

Number of deer reported higher

Department of Natural Resources wildlife biologists refuse to get into a numbers game but say that prospects are as good as last year to get a deer.

Lloyd Schemenauer, wildlife biologist at Newberry, said he expects a pretty good season for hunters in his area this year.

However, he said, the number of deer taken depends greatly on the type of weather there is.

"Good weather will mean the hunters will stay out in the woods longer and take more deer," he said.

Deer population in general is above average, he said.

Last year, more than 30,000 hunters went out after the whitetails.

The season for firearms opens Tuesday Nov. 15 and closes Wednesday, Nov. 30.

Archery season closes at the start of the firearm season but resumes statewide Thursday, Dec. 1. It ends in the U.P. Dec. 15 but continues in the rest of the state until Dec. 31.

The statewide season for muzzleloaders this year starts Friday, Dec. 2 and stretches until Sunday, Dec. 11. These sportsmen must use a rifle or shotgun, .44 caliber or larger, a round ball and black powder.

Last year, 88,000 bucks were taken in the U.P. by firearm hunters.

Deer hunting, ironically, is one of Michigan's safest activities. Only four non-fatal accidents were recorded in the U.P. last year and none were fatal.

However, there is cause for concern about hunters who are not in shape for the rigors of outdoor living. Potentially deadly situations occur when hunters overexert themselves hauling dead deer out of the woods or trying to push out stuck vehicles.

Deer hunters who are uncertain where to pitch their tents or park their trailers and forest campgrounds are open for business.

Sixteen state parks will have electricity, pit toilets and hand pumps available. There will be a few winter personnel on hand to manage the parks.

Off-season camping fees are set at $2.50 per night. There is no charge to stay at a state forest campground, but campers are required to fill out a campground registration form, which are available at each campground.

State Forest campgrounds may be the most convenient because they are located right next to prime hunting areas.

Hunters are reminded that they must wear either a hat, vest or coat of blaze orange to hunt on public lands.

Maple love

GREG HARBIN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Harbin of Stonington, gives a hug to one of the many virgin Maples located in the Rock River Canyon area. The land around Rock River in lower Alger County has recently been suggested by the U.S. Forest Service as suitable for designation as a wilderness area.

Air commuter service seen in 2-3 years

by Ed Zasko

Regular air commuter service for Manistique may be a reality in one or two years, according to a project director for an Upper Lakes Regional Commission air commuter study.

Bob Bryant, of the UGLRC office in Lansing, said Tuesday that between 30 and 40 upper Michigan cities are being studied for the feasibility of air commuter service.

The survey is just getting underway and the results for Manistique have not been tabulated yet.

Schoolcraft County Airport Manager, Vern Bernard, said, however, that the need was definitely present at the airport.

Bernard also said he did not know for sure if an air commuter service could make a profit at Schoolcraft.

Both Bernard and Bryant mentioned that many of these type services have started in Michigan and gone broke before too long.

Bryant said he felt the reason for the commuter services losing money was that they had not done enough market research before starting.

"They were fine at flying their planes," he said, "but when it came to the business side of things, they came up short."

Part of the purpose for the UGLRC survey is to compile enough market data on cities for the air commuter companies to make a determination whether they would like to come into the airports.

Another aspect Bryant mentioned was coordinating air schedules with major airlines so that a person traveling from Dallas for instance, could arrange a trip schedule with commuter services in Manistique.

Byrant noted that a bill presently in Congress would deregulate some airlines to not have to serve unprofitable airports.

He said an airline company gave up service in Battle Creek, the commuter service came in and offered more options, and, now is making money.

Bryant said Manistique, which was surveyed a couple of weeks ago, may not prove to be ready for an air commuter service. But with more economic development, in two years it may, he said.

However, the final determination to start an air commuter service eventually rests with the air companies themselves.

The UGLRC is authorized to subsidize these airlines to get them on their feet. This is where political considerations enter the picture as the legislature must approve the money.

Two cities in northern Michigan, Gaylord and Cadillac, are already receiving state support for their air commuter services.

Both cities are being serviced by Searco Airlines of Chicago.

The service is being patterned after the successful demonstration routes which were started last May among Alpena, Oscoda, Cadillac and Chicago's O'Hare Field.

Governor Milliken has come out as a major proponent of the survey and air commuter services which he says are essential for communities if they hope to grow and prosper.

Bryant said an acceptance as to which cities have been announced by the service companies will not be forthcoming until next August.

Natural-grown gigantic carrot

A THREE-POUND, 12 3/4-inch carrot is the pride of Leo Lillie's garden near the corner of Chippewa and Beaver. Lillie, 80, says his garden soil is natural, aided by epsom salt and lots of leaf-based compost. "You can't get away from God's nature," Lillie said, noting it's the largest carrot he's ever grown.

Vet home letter drive to Lansing launched

A letter-writing campaign has been launched to urge the location of a Michigan veteran's facility in Manistique.

Members of a community committee promoting a local site for the 120 to 125-bed home proposed for the U.P. Friday agreed to encourage private letters to be sent to area legislators and the governor's office.

The committee has another meeting set for 2 p.m. Friday to check progress in the campaign.

Committee members agreed to contact organizations, clubs and individuals and urge them to compose individual letters stating why Manistique would be a good site. State Representative Charles-Varnum (R-Manistique) and State Senator Bob Davis (R-Gaylord) are key targets of the drive to influence discussion on the matter.

A packet of information on three sites proposed for construction of the facility, along with general information on the community and letters of endorsement, has been sent to state Department of Public Health officials who conducted a tour of the city last week.

One member of the survey team, Bob Hicks, assistant chief of the Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction, told the Pioneer-Tribune that enthusiasm of local citizens for the facility will have a large bearing in the final site selection.

Hicks added that all the legislators in the U.P. may eventually get together to agree on a site. A total of seven U.P. cities are seeking the facility.

Thus far, letters supporting the home's location in Manistique have been forwarded to the community committee by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4420, Veterans of World War I, Knights of Columbus, American Legion Post No. 83, Elks Lodge No. 632, Manistique Women's Club, Kiwanis Club of Schoolcraft County, Manistique Kiwanis Club and First Manistique Corporation.

Chairman of the committee is Edward Way.

More than 40 people in Manistique have been invited to appear in last week's Pioneer-Tribune, by signing or filling out a form appearing in the issue and writing a reason why the veterans facility should be located in Manistique.

Santa's coming

Children in the Manistique area may be assured that Santa Claus will make his annual visit to hear their Christmas requests.

The visit is being organized by the former Welcome Wagon club members and will be made financially possible through money donated by area businesses.

Santa will be stopping in Manistique on Dec. 10. Further information will appear in the Pioneer-Tribune as the time draws near.

Another annual Christmas season event, the canned goods show at Cinema I, also will be held Dec. 10. Sponsored by the Manistique Women's Club, two showings will be held.

Children are asked to bring canned goods for admittance to the movie. Costs for the showings will be covered by the First National Bank at Manistique.

Two found guilty of intent to commit murder

Two men charged with assault, armed robbery and intent to commit murder were found guilty by a jury in Schoolcraft County Courthouse Friday.

Darrel L. Jarvis, 23, of Millersburg, and James E. Siebert, 21, of Pontiac, were charged with the Nov. 5, 1976 beating and robbery of a Presque Isle County storeowner and her son.

Circuit Court Judge Philip J. Glennie granted a change of venue motion in the case Oct. 7 to move the trial from Presque Isle to Schoolcraft County.

A jury of nine women and three men turned in the guilty verdict after about three hours of deliberation Friday afternoon.

The attorneys for Jarvis and Siebert were Richard Collins of Alpena and Nicholas Hile of Cheboygan.

Jarvis and Siebert, who Collins said have six and three life sentences between them, did not take the stand nor speak to the jury at any time.

A high emotional point in the trial came when Mrs. Laurette Schepke, 52, took the stand and identified the two as her attackers.

Now a lull year after the crime, Prosecutor Larry Farmer of Rogers City said that Mrs. Schepke has trouble dealing with the incident in her mind.

Her 10-year-old son, Mikel, suffering permanent brain damage from the beating he sustained on the day of the robbery.

A key witness in the trial, Karen Simpson, 17, a first cousin of Jarvis, was granted immunity in her testimony.

Collins said it was possible that she could be arraigned as an accomplice to the two if she was not protected by law.

She was provided with the counsel of Michael Brooks of Manistique.

Mrs. Simpson testified that she accompanied Jarvis and Siebert on the day in question and saw them coming out of the Halfway house on Highway 638 of Case Township. She said Jarvis was carrying a sawed-off shotgun and Siebert a knife. There were blood stains on their weapons and clothes, she said.

Still under consideration by Glennie is a motion by Collins that the trial be dismissed.

Collins said that the Department of Corrections, which had custody of the two in December 1976, had failed to notify Hile and Hile to their location.

Collins said that Prosecutor Farmer should have received notice of the location of Jarvis and Siebert within 180 days of Nov. 5.

During that time, Jarvis and Siebert were being prosecuted for other crimes.

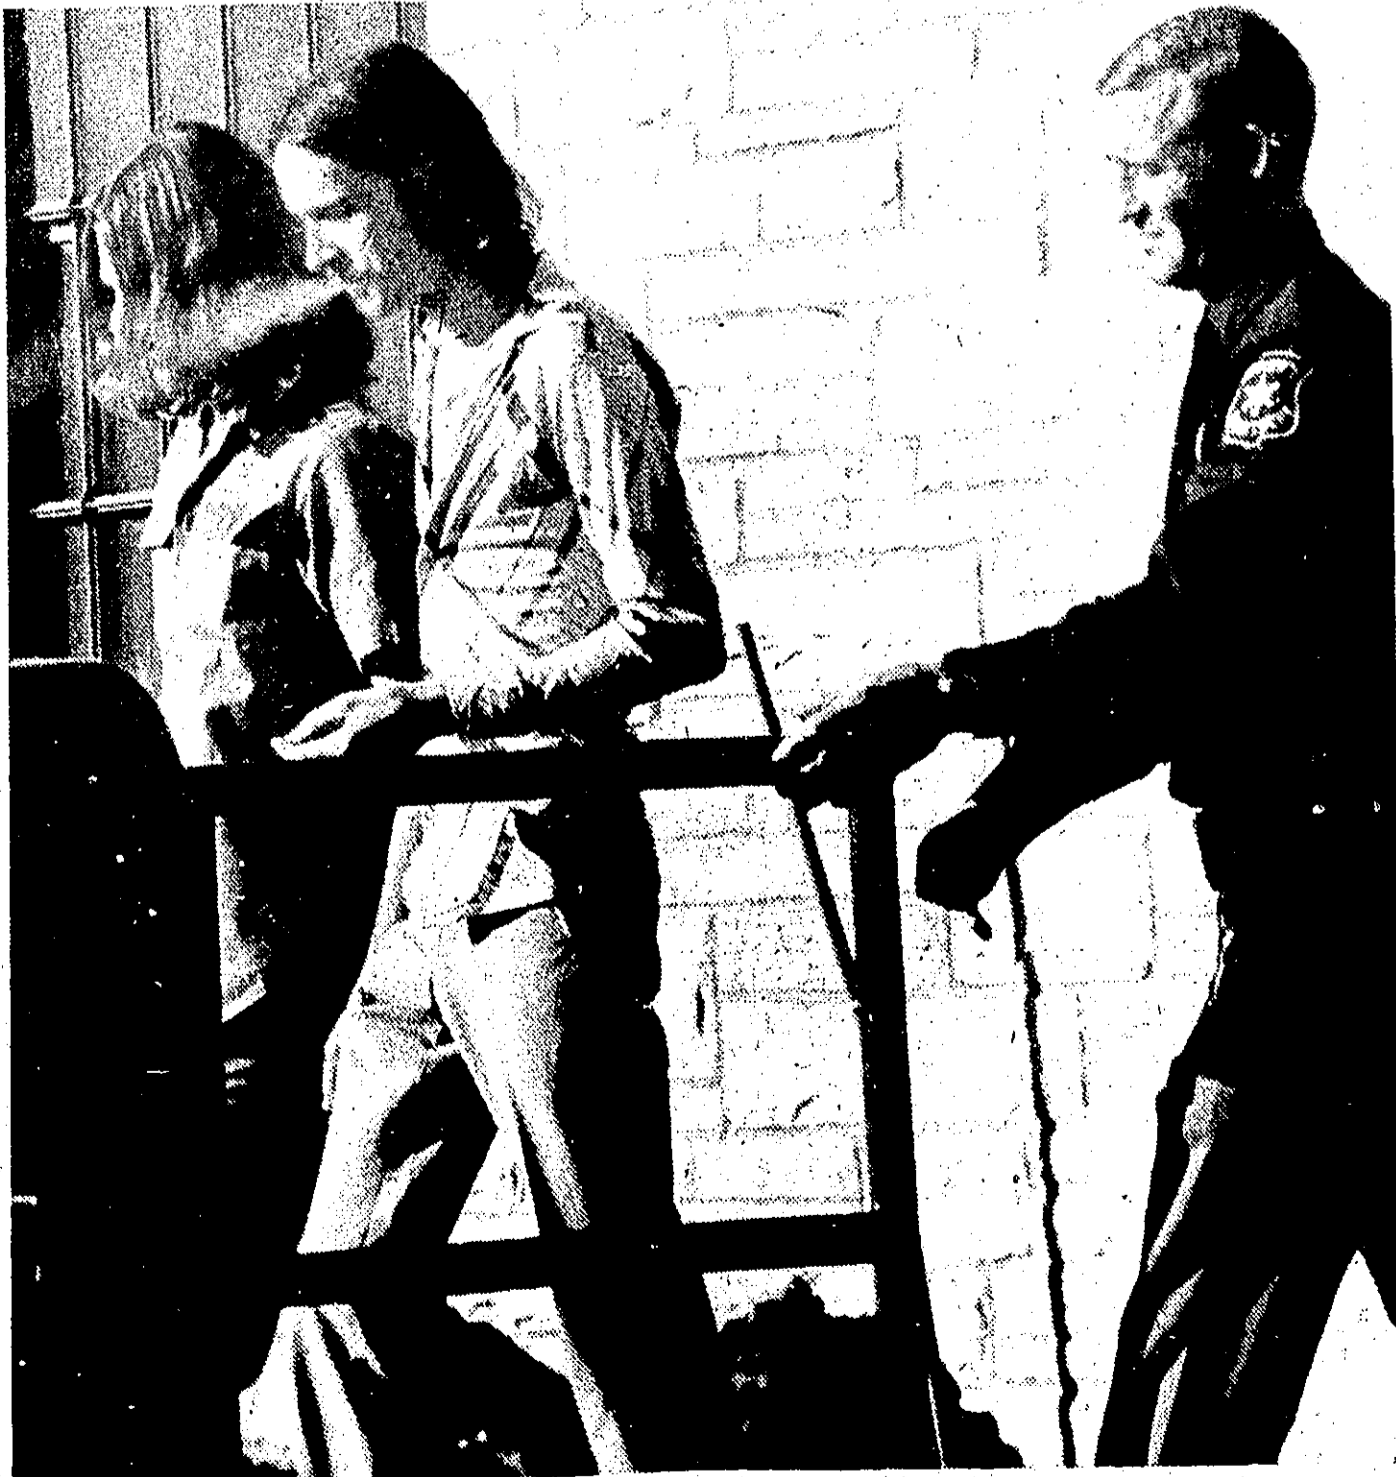

Glennie said he would consider the motion in the form of written statements from the defense attorneys and the prosecutor. However, he did not say whether it would have any effect on the outcome of the trial.

Jarvis and Siebert left the custody of the Schoolcraft County jail immediately after the trial to be transferred to Presque Isle.

Sentencing of the two by Glennie is scheduled for Nov. 28.

They also are scheduled to stand trial Dec. 19 in Manistee County on murder charges.

The two are charged with the killing in Presque Isle County of David Pfaff of Drayton Plains on the same day as the Halfway house incident.

School board gets help for sports

The Manistique Area Schools Board of Education heard discussion on three upcoming boys sports at its meeting Tuesday night.

In the first action, the athletic booster club announced its plans to back the boys wrestling program with a $1,700 contribution.

Club spokesman Jessie Schurmer said the club anticipates the actual cost of the program minus gate receipts to be about $1,200.

Wrestling coach Paul Cappoferrri said he expects about 30 boys to come out for the sport but doesn't know how many will stay on.

The board approved the offer of the booster club and offered its gratitude to have a wrestling program.

The athletic club is also planning to endorse a swimming program for boys and girls.

However, before the program can get off the ground, a coach needs to be found who is in some way connected with the school.

Allen Schuster of the community school board said most of the equipment and personnel needed for swimming to start was present.

Two registered officials who live in Manistique have volunteered their time. The school has now or can borrow other necessary timing equipment and starting blocks.

The salary for a coach would be in the neighborhood of $512 to $858 which the booster club would foot. The board accepted the club's offer and is looking for a coach.

In another sports item, Seb Rubick, head basketball coach, announced that a dance was being held Friday night to raise money for the junior high basketball team. Some money has already been raised at a junior high dance.

Rubick said he hopes to raise about $200 this time. The rest of the money needed to support the team will come from Dr. Bill Gillette and Dr. A.J. Brown, two Manistique dentists.

The board also heard a congratulatory statement for Dan Skatzka, head football coach, for his honor as Class A-B coach of the year in the U.P.

The 1977-78 budget for Manistique Area Schools was approved by the board.

Manistique schools announce teacher salary schedule

The Manistique Area Schools superintendent's office recently released the final salary schedule for its professional staff for 1977-78.

Step increases not to exceed $4,558.13, as set forth by the school board, have been under mediation since July.

A step increase occurs when a teacher completes a year of teaching at the school. However, once a teacher has completed 10 years of teaching, he or she may not advance to the next step.

The Manistique Area Schools Board of Education approved the salary schedule at its Oct. 25 meeting.

However, the teachers will not receive a pay scale any different from the one they are presently receiving until 60 days of this school year have past.

Not all of the school's 77 full-time and one part-time teachers will be affected by the pay increases.

Beginning teachers in the provisional, permanent and master's categories will not be receiving a pay raise.

However, as an example, pay increases for teachers at the provisional level in the first step went from a salary of $9,635.00 to $9,712.00.

As another illustration, a teacher in the permanent category at the eleventh step, went from $14,106.00 to the tenth step and $14,806.00. In the new salary schedule, the eleventh step was eliminated.

1977-78 professional salary schedule

10-1.50	13,875.00	14,806.50	15,754.50	16,054.50	16,354.50

There are 17.5 teachers in the provisional category, 41 in the permanent and 19 in the masters.

With the new salary schedule in effect, the beginning teacher at the high school with a bachelor of arts in the provisional category would earn a yearly salary of $9,250.

After five years, that same teacher in that same category would be making $11,562, and after 10 years at the top of his or her schedule, be making $13,875.

Salary rates increase as teachers change categories of professionalism. After provisional bachelor of arts, there comes bachelor of arts permanent, master of arts, master of arts with 15 credits towards a doctorate degree and master of arts with 30 credits towards a doctorate degree.

In the highest category, that of masters of arts with 30 credits, a beginning teacher will start by making $10,903 per year. After five years, he or she would make $13,028 and after 10 years, at the top of the schedule, would earn $16,354 per year.

However, the pay increases are not evenly distributed across the board for every teacher.

Bonifas has called the schedule a hodgepodge for its seemingly inequitable distribution of pay increases among the staff.

Plan new fair building

by Roger Irie

The Schoolcraft County Fair Board is planning for a bigger fair next year in a permanent, fair building.

Steel has arrived for the 80 by 200 foot pole-type structure, and preliminary construction work is planned for the winter months by CETA employees.

To be combined with the 1978 fair is the volunteer fireman's carnival, usually held as a separate event. Special times will be set for handicapped and senior citizens.

Rick Larson will be in charge of traffic control at the fair, with Chris Keener heading the exhibits.

Last summer's fair, held in tents, was the first the county has had in 43 years.

What's Going On

341-5200

Forty is the lucky number this week — whether it's the number of years since you were born or the number of years you have been married.

Jim Cowman, age 40, son of Mrs. Elsie Cowman of Manistique, recently finished fifth in a 13-mile marathon run in Clovis, N.M. He plans to enter a 26-mile event soon. Cowman is a district executive with the Boy Scouts of America in Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Potvin celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday. They returned home from their honeymoon in St. Louis, Mo., where they returned home with a party in honor of the occasion.

The Potvins were married on Nov. 6, 1937 in St. John the Baptist Church in Garden. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Tatrow who were able to attend the party.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Gardapee and Carrie, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Potvin and Dana and Roberta and Jack and Gail Potvin and Tom, Tim and Ti of Milwaukee and Mrs. Delia Gauthier of Garden, mother of Mrs. Potvin.

The celebration was extra special because their grandson David Vail was baptized at St. Francis immediately following the anniversary Mass. David and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vail attended the party.

Ninety-six can be an important number too. Mrs. Elizabeth Carlson celebrated her 96th birthday on Nov. 3 at Medicare. In addition to the afternoon guests at her party her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson of Gladstone were guests in the evening. Thursday Mrs. Fred Patricia (formerly Theodora Wedell) of Stonington and her daughter-in-law Mrs.

Paul Wedell of Gladstone visited Mrs. Carlson and her daughter Mrs. Otmer Schuster.

French fried rutabagas?

by Carl Olson
Michigan Department of Agriculture

Did you hear about the parent who responded to a questionnaire from school which asked, "What are the five most important things you want your child to learn this school year?"

One parent answered, "1. Confidence; 2. Living with other people; 3. Courtesy; 4.

Responsibility; 5. To like rutabagas." As a Norwegian, I could fully understand as a child why the English called rutabagas "Swedes."

Now it's a different story. We add them to soups and stews and have them mashed with assorted "garnishments."

While production figures aren't kept, the Michigan Department of Agriculture says rutabagas are on the market now through the end of November, with some available until January.

Irma Rombauer says in "Joy of Cooking" that rutabaga can be french fried like shoestring potatoes or handled just like baked potatoes, but we like them mashed.

To mash, just pare and dice a rutabaga and drop into boiling water. Make sure, if they have been waxed as a preservative, that all the wax is removed. It will take about 1 hour to cook. Use a potato masher or electric mixer and add up to six tablespoons of butter when you mash them.

To make them a little different, serve with butter to which you have added a generous amount of lemon juice and chopped parsley. You might also try adding sour cream and a little nutmeg.

After mashing, another garnish is to add one cup of sautéed mushrooms which have been sautéed in butter until they are very dark in color and almost dehydrated.

Try some of the variations. Maybe this is the year your child "learns to like rutabaga."

County board hands over code enforcement

The Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners Tuesday handed the county township association with the authority to enforce the state electrical code, leaving the City of Manistique without a local enforcement officer.

The county board, which had moved up its regular monthly meeting one week to consider enforcement of the code before it goes into effect Friday, offered the job to the association.

Louis Lauzon, chairman of the Schoolcraft County Township Association, said the association would assume responsibilities, provided a qualified person can be found.

"The only hang-up is dollars and cents," Lauzon told the board. "If we're going to do it, we'd like some consideration for townships at allocation time."

Lauzon said an enforcement official would cover all townships except for Hiawatha and Inwood, who would be responsible for their own code enforcement on new construction.

Commissioner William Tennyson said the association would have 90 days to set up a program for electrical inspection fee collection and enforcement.

The decision left Manistique without an apparent inspector, since Lauzon said the association would not cover the city as well.

Contacted by the Pioneer-Tribune Wednesday, City Manager Robert Risk said the city plans no action on the matter, having earlier passed a resolution authorizing the county to take charge of electrical inspections.

Risk added that state law indicated that if the city does not assume code enforcement responsibility, the county must do it. He said the county already has the mechanics available with a county building inspector, while the city would have to create a new department.

In other business, the county board: -heard a report from representatives of Manatron, the county's computerized tax billing service based in Kalamazoo. Commissioners were told that Manatron services cost the county 48 cents per parcel in 1973, and 49 cents apiece in 1977. Charges for property parcels in the city have been held to 68 cents apiece. According to Bob Dawson, county equalization director, there are 2,494 parcels in the city and 15,200 county wide for which Manatron charges the county each year. The county in turn rebills each local unit for the service, Dawson said.

-directed the board's building and grounds committee to study the need for a new garage to house county building and grounds equipment, and present a proposal to the board;

-approved replacing a Xerox-600 model with an IBM copier as a secondary photocopier for the courthouse. County Clerk Fred Lesica said the exchange would save the county about $1,000 a year through lower IBM costs and along with the Xerox-4000 model, fulfill the county's needs for approximately 20,000 copies each month.

Commissioner Tennyson released a report from the county building department, showing that 256 building permits were issued in 1976, compared to 264 for this year. The report noted that $9,000 was collected in fees last year, while $6,738 was collected by June 30, when fees were lowered. Since then, $3,544 has been taken in 153 permits.

Former state police post commander drowns

Lucien D. Conard, 58, former commander of the Manistique post of the Michigan State Police, drowned Saturday night in the Little Cedar River about a mile south of Hermansville.

State Police of the Stephenson post said that Conard was evidently trying to make a u-turn on the gravel road when one of the wheels of his car slipped over a culvert. When Conard got out to investigate, he apparently fell into the river, which was three to four feet deep.

The car was discovered by passing motorists about 9 p.m. with the motor still running. Menominee County Deputy Sheriff Emil Koish recovered Conard's body about 7 a.m. Sunday, several hundred yards downstream.

Conard, a resident of Kingsford, had retired as commander of the Manistique Post in 1968.

Emerald cagers seek 3 in a row against Miners

by Nancy England

Bringing their Mid-Peninsula conference record up to a 4-5 mark, the Emerald girls made it two in a row Tuesday night as they conquered the Ishpeming Hemitties, 35-31.

"The girls had to win this game," coach Diane Stimac commented.

"They really wanted this victory. You could tell by just watching them."

It was a contest between two fine defensive teams but it was the offensive plays that decided the winner. Although Ishpeming sank 47 per cent of their field goal attempts, its scoring was dependent on the solo effort of Shelly Millimaki. The Emeralds' 25 per cent however, was a balanced team effort.

Jackie Krusic was the high scorer for the Emeralds with seven. Karen Krusic, Robin Larson, Mary Gregurash and Linda Kaiser each shot for six apiece.

Robin Larson commanded the boards for the green team with 12 rebounds. Jackie Krusic followed with 10 and Karen Krusic ripped down eight.

The Emeralds will entertain Negaunee Friday in hopes of continuing the victory string.

After losing four out of five games on a strenuous road trip, the Emeralds returned home to post a convincing cage victory Thursday night.

In one of their best games of the season, the Emerald girls slaughtered the Newberry Indians, 47-27.

The Emeralds opened the game with two quick baskets from Robin Larson and Jackie Krusic, and from that point on, the Manistique quintet never dropped their lead.

The first quarter took its toll, however, Mary Gregurash, starting guard for the Emeralds, sprained an ankle in the first four minutes of play and was forced to view the rest of the game from the bench.

Robin Larson and Linda Kaiser sparked the Emeralds' second quarter action as they accounted for all six Manistique points. The Emeralds' defense held the Indians to only five points and the teams retired for halftime, the hosts led, 21-15.

Green and White game Saturday

Emeralds' boys basketball fans will get their first look at the 1977-78 edition of Coach Seb Rubick's team with a special Green and White scrimmage Saturday night.

Billed as a "Basketball Tip-Off" and sponsored by the Manistique Booster Club, the event also will feature an intra-squad scrimmage by Lake Superior State College beginning at 8 p.m.

The Green and White clash will precede at 6:15 p.m. at the high school gym.

Coach Rubick said the contest will serve as an introduction to the abilities and talents of the players. Varsity and junior varsity squads are practicing for a season-opening game against Rudyard at home on Nov. 25.

Proceeds from Saturday's games will be divided equally between the booster club and the U.P. Hall of Fame. Tickets for adults, students and pre-schoolers will be available at the door.

Booster club members will hold a potluck dinner for the players and coaches in the high school cafeteria following the main contest.

Sir Edward's Custom Blended Tobacco's

Many of our Tobacco smoking friends are wondering why our tobacco's are so delightfully different from others in aroma. To this, at Sir Edward's, we answer, that we only use the top grade of selected Tobacco's, which are the choicest leaves on the market. We do not use any spray on our Tobacco's, because this will bring mouth burn. This irritation causes pipe smokers to quit the pipe, but they do return when they find out that our blends leave a pleasing after effect only.

Sports Pioneer-Tribune

The two teams played even in the third quarter, with each scoring eight points. Karen Krusic, Robin Larson and Kris Krusic donated for the Emerald cause. Again the Emeralds were on top by six, 29-23 at the beginning of the final frame.

The green team pulled away in the fourth quarter, completely dominating the Indians by allowing them only two buckets.

Emerald coach Diane Stimac received excellent balance and teamwork from her quintet as Mary Goudreau and Kris Krusic came from the bench to join veteran Jackie Krusic in the Emerald scoring effort. The home team racked up 16 points, giving the Emeralds a 20-point victory.

With the loss, Newberry stood with a 7 and 4 record.

Jump shot specialist Robin Larson, was leading scorer for Manistique with 15 points. Forwards Jackie and Karen Krusic hit 12 and 11 respectively. The Emeralds pumped in an outstanding field goal percentage, profiting from 22 of 41 shots.

Leading rebounder for the night was Karen Krusic with 19 grabs. Jackie Krusic ripped off 17 while teammate Larson snatched 12.

Emerald JV cagers upend Ishpeming 43-35

In a game riddled with fouls, the Manistique JV girls finally defeated the Ishpeming girls here 43-35 Tuesday night.

Pattie Hoholik was leading scorer with 15 points. Becky England followed with 11, Mary Waller had 8 and Barb Bontekoe shot for 7.

Leading Emeralds rebounder was B. England with 17. Pattie Hoholik grabbed 8

Jackie Krusic takes a jump shot for the Emeralds against Ishpeming defenders.

Skatzka named U.P. Coach of Year in A-B

Emerald football fortunes were reversed in just one year, and Coach Dan Skatzka gained a large share of the credit last week.

He guided the Emeralds to a 6-3 record and a three-way tie for second place in the Mid-Peninsula Conference, a vast improvement over his team's 3-6 performance last year as an independent. His 1975 team went 2-7.

The turnaround came despite mileage problems which threatened to curtail the school's athletic programs. Skatzka was a frequent visitor at school board meetings, urging support of athletics as part of a complete educational program.

Skatzka will have some help in planning for the 1978 season, as the junior varsity team he and Coach Paul Cappofferri also coached finished tied for first place in the Mid-Peninsula Conference with a 5-1 mark. The JVs were 6-2 overall.

In all-star voting, John Pistulka and

Dan Skatzka Tribune M. Eisenlohr

D.J. Brady were named to the first team Class A-B offensive team by the sports media group.

DEER HUNTING FORMAL OF 1977

Deer counts in Schoolcraft County are slightly higher than last year says Greg Stoll, a DNR wildlife biologist at Thompson.

Stoll said each summer the deer are counted by paid observers located throughout District Four, which includes all of Schoolcraft County and the U.P. east of the county.

A count is made on the number of deer sighted per 100 hours in the whole district. The number of deer in District Four seems to be diminishing, however.

Stoll also said that hunting pressure has been down for the U.P. during the last several years.

Hunting pressure is a term applied to a survey made by using information from the traffic count on the Mackinac Bridge, the Drummond Island deer count, the deer kill records from the field offices, a post card survey of hunters and records from deer checking stations on the highway.

At the checking stations, which can be any field office of the DNR, the deer are recorded as to their age, sex and antler development. This information reveals to the biologist the general health of the herd.

Stoll said the Thompson field office of the DNR would be open from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday to examine deer. As an added incentive to the hunters to have their deer checked, successful deer hunter patches will be distributed to hunters who bring in their kill.

School board...

This year's total general and schools services expenditures are budgeted at $2.5 million. The total beginning balance is set at $8,349 more than expenditures.

However, Superintendent Richard Bonifas said that heating electricity and bus attendant overtime bills would quickly soak up any excess money.

In the Manistique Area Schools snow policy released at the meeting, the standard policy of the board in handling snow storms was outlined.

The policy states that radio stations WTQ-AM and WKZY-FM will announce school closings. However, it will not as a matter of custom announce when school is open.

Senior Citizens board approves center drawings

Preliminary drawings for a new Manistique Senior Citizens Center have been approved by the center's board.

The drawings, submitted at the Monday meeting of the board for the center's non-profit corporation, were prepared by Nichols, Barone and Associates, architects.

Boring samples at the site, which includes the former DNR garage on West Main Street, were taken Monday by Northern Michigan Soil and Material Testing, of Marquette.

Competitive bids for the facility must be received by the State of Michigan Office of Services to the Aging before Tuesday, Dec. 20.

Denton Nelson, chairman, speaking on behalf of the Board said: "I am pleased with the drawings by the Nichols, Barone Architectural firm and am looking forward with anticipation to our grand opening for our new Manistique Area Multi-Purpose Senior Citizens Center which will be held around the 1st of September, 1978."

Manistique received $90,000, the largest amount of money allocated in 1977 to a Senior Citizens group for the title V grant award of the Older Americans Act by the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging.

"This shows the high regard our local senior citizens program has received from the U.P. Region 11 Area Agency on Aging and the Michigan State Office of Services to the Aging, Nelson said. "We need to raise additional money for landscaping and other costs not allocated under these funds and I know with the community support in our area these needs will be met. We can be proud of the fine service program we have in our county under the leadership of Eileen Males."

Richard Bonifas, Manistique superintendent of Schools was nominated and accepted as a member of the Manistique Senior Citizens Center, Non-Profit Corporation Board of Directors.

Chairpersons for the event are PTO president Carolyn Rose, Joan Holmberg, Nancy DeMars, Jean Vanderville and Judy Sundin. Proceeds from the carnival will be used for school projects and activities.

Just a couple of odds and ends

Nothing really earth shaking, just a couple odds and ends:

Hazel Schultz called the other day about the baseball team picture that ran several weeks earlier. At that time there wasn't a name for the team, and it looks like there still isn't a name.

However, Hazel pointed out that one member of the team, Fred Clute, was an uncle and that she had attended one of those games. One of her recollections should be of interest.

"I was at one of the ball games, I couldn't have been very old, but I remember someone had hit the ball and it came right down on a baby and hit the baby in the mouth. It knocked all the baby's teeth out."

Hazel couldn't remember if the baby was local or still lives in the area but it does prove that things could be kind of dangerous back in the early days of baseball.

Talking to one of many interesting persons in this area, it was learned that there used to be a druggist on the west side of Manistique by the name of George Shantler. It is believed he was located near the present light company.

Not much to go on, but there is a bottle that was found in the woods with the inscription of this druggist's name...

A man by the name of Grayden Stone used to have a Swedish Massage Shop in Manistique. One wonders what the difference is between the Swedish and American variety. Also brings to question which kind the Senior Citizen Center would like to have...

A friend wrote in requesting a copy of Mr. Crowe's book, "Lumberjack." He added that he used to be a meter reader for the power company and at "one time I knew everybody in Manistique."

It would be interesting to gather such people together and write a book about Manistique. Not from just one perspective, but from many.

Incidentally, if you have not purchased your copy of Mr. Crowe's book, it is recommended that you do so at once. Not only is it an interesting book, full of good reading, but it makes for a good reference check. They're also selling quite quickly and only a few hundred books remain...

Memoirs

By Mark Eisenlehr

The Pioneer-Tribune's correspondent in Garden, Eleanor LaButte, called last week on the picture of the old time tontorial parlor. We had mentioned the janitor standing in the back of the room. Well, it turns out that it was her father, Gene Scott.

Gene later went out to work as a fire watcher up near Steuben for over 30 years. Eleanor told us that the kids used to throw cans off the tower and let their dad shoot at the objects. Accordingly, he hit them every time.

96th birthday

Mrs. Elizabeth Carlson celebrated her 96th birthday Wednesday, Nov. 2 with a large group of relatives and friends in the dining room of the Schoolcraft County Medical Care Facility where she is a patient. Present were her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. O.J. (Eleanor) Schuster of Manistique; Mrs. Leona Miller of Frankfort, Ind.; her sisters, Miss Eleanor Norden and Mrs. Esther Christie of Gladstone. Two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norden and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Norden of Perkins.

Right in tune with the fashions

The children on the stage look as if they had walked out of a fashion magazine. They're all so neat and clean.

Except, of course, the stage is in Manistique and not in Paris. The models are students at Lakeside School, and the clothes are available at local emporiums.

Tonight, 19 youths will make their debut in the first Lakeside Children's Style Show.

Barbara Patterson, Mathew Troyer, and Dana LaRose will model for Ben Franklin; Sue Bignall, Bette Jean Jahn, Kenny Peterson, and Danny Hawn for The Kiddie Shop; Guy Arnold, Karl Johnson, and Tommy Williamson for Lauermaans; Linda Arched for the Pants Place; Brad Nagel, Jennifer Yrsa, and Sue DeRousha for Penney's; Dan Anderson and Jeff Forry for the Peoples Store; John Anderson for the School Store; and David Mills and Becky Larson for All-Seasons Sports.

Other participating merchants are White Steer Market and Couture's Paint and Paper providing door prizes and C-L True Value Hardware, props.

The style show starts at 7:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

Memorial books

Big Bay de Noc School District has been presented with the following memorial books:

"Foxtails, Ferns, and Fish Scales; A Handbook of Art and Nature Projects," by Ad Graham; "Lumberjack," by William Crowe; both in memory of Mrs. Bert (Agnes) Lund.

"When You Find a Rock," by Barrie Klaitz, in memory of Mrs. Robert (Leda) Watchorn.

"The Kent Chronicles" in six volumes, in memory of Mr. Douglas Harbenski.

"Atlas of Michigan," by Lawrence M. Sommers editor, and "Waymond the Whale," by Caroline Aimar, in memory of Mr. William Winter.

October is the peak month for apples

The crunch of a crisp apple...the teasing aroma of hot spiced apple cider...the job of baking a fresh apple pie --- all of these readily tempt, satisfy and delight your family because apple season has arrived.

October is the peak month for apple production. Here in the Midwest, apple supplies are abundant and their quality is good, according to market reporters with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service. Following are "apple teasers" to help you add new life to old recipes.

-Heat jellied cranberry sauce and flavor lightly with cinnamon. Pour into hollow of cored apples and bake as usual.

-Colorful salads call for both golden and red delicious apples with skins. Add tiny green grapes and caraway, celery or sesame seeds. Mix lightly with salad dressing. Or for a crisp, nutlike flavor, sprinkle with crushed, pre-sweetened cereals.

-Fry thin sausage patties and apple rings; serve in hamburger buns. Or, place three strips of pre-cooked and drained bacon on a slice of bread. Top with a thin ring of fresh apple and slice of nippy cheese. Slip under the broiler until cheese bubbles and edges of bread begin to toast.

-Banana-nut bread tickles the tastebuds when spread with mixture of one 3 ounce package cream cheese, 1 tablespoon orange juice, 2 teaspoons powdered sugar and a half cup of grated fresh apple. Or for hamburger relish, mix 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup grated apple, 1 three ounce package cream cheese and 2 tablespoons chopped pimento.

Cover with 1 cup tomato juice or 1 can cream of mushroom soup, thinned with milk. Bake 1 hour at 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Baste with juice or soup occasionally.

4H Report

by Chris Keener

All-day workshop held in Germfask

Schoolcraft County 4-H leaders hosted a three-county workshop this past Friday at the Community Building in Germfask.

The workshop was an all-day affair. Dip and Drape Dolls, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, and wood carving were the projects taught. The workshop was well attended and everyone went home with at least one completed project.

Doyle Township is looking for someone to help seven boys in a short-term project in Woodworking. This is the only project the boys are interested in and they are anxious to get a 4-H leader. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Grace Jackson in Gulliver, phone 283-5991.

CANCELLATION: The Sewing Workshop scheduled for Nov. 10 has been cancelled. This was to be held at the courthouse. We will keep you posted on further workshops.

JUNIOR HORSE SHOW MEETING: We received an invitation from Richard E. Ostrander, manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair to attend a meeting Monday, Nov. 14, at 3 p.m. in the office located on the fairgrounds adjacent to the grandstand.

We hope anyone interested in the Junior Horse Show will plan to attend this meeting. If you cannot attend submit your suggestions or comments.

I will be attending if you are interested in sharing a ride contact me at 341-5050.

National Children's Book Week is soon

The Manistique School and Public Library Advisory Board is honoring National Children's Book Week, Nov. 14-20 using the dual theme: "Read All About It" and "Libraries Are Something Else" by sponsoring a film festival in the high school auditorium from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday Nov. 16.

Several children's films will be shown free of charge.

The advisory board also will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 16 at noon in the board room with a dutch-treat luncheon and agenda.

Kick the habit

A free five-day plan to kick the smoking habit is being planned as a community service by the Seventh-day Adventist Churches of North America.

Dr. Merle Wehner and Jim Danforth are scheduled to conduct the program in Manistique. Persons may register by calling 341-5476.

Depoliticizing judgeships

A petition drive is underway which would take Michigan's top judges out of partisan politics.

What worries us isn't the laudable goal but the fact that in so doing, they also take the selection of judges of the state supreme and appellate courts away from the people.

Like a lot of observers of the state judicial scene, we have from time to time criticized Michigan's unique system of nominating candidates for judicial office at political conventions and then having them run on a non-partisan ballot.

That system leads to unfortunate pressures on judges. Pressures like those Democrats brought on Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh because he chose an independent course on the issue of legislative reapportionment.

Kavanagh had to run as an independent in his last bid for reelection against a candidate nominated over him by the Democrats.

Because of this situation a lot of good folks, including Governor William G. Milliken, have come out in favor of a constitutional amendment, that would have the judges named by the governor.

The plan calls for creation of a judicial commission composed of nine members appointed by the governor with Senate approval. Only three members could be lawyers and a maximum of five from one party could be appointed.

Commissioners would serve for a maximum of two terms of three years each and could not serve as a judge or hold any political office while on the body.

When a vacancy occurred on one of the two top courts, the commission would review potential nominees and recommend three to the governor, who would have 30 days to appoint one from the list.

If the governor failed to act, the chief justice of the Supreme Court would select one by lot from the three recommended.

The people would continue to have a veto of sorts. An appointed judge would serve two years then would be placed on the ballot in a "retention election." Voters would be asked to decide "yes" or "no" on whether the judge should be kept on the bench.

After that the judge would serve an 8-year term on the Supreme Court or 6-year term on the Court of Appeals before again facing voters.

Groups supporting this plan include the League of Women Voters, the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, Michigan Common Cause, the Council of Churches, the State Bar of Michigan and the Michigan Farm Bureau.

The petition drive supporters claim the operation is non-partisan and hopes to be bipartisan as well. Democrats, with the exception of State Sen. Anthony A. Derezinski, D-Muskegon, a candidate for the Democrats U.S. Senate nomination, have been cool to the plan.

House Speaker Bobby D. Crim, D-Davison, said he liked the idea of getting the selection of justices out of the partisan arena. But Crim said he was opposed to any plan that would make the judicial positions appointive.

And, that really is what is bothering us. We simply are not comfortable with a select group picking our judges. It's true under the plan the people do get a chance to throw the judge out periodically in the judicial retention balloting.

But that isn't the same. There is considerable virtue in letting the people ballot directly on the election of judges. We know name candidates have an advantage in the present system and we do not think judges should be subject to pressures such as Kavanagh had.

This is one issue we want to think about. It deserves careful study.

The plan has much in it to recommend it. We hope that it does not encounter partisan opposition from either party. We think everyone should look it over carefully and let the plan be decided on its merits and not on the basis of which party controls the governor's office.

Bringing home deer bad for marriage?

"Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen, this is Speed Riggs, speaking to you from the corner of State and Madison streets here in downtown Nahma Junction, bringing you the Man on the Street program.

"Our topic today is the opening of deer season and what it means to you. Ah, here's a prosperous looking gentleman with a smile on his face. Tell me sir, what does deer season mean to you?"

"Groceries. Rent. The fuel oil bill. Things like that."

"Ah then, you must be a purveyor of goods to the army of hunters that's arriving?"

"Au contraire, Speed, as they say in the Upper Inwood. I am an instructor at the Institute of Technology and Mathematical Probabilities up there."

"Meaning?"

"Meaning that each year eager young students present themselves for the annual seminar that examines combinations of the 52nd power, and each year I instruct them, for a modest tuition fee, in the various probabilities that can occur in seven card stud, five card draw, high-low roll'em and Christmas Tree."

"You wanna learn?"

"Ah, no thank you sir, I'll pass on that and go on to our next man on the...well, well, I should say person on the street. And what is your name?"

"Maybelle McZoom."

"That sounds familiar, Miss McZoom."

Well, yes. I am that noted Hollywood starlet you may have read about, appearing next in 'Catastrophe!'"

"You have a starring role?"

"No, but the critics said my appearance was appropriate to the title, whatever that means."

"Well, yes. Tell me, what does deer season mean to you?"

"It means I'd better get out of here fast, you know what I mean?"

"No, what do you mean?"

"Go to Rapid River the night before Opening Day and you'll know what I mean. Godbye, sport. It's back to the safe streets of Hollywood for me."

"Thank you, flaky lady. Let's go on to this gentleman who looks very happy indeed. Tell me sir, is it the thought of deer season that makes you smile?"

"Exactly. Speed. I'm a marriage counselor."

"Aha! That means your business should boom when all the men go off to camp?"

"No, Speed. It's when they come home that I get really busy. You see, it's not enough that they've got an inch-wide stubble of beard, haven't washed for a week, smell like a beer vat and are completely exhausted. Some of them really stretch their luck and bring home a deer as well."

"This is bad for marriage?"

"Often fatal. How would you like to be faced with the problem of finding a different way to make venison taste like prime beef? Or grade A beef? Or just any old beef? Sends most housewives right around the bend."

"Yes, I can see that, and thank you, sir. Finally, here's a harried looking gentleman with a glazed look in his eyes...Well, it's my old friend, Himself Henschel Himself, about deer season..."

"It's here, it's here, it's here. Finally, it's here. I've got the camp ready and the bunks set up. Jorildamenck. Food ordered. Ykekelema. Bring change. Ulliciahio, Ferdianai. Dealcards, Urkhalni. Cleebeyleg. Pouranother. Opthealiti. Ante. Raise. Gleebeyleg. Gleeg. Fourcardush-pouranotherante. Urk!"

"Thanks, Himself. It's good to see you're all set for another successful season. And that, folks, is what deer season means to the Man on the Street. This is Speed Riggs in Nahma Junction."

An early step into news world

Excuse me for becoming one of those button popping fathers, but I have to take a few minutes to brag about my daughter. Elizabeth, who is almost 12 years old, has taken her first tentative step in the newspaper world. She was named co-editor, four weeks ago, of the Lakeside Litter Box Liner and Fish Wrapper, her grade school paper.

She may not venture much further into the newspaper business. In many ways, I'm not sure I would advise it as a career for her. But for the moment, it makes her father proud and pleased to see her take an interest in the business that has been his for these past 15 years.

Elizabeth is really into it. The other day she explained to me how the paper had gone free for the first issue to interest subscribers and was now selling a subscription for one year for $1. Naturally, I became a subscriber. She went on to explain the economics of the school newspaper business and how they could cut expenses and still put out the same size newspaper every other week.

Hearing her talk and sensing the enthusiasm that she brings to her school newspaper brought back memories to me of my first inclination towards a newspaper career.

Like Elizabeth, I too have a father who has spent his life in and associated with the newspaper business. So it seems only natural, in retrospect, that one of the first business ventures my brother and I got into was publication of a neighborhood newspaper one summer.

We set up shop in the basement and pecked out on an old typewriter each copy of the paper. News stories were nothing more than neighborhood gossip mostly about some of the teenagers down the block that we had a passing acquaintance with.

If the papers had received wide readership in the neighborhood we surely would have been sued for libel, but fortunately our printing capacity was limited by our inability to type well or fast.

The newspaper bug had bitten, however, and 24 years after that first attempt I'm still at it.

Maybe the same thing won't happen to Elizabeth. I vowed a long time ago that I wasn't going to be one of those fathers who pushed his kids into following in his footsteps. My father never pushed me into the newspaper business and I'm glad it was my decision.

A medical argument for veterans' facility here

Ed. Note: The following letter addressed to Governor Milliken from Dr. Duane Waters expresses a strong case for placing a Michigan veterans facility in Manistique.

Some of the ideas might well be used in other letters by Manistique area citizens to legislators. It follows: Dear Gov. Milliken:

Manistique is currently being considered as one of several sites for the establishment of an Upper Peninsula veterans facility to consist of a 100-bed home for the aged and a 20-bed nursing home both for veterans. I am writing to indicate to you why I think Manistique would be an excellent place for the proposed institution. My reasons are as follows.

1. SITE AVAILABILITY. Three excellent sites are available, all of which have easy access to the central business district, schools and recreational facilities. One of the sites proposed is contiguous to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and the medical center which you dedicated in September of 1971. This site is within three blocks of the central business district, the Catholic Church, three Protestant Churches and four blocks from the new Senior Citizens Service Center. Naturally the site at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and the Medical Center is most attractive because of its convenience to the Community's health care facilities and its choice would assure the residents of excellent availability of care and is immediately available.

2. COMMUNITY HEALTH CARE FACILITIES are adequate to accept this new facility as an added responsibility.

There are currently six physicians practicing in the Community plus a full time radiologist at the hospital. The physician-patient ratio in the immediate Community is approximately 1:800 and county-wide approximately 1:1600. However, for three months from June through August our population served does swell to about 16 to 18 thousand which we realize puts a strain on the several physicians for a short period and all of us are happy to see summer wane. Notwithstanding this fact, I feel my colleagues and I could handle the added load easily.

The medical community is attuned to geriatric problems from its experience with the adjacent Medical Care Facility, housing approximately 55 patients and presenting the gamut of geriatric problems.

Consulting services in ophthalmology, otology, gastroenterology and orthopedics is regularly available at the medical center, eliminating the need for costly transport to other cities for these services.

3. SITE ACQUISITION COST will be minimal. The proposed hospital area site will be made available to the State at minimum cost according to our county board of commissioners. We understand that the Site Acquisition Committee is prepared to accept an existing facility which could be appropriately modified to conform to the State's requirements. While we cannot offer any ready-made facility, we feel that the greater availability of essential health services at the Manistique hospital site has an inestimable value in the successful operation of such a facility and would in our opinion equal in value any savings the State might realize in remodeling an existing structure. Therefore, we feel that the necessity to scratch build in Manistique does not really constitute an economic disadvantage.

In summary I note these reasons for choosing Manistique as the site for the Veterans Facility:

1. Optimal location of site at minimum cost to the State.
  2. Easily available medical services offering wide range of care.
  3. Easy access to business, recreational and medical facilities from proposed site.
- I hope that you will give careful consideration to these important factors when selecting the site. We here in Manistique are hopeful that the facility might become a reality here not just for the economic boost it will give our community but because we feel we can do a good job with it.
- With kindest personal regards and assuring you of my continued wholehearted support.
- Duane L. Waters, M.D.

No one's indifferent about deer hunting

There is not a whole lot of middle ground when Michigan's annual deer harvest comes around.

Either you're smacking your lips for some legal venison, or you're making plans to stay out of the woods or even the back yard.

A sixth grader wrote one time that he considered deer hunting a poor sport, because sitting in the frosty brush for hours made his teeth chatter.

Others on the negative side take the view that the harmless wild mammals should be let alone to enjoy the forests and swamps of the Great Lakes. They'd rather see a buck dashing across an open field than riding the fender of a pick-up.

Still others claim no scruples about wild animals' blood, but oppose killing deer because there is more excitement in drawing a bead on critters known to attack humans.

But since we all can't take off after

Side Tracks

by Arnold Mackowiak

Jaguars in the Amazon, there is probably little harm in indulging in the spirit of the late-autumn hunt.

Providing one stays sober. And providing tempers are under control when someone else tags the buck you know you shot.

One hunter downstate lost his deer that way. But two years later, conscience got the best of the grabby orange coat he wrote a letter of apology to the offended party.

Tales of hunts past around a cabin fireplace may exceed the most melodramatic adventures of Jungle Jim. It's hard to say.

But the tales must be even stranger in northern lower Michigan when someone hauls in an Elk, saying he mistook the gigantic wapiti for a comparatively scrawny deer. Illusions of grandeur, no doubt.

Whether it's a trophy you're after or merely a breath of chilling forest air, familiar pleas for caution are well in order.

Plan well. Another lower Michigan hunter planned his excursion so carefully and thoroughly that his camp bristled with enthusiasm when he awoke on opening day about 60 miles from home.

Except for one thing. He forgot to pack his rifle.

$10,000 needed to prepare Pioneer Park

To the Editor: This is addressed to the Scandinavian Bicentennial Committee.

The old Manistique High School is gone...but not forgotten. It will still serve the community...for when it was demolished, the rubble was hauled to the area between Weston Avenue and the old Water Tower.

This land was leased to the Historical Society by the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company for the purpose of making a park and historical site. So now the swamp is gone and two and one-half acres of level land is ready to become a park. Its lawn and picnic tables will be an inviting spot for residents and visitors as well.

Letters to the Editor

The center of attraction in the park will be a log building that was once part of the old Hiawatha Colony, a commune-type organization located north of Manistique at the end of the century. It will be restored and refurbished so that generations to come will be able to see and appreciate the way the early settlers lived and worked.

We need your help to make this a reality! It will take $10,000 to move and repair the building and landscape the property. This is a large amount of money and our society is small...so we would gratefully receive any amount you could send us.

We, the Pioneer Historical Society of Schoolcraft County sincerely thank you for your generous donation to our worthy cause. We have been in existence for 50 years and this financial boost will assist us in the completion of our current project. This is a great memorial to all the Scandinavian citizens in our county. Thank you. Katherine H. LeBrasseur Secretary Pioneer Historical Society

Of Ferd's wedding and casino gambling

Barring an unexpected dash for daylight by her fiancé, my daughter Ferd will get married in a few months. So you'll understand why I quivered when my wife said: "It says here in the newspaper that Mary Fisher was married amid a sea of orchids. Hundreds of white spicy orchids were flown in from Singapore just for her wedding."

"If we have an outdoor wedding in our backyard, Ferd could be married amid a sea of dandelions," I said. "To assure a bumper crop, I could have some fertilizer flown in from Gwinn's Hardware."

"Twenty-five ficus trees were moved into the country club clubhouse for the ceremony," Pat read from the newspaper. "Two trees, each 25 feet tall, formed the canopy under which the couple exchanged vows."

"That's a little ostentatious," I said. "What about all the starving children in India?"

"I think a piece of wedding cake was sent to everyone who lives in India," Pat said.

"You must remember that Mary Fisher is the daughter of Max Fisher who is one of the richest men in the world," I said. "He made his money in oil and real estate, and his hobby is financing Republican candidates. I really don't mind him spending so much on his kid's wedding. I figure every nickel he spends on a ficus tree is a nickel he can't spend on the political comeback of Gerald Ford."

"Mr. and Mrs. Ford were at the wedding," Pat said. "It says here that Mary stopped on her way back down the aisle and kissed them both. And Mary told a reporter that the Fords turned down a lot of other invitations so they could be at her wedding."

"Mary Fisher worked for Gerald Ford when he was president," I explained. "She was his advance woman. When Ford traveled about the world on important diplomatic missions, Mary went ahead of him and warned the galleries to watch out for his slisce. She probably got the job through a classified ad."

"Imagine the prestige of the bride pausing in the aisle to kiss an ex-president of the United States," Pat said wistfully. "Ferd could stop and kiss Howard Bon Vivant. Howard used to be president of Lapeer Rotary," I said. "He'll turn down other invitations to be at Ferd's wedding if he hears we're having an open bar."

Pat kept reading the wedding story: "At the reception, 1,000 white lace napkins were tucked in gold rings to which single long-stemmed white roses had been tied."

"We could tie one of the dandelions to a box of Bounty napkins," I said.

If It Fizz

by Jim Fitzgerald

"Did you know that Gary Cooper's daughter was at the Fisher wedding?" Pat asked.

"Yep," I said. As you can tell from our conversation unless you are stupid, my wife wants Ferd to have a high-class wedding. The only problem is I can't afford it. But I think I have a solution.

"We should throw a wedding and reception that will pay for itself, at least in part," I said. "and I know how we can do it. I got this great idea from the smart businessmen who want to bring casino gambling to downtown Detroit."

"I don't even want to hear it," Pat said. "These guys want a high-class operation that will appeal to tourists. The casinos will be in only the best hotels, and on weekends, people will have to wear formal attire to get inside to gamble," I said.

"What if the tourists don't have formal clothes with them? Not many men travel with tuxedos."

"That's the beautiful gimmick," I explained. "The casino operators will rent tuxedos at the door. We could do the same thing at Ferd's wedding reception. We wouldn't say on the invitations that the party is strictly formal. Once all those blue-jeaned guys see through the door that there's an open bar, they'll do anything to get inside, even rent a tux."

"I knew I didn't want to hear about this," Pat said.

"We could sell the rental concession to Powell's Menswear for a cut of the action," I said. "The money we'd make would buy a lot of ficus trees, not to mention kegs of beer."

Pat gave my idea thoughtful consideration and finally decided: "You are not one bit funny."

That must be why I'm not laughing. If Ferd's fiancé ever does dash for daylight, the speck he sees ahead of him, disappearing into the light at the end of the tunnel, may be the father of the bride, running from ficus trees.

Onward and Upward.

Senior Citizens

by Eileen Males

Kind words, a touch and a friendly "hello" will brighten a day and add meaning to someone's life more than anything else.

Words such as, "Could you help me?" or "Would you please advise me?" work wonders when we need assistance.

We all need to feel that we are needed and loved. Our center has grown because we do services for others, show love and acknowledge by a personal letter or in some other visible way when you do something special for us. This is good public relations.

Public relations come in many forms. Sometimes we wine and dine state and local officials. Sometimes we acknowledge them at our parties and meetings. This is all so important because they like to know their support is appreciated.

Sometimes we praise them and resort to a little flattery so when I saw this joke it really tickled my funny bone: "A sales manager was approached by several small girls selling Brownie cookies. They offered no sales pitch so he began questioning them to see if they could develop one. "Why do you want to sell me?" he asked.

One little girl piped up, "Because you are so handsome!"

He couldn't resist that argument. In fact, he bought six boxes. "There are no brighter sales tools," he murmured, "than truth and honesty."

We are having a pay to play card party to be held in individuals homes to raise money for the building fund. A $25 government savings bond will be drawn as an incentive prize from the names of people holding these parties.

The rules are as follows: (a) $1 will be collected from each person attending to be used for the building fund; (b) 25 cents will be collected for the prize; (c) a dessert will be served; (d) any kind of cards may be played; (e) the hostess will have her name submitted once for every dollar her name is submitted for the drawing of the bond; (f) the hostess will have her name submitted once for every person who books a card party from her; (g) after the party the money and names and addresses of the people who booked a party should be turned into the Manistique center within three days.

Thursday evening I had a bridge party for 16 persons. Eleven people booked a party from me. If I were to submit my name for the drawing of the bond I would have 27 chances. Please support us in this endeavor.

We want to encourage everyone to write to Governor William G. Milliken, Executive Office, Lansing, Michigan 48903; Senator Robert Davis, Michigan State Senate, Lansing, Michigan 48902 and Representative Charles Varnum, State House of Representatives, Lansing, Michigan 48901 and ask them to consider Manistique as the future home for the proposed veteran's nursing home.

Tell them the reasons why you think Manistique should be the site, for example (a) mild climate: warmer winters and cooler summers, (b) centrally located between the two peninsulas, (c) many lovely inexpensive motels, (d) fine progressive community with new schools, courthouse, fine shopping district and excellent medical care (hospital and doctors medical center), (e) excellent senior citizens program with a new multi-purpose center to be built by September 1978, (f) public transportation for the elderly and handicapped, (g) and most important, our community wants and will make a commitment to support it with a total effort of every service club and agency.

If you have ever asked why we don't have more industry in our county you now have the opportunity to promote our city. It has to be done by a large number of people, so please, each and every one of you, write a letter. You can't go wrong by spending 13 cents this way and besides you are the handsomest and prettiest people there are. (I wonder how many will catch this pun?)

I have numerous weekly requests for women who are wanted to spend evenings slaying with ill and invalid persons. If you are interested, please call the center at 341-5923 with the wages you would like and the evenings you can stay.

Building fund donations came from Beda Hough, Mildred Mattson, Gun Hahn, Irene and Elmer Jestila, Paul and Star Hanson, Kathie E. Wood, Carl and Phyllis Carlson, Exilda De Mars, Gertrude Orr, Bernard F. and Helen Lancour and one donor who wishes to remain anonymous.

A memorial was given to the center in the name of Martha Malloch by Martha Coel.

Thrifty Store donations came from Lois Eimerman, Leona and Jack Williams, Ian and Carla McKilligan, George and Charlotte Woodward, John and Ruth Girvin, Ralph and Adelaide, Williams, Carl and Phyllis Carlson, Manistique Co-op Nursery, and Mrs. Charles Rusiecki.

Bal-ed goods were brought in by Olive Saunders, Doris Van Eyck, Elsie Cowman, Florence Rubick, Edith Washburn and Ehel Howland.

Irene Storvik made six beautiful crocheted pillows and Dix Courounay made two lovely pillows which they donated to the Thrift Store.

Shirley and Norman Saffer donated a large supply of cabbage which was distributed among the senior citizens.

All of these many acts of kindness and concern are so deeply appreciated and we thank you all.

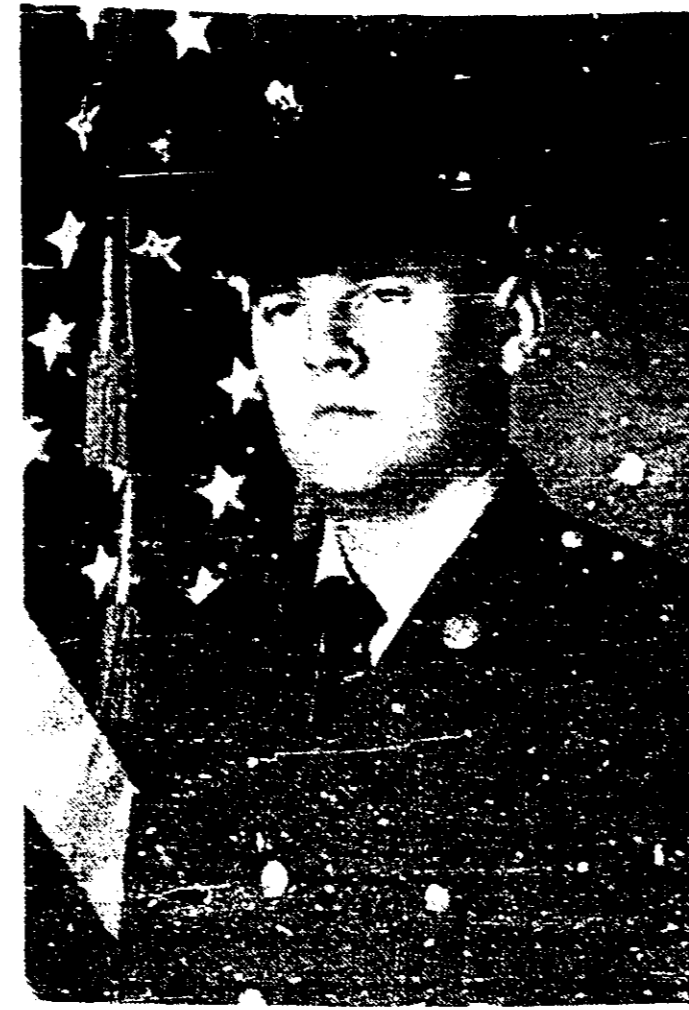

Birthday greetings go out to: Mike Bezeheiney, Nov. 10; Sam B Stewart and Evelyn Watson, Nov. 11; Flossie Knowles, Albert Fragale and Goldie Hodge, Nov. 12; Lila Baker, Katherine Van Golde and Helen Neal, Nov. 13; Ralph Gauthier, Nov. 14; William Drefs, Svea Dixner, Oscar Peterson and Ellsworth Davenport, Nov. 15; Elsie Erickson, Barney Johnson, Hattie Whalen, Oscar Bloomquist, Marie Coluzzi and Martin Novak, Nov. 16; Mae Barker, Helen Pawling, James Rogers, Mary Gregurash and Mable Hartman, Nov. 17.

Information on where to buy or sell hay

We have received our first supplement to the Michigan Hay Clearinghouse brochure. This instrument lists numerous farmers in each county either needing hay or having hay for sale. The brochure also has a page matching needs and excesses for each county.

For example, Marquette County needs 175 tons and has 400 tons for sale indicating a 225 ton surplus. Grand Traverse County needs 250 tons and has more for sale, indicating a 250 ton need. County by county farmers are provided with important information where they can either buy or sell hay, with the owners, name, address, telephone number listed.

We have all the information on this program in our extension office. Interested persons should call 341-5050.

TEST SOIL NOW: There is still plenty of time to take those soil samples before the snow flies. Get your samples in now and avoid that last minute delay next spring when the lab gets over loaded.

Remember, if you are anticipating signing up for ASCS practices, they do require soil tests on all RE 1 and RE 2 type practices.

FERTILIZER CONSERVES ENERGY: The United States uses over one-quarter of the world's energy to serve about one-fifth of the world's population -- a well publicized fact.

But the U.S. farmer needs about or over 1/3 of the world population on 1 percent of the world's energy -- a poorly publicized fact.

United States agriculture uses energy efficiently -- largely due to adequate fertilizer use.

Fertilizer consumes about 25 percent of agricultural energy needs. The yield returns from this relatively small energy investment are great -- especially as we move to higher energy levels required to feed the world's increasing population. Around 35 percent of 100 bu. A corn and 45 percent of 150 bu. A corn comes from fertilizer. This percentage will continue to increase as we move yields up.

Increased yields from adequate fertilization also improve the efficiency of other energy related inputs. Plowing, for example. The University of Illinois produced 65 bu of corn per gallon of plowing fuel with low nitrogen. 95 bu per gallon with high nitrogen. Fuel efficiency improved 50 percent simply through wise fertilizer applications.

As we look to a future of higher yields, greater food demands, and more energy efficiency, agriculture and fertilizer production hold a very high priority. When we talk about energy efficiency on the farm, proper fertilizer use is the key to overall efficiency.

The Understanding Chair

When we are young, rocking is a game. When we are old, it can become a way of life. And in between, there are countless occasions when rocking fulfills a human need... to think... to relax... to reminisce... to dream.

It's almost as though the rocking chair understands people, turning their restlessness into calm and contemplation.

But there are deeper human needs that find no comfort in the rhythm of the rocking chair--intense spiritual needs met only by communion with God.

The Church really understands people. Its worship, its teaching, its community service, all provide expression for man's spiritual needs. The soul's restlessness is turned into conviction and commitment.

good cold protection

An annual heating system check-up by a qualified heating dealer more than pays for itself in increased efficiency of your system and also the life of your equipment. A check-up can catch small troubles which might become a big inconvenience or costly breakdown during the heating season.

Things You Can Do Yourself During the Heating Season

Check air filters in furnace at least once a month. If they are clogged, replace with new ones. Periodically oil the fan and motor bearings of forced air furnaces (but only if oiling is recommended by the manufacturer). Check owners manual or instructions on furnace itself. You can save on heating costs by dialing down your thermostat to 68 degrees during the heating season. Do not block heating registers and cold air return registers with furniture. Good circulation will keep you more comfortable and help your furnace operate more efficiently.

Class schedule changing for head start

ESCANABA A class schedule change for the Manistique Head Start Center became effective Monday, Nov. 7, according to Marsha Green, director for the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action program.

The current class was to split into two, explained Mrs. Green. One half will attend three days a week while the other will go the remaining two. At mid-year, the two new classes are slated to reverse their schedule. The class attending three days will go to one and the one going two will be in the center three.

Mrs. Green said this change will allow the Head Start Program in Manistique to serve more children.

Doyle is appointed

ESCANABA Community Action's Executive Board has appointed Billie Doyle of Manistique as its representative to the Schoolcraft County Overall Economic Development Planning Committee.

Ms. Doyle also serves on the area representative to the Policy Advisory Council in Manistique.

This proposed change has been approved by the Head Start parents' Policy Action Council at a recent meeting. Mrs. Green said. Currently the Manistique center serves approximately 27 pre-school children.

Out Our Way

News from Road 437
by Josie Peterson

Into circulation again comes the scoop from Out Our Way. My absence did bring on a sort of a loneliness, cause in writing the scoop kept me in touch with the many friends I've made through writing for the Pioneer Tribune. Believe me I've missed it.

Out Our Way autumn's glorious robes of color have paid its price to falling rains and strong winds. Trees are bare, and I can look deep into the forest domain, with its carpeted floor in shade of gold and brown fallen leaves. They seem to know that mother nature's flowers, now asleep, will, covering from the long winters, ahead.

Birds have flown in flocks and have left us, as did, the geese, by a chosen chief from the flock to go south in their living V formation, honking away their farewell to us till spring. Though they all leave, we are never without our feathered friends. Already I've seen several flocks of snow birds. What a beautiful sight they are to see in flight, a color of pure white. From the depths of the cool swamp land the black-capped chickadee has greeted me with his cheerful song, which needs no introduction, as its call is his name. In the worst snow blizzard their cheerful notes can be heard.

The blue jay has also come forth from his summer hiding. They too want me to know they shall be a guest at the winter feeding station of their smorgasbord, as will the nuthatch, downy woodpecker.

I consider myself fortunate to have so many woodland friends. They include the friendly chipmunks and squirrels. Both look for goodies as they run to and from the trees. Deer come to view, and raccoon, even the skunk. Though their smell at attack time is unbearable skunks are a beautiful animal. Yet the closest of forest friends to me are the birds. Their cheerful songs regardless of the weather, seem to chase ones blues away.

Living where one has the four seasons is very rewarding. Spring comes in with many songs, as new life comes forth in all its glory and splendor. We know winter becomes the season of the past. Even rains are over and the air is filled with the sweet smell of our first spring flower the trailing arbutus. Summer comes in as the high tide of the year, fresh green beauty is seen everywhere. Scents of flowers fill the air skies are their bluest, and a freedom seems to be for all in summer days.

Come autumn, who can describe this gorgeous season, with its many colors on parade, brisk air and mists that great us mornings. The greens fade to yellows, crimson and browns, and the once green leaves won't be green till next spring. Autumn is followed by winter, when the bare trees get a new look of Ermine white cloaks. The brown forest carpet gets one of sparkling white, and winter is proud to cover our drab world with its glistening snowflakes. Content I am with our four season. Spending the weekend with us, were our daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Werner Stuberger of New Berlin, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paczkowski of Troy, also stopped in to visit with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale King of Steuben stopped in to visit with us, as did Mr. and Mrs. James Kenyon of Detroit.

Vera Higley and I went to visit Betty Cleminson at Murphy Lake. The Boss and I spent Thursday evening visiting Mr. and Mrs. Norman Underwood of Murphy Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Patton have returned from Flint, after visiting Mr. Pauline's father, who was hospitalized.

Road 437 will become a busy thoroughfare as the deer season opens up Nov. 15. Many a household will have a man busy packing for his trip to the wild country of Michigan and his thoughts are going home with a buck. So good luck to all hunters who come up our Out Our Way. And drive carefully.

Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Henry Hardy, Lucille Hoholik, Kenneth Jones, and J.W. Kahmes. Anniversary wishes go out to the Rodney B. Wilmis, may your day be one of complete happiness, until our next chat, stay healthy and happy.

Special Medicare enrollment period

The Social Security Administration has established a special Medicare enrollment period for CHAMPUS beneficiaries because of a recent Department of Defense ruling.

The special enrollment period runs from Oct. 1 through Dec. 31, 1977, and gives CHAMPUS beneficiaries an opportunity to sign up for Medicare medical insurance before their CHAMPUS coverage ends.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1978, CHAMPUS (Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services) no longer covers beneficiaries who are entitled to Medicare hospital insurance.

All CHAMPUS beneficiaries who now have Medicare hospital insurance but have not enrolled in Medicare medical insurance should contact any social security office during this period.

Zoning board checks lot sizes

The Schoolcraft County Planning and Zoning Commission discussed lot sizes for development districts and commercial districts at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

There was discussion of the 20,000 square foot lot size for the R-Four District. This is the medium multiple development district. There was also concern that this lot size was too small for multi-family dwellings. The discussion was tabled until the next meeting.

The present Lakeshore River setback is 50 feet. The lot sizes for these areas are 11,250 square feet for an L1 lot, and 15,000 square feet for an L2 lot. A discussion centered around changing the dimensions to include a 75 foot setback and a 20,000 square foot lot size. The changes are to be given to the Health Department for scrutiny.

The last item discussed at the Oct. 25 meeting, it was suggested that the commercial district description found in the old ordinance be accepted as it is. It was taken under advisement that the Light Industrial and Heavy Industrial be combined into one district, and have only one commercial district. The item was tabled until the next meeting.

An Algonac woman involved in a head on collision accident that killed a Manistique couple Oct. 31 was discharged from Marquette General Hospital Friday.
Brenda L. Bates, 21, had been listed in critical condition at the hospital shortly after the crash.
Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. Wright, both of Manistique, were killed in the accident.

Correction

The Tribune incorrectly stated police reports on the accident in its Nov. 4 edition. In actuality, Miss Bates was the driver who police said had tried to pass the semi-trailer. She was traveling in an eastbound direction. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were on their way to Payette.

Tootsie roll proceeds

Class schedule changing for head start

ESCANABA—A class schedule change for the Manistique Head Start Center became effective Monday, Nov. 7, according to Marsha Green, director for the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action program.

The current class was to split into two, explained Mrs. Green. One half will attend three days a week while the other will go the remaining two. At mid-year, the two new classes are slated to reverse their schedule. The class attending three days will go two and the one going two will be in the center three.

Mrs. Green said this change will allow the Head Start Program in Manistique to serve more children.

Doyle is appointed

ESCANABA—Community Action's Executive Board has appointed Billie Doyle of Manistique as its representative to the Schoolcraft County Overall Economic Development Planning Committee.

Ms. Doyle also serves on the area representatives (Ruth Petrick's Policy Advisory Council in Manistique).

"This proposed change has been approved by the Head Start parents' Policy Action Council at a recent meeting," Mrs. Green said. Currently the Manistique center serves approximately 27 pre-school children.

Memorial service

Lakeside Lodge No. 371 F. & A.M. will hold their Annual Memorial Service on Sunday Nov. 13 at 2:00 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. Members deceased during the past year will be memorialized and families and friends are welcome to attend.

Nursery parents

The Manistique Cooperative Nursery parents will hold their monthly meeting on Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the school nursery. Nora Wadlin, authority on pre-school education will be guest speaker. Members are reminded to bring projects for the Nov. 19 Craft Fair.

Out Our Way

News from Road 437
by Josie Peterson

Into circulation again comes the scoop from Out Our Way. My absence did bring on a sort of loneliness, cause in writing the scoop kept me in touch with the many friends I've made through writing for the Pioneer Tribune. Believe me I've missed it.

Out Our Way autumn's glorious robes of color have paid its price to falling rains and strong winds. Trees are bare, and I can look deep into the forest domain, with its carpeted floor in shade of gold and brown fallen leaves. They seem to know that mother nature's flowers now asleep, need covering from the long winters ahead.

Birds have flown in flocks and have left us, as did the geese, by a chosen chief from the flock to go south in their living V formation, honking away their farewell to us till spring. Though they all leave, we are never without our feathered friend.

Already I've seen several flocks of snow birds. What a beautiful sight they are to see in flight, a color of pure white. From the depths of the cool swamp land the black-capped chickadee has greeted me with his cheerful song, which needs no introduction, as its call is his name. In the worst snow blizzard their cheerful notes can be heard.

The blue jay has also come forth from his summer hiding. They too want me to know they shall be a guest at the winter feeding station of their smorgasbord, as will the nuthatch, downy woodpecker.

I consider myself fortunate to have so many woodland friends. They include the friendly chipmunks and squirrels. Both look for goodies as they run to and from the trees. Deer come to view, and raccoon, even the skunk. Though their smell at attack time is unbearable skunks are a beautiful animal. Yet the closest of forest friends to me are the birds. Their cheerful songs regardless of the weather, seem to chase ones blues away.

Living where one has the four seasons is very rewarding. Spring comes in with many songs, as new life comes forth in all its glory and splendor. We know winter becomes the season of the past. Even rains are over and the air is filled with the sweet smell of our first spring flower the trailing arbutus. Summer comes in as the high tide of the year, fresh green beauty is seen everywhere. Scents of flowers fill the air skies are their bluest, and a freedom seems to be for all in summer days.

Come autumn, who can describe this gorgeous season, with its many colors on parade, brisk air and mists that great us mornings. The greens fade to yellows, crimson and browns, and the once green leaves won't be green till next spring. Autumn is followed by winter, when the bare trees get a new look of Ermine white cloaks. The brown forest carpet gets one of sparkling white, and winter is proud to cover our drab world with its glistening snowflakes. Content I am with our four season. Spending the weekend with us, were our laughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Werner Suberg of New Berlin, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paczkowski of Troy, also stopped into visit with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale King of Steuben stopped in to visit with us, as did Mr. and Mrs. James Kenyon of Detroit.

Vera Higley and I went to visit Betty Cleminson at Murphy Lake. The Boss and I spent Thursday evening visiting Mr. and Mrs. Norman Underwood of Murphy Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Polvin have returned from Flint, after visiting Mr. Polvin's father, who was hospitalized.

Road 437 will become a busy thoroughfare as the deer season opens up Nov. 15. Many a household will have a man busy packing for his trip to the wild country of Michigan and his thoughts are going home with a buck. So good luck to all hunters who come up Out Our Way. And drive carefully.

Echoes of birthday greetings go out to Henry Hardy, Lucile Hoholik, Kenneth Jones, and J.W. Rahmes. Anniversary wishes go out to the Rodney Bowlines, may your day be one of complete happiness, until our next chat, stay healthy and happy.

Special Medicare enrollment period

The Social Security Administration has established a special Medicare enrollment period for CHAMPUS beneficiaries because of a recent Department of Defense ruling.

The special enrollment period runs from Oct. 1 through Dec. 31, 1977, and gives CHAMPUS beneficiaries an opportunity to sign up for Medicare medical insurance before their CHAMPUS coverage ends.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1978, CHAMPUS (Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services) no longer covers beneficiaries who are entitled to Medicare hospital insurance.

All CHAMPUS beneficiaries who now have Medicare hospital insurance but have not enrolled in Medicare medical insurance should contact any social security office during this period.

Energy month

The Manistique School and Public Library is promoting November as Michigan Energy Month with posters, book-marks and brochures received today from the Governor's Committee on Energy Month, Holly Angell and Miriam Van Goor.

The materials are available at the library desk for the distribution to students, faculty and other patrons.

Jets look for great season

For the North Central Jets the 1977-78 season should be one of great things. The Jets are coming into this year with perhaps their best season ever. North Central had a 19-3 record last year and Coach Mike Forsberg is returning three of the starters off of that team. Included among his returning people is Dave Dupart, who was voted to the All-State Class D team last year.

Dupart is perhaps the finest small school player to perform in the U.P. in the past five years. Behind Dupart the Jets boast a strong supporting cast with Larry VanBoxel and Todd Poquette. Both of these players are strong shooters, and excellent ball handlers. Another starter could be senior Steve LeBombard, who at 6'5" will complement the Jet front line along with Dupart.

North Central averaged over 78 points a game last season, and Coach Forsberg feels that his team will have to improve its defense in order to match last year's fine season. Forsberg said, "on paper we look good and we have kids with a terrific attitude, but everybody is pointing at us."

The Jets play in the strong Skyline Conference which includes North

Dickinson, Crystal Falls, and new member Bark River-Harris. All three of these teams are going strong according to Forsberg and he said, "I guess you have to throw us in there somewhere." The Jets open their season on Friday against a tough Mid Peninsula Wolverine squad at Powers.

Bark River-Harris BRONCOS

Broncos could be surprise team of the year

Coach Dave Nyquist patterns his coaching after former Marquette University Coach Al McGuire, and he might just pull off a very fine season for the Bark River-Harris Broncos. Like his hero, Nyquist has been pulling good teams and players out of his hat the past few years. This year he has a rebuilding job on his hands, and a new conference to play in that will push his young team to the limits.

The only returning starter from last season 166 team is guard Dave Corrigan, who at 5'7" will not help offset the loss of big Al Cappaert. Cappaert dominated the inside game for the Broncos for the past two seasons, and at 6'5", will be hard to replace.

Nyquist said, "We have some good size in some young players who will have to develop in order for us to stay competitive, but our kids have a good winning attitude and are willing to work hard." Corrigan who developed into an outstanding performer for Bark River-Harris last season, will be the mainstay of the attack this season. Nyquist also expects help from Jim VanEnkenvort and Dennis Motto, but both of these players have been slowed by football injuries.

The Broncos will play in two conferences this season. They just recently joined the rugged Skyline Conference, which includes arch-rival North Central, and they retained their membership in the tough Central U.P. Conference, which includes defending U.P. Class D Champ Rapid River. The Bark River-Harris schedule is among the toughest in the peninsula. They will open the season at home on December 2 against the Republic Hawks.

For Coach Warren Groleau and the new Mid Peninsula Wolverines, this year's high school basketball season could really be one to remember. They have already won their first game by a 50-35 score over Pembine, Wis. The Wolverines are a combination of the Rock and Perkins school districts and are in their first year of competition. Rock's basketball program has been less than great the past few years, but Perkins has been one of the area Class D powers for years. Gone is former Perkins coach Art Vandamme, who decided not to take the Mid Peninsula job, but Groleau is known for his fine basketball play and, of course, his knowledge of the game. If he can get the players to work together right away under a new system and if he can mold the kids from the two schools together, the Wolverines could very well be in the thick of things all season long.

Last year Perkins had a fine season, while Rock rolled along at the bottom of the conference standings. The combination of the two squads which will include Andy Vandamme, who was a stand-out at Perkins last year, could prove very interesting for Groleau. Mid Peninsula plays a very impressive schedule and that includes playing in the Central U.P. Conference. They will, of course, take on Rapid River twice, Bark River-Harris twice, and North Central twice, along with an improved Big Bay de Noc team.

The Wolverines face North Central this Friday night at Powers.

Rockets would like to repeat last season

What looks like a rebuilding year could hold some happy surprises for last season's Class D coach of the year. Fred Stage's Rapid River Rockets were the toast of the U.P. last year as they ran up a fine 21-4 record, and won the Class D U.P. Championship before bowing to Harbor Springs in state tourney quarterfinal action. Gone is Paul Fix, Kevin Brannstrom, Kim Johnson, and John Miller along with Jeff Vernon. This group of young men gave Rapid River a season to remember, and just might have been the best Rocket team ever. Last year the Rockets tied Bark River-Harris for the Central U.P. conference title with an 11-1 record, and defeated

Skyline Conference Champ North Central two of three times, including once in the district tourney to knock out the Jets hopes of a regional tourney trip. Coach Stage does have Larry Sundling returning, and he might be the key for Rapid River's inside game. Sundling did not start last season, but did see considerable action and filled in for Stage very well in some crucial situations last year. The Rockets will lack experience at most positions during the coming season, but by the time the districts come around they could be very tough. In Tuesday night's game against Mid Peninsula Stage started John McLenithan, a 6'3" sophomore at center, Larry Sundling and Mark Sauve at forward and Randy Deneau and Mark Majestic at the guard spots. It's hard when you lose five starters to graduation, but we have decent size and better speed and jumping ability than last year," Stage said. "If our rebounding holds up and we get some leadership on the floor we should have another good year," Stage said hopefully. Stage cited Mid Peninsula, Big Bay de Noc and Bark River as the tough spots in the Central League Conference. "We play North Central which will be one of the best Class D teams in the U.P. and North Dickenson who will be close behind," he said. "We also play Stephenson, a tough Class C team," Stage said.

Opening Game

With three starters from last year's varsity team returning, coach Jack Ingalls has high hopes of putting together a winning season for his Gladstone Braves basketball team.

Seniors Ben Trotter, a 6'3" forward, Russ Johnson, a 6'2" center, and Mark LeGault, a 6'1" forward, will be the nucleus around which Ingalls will build.

To round out his starting five, Ingalls has five players competing for the two guard spots. Four seniors and one junior are all in the running for a starting berth. Before next Tuesday's opener, coach Ingalls will select from seniors Pat Madden, John Tardiff, Joe Dolhopf, Duane Livermore or junior Kennan Failing.

Regardless of who is selected for the starting five, Gladstone will field a team which will have every man over 6'1" in height making the Braves one of the tallest teams in the U.P.

"We have the potential for a good season," Ingalls commented. "We're strong on the boards and we hope that will make up for our lack of quickness."

"This is a better rebounding team than we had last season with more depth than in recent years," Ingalls said.

Among the players up from last year's JV team are Craig Johnson, Gordon Wolf, Dan Richey and Steve Lundmark.

The Braves will miss the shooting of last year's top player Greg Fleet, but hope to make up for it with a more balanced attack. Trotter was the Braves second high man last season and LeGault had a number of games in double figures. Ingalls is expecting big things on offense from both of these forwards.

Last season, the Braves finished with a 9 and 12 mark, but dropped a number of games by less than five points. On several occasions, the difference between a loss and a win for the Gladstone quintet was their poor shooting from the charity line.

"We're definitely going to have to improve on our freethrow percentage if we are going to be a contender in the conference," Ingalls commented.

Ingalls tagged both Escanaba and Iron Mountain as favorites in the tough Great Northern Conference. The two teams meet next Friday night in the season's opener.

Changes have been made in the Class B district pairings and by tournament time the Braves will be facing Menominee or Gwinn in district play at Gwinn. Last year's class B district winner, Manistique, has dropped down to class C for this season's tournament.

As coach Ingalls begins his ninth season as head coach of the Gladstone Braves, he is hopeful that this could be a good year for his team. "If we work hard and get a few breaks we could be a factor in the conference race," Ingalls said.

Pistulka returns John Pistulka, who received all-U.P. and state honorable mention last year for the Emeralds.

One starter returning Emeralds 'green' but still hopeful

The Emeralds basketball team lost four of its starters last year to make this year's team look as green as unsnow-covered Manistique grounds.

However, Seb Rubick, head coach for the Emeralds, hopes to have the team ready to play for its Nov. 25 opener against Rudyard.

Returning for the Emeralds is last year's starting forward, John Pistulka. A 6-foot-6, 215-pound senior, Pistulka captured All U.P. and state honorable mention honors last year.

In last year's statistics, Pistulka averaged 20.7 points a game, scored 456 points total and grabbed 296 rebounds.

The team's first Mid-Peninsula Conference game comes against Negaunee Dec. 2 at home.

Rubick says most teams in the conference should be fairly even as they have all lost some players.

Our outlook this year depends on if everybody can learn to play with each other," he says.

Rubick says he will give two starting positions to guard Norm Jahn and forward Gary Kaiser. Both players saw limited action last year.

Kaiser scored a total of 75 points and came up with 57 rebounds, while Jahn scored 12 points and is credited with 7 rebounds.

Rubick says guard Bob Danko looks good for a starting assignment. However, he is reserving a decision on other starting position assignments among guards D.J. Anderson and Tim Tufnell and forwards Bill Giles and Jim Curran.

Rubick says he might not start a center but go with three forwards. The team, he says, will be strong inside and have a good running game.

Last year's Emeralds were not the proverbial run and gun team. However, their patience in setting up and taking the good shot paid off. They walked away with 17-6 season and made the U.P. regional finals for the third straight year.

After competing in class B last season, the school has returned to the "C" ranks.

Rubick should be used to the close game too. As he says, the last 19 games played last year were decided by 10 points or less. This year's team will be working on a four game winning streak -- not counting the finals -- when they start against Rudyard.

Rubick says he is enjoying his fourth straight year of coaching the 1977 Manistique. Previously, he was JV basketball coach for five years and head coach for one.

Escanaba ESKYMOS

Opener will be tough test for Eskymos

For coach Dave Cannon, two years of frustration might just be over. The young Escanaba head coach has been building a fine program and with four strong players back from last year's team this could be Cannon's best season.

The four players around whom Cannon will build his team accounted for 67 per cent of the Eskymo offense last season as they compiled a 13-8 record.

Senior guard Bob Boyle was last season's leading scorer with a season total of 256 points, an average of almost 13 points per game.

At the other guard spot will be the team's second highest scorer, senior Mark Young.

Another starter from last season, senior Rick LaFleur, will be at one of the forward slots. LaFleur hit for 178 points last season.

Big Mike Hirn will handle the boards from his center spot. Last season, the 6'4" senior was team's top rebounder and also managed to score 182 points.

Rounding out the starting five will be senior Steve Cvengros at the other forward spot.

Coach Cannon is looking for some strong help from his backup players. Cannon looks for help from senior Tom Ohman, 6'2" junior John Moore, 6'5" Ray Hockstead and a transfer student, 6'6" Brian Rout.

Brad Nordin, Kirk Schwalbach, Shawn Curran and John Ellison round out the Eskymo varsity team.

The success of this year's season could be determined with the first game on Dec. 2 at home against Iron Mountain. Both the Eskymos and Mountaineers are favored to win the Great Northern Conference title and a win in the opener could give either team a big boost.

"Iron Mountain is definitely the team to beat," Cannon commented. "They have four starters back this year and will be tough," he said.

Cannon also looks for a much improved Gladstone quintet. "Gladstone has good overall height and will be a tough team in this season's conference," Cannon said.

While the Marquette Redmen have only one starter returning to this year's team, Cannon looks for a strong battle when his team faces the Redmen. "Their JV team was the best in the U.P. last season and those boys will be out to prove themselves on the varsity," Cannon commented.

Coach Cannon looks for West Iron County to be the Dark Horse of the conference. Led by 6'7" Larry Nelson and the momentum of their strong winning football program, Cannon looks at the Wycons as a contender should one of the top teams stumble.

Coach Cannon is optimistic for this season and said, "we have some good people back this year, with good attitudes, but the conference is tough," he added, "we'll win our share." The Eskymos also play a few games out of the conference this year including defending Class A U.P. Champ Sault Ste. Marie, Manistique, the top Class B team in the Peninsula last season, and Mid Peninsula Conference member Gwinn. Escanaba opens it season on December 2nd with a conference game at home against Iron Mountain.

Most U.P. cage teams idle 'til after holiday

Opening of Upper Peninsula high school boys' basketball seasons coincided with the start of deer hunting for many years, but most preppers are idle until Thanksgiving Day this year.

Some school people say the late start on efforts to avoid conflicts with football and others late football contests are causing the delay.

Whatever the reason, only U.P. roundball rompers get into action last week and only 22 are scheduled for court competition this week.

Of those, several wear uniforms the color of the Friday or Saturday. Twenty-four don't wear their initial letters until Nov. 30 or later.

That's quite a contrast with a decade ago, when all but four of the 64 schools in existence had opened their seasons before the holiday. Schools then were playing a maximum of 6 or 18 games compared with the 20 now scheduled for most teams.

Upper Peninsula cage fans will notice several changes during the early days of the 1977-78 campaign.

The number of schools sponsoring varsity basketball continues to decline. It's down to 56—a drop of nearly a year in the last quarter-century—as a result of the Rock-Perkins merger. That consolidation produced the Mid Peninsula League, who will control the Central U.P. League.

The annual coaching turnover produced nine new mentors—the same number of first-year men as a year ago.

Conference lineups are largely unchanged, but several additional revisions are scheduled for next year.

Manistique is a new member of the Mid-Peninsula, replacing Stephenson, which joins Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, and Marais and Paradise independents.

Bark River continues as a member of the Central U.P., while also participating in Skyline play.

Ironwood and Iron Mountain will leave the Great Northern after this year, the former joining the Copper Country circuit and the latter switching to the Mid-Peninsula.

Among the biggest changes fans will observe will be the absence of such high-scoring standouts as Sault Ste. Marie's Bob Messer, L'Anse's Steve Nelson, Negaunee's John Rocco, Newberry's Keith Ables, Dollar Bay's Bill West and Grand Marais' Tim O'Driscoll.

All have familiar figures on the scene for two to four years.

Big Bay sharpens shooting

Dave Pelletier, 19-year head coach for the Class D Big Bay de Noc Black Bears, says this year's team is likely to give many Class C and A-B teams a headache when his squad encounters them.

However, he admits, his team is going to be shallow in depth and rebounding strength.

The Black Bears square off for their season opener in the Central League against Trenary on Nov. 29.

Returning starters this year are forwards Mark Tatrow, Neil Roder and Gregg Pelletier.

Tatrow had an 18-point average last year and has been referred to as one of the scariest players in the U.P. Roder checks in with a 12-point average from last year and Pelletier, 8.

Coach Pelletier says his team will be fast and able to defend with the man-to-man -- whereas in previous years a zone was the standard.

For the first time, Pelletier says he has been blessed with two new ballplayers who came to the team as move-ins.

The new players, which Pelletier plans to give starting positions are guards Mike Pelletier from the east coast and Fred Fox from Escanaba.

"Usually, I lose ball players at the turn of the year," he says, "not gain them."

Pelletier says he expects good shooting from the outside from his team -- the same thing the Bears have been noted for in the past.

Last year, the Bears ended up with a 14-10 record. Other returning lettermen this year will be John Miller, John Lucas and Mike Lester.

Coach Pelletier says he is looking for tough games this year from Bark River, Rapid River and Mid-Peninsula in the Central League. Also, North Central should be good, he says.

Pelletier this year will pass his 300th game as head coach. During those years, he says, about a dozen district championships have gone to the Bears.
