appreciation of its worth as an important entity and an integral part of the diocesan set-up. We have had a long line of devoted priests who have served here either as pastor or pastor's assistants. To this is due the success of the parish both spiritually and socially through all the years.

The success of an organization or an institution can be measured by the ability and leadership qualities of its personnel. It is important to consider the worth and merits of those involved.

The history of St. Francis de Sales School must be studied in relation to the priests who staffed it, taught in it and left their special imprint on its character.

In this century it was Father Schevers, who was the giant of his time. Everyone respected him and appreciated his ability to lead people and to organize. From 1903 to 1950 his spectacular work made the Manistique Parish one of the outstanding parishes of the diocese.

In 1908, the local pastor appealed to the Bishop for help, and so the Bishop invited the Norbertine Fathers from Wisconsin to administer the parish and care for its needs. This is why a steady supply of young Norbertine Priests was available for at times as assistants. Schooled as they were in the best traditions of Catholic education they were a Godsend to the thriving parish in Manistique which had high hopes for the total Catholic education of its children.

In 1950, the Diocese of Marquette took back the administration of the parish of Manistique as not it was better able to attend to its personal needs. The Norbertine assistants are still held in reverence for what they did for the parish in those 42 years. I frequently heard the names of Frs. Sromovsky, Paiment, Specht and Berendsen mentioned. The parishioners love them.

In 1950, the writer of these lines was sent from L'Anse to Manistique, and the parish entered upon a Golden Age. It was an era of building: a new church, a new school and parish center and a mission church at Gulliver.

In all my years as a pastor, whenever a new young priest came to me I instructed him in his duties and stressed what was expected of him if we would work together as a team. I would remind him that his special charge would be the youngsters of the parish. The older priest, the pastor would concentrate on the elderly people and those who were sick. It was noted that, if the children and the sick and the elderly parishioners are cared for properly, everything else falls into line.

The list of assistants in the past 20 years reads like a Litany of Saints:

Fr. George Pernaski -- Now pastor at St. Anthony's church in Gwinn

Albina, Clarina Billings, Flossie Finn, Mae Bebeau, Sister Blanche, Eunice Boldus, Barbara Frankovich, Kathleen Tracy;

Fr. Edmund Szoka -- Now Bishop of Gaylord.

Fr. Raphael Landerville.

Fr. Robert Kennedy -- Now living in Ironwood.

Fr. Tony Polakowski -- Now pastor at Champion.

Fr. Bill Richards -- Now co-pastor at Negaunee.

Fr. Terrence Donnelly -- Now pastor of St. Mary's, Sault Ste. Marie.

Fr. Dan Zaloga -- Now pastor of St. Joseph's, Brimley.

Fr. Arnie Grambow -- Now pastor at Ewen.

Fr. Guy Thoren -- Now at the Marquette Cathedral.

Fr. John Shiverski -- Now at the Chancery Office in Marquette.

bottom row--Levi Michaud, Wilford Beau-doin, Ida Michaud, Fr. B.J. Schevers, Lillian Carroll and William Chartier.

Priests left their indelible mark on St. Francis de Sales School. Together with the incalculable help of the Franciscan Sisters it has made its permanent impression on the history of our times in these generations.

Just as in ancient times people were proud to be known as Roman citizens, so to has always been the proud boast of Catholic men and women in this area who could say, "I graduated from St. Francis de Sales School." This a legacy proudly envisioned for their children as the years go on.

Our school and our parish have contributed a great deal to the general welfare of our community and its environs. May the ideals they represent be an ongoing inspiration to generations to come.

Board governs school business

The need for a governing body to assist the Pastor in the operation and administration of the St. Francis de Sales Parish Educational Facilities has long been recognized. The actuation of an objective program towards this end began in 1965. A Lay Board of five members were appointed to serve with the Pastor and Assistant Pastor.

This advisory group assisted in the planning and construction of the new parish facilities. It also assisted in the formulation of policy and the development of procedure for the operation of an elected Parish Board of Education.

The above is a recap of the duties of the First Parish Board of Education which was appointed by Monsignor Scheringer in 1965. The members of the board were Frank S. Hoholik, president; and members R. G. Hentschell, Donald Messier, Phillip Villemure and William Putvin. They were assisted by Sister Hermana, teaching principal and Father Kennedy, assistant pastor.

The first school board election was held in May, 1967. The members were elected for terms of three years with two members being elected each year except every third year when only one member is elected.

The first duly elected board took office July 1, 1967 with Dr. Robert Hawn as president and Matt Stram as vice-president. This board improved on the Constitution and By-Laws, formulated school policy and set up a budget for the operation of the school. The school and parking lot were completed with the fence being put up around the parking lot.

All subsequent boards have operated the school in the same manner, with a budget, hiring teachers, setting salaries and making changes, improvements and repairs as necessary.

The following are other parishioners and religious who have served on the St. Francis de Sales Board of Education: Nel Nelson, John Matthews, Sag Carlson, Dan Barber, Jim Brulla, Larry Savoie, Lowell Cooper, Bev Jahn, Irene Ketcik, Bob Nelson, Dono Pirolo, Pat Kelly, Thomas Hoholik, Frs. Kennedy, Zaloga, Grambow, Shiverski, and Lenz, Srs. Hermana, Mar-celyn Gervais, Janice Wilke.

Faculty statement of objectives

We, the faculty at St. Francis de Sales, believe that the basis of our educational endeavor is:

TO PROCLAIM OUR FAITH IN JESUS BY WORD AND SACRAMENT

Worshiping together and with our students, reinforcing the Christian values existing in the family, help to proclaim Jesus.

TO BE A FAITH COMMUNITY

Instilling Christian attitudes in students, helping children discover the role of the responsible U.S. citizen, are all a means of forming a better world.

St. Francis trains the 'whole child'

by Sister Rose Cecile

One of the objectives of Catholic education is the training of the "whole child".

This includes development of his physical, intellectual, spiritual, social, emotional and aesthetic gifts.

Since its opening in 1902, St. Francis has done much in the field of music, working toward an understanding and appreciation of music and musicians. The Franciscan order which has staffed the school entirely or partially over the years has trained many of its members as music specialists. For at least the past 50 years St. Francis de Sales has been fortunate enough to have one, sometimes two, of these musicians on its staff.

Former students will remember some of their music teachers: Sisters Ambrosine, Eunice, Mary Aloyse, Clementine, Joseph Francis, Agnella, Kathleen, Lyra, Raphael, Edward Ann, Rose Francis, Wilma, Mary Cecile, Michaeline, Felicia, Eligius, Colleen, Laurent, Mary Carol, Mary Rose, Mary Irvin, Lucianna, Fabiola, Rosaire, Mary Ralph, Marcus. The present musician is Sister Rose Cecile.

The music program aims at developing skills of basic musicianship through singing, rhythmic activities and playing of instruments. The recorder, a pre-band instrument, is introduced in grade four to help parents, students and teachers determine whether there would be serious interest in band membership. The students in grades five through eight have the option of participation in band under the instruction and guidance of the high school band director.

Music also has its place in the religious facet of education at St. Francis. All children are encouraged to participate in singing at parish and school liturgies, and are trained for this participation. A junior choir provides music for special feasts of the church and other occasions.

As students leave St. Francis they are invited and encouraged to join the Adult Choir and-or the Community Chorus, thus contributing to the cultural life of our community.

Franciscan sisters have, over the years, provided private instruction to hundreds of students from St. Francis or any school of the area who desired to study techniques of the various musical instruments. Many adults have also taken advantage of this opportunity.

St. Francis is happy to help in this way to instill and increase the love for music in our students and thus benefit the community as a whole.

Sisters arrive in 1901

Franciscan Sisters of Christian Charity arrived in Manistique in 1901 to assume charge of St. Francis de Sales School. Sister Lucretia was in charge.

In 1914, a new school was built under the direction of Father Bernard Schevers.

The present school was built in 1967 under the pastorate of Msgr. Francis Scheringer.

Graduate prepares for mission work in Brazil

One graduate of St. Francis de Sales has found his education at the school to be especially helpful in pursuing a religious vocation.

Pat Creeden, 26, son of Mrs. Jean Creeden of 508 Range St., plans to take his final vows in September for ordination as a deacon in the religious missionary order of the Missionhurst Fathers. He says St. Francis taught him some important values.

"When I think of going to school there," said Creeden, who is home temporarily from his Washington, D.C. religious community, "I think of the sisters. If anything, they taught a sense of dedication in what you're doing. They really cared."

He added that the sisters could prove to be strict about assigning homework, but indicated there was an undercurrent message for him.

"They taught me to value religion in my life," he said.

Creeden finished his theological studies with the Congregation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary in April. He has been a member of the religious since 1971.

Graduating from Manistique High School in 1969, he said he finalized his desire to study for the priesthood while attending Michigan State University. He then transferred to Catholic University in Washington, where he graduated in 1973.

After ordination as a deacon, Creeden is scheduled to work in a Vermont parish. Next spring he hopes to be ordained as a

Pat Creeden

Missionhurst Father.

The following summer, his permanent assignment is scheduled to be Brazil, where he plans to be active in organizing new forms of communities in the growing Latin American nation.

He got a taste of the foreign missions field by spending a summer with Missionhurst clergy in Haiti during the summer of 1974.

St. Francis PTO aids school in various ways

by Mary Pat Housley

The St. Francis de Sales PTO was formed on June 10, 1973.

Among the people responsible for its beginnings were Dr. Robert Hawn and Mrs. Jean Hawn, Msgr. F. M. Scheringer, Robert Lasich, Hannelore Patrick, Lois Hoholik, Beth Burnis, Marlene Mincoff, Sagwald Carlson, Catherine Boudreau, Barbara Traven, Barbara O'Connor, and about 12 other people.

After making the decision that a PTO organization was desired and needed at St. Francis, by-laws were written and adopted, officers were elected, and the group was off to a start. Barbara Traven was elected as president; Hannelore Patrick as vice-president; Marlene Mincoff as secretary-treasurer; and Beth Burnis and Lois Hoholik as trustees. Dues were set at $1 per family per year.

Regular monthly meetings were established, with committees such as program, membership and hospitality set up in the coming months. By February of that year, membership had grown to 63. The group began to function as a team and worked together at the regular parish carnival that year.

Every April a new slate of officers is presented. New Officers for 1974-75 were to be Beth Burnis as president; Janet Gregurash as vice-president; Shirley LaVigne as secretary-treasurer; and Lois Hoholik and Barbara Traven as trustees.

During that year, the meeting night was changed from Thursday to the third Monday of each month, which it still remains today. A Hot Lunch Program was established to provide volunteer mothers' help in the kitchen to serve food and do dishes.

Officers elected to serve for the upcoming year were Conrad Hoholik, president; Janet Gregurash, vice-president; Sandy LaFave, secretary-treasurer; and Beth Burnis and Tony Schomin, trustees.

At the parish carnival that year, the PTO took charge of movies, candy guess, tattoo booth and the jail.

Girls uniforms were changed that year to the now existing navy blue pants, vest, and skirt, and light blue blouse. The boys' uniform was adopted as navy blue pants with a white shirt with an emblem.

New officers for the 1976-77 year were elected: Mary Pat Housley as president; Donna Barber as vice-president; Mary Ann Krejcarek as secretary-treasurer; and JoAnn Hastings and Connie Hoholik as trustees.

In 1976 the PTO Newsletter was begun that contained articles of interest to parents about school doings.

Sylvia Raredon was put in charge of the Hot Lunch Program to keep volunteers scheduled for the kitchen. Of 138 families, only 45 mothers participate.

Added attractions handled by the PTO at the parish carnival were a 50-50 raffle and paintings donated by the Art Club.

Officers elected for 1977-78 are Sylvia Raredon as president; Marica Klarich as vice-president; Sue Whitman as secretary-treasurer; and Mary Pat Housley and Donna Barber as trustees.

Recalling the first classes in 1902

by Mark Eisenlohr

In early 1900's, Father Kunes, then head of St. Francis de Sales Church in Manistique, wrote to the Reverend Franciscan Sisters in Alverno, Wis. requesting a staff to operate a newly-formed school.

When the staff arrived in August of 1901, Manistique was preparing to welcome the St. Francis de Sales Parish School into the educational system in Schoolcraft County.

George Frankovich, 81, of 103 Elm St., was a member of the first grade when the school opened its doors in 1902.

"Yes, sir. I'll never forget that. I think there were 48 of us in that class," recalls Frankovich.

After 75 years, memories fade a little, names seem to run together, and faces lose some of their features, but Frankovich was able to recall half of his class members.

"Let's see. There was Frank Frankovich, Bill and Joe Vasseau, Steve McCleod, Henry Gardner and oh, there was Henry Gotheir, and if I'm not mistaken a Mike and Joe Losich. There was also an Alphonz Sangraw and Ernest Cornia, Sr.

"I remember some of the girls, too. There was the three Bebeau girls. They were the daughters of Joe Bebeau, who ran the livery stable in town, and another Bebeau girl. Her father's name was Bill. There was also the Carroll girl and Mary Fin. Then Leata, Laura and Leone Lochspeld and the Soullier girl," Frankovich remembered.

According to Frankovich, the first St. Francis school was housed in a narrow building only 24-feet wide "but it was awfully long," he said. Two grades were housed in each of three classrooms. A dining room was located downstairs and sleeping quarters for the sisters were upstairs.

"It was my first experience going to school," said Frankovich, with a slight twinkle in his eye. "In those days it was stricter."

Frankovich said that each class would be divided up between the girls and boys to compete against each other.

"I think that kind of competition was good," says Frankovich. "You take a young fellow, you know he doesn't want to get beat by a girl. But if he was fooling around, he would, because he wasn't thinking."

"A few years later we got a Priest there, an Irishman, I believe. Man, I tell you, he was strict," recalled Frankovich. "He was a real pugilist."

"He would split all the wood for the house, the Sister's quarters and all the rooms because at that time we used wood for heat, you know."

Frankovich remembered that after the priest split the wood, the boys in the school were required to bring in enough to fill the wood boxes.

"As long as you were six years old, you had to carry wood in. It didn't matter if you only carried two armloads, but you had to work."

Frankovich says that the Irish Priest was particular about moral upbringing.

"If you stole something from one of the stores, they'd tell the priest and he'd put all three rooms in one room and he'd find out who done it. And they never stole again," Frankovich said.

Was that type of discipline good for the children?

"To a certain extent. I think it cut down on what we see today," the 81-year-old Frankovich says.

He recalls without too much trouble, the courses that were taught then. They included reading, grammar, penmanship, arithmetic and spelling. Bible history was also a required course.

Frankovich believes that religion and schools do belong together.

"We would pray in the morning and then again after lunch. Aside from Bible history, that was all. I don't think that was too much."

"I believe it makes better children. They should be teaching religion courses" says the father of nine children.

Frankovich attended St. Francis for seven years. With only half a year left for graduation, he dropped out to drive horses for a man in town.

"He asked me to work steady and so I quit school. I shouldn't have. I didn't make any money, a dollar a day," he recalled.

Frankovich worked at that job for several years before moving to the Manistique Charcoal and Iron Co. as a carpenter's helper.

Frankovich never did go back to school, but over the years managed to earn a good living, and had "a good life. It's great to live this long."

George Frankovich

"As far as I went, I'll say I had a good education" Frankovich says of the St. Francis school.

"A person can enjoy life, if they just have a little ambition."

Catholic school boys' basketball: success tale

by Seb Rubick, Sr.

The Catholic School Basketball Program was started in 1954 by soliciting every Catholic merchant in the city.

Each merchant was asked to donate 50 cents to cover the cost of uniforms for the boys. Msgr. Scheringer had been contacted, the asking price was down to 30 cents and before the solicitation was finished all that was needed from the last two merchants was 12 cents each. No trouble was experienced in raising the money as all of the merchants were very helpful.

After the uniforms had arrived the next step was to go out to get games lined up, which was not too difficult due to the coach's officiating contacts with other schools. All games had to be played away from home since there was no gym to play in. The late, Art Hall, Superintendent of Manistique Public Schools, later gave permission to use the old public school gym for one hour on Saturday afternoon for practice sessions only.

The schedule for the first year was two games with Garden in their old Town Hall, two games with Nahma in their community building, two games with St. Anne and two with St. Joe, both of Escanaba, and two games with Cooks.

That year four games were won and six were lost. The second year was much better in that more games were played. A game with Central was the first home game. Two games were played with Engadine, two with Rapid River and two with Newberry. That year 13 games were won and three were lost, (good average in any league.) Some of the players went on to become stars on our local high school team.

The players on that first team back in 1954 were: Melvin Leveille, son of Mrs. Violet Reilly; Bobby Popour, son of Hector Popour; Dick Graphos, son of Mrs. Connie Graphos; Dr. Arthur and Andrew Brown, sons of Mrs. Florence Brown; Clifford Lehman, son of Mrs. Veronica Lehman; Ron Rubick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seb Rubick; Walter Garvin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garvin, Sr.; Fred Hinkson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinkson; Pat Radgens, son of Mrs. Gloria Radgens; Phil Stoken, son of Mrs. Bernice Stoken; the late Phil Dixner, son of Mrs. Margaret Dixner and Sonny Talbot, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Talbot.

The team was coached by Seb Rubick with Fr. Pernaski as assistant coach.

Over the years the boys' basketball program has remained very active thanks to the continued support of Seb Rubick, Sr., Pete Berger, Phil Villemure, Lyle (Art) Demers, Ron Provo, Jerome Gregurash, Wes Turan, Jim LaFave and Dave Mickelson, who spend many hours coaching the teams on a voluntary basis. Sr. Marcelyn was one of the most enthusiastic fans.

What is a team without its cheerleaders? The girls at St. Francis have always turned out in numbers in that capacity. In recent years Janet Heinz and Lois Hoholik have promoted and supervised them.

Teams from Newberry, Engadine, Munising, Escanaba, Garden and Manistique Area Schools have learned to have healthy respect for the "Raiders" in Red and White from St. Francis de Sales School.

Early history of St. Francis

This article is taken from special edition of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune featuring the Graduating Class of 1923 of Manistique High School and Interesting Facts In the School History of the City:

St. Francis de Sales School--In 1900 the old parish built by Rev. Fr. Sperlin was turned into a school by Rev. J.P. Kunes.

In 1901, the Franciscan Sisters of Alverno, Wis., under Sister Lucretia, opened the lower grades. The institution soon expanded into eight grades.

In 1907, the building now occupied by Robert Curley for his plumbing establishment was used for the upper grades. It was due to Sister Albina that the institution made such wonderful progress.

In 1914, the present building was erected under Rev. Fr. J.P. Schevers. The number of pupils always increased. The two basement rooms had to be used. This condition will be remedied as soon as the new Sisters' home is finished.

In 1923, this year the school graduates 34 pupils, closing exercises having taken place on Sunday, June 10. The graduates enjoyed a grand banquet at 5:30 given in their honor by the members of the seventh grade. The class picture was then taken, after which all the school children, wearing the class colors, formed ranks and joined the graduates in procession to the church where the following program was followed:

Hymn to the Sacred Heart, Choir; Baccalaureate Sermon, Rev. Fr. L. Specht; Hymn, "Ave Maria," Choir; Presentation of Diplomas, Rev. B.J. Schevers; Benediction; Te Deum.

Class motto: "character is the only true diploma."

Class flower: Lily of the Valley.

Class colors: Royal purple and gold.

Class patron: St. Rose of Lima.

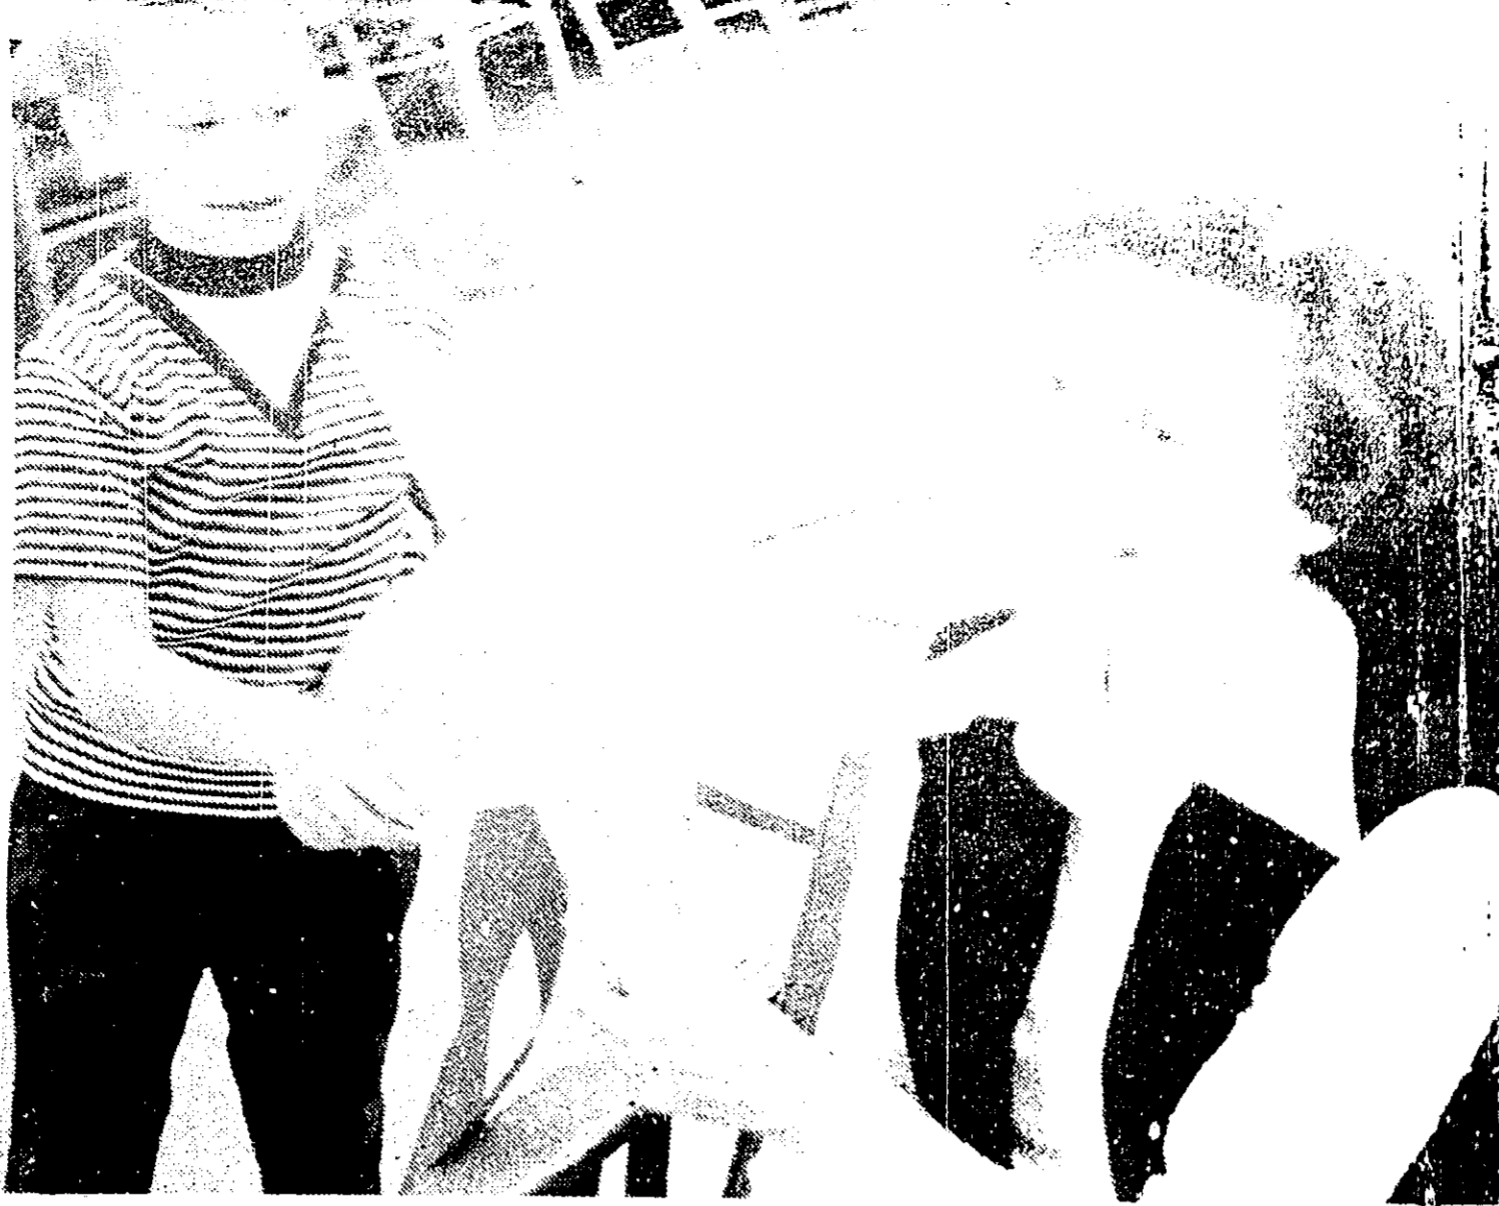

Class officers: president, Frances Bauer; vice-president, Earl LeBrasseur; secretary, Frederick Griffin; treasurer, Helen Strong.

Class roll: Mary Barkovich, Regina Barr, James Beaudoin, Milton Casey, Lucille Dubey, Elizabeth Faketty, Lenore Garrett, Genevieve Gorsche, Stella Hefferman, Irene Hoholik, Catherine Kasun, John Lesica, Dorothy Matthews, Irene Pascoe, Harriet Strehl, Helen Strong, Ronald Thibault, Jacob Barnes, Frances Bauer, Louise Bourbeau, Evelyn Chartier, Lida Dubey, Charles Frankovich, Mathilda Golden, Frederick Griffin, Steven Hoholik, Hildegard Jenks, Mary LaBelle, Earl LeBrasseur, Mildred Mulhaupt, Barbara Rodman, John A. Schultz, John Sidock, Francis Vasseau.

An inspiring sermon given by Rev. Specht, increased the solemnity of the occasion and was greatly appreciated by the pupils of the eighth grade, and the encouraging words of their beloved pastor, Rev. Schevers, will never be forgotten by the class of '23.

After the services in the church, a delightful entertainment was rendered by the pupils of the seventh grade, including the class will, prophecy, presentation of gifts, and valedictory by the graduates.

June 10, will long be remembered by the class of '23.

Girls sports grow in participation, scope

by Anthony Schomin

With the growing popularity and awareness for greater participation in girls athletics, St. Francis de Sales School has initiated a well-round athletic program for girls in grades five through eight.

Much of the credit for organizing and coaching our girls teams has to be given to Mary Krusic, who has given an extraordinary amount of time and talent to our girls sports program.

Girls seventh and eighth grade basketball was first organized at St. Francis in January of 1973 under the direction of Mary Krusic. The girls met every Monday until March and basically remained an intramural activity.

In the fall of 1973 the team was again organized with a complete schedule with competition being mainly from the area schools. Under the direction of Tony Schomin, the team achieved a perfect record of 8 wins and 0 losses.

In the fall of 1973 the team was again organized with a complete schedule with competition being mainly from the area schools. Under the direction of Tony Schomin, the team achieved a perfect record of 8 wins and 0 losses.

The 1974-75 basketball season saw the girls play a full slate of games with another perfect season at 10 wins and 0 losses. 1975-76 was another successful season for the St. Francis girls with that year's record being 8 wins and 2 losses. The 1976-77 season saw coaches Paul Ozanich and Mary Krusic guiding the girls to 11-1 record and the city championship.

Records and Coaches in Brief: 1973, Intramural, Mary Krusic; 1974, 8-0, Tony Schomin; 1975, 10-0, Tony Schomin; 1976, 8-2, Tony Schomin; 1977, 11-1, Mary Krusic and Paul Ozanich. Total: 37 wins, 3 losses.

Note: All of the above teams carried on the average of 20 girls with over 70 percent of the junior high girls participating.

Elementary girls softball was organized at St. Francis School in the spring of 1973 with Mary Krusic as coach. Games were played with the local elementary schools at various locations. The Manistique Community Schools have provided scheduling of games, fields, and trophies for the teams. Between 1973 to 1976 the St. Francis softball team has been the reigning champion, taking the first place league honors each season.

Records and Coaches: 1973, league champs, Mary Krusic; 1974, league champs, Tony Schomin and Arlene Turan; 1975, league champs, second in tourney, Tony Schomin; 1976, league champs, first in tourney, Darlene Welch; 1977, (to be decided), Darlene Welch and Barb Brazeau.

Note: In 1974, St. Francis had two teams. Team A and Team B. Team B won the league and tourney. Team A coach was Tony Schomin; Team B coach, Arlene Turan.

The girls' athletic program at St. Francis has proved to be extremely successful.

St. Francis teamed up with Central in 1976 to form a junior high girls track team. The team was coached by Kathy Moffat and Betsy Carey.

The girls participated in an invitational meet at Escanaba and some of our first records were set. Kris Krusic was the only girl to bring home a first place ribbon with a record 4'9" in the high jump. This year the team was again organized under the direction of Mary Krusic. This year's program included six meets and proved very successful.

The girls athletic program at St. Francis has proved to be extremely successful. Success is seen as a great number of students participating, a reputation of good sportsmanship and seeing a great number of parents on the side lines interested in what their children are doing.

However, we do have one problem: our trophies are numerous and shelving space limited. Sure wish someone would build a girls trophy case—they deserve it!
